Authored by Val Valerian, 189 pages, 8 1/2 by 11 Velo Bound, Leading Edge Research Group, 1997. A 70,000-word white paper and research tool, with more than 850 entries, master index, and reference bibliography. The Analytical Chronology of Fluoridation is the result of the examination of thousands of letters, monographs, scientific documents and declassified materials from the National Archives. Through the use of these materials it goes on to prove, by definition, that the fluoridation paradigm is a civil conspiracy participated in by agencies all the way from the US Public Health Service, the World Health Organization, the AMA and ADA, and all state health departments, and that the fluoridation paradigm is based on false science, misrepresentation and deliberate falsehood in order to provide a means for dumping hazardous wastes from industry into the food and water without challenge from the population. This 189 page, 70,000 word piece of work took hundreds of hours to compile and analyze, and is backed up by numerous references and a superb index for locating those hard-to-find statements by the AMA and ADA who, before 1945, told the scientific truth about the nature of fluorides, chemicals more toxic than lead and arsenic.

If you are interested in the fluoridation paradigm and what it is doing, and want to have a definitive guideline and a comprehensive view of activity in order to assist you to evaluate current and future activity, this work is invaluable. $26.00 postpaid (USA) $36 postpaid (Canada, Mexico), $43 Postpaid (Other). Some comments on the Analytical Chronology of Fluoridation:

"Thank you for kindly sending me your Analytical Chronology of Fluoridation: Politics vs. Science. Considering the enormous amount of material that surrounds this subject, you have really done a remarkable job!" -- Albert W. Burgstahler, Ph.D. (Harvard), University of Kansas, Professor of Organic Chemistry, January 31, 1998, author, "Fluoridation: The Great Dilemma", Coronado Press, 1978, past co-editor of the scientific journal Fluoride, and former president of the International Society for Fluoride Research.

"The Analytical Chronology of Fluoridation tells the bizarre story of fluoridation from its earliest beginnings to the time of publication. There is no concealment of the bias of the author - the opposing of fluoridation and those who promote the process. Its forte is the documentation of the ruthlessness of the promoters of fluoridation and the possible motives behind the movement. It documents the use of U.S. taxpayers' dollars to subvert individuals and institutions to promote fluoridation not only in the United States and Canada, but also overseas. It also presents, in abridged form, the evidence that fluoridation does not improve oral health but is associated with appreciable harm. The index and extensive bibliography provides a unique resource. It is must reading for those who may come face-to-face with the powerful elite to continue to wage a war on behalf of fluoridation." -- (June 1998) Richard A Foulkes, M.D., former Executive Director of the Royal Columbian Hospital in New Westminster, B.C

Bonus: Special Post-Production Segment

The First Experiential Loop - Part II

[Part I of this segment is on page 357. This post-production segment will be particularly important to those who have the Gold Edition since this builds on the original segment. This segment has also been posted in the observations section of the M5G website.]

After a Higher Self tires of what Bob Monroe referred to as his original "home", the Higher Self breaks the experiential loop concerning the original "home" experience and looks for something more. This can involve considerable wandering and searching. Remember that all decisions are made solely by each Higher Self. No one tells them what they have to do. A young Higher Self will eventually encounter the 3rd density Game scenarios played in various galaxies. More about this is contained in M5 Gold. The Higher Self can examine all the various forms of the 3rd density Game and, if so desiring, will choose one that shim would like to 'play' in. Without exception, the Game is started on the sequential path. This is where the Higher Self can gain basic experiences in 3rd density. The sequential Higher Selves cluster together in huge groups depending on which piece they play in the Game. The reptilian Higher Selves are hanging together, for example. They are so close together that, if you were to look at these Higher Selves, they would look like a huge sheet of small bubble wrap laid out flat. Remember that each sequential incarnation has one Higher Self. That's a LOT of Higher Selves.

They chose one of the sequential groups because the group hanging together is similar to the group activities of Monroe's original "home". The reptilians are the green pieces on the Game board. The Pleiadians are the yellow pieces. The Sirians are the brown pieces and so on. These are only tags I am giving them for this segment to illustrate the differences in sequential participants. Due to the single incarnation at a time and the grouping together, they progress extremely slowly as a unit. This illustrates that groups slow you down when you limit your progression to theirs. This goes on for billions of years. Then, just as with the original "home" scenario that Monroe described, certain Higher Selves became bored with the routine and tediously slow experiential loops of the sequential path. 'There HAS to be something more', they think. This is when several of the group Higher Selves break off from their groups and this includes ALL sequential groups. These Higher Selves search for more. This is when they discover the simultaneous path.

When the simultaneous path was opened in the Game, it coincided with the Orion/Sirian genetic scientists' experiments on Earth and the splitting of Ancient Earthers into two genders. This was the opening for the simultaneous experience. Refer to M5 Gold for more information on this. More restless Higher Selves left the overly crowded sequential clusters and moved to the simultaneous area. These became a new piece in the Game, the gold piece, for example, however their numbers are extremely small compared to the astronomically high numbers of sequential Higher Selves.

Those Higher Selves who choose to remain in the slow, sequential path know about the simultaneous path but have not yet overcome their fears of operating independently and breaking the experiential loops of the sequential path. Safety in numbers is their motto. We will get there on our own time. This is a valid approach for them. For Higher Selves who want more, they move to the simultaneous path. The move from sequential to simultaneous is permanent, but it doesn't keep the occasional sequential from attempting to try an influence a former 'team' member to try and return even though it is impossible. This usually occurs with contactees and their alien visitors telling them how they were once one of them. This does not enhance the contactee but rather adds a new experiential loop to their simultaneous experiences. Misery loves company applies to these Higher Selves acting to derail a former team member. Instead of encouraging them to Advance, they attempt to slow them down. This is also another factor in the Game.

Author's Introduction to The Graduation Key

Note: Complete understanding of this second volume of Matrix V Gold Edition is not possible without the background in Matrix V Gold Edition (Volume 1, Quest of the Spirit – The Ultimate Frontier). The material is presented to Matrix V Gold Edition readers, assuming that the material in the Quest for the Spirit and the in-depth Q&A have been read, comprehended and internally integrated. Those who are reading this volume who have not read the prerequisite first volume are doing themselves a disservice.

When I finished Matrix V Gold Edition: Quest of the Spirit – The Ultimate Frontier, I told Val that I had nothing else to add. I meant it ... at the time. While M5G Quest of the Spirit contains all the keys that one needs to spiral out of the Game, I had no idea, at that time, that it also contained the seed for the Graduation Key. The Graduation Key is not an individual key. All of the individual keys remain within Matrix V Gold Edition Quest of the Spirit. There are no more to add to that, even though you may find minor keys that assist your personal development within your individual experiences. The Graduation Key is a whole different event. Refer to the Volume II segment on that Key for more.

Upon composing the 'Check Back on May 5' blurb for the M5 site, I figured many would think that a platinum edition of M5 would be forthcoming. No, there will be no more editions of that classic. There will also be no further editions of Volume II. This is it. EndGame is progressing rapidly.

With the suppression of true 'free speech', the rapidly increasing lists of what you 'can' or 'cannot' do, along with other sequentializing transformations of Earth, our galaxy Game board is being taken from us. At work the other day, I mentioned an actress who played the characters of 'Witchiepoo' in HR Pufnstuf and 'Mammy Yokum' in the film musical, Lil Abner. One sequentialized incarnate actually said to me, "you can't say 'mammy' anymore". Of course I repeated 'mammy' several times after it, much to the unease of the sequentialized! No, Awakened Finals never conform to the sequential form.

The sequentialized: those incarnations who are rapidly surrendering their simultaneous natures to conform to the sequential, BORING, everybody-the-same path are really doing the work of the true sequentials of both polarities. This has been the format throughout the Game: those in charge make rules that they expect those who follow to enforce. The difference in EndGame is that the alien technologies, especially in areas of communications and transportation, make it instantaneous to dictate, impose and enforce. During the pre-EndGame days, one could get lost in the wilderness or move to various unique areas for experiences. This is almost impossible today. I went from mid-Western America to China to find American fast foods and styles. That's part of sequentializing and cultural dominance.

In the film, The Gods Must Be Crazy, the idealized Bushman village is presented as it probably was at one time. In the dvd version of both that film and its sequel, one of the extras included records how totally untrue that image is today. They have even introduced a computer to the village and showed the film on it. Foreign tourists visit the tribe and more changes occur. The Bushman village has been absorbed just like the Borg assimilate other planets. The Borg on Earth today are the United States and Britain. Behind the visible Borg is the alien sequential hand(s). Segments in both Matrix V Gold Edition and this Volume II have much to say on that topic.

Fortunately, the huge bulk of our simultaneous incarnations are existing in the Game before EndGame on Earth. Nevertheless, ALL simultaneous Higher Selves have several incarnations during the period known as Earth EndGame. These experiences are a crossover of simultaneous and sequential paths. This will have a bearing on your personal reviews once you have graduated.

While the Game's rules are being adhered to, there are those Higher Selves that are constantly searching for loopholes and expansion rules. These don't want the Game to end, so addicted they are to sequential path life. This is a mark of their spiritual immaturity and the strength of the polarities, especially the Dark and power over others. Since Higher Selves do not have Dark power over other Higher Selves in higher densities, the ability to experience it during the Game, in both sequential and simultaneous paths, is like a drug for them. It is an addiction loop that they will need to break in order to progress.

Nevertheless, this galaxy Game WILL end. Eventually the reptilians, the Sirians, the Pleiadians and many, many more 3rd density Game pieces will just be memories of a previous era. This is good and try to think, if you can, of the immense volume of experiences to share. All of this will be found vital for higher path endeavors and experiences.

When the Earther simultaneous path Higher Selves have all departed and the Earth Planetary Spirit has Advanced, the Graduation Key will no longer be required and will dissipate. The Graduation Key serves specific purposes and Higher Selves like to create for specific purposes.

Enjoy Matrix V Gold Edition Vol II - The Graduation Key. There are segments in this book that are intended for those of you who have understood the materials in M5G and wanted more. These Vol II only segments will never be on the M5G site. If you have not read and comprehended M5G, you will not be ready for Vol II. As I progress as an Awakened Final, I am sharing more of what I discover. I am not the same as I was when the Matrix V was first being created. That's how spiritual progression works. You will understand this best with your Higher Self's Awakened Final Incarnation. Keep your observational eyes on the collapse of simultaneous Earth. It was good while it lasted, but it has become stale. It's time to graduate!

Comments on the Matrix 5 Gold Vol II Artwork

© 2000-2004 Leading Edge Research Group. All Rights Reserved.

There are 4 new graphics for Matrix V Gold Edition - Vol II: The Graduation Key. Remember that the graphics are representations and these have some visual features that are for illustration purposes. Refer to the segment in Vol II, The Graduation Key, for the full interpretation of this event.

The first picture is the cover artwork. The gold aura, around copies of Matrix V Gold Edition, does envelope the whole book and swirls in a clockwise movement at the cover to form the inverted tornado look with a thread of gold energy spiraling out from the book. The actual thread is not as wide as shown in the graphic, but you get a better appreciation of what it looks like by seeing it expanded. How the energy is activated appears in The Graduation Key segment.

The second and third pictures (see page 4-B) depict gold threads moving to form the double helix section of the Graduation Key. Just as with the cover art of M5G, where it is not possible to show 1500+ incarnational streams moving from each Higher Self, so it is that the illustration of hundreds of gold thread energies moving from Earth to create the double helix would also be impossible.

The gold thread energies are coming from copies of Matrix V Gold Edition that have been activated all over Earth. It took 9 months for numerically sufficient copies to be in place around Earth, in the locations necessary, to cause the double helix energy to be activated. In your mind, visualize thin, gold energy threads moving from land masses all over Earth. The double helix energy forms just above Earth's atmosphere and proceeds up the gold wire at a 50 degree angle away from Earth.

The second picture also shows the Gold Wire that was created, as the first part of the Graduation Key, in March 2003. The initial Gold Wire energy was a solid gold color. Once the double helix was added to complete the Key, the Gold Wire took on a shimmering/glittering effect. The double helix energy is not as brilliant or wide as depicted in the artwork. The Gold Wire is the central part. The double helix winds around the Gold Wire without touching it.

While the graphic depicts the Gold Wire/double helix forming over northern Europe, the Graduation Key is fixed in astral space at that 50 degree angle. The 3rd density Earth continues to spin around it. Both northern and southern hemispheres will pass through the Gold Wire as Earth rotates. The Gold Wire extends a bit through Earth's opposite side, ending shortly after it exits in the lower left of the picture.

The second picture is a closer view of Earth. The third illustration pulls farther back and shows the left hand end of the Gold Wire. Note again that gold threads of energy are moving from land masses all over Earth. The gold threads of energy move from the books into the area above the atmosphere. They do not penetrate Earth itself. The Gold Wire piercing Earth also demonstrates the use of the Graduation Key by the Earth Planetary Spirit.

The fourth picture (see page 6-B) is the galactic view of the Key, which is most impressive when I see it from that point. The grayish cloud in the upper right is the last part of the Graduation Key graphic to be shown. This is where the Earther simultaneous path Higher Selves reside. At this galactic distance, the Gold Wire appears as a thin, but bright, gold line that can be seen from any point in our galaxy Game.

The grey cloud is not rigid, but vapor-like which indicates a different density from the astral, which it is. The Graduation Key proceeds from its origins in the 3rd density, through the 4th density and into the density where our Higher Selves reside. This is a MAJOR event for our EndGame. It happened when it did because it was time. The Graduation Key is now complete. What will follow is Graduation. The graphics are excellent for those who cannot view the Graduation Key via their current incarnation or who want a 3rd density representation of the Key.

~~~~~ Matrix 5 18x24 Visual Graphics

Editor Note: The cover illustrations from both Matrix V volumes are available as 18x24 laminated wall posters. These laminated wall posters were inevitable developments. The covers of the Matrix V Gold Edition volumes are amazing as is, but they look fantastic blown up to 18x24. The original huge graphic files were used, so quality is simply "unearthly", also suitable for framing or mounting. Stunning graphics with stunning results! Excellent wall posters for meditation, or even attach to your ceiling for an AM 'wake-up'.

Prices include printing, laminating, packing and shipping.

The Nature of the Graduation Key

© 2000-2004 Leading Edge Research Group. All Rights Reserved.

In Matrix V Gold Edition, I state that within that book, the reader has all the keys necessary to spiral out of the Game. This will not change. On an individual basis, you have the necessary knowledge components to move on after reading M5G. For those who desire more than what Matrix V Gold Edition contains, this M5G Vol. II is for you.

Matrix V Gold Edition and Astral Events

10 March 2003

Today I received my copy of Matrix V Gold Edition. When I held the book in its printed form, I was told that "the cycle has been completed". What originated from my Higher Self, with the input of some other Higher Selves along the way, has manifested fully in higher densities. I will share some of which I saw when I sat down with the book.

There was a flash of (what appeared to me) fireworks in the Library area of Focus 27. I have never seen that up there before and it caught me by surprise. The whole Library building itself took on a different look of flashing lights around its frame. A lot of people are there, lined up to get Matrix V Gold Edition. I knew, when the Second Edition came out, that there would be a demand for it. However the activity around the Gold Edition makes that of the Second Edition pale in comparison now that ALL the keys necessary are contained within. Whenever one copy is "taken", another appears in its place. .

When one moves to the Gold Edition on display in the Library, they touch it and move on. While they are able to take an astral copy of M5 Gold, what I see them doing is absorbing the book in the most efficient way, by rote. They touch it and the entire book, in all its aspects, is absorbed into the person and transmitted to their Higher Self. It is really neat to watch this happen. It's a gold pulse moving through them up their energy stream into their Higher Self. This is the way of communication in higher densities in the optimum mode. As soon as one absorbs the Matrix V Gold Edition rote, they move on or fade from the Library and the next person takes a turn. A few choose to not only take the M5 Gold rote, but also take a 'printed' version with them. Some value a copy they can also hold for a while.

After this, I was taken beyond Earth where I saw (what looks like) a gold wire (an understatement) through the center of the planet. This object is so huge that when you move beyond this galaxy, you can still see it in the distance, like a beacon. It is as long as maybe 50% of the galaxy is wide. It is on an angle of 50 degrees with the top angling to my right as I look at Earth and the bottom is to my left of the south pole. It is not thick. If anything, I would have to say that it is a firm, gold wire or rope. I am told that it is to assist with the final spiral out of the Game and will be used as a guide for Final Incarnations in combination with the Nexus of Time when each simultaneously incarnating Higher Self departs the Game. This is visible to all simultaneous path Higher Selves and all Awakened Final Incarnations. Other Very Advanced incarnations may be given an opportunity to view it, if they are ready. The Gold Wire cannot be used by anyone short of the graduated Higher Self after that Higher Self's Final Incarnation has completed the Summoning via the Nexus of Time. For more on those topics, you must read Matrix V Gold Edition.

There is MUCH joy (another understatement) with the Higher Selves that this final element to spiral out of the Game has appeared. It signals EndGame for the simultaneous path Higher Selves. It is the light at the end of the tunnel. The long awaited keys to simultaneous graduation are contained in M5 Gold. It is being read all around the world now as copies are being delivered. These keys have allowed this Gold Wire to manifest. The rest is up to each of you especially through your own Final Incarnation in whatever time shim exists. You are taking part in THE Wild Card, something that was planned eons ago.

Later Information on Progression of this Phenomenon

29 May 2003: I've told you about the Gold Wire that is on about a 50 degree angle through Earth and the new (as of a couple weeks ago) activity around the upper right visible end of it. This is the forest (the whole), so to say. I've been shown a closer look (I don't know why I didn't do this myself except that I've been so amazed at the greater picture). There are threads of gold energy that are moving energy into this Wire. When I followed the energy back to the source, I discovered that these gold threads are emanating from copies of M5 Gold that are scattered all over the world as well as from the astral copies of M5 Gold. M5 Gold is pulsing with its own unique energies. I also note this wasn't an occurrence with the Second Edition. It wasn't time for it then. These individual threads make up the trees that create the forest. With each M5 Gold that is received, a new thread is added from that location. The gold energy, moving from the book, is fluid and relaxed, not stiff, but it is moving away from the book which seems to be a self-generating energy source connected to certain Higher Selves. I find this quite amazing when looking at it. I have a few thoughts on this that I keep to myself because I find them personally beyond amazing. I can't say what the purpose of this is at this time, however. It does have to do with EndGame for the simultaneous incarnates and is considered a galactic event. Staggering!

31 Aug 2003: During sleep last night, I remember being at the gray, swirling matter at the upper part of the gold wire going through Earth. I heard the word "EndGame" being used and that this gray vortex being part of it. I saw an earthenware pitcher being drawn into it and was told the energy was "no longer needed in that form" and it was being "recycled" into its basic energy component. I stepped into the gray vortex for a bit and it had no effect on me and when I came out of it, I was told it wouldn't. It was interesting watching several items being sucked into it....and then I woke up.

06 Jan 2004: There is definitely more activity going on at the gold bar/wire/whatever you want to call it that is on an angle through Earth. It's been a quite while since I checked on it. I just did and the wire itself has a glittering effect on it while a double helix of gold energy is spiraling up/away from Earth. I have NO idea what it means, but it's significant that activity has increased significantly since the last time I checked. Of course this has to do with EndGame, but any more I don't know at this time. Very neat to look at, though.

The Graduation Key

Special M5G Vol II Segment, 25 March 2004

Before you read the rest of this major segment, be sure that you have read the Volume II segment of March 10, 2003 – Matrix V Gold Edition and Astral Events – plus the Vol. II exclusive segment immediately following – Later Information on Progression of this Phenomenon. Once you have done so, continue reading this segment.

The Gold Wire was created when I held my copy of Matrix V Gold Edition, Quest of the Spirit. The Gold Wire is the central part of The Graduation Key; however, the Key was only partially in place at that time. Although I was given the rote about this event, it was not to fully open until one year later, March 12, 2004.

I was on the phone discussing the beautiful artwork created for Volume II when the rote opened and I was flooded with information about the Gold Wire, the grey swirling matter and the double helix energy. The event creating the Gold Wire was complete with my receiving of the physical copy of M5G. The connection of my touch (spirit) with the completed material (hidden key) caused the Gold Wire to manifest. This was the next phase of the simultaneous path movement from Earth – EndGame scenario.

While I found the Gold Wire fascinating to see, I moved on with my experiences here and didn't think more about the Gold Wire until the sleep experience of August 31, 2003. Conscious awareness of the grey swirling matter was the second part of the Graduation Key.

This second part represents the area where the Earther simultaneous path Higher Selves reside during the Game. The Gold Wire ends within that area. This information was not to be released on the M5 site or elsewhere at this time. After that day, I again returned to my own daily life without thinking more about the revelation.

In early January 2004, I was sitting in a chair at home, just thinking about nothing in particular when my attention was suddenly taken to the Gold Wire. I did so and was amazed at how it had changed. The Gold Wire had taken on a glittering effect. It shimmers now, as opposed to just being a solid gold energy. But more importantly, I saw a double helix of moving, glittering gold energy. The double helix slowly moves around the Gold Wire without clinging to it. The helix is moving away from Earth, proceeds up the Gold Wire and into the grey matter. What is causing the helix?

Moving closer to Earth, from an out of body space view, I can see hundreds of thin, gold threads moving from all over Earth's land masses. These fine threads have created the double helix energy. One gold thread of energy is being emitted by each Matrix V Gold Edition that has been read. This does not occur from copies at the printer or copies in bookstores.

Now this is really a neat event: When someone gets a copy of M5G and reads it, it is their spirit energy that creates the gold thread by activating a hidden key in the combined M5G book itself. This thread cannot be started any other way. This is consciously done by each of your Higher Selves who know well of the M5 project. This is part of your participation in the creation of the Graduation Key! Something else to point out is that a certain specific number of copies of Matrix V Gold Edition had to be in place to form the double helix. This is why my copy alone did not form the helix. It was formed in January of 2004 when the necessary components to the global helix were all in place.

This individual gold thread cannot be activated if a sequential incarnate reads M5G (and they do have some copies of it) or if someone flips through it and doesn't read it. Those for whom M5G was written for have the strongest threads and you are ALL over this planet.

Many mid-Advanced incarnates have read Matrix V Gold Edition too. They may enjoy parts of it and not others, but by reading it, their Higher Selves have also assisted in the double helix activation by also initiating threads from their books. There is no simultaneous incarnation on Earth, who reads M5G, who will not activate the gold tread connecting to the double helix. You are ALL part of the Graduation Key!

The helix structure contains the unique signature of the Earth simultaneous path Higher Selves. This is why any other type of key will not operate as the Graduation Key. Any other formation, other than this specific one, will not function in this 'lock'.

Recently (late March 04), I moved close to the Key paying attention to the double helix energy. At this closer range, I could see that there is a distinct vibration moving from the Key. It is emitting its own sound, which is the result of the subtle vibration. If a tree falls in the forest, does it make a sound? Only if one is on the receiving end of the vibrations caused by the tree's fall is the correct answer. If no one is there, the tree still produces vibrations from the event.

The Key's vibration would not be there if it served no purpose. It is fair to say that the vibration will facilitate the Earth path Higher Selves' graduation from 'here' to 'there'. The best way I can describe the vibration to you is that the sound is steady in intensity, not wavering, and pleasant with an undercurrent of faint wind chimes. It is gentle and not booming. It is like two different, but harmonious, items blended together and that would go along with the double helix formation.

If sequentials, who come to be aware of the Graduation Key, attempt to duplicate the structure in order to change the rules of this galaxy Game, they will fail. All galaxy Game participants, previous to entry into their chosen galaxy Game, agreed to the rules which they full understood. That certain ones may desire to alter these rules, while in the Game, will only serve to retard their own progression. This will be realized by those, such as the Orion queen, in time. However by then, we Earth path simultaneous will be long departed from the Game.

Someone may wonder what if their copy of M5G is destroyed. It won't matter to the energy. The gold thread from your book is not a physical, 3rd density creation. Once the thread is created by the energy of your Higher Self via shim's incarnation holding the physical copy of M5G, the astral counterpart is created. It is the astral counterpart that is generating the gold thread. The physical book contains what the simultaneous Earth path reader needs to initiate the process.

This brings up the copy(s) of Matrix V Gold Edition on focus level 27. The Library copy is mentioned in M5G as the source for others who desire one on that level. These as well form their threads to the helix. There are Awakened Final Incarnations and Dominants, from other Earth 'time' periods who have accessed the full materials here. This has frequently been accomplished due to their having incarnations in EndGame who have come in contact with M5G and the vibration of it has resounded from that Higher Self.

The Graduation Key

© 2000-2004 Leading Edge International Research Group. All Rights Reserved.

If you have the clairvoyant ability to do so, when you look at your already-read copy of Matrix V Gold Edition, you can see the gold aura around the book. This energy moves in a clockwise motion to form an inverted tornado-ish energy that creates the thread. This is illustrated on the cover of this book. Read the artwork segment for more on the Vol. II illustrations. These individual, swirling gold threads join up all over Earth to form the double helix energy which is the third part of the Graduation Key.

The graphics in Vol. II do well to illustrate this to the reader. If you held a physical key in your hand, the base of the key 'corresponds' to the Earth portion of the artwork. The long part of the physical key is represented by the Gold Wire with the double helix of energy. The lock opening configuration of a standard key is shown by the motion of the thread-created double helix which is in motion around the Gold Wire. The lock that the key must open is the grey area that the Gold Wire/double helix penetrates. This is where the Summoning occurs within each of your Higher Selves by use of your Higher Self's Nexus of Time. These topics are already covered in M5G segments. Your Awakened Final Incarnation will complete this graduation function. The combination of the individual gold threads, the double helix and the Gold Wire form the Graduation Key.

Knowledge of this key is not required by Earther simultaneous path incarnates in order to spiral out of the Game. This is NOT an individual key. It IS a group functioning key created by the Earth simultaneous path Higher Selves. On one level, you could compare it to part of the graduation ceremonies from Earth schools.

This does not mean that 'we all progress at the same time', which is a sequential concept. Awakened Finals exist in ALL 'time periods'. With the Graduation Key now complete and in place, they can depart their experiences when it is their time. It remains very individualistic. The Graduation Key is a major assist to all simultaneous path Higher Selves. Among other things, it is a beacon to all Awakened Finals showing the direct route to where your Higher Self resides during the Game. Another function of the Graduation Key is to assist the Finals with the Summoning.

While the Graduation Key is unique to Earther simultaneous incarnates, if one astrally moves beyond our galaxy Game, the Graduation Key is visible as a very thin, gold line moving from where Earth is located, at a 50 degree angle to where the simultaneous path Higher Selves reside. The Key also serves notice to all other galaxy Game Higher Selves that our EndGame is here and we will be departing the Game. It is also a signal that a new simultaneous path planet is being readied and the Game will continue.

One other item of note: You notice on the illustration that the Gold Wire penetrates Earth. This allows the Earth Planetary Spirit to also use the Gold Key energy in shim's nature path graduation. The symbiotic relationship of the nature and the simultaneous path Higher Selves is undergoing a final stage. The Planetary Spirit does not move up the Key as we do, but we are assisting that spirit to graduate to shim's next level and higher path. Earth is preparing to depart the 3rd density Game as described in other M5G segments.

Now that this Key is complete, it is also multi-dimensional. This brings up some harder to grasp concepts that are not necessary to understand at this time. These will be made clear to you AFTER graduation. It is important to concentrate on your current incarnation and experiences in this dimension and not be side-tracked. However, if you have that burning desire for more AND your Higher Self finds it necessary to know, you can research the Library. If you cannot, then it is a curiosity of the moment and stimulated by our naturally inquisitive natures. This is also part of EndGame – the desire to know more and expand beyond this Game. All comes when necessary, so have faith in YOUR Higher Self.

Now you are aware of the Graduation Key and much of its purpose. This is a lot to consider and evaluate. This must be done individually. If it is too much for you, just push it aside for now. Volume II has taken the Matrix V project to a higher level. Just as M5G is for a limited audience on Earth during EndGame, so is Volume II. Meanwhile, enjoy your experiences during EndGame.

Complete understanding of this second volume of Matrix V Gold Edition is not possible without the background in Matrix V Gold Edition (Volume 1, Quest of the Spirit – The Ultimate Frontier. They are presented to Matrix V Gold Edition readers, assuming that the material in the Quest for the Spirit and the in-depth Q&A have been read, comprehended and internally integrated. The following are segments written after Quest of the Spirit, plus new segments written during the formation of The Graduation Key. Enjoy!

The First Experiential Loop - Part II

3/7/2003

Part I of this segment appears ONLY in Matrix V Gold Edition. This bonus segment will be particularly important to those who have the Gold Edition since this builds on the original segment.

After a Higher Self tires of, what Bob Monroe referred to as his original "home", the Higher Self breaks the experiential loop concerning the original "home" experience and looks for something more. This can involve considerable wandering and searching. Remember that all decisions are made solely by each Higher Self. No one tells them what they have to do.

A young Higher Self will eventually encounter the 3rd density Game scenarios played in various galaxies. More about this is contained in M5 Gold. The Higher Self can examine all the various forms of the 3rd density Game and, if so desiring, will choose one that shim would like to 'play' in.

Without exception, the Game is started on the sequential path. This is where the Higher Self can gain basic experiences in 3rd density. The sequential Higher Selves cluster together in huge groups depending on which piece they play in the Game. The reptilian Higher Selves are hanging together, for example. They are so close together that, if you were to look at these Higher Selves, they would look like a huge sheet of small bubble wrap laid out flat. Remember that each sequential incarnation has one Higher Self. That's a LOT of Higher Selves.

They chose one of the sequential groups because the group hanging together is similar to the group activities of Monroe's original "home". The reptilians are the green pieces on the Game board. The Pleiadians are the yellow pieces. The Sirians are the brown pieces and so on. These are only 'tags' I am giving them for this segment to illustrate the differences in sequential participants. Due to the single incarnation at a time and the grouping together, they progress extremely slowly as a unit. This illustrates that groups slow you down when you limit your progression to theirs.

This goes on for billions of years. Then, just as with the original "home" scenario that Monroe described, certain Higher Selves became bored with the routine and tediously slow experiential loops of the sequential path. 'There HAS to be something more', they think. This is when several of the group Higher Selves break off from their groups and this includes ALL sequential groups. These Higher Selves search for more. This is when they discover the simultaneous path.

MATRIX V Gold Edition- Volume 2

The Graduation Key

When the simultaneous path was opened in the Game, it coincided with the Orion/Sirian genetic scientists' experiments on Earth and the splitting of Ancient Earthers into two genders. This was the opening for the simultaneous experience. Refer to M5 Gold for more information on this. More restless Higher Selves left the overly crowded sequential clusters and moved to the simultaneous area. These became a new piece in the Game, the gold piece, for example, however their numbers are extremely small compared to the astronomically high numbers of sequential Higher Selves.

Those Higher Selves who choose to remain in the slow, sequential path know about the simultaneous path but have not yet overcome their fears of operating independently and breaking the experiential loops of the sequential path. Safety in numbers is their motto. We will get there on our own time. This is a valid approach for them. For Higher Selves who want more, they move to the simultaneous path. The move from sequential to simultaneous is permanent, but it doesn't keep the occasional sequential from attempting to try an influence a former 'team' member to try and return even though it is impossible.

This usually occurs with contactees and their alien visitors telling them 'how they were once one of them'. This does not enhance the contactee but rather adds a new experiential loop to their simultaneous experiences. 'Misery loves company' applies to these Higher Selves acting to derail a former team member. Instead of encouraging them to Advance, they attempt to slow them down. This is also another factor in the Game. For more on these topics, read Matrix V Gold Edition. Questions to me, that can be answered by reading M5 Gold, will not be answered in Q&A.

Experiential Loops & The Eyes

When attempting to use reason on local warmongers, who, for the most part, seem to be reasonable in most other areas, I notice that their eyes take on a dull sheen. I mention this in the segment on Experiential Loops: Warmongering/Patriotism. In Matrix V Gold Edition, I talk about the look of minion eyes - dull/flat. Minion eyes are always flat compared to a Higher Self incarnation. The dullness I see in the warmongers is accompanied by an almost audible (to me) slamming of the mental door. This seems to be connected to a major experiential loop and the dullness is a result of the body suppressing the spirit since the spirit has yet to break that experiential loop.

Yesterday, when I went for a massage therapy session, I noticed that my Aquarian massage therapist was alternating between body and spirit control in the matters of warmongering. He began in the body mode. I gave some Balanced reason to him and he began to waiver. His spirit briefly took control, but it was definitely a see-saw battle for who would be in control of his opinions. I did stop and changed the subject when I realized he couldn't handle any more at the time. In his case, I don't believe his spirit is strong enough to break the loop yet, but I may have assisted by giving him some things to think about.

Obviously if you, who are reading this, are still caught up in the warmongering loop, your mind has most likely closed down for segments like this. If you have broken that loop, and desire to see for yourself the effect I mention here, try it with a warmonger who claims to be a friend of yours and watch the eyes. Depending on your observational/oratory skills, you could get some interesting results. If they seem to agree with you but still throw in the warmongering perspective, they are going through their own internal conflicts and that is how it is being shown to you.

I suggest that once you notice that their mind has closed down to reason, that you drop the subject. When the body takes control, they can become rabid if pushed too far. That's part of the DNA protective controls. Remember, observe and test, but it isn't necessary to do more, and don't try to 'save' them unless you are a Lightsider and want the experiences that come with it. In that case, you really aren't ready for the fullness of M5. EndGame is presenting many varied observational experiences for those of a level to make the most of them.

Zodiacal Vibrations & The Game

Everyone knows about the 12 signs of the zodiac and most know what their incarnational sign is. The influence of the zodiac, under various names in other solar systems, is a galaxy wide, 3rd density wide phenomenon. In our solar system, we use the planets orbiting our sun as well as the vibrational influences of other stars and asteroids of significance to where we are here. In other solar systems, they use the vibrational planets of their systems in a similar manner. I found it interesting that, in the Meier materials, that Semjase of Erra in the Taygeta system of the Pleiades said that she is an Aquarius. The planetary configurations are very different than ours, yet the vibration of Aquarius (although a different word in her language) is the same. The vibration of any one sign is modified by the planet, sun or asteroid that it emanates through. This, in turn, does affect the vibrational system set up in each person by the birth horoscope they have.

While we are in the Game, we will experience all 12 signs of the zodiac in unique combinations in the hundreds and hundreds of incarnations we have. Each sign vibration has its own 'feel' and purpose. The unique combination of planets and signs that they are in, at your time of birth, make the individual incarnation that you 'are' at this time. This is never the same twice for your Higher Self's incarnational path. The planetary bodies are generating their own frequency, as does Earth. This is ONE of the purposes of the Nature Spirit realms working with the Higher Self paths. The 12 vibrations emanate through the physical bodies of the Nature Spirit planetary/solar Higher Selves.

Outside of the 3rd density, the vibrations do not exist separately but rather as a whole. There are no 'Aquarian' or 'Sagittarian' Higher Selves. The vibrations manifest as a unit rather than as 12 individual signs. After completing the Game in each of the 12 signs, your Higher Self will be able to use the zodiac vibrations with mastery. This is something that couldn't be done before the Game experiences. There is a definite need for this mastery, but you will have to wait until your Higher Self makes it known to you. Read Matrix V Gold Edition for more higher knowledge.

What To Do During EndGame - Emotional Fire

3/21/2003

EndGame is in full swing. You are in the Game. What should you do? You should do whatever you feel you must. Almost everyone will play some part in EndGame's dramas depending on where your current incarnation is and the experiences that your Higher Self requires. There is NO wrong or right position to be in. If you are of a mind to be goose stepping with Adolph von Bush, then that's what you should do. If you are of a mind to be at anti-war rallies, then that's what you should do. If you just want to sit back and watch, then that's what you should do. Requiring everyone else to do what you are doing means you haven't Advanced enough for spirit to override body ID. This, however, is the vast majority of the planet. If anyone pontificates that their position is the 'right' or 'only position', they haven't understood individuality. What's right for one can be wrong for the other.

While, in general, it is very polaric to be either for or against America's empire building and desire to rule the world, you would not be here if your Higher Self did not want SOME kind of experiences from it. I find it particularly interesting to say things and watch the reactions of those who believe their polarity can change the Game. The Game cannot be altered. All the 'siege healing' in America for Adolph von Bush won't change the Game's direction. All the protesting of wars won't change the Game's direction. Remember that the Game's direction was pre-set before the Game began. You are just a player in the Game for the experiences. Until you can grasp that concept, you can't see the forest for the trees.

I was asked if the Game is in a state of imbalance because the Dark forces in America, and Britain and Israel are on the move, 'will the Light polarity be increased'? In Matrix 5 I wrote that this sector of the galaxy is Dark polarity. Consider that, when asking questions of that nature. If the Orion Empire does fulfill its intended return to Earth, the Light polarity will all but disappear here.

With my observations, I am giving you perspectives of a Final Incarnation on the Game. I can point out the Dark and Light players and their intentions. At the same time, I say that these players must fulfill their roles in the Game. While you can't change that, you can still have fun with them, especially if you can tap into your Emotional Fire (see Matrix V Gold Edition for that topic). The passion that you can reach will allow you to gain the most from the Game without getting swept up in the Game. It allows getting passionate over something without the passion controlling you. When I use it with someone who is body ID'd, they say, 'why are you so angry, so this or so that?' It appears that way to them because this is how they 'react' when passion rules them rather than the reverse. Painting with Emotional Fire is something that an Awakened Final will practice with, because it is a necessary element in higher densities.

The Game: Political 'Correctness'

Political 'correctness', BOTH Dark and Light, is a feature of the Game today, especially in western countries. The Dark side of political 'correctness' includes patriotism, conservative (stagnant) opinions and religious devotion (giving away of your power to external 'deities'). They like to call themselves 'religious right' and 'conservative right', playing on the Dark side of 'correctness'. The Light side of political 'correctness' includes redundant 'hate crimes', 'assisting the undeserving' (denial of experiences), 'unconditional' love (fantasy beLIEf) and religious devotion (giving away of your power to external 'deities'). Both polarities claim to 'speak for their deity'. They need to learn to speak for themselves.

The Dark side demands patriotism. This shows today in the Iraq invasion. Adolph von Bush launched this war not for America but for other motives. Bush is not 'for' America. Bush is using America. This appointed president is playing the people for fools and this country has shown there are many fools, minions and fascists in residence. Dark loves to deceive the public into believing 'love of country' and 'obedience to government' are the same thing. They are not. Using this Dark twist puts people on the defensive. Dark knows this and that is why they use it. Dark adherents believe whatever they are told by the government. They have not spiritually Advanced enough to realize when they are being taken for a sleigh ride with a jackass and no snow! The Dark side has a lot of hate within and if they cannot control you, they hate you. This is their experience.

MATRIX V Gold Edition- Volume 2

The Graduation Key

The Light side, in the US, is especially hung up on the foolish 'hate crimes' bullshit. A crime is a crime. It is not a crime to harbor negative thoughts for anyone or any group. Forcing conformity is part of the sequential reasoning. Denying individuality, even if it conflicts with what you believe, is sequential conformity. It is ok think what you will as long as you respect the other's right to do what they want as long as they don't force you to do it.

Coupled to this is the very bullshitty 'unconditional love' myth. I have written about this deception in M5. It is balanced with Darksider 'unconditional hate'. One cannot exist without the other. By creating and perpetuating the 'unconditional love' idea, these people have allowed the opposite, 'unconditional hate', to flourish.

BOTH polarities are in the state of imbalance. That's the nature of the Game. The only way to eliminate the polarities comes from blending both of them into one. THAT is the root fear of the polarities. The idea of liberalism is change. The idea of conservatism is stagnation. The vibration of change IS spiritual. This should not be confused with Lightsider 'liberalism', which is not the same thing. Neither polarity is correct, BUT each polarity has elements that are correct when blended with the opposite.

Until you are able to reach Balance, you will and must participate in the polarities, both Dark and Light with all the consequences they bring. Despite each side's pontificating, they are BOTH incorrect. You will be able to appreciate this once you have reached Balance where individuality is paramount and embraced by all. Meanwhile, the Game continues. EndGame is here.

Experiential Loops: Warmongering/Patriotism

I have written about experiential loops in Matrix 5 Gold Edition and the need to overcome about 95% of the body's DNA command structure in experiencing these loops. The full set of command structure loops are in effect in your lowest incarnational levels. They are necessary for you to have experiences in the 3rd density. Once you have had the necessary experiences and recognize them as loops of repetition, your spirit matures and you begin to tire of the loops and break them. How long it takes to break the loop depends on if it is a minor or a major loop for you and the experiences your Higher Self requires in relation to them.

Sexuality consists of several major and minor loops. Religion has several major and minor loops as well. They are discussed in M5. The third major group involves polarities. Well over 80% of your structured DNA commands are rooted in the sexual/religious/polarity areas. These take the longest to break and are the most difficult. For more on them, read Matrix 5 Gold Edition.

Patriotism/warmongering are sub-loops of the Dark polarity area. They are usually very strong in Low and Mid levels. Blind or semi-blind obedience to government and equating 'government' with 'country' are parts of that loop. These loops usually can and do extend through mid-Advanced levels. They are tough loops to break and to see them for what they really are. They can be among the final loops broken by some Very Advanced levels. These loops involve denying the Universal Laws and seek the conformity that the sequential aliens crave. For examples: hate France, bomb/kill/destroy/hate Iraq, hate muslims, hate anyone who disagrees and so on. These are all Dark features.

The Graduation Key

Duty should be to country, if you desire, and not to government. If your government does not try to follow the Universal Laws, you should note that and act accordingly. I don't think you'll find any government that really tries to do this since the Universal Laws are contrary to the Game. Once the patriotic/warmongering/blind obedience loops are broken by YOU, you will look with wide eyes how you have been deceived/used by them. People who are still heavily involved in these loops will not want to hear the logic/reason of those who have broken these loops. I notice that when I try to say something to someone about this, their eyes go blank and I can hear the mental door slam shut. I drop the subject then. It is not their time to break the loop.

Another loop series that often replaces the patriotic/warmongering set is the exact opposite of the Lightside, the old 'unconditional love' bullshit, the 'turn-the-other-cheek' nonsense. This just encourages the Dark counter loop. 'Beat me, use me and I won't say a word against you' is just as limiting as the Dark loop of patriotism/warmongering. BUT you will experience BOTH in your journey to the graduation from the Game. You must break both loops by your Awakened Final Incarnation in order to depart the Game, and you will. The Light loop is more common in low/mid-Advanced levels. Both loop polarities feed the other. Only by blending both of them will you be able to move beyond them. We are in EndGame now and you see how strong these loops are. They make for great observations by those who have successfully broken them.

Warmongering/Patriotic Loops, Experiences & Balance

With the major, and related minor, warmongering/patriotic experiential loops in full control of America during EndGame, this has become a major observational experience for the Very Advanced and higher incarnates who have broken these loops. Experiential loops are not only mental mindsets, but are also tied into emotional responses. Hence when those who are controlled by the experiences brought on by the warmongering/patriotic loops view those who have broken these loops (and those who seek to overtly challenge this segment of the Game), the warmongers love to tag such responses as 'traitor', 'seditious' and 'anti-American' on those who disagree. Of course they are all nonsense labels. The self-deception suffered by the warmonger/patriotic types tolerates no individuality and seeks to suppress freedom of expression, all the while using 'freedom' as a catchword. It is a lie. This is an Orion command as well as sequential in nature - conformity.

While those who actively protest (and more) the invasion of Iraq seem to have broken their warmongering/patriotic loops, they are actually fulfilling their part in the Game by challenging the opposite polarity. Remember that the Game needs both polarities to function properly and both polarities have their own experiences. From my position as an Awakened Final, I can see the fallacies in both sides and their antics. For one, being anti-warmongering is not 'anti-American'. It IS an anti-government position. That's two different things. By using terms that the warmongers love, they try to put the other side on the defensive. Nothing works better than trying to shift blame from your position to the other. This keeps you from having to defend something, in this case warmongering/patriotism, that is defenseless when it comes to forcing one's perceived national will on another country.

MATRIX V Gold Edition- Volume 2

The Graduation Key

The other polarity believes that their marching, protesting, etc will stop what Adolph von Bush & henchmen are doing. Nope. Von Bush & henchmen are marching to orders set by others. They are the visible icons of Dark, but the true pullers-of-strings are IN the Dark. However, the Higher Selves of the protesters are gathering experiences and that's the bottom line of the Game for all Higher Selves.

The warmongers/patriotic loop followers use the old tactic of 'support the troops'. This is also bullshit. A good question to ask them is 'support the troops to what extent'? It isn't like the Vietnam fiasco where you had drafted men doing the killing. Here you have volunteers who want to be there. Using this flawed logic of 'support the troops', the Iraqi people should be supporting THEIR troops. Yet the American propaganda machine (equal to the German WWII machine in lies) would have us believe that the invasion is good and the Iraqis should support the invaders. My favorite response is 'if the US was being invaded, would you support the invading country and welcome them?'

Interestingly, Graham Norton, British comedian and talk show host, is in New York City this week (March 31-April 4 on BBC America). On Monday night, he addressed his audience in Britain and said how 'amazing' it is that an 8 hour flight from London and there is a whole other war here in the US....and they are 'winning' over here. He continued saying that here it isn't a 'war' but a 'liberation'. How interesting that the Iraqis greet a liberation by going in the street and firing guns at anyone who isn't Iraqi. BBC America news is far more realistic than American propaganda mill news.

I do NOT support the troops, the fascist government or those who support the invasion. This was their choice and I will not validate their choice as being the 'right thing'. It is not. At the same time, you will not see me in the street protesting or writing letters to editors. THAT experience is behind me too. What I do here is give my observations and that's just what they are.

It takes tremendous amounts of spiritual will to break experiential loops. You cannot do so before your Higher Self has had sufficient experiences in each of the loops. When that happens, you will find the spiritual strength to break the loops. Remembering the Laws of the Universe and what I've written in Matrix 5 Gold Edition about the nature of Balance will assist you in understanding what the Balance positions are like. Forced conformity, uniformity and suppression of individuality are all contrary to Balance. It does not take courage to 'go along with the crowd'. THAT is too easy and the Smooth Road. It does take courage to break from the crowd and follow your own path - the Rocky Road. It's going to get FAR more 'interesting'. EndGame is here.

Manipulating the Minions & More

4/4/2003

Minions, as well as Low and Mid level incarnates, respond very well to visual and verbal stimulation. In the anti-invasion areas of the world, the 'horrors of war' are freely shown to reinforce their position, such as 'dead children', 'civilians in panic' and other 'American war crimes'. In the pro-invasion areas of the world, you hear/see anything except that. Instead delusions of 'liberation', 'freedom' and other bullshit, flag-waving is employed.

The Graduation Key

If/when the United States is invaded, the positions would be completely reversed. In that case, everything that the American government bitches about Iraq would become suddenly 'legitimate' because the shoe is now on the other foot.

ALL of this, BOTH sides, are part of the Game. They are polarity expressions that are so needed by the Game and for the experiences. The Dark polarity is represented by the American/British governments, FOX News and other fascist elements. The Light polarity can be seen on David Icke's site, in France/Russia and most of the rest of the world's media. Dark believes that 'might makes right'. BOTH polarities are caught up in experiential loops. They are using emotional appeals to attempt to bolster their 'sides'. The Dark is in violation of the Laws of the Universe in this case, but then the Game doesn't give a flying fuck for the Laws of the Universe. That's what happens when you have polarities instead of Balance. Polarities also expect conformity to their positions and will use various means to force their positions. Both polarities are also controlled BY their emotions. That is significant and indicates body ID control. Remember, though, that these experiences are required by Higher Selves in LESS than Very Advanced stages. Another note is that both polarities are taking their positions SO seriously that they have no sense of humor. These, and others, are observations you will make in your Final Incarnation.

Those who are still caught up in their experiential loops on this event are very quick to point out what the OTHER side is saying/not conforming to, but have blinders on when you turn the same tables around on their polarity. Example: "Babies killed by Americans are shown in their media to control the minions." is a Dark polarity whine. To this one, I said that's exactly why they are NOT shown in this country because it weakens the Dark line. The Dark is all about flag waving, conformity and no dissent. The Light polarity is all about flag burning, conformity and no dissent. What we have in EndGame is a multi-ringed circus of polarity shows. Depending on where you are in your progression, you will either be in the circus or observing the entertainments or even a mixture of both.

Wild Card: Orion Empire Positioning

A small article in today's newspaper (Apr 6,03) has the headline: "Discovery of six moons gives Jupiter 58". From that article:

"Honolulu - Six more moons have been found orbiting Jupiter, pushing to 58 the total number of known natural satellites of the solar system's largest planet. The moons are tiny, perhaps just a mile or so across, and orbit Jupiter at a distance of tens of millions of miles. They were found as part of an ongoing search using the world's two largest digital cameras at telescopes in Hawaii."

There are a couple of flags that should go up with readers of Matrix 5 materials. First is that the moons are "tiny, perhaps just a mile or so across". Refer to Matrix V Gold Edition for my report about the Orion and Sirian Empires' use of asteroids and 'moon's' as disguised ships. These 'moons' orbit Jupiter at a distance of "tens of millions of miles". Alien fleets have been known to be hanging around Jupiter for a while. While they may appear to be 'natural' satellites, they are not, with only a few exceptions. This is how the Orion/Sirian Empires operate when infiltrating a system.

What we have here is an increasing presence, in this solar system, of Orion/Sirian Empire ships as part of the Alien Wild Card that, if fully played, will bring our system back into the Orion Empire, as described in Matrix V Gold Edition. I expect that more 'moons' will be discovered around Jupiter, meanwhile Mars' moons have move to another point in our system as well. Keep you observational skills sharp to see what may develop next.

Sequential Incarnates on Earth

To grasp this segment, you would need to read and understand the materials in Matrix V Gold Edition. In today's Sunday paper (April 20,03) and on the Internet, an article appears about a 13 year old college senior who "was solving math problems at 14 months and correcting adults' grammar by 2 - the same age he decided to become a vegetarian". This is just one story in a string that has appeared for a number of years now. The 'prodigy' children, the 'children of the blue ray' and other pedestal placing phrases are used for these exceptions to the apparent rule. The vegetarian decision is one that is commonly associated with Pleiadians.

There has always been a limited alien presence on Earth, both of Orion/Sirian Empires, usually in world/business leadership positions, and other alien groups with Pleiadian being prominent because they can pass for standard Earther human. The Orion reptilians use their shape-shifting abilities to deceive Earthers of their true natures. The humanoids who look very much like Earthers do mix with Earther societies in their missions of studying the Earther situation. I personally know a woman whose father was an alien planted here when he was an infant within an Earther family. He regularly met with his home world people throughout his life. I've seen his picture and you wouldn't know that he wasn't one of us. I have also heard some amazing stories surrounding this family. This is just ONE example of sequentials dabbling on Earth in this manner.

Sequential aliens are born, according to their place in the Game, with memories/abilities intact from past lives. Simultaneous incarnates are born with blocks, although, with time, they may easily develop talents (that other of their incarnations have tediously learned) to certain extents depending on what that Higher Self requires in this incarnation. A simultaneous incarnation does NOT incarnate solving math problems as a baby. Sequential incarnates definitely can do so. Refer back to M5 Gold for more information on the sequential/simultaneous situations. Birth memory is one key discussed in M5.

During EndGame, the aliens, both 'good' and 'bad' are attempting to alter Earth to a purely sequential planet and to push out the simultaneous from the Game. The simultaneously incarnating Higher Selves will not be around for much longer, but certain Wild Cards will come into play to deny the sequential aliens their greed for Earth.

The use of 'code terms', especially things like 'children of the blue ray' is meant to alert other sequential aliens on Earth as to that program. It also identifies certain children as sequential in progression. Simultaneously incarnating should not react badly to this, but should just be aware of another facet in the Game. However, many simultaneous of a below very-Advanced levels, especially Lightsiders, are envious of these people and beLIEve that 'these are more Advanced' because of their 'talents'. This is not true. This is also another sequential dead end presented to the Earth simultaneous to try and throw a monkey wrench in your path...another rock in the rocky road of those who fall for this ploy. For simultaneously incarnating Higher Selves, the key generation is what is known as the 'Baby Boomers' born 1946-1965.

Sequential aliens do procreate on Earth and introduce other sequentials that way. Nevertheless, they are still alien to Earth. Simultaneous Higher Selves do not incarnate in alien bodies (no matter how Earther human looking) of alien parents living on Earth. The whole concepts of the 'blue ray' children and 'aliens living on Earth and passing as human', is quite Advanced. The material here, and more so in Matrix V Gold Edition, should be looked as important revelations in your move to spiral out of the Game and dramatically increase your awareness. You need to be more aware to appreciate the Game for what it is and to Advance to your next level of progression.

Polarity/Game Manipulation

The polarities will do anything they can to ensure that it remains a 2 sided situation here on Earth. Those in of the Dark, anti-change (hence anti-Laws of the Universe) will love to put all kinds of caveats to what people think of as 'freedoms' in order to enhance their position through threats if not overt violence.

One popular ditty used by the Dark side is that 'freedom of speech has consequences'. This is a direct threat to those who do not tow the party line. This type of false 'freedom' exists all over the planet in every form of government. ANYONE can say ANYTHING at least once but there are consequences because it is anti-Game and anti-polarity. The Chinese who want Falun Gong were 'free' to engage in it until the government said 'no'. They had their 'freedom' of speech until they went public with it. In the US, under Adolph von Bush, if you are brazen enough to express yourself against the fascist, Dark agenda, you are labeled 'traitor', 'un-American' and threatened with a loss of livelihood, as per certain Hollywood types as well as others. If TRUE 'freedom of speech' existed in the US, anyone could express their opinion on anything without fear of retribution. The Laws of the Universe include tolerance. You may not agree, but people's opinions, IF there was true freedom of speech, would not 'endanger' them in any way. The desire for a single mindset is sequential in nature and very un-simultaneous. This is a major lesson for all simultaneous incarnates to learn.

Dark is far more likely to use this 'freedom has (negative) consequences' oxymoron than Light because a Dark trait is threat/control. They try to intimidate others from speaking their minds. It is one thing to disagree with protesters, but another thing to be violent to them.

Throughout history, protests on significant matters has never succeeded unless it served the Game. Peace protesters are permitted, on occasion, as an illusion of 'freedom', except that the Game will ONLY allow these protests to occur without interrupting their plans . They have no real effect except to allow segments of a population to vent. If a group of protesters crosses some invisible 'line', the Dark will descend on them with fury, as has been shown many times. Some protests are indeed Game originated - part of the Game intended to increase factionalism. The hate that Darksiders have for Lightsider protests IS part of the Game and goes to feed the lower astral Dark entities. Dark rules the majority of the American public and this majority willingly embraces the Dark but wants it to have Light clothing - wolf in sheep's suit.

I know people who 'think' they are 'quite Advanced', but have very active warmongering/patriotic loops. They will also be quick to quote that 'freedom of speech' has consequences. They are, of course, experiencing what their Higher Selves require at this time. BUT until they are able to break these massive, Dark experiential loops, they will be far from a Very Advanced attitude. This is neither 'good' nor 'bad'. Just the way it is.

The Filtering Effects of Experiential Loops

In Matrix V Gold Edition, I explain about experiential loops and how we must progress beyond them to spiral out of the Game. There are major and minor loops and these are discussed in the book. Each loop, whether major or minor, installs sets of filters to deceive the spirit into believing what really is not true. These filters are part of the body's DNA control mechanisms. Dismantling these filters is what is involved with breaking the loops. They can be dismantled in one motion or, more likely, in stages.

The warmongering/patriotic loops in America are reinforced by using code words like 'freedom' and 'god'. If you watch the news, you should be able to observe how much Adolph von Bush is using both those words liberally peppered throughout his lectures. These are two of the 'code words' that react with Americans who have these filters still in place and minions who always have them in place. For those few people who have succeeded in breaking the warmongering/patriotic loops, you can view these activities with clear eyes and spot the 'code word's meant to reinforce the loops existing in others.

These filters have 'code words' all over the world in all languages, but 'liberation' is a popular one. Wars of 'liberation' were popular in the 20th century as were terms like 'democratic' and 'people's'. These and other 'code words' are meant to reinforce the filters that exist. They are all built on lies based in idealism and a mutated wisp of the Universal Laws. In almost all cases, they are really 'code words' for Empire building and control of those who do not tow the party (Game) line.

I was talking to someone last night who points out how Dark Iraq and North Korea are. Due to his filters/loops of warmongering/patriotism being strongly in place (with comments like the Fox Channel news is the best <pure fascist in presentation>), he is incapable, at this time of seeing the greater Darkness of Adolph von Bush whose every 4th word is 'freedom' and 'god'. Yes, overt dictatorships ARE Dark, but even Darker are those wolves in sheep's clothing who claim to be 'good' when they are even Darker than the overt dictatorships because they rule in deception!

It is impossible to completely understand this position as long as you are body controlled and in these loops. Yes, you are having these experiences because your Higher Self requires them. Yes, you will eventually break these loops and will be able to see the manipulations clearly. So, those of you who are still in that Low/Mid levels of experience, make the most of it, but you are not yet ready for the fullness of Matrix 5. This is neither 'good' nor 'bad'. It's just what it is. Meanwhile, for those of you who have succeeded in breaking these powerful, body ID patriotic/warmongering loops, you will see MUCH more of the Game's manipulations. Observe, note and let the flag wavers pass you by. You are preparing for far more important adventures. Don't hesitate to share your observations with like-minded Very Advanced incarnates. Let the 'kids' play. We were there at one time too.

Experiential Loops and Polarities

For those who have read Matrix V Gold Edition, you are familiar with the term experiential loops. You must be familiar with the M5 materials to grasp the fullness of this additional information.

Your Higher Self requires experiences in both Dark and Light polarities. Experiential loops are structured in both Dark and Light. The DNA commands, that the aliens placed in Earther humans, are extremely restrictive to freedom of expression with a heavy expression of Dark(war, physical and monetary slavery, debt systems, etc) since this is a Dark sector of the galaxy. Each experiential loop that you have to overcome, from Lowest Incarnation through Awakened Final Incarnation is expressed in both Dark and Light streams. You MUST experience/master the Dark in order to be able to break the Dark sector of the loop. You MUST experience/master the Light in order to be able to break the Light sector of the loop. If you've only broken one polarity, you have only disabled half of the loop.

It takes many incarnations to break experiential loops. The major loops, such as religion, warmongering/patriotic and societal conformity (living for others), have so many experiences and variations, that you will not be likely to completely break ALL elements of ALL of them until your Awakened Final Incarnation. In order to reach Balance, you must immerse yourself in both Dark and Light, for unless you do, you will not be able to appreciate them for what they are or know how to blend them into Balance. When you've reached Balance, you can be surrounded by the mud of both polarities and remain free of the mud.

I went to a convention near New York City this past Saturday. It featured science fiction and horror themes. I was amazed that it was primarily a Dark convention. They were proud of their Dark affiliation and I do admire them for that. What I don't admire is when the Dark appears in sheep's clothing since it is purposely deceptive (like Adolph von Bush & henchmen/women). However this convention's Darksiders were boldly declaring their path. I saw t-shirts/stickers with "Pro-Death" on them that made me chuckle. A man, dressed all in black, had a black collar around his neck with a chain on it being yanked by a woman who he obediently followed (true Orion mode). Several people had reptilian face paints. One artist there was painting half of attendees faces with green, reptilian scales and even including a yellow, reptilian contact lens as part of the effect. Death, gore and fangs were all over BUT the participants were not menacing in demeanor. I saw one 12 year old wearing a jacket that had printed on the back, "I laughed with Lucifer at Satan's Carousel".

While the actors that I wanted to see are not Darksiders, such as Virginia Hey (Zhaan of Farscape who is a major Lightsider), I found it refreshing to be around people who offer no excuses for who they are. Lightsiders could never appreciate these people and are always trying to 'save' them. Balance does appreciate this since this is integrated, along with Light, to form Balance.

These people, with a simultaneous Higher Self, will eventually move beyond the Dark experiential loop. They may have begun as a Light polarity or may move to a Light polarity. Likewise the Lightsider who decides he's had enough of the constant goodie-2 shoes life and wants more, thus moving to Dark. Both are part of the same experiential loops.

When you break a loop, you stop engaging in either side's exclusive activities. That's the break. What you are actually doing is blending the polarities which causes the loop to cease to exist for you. Until you can blend both polarities of the group, you can't break it. If 'guilt' nags at you, that is the Light segment of your loop. This is very destructive and something that really takes a LONG time to break. If you are driven by causing unnecessary pain to others or greed at others' expense, that is Dark's pull.

When you've broken an experiential loop, that doesn't make you 'neutra'l on the matter. That would be an absence of feeling and VERY flawed from the Higher Self's position. You are here NOT to 'remove yourself from the experiences emotions', but to 'gain from them' and 'rework them into Balance'. It is much easier to run away from these experiences than to face them and deal with them. This information in this segment is something that must be handled over your whole incarnational span, and not just a few incarnations. ALL will become clear to you in your Awakened Final Incarnation.

Minion Talk

4/30/2003

One segment I have written had minion moves/body talk as its topic. Now for a little about minion speech. An increasingly popular term that minions use to each other, to enhance the ape movements (ape memory is in the genetic human structure due to the alien geneticists), is calling each other "dog". I've been observing it on tv and in some film. This term has its origin with minions associated with the canine Nature Spirit path. Read Matrix V Gold Edition for more on the minion hoards incarnated on Earth at this time.

Of course, once a term or motion starts within certain groups, other minions being very group oriented, will mimic this. It doesn't matter what Nature realm incarnations they have also had, they identify with others generally based on look, hence human physical. This doesn't mean that everyone who speaks/acts with these mannerisms is a minion, however most are. Some Low level incarnates will act this way due to a desire to conform to the group they are with. A mid-Advanced level is not likely to want to identify as "dog", no matter what others do. Very Advanced levels and higher will eagerly observe these strange goings-on. Look to the eyes for clues if they are minions or something else.

Strangely, in the film Scooby-Doo, now showing on cable, lower astral beings who take control of Earther human bodies, after forcing the Higher Self spirit out, speak in minion talk after the possession. Actually there are several interesting observations in that film, despite its silly ending/main villain. One other note I will share on that film is that the prime villain considers the spirit of the dog as "pure".

If I run into anyone who uses the minionese term, "dog", to me, I'll try to find a biscuit or bone for them to munch on. AND...it's going to get even stranger. There is more and more for (especially) Awakened Final Incarnations and also Very Advanced incarnations to observe.

Personal Event: The Last Moments of Life

5/3/2003

Almost everyone has heard that one's whole life passes "before their eyes" in the final moments before physical death. Some of those whose time was not up, but had a near death event, have reported the same experience.

Since time does not exist and the illusion called 'time' is not linear, when one approaches the last moments of life, the energy stream of that incarnation compresses prior to the spirit exiting the body. The spirit, indeed, does see all the events of that incarnation's life, from the perspective of his/her Higher Self, because of the compression moving up the incarnational stream toward the Higher Self. That this happens SO rapidly just gives you a bare glimpse of the ability/power of your Higher Self because in a blink of an eye, you get to see your whole incarnational life up to that point. At the moments before death, everything you have done in that incarnation will be visible as the spirit moves beyond the bounds of the Game and the limits of the deception 'linear time'. This happens to all simultaneous Higher Selves upon the death of an incarnation.

With near death experiences when this does happen, that person's Higher Self allowed this event to manifest so that the incarnation could report it to fellow incarnates as well as consider the relevance of it in their own path. This is meant to be a clue to those incarnations Advanced enough to explore their true natures. However the clue by itself is rarely enough to stimulate the spirit to overcome any significant experiential loops. It does add a restless, 'there-must-be-more' attitude to their life. BUT add that knowledge to the reading of Matrix V Gold Edition and it's a whole different story, as more keys are available to help you spiral out of the Game.

In order to understand this segment in its fullness, you must read and understand the materials in Matrix V Gold Edition. This information is critical to all Higher Selves on the simultaneous path. M5 can be accessed via the Library on Monroe focus level 27 and, on Earth at this time via Leading Edge Publications.

Reentry Station and the 'Light Trap'

5/12/2003

It has come to my attention that one of the Monroe Institute participants has been writing about an astral encounter he had with what he calls a "Reentry Station" run by an "Entry Director".

The first thing that Matrix 5 readers should have a red flag raised is with the term "Reentry Station". If it is 'reentry', then it is sequential in path. Simultaneous incarnations DO NOT 'reentry'! ONLY sequential path Higher Selves engage in that activity.

The second red flag for M5 readers is that an 'Entry Director' appears to be in charge. This being is another external controller. External beings love to try and confuse/manipulate Advanced incarnates especially when they cling to the Lightsider philosophy.

The 'reentry device' is described of as bell shaped. The bell shape, when viewed from the Earth perspective, IS the Light Trap that is described in Matrix II. This Entry Director talks about the incarnations losing their memory. The Light Trap is set to lure spirits who have just died so that they can be placed into incarnations of the trap beings' choosing to do what they want you to do. Memory repression is part of this effect. This is not the same as the Higher Self's participation on the simultaneous path. Read Matrix V Gold Edition for more details on these.

This whole concept also feeds the false linear time scenario since incarnations are said to be waiting for incarnation. That is sequential in path. Also, the purpose of the Game is never mentioned. There is talk of bands around Earth, as in Monroe's materials, but no mention of what thoughts create on alien planets. No 'bands' on their worlds despite some being heavily populated. On Earth, the bands do not interfere with alien sequentials remembering their past incarnations because the Higher Self's path choice is what determines whether the band effect will work or not. When, in the future, Monroe reports that these bands are no longer around Earth, it is because Earth has completed its function as the world for simultaneous incarnates. The bands are gone because the purpose for them is gone. They are not negative by-products as Monroe would like us to believe. They are part of the Game's structure in regard to simultaneous incarnations.

Disinformation comes from the astral as well as the physical. There are those on the 4th density working to keep simultaneous incarnates asleep or distracted. While Monroe only gave limited explanations of these bands, he didn't go a step further by making the Game connection. He dealt heavily with "former" government types after all. Mid-Advanced levels, especially Lightsiders, make great 'marks' for those wanting to manipulate simultaneous path Earthers. When they go poking around the astral, you never know what opportunistic being will try to use them. This is part of THEIR learning experiences. As long as a 'reincarnation' belief, a sequential phenomena, is adhered to by a simultaneous incarnation, that one dabbles in a dead end road. The proper training before playing on the astral is essential. If your philosophy is Light polarity, they will have a field day with you just by glowing and appearing with wings, for example. The astral is no place for the naive.

New Age Guilt

5/16/2003

One chapter in an autobiography that I am reading talks about 'New Age Guilt'. The actor accurately tags the Lightsider penchant for masochism with this phrase. Guilt is part of the Light polarity. In New Age Guilt, the belief is that you are responsible for everything that happens to you and everyone you interact with. This is a mixed bag of truth and lie and dirty laundry like this needs to be washed. It is a warped look at the path your Higher Self desires for experiences in each incarnation.

Read Matrix V Gold Edition for information on paths and polarities. I've heard many people say that we have nobody to blame for our situations but ourselves. This is not to be taken at face value. Remember, the Light polarity loves to suffer and heap blame on themselves.

The path your Higher Self chose (for shim's incarnation reading this segment) is loaded with situations where experiences needed will be met. You will find yourself in situations, both positive and negative, that allow you to experience and grow with the goals of breaking your many major and minor experiential loops. Your experiential loops are the keys to your experiences.

MATRIX V Gold Edition- Volume 2

The Graduation Key

© 2000-2004 Leading Edge International Research Group. All Rights Reserved.

This does not mean that everyone who interacts with you and all situations you engage in are of your making. There are situations of random chance that can prove enlightening to you, depending on your stage of Advancement. For example, when I was in Mexico, I was followed by 2 teens attempting to sell me drugs. I kept walking away and saying 'no'. After a couple 'no' responses, they had the gall to say, "what's wrong with you?"! This was several years before I knew anything about Monroe. For me, this was a random event. If I was a druggie, this could well have been a loop related event.

Another example: When you work with other people in an office or other setting, you can work with good people as well as with minions, assholes, cunts and other riff-raff. YOU are not responsible for them being there. They are NOT 'reflections of you' as the Lightsiders love to say in their quest to make everyone feel guilty. It is different situation if you choose to associate with people outside of work on your own time. THEN you are dealing with a personal level and these people must be looked at differently. I am certainly not responsible for the homophobes, Orion dominating Earther cunts, minions or other pieces of shit on the rocky road that I see in life. As is said, shit happens. That's part of living on this simultaneous planet when you are surrounded by people far from the level of Advancement you are in. A great part of the conflicts come from Low levels clashing with Mid levels who look down on Advanced levels who unfairly demand that Very Advanced and Awakened Finals cater to their every wish. This is part of the simultaneous path.

No 'guilt' should ever be felt for the way things are. Anyone who tells you that you are responsible for all the shit you find when you are traveling the Rocky Road is spiritually unaware, wallowing in Light and 'one of the pieces of shit' you need to walk around and beyond. They will eventually get over it when they Advance on their path. They are dependent oriented people and seek to attach themselves to others to become psychic vampires and drain your energies. Tell them to 'fuck off'. Of course if you do, they will almost always open a torrent of Lightsider guilt wailing and moaning which will conclude with labeling you as 'Dark'. That's considered one of the nuclear weapons in the Lightsider verbal arsenal. If they call you that, smile and realize that you have made progress and are headed to yin-yang balance because you are resisting conforming. Good for you! For lots more on this topic, you must read Matrix V Gold Edition.

Conflicts of Mid-Advanced Levels of Progression

Probably the greatest conflicts between body and spirit are experienced during mid-Advanced levels of progression. The desire for the spirit to break more and significant experiential loops clashes with the body's DNA command structure to obey the Game. This moves into high gear when certain key experiential loops are threatened with being overridden by the spirit.

While the unease with organized religion tends to occur in low-Advanced levels, the experiential loops dealing with this are able to adapt to non-traditional religions such as wicca, new age beliefs, alien worship or science-as-god. This is because there is still the compulsion to give away your power to an external deity or two.

During the latter stages of mid-Advanced levels, the spirit begins to realize that there is something wrong with all religion, organized or not. This begins the conflicts between body and spirit on this matter. How will this turn out? The spirit will win, but it is a rough, maturing process. The eventual success of spirit will take the incarnation into Very Advanced stages.

MATRIX V Gold Edition- Volume 2

The Graduation Key

There are many experiential loops that become tedious and restraining to an incarnation in mid-Advanced levels. Religion is but one area. Others include, but are not limited to, sexuality, family/breeding situations, society demands, polaric adherence and other situations where you give away your power.

Reclaiming your power begins in the latter stages of mid-Advanced levels, when unease with the experiential loops turns into action to break them. This increases during Very Advanced stages and concludes with your Final Incarnation.

Critical junctures and forks-in-your-path are presented to your incarnations as experiences for you to choose and you MUST choose. You cannot have it both ways. Smooth and rocky road paths appear. Your choice of them determines the speed of your Advancement. You can choose to fall back or stagnate (smooth road) or to confront the obstacles (rocky road). Each road has its own sets of consequences, but the choice of direction is yours alone.

The key is to trust in your Higher Self, not in your friends, family, government or society. They are all agents OF the Game when they attempt to pull you backward. Conform - Do as we say. This is Game mantra. In order to be free and graduate the Game, you must risk being daring and alone, for only in being daring can you break your experiential loops. For more on this topic, you must read Matrix V Gold Edition.

Emotional Fire III: The Final Key

5/27/2003

In Matrix V Gold Edition, you must refer to the segments, Emotional Fire and Emotional Fire II to understand this segment in full. I speak about track 14 of the cd I recommend in Emotional Fire II. I have been continuing to decode the other tracks of that cd over the past few weeks and find numerous amazing keys in the music. I will share some of that here.

Track 1 could be renamed 'Emotional Fire'. The grandeur of Higher Selves engaging in creation is contained within. Gold light is used with flare and freely in their projects. There is indescribable lights and sounds that accompany the scale of the creative movements within this track. The track is not complete, but it gives those ready some significant glimpses into creation via Emotional Fire. I found it breathtaking.

Tracks 2 & 3 has segments of Higher Selves in communication with each other. This is even more evident in Track 13 when the roles of communication flow with enthusiasm by Higher Selves sharing what they have discovered in their experiences. There is nothing dispassionate when Higher Selves, especially 3rd density graduates and those nearing graduating, communicate. They DO have so much to share because each Higher Self has chosen paths unique to what shim desires to learn from the 3rd density experiences, both sequential and, more importantly, simultaneous paths.

In Emotional Fire II, I discuss the significance of the Nexus of Time in relation to Track 14. When the Awakened Final Incarnation, after the incarnation is concluded, returns to the Higher Self and is ready to move on, Track 14 accurately contains the emotion and blaze of energy that is involved in the recall of that Higher Self's other simultaneous incarnations (over 1600 simultaneous in my case). There is an energy pulse that the Final uses to activate the Nexus of Time. This Emotional Fire tone/color sequence instantly tells the spiritual extensions of that Higher Self that it is time to 'return'. This time coincides with the plan of that Higher Self. Remember, your Higher Self (you ) sets your incarnations' times of death/departure (for those incarnations on the astral gaining other experiences after body death).

This pulse is the Final Key that the Awakened Final Incarnation transmits and, when received, each incarnation instantly remembers who they are. The masks of physical incarnation and the Game no longer bind them. They have completed 3rd density and the Awakened Final has spiraled out of the Game. It's time to be whole again and process the information gained over millennia of incarnational experiences in the 3rd density. It is time to move to the next level for new and far more expansive experiences of different kinds. It is a time of much joy for that Higher Self.

This segment will be of limited use for those who have not yet read or grasped Matrix V Gold Edition. Even if you are not able to grasp all of the material, due to your incarnational level, your other more Advanced incarnations will benefit tremendously. This is EndGame. This segment is extremely important to every Final Incarnation first of all as well as to each Very Advanced.

Body Dreams & The Spirit

When you have astral experiences while sleeping, those are spirit-self events which are active participation dreams. You can also have dreams that review events in your life. One type of dream to discuss here is dreams the physical body has.

Our physical bodies are alive, each cell is alive, and it functions as a unit. Your Higher Self extends himself into your physical body thus giving it life. Without the animating spirit, a newborn is stillborn. Read more on related segments in Matrix V Gold Edition. Your body does have dreams and, occasionally, you will remember them. You are an observer in these dreams. There is something for you to learn from them about your physical. Your body reveals itself in the dream as how you look in the physical. However, when you view this dream while sleeping, you are watching what seems to be yourself.

Physical body dreams center around buildings or houses. The houses represent physical bodies. A dream with you inside a house or building indicates events surrounding your physical 'self' and not your spiritual self.

When I have astral activities, I am in control of what I'm doing and act pretty much like I do while awake. I am not intimidated at all on the astral. An Awakened Final Incarnation never is. The dream I had the other night was a body dream. I saw myself inside a house. The front door was open several inches and it was totally dark outside. Something was trying to get in. I watched what looked like me run up to the door and try to close it. The door would not close which caused the me I was watching to start to fear (body mode) what was trying to enter. It was difficult, but that 'me', with his hands on the door trying to close it, finally was able to say "help", but it was difficult. As soon as the plea for help was said, I (the real me) closed the door by projecting gold light to surround the body 'me's' hands at the door. With my intercession, the door closed immediately.

MATRIX V Gold Edition- Volume 2

The Graduation Key

© 2000-2004 Leading Edge International Research Group. All Rights Reserved.

I found this an interesting dream. I know that <I> would not be in such fear. Actually I would have probably gone outside and kicked some astral ass with gold light. I have since come to understand that the body has now learned that I am in control of the necessary segments of my physical in order to spiral out of the Game. The physical needed to know that. It was required that it ask me for assistance, thereby coming to an understanding who is in control, not some external, imaginary or alien deity, but a being who is the Alpha and Omega of the Higher Self's incarnation, the Awakened Final Incarnation, the only 'power', so to say, that counts for it.

When the physical body has numerous experiential loops intact, it will not recognize this. In a Very Advanced stage, the incarnation engages in a clash of wills with the physical. All safe-guards are active in these internal battles. The spirit does eventually win and the necessary experiential loops are ended. This is an interesting time for the incarnating spirit, especially the Awakened Final Incarnation.

Although there are relatively very few Final Incarnations on Earth today when compared to the total Earth population, there are some good points for others, who Matrix V Gold Edition was also written for. Consider what was written here when you try to analyze your dream.

'Life is Sacred' & Body ID

'Life is sacred', they say. 'All human life is sacred', they say. What is the origin of that body ID'd line of thinking? We've heard that from Lightsiders. It's one of their mantras. Actually there is nothing 'sacred' about life. Life is a vehicle for a Higher Self to participate in the Game, nothing more and nothing less. Even Higher Selves don't consider themselves 'sacred', so what's up with that phrase?

The origin is back when the Orion/Sirian Empires were on Earth and created the humans of today from the Ancient Earthers. The genetic scientists, after MANY experiments, created the DNA commands that they thought would serve their purpose best with the newly formed slaves. Experiential loops are discussed in Matrix V Gold Edition. There are many of these loops, both major and minor. A big part of the Game is for the Higher Selves to overcome/break the vast majority of these loops in order to graduate from the 3rd density Game. The 'life is sacred' is one of these loops. It exists to attempt to keep us from knowing who we really are.

Why did they fix that as one of the DNA loops? Because Earther humans were created by their 'gods' to work the planet for them AND to serve as food when required. Since Earther humans are property for the aliens, they became like the royal preserve and were to be considered reserved for the Orion/Sirian Empires. Hence 'sacred' for the aliens' purposes. The 'we created the Earther humans' is the main line of argument that the Orions use in galactic councils. The idea is that if you tamper with the Orion properties, you defy their property and ruler ship, just like when someone killed a deer in the royal forest and had to suffer the consequences for it. Then you hear that 'god' will punish you...it's a sin. Translation: the alien overlord will get you for disobeying.

The 'life is sacred' mantra that you hear is the reminder, although unknowingly as to why, to reinforce that experiential loop. You are 'god's' creation and you owe your existence to deity. Bullshit! Yet, despite this, Earthers will war and kill and violate this loop. The American governments have been great ones to talk about 'freedom' and 'liberty', yet won't hesitate to kill thousands to force their narrow beliefs on the world.

The alien 'god' has always been contrary. For example: you shall not kill (fuck the 'thou' crap) and yet this alien in the next breath tells his lackeys to kill whole tribal nations. Contrary? More like psychotic. This is demonstrated in the religious texts of the world. Yet, the fools believe this manure!

One thing to remember is that this experiential loop is not part of the non-Earthers, hence sequential, experience. The Orion and Sirian Empires wouldn't hesitate to kill for whatever reason.

You can hear the television news whine about dead children and dead women (although that's an Orion female superiority thing), but rarely, if ever about dead men (another Orion female superiority thing). Actually dead ANYTHING is just another experience. People died, were killed, blown up or otherwise eliminated....so what! Higher Selves are not limited to numbers of incarnations. There are Higher Selves who also demand the experience of this type of death AND this type of action as the one who causes them. The wailing and moaning is because the body ID'd and controlled know that they have only one life AS that persona. It really doesn't matter what the body wants. It is a convenience of the Higher Self who animates that physical. Without the Higher Self, there would be no animation of the shell. When the Higher Self departs the shell, it dies, but ALL the experiences gained in that shell will live forever because OF the Higher Self.

If these people who cry 'all life is sacred' actually believed it, there would be no wars, because 'no changeling ever harmed another changeling' as the Founders said in Deep Space Nine. Translating that to Earth, it should be 'no Earther ever harmed another Earther because we are all sacred'. Yeah, that's going to happen!

IF you are taken back by this segment, it's because your body's experiential loops are reacting to what you're reading and attempting to override your spirit. If your spirit is not Advanced enough, you will side with the body. I've mentioned to people locally that at some time we may have to walk over the dead bodies. GASP! How can you say such a thing. THAT is a body ID reaction - fear of body death, even in speculation that it may come to pass.

There are more thought strands connected with this concept. Some are in Matrix V Gold Edition and more that you will discover when you are ready. This is an interesting topic for me but one that causes most on Earth to be in various stages of fear. Think about what I've written here and see where it may take you.

Personal Teachers

6/17/2003

Matrix V Gold Edition was written for certain levels of Very Advanced incarnates, as I wrote in the book. It is not written for nor expected to be understood by lower Advanced levels. Despite this being plainly written, it hasn't stopped people from thinking that it doesn't apply to them. These are people who do need personal teachers. These are people who are so entry level that they ask 'how do I find a teacher'! If you have to ask me that, you are definitely not ready for M5. These people are almost always Lightsiders as well.

MATRIX V Gold Edition- Volume 2

The Graduation Key

© 2000-2004 Leading Edge International Research Group. All Rights Reserved.

Questions that I will answer deal with the materials in Matrix V Gold Edition. They do not deal with your personal experiences, such as 'why can't I get out of my body', 'why does this happen to me' or 'how do I do this'. Personal experiences require personal teachers and, as I've been saying, I am not that person.

Any reader of M5 who asks/insists on getting answers to personal development has demonstrated that they either do not understand M5 or could care less. These people also risk getting their email address blocked by me. There are lots of personal teachers out there, especially on the mid-Advanced levels. They are Lightsiders and Darkside, but your path will put you in touch with both polarities in order to move beyond them. I have had 2 major Lightside teachers and 2 major Darkside teachers. The Darkside don't come out and announce that, though, they appear as wolves in sheep's clothing. They appear as Lightsiders. This is almost always the nature of Dark. They bring vastly different experiences and perspectives.

From where I am today, I will not teach anyone at these levels. You can't skip high school to get to college. So far, I have only met 2 M5 readers and they are both in the Very Advanced stages. It was a pleasure to meet them (both men) who were interested in sharing experiences rather than just taking from me and I had them over to spend a weekend with me. Mid-Advanced level teachers are those who instruct for money or for barter and they have to set their fees. Very Advanced levels, if they want to have the company of similar others, will do so based on what each other has to offer. These are beyond mid-Advanced novice stages. Higher Selves share experiences and knowledge with each other. This is the way of higher levels. This is the way of Very Advanced and, especially, Awakened Final Incarnations (who know that their next stage is as Game graduate).

Keep this segment in mind when writing to me. If you have a valid question concerning Matrix V Gold Edition, that's one thing. If you want to tell me something, you may, but don't expect an evaluation of your experience. THAT is for your personal teacher. If I decide to meet any other M5 readers, it is because you are not an information leech, but have things to share. Being an information leech is fine on the low-Advanced through mid-Advanced levels. That is part of the growing process. However, there comes a time when you must move beyond leechcraft and into shareware. You will know when. Meanwhile, continue to do develop on your path at your pace. Don't try to force Advancement. It cannot be forced, but must be earned.

Body ID Loops: Youth & Superficial 'Beauty'

The latest fad diet is the Atkins. I know someone who went on this die-et and went from 300 to 150 pounds. He also lost several of his teeth. He looked terrible after losing that weight. Some people commented that he looked like he had AIDS. Well, since then, he's regained all the weight he lost, but not the teeth.

Dieting is a body ID loop. It runs hand in hand with the youth/superficial beauty loops. Body ID loops are based on the fear of aging which is a step away from the root fear: death. As I've said in Matrix V Gold Edition, the body has only one incarnation. You will only have one incarnation as Bimbette Jenkins or Ben (the breeder) O'Hara. Once they are dead, they will never be back. The body knows this and it tries to keep the spirit from awakening to the fact that, in the spiritual sense, it doesn't matter. There are a seemingly infinite supply of bodies available to any Higher Self, so shim pays that line of thought no attention.

The drive, especially in western countries and Japan, is centered on the illusionary refusal to grow old. In pre-EndGame centuries, growing old gracefully meant something. Today, that is something most refuse to do. Dye your hair, surgical enhancements, toxic injections, make-up, facial colorings - ALL of these are illusions and body generated with fear as the basis.

Why do most people fear being who they are? I have talked with women who say that they would never have a video phone in their home because they don't want to be seen as they really are! People who cannot leave their home without extensive mirror and clothing work. The illusions build on top of other illusions. All of these also go to trying to keep your spirit from Advancing to subdue the body ID in favor of reality. That is what really trying to cover up 'what you really are' means.

This activity is part of the breeding loops in DNA commands. Breeding is a loop we must experience in Low and in Mid level incarnations as part of our learning/experiencing in the 3rd density. However to Advance, one must move beyond these loops. Even in gay populations, the superficiality of appearance is hyped and while breeding isn't the intent, it is the breeding loop that is feeding these illusions. For more on the gay issues, read Matrix V Gold Edition.

Why does the aging actress/comedienne feel she has to look 50 when she's actually in her 70's? She's too shriveled up to breed. She may say she feels 'better about herself' which indicates extreme insecurity and the dependence on the approvals of others. This is the body in control and, yes, it's part of her experience. The examples of this, for both males and females, although far more so for females, are countless.

Then you find someone who is not body ID'd. They aren't into formality, the youth game, the diet game or the what-other-people-think game. True to the Game, those on lower levels of Advancement, who live for conformity (sequential path influence), mock those rebels who prefer to strike out on their own. If that happens to you and those immersed IN the Game get after you for non-conformism, then you know you are headed in the right direction. Again, refer to several segments in Matrix V Gold Edition.

These body loops are so superficial. Even though you, in Low and Mid levels (as well as, to varying degrees, through mid-Advanced levels), will engage in their activities to varying degrees as part of your experiential path, you will discard them as you Advance. The psychic reader who is dyed/painted up and bejeweled like a Roman whore and the channeler who wears flashy or designer suits are 2 examples of body ID in the mid-Advanced levels. In my shamanic training I was taught that the more opulent and gaudy a person chooses to dress when engaged in the occult arts, the more they were into the Dark side and attempting to blind you with their body sequins. These people are best to use caution with. The more average and unassuming the person who is entrenched in the occult arts, the more you should seek those persons out, IF you can find them. The shaman with huge feathered headdresses, lots of necklaces and fancy garb is not the one to consult with, but the type that is most easily located. These types want to be placed on a pedestal and have you give your power away to them.

In EndGame, the hype for body superficiality is at an all time high. They are more dead ends to try and distract you from your path.

EndGame, Earth & Higher Selves

7/5/2003

As I've written in Matrix V Gold Edition, we are in EndGame as simultaneously incarnating Higher Selves. We are rapidly nearing our exit and Advancement to fantastic, new levels and densities. I was asked a question which was very good: What will happen in the Game when we leave and sequential path Higher Selves decide that they want the simultaneous experience?

Just as we, simultaneous path incarnates, are in EndGame, so is Earth's Planetary Spirit also in shim's version of EndGame on the nature path. Once we are gone and Earth is cleansed, Earth will be out of reach of 3rd density Gamers. While Earth is currently THE simultaneous path planet in this galaxy, it is not the final simultaneous path planet nor is it the first simultaneous planet! Yes, there have been others before and there will be many others after Earth.

This IS part of the Game and the progression of it. At one time we were all sequential path Higher Selves. At one time we worked against those on their simultaneous path just as there are aliens now working against us. It's ALL part of the Game! We Advance at our own pace. We also tend to hang around with other Higher Selves who are like-minded. You will most likely discover that when your Higher Self chose the simultaneous path that one, two or several others 'jumped ship' with you.

After our group has gone forward into new and fascinating areas/densities, the Game in 3rd density will continue. Eventually other sequential Higher Selves will get the "itch" and want more. This is their opening to move to a simultaneous path. When this occurs, a new planet will be set aside in a different part of the galaxy for them to develop/play a simultaneous incarnates and gain what they need to graduate the Game. Our group will be LONG gone. Maybe the next simultaneous planet will be in a Light polarity sector of the galaxy while ours is in a Dark sector, as you know from M5.

Just because we are in EndGame here, doesn't mean it is EndGame for the entire 3rd density. Not at all. THAT particular EndGame is very far off on a timeline scale, but then time itself is an illusion. It is OUR EndGame that counts. It is in Matrix V Gold Edition that you will have the keys that are necessary for you to break your experiential loops and exit the Game. These high numbers of keys are not available in any other book currently in 3rd density, although you can get them from the astral copy of M5 in the Library on level 27. I have received emails from several who did indeed get their copy this way.

Your concentration should be on your own path and circumstances surrounding your role in the Game and your progression out of it. Details of previous simultaneous path planets may be of an assist to you after you have graduated and if you seek out that data. However, for now, just know that we are not the alpha simultaneous planet nor are we, by far, the omega simultaneous planet. I will tell you, though, that we are much closer to the alpha than the omega. The knowledge waiting for you WHEN you are ready is astounding. Meanwhile, continue to do what YOU need to do in your current incarnation. The information you gather, while it may not be of use to you now, is being stored in your Higher Self.

Nature Spirit Assistance, Ascended Masters & The Game
7/10/2003

Today I received a question about something I wrote in Matrix V Gold Edition, page 177:

"...but then certain spirits have chosen to incarnate here from far higher densities to try and assist Earth at this time due to damaging energies threatening higher densities."

That is from one of the earlier segments I wrote and I can add a little more to that. I am not talking about Higher Self incarnations on the simultaneous path. I am talking about "certain spirits" who are here to assist Earth. By that I mean the Planetary Spirit, not us, the simultaneous. Simultaneously incarnating Higher Selves are being heavily assisted by the Matrix 5 project. We are covered. The Earth Planetary Spirit is being assaulted by other energies that seek to keep shim back from graduating from the 3rd density as well. These "certain spirits" are not in Earther human form. Any more on that topic and you will have to discover it for yourself when you reach the level of need determined by your Higher Self. This is another topic that I have said all I can due to the very Advanced nature of the subject. This also only involves the Nature Path directly and not the Simultaneous Path.

As far as the Lightsider propaganda about incarnating "ascended masters", usually found hanging out in the Tibetan area, those they refer to are Light polarity manipulators. They are primarily around to pull for the white light side just as the Dark "ascended masters" do for their half of the polarity. You must Advance beyond both polarities, as you know from reading Matrix V Gold Edition. These so-called "ascended masters" are only interested in furthering their polarity's position. There is a lot of propaganda about the Light faction 'masters' which Blavatsky (infamous Lightsider mouthpiece) had a heavy hand in distributing.

Here is something else for you to consider: true 'Ascended Masters' would be an accurate term for describing all Higher Selves who have completed the 3rd density Game and have moved on after their Awakened Final Incarnation has completed the final missions of that Higher Self and activated the Nexus of Time for shim's Higher Self. For more on the Nexus of Time, refer to Matrix V Gold Edition. These are the Masters that move in Balance. These are the ones that the polarity based, pseudo-masters tread lightly around. However, remember that you cannot reach that point until you have successfully departed the Game. The polarity "ascended masters" meanwhile play heavily IN the Game, especially now that we are in EndGame.

America, Iraq & Incarnational Pathways

Using two 20th century examples, when the Germans and the Russians invaded sovereign countries, they set up puppet governments who would obey Berlin or Moscow's edicts. In France, those who resisted this invasion were called 'freedom fighters'. In Afghanistan, those who resisted the invasion were called 'freedom fighters'. Those who sided with the invaders were labeled 'traitors' by those who didn't. The collaborators were despised by those who wanted their country free of external controls. When the invaders were finally driven out, the collaborators were dealt with.

The same thing applies to Iraq today. The Americans invaded a country and has set up a puppet government. The new Iraqi council, the news reported, is the latest governing body of Iraq but whose decisions may be vetoed by the Americans. That's a puppet government. Over and over the American government has been saying what their Iraqi puppets may and may not do. Compare this to the Vichy government in France that Germany controlled. History repeats itself again with the exception that the Germans were direct in their invasion while the American disguise it as 'freedom', which is bullshit! The only 'freedom' that is involved is America's 'freedom' to persecute anyone or any country who will not kiss Washington's ass.

The news talks about the almost daily attacks on occupation soldiers. The American propaganda machine would like us to believe that these are a few former Iraqi government disgruntles. In actuality, these attacks are just as valid as the French underground and the Afghan rebels. The theme is basic: foreign invaders get out. Today's news reported that when Iraqi bystanders realized that an American vehicle was attacked that they cheered for several minutes. Iraqi freedom fighters have the same popular support that French and Afghans did.

As to the collaborators, here's a different example: The United States is successfully invaded. The invaders set up their own puppet government here and the usual collaborators are kissing ass. Which side would you support: The invaders who have come to 'free' America from an oppressive government or the collaborators who support the new way? Just as you would not like a foreign power coming to your country and telling you how to live like them, the same goes for other countries not wanting you to come over and tell them how to live.

It is very sequential oriented to demand everyone be like you...conform! It is simultaneous oriented to allow others the freedom to live their lives as they will even if it is radically different than your own. It is the variety of experiences needed, the lack of conformity, that Earth was chosen as a simultaneous incarnating planet. The desire for everyone to 'be like us' is an alien influence on Earth (BOTH polarities). This sets up more problems for those on the simultaneous path since it attempts to deny us the variety of experiences and, therefore, deny us OUR Game experiences.

America has become, according to Game dictates, an extremely conformist-forcing nation. Be like us, do like us, obey like us as they wave the material comforts that could not be available on a world-wide scale. It's one deception after another coming out of Washington. America has been tapped as the preparer of the way for the intended alien return by perverting the role of genders and forcing a sequential path on the world meant to experience the simultaneous path way.

Now there is an anti-invader guerrilla war in Iraq. No surprise there and I expected it to be so. The Afghans are also engaged in their own guerrilla war, but that news is suppressed. This is EndGame which is also a struggle between those on the sequential path who can't keep their claws off those of us on the simultaneous path. The cleansing is coming, but it can't get here fast enough for me! Refer to Matrix V Gold Edition for much more on the sequential and the simultaneous paths.

Television, Electronic Attacks, Trust & EndGame

Questions have been coming to me this week about electronic attacks in the form of ELF waves, television/computer screen vibrations and related sources. Much has been written in Matrix III (Vol I & II) about chemical and electronic methods used for control and I would refer those who want a deeper insight on those problems to refer to those volumes.

The Lightside has gone overboard in using scare tactics to keep people from watching television due to subliminals and electronic controls used against the viewer. The Lightside is also paranoid about people learning the truth about the Dark polarity and, therefore, they can become rabid in their propaganda supporting not watching television. I can agree that a day of watching soap operas or ESPN would gain nothing of merit for me, but they are diversions especially for Low and Mid level incarnates. There is nothing wrong with that. Remember, your path is YOUR path and if others don't like what you are doing - tell them to fuck off!

There IS a lot of valuable observations/information to be gleaned from television. For instance, you will learn far more by watching BBC news (usually on a PBS station or BBC America cable) than by watching the American propaganda mills of American news stations (ABC, CBS, NBC and, worst of all, FOX). They are, to varying degrees, mouthpieces of the Game and control-minded organizations. Even so, I will watch one of the big 3 just to see what is being spewed from Washington. I never watch FOX news - too Low level for me.

Some will advocate and brag about watching little or no television. This is their path. While this may be good for them, it is not a bragging point. These people are exposed to far less information and news. These people also have way fewer ways to sharpen their observational skills. The hermit attitude cuts one off from the Game to a great extent and, hence, you have far fewer opportunities to expand and develop your skills in several areas. There has not been an era of instantaneous communication on Earth since Atlantis. This presents huge amounts of direction to learn during EndGame.

While the United States is overwhelmed with polarity controls and Dark politicians/religions, it also is an area where there are many avenues available to assist in your growth. The huge amount of electronic access is a notable avenue. Yes, there is a mine field of traps connected with using the electronic of over 100 television stations available or computer internet and entertainment.

Depending on your personal level of Advancement, you can handle these things with various levels of success. I stress the T-1 capsule should be worn at all times except sleep/shower/sex with another. It should also be placed near the head of your bed when sleeping. I have worn the T-1 ever since it first came out. For information on the T-1, check the back of Matrix V Gold Edition or on the Leading Edge site. I DO recommend it. It does work.

The T-1 also works well against other electronic attacks. Example: whenever I hear the steady, electronic tone in one ear, I bring my T-1 up to that ear and the tone instantly fades away. It does indeed work! It sets up a barrier that is specifically to inhibit electronic interference.

I also find strategy computer games extremely beneficial for assisting you in learning how to manage complex scenes/worlds. In one future stage of development, as a graduate of the 3rd density Game and true 'ascended master' of the 3rd density, you will have the opportunity to create systems and use what managerial skills you have in the way of creation. You will learn more of this when it is your time. There are many computer games that are of immense assistance in teaching you just how to do this on the small scale of your home computer. Some games allow you to role play both polarities in one game, such as Warcraft III. The Sims games are also other interactives that allow one to create and develop. I have found these games extremely beneficial. Then there's Master of Orion III which is extremely complex but also assists greatly in managing entire planets. As an Awakened Final Incarnation, these games are beneficial to me. Remember, though, that each path is unique. What is good for me now, may not be good for you now. Follow your path.

Finally, there's the omega item on this topic, the ultimate trust: your Higher Self. It is the body ID that seeks an external deity and fears death, electronic controls, etc. The spirit does not fear this because the incarnational spirit is an extension of the higher you - your Higher Self! Yes, the incarnational spirit is memory blocked, but the Higher Self isn't and, as you have read in Matrix V Gold Edition, will directly interfere to protect the incarnation if shim's path is threatened. The ideal protection is trust in your Higher Self. It can be your Higher Self that urges you to get a T-1, for example. It can also be your Higher Self that wants experiences in electronic controls and may, on occasion, have you 'forget' to wear the T-1 at times just to expose you to that control experience.

Trusting in your Higher Self comes with Advancement and in stages. First you have to come to a realization just who/what the Higher Self is. Again, Matrix V Gold Edition covers this in detail. Next, it's one thing to have the intellectual knowledge, but something else to have the practical knowledge. This may not be likely until your Dominant Incarnations who meet within your Higher Self. Full trust in your Higher Self is something that your Awakened Final will gain. Full trust has the ability to rapidly dismiss the polarity horseshit that flies by you every day. Full trust gives you a mental filter that sifts the gold out of the streams of data that you process every day. Remember, though, full trust comes in stages. Meanwhile, EndGame and the Year From Hell continues.

Key: Higher Self Pre-Incarnational Assessments

Before the simultaneous path Higher Self actually incarnates on Earth, shim does a pre-assessment of the entire time line accessible under the simultaneous window. This includes an extensive search of cultures, technological levels and more to see when it will be most advantageous for that Higher Self to incarnate and gain desired experiences. The Higher Self will access all Earther cultures in all time periods then process this astounding amount of information rather rapidly to see which gender an incarnation should be (among a number of other factors) for the proper experiences needed during that period.

An example would be if the Higher Self wants an incarnation as a female (a true female and not a sequential version common in this time period in America) who will fulfill traditional roles as such. That would eliminate much of America from the 20th century upward since the sequential contamination was extensive and growing at that time. There is still a vast amount of situations to choose from. What other experiences does this Higher Self require for this incarnation? Marriage, religious servitude, prostitution, slave, high social standing? Children or none? Get the drift?

The Graduation Key

The Higher Self will choose what level of incarnation should be in what time period. Levels are scattered throughout the time periods according to that Higher Self's plan and they vary radically with each Higher Self. You may have a mid-Advanced level in Atlantis, a Low level in China in 600 BCE, a Mid level in the Dark Ages, a Dominant incarnation in Egypt during Seti I's rule, a low-Advanced in an Lakota Sioux tribe in 1543, a Low level in the United States in 1922, a Mid level in Thailand in 1621, a Dominant in Nigeria in 863, a Very Advanced in Greece during the Athenian golden era. On and on it goes with the Higher Self processing information and deciding what kind of incarnation will go best where and for what experiences. Where is it most advantageous for the experiences to be body ID driven? When is it most advantageous for the experiences to be spirit-driven.

The ultimate decision for the Higher Self will be where to place shim's Final Incarnation. It is in many respects most difficult in the current, EndGame time period. Should it be in China, Turkey, Brazil, Namibia, Korea? What does that Higher Self want shim's Final to accomplish and in what setting? Will Japan offer what shim needs for shim's Final? How about Peru or Mongolia? Which time period is best for the Final? Mexico in 1300 may be far more favorable than Bulgaria in 1942. All this is processed by the Higher Self before deciding.

This brief segment presents you only with a thread of what the Higher Self considers when entering the Game as a simultaneous player. The amount of processed information can stagger one trying to comprehend this while still incarnated.

This also brings up something else I will share since it has become time to do so. I explained incarnational time/phase variations in Matrix V Gold Edition when it comes to the simultaneous incarnation path. The ultimate control of the spirit extension of the Higher Self remains the individual Higher Self operating under the agreed to rules of the Game. The amount of Higher Self presence decides if the incarnation will be Low, Mid or Advanced or any of the sub-levels within each of the major three. The stronger the Higher Self presence, the more Advanced the incarnation. The Final Incarnation, once Awakened, has the greatest amount of Higher Self presence while IN the Game based on the rules of the Game. This is something that I have not released before. This information will not mean as much to you if you have not read Matrix V Gold Edition at least once. It is another key that some have been waiting for and one that could not have been globally released in any other time period during the Earth version of the Game. This is something that certain Very Advanced incarnations have been waiting to hear/read while incarnated. With this segment's placement on the M5 site and its simultaneous placement in the copies of M5 in the Library area of the astral, another promise has been kept.

Body ID during EndGame: Fad Followers

Body ID is at an all-time high during EndGame, especially in America. I watched the new Bravo channel series, Queer Eye For The Straight Guy. Talk about body ID and the big bucks needed for the fads such as $50 cans of liver paste! The idea that it's all about the body is so Low and Mid level experiential loops. Another cable series of body ID rule is Sex In The City. More plastic people with of-the-moment fads who believe that more expensive means better. Another is the BBC America series where these 2 women run around telling other women what they should/should not be wearing. I've heard them say that you can't wear that outfit because it's "so last year". Women have been far more susceptible to this than men, but men are being dragged into it by women using what certain plastic gay men are slaves to. This is an attempt to force the man to what they want him to be. While there is a very vocal gay group of plastic people, there are many more gays who distance themselves from them. However this is not the message with Queer Eye and Queer As Folk (the Showtime series) who love pushing the plastic gays probably because they are amusing/entertaining and they also fit the Madison Ave image of spend and fad follow.

In order to have the money to keep up with the fads, you better have a terrific paying job! These types of shows I've mentioned, plus many others, feeds the American Gemini Rising horoscope. A country's Rising Sign sets the attitude of the population of that country. Gemini Rising is shallow and fad following. This is part of why America is such a heavily consumer country. They have managed to translate the change that the spirit needs to evolved to changing one's wardrobe with each whim of Madison Avenue. Getting caught up in the fad of the moment IS body ID. Being so occupied with what others think of what you wear and how you conform to youth imagery IS body ID.

Those who are still dealing with these experiential loops are not spiritually driven, but are interested in being part of a herd. You notice how it is "If you want to be accepted by the in people, you must dress, eat and live as we want you too". If you are living to other people's standards, you are embracing conformity at the cost of individuality. The root to all this youth obsession is the body's fear of death, which WILL come no matter what you do to hide it.

As for me, I like comfortable clothing. I have not worn a suit since 1981 and will never do so again. All those binding clothes! My co-workers back then said, "you look so good in a suit" (herd control/influence attempt). I told them if you like the suit, you can sit it at my chair. If you like me, you'll have me as I like myself. I'm not dressing for anyone but myself and what I feel comfortable in.

Yeah, Queer Eye has some good one-liners and Sex In The City is entertaining and I enjoy them for that, but you should hear my comments to the conformist demanding instructions they give. And spirit ruled gay men do not follow the fads of the moment. Yes, it's all experience, but Matrix V Gold Edition materials are meant for those who are moving beyond the fad and trends of the body. Be yourself...be individual - it is the way of 3rd density Game graduates.

Problem, Reaction, Solution

7/22/2003

David Icke has been great at pointing out the manipulation caused by 'problem, reaction, solution'. The Game has used this especially in EndGame times to control public will. In Bosnia it was images of locals freeing their towns due to invasion. Dead bodies abundant. In Iraq it was 'they are killing people'. More dead bodies abundant to view. Now it's Liberia which has been in a state of civil war for years. Here a dead body, there a dead body, everywhere a dead body. When it wasn't in the Game's interest to promote it, you rarely, if ever, heard about Liberia. Now, just like in Bosnia and Iraq (and other areas), it's in the Game's interest. Americans are bombarded in print and tv with dead Liberians and "Bodies dumped at US Embassy as people cry for American help" in today's paper. The Game demands Americans INSIST on sending troops to Liberia and is trying to deceive Americans into this demand.

Dead bodies and miserable people have been used as control elements forever it seems. It is a body ID reaction to want to 'do something' about dead people. Spiritually Advanced people in Very Advanced to Final incarnations know what the body is and no more. They're dying...so what?! It's only the Game and you are not your body. However in body ID'd persons, they beLIEve that they are their bodies. Since Earth is mostly minion occupied today, then throw in Low and Mid level incarnations who are spiritually numb and finally remember Lightsiders in the Advanced levels who beLIEve that all physical life is sacred and you have all the elements needed for 'problem, reaction, solution' control.

Civil wars and internal matters are not the world's problems. Stopping ancient conflicts only delay them. They must be resolved within themselves. Let them fight and experience what they will. BOTH sides want to fight. It's their experience and their choice. Interference denies them their experiences. Interference is sequential in nature when it denies experiences.

Of course when you have foreign invasion, that's a different matter. This is why when the Americans invaded Iraq, you have guerilla attacks from various factions who would not get along otherwise. Get rid of the invader and then get back to our internal business is the thought.

Let the Liberians (mostly minions) have their civil war. Let THEM settle their affairs. The same goes for any other area of the world. Except that is not the plan. It runs counter to the sequential plans for Earth and the denial of Earth as a simultaneous planet. Refer to Matrix V Gold Edition for more on that. After Liberia, you can count on somewhere else being the next attention grabber for 'problem, solution, reaction'. Where will it be next?

Astral Entity Frustrations With Matrix V Gold Edition

7/30/2003

I knew it was bound to happen just because of what the Matrix V Gold Edition materials contain and the purpose of it in EndGame. I knew some people would become easily manipulated by certain astral entities to either oppose, or, better yet, distort the materials I've released and want to lead others down dead end paths.

Luckily, there are many M5 readers who are aware and can see when something like this may occur, as it did today. One M5 reader (thanks to his Higher Self's participation in the project) called my attention to an Australian site that was grossly misrepresenting and distorting the materials from Matrix 5. That site's creator has gone so far as to set himself up as a Final Incarnation who can cure those who bask in his aura. This site would quote from Matrix 5, weave in outright deceptions and try to con people into believing that he was sanctioned by me with "permission granted" on the M5 cover that he had on his site. He was requesting questions and saying that his materials have 'keys' in them.

This person is NOT a Final Incarnation and the only 'keys' he is dispensing come with the locks he is attempting to install (whether consciously or not) on genuine seekers trying to Advance. He is looking for followers to bask in his 'glow'. That alone should be a red flag for M5 readers. He is being manipulated by certain astral groups who are seriously bothered by the existence of Matrix V Gold Edition. They will do anything to distract seekers from finding the keys to spiral out. They mix what I release with blatant lies. This site also glorifies drug usage and several other astral traps. They work for the Game. Matrix V Gold Edition works for your independent spiraling out of the Game.

Needless to say, anyone can write whatever they wish, but they may not imply that someone, who hasn't given their approval, has given it. Expect more of this type of deception to pop up on the internet. Unless I personally give my approval, consider it an unsanctioned, opinion. If any Matrix 5 reader locates one of these site, know that it has no authority to speak for the Matrix V Gold Edition project Higher Selves.

In M5, I speak about the Awakened Final Incarnations desire to remain out of the public eye unless there is a very special reason for one to come forward. The M5 project is unique for Earther simultaneous incarnations. There will not be another Awakened Final Incarnation that will suddenly sprout up and lead you astray. So Final Incarnation wannabe's, be happy with where you are and don't try to be what you are not. Matrix V Gold Edition is meant for independent Advancement and knowing and never follower demanding just like religions. Just as I tell you that my materials are my experiences and discoveries and you must find your own, pedestals standers want you to do as they do. For more on these topics, read Matrix V Gold Edition.

Self-Reliance, Self-Development and Matrix V Gold Edition

8/10/2003

I have been receiving a number of really poorly thought out emails from people who refuse to accept responsibility for their own development and are anxious to give away their power to someone else. One person was lazy enough to ask me how to find out about non-fluoride toothpastes. Several others, in their meandering of the internet, drag up all kinds of sites and expect me to go and evaluate them FOR them.

The toothpaste questioner is typical of low-Advanced dabblers who will find little, if any, comfort in the Matrix V Gold Edition materials. If anyone bothers me about this level of inquiry, prepare to be verbally zapped IF I decide to respond at all. Find yourself one of thousands of mid-Advanced level teachers who love to dictate every aspect of your life.

As for the others who seem to thrive on digging up all manner of sites, don't send me their addresses and expect me to comment on them, unless they directly involve/attempt to warp Matrix 5 materials or are monumental in scope. If in doubt, don't ask. Matrix V Gold Edition specifically states that it is written for Dominant, Very Advanced and Final Incarnations - ONLY! There are many reader of M5 that do not fit into those categories. They will learn from reading it, BUT the difference is, they expect someone to tell them if what they discover on their own journey is right, as in 'one path' right.

In the Matrix V Gold Edition, I repeat over and over that you path is unique and individual to your Higher Self in that incarnation. This is difficult for spiritual cement heads to grasp. They fear making their own decisions. They fear not giving away their power. They fear they will make a 'wrong decision'. These people want someone else to tell them what to do and make their decisions for them. There are LOTS of Light and Dark teachers out there who are more than glad to do this for you, BUT this is not the level that I operate on. As long as you look for others to make your decisions, you have significant experiential loops to deal with yet. You still have external deities to look to. It's one thing to ask advice in a global, non-me centric sense, but a different thing to ask such as: should I go to the Monroe Institute? Should I read this book? Should I boot my wife/husband/partner out of the house? Should I read this or that site's materials? I am not the Dear Abby of the Final Incarnations. If you want to go to the Institute, go. If you don't want to go, don't. If you want to kick him/her out of your house, do or don't...I don't give a shit! It's YOUR path, not mine!

Matrix V Gold Edition stresses self-reliance and self-development. You must make errors to learn. You must make mistakes to Advance. You must make wrong decisions in order to appreciate the right (for you) decisions. If you never taste the bitter, you can't appreciate the sweet. As I say in M5, these are my experiences, observations and discoveries. You need to make your own and find out what works for you.

Of course when I point this out to people who are looking to give away their power to me (mostly female), they act cuntish and attempt to sow guilt like poison seeds. This has no effect on me other than to block the person's email address permanently. I have no time to waste on this type of person. What also gets me is that when they send me follower-to-be emails and I respond that I am not your personal teacher, they reply that they don't want one, but continue to have a shopping cart of questions relating to their personal development. They think they are going to deceive me...yeah, right.

On occasion, someone does hit me up with personal questions and, when I give my standard reply, they realize what they've done and learn from my reply. THIS type of person is making strides and learning. The guilt throwing harpy has an agenda other than what is presented. I saw that as well when I taught adult evening classes and had cow-eyed females trying to snare my attention.

Your ultimate being to ask is your own Higher Self. One person who wants me to do shamanic work for her husband asked if I could find out "why he has to suffer so much". NO! He has to take that up with his Higher Self. All the 'why' questions pertaining to your individual self you must learn to ask of your Higher Self. You will learn this important lesson by getting burned by other's people trying to tell you how to run your life. THINK before you have questions to ask me. I do answer questions on Matrix 5 materials. Questions beyond that depend on how I value the question and my reply. This is the last time I am addressing this topic. Most people fear acting alone since you have been trained through the years on giving your power away. However you cannot spiral out of the Game until you realize that you hold the answers to all your personal questions and there is no right or wrong, just different experiences.

Complacency Trap

8/14/2003

OK, you've read Matrix V Gold Edition and you feel you've broken many experiential loops. You feel pretty good about the progress you've made in this incarnation. You feel pretty secure where you're at. This is when the complacency trap shows itself. The complacency trap lures you into inaction and stagnation. You no longer care what goes on in the world. You figure since you know your time is set and you are in EndGame that nothing else matters, so you chose to ignore what's going on around you and in the world. This is not a good thing. This is neutrality which halts progress and Advancement. This is a state you have to be aware of. You don't want to get yourself caught in this cul-de-sac and if you do, you need to get yourself out of it.

You are where you are for a reason. You have overcome many experiential loops. What you should be doing is observing how others act at their stages of their path. Watch how the polarities try to manipulate and force their beliefs. Note the interactions of EndGame. Don't discard them. They are vastly different than pre-EndGame. Beware of the overuse of the word 'moot' in regard to Game participants and mechanics. If you had completed all your missions for this incarnation, you would not be here. You do yourself an injustice by disregarding what moves all around you. There is nothing that is 'moot' to people engaged in their path's actions. It doesn't matter that EndGame for the simultaneous incarnates is here. If you cut off considering the players actions, you rob yourself of valuable observational experiences. Tossing 'moot' around attempts to lure others into the complacency trap and remove the interest in observing others' interactions. Knowing this can help you avoid it.

Any who deny that what is going on, during EndGame by saying 'it just doesn't matter', have a high level of smugness and a false sense of superiority. That in itself is an experiential loop. To not want to participate in EndGame actions, because you have overcome those loops, is one thing. To deny the validity of experiences for those still struggling with their loops is another. It is pompous and arrogant. It is a loop that becomes active in Mid level incarnations and is not broken before some time in the Very Advanced stages.

I find it enjoyable to question people in their experiential loops with lots of 'whys'. Why do you do this? Why do you think this? and so on. I know where their heads are at, but I want to see if they know why they are there. It's very easy to stump these people and, when they feel the verbal closing-in, they back off quickly and don't want to talk about it. This is the loop's defense mechanism. It knows that you are aiming for the spirit, who isn't ready yet, so walls are thrown up. You can be labeled as a troublemaker, weird, non-conformist, rabble rouser or similar anti-Game icon. This is good because you learn from watching/interacting with them. Cataloging actions and responses is an invaluable part of your observational skill development. The word 'moot' should be reserved for POST-Game discussions. It is invalid while EndGame is still in process. As long as you're still here, it is not 'moot'!

The complacency trap will lure you into inaction/neutrality/stagnation until you are able to recognize it AND break it. It is something you need to be aware of. It is something only YOU can break, just like the other many experiential loops in your body ID.

Aliens/Wild Cards, Hard Decisions/Questions in EndGame and Matrix V Gold Edition

8/17/2003

The Orion Empire intends to return to Earth with a massive display of power. What do you think that you will do? One or more alien groups come to Earth to say they want to save Earthers from either the Orion Empire or a natural disaster of massive proportions. What do you think that you will do? These are just a few of the Wild Cards possible to play during EndGame. Refer to Matrix V Gold Edition for more on that.

Those who have read Matrix V Gold Edition have the information needed to understand where the aliens are coming from. They know why Earth has been 'quarantened' which is in itself laughable since the aliens have been coming and going from here since before the Ancient Earthers were split into genders. They know the significant differences between alien incarnating Higher Selves and Earther incarnating Higher Selves. They know some of the major Game intents of BOTH Light and Dark polarity aliens and how they BOTH seek to deceive Earthers. Matrix V Gold Edition readers know these answers plus much more related to both the aliens and why we are here on Earth. Matrix V Gold Edition gives you the answers to the most asked questions that Earthers have had for ages.

You readers now have the vital information that you need to assist you in making the hard decisions that will be required during EndGame. For example, IF an alien group should arrive with their ark to 'save us'. Will you go with them or remain here? IF the Orion Empire succeeds in their intention to overtly rule Earth, how will this change your outlook on the galaxy, the Earth and your Higher Self's path for this current incarnation? IF you know that a meteor or other global cataclysm will hit the Earth in 3 days, what will you do?

Of course your current level of spiritual Advancement and the number of experiential loops that still ensnare you come into consideration. You cannot alter 1 event in your Higher Self's path set by you before you entered this incarnation. Not 1 event in your Higher Self's path can be changed by ANY external sources, including even another Higher Self.

If you have read Matrix V Gold Edition only once, you have not yet gotten everything out of it that will be invaluable to you. M5 opens your understanding in layers according to your level of Advancement. However reading just once is the minimum needed to speed up your spiral out of the Game and the return to your Higher Self. Read it again to reap more of the gold from the Gold Edition.

Fear of Bisexuality

"You are either gay or straight", the smug woman said, "There is no other choice." I have been hearing this shit for years from people (always het women) so tightly controlled by their experiential loops that they can't even reason properly. The defense mechanism for this loop, like most of the loops, is fear. In Matrix V Gold Edition, I touch on bisexuality in ways not revealed before and I refer you to there for that information.

This polaric denial of bisexuality goes hand in claw with other polarity demands of EndGame, such as "you are either with the US or against the US" from the appointed, reptilian occupant of the White House. If they can keep you from discovering and embracing the rim of the coin, demanding that you choose either heads or tails, they know they are keeping you from spiraling out of the Game.

The Bravo channel show, Boy Meets Boy, is an excellent, current example of the fear of bisexuality. Here's a show that started with 15 men all competing for the affection of 1 very cute man. The kicker is that half of the men, the show claims, is het and the object of affection doesn't know that. In one episode, one of the men admits to being bisexual and, when he is not chosen to stay, he comments how it could have been a "good thing" if he would have won and got with the center of attention. Yet, even after saying that, the show labels him "straight". Denial in action. There is NO way that a man who is heterosexual would engage in a show that seeks to impress another man in a romantic way. I would agree that you can mix the show with half gay and half bisexual. Bisexuals are interested in same gender sex as well as opposite gender sex. Notice how clever they think they are by doing this type of cruel show. Using this example, when they do the het versions of this show, half of the seekers should be gay or lesbian to fuck with the center of attention. But no, I'm told, that's not fair, but it is 'fair' to do it to a gay man!

When I mentioned it at work today, the woman told me 'straight refers to romance, not to sex'. WHAT!? Is this the latest warp in the fear of bisexuality as a label? She said, "they can have sex with either gender but these men only love a woman". That is the highest level of horseshit that I've heard on the subject and denial in its purist form and a female fantasy. I said the clinical term is bisexual...it refers to sex...if someone is having sex with both genders, even if they prefer one over the other, they are BISEXUAL!

Bisexuality is the transition phase that is part of spiraling out of the Game. Refer to Matrix V Gold Edition for more on that. I find it absolutely amazing that there is such denial and fear of the word and its implications by people who are otherwise intelligent, but such is the control of those damned Orion loops. Geez, EndGame...end already!

Emotional Fire and Your Incarnational Moon

8/25/2003

Painting with emotional fire is critical for your Higher Self to master when shim spirals out of the Game. Emotional Fire is covered in Matrix V Gold Edition, so refer to those segments for the basics on that topic.

Your emotional nature is accurately tagged by the sign your Moon is in when you were born. This cannot be told by your Sun sign. Your incarnational Moon sign is in one of four elements: fire, earth, air or water. Fire (Aries, Leo, Sagittarius) and air (Libra, Aquarius, Gemini) Moon signs are compatible. Earth (Capricorn, Taurus, Virgo) and water (Cancer, Scorpio, Pisces) Moon signs are compatible. Your Moon sign describes how you express your emotional self and how you relate to others on an emotional level. This is critical in interpersonal relations on all but superficial levels. If you mix the lunar group, with a fire Moon, you can have a disaster that becomes more likely the closer both people become. Fire and water mixed gets steam. Fire feels drowning in the emotions of water. Water feels burned by the heat of fire. This is a combination for disaster in intimate or very close relationships when both people are in each other's auras.

That one element combo cannot fathom the other element combo is ok. This is part of the Game. This is part of the different experiences that our Higher Selves require. There is nothing wrong with either Moon sign person. An air sign Moon complains about the water sign Moon's emotional displays. The water sign feels the air sign is shallow and emotionally dead. The are both correct...from the standpoints of where their incarnational Moons are at. There is NO error, NO fault. It's just the way you are. It is best for incompatible Moon signs to put space in between them. The more space, the more comfortable each Moon will be. They can make great long distance friends, but would fight if they lived in close quarters together.

Emotional fire is learned by the Higher Selves in hundreds of incarnations in each of the 12 Moon signs and all 4 of the sign elements. The Higher Selves also require other combinations to interact with the Moon sign choice of an incarnation. Air sign Sun and water sign Moon...Air sign Sun and air sign Moon...Earth sign Sun and fire sign Moon...and so on. All these combinations come up with individual personalities and traits.

MATRIX V Gold Edition- Volume 2

The Graduation Key

If you want emotional compatibility in your life, you must have someone whose Moon is compatible with yours. A disastrous combination: fire Sun, Moon and Rising Sign married a water Sun, Moon and Rising Sign. That was years of misery on both parts. Fire and water made daily steam. Why do people who are SO astrologically incompatible marry? Mars...sex compatibility which is fleeting and temporary and should never be the reason to marry or live together.

It is your water Moon incarnations that give you the most and the best experiences in learning or using emotional fire. The emotions flow freely and easily when the Moon is freest to express itself. Earth Moons are great companions for water Moons because earth can absorb the emotions and it feeds their emotional Moon. Mix an air Moon with an earth Moon and you have a dry desert...nothing grows. Yet a fire Moon does very well with an air Moon since air feeds fire.

Painting with emotional fire is valid when the painter controls the emotions and not the other way around. I can daily see people who allow their emotions control them. They say all kinds of vicious, hurt-intending things to someone they cannot understand or want to control (and the person won't allow themselves to be controlled). I made an observation to one person who launched a victimhood tirade because they couldn't handle what was said to them. This is the emotions controlling the incarnation. This is typical for almost all incarnations and is part of their learning process. Lots of people get hurt by the unnecessary verbal barbs tossed about daily. At my stage, it's better to use one of the Laws of the Universe and withdraw than to be involved in an abusive relationship where emotions control the other person.

With your Final Incarnation's departure from the Game, your Higher Self has all the emotional experience variables shim needs to express a full range of emotional concepts, but these are emotions under the Higher Self's control and not the other way around. It is incomprehensible while still in the Game to fully understand the value of these emotional experiences to your Higher Self. It is this emotional fire that will become critical to you in higher densities. You will know how when YOU are ready, not before.

The Herd Mentality and Victimhood/Victimizer

8/30/2003

One male member of a reality show complains to another about the lack of honesty and excess of treachery of some of the female show members. He accurately uses such great descriptive words as "bitches" and "whores". Unfortunately, the man he talks to says (behind the first man's back) that "he has a problem with women".

The herd mentality of body ID oriented females is that if you have any problems with one of them, you have problems with the whole herd of cows. If the second man wasn't being controlled by his Orion male-subservient EndGame commands, he could have said that the first man has valid problems with these females and they are justified. I've seen it over and over again, at work - on television - out in public, if a man takes issue with almost anything a female does/says, they are almost guaranteed to throw in the victimhood chestnut: 'you hate women'. IT'S A CONTROL DEVICE! The problem does not lie with the men who are doing what the simultaneous path, male incarnation is suppose to do. Finger pointing should go to the females for allowing themselves to be retro-manipulated into something unintended for the simultaneous path female, but is very common with sequential path females.

Women, especially in America, have coveted the title of men haters during EndGame. While that is one thing, weak men let them get away with this abuse instead of acknowledging that western females have become sequential in attitude and have embraced the Orion mode while denying the simultaneous path. This is empowering to the Dark polarity and to the alien sequentials. They've actually found a way to seriously interfere in the simultaneous sector of the Game. If a female dumps the Orion 'you hate women' tag on you, don't be defensive. That is what they want as the first step in victimizing.

The herd mentality has offshoots into other victimhood sub-categories. Other observed victimhood persecutors:

- disagree with anyone jewish or what Israel does and it's "you hate jews". This group lives for victimhood because, in their mind, it allows them to victimize others. The Israelis today compare to the British/Spanish/French/Portuguese invaders of the past. The Palestinians are to Israel what the Native Americans were to those western European invaders. Notice how every time that Israel is up to no good that the same old World War II German films are paraded out. The old bait and switch. Don't fall for it.

- disagree with anyone black and you constantly hear that it's "you hate blacks". This is another group that claims it wants to be considered on a non-racial basis but continues to remind everyone OF their race. They get hyper about real or imagined racial terms used on them, but don't hesitate to use racial terms on others. If they don't want to hear "nigger", then they shouldn't toss about "cracker" or "whitey" which they intend to have the same effect that "nigger" has on them. Don't want to see blacks mocked in film/tv? Then expect that other racial groups want the same deference. You reap what you sow. This indicates extreme insecurity and a desire to victimize using the victimhood mode.

There are other body ID groups who, seeing the success of these victimizers, are trying to adapt it as well. Central Americans, South Americans and related Spanish speaking islanders have been trying to use the same herd mentality and victimhood/victimizer mode. Even some whites have attempted this.

Victimhood blames ALL whites for what certain WESTERN European countries did in the past. This is also body ID especially since, as a simultaneous incarnate, you have been part of that group. You are incarnated in ALL Earther races and both genders many times over. Yet you allow yourself to be manipulated by polarity and aliens who want nothing less than you to fail in the Game. Lower astral entities cheer when divisions increases. The lower astral entities support the Dark side and the sequential path. EndGame is a real mess and getting worse daily. EndGame is all about trying to get you so wrapped up in body matters that the spirit makes little or no progress. Matrix V Gold Edition is the bane of EndGame and has what you need to spiral out of the Game. The Year From Hell continues. Gain control of who you really are and observe.

Final Expectations & Reality

Final Incarnations are, by far, the most secretive of all your incarnations. They know A LOT and that's an understatement. Final Incarnations will not go public unless there is a significant purpose for doing so and even then it is with identity blocks. Matrix V Gold Edition was the reason necessary for this Final to come forward. It was my project for EndGame. It is not necessary to know me personally. It is, as I say in M5, the materials that count and not who my incarnation is.

Lightsiders have gone to great lengths to portray their so-called ascended masters as the Lightside polarity icons embodying optimum Lightside traits. This is the all-giving, all-loving (hence the phony 'unconditional love') and never ruffled genie who dispenses whatever to whomever succeeds in rubbing his lamp. THIS is pure bullshit and fantasy. Yes, there ARE people who try to pass themselves off, in public, as someone like this. They thrive on followers. THAT in itself should be enough of a flag to warn any M5 reader. They encourage a ring of sycophants who act as priests/priestesses who everyone else must go through to possibly fall into the honor of basking in their master/mistresses' light. In my training path, I've had to deal with this type once or twice and always went around the intercepting ring of sycophants to talk to the person that they tried to keep me away from. The most Advanced, that one of these follower-seekers could be, is mid-Advanced. These tend to be full of themselves, heavily into polarity and think they have reached the top of the experience pile. This is a false summit that they will discover on their own.

When Matrix V came out, I had a few people email me to say that they are a "Final" incarnation. I knew that this was not true at all because there is no purpose in making that kind of announcement even to me. If I am to meet another Final Incarnation during EndGame, it will not be in that manner.

Most people who email me expect a version of the Lightside master and become rapidly disenchanted when they discover that is not true. An Awakened Final Incarnation would never act like that. Refer back to Matrix V Gold Edition and read what this incarnation is and what Balance is. Just from reading M5, you should be able to tell by my writing style that I am not a polarity icon in any way. If you read segments of M5 that make you uncomfortable....GOOD! This is an effect of the keys on your experiential loops. If you are body ID'd, you are not ready for most of M5. It clashes with what you are commanded to beLIEve in. And, if you ready M5 with joy, what you have been waiting for is now in your hands.

A few people who have communicated with me could not handle that I am not like the Lightsider-like icon they assumed me to be. I paint with emotional fire which usually drives the incompatible Moons away because they can't handle it and they try to blame me for not being what THEY think I should be. In their disappointment, they show their bitterness and mean dispositions. They have revealed their agenda to me.

I have permitted 2 readers to visit with me for a weekend and we had a great time because they are Advanced enough to know what NOT to expect from me. We talked M5 and related, but we also went out and played. Interacting with others who know that I am 'The Author', I will test their resolve and see if they can handle it. Very Advanced and another Final would be able to handle it well and not hesitate to play back.

So, if you have fixed ideas as to what box an Awakened Final Incarnation will fit into, throw that box away. You are setting your limitations on an incarnation that has succeeded in breaking boxes and others' expectations. If this makes you uncomfortable, then you should remain with people at your level and proceed at a slower pace. This Final Incarnation is not here to fit your preconceived notions and limitations. Fuck off, you are not ready. Your Final Incarnation is unique. Each Final Incarnation is unique based on the plan of that Higher Self. It's this uniqueness that enhances the loneliness that becomes your companion once you've reached Very Advanced levels. It's a preparation for higher densities and events for you after EndGame.

The Start of EndGame, Equality and Polaric Racism

9/3/2003

Warning: If you are at all body-ID oriented, you should definitely not read this segment. It is too Advanced for you to handle!

The first public thread of EndGame and sequential alien tampering with Earth came in the American Declaration of Independence with the phrase: all men are created equal. This just is not so unless you are a sequential, alien planet where they are all created equal. Those who wrote that declaration were not your average people, but several had very strong ties to the planetary power structure, including Benjamin Franklin who was one of the ringleaders. It was the creation of the idea of the United States' illusion of equality that heralded the beginning of EndGame even though equality written in this document did not exist. That it was publicly acknowledged started the ball rolling. The setup was with the US declaring this while still a slave owning, Native American persecuting political unit. This equality was, and still is, an illusion to move the Earth to a sequential path.

First of all, refer back to Matrix V Gold Edition and segments dealing with who created Earthers of today. These are you physical body creators. As written in M5, these genetic scientists created specific races for specific reasons. One of the reasons was not equality. The black African race, for example, was created as a manual, heavy work labor force (primarily for mining). Other races were created for other purposes which were further modified by still other alien genetic scientists in ancient history. Equality was never the intent of the creators.

On a simultaneous path planet, as Earth is for this galaxy at this time, the ways of equality are suspended to allow for maximum experiences and freedom of path expression. On sequential path planets in the rest of the galaxy, equality is standard in most respects since the planet progresses as a whole rather than as an individual. Even in the Orion Empire, Mintaka will say the reptilians are equal in stature when compared to any other race or planet. Yes, the females rule, but the males are still Orion reptilians and second only to their females.

Other sequential planets have the males and the females as roughly par in abilities and positions, but then they progress as a unit/planet and individuality is discouraged unless it can be applied to the planet as a whole.

Earth, however, requires individual Advancement. Progressing as a planet is not permitted since it is not simultaneous. The 'no one left behind' attitude moving through American liberal circles is also sequential in idea. IF one wants to progress as one of a group, stay on the excruciatingly slow sequential path. The aliens set it up here with different races. The simultaneous path took advantage of that and, hence, Earth became the simultaneous path planet after the last simultaneous path planet's spirits spiraled out of the Game.

The sequential aliens found there was not anything serious that they could do after Earth was marked as simultaneous path planet until EndGame was opened. EndGame signaled the beginning of the spiraling out process after thousands of years of simultaneous, very varied experiences. When 'all men are created equal' became public, it was the signal that the simultaneous Higher Selves were waiting for - the start of the breakdown of individuality and the need to look to spiraling out of the Game as this session was coming to an end. The introduction of alien technologies and equality of genders were major parts of the dismantling of the simultaneous path on Earth. Again, refer back to Matrix V Gold Edition for more details.

On Earth, not only are the physical bodies not created equal, the spirits that inhabit these bodies are not equal EXCEPT in the case of minion incarnations. The fact of minion incarnations on Earth existing are also part of EndGame and alien technological interference. Since we, as simultaneous incarnating Higher Selves, do incarnate at different time periods in non-linear progression, our spirits are not equal in the time periods chosen. A Very Advanced living in ancient Greece is not equal to a Low incarnation of another Higher Self living at the same time. This is NEVER an issue among the Higher Selves. This, however, IS an issue among sequential incarnates who envy the simultaneous pathers, but do not have the courage, at this time, to join that path.

The joy of simultaneous incarnations is to be a female with unique female traits and duties that are vastly different than male...to experience the joys of one race and then another different one without the experiences being the same. During EndGame, these joys are rapidly being eliminated by the artificial status of "equality". Notice how much has been taken away under the sequential path guise of 'equality' and how rapidly the planetary rulers are attempting to force a one planet attitude by combining Europe as one to copy the American experiment. There is MUCH more to this than I've covered in this and other M5 segments.

One other point I want to make here is the polarity sides of racism. If you don't like anyone or have prejudices against a race ONLY because that person belongs to the target race, you are a racist and have racist experiences. Dark polarity racism is prejudice/dislike/hatred to those of a race other than yours. Light polarity racism is prejudice/dislike/hatred of the race you currently are incarnated in. Dark polarity racism examples: white hates black, black hates white, yellow hates red, red hates brown and so on. Light polarity racism examples: white hates white, black hates black and so on. This polarity is sadistic/masochistic. Adept Matrix 5 readers can connect the dots. Light polarity racism is most common today with whites prejudiced against their own race and cater to others at their own expense. The Very Advanced and higher know that they are in all races as different times. The Very Advanced do not look down on their race or others and do take people as individuals regardless of race. It is spirit connection to spirit that is most important.

It is important to realize how the polarities are manipulating Earth into a sequential path to eliminate Earth as the simultaneous path planet of this galaxy. Think about these matters and see what conclusions you can draw.

A Closer Look At Polarity & Racism

9/4/2003

In the segment I wrote yesterday (9/3), I mention the Light and the Dark versions of the polarity of racism. Darkside polarity is when one race hates/dislikes another different race only because of their race. Individuality and the spirit animating a body in that race is of no concern to the Darkside (or Lightside) racist. Darkside racism has existed ever since the alien genetic scientists created the various races from Ancient Earthers. Refer back to Matrix V Gold Edition for segments on that topic. The common complaint by the object of this racism is "the color of my skin". This is not true in itself, although it can be the prime identifying factor in some cases. Racial identification is not limited to skin color at all. Physical features/textures, customs and mannerisms are also part of the racial ID. If the color of one's skin was the sole factor, European connected whites would never go for a tan. I've seen whites with darker skin than some who identify themselves as black.

There are MANY flaws in identifying/categorizing people by race. Most white Americans have the same color skin as northern Chinese, for example, but yet Asians are considered the yellow race. It's the eyes, people will say and the mannerisms. I find the differences far more interesting and embrace the differences, but if their eyes were like non-Asians, could they pass? Skin color is just an excuse.

In another example, look at the Indians and others near India. Many of them have skin darker than many American blacks, but yet they are not identified as a 'black' race. When the Mormons had their ban on giving the priesthood to blacks, it was African blacks only. If it were JUST skin color, why were Indians not in the same boat as African blacks? Darkside racism is nonsense to the Very Advanced and above. Refer to Matrix V Gold Edition to see what I've written about alien racial make-ups. The desire for the whole planet to act like one, be like one with the mannerisms of one is sequential in origin. The removal of differences is part of their plan in altering Earth from a simultaneous planet to a sequential environment. It is very important that you remember that when observing what is going on.

This brings me to the Lightside racism: disdain for your own race and attempts to embrace another at the expense of your own. Using EndGame America, with blacks who had their freedom or those who were freed during the Civil War, many tried to be like the whites at the sacrifice of their own heritage. True, most had lost that heritage, but few were interested in regaining it. They clung to the religion of their masters and were not interested in the religions of their homeland. They tried so hard to fit in. Instead, they were rebuffed, in most cases (there were exceptions but they were few and far between) Southern states, deprived of their slave workforce, found other ways to embarrass and enslave these people. It wasn't until the middle 20th century that the federal government forced changes. Again, a whole other story. Many embraced Lightside racism at the expense of their own race.

This changed rapidly in the 1960's and later as blacks struggled for racial identity. Some substituted one master's religion (christianity/white) for another master's religion (islam/arab) both with the same alien deity. Names were changed to arabic. One would have thought that there would have been a far greater move to adapt non-Arabic, African cultures of their past. There were those who did, but far more chose otherwise. This also heralded a change from Lightside racism to Darkside racism by many blacks which is pretty overt today. If you want more on American racial history, you'll have to do your own research. Know, however, that Earther books are tainted and biased in either direction. The best resource is the Library on Monroe level 27.

Meanwhile, much of the overt Darkside racism by many whites has been replaced by a Lightside racism of white disdain. These are many white who revel in anti-white racism, eagerly drop their culture/heritage in favor of adopting American black culture/speech/clothing, etc.

BOTH Dark and Light racism is of the Game. Feelings of racial superiority/inferiority run rampant and one side tends to feed the other. NOWHERE in either racism polarities does the individual spirit come into play. The spirit is ignored. To Dark/Light racists, the body ID is the only thing that counts.

Dark racism is a feature of the Low level of incarnation. Mid level incarnations start to vacillate. Light racism is a feature beginning in Mid level incarnations and evident through mid-Advanced incarnational levels. Remember, part of graduating from the Game involves recognizing many of the mechanics of the Game, again, refer back to Matrix V Gold Edition. Once you have broken BOTH Darkside and Lightside racist experiential loops, you look to people as their spirit and not their body. Body ID, while necessary for Low and Mid level experiences, will hold you back if you cling to them during Advanced stages, especially in mid-Advanced. You will not be able to navigate beyond the mid-Advanced level if you still are experiencing your Lightside or Darkside racist, body ID attitudes. It is a bit more complex during the Awakened Final Incarnation and there are interesting facets of polaric racism that you will learn when you arrive at that level prior to Game spiraling out.

Coming to grips with spirit rule over body ID rule is a HUGE goal during your stay in the Game. The rewards that will come to you in overcoming massive Game experiential loops are truly awesome. Consider what I've written here. It's your path...you are where YOU are meant to be. Change can only come from within YOU. It cannot be forced.

Sequential Compliance & Wave Path Incarnations

9/8/2003

The indignant, insecure-in-self person whines, "Do you think you're better than me?" or "What makes you think you're better than everyone else?". This type of commonly heard complaint is sequential incarnate based. Remember, the sequential path incarnates progress as a planet and not as an individual. In the sequential path incarnations, everyone is expected to sacrifice individuality in favor of planetary group progression. Read more about sequential path incarnations in Matrix V Gold Edition.

Notice, though, that you STILL have these kinds of comments made here on Earth among simultaneous incarnates. What gives? There are a few reasons for the existence of this wrong attitude. First of all, a former sequential path Higher Self having Low level incarnations interacting with Mid or Advanced level incarnates. The Low level, with body ID's in full control and subconscious inclinations of 'everyone the same', will react with the 'Do you think you're better than me' phrase which is used on sequential planets when one tries to advance beyond the planet as a whole. This phrase is expected to be a victimhood complaint and to be answered with contrition and a return to the group fold. While that may well hold water on alien planets, it's bullshit on Earth. Sequential path compliance is invalid on Earth for simultaneous path Higher Self incarnations. This type of attitude, however, gains support from sequential incarnates (aliens) on Earth who are steering Earth to the sequential path. Again, refer back to Matrix V Gold Edition for more on this.

Another reason for this attitude is minion incarnations. This is because the Earth Spirit progresses in waves. ALL Nature Spirit incarnations as trees progress as one unit but differently than fish. ALL Nature Spirit incarnations as sheep progress as one unit but differently than dogs. ALL Nature Spirit incarnations as butterflies progress as one unit and so on, yet butterflies do not progress the same as rocks. This is the Nature Spirit wave path bringing to your awareness the third type of Higher Self path in the 3rd density Game. I remember when I was in Sedona, Arizona and was told about a type of grating that was placed on the road to keep livestock off the road. This kept them off until one sheep or cow figured to roll over the grating to get across. When this worked, suddenly all of the herd did this. They advanced in learning as a group. Minion human incarnations retain this wave mentality. Remember minion incarnations are a perversion due to over population and alien manipulation of EndGame Earth. Refer back to Matrix V Gold Edition for more on that. Minion human incarnations will try to impose restrictions on Advancing simultaneous incarnates with the 'you are not part of the herd wave' attitude.

Nature Spirit wave path incarnations make each grouping of plant, animal, rock, etc progress as a unit, similar to the sequential path. Yet each wave progresses independently of the others. All waves exist simultaneously but have vastly different experiences. All of these experiences are processed by the planetary Nature Spirit which is also connected to the Solar Spirit. Nature Spirit wave incarnations interact with sequential and simultaneous paths depending on the planet involved.

The demand for sequential compliance must be learned to be ignored by the Advanced groups. Light polarity adherents, when asked if they "think you're better than everyone else" will always play the role of appeasement and try to ease the indignant lesser incarnate level or minion waver. There is no need to make excuses for what you have earned! All simultaneous Higher Selves have ALL levels of incarnations from Low through Final. At another time period, one has an incarnation that is Low and may feel insecure around those more Advanced. Tough! That's the way the Game and the simultaneous path is. If one doesn't like it, they should have never left the group security of the sequential path. As for the minions, that's their problem as well. Of course if you're a breeder in EndGame, you brought some of this down on yourself for bringing minions into human existence. It's part of your experience and path. More rocks in the Rocky Path as per M5 Gold segment on Smooth vs Rocky roads.

You have earned where you are today with experience and hard work in breaking experiential loops. There is one exception to this that must be considered: those born into wealth/position rather than one who has earned it. There are many aliens on Earth in power positions who never earned it, but were installed or appointed because of the desire to control Earth's descent into sequential vibration. If anyone's claim to position is due to family or other body related ties, it has not been earned. The various 'royal' families, the children of those who started business empires, those who claim to be descended from a line of traditional witches/the pilgrims/royalty, etc. These are first of all body ID and not spirit. Body ID claims are empty on the spiritual levels. Body ID/genealogy are sequential alien requirements.

The person who succeeded despite their body ID has truly progressed. Are they better than those who they left behind - hell, yes! The person who breaks a significant experiential loop

- better than one who still clings to it? Hell, yes! The person who has Advanced from Low to Mid incarnational level - better than the Low? Hell, yes! Be proud of your achievements. If someone who hasn't been able to break their loop is jealous, that's THEIR problem. Lightsiders try to appease the insecure (and limit their Advancement). Darksiders lord it over the insecure (and limit their Advancement). Balance just says what it is and goes on with their business without fanfare. Mid is better than Low, Advanced is better than Mid, Very Advanced is better than mid-Advanced. It just is. The good news is that all simultaneous path Higher Selves will experience all levels and graduate and THAT is what really counts.

German Concentration Camps, Israel & The Game

9/10/2003

The concentration camps of World War II had to exist. I'm not talking so much about the American concentration camps for the Americans of Japanese heritage or the Soviet concentration camps for everyone who disagreed with Moscow. I'm talking about the German concentration camps that held jews, gypsies, gays and an assortment of other groups that Berlin disagreed with. It was also necessary that these people, if they couldn't be worked to death, be mass murdered.

It is nonsense for those who say the death camps never existed. I've been to Auschwitz and Birkinau in Poland and the vibrations are ghastly. No, they definitely DID exist. Some research in the Library on Monroe level 27 brings up fascinating information into a facet of the Game that I will share some of it here.

For one thing, why did the jews wind up with their own country, Israel, because of the German Dark event while no one was calling for a land for also long persecuted gypsies, for example? While it was true that the jews were the single largest group of people murdered, they were not the only ones, although they would like the world to think so. One hears barely a peep about the other groups murdered. Again, why?

In order for the country of Israel to exist during EndGame, something traumatic HAD to occur to force the majority of the world's sympathy (at least in western countries) for a reason why it should be formed. This came about by the meekly marching off to the camps by these people. Those who weren't meek were shot, but this event was more than it appeared. It was a major effort by the Game with the creation of Israel in mind.

Using the death of millions as leverage, along with British(first) support and waving the World War II images, the idea of a state of Israel became a reality in EndGame. The state of Israel is a major area for EndGame. Israel could not exist WITHOUT the sacrifice of millions during the 30's-40's. Remember the jewish religion is one of sacrifice and blood spilling. This is a trait of both reptilian and sirian presences who require blood sacrifice.

Victimhood was embraced by the jews who are one group that enjoys using it liberally to get their way. Guilt is one of the main control methods of the religion and its people. They can get hyper about any criticism of Israel or themselves because they want others to back off from getting too close to the reasons why.

EVERY simultaneous path Higher Self has had incarnations as both male and female jews. Notice the heavy dependence on body ID that they have. Also, the child of any jewish mother must be brought up jewish. This not required if the mother is non-jewish with a jewish father. This is an Orion trait in this seemingly Sirian religion.

You can hardly turn on the television in the US without being able to locate some channel showing a documentary on the Germans and WWII. This is intended to sway those who are suspicious of Israel's ruthless actions today. Israel is today to the Palestinians as some of the western Europeans/Americans were (and America still is) to the Native Americans. Push them back, contain them to worthless reservations. The Gaza Strip is one of those reservations in Israel. America had the technology of the time to drive the Native Americans back. Israel has the technology today to do the same to the Palestinians.

While you hear all kinds of commotion about Iraq, Iran and Korea's nuke potential, not once do you hear any official word about Israel's nuclear arsenal or other weapons of mass destruction. Why is that? The Game has something planned. Notice that those who complain about other's weapons are the same nations that have the worst weaponry!

Go back to the formation of Israel coming out of Britain. The Ninhursag (refer to Matrix V Gold Edition) lives in London. London is the central point of reptilian control on Earth. Go back to before America got into WWII. There was a passenger ship full of German jews who were turned away from all the "freedom loving" ports of the US. The government would not allow them to dock. Nothing must interfere with the intended slaughter. Who knew what back then? The highest up knew much. Those who died knew nothing. The others were led by manipulative governments. The Library on 27 contains histories the way they happened and not tainted by the victors or dictators who write false histories. This segment is out to make you think and also assist you during EndGame events.

Latest Lightside Deception

9/22/2003

The following is part of a message that is vomited by the Light polarity:

"Message from the Mayan Elders of the Eagle Clan"

"This call is urgent in the face of the prophetic times in which we are living principally for the spiritual guides and conscious people. At this time, we need to unite and create a belt of light that will contrast with the negativity. At this moment, the elders and the shamans of the Mayan world are making fire ceremonies daily, without end, in a manner similar to the Native Americans who are working hard with their own ceremonies. This is true of our brothers the Hopi, the Huichol elders, the powerful Taitas throughout the Amazon, the great wise ones of the eternal snows of the Andes, the Ayamaras, our brothers in the Sierra Nevada, the great Tibetan wise ones and all others that don't have a visible form. Each one with their own tradition and mystical knowledge and sciences, are working to create this balance that has been denominated "El K'uxaaj Saq' Be'" - the path of the positive energy / the white path of the good heart. This is where the two poles intersect over the west coast of the American continent, touching the continent's energetic centers simultaneously reactivating the positive flow of energy. The call is so that we may all work together ? the elders, the shamans, the wise ones and all of the people that have the awareness in order to change the negative force. It is about reaching all of the people with an urgency, to counteract the events that are juxtaposed to this period of August to December. The elders are making a call for the balance that needs to exist, with the intention of calling all leaders as well as all of the people that have the desire to achieve the balance. "

Notice that, with typical Lightside technique, they would have you believe that all the world's shamans, elders, etc are chanting the white light mantra to "change" the Dark. They even identify themselves as "the white path of the good heart". For readers of Matrix V Gold Edition, you know that this is not Balance. These people are involved in attacking the Dark under the guise of for the "benefit" of others, another Lightsider delusion.

The ONLY way to end a polarity is for the opposite polarity to merge with it. THAT is what Balance is. Balance is not the elimination of the Dark (or Light), for each polarity is dependent on the existence of the other. You cannot have Light without Dark and Dark without Light. Light is spiritually immature to believe otherwise. Those who shake their rattles and beat their drums to eliminate Dark (or Light), while keeping their own polarity intact, are wasting their energy and time. Instead they are strengthening the other polarity!

Lightsiders LOVE stuff like 'messages from the mystics', those nebulous, we-know-what's-best-for-all types. They like to convey messages that Light is more powerful than Dark. It is not (refer to Matrix V Gold Edition for more on that). Dark would have you believe that resistance is futile. It is not.

Lightsiders fall all over this type of pronouncement that "the great Tibetan wise ones and all others that don't have a visible form" are radiating for the Light polarity. If they don't have 'visible form', they are not simultaneous incarnating Higher Selves, but beings of deception. When I was at the Monroe Institute (and since then on my own journeys), I heard about those who constantly tamper with the simultaneous path incarnates but refuse to take up the 3rd density challenge. Yeah, there's all kinds of deceptions coming from those "that don't have visible form".

As to why Earth is the center for so much shit, both 3rd and other densities, refer back to Matrix V Gold Edition. This interference is now way up due to EndGame.

Lightsiders have hijacked the word 'balance' as their own. A polarity can NEVER be in Balance because it has not merged with its opposite. It is important that you are aware of this deception and related deceptions on the part of polarities. EndGame is LOADED with deceptions intended to entice you into a polarity camp. EndGame is the most difficult period to be incarnated in, but it can also be the most rewarding.

Child Heroics in Film/Cartoons

That the mass media is used for propaganda is well known. Electronic mass media is an EndGame feature using alien technology and it is one way that the sequential aliens are influencing the change from Earth being a simultaneous path planet to being a sequential path planet. Since sequential path alien planets are populated by beings who remember their past lives, it is easy to see why there would be (on Earth) child prodigies. Since they have their past lives' memories, there is nothing new in the mental areas so the alien 5 year old knows what it did when it died at age 134, for example. For more on the sequential path for Higher Selves, refer to Matrix V Gold Edition.

It has become increasingly popular in western culture to portray children as heroic types doing things that a simultaneous path child could never do. Japanese anime is loaded with these types with the oversized eyes (alien). Disney and other studios churn these out as well with stuff like Spy Kids, Powerpuff Girls, etc. In no way could a simultaneous path incarnate, in real life, do anything like these shows depict. No can Earther females carry on like Lara Croft either unless they were Orion reptilian, for example.

What the sequentials are attempting to do is to make you desire to be like these fictional types. They are trying to entice simultaneous path Higher Selves to return to the sequential path. Of course this is impossible and the Very Advanced Higher Self incarnations know the futility of this, but the lesser incarnations will, to varying degrees, want this to be. This is just more alien meddling in Earther simultaneous affairs. The sequential path Higher Selves know this, but they try to throw some sand in the engine of EndGame to halt your progress. These bitter bettys are unhappy with former sequential Higher Selves who have chosen to leave their slower path for the simultaneous fast track. They try to influence the now simultaneous incarnate to defer to the alien far more advanced technology and alien aura which are both held in awe by the polarities on Earth. Notice, however, that these aliens steer a wide path away from anyone Very Advanced or Awakened Final incarnations because the jig would be up for them. This is a reason why they avoid Monroe level 27 as well.

If one cares to watch the child heroic films for entertainment, that's one thing as an adult, but the sequentials are primarily after influencing Earther children who are more vulnerable to impression than an adult. Hence also, friendly reptilian/alien characters who are here to "help" you. If you still embrace the breeding experiential loops, you might consider explaining some of this to your kids. If you have minion incarnate kids, though, it really won't matter. That's a whole other story. The sequentials are not interested in minion incarnates for this thrust, but only in Earther simultaneous path incarnates. Yes, it is complicated, but that's part of EndGame. Be aware!

Physical Death: The Unchangeable Event

While waiting in line at the store, I looked at a story about actor John Ritter's death. The headline said "It Didn't Have To Happen". A common comment with people is he/she "died too soon/young". Refer back to Matrix V Gold Edition for other death related segments.

I've written over and over that your time and manner of death were chosen by YOU, as your pure Higher Self, for each and every of your incarnations. Your Higher Self will not permit you to die before that time and will directly intervene to stop pre-mature death. Your Higher Self will also not permit your incarnation to live longer than the set time of death and will make sure that it occurs.

The circumstances for your incarnation's death are set up to fulfill your death experience. If it is to be for health related reasons, you will experience what is necessary to complete the event. If it is to be violent or accidental, you will be in the place at the time it is to occur.

There is SO much information and DISinformation out there about what to/not to eat, drink, smoke and experience (conform, conform). One example is how bad fluoride and artificial sweeteners are. Yet, despite all this info, people will still use these products. Another example is smoking. With all the warnings and labels of death on the packages, people will still smoke. It is their path and their experience. Even non-smokers die of lung cancer due to second hand smoke environments and some smokers will never die of it. You cannot die from circumstances that your Higher Self has not agreed to.

In the Ritter case, the article said that he could have been "saved" if he would have gone to the doctor and followed his advice. He did not do that because his Higher Self knew it was contrary to shim's planned event.

There are people where I work who, in between their chain smoking, will tell others what they should or should not consume. This happens all the time. The non-fat freak, the artificial sweetener junkie and the chain smoking health advisors all seem to know what is 'best' for everyone else. What should be kept in mind is that IF a beneficial product comes to your attention AND you feel pulled to investigate or use it, then that product may be for you. If you are not pulled to it, move on. For whatever reason, it's not for you. Your Higher Self will make sure that what you need is made available for you in the incarnation you're experiencing. For me, the Novus Research triad of products works excellently. I have told others in my area about them, but no one else is inclined to know more. That is their path and I don't push the items once their minds are made up. Remember the Laws of the Universe on that topic.

Remember also that your incarnational path is unique and unique means as individual as you can get. Take what works for you and dump the rest. If making yourself a regular in your allopathic doctor's office is what works for you, don't assume that it is what all should be doing. If you feel you need your body poked and jabbed in the belief that it will make you live longer, this is part of YOUR experience. You will hear comments like "oh, you're xx years old so you need to do this or that". Follow the leader or the herd? If you do, it's your experience. If you don't, it's your experience. "But if you don't, you'll die". Appeals to the body are common, but the don't work when the spirit controls the body. Watch the herds line up for free flu shots - all body ID'd. The body responds to panic and lack of immortality. If you are still body ID'd, you have a vastly different set of experiences than if you have broken those body ID'd experiential loops. Do what YOU have to do and follow YOUR experiences. Just remember that you cannot die before or after your time whenever that time is.

Body ID Concept: "My" Children

While watching the old film, "Oh God, You Devil", a man sells his soul to the devil for another and famous life. For information on the concept of selling one's soul, read Matrix V Gold Edition where a segment is written on that topic. While in his new life, but having his former life memories intact (how sequential can you get), he discovers that his former life female interest is pregnant. She is now married to another guy who sold his soul to this devil to be married to this pregnant female. The original soul seller complains to the devil that "she's having my baby". No, she isn't. She's having the baby of the body that she's married to. Even though another spirit is inhabiting that body, it is the child of that body, not the original body's spiritual inhabitant.

Putting aside the body swapping, devil dealing story line that is fantasy, the fact is that it is physical bodies who procreate, not spirits. As far as I know, the Mormon religion is the only one where they claim that you will create spirit children if you make it to the celestial kingdom (where male spirit priesthood holders have harems of female spirit women working in their spiritual kitchens and having spirit children.). This is pure fantasy. When you are experiencing the breeding loops, you are assisting in carrying on a physical line, not a spiritual one. "My child" is correct if referring to your body's creation. Once you leave that body by dropping dead, you are no longer connected to a physical body and, therefore are no longer the parent of the child. What you did, from a spirit point of view, is participate in the experience of creating children by occupying the physical bodies who, in fact, created them. Your spirit force animates the physical bodies. In a different example, you are the electricity that powers a toaster. The electricity didn't create toast, but it allowed the toaster to complete its function.

Look at this differently: In creating children bodies by using physical bodies, you have opened a door for the body to be occupied by a spirit. You have NO say in what spirit will occupy that body unless some previous agreement was reached with another Higher Self. Refer to Matrix V Gold Edition to see what kind of spirit beings occupy the majority of Earther physical bodies during EndGame. In some instances, a kindred spirit may inhabit the child's body because of previous Higher Self agreements. In many instances, it is purely random. In other instances, it is because that physical is optimum for the Higher Self incarnation to experience what shim has set forth in shim's plan for the current incarnation. This Higher Self is not in a pre-agreement with the parent's spirit, but Higher Selves are well familiar with this type of opportunity. Likewise, a Higher Self may occupy a newborn body created by two minion occupied Earther adults. It is the experiential loops to create the physical body that control the procreation process. You did that and now it's time for the consequences of that experience which include the odds heavily not in favor of you knowing what spirit is animating the new child body. From the Higher Self point of view, it's all part of the experience. Some times you strike gold with a terrific kid, some times you strike shit with a minion incarnation and some times you just settle for mediocre or lots of other variations.

This possession of people, be it spouse, boy/girl friends, kids, etc is a physical feature resulting from the Game's body DNA commands on simultaneously incarnating Earth. This is not a spiritual thing, but is extremely difficult to control. It may not be until your Awakened Final Incarnation that you gain sufficient control and rely on the Laws of the Universe. The possession of bodies, other than your own, is also a dominance item, hence Dark in nature. Physical bodies have a life of their own due to the massive number of DNA commands and experiential loops, while you, as with the toaster example, are the electricity. Yes, that concept oversimplifies the situation, but the Very Advanced will be able to grasp it. Children are children of the body and inherit the parents' genes, etc. It is body ID'd to beLIEve that the children are yours (spirit) however it is in the Game's interest that you do beLIEve that because it detracts from your higher growth. The Game wants you to concentrate on being the body and will do whatever it can to keep you from remembering who you really are. Lots more on these topics in Matrix V Gold Edition.

The REAL 'God' & 'Satan'

10/3/2003

We are brought up, with most religions to believe in a 'god' and a 'devil'. While the name, Satan, is specific to one god fantasy religions such as christianity, muslim and jewish, Satan is just another name for the mischief deity who is the opposite of the main 'god'. All religions have the 2 polarity beings of good and evil under a variety of names. Polarity here is the key. The desert god (so popular with christians, jews and muslims) is considered the god of good, hence Light polarity, while Satan/devil is considered the opposite, in reality the god of evil, hence Dark polarity. Look to any other religion to spot their polarity pantheons. This is a function of the Game and this function was installed by various alien groups who molded the former Ancient Earthers to worship them with their vastly impressive technologies.

To see who manipulates these deities, you have to move far beyond the obvious and not so obvious. The Game itself, which is a creation of certain Higher Selves, contains both polarities. However the Game is created to throw blocks, dead ends and red herrings to those who play the Game. The Game IS the ultimate issuer of lies and deceptions. The Game is the REAL Satan, not because it favors one polarity over another (it doesn't) but that it will lie to cover up the truth and Satan is referred to as the 'father of all lies'.

On the other hand you find the Higher Selves involved in the Game. The goal of the Higher Selves is the truth and Balance via experience in the Game. The Higher Self is the REAL god in the Game, but the god of only shim's incarnations and not of any other Higher Self's incarnations. The Game has warped this concept by condemning multiple gods when there are multiple deities. At the same time luring you to believe that there is only a single deity. Yes & no....there are multiple gods, but YOU have only one god.

Look to the 'first commandment' of the jewish/christian mythologies: 'I am the lord, your god. You will have no other gods before me.' Toss in lots of anger, psychotic control and jealousy (Dark traits) and you have the christian/jewish mythological deity. However, the Game has used this to trick a host of the Higher Selves' incarnations. It would be correct to rephrase that so-called commandment to read: "I am your Higher Self and you are me. I am solely responsible for your incarnation and path. What other Higher Selves do with their incarnations and paths is their business. It is to your detriment to compare the wonders I have for your incarnation to the wonders that other Higher Selves have for their incarnations. Focus on your path and grow knowing that I am always with you when any other incarnation has long departed. You and I are the same. Find strength and comfort in that. Grow and return to me and we will be one." Your Higher Self is YOUR 'god'. That makes you the 'god' inhabiting the temple of the body. More on this is covered in Matrix V Gold Edition.

The Game throws out a myriad of lies, half-truths and deceptions to attempt to keep you from ever discovering this. You definitely will discover it, in stages as you Advance. This involves breaking experiential loops and suppressing alien DNA commands which will allow your spirit to exert more and more control over the physical.

Naming the Game as the real 'Satan' and your Higher Self as the real 'God' is significant. It moves beyond simple 3rd density polarities. The Game is yin-yang balance - equal amounts of Dark and Light. The Higher Self is moving to true Balance, the merging of yin-yang balance into one. If you are unable to grasp these concepts yet, just push them to the side for now. They will prove invaluable to you more Advanced incarnations. Once you are able to successfully handle and know this segment's information, you will be able to make even more rapid progress on your path.

Dark Energy Vortex

10/6/2003

In my shamanic journeying, I have encountered black tornado energy vortexes. My sightings of them included over prominent Darksider residences, the Giza pyramid and a cross placed on the south side of Interstate 40 somewhat west of Amarillo, Texas. Black tornados are Dark energy spirals and should be avoided by those not correctly shamanic trained. These tornado energy fields are where they are because they were constructed by at least one of the residence's dwellers or by whoever erected a Dark connected structure.

These black tornados are energy draining to those of the Light polarity. They can cause illness and mental confusion if you are exposed to them. Black tornados are energizing to those of the Dark polarity. This phenomenon is not related to any 3rd density atmospheric condition. They are a beacon to Dark astral entities. They are always present in Dark energy raising ceremonies as well.

I am releasing this information on to raise awareness and suggest you avoid these vortex energy funnels if you encounter them. Very few shamans will know how to deal with these energy cones anyway and it would only be under some extreme circumstance where one (who did know) would collapse the energy field around it.

Darkside Aggression in EndGame

10/9/2003

Sharp observers should be noting, in this phase of EndGame, that the general circumstances have become MUCH more polaric than they ever were. With the appointment of the current resident of the White House in Washington, you had a true polarity setting: "You are either with us or against us". This was an overt and intentional attempt to force Earthers to be either Dark or Light. It also is an attempt to dismantle any balance.

Deception, half-truths and outright lies are prime tools that have been successful with the Light polarity in the past. Some examples:

- I'm doing this for your sake/benefit
- The bible/god/jesus/etc says (this) so you can't do (that)
- I'm doing this because I love you

These have been used for millennia to control others under the guise of "for the good of the whole". With the exception of certain major offenses, such as murder and theft, it's pretty much bullshit and control. The main purpose of any government is to institute more and more laws to restrict your freedom of experience on Earth as a simultaneous incarnate. The word 'institute' itself is monolithic and confining. The Higher Selves know exactly what is going on here, but are self-constrained by the rules of the Game. Read Matrix V Gold Edition for more on the rules and the Game.

The Dark polarity loves to manifest itself as pseudo-Light and use Light methods to control the masses and force your obedience. The Dark operates in service to self modes, but, just by the nature of the word 'Dark', you are not meant to see exactly what is going on. So, the Darksider in the White House uses seemingly Light catchwords like 'freedom' and 'good/bad guys'. For one thing, the Dark loves to talk down to those they view as non-peers. This means that they will use terms that adults use to children. Bush loves doing this, however in his case it is also being used to cover-up his lack of mental agility and intellectual underdevelopment which is so common in child bullies.

The Dark, especially since Clinton was in office, has seized upon blatant deceptions and lies to serve their purposes because they have discovered that the majority of those who vote will respond favorably to them. Since this worked well in the election of 00, their shrill, boldfaced lies seem to be generated quicker than pollution from a factory. September 11, 01 was like the ringing of a bell for them to move into fully operational mode via Bush and his cronies. Even though the government allowed and assisted in the 9/11 event, the general public would refuse to wake up to the true nature of their government...and Dark revels in that. The Iraq war is another exercise in lies and taking advantage of American self-delusion in regard to their government.

In the US today, in general, the Republican party is the Dark party while, in general, the Democratic party is the Light party. The Dark party thrives on Orion-style nationalism, war, the lack of progressive change (conservatism) and the silencing of dissent when it conflicts with outdated restrictions they refuse to relinquish. The Light party thrives on sequential planetary equality, progressive change (liberalism) and silencing of dissent when it conflicts with sequential equality. Remember these governments all have their origins with the aliens who couldn't keep their claws off the Earther simultaneous experience (read Matrix V Gold Edition).

Remember what I wrote previously about the polarities as 2 sides of the same coin. Tactics are similar, but goals are different. It is only in the blending together of both polarities that one is able to reach Balance. For more on that, read Matrix V Gold Edition.

Now that the Dark party feels it is on a roll with its success in deceiving the nation about 9/11, they feel encouraged to push for even more power, the lifeblood of polarities, especially Dark. Even in my own area, the Dark party issues boldface, bare ass lies about the Light party candidates for state assembly. When I read the Dark propaganda that comes to my home, I'm amazed that any Higher Self incarnation, in the Advanced levels, would fall for this crap. The lies are just SO transparent to me. Of course the Dark locals are pushing a hard line christian and you know how hard line (fill in the blank) religions are intensely intolerant. Combine hard line christians with politics and you have major Darksiders using the disguise of being of the Light polarity, of which they never are.

This is why I recommended Al Franken's book (see review below). Al is definite simultaneous Higher Self incarnate who loves to paint with emotional fire even though he is a Lightsider. Al went to great lengths to expose the Dark's manipulation and use of lies to get their way. Dark does not like this type of scrutiny. The newly released book by Michael Moore, Dude Where's My Country, is another such expose that I just got. Franken and Moore are both Lightsiders engaged in battle with the Dark. It's these exposes that infuriate the Dark who wants to remain hidden. The Dark's rabid hatred of Franken and Moore borders on psychotic. Read these books but keep in mind that they are Lightside, but to find out just how extensive the Dark lies, you have to read them for yourself. I'm waiting for Moore's film next year that will expose the Dark Bush family entitled Fahrenheit 9/11 as noted in Dude Where's My Country.

These examples and more, that you should be able to observe, are all part of EndGame. The Game wants the polarities to become more and more solid in their commitments. From the position of an Awakened Final Incarnation, it is awful, BUT it is a necessary part of EndGame and will actually assist in bringing the Game to an end for simultaneous Earthers. Hardline christians want to turn the US into a theocracy just as hardline muslims want to do in their countries. 'Hardline' anything lives off of hate, conformity and intolerance. This will get even worse. The Dark will invoke nationalism even more in the days to come. All this has a purpose that will end in violence. If you silence your observational criticism because you fear others will call you unpatriotic, then you are far from ready for the Matrix 5 materials. Fear is your undoing and your prison. You must overcome this fear in order to spiral out and you will by the time you reach your Final Incarnation. The good thing is that, as EndGame gets more intense, the end draws nearer and we will spiral out as graduates of the 3rd density Game.

Victimhood: "I Had No Choice"

10/12/2003

A day doesn't go by when I hear the phrase, "I have no choice". This is one of the victimhood Top Ten Whines. The difference between the victimhood stance and the responsible stance is to take credit for an action that you chose to participate in. The examples are massive and limitless in number, but they all serve to excuse someone from accepting responsibility. Here are a two medical related examples of victimhood and the counter of accepting responsibility:

Victimhood:

*The woman tells her friend that she's going for a flu shot. "I don't have any choice but to get the shot. The doctor told me that, because of my age, I have to do it."

Responsibility for self:

*The woman tells her friend that she's going for a flu shot. "My doctor told me that, because of my age, I have to do it. I thought it over and decided that I want to get the shot because I don't want to catch the flu, as he said." While this is accepting the responsibility, it also shows the body is in control and the fear of death is strong. Yet, the reasoning is appropriate to the level of the incarnation's progression.

Victimhood:

*The man tells his friend that he has been diagnosed with lung cancer. "My doctor says that I have to have radiation and chemo therapies. What could I say? I have no choice but to do this."

Responsible for self:

*The man tells his friend that he has been diagnosed with lung cancer. "My doctor says that I have to have radiation and chemo therapies. I spent some time thinking this over and reading all options. I've decided not to have these procedures done and will explore alternate therapies." This medical example also accepts responsibility for self and does not give away his power to an authority figure. This would be a more Advanced response where the spirit is in greater control of the body than the first example.

When confronted with medical 'dangers', the body's immediate reaction is to do what the allopathic doctor says. At the same time, all medical authority figures, both allopathic and alternative should have their comments made to you considered as advice and not absolute. This is another Game function and your goal in this is to rely more and more on yourself to sift through the advice and move according to your incarnation's path. A key here is in knowing that you made the decision when and how to end each incarnation. THAT was when you had those choices to make. That you can't remember, during your incarnations, is part of the Game, because your Higher Self is very aware of the circumstance of death/experience for each incarnation. Read more about that in Matrix V Gold Edition.

Even if everyone else lines up for flu shots and radiation/chemo, your path may be quite different. You must go within to get YOUR answers.

Although I chose two medical examples, you can think of many instances where you've either used or heard the victimhood phrase: "I had no choice". If you use that line, know that you do have a choice. You can choose not to do something. You can choose not to pay taxes or bills, but you will have consequences. You could choose to tell the truth or to lie, but the choice is yours. The circumstances set the stage. How you proceed on that stage is your decision. Even in an extreme example: "There was a gun pointed at my head....I had no choice but to...". Yes, there was a gun pointed to your head, but you chose to do the action that you decided was best under the circumstance. The use of 'I had no choice' is pure victimhood and looking for undeserved sympathy or excuse.

The body ID'd person will have a case of the vapors at the conclusion in the previous paragraph. Read all the victimhood segments in Matrix V Gold Edition. It is imperative that you realize the source and the nature of the why's of the Game, which you will understand sufficiently by your Awakened Final Incarnation.

Victimhood Statement, Attitudes & Actions

10/17/2003

Victimhood, which is SO popular during EndGame, shows, not only a lack of self-responsibility, but also a desire for dependence on others. Victimhood is a major facet of the Game because without victimhood, you could not have victimizers. Refer to Matrix V Gold Edition for other victimhood segments. But the spread of victimhood during EndGame is epidemic and should raise internal flags among the Very Advanced and Finals.

Last week I wrote a segment on a popular victimhood phrase, "I had no choice". Whenever you hear that, know the victimhood card is being played. There are many other phrases that one hears that should alert sharp observers to a person's victimhood mode.

* One very common phrase is: "It's freezing in here". This is most common among females and old people. What would indicate self-responsibility would be to say, "I'm chilly" or "I'm cold". When it's never your fault, but rather something external, victimhood rules. Freezing is 32 degrees or 0 Celsius. Yet when whiners complain "It's freezing in here", I have never found the room temperature to be anywhere near that. My usual response to these types is something like 'how can it be freezing when it's 70 degrees?'. I also say, 'YOU may be chilly, but IT'S not freezing'.

Of course they don't like to hear responses like this because it exposes their victimhood position. Reptilians despise cool/cold weather. Another phrase I use is, "if you're 'freezing' at 70 degrees, you must either be sick, old or reptilian...which are you?" Of course they don't like this either. Yet they'll sit there wearing next to nothing, drinking their cold soda and bitch about being 'freezing'. Another phrase I like to use when appropriate is, "I'd be chilly, too, if I were dressed like that". The key here is the victim loves to blame everything and anything else except themselves for their situation. Victimhood is not a pretty sight.

There are plenty of seemingly innocuous statements that people make indicating victimhood, mostly used by females because of their Orion code that demands males to cater to them. Where I work, one female finds it necessary to softly sigh every time she passes near a man's desk. This is because she expects him to cater to her needs and is very dependent on others to do what she wants. I told her it's a no sighing zone around my desk. She immediately complained that I said she can't sigh around me. "He doesn't cater to women...he hates women". Double victimhood. Fuck you, cunt, you hate men. They are uncomfortable with that because they don't like the tables turned on them. You're Orion impulses have no power here. She now hesitates to employ that tactic around me. Anyone who bases your friendship or affection on how subservient you are to them (what have you done for me lately attitude) should be avoided. Note, it's not how much we do for each other, but how much you do for me that is the victim/victimizer position.

Advanced observers can note a long list of victimhood catch phrases, comments and actions. Many of them can be quite dramatic depending on the level of attention that the victim desires. Screaming by females is a common tactic for wanting attention. While I can see an initial screech if startled, there is no reason for the endless shrieks that attention demanding females enjoy employing. Shut the fuck up! This incessant screaming is a feature of EndGame far more so than it was pre-EndGame.

Since the vast majority of people on Earth today are victims, it is inviting an equal amount of victimizers. Balance will be served. By removing yourself from the victim stance, you divert the energy of a victimizer. The most victim state of mind people I know are always leaping from one complaint to another. Steer clear of these types. They will drain your energies.

Victimizer Tactic: Label Usage on Countries & the Game

10/18/2003

The government, media and historical outlets love to use label to influence public opinion and write history favorable to those where the labeling originates. "Nazi" Germany, "Communist" China and "Communist" North Korea are three such examples.

The tiresome mantra of "Nazi" Germany is heard over and over in American historical media. It's "Nazi" Germany this and "Nazi" Germany that. That's like saying "Republican" America or "Labor" Britain. You won't be hearing those terms! The incessant use of "Nazi" Germany is jewish in origin. The term leads people to believe that a mere handful of people were in control of a country of millions who did not want them to rule. This is definitely not true. BUT it is what they would like you to beLIEve. This excessive use of the word "Nazi" when referring to Germany of the 30's/40's is meant to induce guilt and control the way people think. Guilt is one the main control device of the desert deity of the jews, christians and muslims. The fact that it is still heavily used with Germany is because it is still getting the desired responses from those who hear it. This "Nazi" stuff is also heavily publicized when Israel is molesting the Palestinians or some other group they have issues with. Observers should note this when they parade the Nazis on television.

Another convenient victimizer tag is "Communist". American closet fascists (primarily Republicans) love using this term. Would you not know who North Korea is unless they used the tag "Communist"? What kind of prejudice is induced when you hear "Communist" China? What do the users of these type of labels want to evoke from you?

While you may not agree with some of events in other countries, it is sequential to insist that all countries be like yours. One person's ideal is another person's bane! I've written earlier about the need for vastly different cultures to exist for true simultaneous Earther experiences. Before the latter stages of EndGame, this was so. It was the 20th century that started bringing this to an end.

Yes, they dress differently. Yes, their politics are not like yours. Yes, they eat what you never would (and visa-versa). THAT is part of the simultaneous experience. THAT is what individual paths involve. If you want to live on a planet where everyone is the same, you should have remained a sequential Higher Self because you are not ready for the simultaneous experience! Different natures are attractive to simultaneous Higher Selves.

They are rejected by the sequentials.

That the sequential aliens have never left Earth since they had their genetic experiments on Ancient Earthers is discussed in Matrix V Gold Edition. The decisions to deny Earth as a simultaneous experience planet is what EndGame is all about. The sequentials are now in control of most of what goes on on Earth. The relocating of people from one continent to blend with another is a major sign of their activity. Merge all cultures into one. Inter marry races to eventually breed a single race that is a combination of all those who have been here. This is ALL sequential alien activity to make Earth a sequential planet. One main culture, one main language (looks like English), one currency (eventually intend a world currency) and one world government: ALL of this is sequential! This is the sequential aliens victimizing Earthers. Since most Earthers are victims, this makes their efforts proceed that much easier because you can't victimize where there are no victim mentalities.

Lots for you to consider here. This is EndGame and it can't end soon enough for me. It will get worse. Keep your observational skill sharp.

Gold Energy Protection & Cross: Dark Energy Portal

10/20/2003

The power of creation (and more) is in the use of gold light energy which is something that can be used only by Higher Selves. The craving for gold in the 3rd density sense, besides the properties/uses of gold on medical/practical levels, is the desire to have the ability to use gold energy as an incarnation. The desire to hoard gold and use gold to get what one wants is a 3rd density concept with origins in the Orion Empire which began the monetary/credit systems of bondage.

There are severe limitations on the ability to use gold energy while incarnated in the Game due to the rules of the Game. Game-involved Higher Selves agreed to that before entering the Game. What you can use gold energy for, while incarnated, is protection and defense. Forget the 'holy' water (just salted water and it's the salt that is effective in purifying, not a priest's mutterings over it) or other religious protections such as crosses. They don't work for protection from Dark energies. The construction of the cross (unequal arms/off center) actually damages your energy field and disrupts the throat and heart chakras people wear it over. Crosses are encouraged by christian religions because those who know want the energy fields of their members disrupted as part of the sequentials' plan to delay the simultaneous path from Advancing. Crosses hanging on walls of one's home will allow negative/Dark energy to enter where that symbol hangs. Likewise when it is worn on the body, it is an entry part for Dark influence to the wearer.

Gold energy wielded by a trained, sufficiently Advanced incarnation for defensive or protective purposes is unparalleled on the 3rd density. Refer to Matrix V Gold Edition for more on gold light used for these reasons. This segment is special to the Gold Edition version of M5 and is extremely valuable to those searching. If you have christian crosses in your home, even as a non-religious curiosity, you are allowing a hole in your home's energy. Even if you use gold light, the cross keeps the negative portal open. Putting it in a box and in your closet does not stop it from creating that rift. It just moves the rift to another location. The only way to remove that rift is to physically break the cross which will destroy the portal, then throw the pieces in the trash. If you have a gold or silver cross and want to stop it operating, take it to a jeweler and have him melt it down for you and make something else out of it. The opening is based on the shape, not the materials.

Religious icons should be examined critically, especially geometric shaped ones. Paintings having crosses in them and books with a cross on them are also Dark energy portals, for example. If you don't mind or want to encourage Dark energies, put them up where you live. The Romans used the cross to nail people to. This set up a portal to ease the lower astral beings to revel in the suffering energies of the people who were killed this way. Those who decided that the cross was the form to use for executions knew exactly that this was so. When you see a cross on top of a church or wherever, know that it means 'Dark beings welcome' even though those who belong to the church beLIEve it is a 'good' thing. Dark energy will influence what goes on where you find a cross. Militant christian extremists, KKK and other reactionary American groups always have crosses on display. Now you know one of the reasons why they are so hate wrapped.

If you keep wearing a cross or displaying a cross in your home, you can never be cleared of its energy. If you visited a shaman or competent psychic for an auric cleansing, but kept the image, it would be similar to leaving a mud puddle, taking a shower, then jumping back into the mud and complaining you are no longer clean. Dispose of the cause of your 'mud' and then get your cleansing.

Higher Self EndGame Incarnational Humor

10/25/2003

In previous segments I have referred to the fact that our Higher Selves do enjoy having fun and humor is a coveted personality trait. There are many incarnated Higher Selves, during EndGame, who are having a great time at the expense of the Game's beLIEf systems. I already recommended Al Franken's book on this site.

Now I want to recommend 3 internet sites that are just LOADED with Higher Self humor mocking the Game:

www.landoverbaptist.org/beliefs.htm The Landover Baptist Church site. Be sure to click on the ads and anything you can for, literally days of reading material. Outstanding!

www.bettybowers.com/christianadvice.html Mrs Bowers has written a book that I'm halfway through reading: What Would Betty Do? How to Succeed at the Expense of Others in This World and the Next by Mrs Betty Bowers, America's Best Christian. It is available through www.Amazon.com at the reduced price of $9.60 and is 172 pages (well illustrated) with Higher Self style christian 'advice'. Highest humor recommendation!

Here's just one example:

"Thou shalt not lie with mankind, as with womankind: it is abomination" (Leviticus 18:22). While many faux-Christians interpret this to mean men should not have sex with other men, the Holy Spirit has led me to read this as a proscription against men having sex with men "as with" a woman. This is God's way of suggesting that men should, in contradistinction to how they treat women, try to think of the other man's feelings and, for instance, call the next day (and not at a time when they are sure they will just get voice mail). For, truly, the way men sleep with women is an abomination.

Survival Tip: When a man has sex with another man, flowers the next day are never remiss.

www.whitehouse.org/dof/index.asp - This site shows the control that the Southern Baptist Landover Church has with the White House's current appointed occupant. LOTS of material for you to read up on. I thought one was particularly outstanding: USDOF Proposal to Amend United States Constitution to Conform to Biblical Principles Regarding Marriage

By accessing these 3 web sites, you can have days worth of free reading materials and graphics that Matrix V Gold Edition readers will be able to see the impulses of Advanced minded Higher Selves in action to mock EndGame. Have fun and Enjoy!

Deathstar & Orion Empire Plans

11/10/2003

This past week on UPN's Star Trek: Enterprise television series, a deathstar starts the show off with a real bang. It blows up Earth in a matter of seconds with a magnificent explosion of energy. This was not a 'dream' sequence for the series, but a series real event. This deathstar was created primarily by the reptilian Xindi. Gee, how 'coincidental': reptilian Orion Empire with deathstar ships destroyed the planet beyond Mars, which is now the asteroid belt. Reptilian Xindi with deathstar ship blows up Earth and makes another system asteroid belt. What's going on?

In previous Matrix V Gold Edition segments, I have revealed the Orion Empire's contingency plan to destroy Earth, as they did to the former planet of the asteroid belt, if they will not exert overt control of the planet. Refer back to M5G for that information.

The deathstar ship concept was first brought to public awareness in the Star Wars trilogy. The Star Trek: Enterprise version is just the latest version of that ship. However that version of the deathstar is not visually accurate. The Star Wars version is much closer with the huge weapon port for the planetary zapper.

Deathstar technology is quite real and the Orion Empire controls it. When a deathstar was in orbit around Earth in ancient days, it was referred to as the 'Eye of God'. The circular port (similar to the one in Star Wars) on the globe of the ship resembled an eye looking down on the planet. Since the Earthers of the day knew the alien 'gods' came from the ship, it was considered the 'Eye of God' watching them. 'Eye of God' ornaments can be purchased in Mexico, for example, and I bought one when I visited in the 80's. They are usually very colorful and are based on the tradition that began when a deathstar did orbit Earth.

In Star Wars, the Empire governor comments how the deathstar will keep systems in line. This is the main purpose of this type of ship. Any planet deemed rebellious and unable to be pacified, by any other means, is eliminated. There is currently more than one deathstar in this system. In our solar system, they tend to orbit Jupiter.

As I've said over and over, the Orion Empire is determined to overtly reclaim Earth. Refer back to Matrix V Gold Edition for more on that. And, if they cannot have it, they intend to destroy it, although this plan is second to eliminating all current Earthers (read simultaneous Higher Self incarnates) and repopulate it with a new species more compliant and controllable. Orion plans include bringing a deathstar into Earth's orbit like a second moon.

Orion Empire plans are one thing and no other race in this galaxy is equal to or more technologically advanced than they are. They believe this give them the upper hand with any other system. They are in denial in matters of the Game. Their technological advancement comes at a price of spiritual retardation. In this solar system, the ultimate upper hand is held by the simultaneous Higher Selves including the Earth planetary spirit (an extension of the Solar System entity residing in our Sun). These operate within the Game rules but with knowledge that is eternal and spirit based. No 3rd density incarnational plan can ever overrule the ever-watchful Higher Selves on the simultaneous path. Information on that is also in Matrix V Gold Edition. Keep in mind that the simultaneous path Higher Selves have their Final Incarnations in play in almost all time periods. The alien sequential Higher Selves do not because they have far to go to reach above mid-Advanced levels.

So, bring on the deathstars. They would be very entertaining for those Advanced enough to see the humor in their appearance despite the panic of those lower than Very Advanced levels. Meanwhile, check out the destruction of Earth in that episode of Star Trek: Enterprise. It is very impressive.

Higher Selves and the Game: More Information

11/13/2003

I received a question about the Higher Selves that I find is significant enough to give readers a new segment. The question involves Higher Selves who designed the Game and who acts as 'watchers/observers or umpires'.

While I have nothing new about those who designed the Game, if that is an interest of yours, I suggest checking the Library on 27 to see what you may find. Although I will say that if you designed a game, would you want to play it? That question gives you a partial answer. There are those who do watch but who are not ready for participation in any galaxy Game versions. These can never interfere in the Game, the participating Higher Selves make this impossible.

As far as Higher Self status beyond participation in the Game, the sequential path Higher Selves are only participants as long as they remain on the sequential path. The simultaneous path Higher Selves are far more Advanced than the sequentials. The simultaneous can look to the sequential path and say, "been there, done that". Remember, in a previous segment, I mentioned that the simultaneous path Higher Selves of today were once on the sequential path until they Advanced enough to move forward. It is the simultaneous path Higher Selves who watch the simultaneous path planet currently active (in that galaxy's Game) to make sure that all others adhere to the rules they agreed to before their entry into the Game. This keeps random or intentional events from interfering with the simultaneous path plans.

When one engages on the sequential path, it starts as just pure experience and 3rd density sensory envelopment. The reptilians of the Orion Empire (in this galaxy) are one of the races that embody this Low experiential level. As long as the drive is to technological development and the expense of spiritual development, you cannot Advance on the Higher Self spiritual direction. The sequentials are like little kids getting a load of new toys for the holidays. It's just play and 'I want it all' attitudes. Refer back to Matrix V Gold Edition for more on the experiential path basics. Note that Earth has been given lots of alien technology since the 19th century. This is part of trying to slow the Advancement of simultaneous pathers but it also show that the sequential aliens doing this are unable to comprehend the nature of the simultaneous path. Another reason for the alien technological infusion is in preparation for the return of the Orion Empire and their plans for Earth. Refer back to Matrix V Gold Edition.

When these kids mature, they slowly move to the simultaneous path. This movement takes an unbelievably long time when considering a linear scale (which, of course, is a 3rd density concoction). Also, the departure from the sequential path to the simultaneous is an individual decision. Compare it to Earth where your family/friends are very similar in beliefs and then you want to break away to something vastly new for you. The family/friends can be very upset because you are moving in a new direction and will try to make your life miserable for doing so. The same happens when a sequential Higher Self begins the move to the simultaneous path. Refer to Matrix V Gold Edition and previous segments for how sequentials pester vulnerable simultaneous incarnates in the form of aliens who arrive to tell them 'you were one of us' and how they try to make you dependent on their sequential (hence flawed from a simultaneous path) advice. This is always accompanied by dazzling alien technological displays. Alien contactees are being visited, in most instances, by former friends they hung around with before moving to the simultaneous path.

The main reason why the aliens sneak around and visit a contactee or two, or at best a few people, is because they know to avoid any simultaneous path Higher Self of a Very Advanced level or, most especially, an Awakened Final. The jig would be up for them especially with the Final who wouldn't hesitate to give them a mental enema no matter what their past association was! They do scan the Earther before appearing to check the level of Advancement on the simultaneous path. They are looking for gullible, fear based and body controlled types who will obey, so use to being obeyed by Earthers after the gender creation of Ancient times. Notice that many contactees are poorly educated (Meier, for example) and very pliable.

That incarnation's Higher Self, of course, DOES know this and permits it for the experience.

This simultaneous path Higher Self will not allow the incarnation to be overwhelmed beyond the path choices that Higher Self made. The sequential aliens beLIEve that they are in control in these situations, but the simultaneous path Higher Self has all the trump cards. The sequentials are like kids who think they can get away with 'murder' not believing the adults are watching. They have been burned for doing this before when they acted hastily. My current Awakened incarnation burned them when they tried tampering with my before I was Awakened.

Similarly, when there is a direct attempt to derail or kill an incarnation, that incarnation's Higher Self will directly interfere to prevent this from happening. It has happened with me. Refer back to Matrix V Gold Edition for more on that topic. There were attempts to keep Matrix V from ever being printed. However this project is much too vital to be prevented from happening.

Sequential path Higher Selves do not directly interfere with their incarnation. They know their incarnational memories are cumulative on the sequential path, so when an incarnation dies, they know the next incarnation will return with all memories and the conversations can continue. It is this lack of memory that is the main fear of those on the sequential path for moving to the simultaneous path. The Orion reptilian royals quake with the fear of incarnational death, for example, which is why the Orion queen is heavily into self-cloning and life prolonging drugs.

In general though, ALL Higher Selves are self-restrained by the rules of the Game. Those who participate, even sequentials, will not try anything dramatic to alter it nor any non-Game player to interfere in any way. This is so because of the basic nature of the Higher Self. Even the interference by sequential aliens to simultaneous Earthers is allowed by the Game. If the Game's rules would be all written down, you'd have untold, massive volumes of information. This is easily comprehended and understood by all Higher Selves who are in the Game...in whichever galaxy they are participating within. You will understand this far better via YOUR Awakened Final Incarnation and when you have graduated from the Game. It's all so fascinating.

Sequentials: Always Looking for a Non-Existent Shortcut

11/14/2003

One of the reasons that sequential alien incarnations skulk about Earther simultaneous Higher Selves is to attempt to discover shortcuts to the completion of the Game. I remember one time when Bob Monroe told one of the groups, that I was in at his Institute, that there are those who linger around the Institute looking for a way to gain the benefits of (Earther) existence without the liabilities.

As I've written in Matrix V Gold Edition segments, the sequential Higher Selves fear losing other-lives memories which is a major requirement for the simultaneous path. One can gather from Monroe's trilogy that pre-Game Higher Selves run from extremely immature to immaturity curious. This curiosity eventually leads many to participate in a galaxy Game. The sequential path allows the Higher Selves to begin the maturation process via the 3rd density Game experience.

I've seen HUGE clusters of Higher Selves enjoying the sequential experience as groups, tightly gathered together. This demonstrates the need for collective behavior that they cling to from pre-Game settings. As they mature through (you have NO idea how many) sequential incarnations and sequential settings, within the galaxy Game they've chosen, the Higher Self begins to crave more than just these experiences. This developing maturity brings about the curiosity to the simultaneous path. The concept is 'there MUST be more than this for me'.

The braver Higher Selves will embrace the severe challenges of the simultaneous path. The not-sufficiently-mature sequentials, as I've written previously, will try and hold those Higher Selves back and, when unsuccessful, occasionally try to sidetrack those Higher Self incarnations with alien technological appearances/bullshit.

Other devious sequential path incarnations will attempt to seek a shortcut that will give all, or almost all, of the simultaneous path benefits with little or none of the liabilities. This is heavily connected to the polarities' root craving of the denial that they will eventually merge into Balance. The latter is written about in Matrix V Gold Edition.

I had an experience at the Monroe Institute, before I was Awakened, where the sequentials attempted to probe me for shortcuts. These sequentials are very arrogant and could care less about anything short of their goal. What stopped them was me (as an Awakened Final) from the future of where I was then which is a whole other story. The point is that the aliens told me that they were looking for a technological solution for the spiritual demands. This does NOT exist, however they refuse to acknowledge it.

While abductions and overt appearance are prime ways of trying to shake the solution from the simultaneous path Earthers, I have experienced another way. I have said that there are numerous alien groups living on Earth as 'observers'. They would like Earthers to beLIEve that they are just curious to how we live. In reality, they are using a different tactic to locate a loophole to the simultaneous experience.

I also have no doubt that I have received several questions from sequential aliens (indirectly as well as directly) to see if I would provide such a shortcut. THERE IS NO SHORTCUT! In order to gain the benefits of the simultaneous path, you must embrace this path. Such a question like: can we progress as a 'collective'? The collective idea is a sequential path hallmark and tips their hand. They also think that they can pull a fast one. They can't.

While Very Advanced Earther Higher Self incarnations can understand that concept, you need to remember that the sequential pathers do not have the spiritual maturity or the massive experience that Earther simultaneous path Higher Selves have, so they can be very shifty and devious (polarity traits) to try and force their way.

While the sequential path can be lots of fun for those Higher Selves, the simultaneous path is lots of work. It is this heavy work that accelerates your growth. No pain/no gain they say and this is true for Higher Self development in the Game. System Game graduates have a 'different' aura about them in higher densities. This is significantly different from the auras of pre-Game Higher Selves, just as the aura of a sequential path Higher Self is not the same as a simultaneous path Higher Self's aura. I've said it before, once you graduate the Game, THEN it becomes truly fascinating: the wonders yet to come!

Rote Translation

11/16/2003

If you have read Robert Monroe's trilogy, you know he uses the term 'rote' quite often. A rote is the common way of Higher Self communication. Rotes contain the full spectrum of an experience/idea. This includes all sensory related factors.

Most of my segments involve rotes given to me by my Higher Self that I have to translate into English. I have told Val how difficult it is to find words for many rote communication ideas. English is a poor language for communication, where the word 'love' can mean a dozen different things, rather than some languages that have the reverse, such as a dozen or so words that mean 'snow' in English. I have studied 3 foreign languages in my current incarnation. Most non-English languages are encumbered by genderizing everything. This also interferes with rote translation by diluting the intent with 3rd density gender illusions. The true 'Tower of Babel' is the confounding of rote communications forcing verbal/written languages.

The Graduation Key

Nevertheless, there are several segments of rotes that I just cannot assign English words to.

These will have to wait until you can interpret rote communications on your own.

When I write many segments, I move to a mind state that allows me to easier access the rote I discovered. My typing fingers can fly as I write. In a segment that uses the terms 'sequential' and 'simultaneous', I can occasionally, in error, use 'sequential' where I mean 'simultaneous'. This is a physical flaw in the translation process. Even in my proof reading, when those two terms have been heavily used, I can miss the error. I would prefer using other words for those two paths, but there are none more appropriate. Luckily the Nature Spirit path is referred to by a vastly different term that I used in a previous segment on this site.

Please excuse this error when it occurs, which is fortunately rare. A couple of M5G site readers have caught one before and there was one in the previous segment (11/13). Please re-read that segment for the correction.

Rote communication is THE most wonderful way to interact. Translating rotes, though, can be a real bitch. The Matrix V project is proceeding VERY well. I will tell you that the sequentials on Earth (who monitor this site and Matrix V Gold Edition) were definitely not happy with the 11/13 segment. Tough shit! EndGame is here...for us simultaneous.

Higher Self - Game Graduation and Return of Memories

In Matrix V Gold Edition segments Emotional Fire and Emotional Fire II (Gold Edition only segment), I mentioned a particular cd that contains rotes involving the Higher Self and the final phase of EndGame for a simultaneous path Higher Self. While listening to that cd once again today, I was able to receive a new bit of information that I will pass most of to you today. However, unless you've read the Emotional Fire segments, plus a third one placed on this site some months ago, this will not likely mean too much to you. Again, this is information particularly geared to Very Advanced, Dominant and Final Incarnations.

Once that Higher Self's Final Incarnation has concluded shim's Game's path (ie, died) and has returned within the Higher Self, the Final will activate the Nexus of Time (read about this in Matrix V Gold Edition). When I view the Nexus of Time now, I notice the energy that surrounds each facet of the orb. The energy is shimmering and pulses clockwise, which is very interesting to watch. This is separate from the energy glow that surrounds the Nexus.

At a moment selected by the Final Incarnation, the Final's energy connects with the Nexus of Time. This activates the Summoning feature of the Nexus, which will signal ALL other simultaneous incarnations (of that Higher Self) that the Game is completed for them. It is extremely interesting to see how all the energy streams return to the Higher Self and what occurs within the Higher Self as they do.

MATRIX V Gold Edition- Volume 2

The Graduation Key

© 2000-2004 Leading Edge International Research Group. All Rights Reserved.

Now, here's another point I want to inform you of: During the Summoning, the pre-Game and sequential path incarnational memories are not yet available to you. When the Final Incarnation reintegrates shim's energies to the Higher Self (after all the streams have returned), THEN that Higher Self has completed the Game. At that time, that Higher Self is now a graduate of the Game. The Nexus of Time is reabsorbed into the Higher Self. Finally ALL memories are restored to that Higher Self, and I DO mean ALL. That Higher Self has successfully completed the extreme challenge of the 3rd density Game and is now ready to move to FAR more Advanced and extremely fascinating experiences. The learning continues, but this is learning that you could not handle without being a graduate of the Game.

Pre-Game Memory Block and Ritual Controls

While I have written much about simultaneous path memory blocks and sequential path incarnational memories, there is one thing I must add. ALL Higher Selves, upon accepting the galaxy Game that they choose to participate in, have their first incarnation with NO pre-Game memories available to them. Your Higher Self does not get pre-Game memories back until shim is a Game graduate. Therefore, the sequential memory patterns are based ONLY on their Game incarnations. Their first incarnation has no other existence memories. Their second incarnation has memories of the first incarnation and so on. If sequential Higher Selves had pre-Game memories intact, there could be no Game and no adventure.

This is why the Orion Empire reptilians and the Sirian Empire wolfish beings are so surly and violent. They are what they are. They are also addicted to the power and are true 3rd density addicts. Since the reptilians are the oldest race in this galaxy, the initial group of Higher Selves entering the Game occupied reptilian physicals. Because developing spiritually takes a massive amount of 'time', the reptilian sequence is one of the slowest to progress. The reptilians are fanatics about rituals, control and dominance which is Dark polarity at its height. Where you have elaborate rituals on Earth, you have the reptilian and sequential influences and origins. Religious rituals (catholic, eastern orthodox, jewish, wiccan, mormon, etc) and groups such as masons are steeped in rituals. Read between the lines.

The pyramid structure of Earth's rulers is ritualistic and alien in origin. Examine the rituals in installing a president or coronating a royal. The most ritualistic installations are connected with the British royal family. Refer back to Matrix V Gold Edition for information on the nin-hur-sag which is currently the queen of the United Kingdom. Ritual tends to keep those below the pyramid capstone in line and subservient. Hell, the president, senator, mp, prime minister or whatever elected office serves at YOUR discretion, yet, because the Orion pyramid scheme, once elected in any country, the people tend to treat their representatives as better than they are. They may say that 'it's the office'. Bullshit, it's the sequential alien's influences. Note all the ritual involved with White House or other state visits. Reinforcing the pyramid structure, and it's a LIE.

When a simultaneous path Higher Self reaches upper mid-Advance levels, and certainly in Very Advanced levels, they look on ceremony with experiential suspicion. They recognize it in the religion that they were brought up in. Bow to god, god is great, I am nothing before god and the infamous: I am only human. While the upper mid-Advanced ranges may dump religion because it isn't valid to them, your Awakened Final Incarnation will gain the information of why that spiritual unease exists in shim's lesser Advanced incarnations. It's part of the process. It's part of the Advancement coming from Game experiences. You will realize the hold that ritual and ritualistic religions have, no matter how simple or complex they may be.

In religions, the catholics and eastern orthodox are the most publicly steeped in ritual and just a step behind them are the episcopalian. The mormons have massive rituals in their temples that attempt to bind one to their physical lineage taking 'you are your body' beyond the limit and denial of their spirit because their incarnational body becomes their spirit. Examining other religions will reveal most of their rituals except for secret ones such as the mormons who are bound with multiple curses/threats (including ways that your life may be taken) to the membership if you defy the leadership and 'god'.

The masons are another multi-leveled, secret society. So much has been written on them that you can do your own research quite easily if interested. David Icke's books are a good source.

When you've broken from the subjection to ritual and ritual's leaders, your outlook is vastly different. Take the common ritualistic phrase: the 'chain of command'. While there is a purpose for it in the military and pseudo-military groups such as the police, there is no realistic need for it outside these groups unless it is to control you and make you beLIEve that supervisors can "command" you (another Orion concept). No one can "command" me at my stage and I've said so at work when I've heard that phrase. A few years ago, an office manager told me that I had to go through the "chain of command" if I wanted to know anything work related. I told him just what I wrote in this paragraph. I said at best you people can consider yourselves a 'line of work supervision' but a 'chain of command', NO WAY unless you can find someone gullible enough to believe that. This earned me the stony stare to which I responded, "yes?" and that snapped him out of his shock of my independence and the discussion was over. 'Chain of command' ..... chain of bullshit!

As the final stages of EndGame proceed, the demand for control and increased denial of liberties will become more intense. 'Terrorism' is a convenient phrase that is ultra-popular now because it is nebulous. I like what Michael Moore says in his new book, Dude, Where's My Country: if 15 North Koreans flew the planes of 9/11 (or 15 Cubans or 15 Iranians), we would say we were attacked by the country involved. Since it was 15 Saudi Arabians, why are they not blamed? Read this excellent book to see why. Hint: the reptilian Bush family. I've given you several things to consider in this segment. Consider them as you have all other M5 segments and proceed according to your path. EndGame wrap-up stages are here.

Gay Marriage & The Game

Recently, the Massachusetts Supreme Court ruled that gay and lesbian citizens of Massachusetts were not being treated equally in that state in regard to marriage and ordered that state's government to correct this inequality. From the conniptions that the militant christians and other equally dim incarnations are having, you have to wonder just what it is that has them so upset? This ruling affects only gay and lesbian couples who desire formal marriage with all the benefits and liabilities that this includes. As I have stated in previous Matrix V Gold Edition segments, I would not want to participate in Orion-originated 'marriage' as a Final. Refer back to these gay related segments for why.

MATRIX V Gold Edition- Volume 2

The Graduation Key

Advanced observers have noted that this ruling in no way denies ANY facet of het marriages. It does not involved them at all. The militants say that they should be the only ones to wallow in Orion-sponsored 'marriages' because it is 'sacred to god'. Gee, if it's SO sacred, why does divorce exist? Why do most het marriages fail? Why do married partners break their 'sacred' vows and flop around with others? Why do so many hets belong to the 'marriage of the year' club? In my area, 95% of the men who bat their eyes at me are married and their wives, so they say, have no idea. Lesbians have told me similar stories about wives. So, where's the 'sacredness'?

I have been asked why gay equality is being pushed in many quarters and their situations are actually improving. Your answer can be found in 2 areas. The first is that Advanced Higher Self incarnates will push for the freedom to express your individuality. Refer to past segments on the prime fears of same gender physical unions. The second is a Dark polarity reason: it causes dissent and division which, in turn, feeds the Dark and advances it's agenda. Darksiders (in Lightsider disguise) use various indignations and place themselves as mouthpieces of their god to try and increase division and dissent. It has been said that if it weren't for gay equality issues, most of the militant christians would have little to do in this country. Of course, none of the reasons for being against gay/lesbian partnership equality is valid. The biggest reason why they aren't valid is that gay marriage absolutely does not take away anything from het marriages.

I favor domestic partnerships, not marriages. If two people of any gender want to set up a home together, go for it. It is no one's business what you do. Likewise, if the hets have benefits from marriage that are denied all other romantic partnerships, then it is a serious inequality. It is also Orion in nature to place het marriage as a supreme position. Again, though, if it's so supreme, why all the divorce and bed hopping? These are points that the militant christians will not respond to. This 'supreme position' is also a reflection of the fear of simultaneous incarnates of the same gender forming romantic bonds. Refer back to Matrix V Gold Edition for those segments. This is another turmoil of EndGame, another challenge for graduating, simultaneous path Higher Selves.

Why There Is No M5G Internet Discussion Group

Shortly after Matrix V was first published, Val organized a forum on the internet for those who wanted to discuss M5 materials. We wanted to see where this would go. It wasn't too long after it started that we saw exactly what would happen in such a situation.

Due to the nature of the simultaneous path itself, the forum not only attracted some of the people it was written for, but a host of people that it was not written for. Many people had their own agendas formed by their polarity belief system. Disruptions were common as people, due to their limited perspectives based on where they are (as opposed to where they would like others to think they are) tried to put their own spin on the M5 materials despite having no experience in the areas that were mentioned. They would love to quote polarity icons in relation to M5 materials. Disruption and corruption were their intent whether intentionally or by being manipulated by lower astral entities. There were several attempts to hijack the forum and transform it to a Lightsider appearing love-fest.

Matrix V Gold Edition is, as I've written several times, unique. It is based on my personal experiences and observations. It is not meant to be a group blueprint. If anything, it is anti-group and extremely individual.

MATRIX V Gold Edition- Volume 2

The Graduation Key

The sequential path is group oriented, as per segments in Matrix V Gold Edition. There are many sequential path aliens on Earth engaged in placing roadblocks in the paths of the simultaneous. Sequential pathers always want the group concept: one planet, one nation, one idea, one way and no dissent from that one way. It's the clashes of the 'one way ideas' that cause the wars and religious fanaticism of the (primarily) christians, jews and muslims. Attempting to warp/distort the M5 materials is a priority to the group consciousness people since Matrix V Gold Edition's existence in EndGame has given them fits. It is something that they never expected to become a reality and what they fear because of the knowledge contained within. The keys needed for simultaneous incarnates to spiral out of the Game and never before released, on Earth, and information about the Game itself has flustered them to no end. Tough shit!

Nevertheless, they continue to try and disrupt/distort the M5 materials. Bogus sites have been dealt with and unauthorized use of M5 segments will not be permitted because they have agendas of a personal nature, mainly to use the M5 materials to form groups and to 'convert' others. Remember the common phrase too: The road to hell is paved with good intentions. Those who want these group endeavors are not Advanced enough to know that it is counterproductive on the internet or to handle the riff-raff that public forums always bring. It's one thing to expose someone to the materials, but another thing to argue the materials which is something else I won't do. If you don't like it, don't read it...it doesn't matter to me. Those who need the keys have been finding them. The rest don't matter.

Val and I still get requests to form 'discussion groups'. If you have friends in your local area that you trust and can talk about what I've written, that's fine. However on the internet, you are opening yourself up to strangers with other agendas including sequentials and extreme polarity faithful who want nothing more than to halt the influence of M5 and drag people into dead ends to halt their progression. Val just got another request to form an internet group prompting me to write this segment.

NO such internet group will ever be authorized by Val or myself, so if you should find such an internet group or bulletin board, know that it is unsanctioned and that the materials will be warped. In one recent example, some turd is posting whole segments of M5 without even mentioning that they come from Matrix V Gold Edition. This turd even goes so far as to change my intent. For example, I purposely spell all religions with small case letters, but this turd changed them to capital letters. Doing that changes the thrust of the materials. He has his agenda which includes deception and theft. Be aware of this type of person.

If someone wants to use M5 materials, they had better get permission first and I am extremely particular as to how it may be used due to the reasons stated. Corruption is increasing rapidly during the final stages of EndGame. Be alert and be aware. Don't let your personal guards and protections down.

Shallow Waters of Spirituality

12/14/2003

Rarely a week goes by that I don't receive an email or two from people who are far from ready for Matrix V Gold Edition. What usually happens is that they read the M5 site segments while they are loaded down with common, low-mid Advanced level concepts which they firmly beLIEve are the totally truth. They then read something in my segments that makes them feel threatened. Next they try to confront me as to their discomfort. They are looking to be unruffled and unchallenged. They want to beLIEve that the Lightside is the only side that matters. I use Lightside here, because the Darkside rarely comes out and admits that they belong to their polarity. The basic nature of polarity is One Path/ One Way.

MATRIX V Gold Edition- Volume 2

The Graduation Key

© 2000-2004 Leading Edge International Research Group. All Rights Reserved.

Of course this also happens with a small minority of Matrix V Gold Edition readers. They are not interested in materials that will challenge their narrow perspectives, but seek that which only enhances their spiritual cul-de-sac. So these, too, want to argue with me over my observations and experiences.

As I've said over and over, Matrix V Gold Edition is NOT written for everyone. It is written for Very Advanced, Dominant and Final incarnations only. If you are bathing in materials that you are not ready for, you WILL enter a state of unease. This is your alien DNA commands responding to viewing materials that threaten the body oriented mode which Earther humans are meant to remain in. It is part of the challenge for the spiritually developing to feel unease with new concepts for it is this unease that stirs the spirit to Advance. However this challenge is meant to occur over many incarnations with resulting changes vibrating throughout the entire simultaneous Advanced levels of your Higher Self's incarnations.

These spiritually naive 'kids' will get highly agitated when I refuse to argue any of my materials with them. Even worse, they don't like it when I tell them that they are free to do whatever they like and forget anything they have read that I wrote. They are One Path minions, a strong Lightside characteristic.

Then there are those who try other tactics, usually involved with attempting to make me their personal teacher. Some think they can be clever in doing that because they mistakenly beLIEve that I just fell off the incarnational truck yesterday. The attitude is ALWAYS 'what can YOU do for me'. It is just SO transparent. When the spiritually shallow tip their hands to me, blocking their access to me on the email is easy to do. Just a click away from 'access denied'. Take your tantrums back to those who will ease your mind with One Path catchphrases and group conformity.

I have no time for those at these lower Advanced levels. You would not believe some of the questions that I get. Questions that, those for whom the book is written for, would not have considered since low-Advanced stages. Of course, there is nothing wrong with being at the lower levels, but stick with moving to the next phase. Do not think you can move from novice to Very Advanced in one incarnation. Yeah, the 'kids' want to be 'grown-up', but that comes with time, experience and spiritual maturity. One recent pretender told me that when he goes to the Monroe Institute next year, he'll be able to enter his Higher Self and, in essence, have the experiences similar to mine.

This is an example of opening yourself up to heavy disappointments. The real shamans say, "expect nothing, receive everything". Those who can barely tread water will drown in the depth of the ocean. Stick to the shore. Keep in the shallow waters of spirituality and advance in stages appropriate for your current incarnation. Don't try to pass yourself off to me as someone you know you are not. It's very easy for me to discern where you're coming from despite the bullshit, fluff, smoke and mirrors that may be tossed toward me. Find teachers just above your level, those who will only slightly disturb your mental waters and not cause the hurricane that Matrix V Gold Edition can cause when you aren't ready for it. If you have to move forward based on group identification or the approval of others, then keep the Matrix V Gold Edition materials away from you at this time. AND, if you seek to hijack the M5 materials to serve your personal, group or hidden agenda, think again. Meanwhile, get on with your life and your path.

More About Dominant Incarnations

12/15/2003

A common interest of Matrix V Gold Edition readers is which of one's Higher Self simultaneous incarnations gains access to the interior of that Higher Self while still incarnated. I have written much about the Final Incarnation and circumstances surrounding that incarnational event and the Higher Self. When it is time for the Awakening of the Final Incarnation, the Dominants will meet with the Final so that the Awakening process can begin. Refer back to Matrix V Gold Edition for that material.

The other active incarnations that will gain interior access to their Higher Self are the Dominants of that Higher Self. Note: one can ONLY gain access within your own Higher Self. You cannot enter another Higher Self nor can you enter your own Higher Self unless you have a purpose.

Every Higher Self has 3 or 4 Dominant Incarnations. The main purpose of these Dominants is discussed in Matrix V Gold Edition. However, a Dominant may well be required BY shim's Higher Self to act in that Higher Self's interest, in rare occasions, during the Game. For example, this can include entering within shim's Higher Self for specific reasons connected with the Nexus of Time (read Matrix V Gold Edition for information about the Nexus of Time). The use of the Nexus of Time is a critical part in the formation of the Final Incarnation. Each of the Dominant Incarnations will access facets of the Nexus to assist in the decisions about the composition of the Final Incarnation for that Higher Self. More on that is restricted to the incarnations involved.

Dominant Incarnations can and do meet, on occasion, in their Higher Self, but they do not always ALL meet ALL the time. If you discover that you are a Dominant Incarnation, you may or may not consciously be aware of this. Too much conscious awareness, when an incarnation isn't ready, will negatively impact on their Game experiences. Hence, many Dominant Incarnations will have vivid dreams regarding the Higher Self, but not consciously know how to interpret them.

Unless the Dominant Incarnations are very psychic and disciplined in these areas, they will not be able to guess what is going on in their waking lives. The Dominants are NOT equal to the Awakened Final Incarnation, but their missions set them apart from all other incarnations. Each Higher Self sets their missions and special status in the Game. You will have to take this up with your Higher Self to find out why.

Remember, curiosity is not a valid reason for non-Dominant or non-Final Incarnations to know all about their Higher Self while still in the Game. Since you are another aspect of your own Higher Self, all will be answered for all when your Awakened Final invokes the Summoning and your Higher Self becomes a Game graduate. The purpose of all this information is invaluable to those who Matrix V Gold Edition was written for as the information is passed on to the appropriate incarnations no matter where in 'time' they may be. If this segment is too much to handle, push it aside as with any other segment that may be difficult for you.

Xmas Guilt Trip: Scrooge, 'The Sins Of Man Are Huge'

12/22/2003

This being Xmas week, American media is loaded with Xmas religious propaganda. Actually it has been propagandizing since mid-November at least. Scrooge is told that "the sins of man are huge". Propaganda from the one god religions (especially) are loaded with the 'it's all your fault' guilt trips. I have written a previous segment on that and won't repeat it here, but will add a bit more to it.

What the ghost should have told Scrooge, if the ghost knew what was going on, was "the experiences of man are extensive". Over and over in Matrix V Gold Edition, I've stated that the bottom line for our 3rd density existence is the collective of experiences that we gain that cannot be gained another way other than participation in a galaxy Game.

Take it a step further, there is NO such thing as 'sin'. It's all experience with results and consequences. At the same time, this and related concepts are something that, to varying degrees, Very Advanced incarnations, and to the greatest degree (while still incarnated), your Awakened Final Incarnation understand. There is no incarnation that is suffering anywhere because of what shim did while incarnated. There is nobody who grabs this incarnation and forces shim somewhere shim doesn't want to go as 'punishment'.

What may happen is if an incarnation, upon death, beLIEves that shim must be punished for being 'wicked' or some other such concept, the departed spirit creates an astral environment and populates it with the method of punishment that incarnation desires, BUT there is no external group or individual who will force this. Higher Self incarnations, especially on the simultaneous path, cannot be force against the will of that Higher Self. It just doesn't happen. Once this self-punishing spirit realizes that there is more to the after-life than this, the self-imposed illusion will pass, even if it due to a more Advanced incarnation from the same Higher Self who brings this awareness to this one. The incarnation spirit has learned shim's lesson and gained experiences from it.

So, certain groups like to say 'Hitler is burning in hell' for example. He isn't, but they are no where near aware enough to handle the truth, so they build themselves an illusion that feeds their personal or group fantasy. After EndGame, if you should wish to chit-chat with the Higher Self who played the experiential role of 'Hitler', you can. When you do, your perspective will be vastly different than it would be as a mind-numb incarnation on Earth.

On the other hand, knowing that there is no 'sin' is not a license to act irresponsibly. To those who understand the full meaning of 'no sin' have moved to the point where they are fairly mature in a spiritual way. You will understand that when you get to the proper level as well.

Meanwhile, the guilt inducers will continue to vomit control and guilt on the unsuspecting. Fear is the name of that control game. Fear is rampant during EndGame. Forget that and make the most of the season according to what brings pleasure to you. Triple Ho's!!!

Psychotic Governments, Sequentials and EndGame

USA Today (Dec 30,03) has an article reporting that the American FBI (federal bureau of insecurity) has warned police to watch out for people carrying an almanac since they may be terrorists! This is just the latest example of paranoia and fear mongering coming out of Mordor (Washington, DC). It just makes me want to start walking around with the almanac I have at home.

The thing about psychotic governments, like the one in DC today, is that they will cause something to happen to justify their unbalanced positions. They have been 'crying wolf' ever since they permitted/co-conspired for the 9/11 event to happen as a way to steal more and more basic freedoms from the American people and threaten other countries who don't tow their Dark line. The most dangerous government in the world today IS the American government and its leaders are mentally unstable, in some cases, and just pure Darkside in others.

I have seen several Higher Selves imputing the counters to this state of fear, trying to wake up others to the direction of the Dark people in power. I can definitely see why they are doing this. What is going on, the absolute deceptions of those in DC to the public and the world, is an affront to Balance.

On the other hand, this IS EndGame and an Awakened Final has resources that all other incarnations cannot have. This Darkness, caused by the appointed American president, is part of EndGame which, in the final stages, is very violent. It is the reaping of what was sowed. When the American constitution was created, those who created it knew that the people would give up their freedoms. This could not have happened if the American public did not go from overseeing the government to the government overseeing the people. The citizens became lazy and easily deceived.

The sheer stupidity and gullibility of the majority of the people is totally amazing to me. Yes, they, in power, count on the majority being minion incarnations because minions DO react this way. What this has become is the final affront to the simultaneous path Higher Selves. The polarities and the sequential aliens want to demonstrate their 3rd density control abilities. They believe that they are going to be able to gain an advantage over the simultaneous incarnates by forcing them to become a sequential planet - the 'we are one and the same' attitude. Refer back to previous segments on this topic.

This is why there are all those 'you can't do/say' laws snowballing on the planet. In Hungary, they want to pass a law making it punishable by jail for "insulting" a jew. In the US, you have the same if you are white/European body and "insult" anyone who is not in a white/European body. If one is SO body oriented and thin skinned, they should consider suicide as an option. There is A LOT that I could say about why this is and the fear of the white race, but you will have to discover this on your own. The anti-white attitudes are sequential in origin. The 'we are one without any difference' is sequential in origin. The one world/one mindset is sequential in origin. These and more sequential manipulations, though, are doomed to failure just by the nature of EndGame itself. This nature is not something that a sequential path Higher Self is privy to, however. The simultaneous path Higher Selves have all the trump cards no matter how shrill the sequentials get during EndGame.

People keep saying that we are "in the beginning of" this or that crisis. This is because they don't want to know that we are FAR from the 'beginning' of EndGame. If it's the 'beginning' of EndGame that means one has a way to go yet - a body controlled concept fearing the end of the body. You have to go back to the early 1800's for the 'beginning'. We are in the ending stages of EndGame. This is why the band is playing so frantically and with great discord. The sequentials know that their plans are not proceeding as they desire in spite of the surface successes. For one, that 'damned' Matrix V Gold Edition came out and threw a major monkey wrench in their path. They didn't figure on that at all and are heavily displeased. Tough shit.

In 2004, the hammer may well fall on the US, but the US has no one else to blame but themselves. 2004 brings a new chapter in EndGame and it won't be pretty.

Assaulting Head Chakras & The Silver Lining

1/9/2004

I was driving home last month and the luxury level car in front of me had television monitors built into the driver and passenger headrests. Both sets were broadcasting images although no one was in the back seat. Forget the entertainment value to those in the back seat, you have an electronic broadcasting device operating behind your head and it is reacting with the back of your third eye chakra. This is really a quite sinister by design because, while you are driving or sitting on the front passenger seat, your 3rd eye chakra is being zapped by the electronics. You are concentrating on driving, so anything coming through the television (subliminals and similar signals layered into the overt television show) can enter via this chakra. It gives 'backstabbing' a whole new perspective. Unlike television in your home where you are several feet away from the box, the car headrest device is only inches from your head and chakra. What can be avoided by distance in the home cannot be avoided in these upscale cars. Just as I would never own a cell phone, I would never have this device in my car. Not only is the 3rd eye chakra the closest, but the crown chakra is only inches away from that. This device can also be used to block not only 'seeing' (3rd eye), but also cloud your crown chakra, connection to your Higher Self, and throat chakra used for 'hearing'. You can do your own research if interested in more on these 3 chakras.

During EndGame, it is more and more imperative for the sequentials and polarity mavens to attempt to control or disable Higher Self functions in simultaneous incarnates. It is their beLIEf that if they can do this, then to a certain extent, they can 'delay the simultaneous graduation from 3rd density Earth,' as well as 'hasten converting Earth to another sequential incarnate planet'. Electronics is one of their main weapons and is a very candy-coated poison. Alien technology, introduced in the 19th century, then rapidly developed by 'miracle' research (read aliens giving more technology) is central to this conversion approach.

This does not mean, in the current year, that you abandon all and live in a cave. Not at all. But it should advise you on what is going on. The simple fiber optic, glittering device is quite interesting to watch, but the fiber optic cable can also be used to carry signals not designed for your benefit. I remember when people said that they only had cell phones for 'emergencies'. That was the entry into what has turned into a dependency on them. I am the only person I know who still refuses to use them. Even people who, at one time, warned of the dangers of using them have been seduced into using them all the time. That's the intended lure of technology. Cell phones are another electronic device attempting to influence the same upper 3 chakras as described above. Refer back to previous Matrix V Gold Edition segments dealing with technology vs. spiritual development.

In one sentence: the more technology used, the more sequential in nature one risks becoming and the easier it is to bury spiritual Advancement. The alien sequentials are the technology drug suppliers to Earth and the dealers are those who push them as the ideal of 3rd density existence. Notice too how the 'top of the line' electronic product of today is easily replaced by another in a brief period of time and your 'top of the line' suddenly is yesterday's news. It's more convenient, faster, smaller with the best technology available. 'Available' is the key. The technology that the government has is far in advance of what is available to the public. As with any addictive drug, the need becomes greater and more pressing once dependence on them is induced. This is another form of giving away your power.

I know, from the classes that I use to teach (adult evening), people do not want to read. They want to watch a video, listen to a cd/tape or be told. They want things with minimal effort involved on their part. This is also part of EndGame, technology dependence and sequential reformatting.

The neat thing (silver lining) about all this is that no matter what sequential aliens and those who are body oriented do on Earth, they cannot delay the departure/graduation of the simultaneous incarnates. EndGame Finale is set in stone. This graduation will cause them a lot of anxiety when it occurs and Earth moves from their influence because the planetary spirit is also on line for shim's own graduation. The graduates have moved on while the lesser grades are still in school.

The Higher Self & Incarnational Incapacitating Disabilities

1/20/2004

There are only a few simultaneous path Higher Self incarnations that really rate major attention from the Higher Self. They are the Dominants and the Final. All other incarnations move along according to the path of experiences that the Higher Self set. Hence, a Higher Self can have an incarnation with Alzheimer's or other handicap that restricts much 3rd density interaction for that incarnation. One would have to find out why that Higher Self would choose this type of incarnation. Usually, it is in partnership with another Higher Self's incarnation who wants certain experiences dealing with providing specialized assistance and one who wants experiences in receiving specialized assistance.

When an incarnation seems to vegetate in Alzheimer's, comas or similar circumstances, the spirit does not just hang around trapped in the physical. As long as the physical is alive, the spirit is still bound to it. While the spirit may stay concentrated on the physical during the first segments of the situation, when the physical deteriorates too far, the spirit would not settle to be trapped like a genie in a bottle. Shim engages in astral experiences according to the level of Advancement that shim has attained. If the physical has a rare moment of lucidity, it indicates the spirit is visiting. The lapse of lucidity means the spirit has ventured outward. This, again, is not due to the lack of desire to be with the body, but because the physical disability is overwhelming.

Refer back to Matrix V Gold Edition and see that something like this could not occur unless that Higher Self had this type of experience as part of their incarnational path. In the rare case of a person recovering from a coma that has lasted years, there was a need for the experience, BUT you would have to ask the involved Higher Self what that was OR do the research on 27 if that is an area you are interested in. These difficulties are major events in the lives of people that have direct responsibilities for relatives and friends in these situations. If you are one of these people, YOUR Higher Self has the answers. Once the Game is over for you and you have graduated from the Game, you will consciously remember the why's that nag your consciousness today on these matters.

Your simultaneous path Higher Self is keeping track of hundreds and hundreds of incarnations. Of course you feel that your current incarnation is all that matters to you. It especially does if you are body ID'd since you will never have that body again. Matrix V Gold Edition is loaded with body ID segments. Your Higher Self, however, will have the major part of shim's attention on the Dominant and Final Incarnations due to the nature of their experiences and that they are the culmination of all simultaneous experiences. A Low or Mid level incarnational stream connected to a comatose or brain incapacitated body is not of as great concern to the Higher Self, but the experiences that incarnation is having will still add to the overall data processing of the Higher Self and is necessary to shim's needs. The Higher Self never has a 'useless' or 'unnecessary' incarnation. BUT there are incarnations of small value and those of great value for reasons other than Dominant and Final purposes. Remember, as per other Matrix V Gold Edition segments, that NOTHING can happen to any incarnation that will stop the incarnation from having the experiences that your Higher Self has chosen. For any more specifics on this topic, though, talk to YOUR Higher Self or visit the Library on level 27.

Playing 'Higher Self' In Certain Computer Games

1/20/2004

In one of last year's segments, Television, Electronic Attacks, I touched on how certain types of computer games can assist you in your progression because of the mental strategies involved. In this short segment, I will add a bit more to that concept. Certain role playing, strategy computer games get you involved with playing multiple persons during the game. Games such as Baldur's Gate, as an example, where you are in control of 6 very different characters, allows you to be the 'Higher Self' of these 6 incarnations. You decide what they will do during their game incarnation.

Some examples of this using the Baldur's Gate situation: you decide what gender, race, class that your prime character will have. This prime character will meet and decide what 5 other characters will join the group. Once the character joins, you have control over what the 6 characters experience. Yet, at the same time, you have body ID input, such as fatigue, to deal with.

While this is just a game, it does give the aware, Advanced incarnate game player some practical experience in being a simultaneous path Higher Self although on a much smaller scale of 6 simultaneous incarnations rather than, say 1500. You gain far more from the game when you keep that in mind. An inability to control 6 different game characters at one time does give one a clue to what the incarnation involved is not. By this I don't mean someone who just doesn't go for computerized games, but rather those who do but cannot grasp the mechanics of controlling 6 characters at once. I know a couple guys like this who say they can handle only one character at a time. In other incarnations, they will be able to handle this. While they may be able to handle this, electronics, as we have today, is an alien infusion to Earth and part of the EndGame scenario. All simultaneous Earther path Higher Selves have had lots of electronic experiences as sequential path participants, but that's something else entirely. Those incarnations, as per other Matrix V Gold Edition segments, are restricted to us until we graduate.

Something I did find most interesting was that at the end of the Baldur's Gate series, you can choose to become the 'god of Balance'. How interesting. I played the Baldur's Gate series when it first came out. I have been replaying it again this month, although differently than I did the first time. I thoroughly enjoy these kinds of games, as I did Dungeons & Dragons in college, as excellent mental exercises for some things to come.

Sequential Deception: Equality & EndGame

2/1/2004

The loudest drums on Earth want Earthers to march to the beat of 'equality'. This is a major part of realigning Earth to become a sequential planet and the sequential aliens have a major interest in having this occur. Refer back to previous Matrix V Gold Edition segments related to this topic.

'Equality' is an EndGame term that sounds good but, in reality it denies the simultaneous nature of the Game. It is an attack against the simultaneous experience. One of the hallmarks of a sequential planet is progressing as a planet rather than as an individual. Creating a simultaneous dominated planet allows for a vast variety of different and contrary situations, on one planet, for a rapid learning/advancement environment. This allows the simultaneous path Higher Self to choose from a myriad of incarnational possibilities with vastly different limitations and potentials.

We simultaneous path Higher Selves are enjoying this huge variety over thousands of years of linear time. Next, enter the alien surge heralding EndGame for us on Earth. The end of variety and the entrance of boring homogeny.

There are many situations that have been on Earth since it was designated as a simultaneous path planet. IF you are not ready for the information contained in Matrix V Gold Edition, you should not be reading it as it will only upset your physical body which is ruling your underdeveloped incarnational spirit. Body ID ALWAYS gets in the way of spiritual Advancement because it attempts to set itself up as the omega of existence, hence the popular myth of 'the resurrection of the body'.

Matrix V Gold Edition readers (who are ready for that level of information provided) know that the Higher Self is the REAL you. Awakened Final Incarnations and certain Very Advanced incarnations know that the body is only a vehicle for experiences that their Higher Selves require. ALL this body ID'd bullshit about equality of everyone, every gender, every race, etc IS part of the sequential plot and a major feature of EndGame on this simultaneous planet.

The United States was founded as an intended base for sequential 'equality', disguised as 'freedom' to spread like a sequential plague around Earth. Freedom and equality are two vastly different concepts. Equality suppresses freedom in most cases. This type of 'equality' is of sequential Light polarity common to the Pleiades and other similar Light polarity systems. This type of 'equality' does not tolerate what is different, however. Native Americans found that out when the self-called 'freedom lovers' stole Native American lands and then forced the locals into virtual concentration camps called reservations, all the while spewing body comforting phrases like 'freedom' and 'equality'. American slaves also heard the same line of control bullshit. "All men are created equal" they (continue) to say, but the aware know about the levels of this creation and how the top levels live to deceive the others. The deception is from not saying what they mean.

The first major event to challenge this alleged 'freedom' was the southern states leaving the federation by constitutional means. Enter the Dark president, Lincoln. Southerners soon found out that freedom to legally leave the corporation of the United States was just a smoke screen and that it never existed. Forget the victor's version of history about slavery. That was just the Lightsiders' apologist spew to hide the truth.

Now, pull away from all the body ID muck, if you can. Slavery, in various forms, has existed on Earth for ages. Slavery is part of the 3rd density Game experience. You cannot appreciate not being a slave unless you, at some time(s) are one. While in early EndGame, African black races are the main slave group, ALL races are slaves at some time in history. ALL simultaneous Higher Selves have several incarnations in the slave situations for the experience. They also have several incarnations in the slave holder situations for the experience. It is neither good nor bad. It IS the experience and THAT is the bottom line. If you can't see that, you are still body ID'd!

Similarly, the female gender, in most of Earth's situations, has its place as does the male gender. These are necessary for the simultaneous Higher Self's experiences. When females, due to alien sequential meddling/formerly latent DNA commands appearing during EndGame, no longer wanted to honor their traditional roles in favor of sequential equality, it was to deny certain necessary experiences to the simultaneous path. If what one wants was a bland, everyone-is-the-same experience, that one should have stayed in the comfortable, excruciatingly slow advancing sequential path. The simultaneous path is not for the weak! The damned Lightsiders, with their hand-wringing and denial of Higher Self need of experiences, favor body ID matters instead. While they like to quote spiritual-sounding words, they are actually heavily body ID oriented. Meanwhile, the Dark side manipulates using Lightsider techniques to get its way. The United States has been heavily Dark since Lincoln and in its Darkest to date with Bush. Conquest has been more of a theme, while clinging to false words of 'freedom'. The American interpretation of 'freedom' is that you are free to be like we tell you to be (Cancer country). Iraq is now 'free' say Darksider Bush. They are only 'free' to be as Washington decides it to be.

Former M5G segments deal with other false uses of the word 'freedom', such as non-freedom of speech, for one. The US became an overtly Darksider country in phases. What the public would have been in revolt over from Washington during one era, is ignored in this. The liar and Constitutional traitor appointed as president would not have been tolerated as close in time as the 70's when Nixon got the boot for FAR less treachery than Bush. This is also EndGame. It is also through the usage of various technologies and the increase in minion incarnations that the simultaneous have been restricted by the sequential.

Fortunately, EndGame is only a segment of the overall simultaneous experience. We have the experiences of variety from pre-EndGame times. Now we get to see the corruption of the simultaneous experience and the lack of Game ethics that the sequential have. This also adds to the overall experience in the 3rd density Game. The simultaneous path Higher Selves on Earth are ready to graduate and leave this mess behind. The 'wailing and gnashing of teeth' will occur when the simultaneous graduates escape the Game and leave the wailing sequentials behind to rend each other in their polarities. The next simultaneous path planet will be in another sector of this galaxy, but that will not concern the graduates who will have far more interesting experiences to have.

The Graduation Key

Orion Sex Patterns/Alice In Wonderland

2/4/2004

The various alien genetic scientists, who have manipulated the Earther body for ages (refer back to Matrix V Gold Edition for more on that), also tampered with the sexuality of the Earther human body. I have touched on this topic before, but I wanted to add a bit more just to give you a bigger picture of the alien side of the coin.

The Orion Empire reptilians are totally bisexual. Sex is used to procreate and to dominate as well as for pleasure. Heterosexuality is non-existent among the reptilians. Even those on Earth, disguised as human, almost always maintain a heterosexual appearance for the benefit of continuing deception of Earthers. In private, though, anything goes. This is why certain royal family members insist on a public appearance of being heterosexual, but, behind closed palaces, it's a whole different story, which is very bisexual.

There are stories in Matrix II about reptilian sexual escapades. The Orion reptilian is always a sexual top when dominating a human because it is not a matter of sexual attraction, but a matter of dominance. Those foolish Hollywood films, about the aliens coveting Earther females, would have the viewer believe that aliens find Earther humans attractive. This would only apply to those who are physically similar in appearance. A reptilian would find an Earther human's appearance as unattractive as an Earther human would find a reptilian physical. However, the Orion reptilian is interested in showing dominance and superiority of race when it has sex with a non-reptilian.

When the one Matrix II report about the 'godzilla' reptilian toying the gay guy while his partner was restrained, this was the Orion way of demonstrating that they are superior because they can fuck anyone they want and it didn't matter if the person's partner was watching. They have a 'so, what are YOU going to do about it' attitude. It wasn't a matter of romantic pleasure. It was a matter of sadistic, Dark control.

This has also been accomplished when the reptilian was shape-shifted into human form, but the greater agenda takes precedence over the lesser, personal dominance one. The Orion reptilians are definitely NOT to be toyed with in 3rd density matters. They are deadly serious and cannot be appealed to on any spiritual based grounds.

Another group I have mentioned in Matrix V Gold Edition is the Pleiadians from Erra in the Taygeta system. These are the people who have been dealing with Meier in Switzerland in the last century. They can easily pass as an Earther human by looks alone (European looking). They claim to be entirely heterosexual (as have certain Earther countries, although that was not true). They are SO homophobic that their males don't even dance because it (to them) has a connotation of gayness.

MATRIX V Gold Edition- Volume 2

I have not been poking around on Erra for more one-on-one visuals. If someone wants to know more about their spiritual regressive attitudes, the Library on level 27 has some good research materials. Your full remembrance of sequential alien sexuality will be remembered by you AFTER graduating the Game when all your memories are able to be accessed. Then you will be able to review your sequential incarnational path with all the sexual varieties that have existed.

The aliens used their sexual situation in programming the DNA commands on Earth. Breed for the Orion queen is the prime command. Religious anti-gay attitudes are Pleiadian-based attitudes working in harmony with the Orion command. Remember, it's ALL about sequentials trying to screw up the simultaneous path experience. You will find opposing alien sequentials working together at times to try and keep Earther simultaneous path Higher Selves from graduating. This is FAR more evident during EndGame.

The span of linear years spent in the simultaneous path amounts to maybe 20,000 years or so (give or take). The span of linear years spent in the sequential path amounts to billions and billions of years. The enormity of the difference between the slow, sequential path and the rapid, simultaneous path can be seen in the vast differences of time involved. No one enters the Game in the simultaneous path. Everyone enters in the sequential mode, but all will complete the Game in the simultaneous. Refer back to Matrix V Gold Edition for those topics.

One other tidbit for you, since I have your attention. Disney has released their Alice In Wonderland on dvd for a limited time. When I watched it, I was interested to see that they are actually mocking the Orion Queen in the persona of the Queen of Hearts (off with their heads which are always male in the cartoon except for Alice). If you watch it, listen to the dialog around and from the queen. The King of Hearts is an insignificant figure as is the Orion queen's offsprings' father and you see the zero authority that males have as in the Orion Empire. The playing card soldiers all have the pointed top heads just as Orion soldiers' ridges rise on theirs. The overt drug use by Alice with the mushroom, the 'Eat Me' cookies and 'Drink Me' vial, plus the caterpillar getting high by his bong show how this film was ahead of its time (1951). The entire film is an interesting trip of discovery, but the mocking of the Orion queen is very interesting.

EndGame is here. Keep your eyes open as there is a lot going on in many areas that they don't want you to notice.

Global Conditioning

2/7/2004

Have you noticed how the terms 'terrorist', 'rogue nation' and similar have been in the news daily? These were seldom used words in the past, but, due to EndGame's acceleration, it has become necessary that the usage of these terms are beLIEved to be as stated.

In past Matrix V Gold Edition segments, I have brought out a couple of events from history, such as the American Boston Tea Party, that, using today's terminology, is terroristic. Actually, the whole American revolution was terroristic based on today's interpretations. Yet, back then, when EndGame was at its early stages, the formation of the United States was needed to bring about the EndGame scenario. The terrorists of yesterday are in control today.

MATRIX V Gold Edition- Volume 2

The Graduation Key

© 2000-2004 Leading Edge International Research Group. All Rights Reserved.

If you read the list of 'war crimes' that the victors pronounced on the losers of World War II, they ALL apply to the government of the United States and it's axis today as it reaches for global rule and the subservience of all to Washington.

Knowing how effective 'terroristic' procedures are since they were SO effective in removing most of Europe's monarchies and numerous world governments, one of the first things the American government (founded on terrorism) did, after forming, was to ban its violent overthrow because that is exactly how it got into power. Yet the violent overthrow of several foreign governments is exactly what the U.S. has always been engaged in, to varying degrees that have dramatically increased since the end of World War II. Panama, Chile, Grenada, Haiti and Iraq are some of them. This makes the United States the premier 'rogue nation'. All that 'freedom' and 'liberty' fog just hides the true intent of those in control. It doesn't matter what the riff-raff believe as long as these words ensure global dominance.

What ever happened to 'national sovereignty'? That illusion is all but dead today. Again, notice how the only country who really toots this horn and expects the world to dance is the United States in regard to their internal matters. This goes back to previous segments where I describe the attitudes of a country heavily under the sign of Cancer.

The use of the phrase 'rogue nation' is always applied to countries that do not obey the United States and it's obedient lackey, Britain. A third country in this dominance scenario is Israel, loaded with nukes and dispenser of guilt-through-deception for all who try to remove the illusionary webs this country spins. Yes, these ARE the Orion models on Earth. Red flags should go up for you when you hear 'rogue nation'. They are using it in the common Problem, Reaction, Solution trilogy and expect the general public to demand the solution that their rulers want. In the U.S., ever since 9/11 was allowed to happen with government collusion, the American public has been constantly told that another big event will happen because of muslim terrorists. I expect that something indeed WILL occur and that muslims will get the blame, but don't believe what the government says for it will be heavily laced with lies. The reason they use the 'muslim' enemy theme is due to the U.S. being occupied by christian adherents as well as the placement of Israel. If Israel was surrounded by hindu believers, for example, the 'enemy' would be hindu. Israel IS a major key and player in EndGame. The riff-raff who believe the government are the pawns. Refer back to the Matrix V Gold Edition segment on minion incarnations and their ease of manipulation. Breed for the Empire....more minions needed!

The simultaneous path requires the vast differences in nations, etc to process the Advanced path experiences. The sequential path finds this to be its bane and will do whatever it can to eliminate it. Again, refer back to Matrix V Gold Edition segments on these topics.

The over-use of 'terrorism' terms and 'rogue nation' tags will only continue and increase because the sequentials are determined to halt the simultaneous path experience on Earth. Every time you hear these terms, think of the sequential aliens pushing buttons to short circuit the simultaneous experience on Earth. These are control of riff-raff thinking terms. The Germans knew this in the 30's & 40's. The Americans have perfected this usage.

When the next 'shoe' drops on the American public, there will be more to say because the riff-raff will demand martial law to 'save us'. They will give away the rest of their power to those who desperately need it to form this sequential path, Orion dominated planet. What they don't want to know is that there are certain Wild Cards and a graduation coming for

Women's "Rights" Groups

2/8/2004

On the Internet news today, a barbershop in Scotland is reported to be featuring topless, female barbers. This has so-called 'women's rights' groups in a tizzy and they are planning to protest and harass any man who goes there. Now, while I would be repulsed by going to such a barber for other reasons, if these women want to have this type of job, it's THEIR business. No one is forcing them to do this, yet the woe-to-men's groups are going after the males and not the females who want to perform this service. They ALWAYS go after the men and not the women seeking this type of employment.

This tells you something very significant about alleged 'women's rights' groups. Besides them being a feature of EndGame and the sequentialization of Earth with an Orion heavy hand, they are primarily anti-male and manic conformist in nature. They use cutsie sounding phrases and terms like 'equality' and 'equal treatment' when they mean female dominance in a sequential, Orion mode. These groups rely heavily on bullying subservient men to cater to their whining demands. These groups could never have flourished if it were not for the activation of the Orion DNA commands and the cowing of most men according to the sequential, Orion plan.

These woe-to-men groups are constantly bitching (make that cuntin'g) about sex films and the 'exploitation of women'. Yet, in these sex films, the women who perform in them are seeking these roles. Despite that, these groups go after the men who are employing these women...ALL in the phony cause of 'women's rights'. BULLSHIT ALERT! BULLSHIT ALERT! The sad thing is that so many men DO bow when this whip is cracked. That's due to their Orion DNA command structure and the heavy body ID.

One other thing: exploitation of women. Most American females dress like the sluts and temple whores of the Roman Empire era. This is applying more and more to other areas of Earth where the Orion control model is gaining ground. It isn't men exploiting women, it's the other way around, the exploitation BY women. Females in skin tight clothing (no matter WHAT their size is) who express their disapproval of the male body while flaunting theirs. This is what's behind the myth of female 'beauty'. Refer back to Matrix V Gold Edition segments for more on woe-to-men during EndGame.

In pre-EndGame eras, you didn't have the massive problems caused BY females that you have today, but this is part OF EndGame. You knew who the temple prostitutes were by their dyed hair and "follow me" imprints left by their sandals on the ground. Today you have the same temple prostitute look but with the Orion snag which is purposely deceptive and contrary to the simultaneous path. This is also part of EndGame.

From a simultaneous path point of view, THEY are wrong. From a sequential point of view, THEY are right. Examine your perspectives and see which path YOUR incarnation agrees with. This is not a polarity matter, but a path matter. Is your incarnation leading you down the bullshit sequential path, which is regressive to the simultaneous path Higher Self? If so, it's part of YOUR experience. For those in the Very Advanced and Final levels, you KNOW what is happening. EndGame!

Dark Portal Symbols, Chakras & Personal Effects

2/10/2004

In an earlier segment, I discussed the Dark portal properties of the christian cross. If you wear this symbol, you invite Dark energies directly into your aura. All the protective cleansings and gold eggshell auras you create won't protect anyone who wears the cross around their neck or pinned to their clothing. An example: a Matrix V Gold Edition reader likes the idea of placing themselves in a gold, eggshell aura. However this reader is a mid-Advanced level and likes wearing the cross, not for its religious intent, but for a 'fashion' thing. Those who push the cross symbol as a 'fashion accessory' are actually appealing to those who would not wear it for religious purposes. This is a Dark attempt to increase the portal usage of the cross into areas that normally wouldn't use it. Back to the example: The M5G reader places the golden aura around him/herself and thinks that they are protected. What they have managed to do is seal the Dark energies within the aura and made it easier for Dark to surround the wearer via the cross. This, of course negates the purpose of the gold energy egg and causes more problems!

One has to be very aware of what they place on their person in the form of rings, necklaces, bracelets, anklets, pins, etc. These items are within your aura and may have an effect on you that you would not consciously desire. With the decline of christianity, especially in the Baby Boomer generation and those following, Dark adherents are constantly looking for other ways to gain acceptance of one of their prime portal symbols. The use of the inverted cross, said to be 'satanic', is STILL the cross symbol. Dark energy does not come in easy just because it's inverted. It's the cross symbol that makes the physical manifestation of this kind of portal.

Some cities have massive statues with crosses prominent. These crosses make Dark entry into these locations easier than the small, worn versions. You can see where this is a significant issue to those who know and can observe.

KNOW what you are wearing! The T-1 capsule, that I have written about already and can be purchased via information on the Leading Edge site, is something that works for your benefit. From my shamanic training years, I know there are many stones/crystals that can also benefit you. I have mentioned a couple, such as black tourmaline, in a previous Matrix V Gold Edition segment. Turquoise is also very beneficial for its protective qualities. There are many sources of information on stones, if you are interested.

Silver is a protective metal, but I would not wear it as a chain with the T-1 capsule since the T-1 people do not recommend metal chains with the T-1. If you have T-1 related questions, ask them or Val, not me.

For those not wearing T-1 devices, be sure what you are wearing. Stones pierced by metal are considered 'dead' by driving out the stone's spirit. Stones must be wrapped to have their properties intact. That is from my two of my Native American teachers.

The location of what you are wearing also indicates where it may influence you. Many people wear chains that dangle an object over the wearer's heart chakra. The heart chakra is the gateway to the higher chakras, so it is central. Some systems would have people believe that the heart chakra is the most important of the seven. If it is the most important, the crown chakra would not be the one that polarities want to block, along with the 3rd eye chakra. The heart chakra is significant, but then so are all those above the lower three, for different reasons some of which I've mentioned in Matrix V Gold Edition segments.

Opening the heart chakra is important in an awakening process and one would need the heart chakra opened to progress into Very Advanced stages because it can rapidly progress to developing awareness in the upper chakras. Cross wearers are unconsciously blocking the opening of the chakras that their cross is dangling near: heart and throat. You have to feel (heart) and to hear (throat) before you can see (3rd eye) and know (crown). Review the chakra meditation technique I gave in Matrix V Gold Edition.

Another symbol worn is the 'star of david'. This is Orion in origin. The triangle pointed up is the symbol of the Orion science sector. The triangle pointed down is the symbol of the Orion military and enforcers (also found on many U.S. police cars). Put them together and you have the 'star of david' which did appear on some of their ships. The 6 pointed star is an Orion Empire symbol. Those who use it consider themselves the 'chosen people'. See where that line of thought will take you.

This symbol is used by astral allies of the Orion Empire as a portal for their influence. Dark isn't limited to just one symbol. The infamous 'judeo-christian' catch phrase, so common in America, should convey a whole nest of Darkness to the Very Advanced and Finals. There are those who use these symbols knowingly and far more who use them naively. It doesn't matter to those encouraging the usage of them because they still get their goals met.

Be sure to examine what you wear in the way of ornamentation. The obvious may not be the root of the meaning. To say, 'but that's not what I intend' is insufficient and will not negate the intended effect created by the designers. Now it will be up to the readers to do their own research on symbolisms.

Higher Selves, Mimics & 'Chit-Chats'

I occasionally get questions from Matrix V Gold Edition readers who tell me that their 'Higher Self said' this or that in regard to their personal path interests-of-the-moment and the M5G materials. Then, they want me to comment on or verify what their Higher Self allegedly said. This is something I would never do.

First of all, you are not going to have 'chit-chats' with your Higher Self. IF you think you will, you are only deceiving yourself. Shim does not work that way because of Game rules that the participating Higher Selves agreed to. Even as a Dominant Incarnation, you do not carry on discussions with your Real Self for the same reason. Dominants DO have contact with fellow Dominants of THEIR specific Higher Self. In that respect you are conversing with different aspects of your Higher Self, but these aspects are filtered through their current incarnational form with all the liabilities and assets of that form. The pure Higher Self does observe but the pieces in play have their roles to play. No cheating allowed. It's not called a Game for nothing.

Even as an Awakened Final Incarnation, I do not have 'chit-chats' with my Higher Self. I would not even attempt to do that because, at my level, I know the Game rules enough not to even consider that (or several other possible things). It is enough for me to know WHO I am and WHAT I will become upon graduation from the 3rd density Game. As an example, when I'm involved in a role playing game on my computer, I think in the manner of the characters that I'm operating, and not what would the real me do.

The Higher Self, if it is necessary to communicate to an incarnation, will generally use one of shim's other incarnational streams to do so in the guise of a guide, or in VERY rare cases, a direct intervention in an event. These have been explained in Matrix V Gold Edition segments. These are NOT common occurrences. What is common is lower astral entities mimicking a Higher Self interaction. The ONLY attempt is to deceive you. The Matrix V project has caused a considerable upheaval in several EndGame sectors and rippling through the simultaneous path experience on Earth (also mentioned in previous M5G segments). This disturbance has polarity Game pieces trying to sidetrack developing incarnations who have been influenced by Matrix V Gold Edition. Hence, posing as one's Higher Self has been engaged to mislead those not yet Advanced enough to discern. This is part of that incarnation's experience.

While the Higher Self will allow this deception to occur, there are limits mentioned in past segments. The purpose of allowing this is to get the incarnating spirit to Advance AND to rely on self rather than external sources. The more independent one becomes, the more prepared one is for post-Game involvements. Those tested by this should not panic, but do become suspicious. In one case, I was told by a guy that his Higher Self told him to tell me that he needed to learn certain shamanic procedures that are not taught to the apprentice until having served as such for several years. Of course I said 'no'. This person was not willing to commit the years needed to properly learn, so he foolishly thought that he could trick me by saying "my Higher Self told me that you should teach me" two specific procedures. THAT is a lower astral masquerading as his Higher Self. That is also part of his path, not mine.

Mistakes are made when you Advance. That's one way you learn. Discovering your mistakes are another. Even personal teachers are available to assist you learn and grow. Growing beyond your various personal teachers is something to strive for. Mid-Advanced level teachers are abundant. All the ones that I've had, in this incarnation, never Advanced beyond that level because this is what THEY need to do during their specific incarnations. You will have a number of incarnations at Mid-Advanced levels, but moving beyond them will come WHEN it is time for you to do so and in stages. This is determined by your Higher Self and not the individual incarnation. So, don't be quoting your Higher Self to me. It won't impress me. Those who are genuinely at the Very Advanced levels communicate differently than those in Mid-Advanced levels and those who are Awakened Finals communicate with each other with other enhancements available only to that Incarnation. Read and learn, but, most of all, be content where YOU are on your path.

Game Creator(s), Rules & Body ID

2/12/2004

The designer of any game, whether it is Monopoly, Dungeons & Dragons or various card games, decides the rules of the game that they have created. The rules constrain the player by limiting how they may participate. For example, in chess you cannot suddenly declare that instead of a row of pawns, you now have a row of queens or if you don't like the way the game is going that you can win by physically knocking the other's pieces off the board. In Dungeons & Dragons, the dungeon master oversees the rules and game play. Although one can create different versions of an original game, each version will have its own rules or what would be the use of playing?

It is similar with the beings who designed the various 3rd density Games. I have covered some of this in previous Matrix V Gold Edition segments and won't repeat them here. In your pre-Game Higher Self, you were able to examine all the Games in play at the time, manifested by various galaxies as Game boards with incarnations as Game pieces. Game participation is totally optional and the decision of each Higher Self.

As to more about who the Game creators are, you will have to do your own research, but I will tell you that you will eventually know FAR more about this as you reach Awakened Final and even more when you graduate the Game.

The selection of Earth as the current simultaneous planet was decided by this galaxy's Game creator(s). As with all previous simultaneous centers of this galaxy, after the current group of Higher Selves complete their participation in the Game and move on, the Game creator(s) will choose another location for the next simultaneous planet. Actually, the next simultaneous location in our galaxy has already been chosen, but it is not known to the players yet. It will not be in this sector of our galaxy because other challenges will be part of the next version of this Game.

Our Game is loaded with incarnational loops, as per my revelations in other Matrix V Gold Edition segments. There are loops piled on top of loops and you have to find ways to break them to graduate. Game loops are instilled from birth via family 'traditions' and religious constrictions, ALL of which are artificial and meant to hold you back and present spiritual challenges based on your discovering that they are illusions.

One of the prime loops is "I am my body". Even many M5G readers continue to cling to that body ID and extend it to the Earth Planetary Spirit. For Earth Planetary Spirit information, you will have to re-read Matrix V Gold Edition. Just as you are not your body, so too the Earth (or any other Planetary Spirit) is not shim's body, but rather a vehicle for experiencing the Nature Spirit path. Re-read my comments on dead planets in Matrix V Gold Edition. There you have your answer.

Robert Monroe and I both discuss post Game Earth, however the restored Earth we discuss is NOT the one you are standing on today as such. Eventually, the 3rd density Earth will be as dead as other galactic planets where the Planetary Spirit has moved on. For example, Mars was once a lush planet in this system LONG ago. In order to better grasp the concepts with this, you have to overcome your beLIEfs about body ID and bogus 'resurrection of the body' crap. Until you do, you will not be able to properly deal with more Advanced spiritual concepts.

Remember, Matrix V Gold Edition is not written for everyone, but rather a very limited group who have been waiting for this information. It is not my job to simplify everything to your individual levels. Locate a personal teacher for your level. All simultaneous Higher Selves will be able to easily process this information via their proper incarnations set to handle it.

There are a lot of Mid-Advanced incarnates running through the M5G materials when they are not prepared to deal with the consequences of what they read. This also involves the unfortunately ultra-common desire to find shortcuts to learning. When I taught adult evening classes in psychic related subject, I never met anyone who wanted to learn, but only wanted quick solutions and power without earning it. This is a sign of the late EndGame times. This is also a byproduct of the sequential alien technological infusion on Earth. Earthers are increasingly conditioned to instant gratification and minimal effort endeavors which are contrary to spiritual Advancement. The sequentials know this and, as I've stated before, this was one reason why it was thrust on Earth.

There are a lot of heavy-duty concepts in this segment. The Library on level 27 has more details on them, if you are interested. Meanwhile, the Game continues to be played out here.

The False Summit: Mid-Advanced Levels

2/13/2004

I have received a couple of good comments about mid-Advanced level incarnates. It IS true that this level can be an extremely colorful bunch of people and they DO put on a 3 ring circus of flashy acts for those at their level and the low-Advanced. These shows are partially what attracts the low-Advanced levels into progressing into the mid-Advanced. Make no mistake, this does, indeed serve a positive purpose.

One Matrix V Gold Edition reader in Europe said if I was to come to Britain that they would probable "put you in jail" and hound me as they do David Icke. She also said if I visited the Netherlands as The Author, I would probably be descended upon by every self-proclaimed shaman, 'ascended' master and other colorful characters. These are the mid-Advanced showmen and women. These are they who thrive on being a leader with a following or one of the followers. They love the word 'master' and their icons the bogus 'ascended masters'. This concept has been discussed in Matrix V Gold Edition.

Lightsider David Icke is presenting very valuable information in his books. I will be giving a review on his latest, Tales From The Time Loop, when I'm done with it, but I do recommend it. It is his best one yet and you can get it for 1/3 off at Amazon.com.

The mid-Advanced levels are all about 'love & light'. They think that concept is the pinnacle of truth. Their ultimate illusion is, as David Icke has on his site and in his latest book, 'infinite love is the only truth; everything else is illusion'. That statement really sums up the mid-Advanced level Lightsider in one sentence. It is their beLIEf. They parade this concept around and expect everyone else to rally to their banner. This is the prime religious concept of the low through mid-Advanced level Light polarity.

Mid-Advanced levels can be noted by how they surround themselves with their religious icons (crystals, pentagrams and psychic related trappings) just like the Mid levels surround

MATRIX V Gold Edition- Volume 2

The Graduation Key

themselves with their crosses, stars of david, etc. because for the Mid levels, beLIEf and (convenient/semi) obedience to their deity is their banner and the summit of THAT level. The Very Advanced may have various of these, not as icons, but as relics of past incarnational beliefs. Museum pieces, if you wish.

These are only a few external symbols that define major levels. The Dark polarity is as involved as the Light and thrive on the Light's 'infinite love' proclamations. The Dark could not exist without these ultimate Light war cries. Read more on that in Matrix V Gold Edition. The Dark is also actively entwined in all Light polarity endeavors and they will do anything they can to encourage their behavior. As written previously in M5G, the Lighter the one side is, the Darker the other becomes. The opposite is true too, the Darker the one side is, the more the Light side reacts.

When I was spending years studying the various arts that I needed for my incarnation, I ran into many mid-Advanced level colorful characters. Some examples: There was one seminar that I went to where there were 3 Dark witches at a wiccan conference who spent most of their time weaving, what looked like, astral, black spider webs around the room to drain unsuspecting and Light witch energies. Cackle, cackle. Darksiders attend ALL psychic related conferences and seminars.

I ran into numerous colorful characters in my shamanic study years where I always discovered Dark shamans working among the Light and unsuspecting observers. Dark shamans will heal you, but the price you pay is not what you suspect it is and they cause more damage than the healing you may receive from them. The shamanic colorfults were different than the wiccan colorfults who are different than the predictive arts colorfults and so on. Dark shamanic types attend ALL gatherings of this type of practice, such as pow-wows, etc. They mix in, with the Light and unsuspecting, with their personal agendas.

The mid-Advanced colorful characters do serve their purpose, however. These beacons are set to assist the developing low-Advanced incarnations to newer levels. What you discover is that they are not 'the end of all', but rather the end of a major cycle which lead to a new gateway into the Very Advanced levels. These mid-Advanced characters are a vital part of the Game and should be appreciated for it. I think they are very entertaining, but that's from my position as an Awakened Final, who appreciates things that other incarnations still cannot. You will appreciate it fully in YOUR Awakened Final Incarnation, though, and will enjoy remembering these times with other Higher Selves after graduating the Game.

More On Incarnational Levels

2/14/2004

The incarnational 'level' tag, that I have been using in the Matrix V Gold Edition materials, is something that I designed to illustrate spiritual progression on a 'linear style' scale. This is similar to Monroe giving his 'focus levels' the numbers that he did. Focus 27 means something to those who know Monroe's levels and mid-Advanced means something to M5G readers. The one exception to my incarnational level tags is the Final Incarnation which is a definite, stock feature of the 3rd density Game experience.

One does not rapidly move through ANY incarnational level ... ever, with the exception of the Final Incarnation which is unique. It takes many incarnations to garner experiences at each level and immerse your incarnations in them. Unlike certain common games, the 3rd density Game is not a race in any way. You don't get points for completing the Game before any other Higher Self. Even though you are involved in complex interactions with other Higher Selves' incarnations during the Game, each Higher Self decides what shim's individual experiences will be and what ones that shim does not care to experience. These experiences can vary widely. An example: the Higher Self of the Orion queen has goals that are vastly different than those experiencing the simultaneous experience on Earth at this time.

If you seek to put a value judgment on other Higher Selves' experiences or needs, doing so makes you wrapped in the polarity experience. This is, of course, where you are UNTIL you have become an Awakened Final Incarnation. Remember the polarities always think they know what is best for everyone else. Looking down on the reptilian experience or thinking that you are superior for being on the simultaneous path (other than in a joking mode) shows that you still have body ID loops to overcome. This is not a 'bad' thing, but it serves you to be aware of it.

On the other hand, you are who you are and in the incarnational level that your Higher Self requires you to be at this time. You absolutely cannot be what you are not. You cannot go backwards to a lower level from where you are today nor can you be a more Advanced incarnation than the one you are occupying while reading this.

In the simultaneous path, as I have written in Matrix V Gold Edition, you are ALL your incarnations from the very first to your Final. Don't be concerned about your other incarnations either. They will all be taken care of in their own stead. Trust in your Higher Self, the REAL you.

When one has a seemingly rapid advancement in one incarnation, what you are in is a transitional incarnational level. It took you many incarnations to reach that one. An example: you felt you were a common Mid level incarnate with a marriage partner, kids and the standard work week job. Now you find yourself uninterested in marriage, want nothing to do with the religion you were raised in and are curious about the aliens and if tarot cards really work. This person has now moved to the low-Advanced levels. The transition is obvious to see.

Yet, we all know people who are perfectly happy to stay in that Mid incarnational 'rut', as seen from an Advanced level position. It is not a 'rut' to the Mid levels. They are content at that level. They are doing/experiencing what THEIR Higher Self requires. They are correct. They have other incarnations of a lower and of a higher progression on the simultaneous path but that is not what they want to hear. What they want to hear is that when they die that they go to their (fictional) heaven.

Another example is someone who was big into the aliens, had predictive readings to determine their vibrational circumstances and thought love & light was "IT". Now, later in their life, especially after connecting with the Matrix V Gold Edition materials, they no longer look to the aliens as our 'space brothers', use an occasional reading for advice rather than a command and cast suspicion on the love & light fantasy...this person is beginning the Very Advanced levels.

Starting a new incarnational level always begins with a review of the immediate previous one. A Mid level will start with a touch of the upper Low. The Advanced level begins with a sample of the Mid. The Very Advanced level emerges from the mid-Advanced. The Awakened Final Incarnation will touch on ALL levels before awakening. THAT is a journey that only the Final Incarnation will experience due to the wrapping up of Game experiences. You will EACH have this via your Final Incarnation.

Be happy with where you are. If you are into the M5G materials, take comfort in knowing that you are assisting your entire simultaneous experience. The M5G materials have a unique influence on the Earther simultaneous path experience. You will know how, in its total, after you have graduated the Game. Meanwhile, again, be content with where you are now. Change is constant and rapid once you have chosen the simultaneous path. You wouldn't have it any other way!

Mid-Advanced 'Devil': 'Interdimensional Reptilians'

I read an article on David Icke's site by this woman who goes on a lengthy complaint about "interdimensional reptilians". Of course, being a Lightsider, she has to first 'apologize' to all the 'good' reptilians out there. After this cross parading, she launches into her view of employment and the 'interdimensional reptilians' who are, to her, as common as Lightsiders in the workplace.

This is a problem with the mid-Advanced levels (read my recent segment Mid-Advanced: The False Summit), especially those who cling to the Icke version of who the reptilians are. What this woman is doing is labeling Darksiders as 'interdimensional reptilians'. <SIGH> This is also what makes the mid-Advanced level SO difficult to deal with, because they beLIEve that they 'know it all'...the FALSE summit. Love & light and all that bullshit! They have no realistic grasp of the polarities and continue to deceive themselves and naive followers that it's all about 'love'.

Just as with the one-god religions, the low-Advanced through mid-Advanced levels need a 'devil' to operate and rally the troops. 'The devil', in general, operates well in exerting control on Low and Mid level incarnates. However, once the incarnations are on the Advanced levels, and the one-god 'devil' is understood for the bullshit concept it is, the controllers need the same devil in a new costume. Enter 'interdimensional reptilians'.

The lower astral is loaded with allies of the Orion Empire and the Dark polarity. This is true and their activities have been written about in Matrix V Gold Edition segments. BUT astral entities are not the same as 'interdimensional reptilians'. Refer back to M5G for the difference between density and dimension.

Astral entities do not have 3rd density, physical form as the Orion reptilians do. Even in Icke's materials, he refers to shape shifting reptilians on the physical level. These are physical reptilians. Astral reptilians cannot dine on the physical bodies of 3rd density beings! Physical reptilians can and do.

Mid-Advanced level devils, just like Low and Mid level one-god 'devils', cannot be residents of the 3rd density, although, just as with one-god 'devils', they can come and go on the 3rd density at will. They have to be a spirit in nature, part of the intangible. Mid-Advanced level 'devils' are needed for the Game polarities to control the Advancing spirits. It isn't until one enters the Very Advanced levels that the myth of 'devils' begins to unravel and the concept is thrown into the trash bin of lesser incarnational levels. You reach the fullness of this understanding with your Awakened Final Incarnation, something that ALL simultaneous path Higher Selves have.

The Icke materials have their 'devil' incarnated in 'interdimensional aliens' who can be defeated by 'love'. The Low and Mid incarnational levels have their one-god 'devil' who can be overcome by 'love' and the fictional 'jesus' or just blind faith in their fictional deity. See how the Game is operating? If the Advancing spirit comes to an understanding too quickly about the nature of the 'devil', the Game would unravel quicker than planned and polarity control will be lost. By the time one enters Very Advanced levels to Final, a level of maturity is reached that can handle the true nature of Game and its 'devils'.

Darksiders have enjoyed the myth of spirit 'devils' all through the Game. It generates fear and fear makes Lightsiders easier to control. Darksiders encourage the beLIEf in 'devils' whether they be the one-god type with horns or the 'interdimensional reptilians'. The end result is the same. It drives Lightsiders to generate what the Dark needs to thrive. When one comes to a realization of the Game, which Very Advanced do, there is less and less feeding of the polarities. In the Awakened Final Incarnation, Darksiders have been known to have their astral heads chopped off in attempting to attack such an incarnation. The Awakened Final cannot be so intimidated and the Dark astrals learn to keep some distance unless they need a lesson by getting zapped.

While Icke's latest book is excellent in the beginning, I know I'll run into the mid-Advanced level 'devils' later in the book in chapters dealing with 'interdimensional aliens'. This does not invalidate his otherwise excellent materials. It's just that one has to sift and sort through the materials looking for the gold among the shit and there is a lot of gold there. Wash the shit away and you have it.

There is SO much confusion and deception in the Game about polarities, their purposes in the Game and their natures that a myriad of devils and deceptions exist to deceive the Game player. Now you know a bit about devils of the Advanced levels. Yes, there is more...there's always more, but this is what you should be aware of as you move on your path.

Apologies, Polarities & DNA Commands

It is a sign of maturity to recognize when you have made an error and acknowledge it. If one refuses to acknowledge their error (when actual and not illusory), they are dealing with some experiential loops of their own that were created for Low levels. When someone apologizes for errors that they didn't commit, they have a different type of immaturity that goes along with being a Lightsider. The Lightsider tendency is to apologize for just about everything, real and imagined. This is a Mid level through mid-Advanced experiential loop that needs breaking by the incarnating spirit.

Heavy duty Lightsiders apologize for their physical ancestry and allow others (Darksiders) to run rampant on them, the victim/victimizer situation discussed in M5G. One common example is slavery in America. There is no one alive today who was a slave or slave owner or whose parents were either, yet it is an issue (victimhood) that many blacks continue to harp on and use as a weapon. The Ashkenazi are another major group that constantly cry 'victim' and demand continual apologies to further their agendas. Read David Icke's Tales From The Time Loop for LOTS more about who this group is. These are body ID'd people.

A third group is American and western females who want all EndGame male incarnated Higher Selves to apologize for the function of the simultaneous path in the Game. The corruption of the simultaneous path on Earth has been discussed in detail in Matrix V Gold Edition segments. Because EndGame females have discovered that the DNA commands have allowed them to get away with being victimizers, they continue to have a field day with it.

I've observe, both in media and in person, how men pander to this need to be victimized by women (Orion mode). Where I work, one female was being particularly cunt for no apparent reason. One older male co-worker said 'I wonder what guy owes her an apology'. I asked, 'why would you say such a thing?'. He said, 'men always have to apologize to women because they can't be made to feel they're ever wrong'. Fuck that shit!

It's an Orion 'male subservience to females' that urges the blanket apology for imagined wrongs. This isn't a Lightsider hue, but an Orion sequential thrust. You do the female body incarnate a disservice when you apologize for something you didn't do. Blanket apologies 'because she's cunt' do the male incarnate a setback in loop breaking, as it does her. Unless one can mature to accept responsibilities for errors, and we ALL make errors, you cannot grow. It is as immature to apologize for everything as it is to apologize for nothing. Different polarities of the same set of loops.

This Orion DNA command flaw of being subservient to females makes any unbroken experiential loops all the stronger and much harder to break. They are not unbreakable, but they require far more effort to break because these types always worry about what other people think.

On the same idea is, when she is being cunt and at fault, he feels he must buy her something. This is the whore/prostitute approach, also very common with western and primarily American females today. When she gets cunt, and realizes that it's all her fault, she should be buying HIM something to make up. This female centric, Orion bullshit does not belong in the simultaneous path experience and it was not before EndGame kicked in.

As per several segments in Matrix V Gold Edition, if you are body/gender ID'd, you are not spirit oriented because a body ID'd person denies the spirit. The low through mid-Advanced, god/goddess worshipers are still heavily body ID'd. Hence being wrapped in numerous experiential loops that need to be broken to graduate the Game. If you cater to someone just because of their gender, you cannot move beyond mid-Advanced levels. Gender is an illusion. Since gender, on a 3rd density level, does not exist for your Higher Self (which means 'in reality'), if you cannot get beyond it, you are not ready for departure from the Game and you are also not in a Very Advanced incarnation and definitely not your Awakened Final who is a true iconoclast.

Watch and observe the Orion bullshit turning Earth into a sequential cesspool. The only silver lining to this is that it IS EndGame.

Three Advanced Level Projects

2/23/2004

There are currently 3 different Advanced level projects on Earth during EndGame. The Matrix V project is designed for Very Advanced, Dominant and Final Incarnations. The mid-Advanced level project centers around David Icke and similar materials, such as Credo Mutwa and others aligned with David. The low-Advanced (entry level Advanced) project is the Michael Moore/Al Franken and similar materials.

These projects are all being orchestrated by various Higher Selves for EndGame advancement. The discovery of this trilogy of levels doesn't surprise me, but rather I'm impressed with the style of it. Since the simultaneous path includes almost all incarnational levels in almost all 'time' periods, it should not be a shock that there would be particular interest in the EndGame period.

EndGame ushers in simultaneous path graduation from Earth for both the simultaneous path incarnates and the Earth Planetary Spirit. It is considered a major event for those involved. The 3 different Advanced level projects are geared for maximum effect on those in these levels. The Low and the Mid level participants are wrapped up in their incarnational experiences based on those basic, conforming stages. They still 'believe in the system' and that they can 'use the system to correct the perceived flaws'. They believe in 'the process' the planetary rulers have set up. They refuse to accept that the system will not work. The Advanced levels are geared to breaking away from the Game and, using coordinated education, the involved Higher Selves are insuring that the maximum, Game allowed information is available, in the physical, to those who need it. Yes, the information is also found in the Library on focus level 27, but very few have conscious access to that level.

By composing projects for EndGame, certain Higher Selves are working in concert to appeal to the major 3 levels of the Advanced. The Matrix V materials are for the most limited audience due to the nature of the subjects involved. The David Icke mid-Advanced level appeals to a far wider audience because it is polarity driven, lots of love & light fluff that those at the mid-Advanced level thrive on. The Moore/Franken and similar materials are primarily for those at the meat and potatoes level that is associated with everyday type people. You won't find spiritual materials there, but you do find 'one-godder' religious stuff (in god's/jesus' name shit and references to the pope's disapproval by Moore of von Bush's global conquest agenda). This Advanced entry level still beLIEves that they can make the system work. This is a major Game illusion, but clinging to illusions is part of the level that one is at until one reaches Final.

Those who thrive on the Matrix V Gold Edition materials can get much from the Icke and Moore/Franken levels of materials. Those levels have some excellent information in them about EndGame. I find David Icke to have SO much detail about hidden layers of the Game that it is more than I'm interested in, yet it is something that mid-Advanced levels love to read because it assists them in their progression and in defeating illusions that the low-Advanced adhere to. The lowest level is all about what you see easily: American expansionism, Israeli genocide, crooked politicians and their deceptions, etc. The middle level takes this easy-to-see stuff and goes much deeper as Icke does by revealing behind-the-scenes players and motivations. The upper level gets into Game mechanics, the why's of the Game and the nature of the spirit and beyond. If you are Advanced enough, you can easily sift through the beLIEfs of the entry and mid-Advanced levels while gathering significant information on various facets of the Game structure on Earth to the level that you desire. If you can combine that with the Matrix V Gold Edition segments, you have a fairly decent understanding of the Game and, especially, of EndGame.

It does not do well to ignore any of the levels you perceive as lower than the one you are in. That's spiritual snobbery, which is common to mid-Advanced and lower Very Advanced levels but for usually different reasons. On the other hand, someone at the lower-Advanced levels would be uneasy with many mid-Advanced materials and avoid the M5 level altogether. They are not yet ready for that during their current incarnation and that is fine.

As I have written in previous segments, experiences are streaming into out respective Higher Selves via the incarnations we have on the simultaneous path. EndGame contains Game elements that you cannot find at any other linear time period and it's like the last months of your senior year of school before graduation - very eventful.

What I am primarily trying to convey in this segment is an appreciation of all 3 major Advanced levels during EndGame. Beware of spiritual snobbery because it is a loop that can deny you much interesting information. With sharpened observational skills and the ability to spot polarity bullshit, you will be able to gather lots of valuable Game information and also get a better understanding of how the minds of other incarnational Advanced levels operate.

Polarities' Offspring: Rule of Law

2/24/2004

In the American media (Game controlled), one tends to hear the phrase "rule of law" increasingly used by governmental aligned sources. The 'rule of law' is a totally polarity driven concept. It demands the giving away of power by the incarnates to an authoritarian entity who would like you to beLIEve that the entity knows better how you must live your life. The formation of a government for/by/of the people was a sham to permit the setup of a global dictatorship in time with the intent of making Earth a sequential experience planet, as per previous Matrix V Gold Edition segments.

Polarity devotees cling to the 'rule of law' idea because polarity thrives on control of others to their way of thinking and to deny experiences that will allow you to develop individually, which is a feature of a simultaneous path planet. Darksiders always seek power and control. Darksiders, as stated in segments of Matrix V Gold Edition, want all to serve them and their needs. Darksiders aggressively pursue leadership positions, whether president, prime minister, dictator or emperor/ess. Darksiders prefer overt dictatorships, if they can manage it, which is why Adolph von Bush said more than once, in public, that he wanted to be dictator.

When a dictator gains power, as Bush did in the United States, the Dark increases their presence dramatically. While Darksiders love being in control, the darkest of Darksiders want to remain somewhat out of the spotlight or totally hidden, in many cases. These beings pull the strings of the puppet. You've heard of the secretive planetary rulers on Earth, but do you know exactly who they are? They are the top of the pyramid on Earth. You would not know them even if you passed one on the street. They are that Dark and that hidden. Darksiders are experiencing their path in this way.

The Bush dictatorship is loaded with Darksiders who want nothing more than a total police state and they are well underway to that goal, as any observer can see. The current batch of Darksiders in Washington love the illusionary words like 'freedom' and 'liberty'. When you hear them, think instead of their 'freedom' to strip your 'liberty' for their ends.

Darksiders glorify the military and police because they are the enforcement arms of their paranoia. Darksiders appeared to almost lose control in the 70's with the huge anti-war, anti-military, anti-police attitudes of the country. The 70's were the decade of emerging independence that was crushed by the Dark when Reagan became president. TOO much overt freedom called for a crackdown. Too many Americans actually beLIEved that they could be free to explore themselves. This could not be allowed to continue because EndGame required something very sinister. It was, at best, an island in the storm of EndGame.

On the other hand, Lightsiders also crave the 'rule of law'. In their case, instead of the overt all-about-me of the Darksider, it's the 'I'm doing it for your benefit' attitude. There are genuine Lightsiders who really DO beLIEve this. This is no excuse for their actions, but it is part of their experiential path. There are far more Darksiders who mouth this in public, but are anything but Lightsiders away from the public eye. Nothing is simple in the Game! Remember that your goal is to move beyond the polarity expressions and not to wallow in either of them.

Lightsiders can use phrases such as "it hurts me more than it hurts you" and "you will thank me for this" as they impose their beLIEfs on you in a control/experiential denial mode. Lightsiders also love to quote their non-existent deities. "Jesus said", "god said", etc are all ways of passing the buck and the old victimhood standard "I have no other choice but to do this (because 'god' said so)". Lightsiders LOVE using deity to appear to be forcing their reluctant hand. This is SUCH bullshit!

Lightsiders' 'rule of law' is either god based or nature based with today's nature based being the god of most low-Advanced and most mid-Advanced incarnates in the Light polarity realm. Darksiders' 'rule of law' is the denial of freedoms based on traditions, greed and the quest for power over others. One example of Darksider rule: even though a country's laws apply within the borders of that country, not outside it, the American Empire has decided that its laws apply world-wide which is pure Darkside, Orion and, hence, sequential path.

America is currently glorifying the military and the police. Annoying, controlling flag waving all over the place. The Dark sanitizes the news, just as in other dictatorships, to lure the naive populace that the 'rule of law' is the only way. The Orion Empire DEMANDS absolute 'rule of law' within the empire. Getting the planet's inhabitants use to this Darkside 'rule of law' is also getting Earth ready for overt Orion control.

Whenever you hear the phrase 'rule of law', a major red flag should go up in your mind. It is another major feature of EndGame and the Darkening of Earth. It cannot be stopped by using the system in any way. The only way this will conclude, to the simultaneous path incarnates' satisfaction and the grief of the polarities, is our graduation and the subsequent denial of Earth to them. It can't get here soon enough for me.

Mid-Advanced Level: Thorns With The Flowers

2/28/2004

I've just read the first significant flaw in David Icke's book, Tales From The Time Loop, and he doesn't even realize that he's being played by his Orion DNA command structure, which is typical in the smug mid-Advanced stages.

In talking about the Jesus myth and the phony Merovingian (and similar) blood line fables, he says:

"I read stories about the bloodline, including the Merovingians, 'almost dying out' and that Jesus was the last of the line who had to pass on his bloodline to keep it alive and so on. Oh please. These ancient 'royal' lines in their various forms are all over the world and, I stress again, they are passed on through the female line that history largely does not record. History follows the men. Large numbers of bloodline births are also outside marriage and the real parentage is not recorded. The bloodline depended on one man? Are you kidding?"

This is standard Orion Empire thinking ... the 'all glory to the queen and her daughters' mentality. Someone stuck in mid-Advanced levels or lower is not meant to grasp what is really going on during their current stage in the Game we are involved with. The 'woman-is-central', Orion rule is one of the keys to the sequentializing of Earth. Those involved in the planning and executing of the Earth sequentialization are counting on the unknowing, well intentioned (but pompous in many cases) mid-Advanced to assist them by lacing sequential deceptions amid a lot of genuinely good information. Remember what the 'road to hell' is paved with?

This is part of the path that they travel, and travel it they must. At the same time, there are those in Very Advanced and Final stages who can learn much from observing the action. I find Icke's work well worth the read, with tons of great information, but there are 'thorns among the vines' in all mid-Advanced materials. I have read over half of David's book and this is the first true 'thorn' I have found yet, which I am pleased with. Remember though, one poisoned thorn prick can make a person ill unless the person can either avoid the thorn or has the cure for its poison.

Of course the prime element to note among these incarnational levels is how body-centric they all are. It's all 'the bloodlines' and body ID. 'I need children to carry on my line', they say. Breed, breed to no end...until you reach a conscious level of Advancement to totally override the body's alien command to 'breed like roaches'. This occurs in phases. Refer back to Matrix V Gold Edition for more on these topics.

The mid-Advanced levels and below are still caught up heavily in body ID matters. As long as the bulk of their attention is on the body, it cannot be on the spirit. This IS a major portion of the Game. You will understand this all MUCH better in your Very Advanced stages and, ultimately in your Final Incarnation. When you look back on it all, you can shake your head at the trivial nature of the body stuff (while the Game rages on) and look at the whole experience far differently. Remember, though, as a simultaneous incarnational path entity, you currently have hundreds and hundreds of simultaneous incarnations at the body ID centric levels. That makes your Awakened Final Incarnation all the sweeter for the bitter, but necessary, growing experiences you gain by participating in the Game.

Sequential Plan: Equality & EndGame

3/2/2004

It is VERY sequential path AND Lightside to want everyone to be treated equally in all circumstances. Of course the current, most visible, American hot button issue is gay marriage. This is primarily a big whoop because those pursuing the prime Dark sequential plan for Earth want Americans distracted by something relatively insignificant in comparison to their grander plans.

I have written about the origin of marriage in previous Matrix V Gold Edition segments. Gay marriage is suppose to be about gaining the benefits of marriage that hets have and are denied to all outside of marriage. Enter Domestic Partnerships which are suppose to grant these benefits without the het religious label of 'marriage'. For one, I would MUCH rather have the Domestic Partnership situation and would not want to be married at all. As long as 2 people have the necessary benefits of living together from a legal standpoint, marriage is a non-issue UNLESS one is trying to conform. Domestic Partnership is being fair in such matters as death, hospital and affectional legalities. This should also be the situation for ANY 2 people who want to make their lives together. Marriage is a bankrupt institution. Look how the hets marry/divorce each other. There IS no 'sanctity' of marriage. It's just a legal control situation.

Even with Domestic Partnerships or just plain living together, 2 men can still call each other what ever term that they wish: husbands, lovers, partners, etc. 2 women can do the exact same: wives, lovers, partners, etc. The one term I would never use is 'significant other'. That's WAY too clinical sounding for my tastes. "This is my siggy 'o'". No, I don't think so...for me.

Certain American states have Domestic Partnerships in place, examples: Vermont, California and New Jersey. In many places you can get your partnership 'blessed' in a church. So why the fuss over the term 'marriage' if it isn't about the benefits? Yes, I know what they say, but wanting to appear as others/conforming to others' images, are sequential.

The term 'benefits', as used in EndGame societies, is part of the sequential plan as well. You won't find (what is known today as) 'benefits' for the general population in non-EndGame eras. They have, since the 20th century, become so standard that people expect them for all. This also is sequential and part of the 'one planet' plan. This includes all races, both genders, all income levels (well, actually all NON-rich levels) and all ethnic groups (at least on the surface) blending into a one-world (sequential) population. This is contrary to the simultaneous experience and denies variety of experiences.

EndGame, while rapidly closing simultaneous experiences on Earth, does give the astute observer a good glimpse into sequential (what we left behind, pre-simultaneous path) existence....kind of, that is. Refer back to Matrix V Gold Edition for more on sequential planets. Fortunately, EndGame itself is restricted by the creator(s) of our galaxy's Game. EndGame has a certain start point and cannot extend beyond certain linear years. While EndGame began in earnest during the late 18th century (actually started to form in the late 15th with the Columbus event), EndGame itself has its rules to follow and that includes its conclusion.

The Graduation Key

© 2000-2004 Leading Edge International Research Group. All Rights Reserved.

Socialism, welfare states, social security, unemployment, credit, usury, currency are a limited list of sequential control devices. Egypt did not use or have currency, for example, until Alexander conquered it. Rome was another big currency empire. Remember too, the aliens never left Earth, but, due to Game conditions, could not run rampant as they do during EndGame. Yes, it's a bit complicated, but you will understand it by your Awakened Final Incarnation.

The dis-ease of (except for the wealthy/rulers who are mostly exempt) across the board equality has become epidemic and also spawns massive victimhood. Equality denies individuality. When one graduates the Game, you are totally individual. Graduated Higher Selves proceed as the individual entity. All the bullshit of can't say/do/think/etc does not exist.

If you have to consider the total of almost what everyone else's insecurities are, you are operating on a sequential level. If you think 'I can't say/do that because this group or that sector will be offended', you have developed a sequential mindset. Fuck that shit...from my point of progression. No group, units or protected victimhood receives any deference because of their insecurities, limitations or level of incarnational advancement. Want to be shocked, just listen to me. If you are so easily shocked, though, you are not ready for beyond Game levels in your current incarnation.

Equality is a poison that is seemingly sugar coated. This sugar coating will give you diabetes of the spirit that infects your incarnation. Yes, that is part of your EndGame experience perhaps, but not mine. How you handle your body ID says it all.

Looking For Loopholes

4/4/2004

It seems to be a very popular pastime for incarnates to look for loopholes in the Game because they are unhappy with certain circumstances in their lives. This is a combination of victimhood stances, Lightsider attitudes and looking for an easy way out of the experiences required by their Higher Self. These are body ID generated, not spirit. Since the incarnating spirit is having a Low or a Mid or one of the several Advanced level experiences, the body rules, as per Matrix V Gold Edition segments. Experiences would be very limited if your Higher Self was in full control of each incarnations and, thus, there would be no Game.

With Low and Mid level incarnates, the major loophole that they beLIEve in is giving away of one's power to religion, society and/or governments. They do this because they want others to do their work for them and, when things don't go the way they expect them to, instead of accepting responsibility for giving away their power in the first place, these people can say it's the church's fault or the government's fault or the group's fault for problematic experiences. Victimhood! You can see this in everyday life, the depth of which is regulated by the degree of your observational abilities and level of Advancement.

While Matrix V Gold Edition segments are written for a specific and VERY limited section of incarnates, nevertheless, there are those who think they can handle materials that they are not spiritually advanced enough to comprehend. This, of course, is one of the attributes of the mid-Advanced level. Refer back to my recent segment on the false summit of that level. As long as one is mid-Advanced, which can last for many incarnations, one thinks that they are at that summit. It isn't until they finally move beyond it that they realize that they were not at the summit but only on a ledge moving upward.

Yet while they are at the mid-Advanced level, they can be so pompous, demanding, know-it-all and holier-than-thou. They rush into the M5G materials with those attitudes and look for confirmation of their positions. When they read information that clashes with their position, they get quite huffy and always want to argue their positions despite what I've written in the M5G Introductions. The mid-Advanced level has set up a number of fences/boxes of beLIEfs and feels that, in order for new information to be accepted by them, ALL information of value must be constrained by their level's narrow interpretations.

I can always spot a mid-Advanced level meddling with materials in M5G that they are not ready for. They are looking for the loopholes in what was revealed because not finding them means that they have more experiences and UNlearning to do in order to graduate the Game. Their attempts to engage me in arguments always fail. They can't understand why BECAUSE of their mid-Advanced level limitations. They won't understand until they have entered the Very Advanced phase. Complete understanding will come during the Awakened Final Incarnation. Everything always in its time which was planned by each, individual Higher Self.

On the other hand, the unease that they experience because of the Matrix V Gold Edition segments will assist them, in 'time', to Advance. It is the mid-Advanced who want to set up discussion boards/chat rooms because they figure that arguing points made in M5G and coming to a mid-Advanced consensus will ease their mind as a committee. You would find that most of those involved in these boards, especially the ringleaders, are into group concept forming. They also prefer that The Author keep out because I insist on the purity of the information released and won't allow it to be diluted and altered. Any site that does not have my ok is where you will find altered and diluted materials. If you want the real stuff, you have to stick with the M5 site.

Once they have a group mentality, there is the (usually) self-appointed leader/spokesperson who leads the charge to argue their positions. They are never interested in the truth unless the truth conforms to their level of progression. They are also very Lightside in polarity and get easily 'offended'.

What this should tell those above this incarnational level is that unless you can progress as an individual and not as a group, you still have a way to go with your own advancement. The Higher Selves are extremely individual in nature. The Game insists on group activities until one's Awakened Final Incarnation. This is why the sequentials progressing as a planet or system or empire at first before moving to the simultaneous path. When one enters the simultaneous path, it is a process in breaking AWAY from the group mentality and becoming an individual again. Even when all your simultaneous incarnations are summoned back, they become the individual that you are, your true self without the incarnational masks.

You will also find sequential and polarity agents passing themselves off as 'ascended masters/mistresses' and others who want you to hand your power over to them. There are those who, frustrated by the M5G existence, will do whatever they can to attempt to throw a bug in the works. Unlike with my Matrix V segments where I tell you that I could care less if anyone likes anything I write. It is what it is - my experiences and observations. Everyone's experiences will vary though certain truths will come to light as one is ready for them.

Until one has reached Awakened Final Incarnation, the search for loopholes does continue. Even though significant maturity enters the Very Advanced stages, maturity that is not found in mid-Advanced's false summit, it does take time and incarnations. One cannot make new rules to the Game once one has accepted the rules before entry, as I've discussed in a previous segment. I will tell you that there is a tremendous level of peace and knowing once you are well into your Awakened Final Incarnation. The Game is looked at vastly different than any and all other incarnational levels. Even so, the physical body, due to the DNA commands, continues to try to regain control even though the more Advanced you become, the better you can tame those impulses.

It's always amusing to zap the self-appointed 'holy' figures of the mid-Advanced, especially if they push their luck with me and wind up getting their email address blocked. Yet the Very Advanced, that I do hear from, approach me in a significantly different way. You are who you are and you should be happy with your current level. The only benefit to looking for those loopholes to the Game and beyond is that you will eventually learn that the Game has no loopholes. Once you understand that, you can progress faster and with a better purpose. Until this occurs, keep enjoying your experiences even if they include being frustrated with what you read here.

Questions to The Author

It is clearly stated, in more than one location, that I will consider questions related to Matrix V Gold Edition segments if they are not already answered by reading the book. These are the ONLY questions that readers can expect a reply to. I have been asked plenty of non-M5G questions including personal, non-M5G related issues and for opinions on books/people that readers are interested in. What these people are looking for is a teacher on several levels. I AM NOT YOUR TEACHER! I AM NOT YOUR BOOK REVIEWER! I AM NOT YOUR ADVISOR!

If there is a book that I want to recommend to M5G readers, it will be on the site. If you find something you enjoy or someone you want to listen to, DO NOT ask me 'if it's ok' or 'my opinion' first! Just do it. I don't want you to attempt to give away your power to me, because I won't take it. You have no idea what a number of stupid, irrelevant questions that I've been getting from 'the (spiritual) kiddies' who are wallowing in mid-Advanced levels and looking for someone to tell them what to do or beLIEve that they know-it-all and want to silence any differing views. Spotting the spiritually immature is easy when you have reached a certain stage in your own progression.

Another way you can recognize some of the spiritually immature (in relation to whom M5G is expressly written for) is by their email handle, a dead giveaway. If they seek to gain attention to themselves and want to be noticed, some of them seem to go out of their way to choose an email address to do so. The list of wanna-be Final Incarnations is immense and loaded with mid-Advanced level incarnates. This is ego and a body ID issue, not a spirit ID issue. Refer back to my 2 segments dealing with the mid-Advanced level, the 'problem child' of the Advanced levels. Fortunately for them, they have incarnations that have progressed beyond this 'problem child' phase, however while in it, they can be quite annoying to those who are Very Advanced and Final Incarnations. Many aren't content to be themselves but are interested in forcing others to their beLIEfs as well as silencing anyone who disagrees. They are never content to just let things be and ignore those who want to proceed on their own path.

If you do not get a reply for a question you asked me, it is because the question has nothing to do with an M5G matter not answered by comprehending the book. Those who expect their hands held while struggling to understand what they are not ready for, will have to go elsewhere. You will have incarnations that are ready to 'get it'. Meanwhile, play in the garden of the mid-Advanced, follow who you will follow... give your power away to those you adore (and who eagerly want your power)... read/learn what interests you. Part of Advancing is learning and experiencing AND deciding which books/teachers are good for you and which are bullshit. You will learn from all types of teachers at the mid-Advanced levels. Finally, remember this segment. I am NOT your personal teacher/advisor and that no response from me means you're on your own ... as it should be.

Game Pyramid Schemes

Our 3rd density, galaxy Game is built on a pyramid scheme of myriad proportions based on hierarchy. Some may beLIEve that the hierarchal pyramid is unique to the reptilians, but this is not at all true. Yes, the reptilians are the oldest race in our galaxy and the first to use the hierarchal command structure, but it is used by almost all of the galaxy today. If one of the technologically advanced groups encounters a rare, non-hierarchical planet, they rapidly move to organize them into the pyramid model.

Earth was such a planet when it was populated in past eons. Many of those stories are so absolutely ancient that you will have to either wait until you have graduated the Game to discover them or, if you have the ability, research some of their information in the Library on focus level 27. However when the alien empires made their discovery of mineral rich Earth and the current naive population, genetic manipulations and the creation of priesthoods, the first common step in a ruling structure, moved Earth fully into the Game. More on this can be found in earlier M5G segments.

Priesthoods are formed as the link between the common people and their 'deity'. In almost all cases, the 'deity' has been an alien with impressive technology that dazzles the natives. The aliens always encourage this because it sets them up as authority figures to the locals and places them above them in the emerging pyramid structure for that planet. Of course, the priests need assistants who function as go-betweens between the priest and the people. These assistants have clerks and so on. The structure gets more intricate with time.

Then there's the governmental structure to form. The people can't be independent and must be ruled by those who "know better". This has been via kings, queens, pharaohs, emperors (the king of smaller kingdoms) and so on. Royalty and the "divine right of kings" are direct alien linkages brought on by interbreeding. Refer to David Icke's materials for details on this, particularly his Tales from the Time Loop.

The reptilians have perfected pyramid authority structures with the queen as the capstone of their pyramid. Other alien groups have similar leadership structures ranging from absolute military dictatorships to benevolent rulers. This is all part of the Game's structure, hence, with few primitive exceptions, found throughout the galaxy. You will have had experiential situations in ALL Game pyramid structures by the time you graduate.

On Earth, due to heavily Orion/Sirian influence, the pyramid rulership structures exist almost everywhere in all forms of every organization. The military loves to 'command' and have a 'chain of command' where lesser ones are required to obey higher ones. Paramilitary organizations have this same 'chain of command'. This works pretty well with them, so non-military structures have adopted this phrase too. It works ONLY as long as those in it consent to follow it. Outside of military and para-military organizations, there (in theory) can be no 'commanding' of civilians. Yet, it exists because of illusions that those civilians buy into. Usually, it is because of petty potentates (local managers/supervisors) who want to control those they work with just as other petty potentates (regional managers/supervisors) control them. Where I work, they try to peddle the 'chain of command' illusion and I have told them while they can say there is a 'line of supervision', no one can 'command' me. Astute observers can draw further comparisons. These are all pyramid schemes.

The capstone for these petty pyramids is the business owner, 'supreme' religious person (pope or similar icon) who always speaks for the never present(in today's Earth) deity), etc. Pyramids commonly exist within pyramids as well: petty pyramid within petty pyramid. Put all these pyramids together and you have a planetary pyramid structure in the Game.

Planetary pyramids are ruled, in public, by an official title of some sort. In many cases this public head is controlled by a behind-the-scenes cabal of select Darksiders. Darksiders almost always prefer to have their main power ruler NOT in the public eye. The Orion queen and Sirian king are two galactic exceptions that some would be familiar with. Earth is ruled by a Dark cabal that moves the public puppets of president, prime minister, etc.

The Earth planetary pyramid is illustrated on the back of the American $1 bill with the pyramid on it and the floating capstone. The floating capstone indicates the alien ruler not on Earth but whose eye is watching. If Earth does overtly re-enter the Orion Empire, the capstone could once again be placed firmly on the pyramid. ALL that mentioned so far, in this segment, is pure Game mechanics set by the rules of the Game in this galaxy.

The Higher Selves, outside of the Game, do not operate in this manner. Higher Selves are so uniquely individual. There is a semblance of this individuality is discovered when, as an Awakened Final Incarnation, you discover that while the incarnating physical participates in the pyramid schemes, the illusion of all these pyramids becomes clear. The petty potentate is only a Game piece and has no authority outside of the Game. The Orion queen clings to power because outside of the Game/pre-graduate, that Higher Self is just another Game player. Your Higher Self is you in all of your incarnations. Yes, your Dominant incarnations decide on the Final and the Final is your ultimate 3rd density Game expression, BUT ALL of YOUR incarnations from your very first as a sequential to your Awakened Final are all YOU playing various roles in the Game.

Game pyramid structures are based on one giving away of their personal power to someone other than self. Higher Self structuring is internal and you don't give away your power to anyone. This can be a difficult concept to fathom if one is not ready for it.

After the Summoning, the Game graduated Higher Self moves on independently and makes other decisions according to what shim desires and not due to any spirit overseer. Game structures would have you beLIEve that the pyramid hierarchies exist forever. The mormons talk about the passwords and signs needed to be successful in manipulating through afterlife authority figures. The christians beLIEve that there are levels of angelic hierarchies with everyone in their place. This is common in all religious beLIEfs even if it is submission only to a god/goddess figure.

The pyramid schemes of the Game are in and of the Game itself. While in the Game and until you have reached the awareness of your own Awakened Final Incarnation, you will be immersed in the Game's structures. It is necessary for you, during the Game, to be in the Game. When you near graduation, the illusions start to unravel. The Game will go on after your Higher Self graduates but, by then, you know the Game for what it is and what it was to you.

Experiential Fences

Special M5G Vol II Segment, 15 March 2004

Fences are control devices set up to keep things in and to keep things out. The Game is loaded with fences of all types. These are set up by governments, society, religion, science and other control groups. In order to progress, one must jump or break the fences.

Experiential loops are located within fences. Fences are the corrals for experiential loops that belong within their scope. For example: in the religious fenced area, among the experiential loops you can find are – 'jesus lived & died for you', 'mohammed is the prophet', 'the 10 commandments are from god', 'the goddess created us' ... and so on. As long as one remains fenced in by religions, you can break one loop, maybe the 'jesus' loop and exchange it for the 'goddess' loop. True, you have broken one type of religious experiential loop, but exchanged it for another. Also true is that your restlessness caused this. But, there will come a time when you have broken all religious loops and can jump the fence of religion.

There are those who jump the fence of religion and into the fenced area of science and logic. To these types, science is their religion. It is also the religion of technological worshipping sequential path incarnations. Within this fence are other experiential loops, such as 'logic dictates', 'scientific verification' and others. While those experiencing these loops inside the science/logic fence tend to look down on those in the neighboring corral, the religious barnyard, in actuality they are just different experiential areas that one's Higher Self does take advantage of for the value of their unique experiences.

Government fences have loops of 'rule of law', multitudes of pyramid authority structures and so on. Those incarnations saturated within the government tend to adhere to military, police and similar pyramid structure organizations, including corporations. It IS difficult to find any employment without these structures, but those who thrive on 'chains of command' are firmly entrenched within the government fence. This is a difficult fence to break down and probably one of the last ones to go for most incarnational paths. This is a prime body ID control.

Societal fences are set up by planetary rulers and their sycophants. This was originally begun by aliens and Earth 'royal families'. Through time, it has been picked up in an ever complex pyramid structure of its own with government, media, society, religious, etc sub-loops. The societal fences share walls with all other fence set-ups. This is how complex the Game is and I am trying to simplify it here to give you a basic understanding. Societal loops include the 'A group' of people, one's rank in royalty/business/wealth and are almost all body/family based. Nothing society cows like better than lineages: Kennedy, British (or most planetary) royalty, inheritors of business empires and so on. Concern of what others think is paramount here. The fashion mavens for society, judging people on what they have on, cannot get any more body ID'd than that.

Just by the nature of fences, you are limited by them. You really do have them in various forms until your Awakened Final Incarnation. Even then, you need to overcome the significant ones to graduate. One, most likely, still needs to work to support one's self. This reflects the need to play the Game for the most part, even if you're just going through the mechanics of it. When one is fully in the Game, the mechanics are what counts and what one believes in.

The Matrix V project is THE fence buster. It provides the ready reader with the knowledge required to assist in breaking those loops and knocking down restrictive fences. As long as one is bound by experiential loops inside these fences, one is limiting themselves. "I'm only human", "logic dictates", "jesus said", "the princess is wearing" and "the law forbids" are all examples of people waving their fence posts at others to bring potential fence jumpers in line. The Game was not intended to be easy, but it is designed to be rewarding once completed.

EndGame Genetic Manipulation

Special M5G Vol II Segment, 16 March 2004

While alien genetic manipulation has occurred on and off since the creation of two genders in ancient days, as discussed in several Matrix V Gold Edition segments, EndGame has its own genetic manipulations. M5G segments mention the sequentialization plans for Earth. Genetic manipulation is part of that intent.

One field of manipulation is in medicines. The chemical alteration of Earther immune systems has been enhanced since the days of penicillin. While homeopathy and herbalistic treatments enhance and work with one's immune system, allopathic medicines create problems that the others do not. Allopathic methods have become so abused and over-used that the news has been increasingly stating that germ resistant strains abound. Immune systems, instead of being enhanced by these drugs, have become damaged by them from the reports given.

Today, people take drugs to regulate many areas of their lives that never needed regulation before. American television is loaded with commercials by pharmaceutical companies all selling their various snake oil remedies. The use of 'snake oil' is appropriate when considering the sequential aliens, especially the Orion Empire.

However, as with all other Earther and EndGame issues, it is the individual Higher Self that chooses the experience that shim wants to experience even if it means ruining the physical's immune system with drugs. Other Higher Selves (a far fewer group) choose to use alternative healings during EndGame. This is their path experience. Both are equally valid nevertheless.

Genetic manipulation is also occurring in the food chain. While those who genetically enhance foods can present glowing reasons why people should rely on them, there is the underlying thread of what this will do to the physical body.

Original food enhancements came with the adding of preservatives and then other chemicals. What gets me is to read the labels of long existing companies who claim that they are using original recipes. Yet, when you read the ingredients, you discover a list of chemicals that definitely were not used in a 19th century recipe. Mother's recipe or mother's recipe enhanced by chemical companies? Instead of sticking to natural foods created to sustain the physical, people prefer to get drug/preservative laced foods that changes their physical. The children of the baby boomer generation do not have the immune system strength of the boomers. The grandchildren of the boomers are in even worse shape.

The use of drugs and chemicals, ingested, inhaled and injected into the body, has been used by numerous alien civilizations. It is a control method. When one's system has been altered so that they are dependent on medicines or certain chemicals, they become controllable by those who provide them. Earth controllers use 'panic attacks' to con people into getting shots, such as flu. Remember the 'swine flu' shot you 'had to get' or 'risk' who-knows-what in the late 70's? Matrix III Volume Two has a lot more on these types of manipulations, if that is where your interests are.

Using the Earth, specifically American, example, notice how many people HAVE to have their drugs/medications. Where I work, everyone has their prescriptions with them (except me). The older ones have multiple bottles with them. Drugs to keep you content. Drugs to keep you living another week. Drugs to control you. This, of course, is all body ID and the body's fear of death manifesting.

Genetic manipulation, except with rare direct alien technological methods, can take years to meet its goal(s). This is why medication routines and repetitive consumption of chemical or genetically enhanced foods is required. You can exist longer, in most cases, by indulging in them. Matrix V Gold Edition readers should know that your Higher Self can have as many incarnations as required. Not only that, the body is a disposable vehicle for the incarnating spirit. One generation starts by using them. They pass on the need to the next, which increases their use. This, in turn, passes it on to the following generation. Eventually, you have the genetic effect you desire.

Attempting to halt the planetary rush to this addiction is futile at this stage of EndGame. What will be, will be, unless you are talking about what you do for your own self, since you can only be responsible for yourself.

Ancient Telepathy, Reptilians & Other Dimensions

Special M5G Vol II Segment, 17 March 2004

In my experiences, I discover some interesting information that, by itself, would not necessarily be a full M5G segment. I have decided to put a few of them in this segment.

*Some information on pre-gender separated Ancient Earthers is located in Matrix V Gold Edition. There is much more that can be researched in the Library on level 27. This group of Ancient Earthers did not communicate via spoken language. They communicated via telepathy which is far better than verbal speech. When the alien genetic scientists, in their manipulations/creations of separate male/female genders on Earth wanted to control their new slave races even more, they decided to eliminate their telepathic ability. By removing it, spoken communications had to be developed by individual groups and tribes. This also led to increased tensions due to inabilities to communicate. Of course this served the Dark and added to creating hostile thoughtforms which the lower astrals thrive in. The 'Tower of Babel' myth was created to illustrate the change from telepathic communications to language confusions. This was another function of the Earther simultaneous path of the Game. The symbolism, building a 'tower' to 'god' is better compared to the incarnation attempting to reach for shim's Higher Self. Remember that the sequential path incarnates have access to their past life memories and therefore have a reach to their Higher Selves. For the simultaneous path, this is denied. The simultaneous path on Earth did not begin with 'the first experiments on the local populations'. The simultaneous path on Earth began with the suppression of telepathy and the forcing of verbal language. Cutting one off from past life memories is a major difference in the two galaxy Game paths.

**The bulk of Matrix V Gold Edition reptilian-related discussion has been in regard to the huge Orion Empire. The reasons for this are obvious to the reader. However this is not the only area of reptilian occupation. The Draconis system is another central one. There are also large reptilian enclaves within the Earth. There are books in print dealing with that topic, including Matrix II. If one is interested enough in knowing even more about them, there are research materials in the Library on 27. If you are unable to consciously access that area, it is because YOUR Higher Self does not require it for shim's current incarnation. Your own Higher Self is the best source of information since you have had an extensive sequential path involvement. Once again I remind you that you will have ALL your galaxy Game memories again once you graduate, the post-Summoning period. You will also have all your pre-Game memories as well. *You need all of them in order to evaluate your progression and decide what you would like to next be involved with.

**Atlantis, in its latter stages, was very Dark and was involved in some heavy duty ventures. In M5G, I mention Atlantean genetic experiments and manipulations. These were done with alien assistance and technology. They also did some inter-dimensional activities. Interdimensional concepts were commercially shown by the television series, Sliders. Make no mistake, other dimensions DO exist. I have physically been in one for several minutes back in the mid-90's.*

I was driving to a friend's house. The ride was fine until I made a right hand turn onto a main street that I had driven on numerous times before. Suddenly the air felt heavier and I also noticed that there were no cars or people anywhere, although the houses seemed fine. I stopped in front of my friend's house. He was expecting me, but no one answered when I knocked. I looked into the house through a window and saw that there was no furniture in the rooms that I could see into, even though the house was furnished just a few days earlier. Something told me to pay attention to the refrigerator in the kitchen. I looked at it and saw it was a freezer top with main section bottom. I looked around at the other houses next door and still saw no people, newspapers or printed matter of any sort. I suddenly got the impression to get back into my car and leave immediately. I drove down 2 more blocks, turned left for 1 block then made another left. This time there were cars on this road. I drove back up 2 blocks, made another left and stopped at my friend's main street. Cars and people were everywhere including in front of his house that I just left. His house was full of people when I pulled up. I immediately went to see his refrigerator and saw that it was totally different than the one I just saw through the deserted house window. This one had the freezer section door on the left section, not the top and the main section on the right! The doors opened vertically, not horizontally. The last note I want to pass on here was that I knew that if I had remained in the other dimension much longer, I would not have been able to return to mine. It was an experience that I will never forget. Now I wish I would have been Awakened at that time because I would have done some other things while in the other dimension.

Neverthelss, the Matrix V project is not about different dimensions or excessive sequential/alien information. It is about providing the keys necessary to spiral out and graduate from the Game. While all these topics are interesting, you already have that (and LOTS more) information within your Higher Self. Your internal Game experiential review, as a graduate, will be SO interesting. All that has remained suppressed becomes known to you. Concentrating TOO much on that now, during EndGame, can be counterproductive. That is one reason why so much information is available in print. Dead end streets and cul-de-sacs to keep your attention away from what is really important to know during EndGame.

EndGame: Earth Planetary Spirit

Special M5G Vol II Segment, 19 March 2004

In earlier Matrix V Gold Edition segments, I mention that the Earth Planetary Spirit is also preparing to graduate in shim's progression and what extinction of species means in regard to this. In preparation for the Planetary Spirit's departure, more and more species will fade from 3rd density existence.

In mid-March 2004, the Associated Press reported that:

"A steep decline in birds, butterflies and native plants in Britain supports the theory that humans are pushing the natural world into the Earth's sixth big extinction event, and the future may see more and more animal species disappearing. The British butterfly population had a 71% population decrease from surveys taken from 1970 through 1982. About 201 bird species were tracked between 1968 and 1971, and then again from 1988 to 1991, with a population decline of about 54%. Two surveys of 1254 native plant species showed a decrease of about 28% over 40 years."

Remember that this comes from science which is very narrow in perception and their 'version' of logic rules. They have no concept of the Earth Planetary Spirit any more than most Earther incarnates have of their Higher Self. The hand-wringing and other body identified, era-ending cries will only increase. What is really a progression of the Game on Earth is being viewed as a 'tragedy'. Rather than seeing these events as part of the Graduation, they view it as a funeral. That's one of the differences between those who are polarity driven and in the Game and those who are interested in what lies beyond the Game.

The Earth Planetary Spirit is involved in shim's own version of the Summoning, which operates differently than ours will. Attempts by well-intentioned people to 'stop' this are doomed to failure. The 'road to hell' is paved with good intentions, so the phrase goes. I remember from my shamanic training how Lightsider shamans attempt to stop the Earth Planetary Spirit's progression by trying to 'heal' the planet and stop what is going on. This is because they don't understand and, as Lightsiders, don't WANT to understand, as is the nature of that polarity. Yes, it's part of their Game experience, but they are trying to stop a tidal wave with a teaspoon. It is their experience and they will learn from it.

The various 'save the (whatever)' groups around the planet may do some local ecologically beneficial things such as plant trees, help abandoned animals, etc, but when it comes to grander, planet-wide interference, it won't work. The British survey is a good example of a grander scale progression. Just as one's incarnation cannot alter the plan that his/her Higher Self has set for that (or any other) incarnation, neither can any group of incarnations (minion or otherwise) stop what the Planetary Spirit has chosen.

EndGame is in progress within the nature spirit path.

Observations & American Double Talk

Special M5G Vol II Segment, 22 March 2004

The United States, in its intended goal of 'ruling an empire of Earth', continues the polarity driven, sequentialization that is the mainstay of EndGame. In previous segments (as well as in the materials of other writers), I mention the concept that if a lie is repeated enough, it becomes beLIEved as the truth. This is why von Bush drones on and on about 'good/bad guys', 'you are either with us or against us' (no middle ground) and his religious crusade proceeds against the muslims in the Middle East at the behest of his Ashkenazi controllers in Israel. WHAT a mess! EndGame.

Using the global media, implied threats as well as religious, verbal and military terrorism, the United States is having similar successes as Germany did in the late 1930's-early 40's. American double talk uses creative labeling of 'us vs. them'. Note that American fascists are called 'neo-cons', short for neo-conservatives, but better thought of as neo-convicts since they have been convicted by world opinion as fascists. However the fascists of the previous century were called 'fascists' and not 'conservatives'. There is a fear in America about calling a spade a spade. This is because if Americans do this, then they will be expected to do something about it. The glass house of the United States is built on a foundation of lies and paranoia today. Americans are of the mindset that they are 'better' than everyone else in the world. This superiority was similar to the German superiority (as well as the Japanese) of the last century that lead to World War II.

Another American double talk is tacking words such as 'extremists' and 'radicals' to religious based groups that don't bow to Washington. Yet American religious extremists and radicals are called the more soothing-sounding 'religious right' or 'christian conservatives'. This is programming and propaganda in action. Along with this, add 'reformers' to groups who want to liberalize their countries in a way that Washington approves. Yet reformers in America are called 'anti-American' and 'liberal' as an unfavorable group because they do not seig heil to the American fascists. They would have these groups feel treasonous for not giving the fascist salutes when, in actuality, it is those using these terms that are involved in the treason, not only to the Constitution but also to the simultaneous path.

In countries that people move to counter a government that does bow to Washington, these reformers are called 'terrorists'. The Spanish people were 90% against the American/British invasion of Iraq and they voted out those who got their nation involved in that affair. While this is national self-determination, the American fascists talk about Spain giving into terrorism. American exports its own terrorism and Spain had a choice of following American terrorism or pulling out. They pulled out and now the sequential propaganda machine will churn out bullshit because Spain has chosen not to conform. Observers have seen what the fascists did to France and Germany for not conforming.

It IS true that many of the directors of the planet ARE sequential incarnates steering Earth away from the simultaneous path to the sequential, BUT there are also many collaborators in it for the power. These collaborators run from the innocently misled to full blown Darksiders who only want to be 'where the power is'. These can and do range from Low incarnations through mid-Advanced levels. Remember, it's the experience that counts to their Higher Selves. The Very Advanced and, especially the Final Incarnations observe the circus on the stage of Earth. You can gain so much from observing and noting the operations of the sequentials on Earth, the Dark and the Light polarities while still in the Game. Once you have graduated the Game, your perspectives will be significantly different, thus it is important to watch and to take mental notes. The level of fanatic behavior coupled with alien technological devices has not been so great on Earth since Atlantis.

What will YOU, in your current incarnation, 'do about' these EndGame events? Will you participate totally or in part? It is truly impossible to be expertly observational and not participate in some level even if only to share your observations with others. As before, remember there is no 'good' and no 'bad'...no matter what you hear out of Washington. The bottom line for each Higher Self is experience. Fascist America's shrill pace will increase. People will continue to give away more and more personal power to those who live to take it. Expect more dramatic events like 9/11 and Spain. Those who want your power will ensure they occur and they will find a scape goat to blame for it. They expect you to conform and to be a sequential planet and people. EndGame proceeds.

Dark Shamans & Hallucinogenics

Special M5G Vol II Segment, 23 March 2004

The taking of Hallucinogenics, to achieve out of body states, is a dangerous area to move in. It's not that one would not have an experience, but rather that there are LOTS of low astral, Dark entities just waiting for the uninitiated to enter their realm. They are expert at misleading and deceiving. They will tell you what you want to hear and show you what they feel you want to see. They will tell you a bit of truth laced with lies and manipulation.

When I was undergoing my shamanic training, it was stressed that true shamans do not engage in taking hallucinogenics. The abilities necessary to travel (as a shaman) must be developed naturally when the spirit is prepared. It takes years of study and application. Unless one is willing to commit to this, one does not have what it takes to be a shaman. There is danger in playing 'tourist' in the astral.

Nevertheless, especially in today's culture, people want instant gratification and rewards with little or no effort. Dark shamans know this, especially in areas of South America. Lightside thrill seekers will go to places like Brazil, a particular Dark shamanic haven, to indulge in a hallucinogen called ayahuasca. They have quaint names for this drug such as 'teacher plant' and 'plant of the gods' as well as others. These names are all meant to disarm the naive and seduce the uninitiated. Matrix V Gold Edition readers should know that the use of the word 'god' or 'gods' is a tag for sequential alien interference.

There are gatherings and seminars in Brazil that Lightsiders will flock to. Of course opportunities to indulge in ayahuasca are freely given, always under the supervision of a local shaman. When one indulges in this practice, one is targeted by both the lower astrals waiting for them as well as the shaman near the participant's physical.

I have been in a seminar where three female Darksiders sat in strategic locations around the group of attendees. These Darksiders spent all their time weaving webs of black energy around the unsuspecting who were listening to speakers at the podium. The distraction of the speaker allowed these women to do their thing. This is something Darksiders enjoy doing. Remember this is a Dark controlled planet in a Dark sector of this galaxy Game. One enhances the Dark's ability to manipulate them when they willingly take hallucinogenics. These encounters open one to possessions and entanglements that increase Dark's controls.

The Graduation Key

Yes, they are experiences but so is hitting yourself with a stick an experience. Where is the maturity in that? Even so, if getting drugged up is your choice, know what the consequences involve. You will have visual experiences but these are not the same as when you are in control, such as conscious astral travel after proper instruction and time.

It is the mid-Advanced levels that are constantly looking for 'short cuts' for Advancement. There are no shortcuts. That is the lesson one must learn. If you refuse to commit to what is required to learn properly, your current incarnation is not yet ready for that knowing. It is the body that wants instant gratification, not the spirit. The spirit is Higher Self and knows shim is eternal and immortal. The body only knows today/now and, due to EndGame alien interference, wants gratification whether or not deserved or necessary.

People who indulge in ayahuasca feel that they have all the answers to everything. These people may take on an evangelical role with their conviction as Lightsiders enjoy doing. Their experiences are counterfeit, but their attitude is that they are out to 'save' the world. They beLIEve that they have discovered the 'one, true path'. M5G readers know that there is no 'one, true path' but that your Higher Self creates a path for shim's own experiences and no two paths are the same but all lead to graduation from the simultaneous sector of the Game. The ayahuasca deception is a temporary delay in one's progression. Eventually, that incarnation will recover from it and move on, even if that occurs in another incarnation for that Higher Self. Individual choice must be allowed by the Very Advanced (or you are not Very Advanced), yet at the same time you need to know what their choice involves and how the experience will alter that person. Shortcut paths are an experience of their own even if the lesson learned is that there are NO valid shortcut paths.

Consider The Source

Special M5G Vol II Segment, 30 March 2004

When looking for information, always consider the source of the information you seek. This is especially critical with matters that are important to you. If you need advice about building a book shelf, you would either talk with someone who has built their own shelves or find a book with detailed instructions on how to do it properly. Would you ask a seamstress? Or, on the other hand, would you ask a carpenter which patterns or stitching would be suitable for the clothing item you are making?

While these are tangible, 3rd density examples, it is even more critical when dealing with spiritual/other density matters. Religions have set themselves up as monitors/controllers of what they want their sheep to know and believe in. The catholics are great on their "mysteries". These are topics that they say 'must be accepted on blind faith alone' and 'to question them is a 'sin''. This is a convenient way to say that they either don't know the answer or won't tell you the answer you seek. They will also say 'while their 'god' wants you to love him, it is acceptable that you fear him if that's all you can do'. Fear is always the bottom line with the one god groups. Fear that you will 'suffer endlessly for disobeying those who claim to speak for their 'god'.

Religions wrap themselves in 'matters of faith'. These 'matters' cannot be proven or individually investigated by anyone who follows them because any experimentation in occult matters is also forbidden as 'evil'. Matrix V Gold Edition readers know the story about religious control and their desires to keep you from truth, not to give you truth. Religious mythology is as active today as it has always been except that today's myth mongers have the added benefits of EndGame technology to spread their lies and controls. I invite M5G readers to explore and research with their own talents.

This is why it is important for one to develop occult talents according to their incarnational level of progression. This begins in the Advanced stages of spiritual development. It is probing in the low-Advanced levels with some 'curiosities'. It can get very involved in mid-Advanced levels with much curiosity and experimentation.

Due to the polarity nature of the Game, in the Advanced levels, there are 'control mavens' and 'myth makers' of other sorts that exist to take your power and/or lead the curious down false paths. These are all part of your experiential paths and are needed experiences. We ALL must make 'wrong choices' and 'errors'. These are part of your Game experiences. These are part of the experiential loop process. One can say 'I only want the good stuff and what is true', but unless you are exposed to the deceptions, you are not so sharp in discovering the truths.

Another pitfall is to over-presume what one knows. This is another experience that everyone must deal with to grow. Being able to say 'I don't know' is a good thing. Being able to quote your source is fine, however, how does this source know what it reports? If it is channeled material, even if the person receiving it is terrific, can you 'vouch for the spirit'? Don't go by what the spirit claims. They can and do claim all kinds of things to get you to listen. One can claim he is 'the spirit of a dead warrior'. OK ... considering that the dead don't know all that much more than when they were alive, what would a warrior know that would be of value to you? Dead 'military spirits' (if that is indeed what they are) are not dispensers of 'vast spiritual wisdom'. It wasn't part of their life experience.

Use some logic when dealing with the dead and their matters. There are many lower astral entities who love posing as someone they are not in order to get the incarnate to give their power to them and allow them to direct their life. How many have you heard say that they 'invite you to visit them on the astral and investigate what they say'? These spirits enjoy preying on people who either cannot astral travel or are not spiritually Advanced enough to see through their (usually) Light polarity appearing comments.

Astral travel is not something that you can develop JUST because you 'want it' and 'have curiosities'. It will be a talent when your Higher Self (the REAL you) decides to include it on your path. You cannot force it but you can get frustrated by not being able to develop it when your incarnation wants it. Remember it is the body that demands instant gratification. The 'I want it now' concept is pure body ID. This is also another experience on the Advanced path. Somewhere in your Advanced incarnations, though, you WILL have what you need.

In the Matrix V materials, I have mentioned that the Library on level 27 has a lot of fascinating information and is where you can go to research a wide array of topics that I classify as beyond interesting. You may be able to learn how to get there by participating in the Monroe Institute's advanced sessions, but there are no guarantees that you will. I have known people who have attended and were not able to get there. It is a very individual matter which brings attention back to that person's Higher Self and their incarnational path.

MATRIX V Gold Edition- Volume 2

The Graduation Key

© 2000-2004 Leading Edge International Research Group. All Rights Reserved.

Matrix V Gold Edition, as stated in my Introduction and in several segments, contains my experiences and direct observations. Unlike others who demand or urge followers, I do not. I go out of my way to discourage that. While I present what I have discovered, if someone does not like it or chooses to disregard it, that is fine with me. I have given the Library as one source you can access IF you are able to. The Monroe trilogy is another source of excellent information based on what he saw and reported.

There are many things written in M5G and this Vol II that are fascinating to me and why they are written. There are other interesting topics that I choose not to write about, some of which are far too Advanced to write about and better discovered as roles when you are ready. The Matrix V project is far from everything that you could know, but it includes many of the topics that I am interested in. Interests vary with each Higher Self, although some interests are similar, such as 'the Game basics'. The Q&A's extend this further and contain information that is not found in the segments.

I have been asked questions on things that I have zero interest in. They may be a burning curiosity to the questioner, though. This is not my problem and I am not your research assistant. Many things are way into areas FAR more Advanced than the person with the question. This is easy to say because if they really needed to know, they would have the ability to get their own answers from a reliable source.

It is great to talk with others who have similar interests in this field and share experiences. It stimulates your desire to know more and, hopefully, to break some experiential loops and move beyond an experiential fence or two. It stimulates your individuality. Yet, beware of tainted tales and flawed information. The polarities would love to mutate the M5 materials and well meaning individuals can make erroneous statements about M5 segments because their incarnation is not at a sufficient level to interpret the data. Again, just as with earlier parts of this segment, consider the source. Can the source astral travel and visit the Library on 27? How does the source justify their answer? If it is opinion, that's fine, but make sure that you understand it is opinion. While everyone is entitled to their opinions of the M5 materials, make sure that you understand what is opinion and what is what I've written.

The Matrix V materials are not meant as 'biblical' or 'the only source of information'. Make your own path and own informational sources if you read something 'uncomfortable' to you. If you are encouraged to learn new things or move in new directions because of what you have experienced with the M5 materials, make the new direction your own and unique to you. The goal of the Matrix V project is to unleash your individuality and assist you in rediscovering who you really are. This is a significant part of EndGame for the Earther simultaneous path and a bane to those who seek to stop or delay this graduation. This group includes those who want to spend their time 'looking for parts of M5 that they disagree with' and 'crusade for others to ignore it'. These are the self-proclaimed 'protectors of the masses', the 'priests of the New Age' and the 'shepherds of the flocks' of mindless followers all seeking to do the same thing religion has been doing, while looking for new 'evils' to 'protect them from'. The M5 project has caused significant ripples throughout the Earther simultaneous path experience.

'M5 makes us uncomfortable and since we are uncomfortable', they whine, 'we want no one else to be comfortable with it'. These are the 'crabs' in the 'bucket' who try to pull down any other 'crab' who tries to leave the bucket. Consider the source here too. What don't they want you to know? Why do they fear individual exploration and discovery beyond what the group feels comfortable with? Those, for whom the Matrix V project is written for, know the answers to that.

If you don't consider the source of information, you take chances and can be misled. Ask for credentials of those who cast your horoscope or advise you in a professional way. I had one woman tell me in November that she wanted to know what book to get so she could learn tarot quickly to make money for the holidays! There are lots of these types out there. The same goes for people who have computer astrological programs who are not astrologers at all. It takes a lot of learning to become a real astrologer. It also takes years to become a real shaman. There are those who 'read a book' or go to a weekend or week long shaman group and feel they are ready. I met a man, who along with a woman, have set themselves up as shamans not far from my area. I asked him where he studied to become a shaman. He replied "I read a book". Nothing more, no formal training, but VERY Lightside in approach. Remember the 'road to hell' is paved with good intentions. Always consider the source.

Sequentialization of Earth During EndGame

Special M5G Vol II Segment, 31 March 2004

In previous segments I mention several areas of 3rd density Earth life that are being sequentialized in order to deny the simultaneous path Higher Selves of our experiential ground. This is part of EndGame. It has always occurred during our galaxy Game on each planet that has been designated for the simultaneous path experience when that planet has entered the EndGame stage. EndGame always develops when it is time for that planet's involved simultaneous path Higher Selves to graduate. It has happened before. It is happening now on Earth. It will happen many times yet on other planets so designated.

The Hollywood media makers have a significant role in the sequentialization process. In one area, they produce the propaganda, disguised as entertainment, which enhances the sequential planet atmosphere. You can view this in numerous films where children are heroic and adult acting. This is a simultaneous inspired role due to past life memories being retained upon reincarnation on a sequential world. The only limitation that a reincarnated person has on a sequential planet is that they must wait (in most cases) for the physical body to mature in order to use full physical abilities. However they retain their mental abilities and, thus you have the 'child prodigies' as on Earth.

The child with adult memories and mental abilities is sequential. When reincarnated, they are able to continue along their sequential path. This, of course, is 'amazing' to simultaneous incarnates, who do not know what is going on. These are the 'children of the blue ray' or some other similar nonsense that one hears. This is what THEY want you to beLIEve. It really is sequential tampering during EndGame. It IS within the Game rules that they are able to do this. It IS part of the EndGame experience, just as those who are alerted to the process (as through the Matrix V project) are to realize when they are Advanced enough.

Spiritual position IS important, because EndGame must proceed, be observed and experienced. It cannot be halted. When you have progressed enough to know that it IS just an experiential Game, and the physical body is ONLY a means to an end, THEN you can appreciate the significant aspects of EndGame. You don't resent what EndGame involves, although you may be increasingly uncomfortable being surrounded by elements of EndGame.

The Graduation Key

It is this discomfort that is necessary to enhance your desire to move beyond the Game and embrace graduation. This is a significant concept to grasp.

Meanwhile, Hollywood increases in putting out propaganda, disguised as 'entertainment', where children are 'equal' to adults. This began decades ago when 'experts' decided that children should be treated as equals, after millennia of experiencing their roles as children. Emphasis has been on increasingly earlier learning and speeding up the maturing process which includes sexuality (as long as it is heterosexual). Watching old Leave It To Beaver episodes of the late 50's-early 60's, one can easily see the extreme differences in children then as opposed to now. While creeping sequentializing had already begun (talk to children as if they were adults), it is far more pronounced in today's media where children talk/curse/yell to adults and parents 'as if' they were 'equals'. Physical discipline of children is a simultaneous path event. Talking to children as 'equals' is a sequential path event. If you cannot grasp the difference, you are FAR from ready for the Matrix V materials.

Similarly, the 'elevating of females over males' under the bullshit guise of 'equality' is sequential, but primarily reptilian Orion, as per other M5 segments. The encouraging of female violence in media (slap, beat, etc of men by women) is part of the Orion scheme of sequentiality. The submissiveness of males to females is the same. Refer back to earlier segments for more on that.

It is simultaneous path to have the genders on vastly different experiential paths. ALL simultaneous path Higher Selves know this, as well as the benefits/liabilities of each gender before entering the Game, and more so before choosing the simultaneous path. One proceeds much faster and has greater varieties of experiences when the genders are not equal. Remember, as a simultaneous path Higher Self, you are having experiences as both genders in many, many different situations at the same time.

Take this even further with 'races'. The sequential thought is 'we are all created equal'. This was due to the alien genetic scientists who created our physicals 'equal' in serving them. This does not mean 'equal in ability or tasks' but equal in 'being less than them'. On the simultaneous path, equality is non-existent in so far that each race and ethnic sub-group presented unique opportunities and experiences, which are not equal but different. The non-homogenous world is needed for a simultaneous path planet. Vast and radical differences in peoples are valuable for a simultaneous path. No, each racial/ethnic group is NOT equal to each other. Celebrate the differences. Instead, the sequentialization of Earth spawns planetary 'eternal victims' who are only body ID'd. The body ID'd are ALWAYS victims of one sort or another during EndGame.

During EndGame, this uniqueness is rapidly disappearing. American culture seems to be the planetary 'icon' for much of the world. Equality of races, ethnic groups, genders, ages, etc are all simultaneous path features. The lists of 'you cannot say/do/think' are all sequential, where they progress as a planet and not as individuals. There is a current Public Broadcasting Service (PBS) commercial spot with two marionettes on stage. One of the marionettes uses his sword to cut the strings, much to the surprise of its manipulator, and escapes from the stage and out of the building while the audience watches. The message at the end urges the viewer to be independent. Simultaneous path Higher Selves take note, and sequential path tamperers on Earth think about breaking free of the sequential mind set.

For the sequentialization of Earth, it is important that the population go along with the planetary victimhood, obey the sequential 'rule of law', give your power away to authority and think with a 'single mind'. When John Kennedy gave his inauguration speech mantra of 'ask not what your country can do for you, but what you can do for your country', he was presenting a sequential thought form. The government is meant to 'serve the people by the constitution'. Switching the idea to 'the people serving the government' is the reverse and creates a royalty of its own. This Kennedy mantra is still used today as a reminder that you must become as a group and sequentialize. At Disney World in Orlando, Florida, you can go to EPCOT's American theater and with all the American Empire flag waving, the mantra will be broadcast in a programming mode.

As an added note on that EPCOT propaganda pavilion for the United States, pay attention to the song sung at the end of the stage presentation. Besides the Kennedy mantra being recited in it, and the flag waving, the song has several references to the 'eagle flying high'. The eagle, a major bird of prey, is one hidden reference to the Orion Empire. Note that eagles have been national empire symbols for a long time: Rome, Germany, Russia, etc. I have noticed that Dark shamans also love the eagle symbolism. Personally, I find the eagle symbol very pompous and egotistic, yet it remains a popular icon. The eagle and the snake are dual symbols of Scorpio which is connected to the reptilians. There is more that can be researched by the individual if so interested in this topic.

'Religion' is one area where sequentialization conflicts arise. It isn't enough that the one god religions all bow to the same deity, there are major differences due to simultaneous, individual cultures that have colored these one god religions. Hence you have major conflicts between christians and muslims. Both use sequential 'be like us' methods and huge lists of 'you cannot do/say/indulge in'. In the quest for global dominance and the planetary religion, they offer significantly different sequential options based on the alien group that was responsible for stimulating the origins of that religion. It's the sequentialization that matters to them, not necessarily the tone of that sequentialization.

ALL religions that proselytize are sequential in origin/intent and desire planetary beLIEf control. The jews think of themselves as the 'chosen people' and, as the name suggests, should be 'the royal caste of Earth's religious' because if 'god' has chosen them, they are better than everyone else therefore their will must be considered before others and, hence, their 'anti-semitic' weaponry and 'guilt trips'. You can't get more ethnically racist than that. They do not proselyte, but are heavily body ID'd with genetics being dominant. THAT is very sequential, as M5 readers can deduce.

Notice on the global news that the current drive for conquest that the United States is involved in is all about religious-centered conflict. The groups they don't like are always identified by their religion. It's the muslims, the islamists or the islamics today. What they are conditioning the people to hear is that 'the religion of islam is terroristic'. It is no more or less terroristic than the christians or the jews. Israel used terrorism to become a state as did the United States, China, Russia, and many others. Today, though, instead of identifying people by their country of origin, it is far more common to identify them by their religious belief as long as that belief clashes with the majority of the other side.

This is a sequentialization process that focuses on the elimination of a competing belief system. A sequential planet must have a dominant belief system. In this case, there are two dominants fighting for 'top dog': christian and muslim. The Romans had the best philosophy. They allowed everyone to have whatever deity that they wanted and added a conquered areas deity to their own. It was only the jews who resisted this, because they are 'the chosen people' after all, and 'better than all others'. THAT is a bigger story for the interested observer to research. The Roman method was simultaneous in structure because EndGame was not due at that time.

Earth sequentialization is what spawned the 'European Union' and 'Euro currency'. The eventual sequential aim is a single planetary government and currency. NATO is well on its way to becoming the planetary military enforcer by continually adding new nations to this American dominated alliance.

There are MANY areas of sequentialization now on Earth during this advanced stage of EndGame. The astute observer can locate them. What I have given you here are only a few areas of the suffocatingly restrictive sequentialization Earth is undergoing.

The sequential path is fine for those Higher Selves who wish to experience that path. By now, you should be able to see how slow that path is, by severely restricting individuality after reading the M5 materials. The sequential path considers the simultaneous path something to be eliminated. It is feared and when something is feared, elimination is desirable by the body ID'd. The Game's rules prevent them from attempting this until it is time for the EndGame phase. Even then, the sequentials must adhere to the rules OF EndGame. On the other hand, by the time EndGame gets under way, the simultaneous path Higher Selves are pretty well ready to graduate. EndGame serves the purpose of wrapping things up for us. It also brings 'the folly of the sequential path' to front stage, where the simultaneous can observe the restrictions/limitations and transformations from a simultaneous planet to the regressive sequential.

Observe and look at the details. Notice how situations were and how things are now. Compare and contrast to gain the most valuable information. Graduation is rapidly approaching. Meanwhile make the best of the situation while you still are able.

Sequentialization, Conformity & Graduation

Special M5G Vol II Segment, 6 April 2004

Do you notice how much stress is placed on people not being 'challenged' or 'offended' in any way during these times? The sequentialization of Earth during EndGame increases the demand for conformity. Conformity means increasing the list of perceived reasons to become offended.

The feeling of being non-challenged and a single planet with a single people is sequential, extremely SLOW in progression and VERY regressive to the simultaneous path Higher Self. The more Advanced your incarnations are, the more repulsed you are by the simultaneous path's restrictions being imposed around you.

It was the Victorian period of the 19th century that really spawned conformity on a grander scale in European traditions. An example: using the holiday known as Christmas today. In pre-Victorian times, it retained much of the original pagan feasting, chaos and cavorting that had nothing to do with the christain religion. You can find this discussed in print or via a History Channel documentary if you are interested in more. What it did do was change the seasonal experience from having a riotously good time to becoming a solemn religious affair that is now also very commercial. The commercialism is very Orion in nature and the spend concept is conforming in itself, yet a popular image that I have seen in print and figurine is Santa Claus, with hat off, kneeling before infant Jesus. Talk about 2 fictional characters in play! Another concept that was sent to me: crucifixion + Jesus = crucifiction. How true!

Conformity had to come in stages, slowly at first, much more rapidly today. Conformity now includes other far worse elements. 'Thought crimes' is one significant development. Each 'minority', covered by this awful concept, basks in its apparent glow of 'protection'. This is a deception. This is also meant to limit simultaneous path experiences, not enhance them. Punishing someone for how they think IS a crime against the simultaneous path. It is a strong attempt to mold one's thought processes to conform to a sequential mind-set. If you have to ask 'why' after reading Matrix V Gold Edition Vol I, you are far from ready for the Matrix V materials.

Removing simultaneous independence is a necessity for converting Earth to a sequentialized planet. The population must be conditioned to obey in thought as well as deed. The fly in their ointment, though, is that EndGame is a double edged sword that they beLIEve they can 'control'. While they continue to interfere on Earth and bother the simultaneous path incarnates with their sequentially narrow pathways, the Graduation Key is now in place and the Earther simultaneous path incarnates have a way to move beyond the Game. The Keys contained within Matrix V Gold Edition Vol I, both here on 3rd density Earth and in the Library on level 27, continue to provide what is necessary to graduate the Game on an individual level and resonates through the entire Earther simultaneous experience. All that is needed now is for each individual Higher Self to decide when it is shim's time to graduate.

Graduation IS an individual decision and not a group thing. The group movement idea is sequential. This is why I have stressed that you not be hung up on a 'date', such as '2012'. When the Earth planetary spirit is ready to graduate, THEN you will have a planetary wide Event of huge magnitude. When it is time for your Awakened Final Incarnation to issue the Summoning with your Higher Self's Nexus of Time, then it will be YOUR Event. I have seen what this looks like and it is very impressive with cascading, thrilling emotional/visual accompaniment. It is this Event that you should be anticipating, although when this will occur is ONLY known to your Higher Self. Not even your Awakened Final knows that UNTIL that Final has completed shim's incarnational experiences. Saying that the experience is 'breath taking' is an understatement.

'Once your Event occurs and you, as your graduated Higher Self move on, the Game WILL continue in 3rd density. Remember, for YOU it is all about YOU. Think within, not without. This gives you something to think about. It's all part of EndGame!

Do You Hear What I Hear?

Special M5G Vol II Segment, 11 April 2004

While during certain one-god holidays throughout the year, one hears such statements as: 'the place where Jesus was born/died/lived', 'the place where Mohammed was taken to heaven' and 'the mountain where Moses received the 10 commandments'. I am not talking about hearing this propaganda from the sheep who beLIEve in this mythology, but rather on the secular news, both in print and electronic. The national news, claiming to operate on facts, reports this bullshit all year around. What they SHOULD be saying is 'the place where christians beLIEve that Jesus was born/died/lived', 'the place where muslims beLIEve that Mohammed was taken to heaven' and 'the mountain where jews (and other one godders) beLIEve that Moses received the 10 commandments'.

The Graduation Key

© 2000-2004 Leading Edge International Research Group. All Rights Reserved.

Even so 'qualified', these comments 'acknowledge' that such historical characters 'actually existed' as their followers present them today. Do you hear similar news reported statements attributed, in an unqualified manner, to non-one-godder mythologies? Nope. This is because the media is interested in forming opinions and not relaying what is true. It has always been a tool for propaganda by the government and the dominant religion (if in favor by that government) of the country that the media is located.

The Americans closed down an Iraqi newspaper because it was reporting things that the occupying invaders do not like. Yes, they will coat this closure with comfort words for those back home, but in actuality, they fear not being in control of thought formation. If you cannot control the public media, you have a potential threat to controlling segments of the masses.

You should notice how non-mainstream media is constantly belittled by the major organs and those who insist the people tow the 'party line'. The use of slander words like tabloid, liberal, radical or subversive all want to frighten the public away from such news sources. Of course not everything that every independent news sources say is totally unbiased. This is part of the Game. What those in control fear is that by listening to both sides that you may actually be able to figure out exactly what is going on and those people may choose to no longer be sheep.

The Americans refer, in their media and by other governmental propaganda machines, to 'those foreigners who disagree with the American positions' as 'militants', 'radicals', 'extremists', etc., BUT those who bow to Washington are called 'moderates', 'freedom lovers' and 'patriots'. I have mentioned this in an earlier segment. These are more control-the-masses manipulations.

BeLIEf control is a central theme in the sequentializing of Earth. Since Earth is intended (by them) to become a sequentially incarnating planet, the population 'must have the same (or VERY similar) beLIEfs' both in religion and global views at the expense of simultaneous individualities. This is one of the 'thorns on the flowers' of technology that the alien sequentials introduced on Earth.

The astute observer must be aware of both brazen and subtle methods of thought control by those in power on Earth during EndGame. These people rely heavily on the majority of the public accepting their propaganda and thought control. That the majority is minion incarnate also should say something to you in this matter.

The term PC for 'political correctness' is a sequential concept as well. It enlists the diverse groups of simultaneous experiences and attempts to create a unified idea of 'what is and is not acceptable' by the planet as a group. It pits individual groups against others in order to force this single mental opinion, hence the bogus 'hate crimes' in the United States.

I have said in earlier segments that the United States was created during EndGame as the 'center' of the sequentializing of Earth. An incorrect line that Americans are taught, in elementary schools, is about the U.S. being a "melting pot" for all of Earth's various peoples. Just by its phrase alone, one should be able to note the sequential alien touch. Melting everything into one creates a single experience. I had always said that America has been a 'stew pot' in the past, not a 'melting pot', because in a stew pot, the carrot is still a carrot even if some of the flavor of the rest of the stew enhances its flavor. The meat is still the meat and so on. This has ALWAYS been met with verbal resistance by those I have shared this with because it is NOT the sequential party line.

With such things as instant communications, gender problems (many previous segments), sequential 'equality', Equal Opportunity and Thought Crime laws, plus lots of other sequential concepts, the heat has been increased so much that the stew pot is rapidly becoming a melting pot of sequentialism. The eventual plan is for a single dominant planetary language and a single race that is a mixture of all races. This has all been planned for a LONG time. Part of this involves eliminating the African black race, as stated in earlier segments.

When you consider the sequentialization process, refer back to comments about alien worlds where everything is homogenous and progress is planetary. One may think 'that can't happen here'. The sequentials have other thoughts and they appear to be getting their way (carrot) even if some of the flavor of the rest of the stew enhances its flavor. The meat is still the meat and so on. This has ALWAYS been met with verbal resistance by those I have shared this with because it is NOT the sequential party line.

What they refuse (or are unable) to consider is EndGame in total. The sequentials don't care about the simultaneous path Higher Selves graduating and leaving Earth. To that they will say 'good riddance'. What they are not fully aware of is the Planetary Spirit's individual graduation which will deny the sequentials what they most want. This is why certain aliens have been tampering with Earth grid points to try to 'contain' the planetary being. With the Graduation Key in position, thanks to the efforts of many Earth simultaneous path Higher Selves, the Earth Spirit will also use the Graduation Key when shim is prepared to graduate.

Continue to observe the sequentialization of Earth. Watch how 'thought crimes' brings people into line by forbidding you to act/think independently. 'Thought crimes' fans are HUGE into saying what you can or cannot do/say. The sequentials put that device into being and the majority of the people have embraced it as an artificial method of 'gaining control'. Remember, while that may sound good to a body ID'd person, a Very Advanced and (more so) and Awakened Final really knows what is being brought about.

Do you hear what I hear? It all depends on YOUR current incarnation (who is reading this) and the path your Higher Self has chosen for this incarnation. You have your own incarnational destiny to follow. Nevertheless, just reading this information sends a vibration of awareness. EndGame!

Prophecy Cautions

Special M5G Vol II Segment, 16 April 2004

Most western residents are familiar with 'biblical prophecies'. We are reminded of them by the religious sheep as well as their various herders. Remember the one about the 'anti-christ' who would be 'wearing a blue turban' or hat? Remember back in the first Bush war against Iraq that television reporters in Baghdad seemed to spend significant time before a large portrait of the Iraqi leader wearing a very visible blue hat? I recall all the fuss made by locals when they saw it. "He's got the blue hat, so he must be the anti-christ!" they gasped and clutched their pearls. (A note to those who don't get the pearl phrase, it is an expression used to express a distressed gasp of surprise that was known by pearl necklace-wearing housewives during late-50's/early 60's television comedies. This phrase is used in mocking terms today by some people and I enjoy using it here.) What the media was doing was attempting to manipulate those who beLIEve in this warning from the bible in order to gather support for the Iraqi war of the last decade.

If you don't already know, just as the story of Jesus is historical fiction, so is the religious book known as 'the bible'. It was created by those who sought and continue to seek control of Earth's people under a one god banner. The same goes for any religious, dogmatic literary icon but especially those of the 'one god' sheeple.

In order to enhance fears and create a 'structure' of 'the coming' of the 'end of the world' and 'the reaping of fiery hells' for those not 'faithful', enter 'the book of Revelations'. The christians have been tooting the 'end of the world' and the return of their fictional Jesus for almost 2000 years and the return is always "soon". Yeah, right.

With the alien generated technologies on Earth now, it is far easier, in these latter stages of EndGame, to shill 'approved religious thought'. This is why, after years of indoctrination to the signs of the 'end of the world', that they only needed a dubious 'war condition' as well as the 'one god'-centric Middle East and a 'heavy dash' of Israel to seed some 'biblical prophecy' weeds. This is why just showing the blue hat picture, without comment from the news on it, went over so well. 'Eliminate the anti-christ! It's a 'religious duty'. Just remember one thing: the whole premise is based on beLIEfs and historical fiction. They are all meant to keep you from discovering who you really are.

In the late 1980's, the heat was turning up on prophecies primarily generated by the book of Revelations and Nostradamus. Even documentaries on them would be produced. I was even contacted by a major network requesting me to be involved in their prophecy series. I declined even though I still had not completed my Awakening or was involved with the Monroe materials yet. I knew it was something that I did not want to be wrapped into.

While there ARE some very good prophecies out there, one needs to be especially cautious when they sprout from religion. Religions have their agendas. Governments also have their agendas and won't hesitate to use (in a more discreet way) prophecies to stimulate support. They will also mock prophecies that may interfere with their agendas. Therefore one should be very cautious when dealing with prophecy and always consider the source. Prophecies seem to always be used as fear and control generators. Another Revelations claim is that 'Jesus will come and punish those who did not obey'. That will happen right after Santa Claus strikes your name from the 'good' list leaving you with coal/sticks or nothing while the Easter bunny shits in your basket for being 'bad'. These are just fables to keep you within the fences and experiential loops that are part of the Game. It is your quest to dismantle and move beyond them. How you do this is determined by each individual Higher Self.

Remember when the year 2000 was supposed to be 'THE year'? It turned out that the year 2001 turned out to be more 'THE year' due to 9/11, which the American government allowed and assisted to happen in order to dramatically increase the police state and advance the sequential one world realities. But, being a Cancer country controlled by a Cancer, fascist president, the problem is always external and 'not my fault'. The external 'enemy' that they originally created becomes 'the fault' they need today.

There are many prophecies dealing with 2012. In a previous Vol II segment, one of the wilder ones is where all your electrical appliances/conveniences will suddenly attack people on their own in December 2012. I touch on 2012 being just a date and one, while potentially interesting, should not be of significant concern to your simultaneous path. You will move according to your Higher Self's plan.

Your Higher Self knows FAR more than you can ever consciously know as an incarnation of your Higher Self. Of course this is due to the nature of the Game. Hence, developing trust in your Higher Self and eliminating external salvation systems/personal power takers is central to your graduation. This becomes evident in your restless Advanced stages of progression and culminates with your own Awakened Final Incarnation.

EndGame: Sequential Involvement on Earth

Special M5G Vol II Segment, 22 April 2004

The sequentialization of Earth is discussed in several M5 segments. Part of the sequentialization of Earth involves several alien groups actually being placed into Earther families or posing as native Earthers. This is not limited to shape shifting reptilians, who are primarily interested in planetary control structure infiltration, but also other humanoid aliens both Orion and non-Orion oriented. EVERYONE has their agendas. The reptilians concentrate on Earther power structures because they intend to bring Earth fully into the Orion Empire system. Much of the reptilian agenda is covered in David Icke's materials as well as in the Cathy O'Brien book, Trance Formation of America, to name two sources.

While those are dramatic in nature, there are far more subtle approaches taken by other alien groups. There are the Meier Pleadians from Erra who do walk freely among Earthers since they are European appearing. There are others who will pass as fairly average families who may come to an area for a while, then move away when their agenda is completed.

There is another method far more involved, in my opinion. I know the adult child of such a person. The father of this person was brought to Earth as an infant and exchanged for the dead child of an Earther family. I was told that this was accomplished during a vehicle accident that resulted in the death of the Earther infant. This was many years ago in the early 20th century. The alien baby looked human in all respects and I was told that the family never knew of the switch.

The aliens kept in regular contact with their compatriot throughout his life. Remember, sequentials retain their past life memories and it is only the physical body that changes. The adult child of this alien told me several stories about growing up with the alien parent and the stories were fascinating. I spoke with the Earther wife of the alien. She was very reluctant to talk about this and rarely answered my many questions. The aliens who visited her husband were referred to as "the boys".

One story, that I was told, involved the family driving to a very remote location in the American northwest. When the car arrived (this was in the 50's I believe), there was a small alien craft hovering just above the ground. The family remained in their car while the father walked over to the craft and talked to "the boys". Apparently "the boys" were frequent enough visitors to the family.

A question that I had for the adult child of this alien dealt with the offspring's blood type. I asked this person, "What is your blood type?" I was told that "they can't type my blood". This person also had individual encounters with "the boys" at irregular periods during the life, although not for the past several years from the time when we met. I was told that the alien writing was not at all like our and used a lot of dots in the script.

When I got to know the adult child, the father had been dead for several years, although I did see a picture of him. There was nothing that I could see that would make anyone think that he was not an Earther.

My point in telling this story to you is to make you aware of a different type of sequential involvement on Earth during EndGame. I have no idea what the particular agenda of the sequentials in my story was, and any conclusions I may draw would be speculation only. BUT, what is significant is that this is only ONE story of many. Some sequential agendas involve attempting to counter the Orion agenda. Do not be foolish enough to think this means that these want to 'help' the simultaneous path incarnates. Refer back to previous segments about the Game.

The simultaneous path is a higher, FAR more challenging and rapid acceleration of Game involvement. The simultaneous path is the one that is taken by a Higher Self preparing for graduation. The sequential path is SO slow, but it indulges those Higher Selves who want total immersion in the Game for many millennia (way longer than a game of Monopoly!). It is part of these sequentials' path to be involved on Earth during EndGame.

Some of the sequentials on Earth actually do want to observe the simultaneous experience during EndGame. This would be because their Higher Selves are preparing to make the leap into the next simultaneous path planet set for our galaxy Game. Some sequentials beLIEve that they can 'duplicate' the simultaneous benefits without committing to the simultaneous path. This is self deception and totally impossible. They will eventually learn this.

Child prodigies and other sequential manifestations on Earth have become more commonplace. The 'special status' that many Lightsiders give to them, as 'children of the blue' or the indigo ray' is another deception. The desire for children not to be treated as children, but as adults is very sequential because sequential children have adult memories in the child body. Hence you would treat such a person as an adult but, in reality, they are sequential pathers.

Treating a simultaneous path child as 'an adult' does them a disservice and attempts to deny their childhood and related experiences. It is an EndGame manipulation that goes along with the sequentialization of Earth during EndGame. Be aware!

Notice how it is society's structures and institutions that are behind the sequentialization. Add to this the various sequential skills who demand uniform thought, uniform treatment...everyone the same...everyone equal...nobody 'better' than anyone else. These and more are ALL sequential icons. They began subtly at first, but now the heat is up to its highest because the simultaneous graduation is set and the Graduation Key is in position. Be aware and continue to observe and have the experiences that your incarnation is designed to have. EndGame proceeds.

American Pravda

Special M5G Vol II Segment, 23 April 2004

On the national news last night (April 22,04), there was a feature on the American government's "Truth Matrix" in Iraq. It showed translators watching all Arab media and listing Arabic claims about the American invasion of Iraq. The "Truth Matrix" showed a long list of claims about American war crimes and next to each summary was the label 'false', 'unverified' or 'true'. However they did not linger enough on any summary for it to be read.

The television commentator was complaining how the Arab media is inciting the uprisings and spreading fears. Hey, it sounds like what the American media is doing over here which is spreading fear, lies and anti-Muslim propaganda.

The resistance bomb went off and 21 Iraqi kids were caught in the explosion meant for Iraqi collaborators. Of course the American media makes a BIG deal about that, but when the American military murders hundreds of civilians including far more than 21 kids, that's ok. This is part of American fascism and American 'superiority'. Similarly, the death of 4 American mercenaries is BIG news that resulted in the murder of hundreds in retaliation by the American Imperial troops.

Pravda was the name for the Russian communist party daily. Pravda is Russian for 'true'. What Pravda printed was what they wanted you to believe was true. The Germans and others did similar things with their propaganda organs. Today we are experiencing American Pravda in the media.

The news feature went on to complain that the Arab media was not 'responsible' (read: American blinded) as well as other negative, un-Americanisms. This is all meant for public consumption in order to keep the majority of the people in line. The Germans did the same thing. The majority of the American public is today what the majority of the German public was in the 30's and early 40's. Everything was fine with Hitler's leadership as long as it went well. Bush is America's fascist figurehead today. Once he is gone, another will follow. It is the way of empires. The 2 party system that America has is really "how do you want your poison served". Those in real control will have their way.

Go WAY back to Rome. At first Rome was a republic (just like America). Rome elected senators to run the government. With time, the government became corrupt and instead of the government doing the will of the people, it became the royalty that the people served. The republic of Rome became the fascist imperial Rome with its caesars. The American Congress is well down the same path of corruption and royal-acting. Bush is the latest (and most overt) caesar, similar to a combination of Caligula and Nero.

Fascist governments are nothing unique to the 20th or 21st centuries nor are they limited to political organs. The 'christian church' organization is one example that has been around for almost 1800 years with their 'priesthoods' as 'royalty'. When the church ruled, the Dark Ages were in full bloom since the very nature of the church is Darkside despite it trying to hide in a costume of Light.

America today, under the 'manifest destiny' rule of long ago, has its 'empire'. It is corrupt. It is arrogant. Under caesar Bush, it is hated by others as the Roman empire was hated. This is a major planetary loop that is also fueled by sequential manipulation during EndGame by introducing technology that makes control, especially media propaganda, much easier. The American public holds the ultimate responsibility for this just as the German public did in the last century because these publics allowed this to happen due to the lack of will to accept responsibility.

Yes, it is part of the Game. However, one must be mature enough to claim the responsibility. Those flag wavers are having their experiences. Those resistance fighters are having their experiences. Those American anti-imperials are having their experiences. No matter what YOUR experiences are during EndGame, it is the need to accept responsibility for them (no matter what your reasons may be for engaging in them) that is really important.

With the Graduation Key in place, events are moving faster and the polarities are scrambling for 'control' of something that they will not be able to gain control of. Notice how EndGame empires are not long lasting? Ancient major empires like Egypt and Rome lasted a LONG time. EndGame empires, like the European expansionist ones do not. The deeper we get into EndGame, the shorter the empire lasts.

In the 20th century, the German empires (notably Hitler's) did not last 1000 years, but only about 14. The Russian communist empire collapsed rapidly. Now we have the American empire which will also collapse. The current empires belIEved that 'technology' would be the device to retain their empires and that 'more technology' meant 'better control'. Technology is a 2 edged sword. Then there is also the sequential alien factor to consider. This factor is responsible for the perception which uses the reptilians as the 'role model' for 'technological superiority'.

Despite all the chaos of EndGame, the bottom line is that the simultaneous graduation and, far more dramatically, the Earth Planetary Spirit graduation, will bring all empires in motion on Earth to a close. Gather your experiences and make your observations while you can. There has not been an EndGame planetary cycle for a LONG time in this galaxy Game. It will make for some good Higher Self, post-graduate conversation.

Sequential Infiltration

Special M5G Vol II Segment, 26 April 2004

Several segments in Volume II deal with sequential activities on Earth during these latter stages of EndGame. Sequential infiltration is increasing at this time. This is part of the nature of EndGame for the Earth cycle. The aliens have spent so much time coveting the simultaneous experience, but not fully grasping the nature of the simultaneous path. They think that just by 'living on Earth' they can 'experience the simultaneous path' without the liabilities of accepting it. This is impossible. As mentioned in earlier M5 segments, the sequentials also fear 'contamination' FROM us, not from them TO us. Hence they are particular who they involve themselves with on Earth and who gets to get involved. It is all quite controlled to maintain the sequential limitations.

In Matrix 5 Gold Edition Quest of the Spirit, in the  $\Sigma$  materials at the back of the book, it is written how  $\Sigma$  interacted with one alien group that believes it can duplicate Earther simultaneous emotions with technology. Other alien groups hold that by living among Earthers and interacting with the simultaneous inhabitants that they, too, can absorb the simultaneous benefits. This includes intermarrying with Earthers (on rare occasions) as shown in the Sci-Fi Channel series, Taken. These aliens beLIEve that the key is in the genetics since the sequentials are so body oriented with their intact past lives memories.

This shows a severe misconception of the simultaneous path. In earlier M5 materials, I mention several times that a 'leap of faith' is required by the sequential path Higher Self before shim may enter the simultaneous path. It is this expression of faith in self and internal resolve to handle the unknown that propels the sequential path Higher Self into the fast track simultaneous path. Until that leap of faith is made, on an individual level, that Higher Self does not comprehend all the intricacies of the simultaneous path, only some of the generalities. The Game designer(s) conceived this as a major maturity processing decision. It is NOT the genetics. It IS the Higher Self where the power lies!

Yes, the aliens have been watching Earthers and meddling with us (within the rules of this galaxy Game) since the creation of dual gender Earther humans. Yes, the aliens have acted as 'masters' and 'gods' to these Earthers. Yes, the aliens have tried to derail these Earthers and slow their progress with many difficult problems. YET, the simultaneous path incarnates continue to Advance due to the nature of simultaneous incarnations vs. sequential incarnations. This involves the massive data/experiential transmissions from each of the Higher Self's incarnations throughout all 'time' periods that that Higher Self is active in on Earth.

The sequentials marvel at this (whether they would admit it or not) but cannot quite get what is going on and why they are left mystified. So they continue to dabble in their fruitless endeavors with us. The sequential aliens try to get us to give away our power, to worship/follow external and false deities and to hold them in awe. Despite this, we continue to progress and, in the Very Advanced stages, actually get on the high road of regaining our power which culminates with the Awakened Final Incarnation for each Higher Self.

There is something within the sequentials here on Earth that unsettles them at this time. This involves the latter stages of EndGame and, now, the vibration of the Graduation Key. The introduction of minion incarnations didn't stop us. The tampering with our lives and various controls over Earther governments have not either. They HAVE given us various different EndGame experiences.

The sequential aliens beLIEve that when the simultaneous graduate from Earth that they will be able to just complete their takeover. Many of them think that alone 'will put them on a simultaneous path'. Other alien groups just want to take overt control of Earth for the wealth of the planet with no regard to spiritual advancement. They have all viewed the simultaneous pathers as flies in their ointments. Our vibration, while here on the simultaneous path, is like a beacon of UNconvention. We are the 'unconventional unconventionalists' as per the Rocky Horror Picture Show terminology. We don't conform on a spiritual level. Our vibration is way too different from all the others and they feel this.

Remember as well that the sequential path Higher Self does not have a Final Incarnation. The sequential path Higher Self does not have Very Advanced incarnations. These are features of the simultaneous path since the sequentials are progressing as a planet and not as an individual. While a Higher Self can progress from the sequential path to the simultaneous path, the Higher Self requires Game graduation from the higher vibration that can only be gained from simultaneous path experiences.

The Graduation Key

© 2000-2004 Leading Edge International Research Group. All Rights Reserved.

The tactic of trying to force Earth into a 'one world' people and forcing thought control/thought crimes for daring to think differently are part of the sequentialization of Earth. Many M5 segments deal with various arms of the control octopus of sequentialization. Yet, once the simultaneous pathers have graduated, Earth could become sequentialized. There will be battles over which group(s) will win here with the Orion Empire being the favorite since Earth falls in the Orion containment sphere.

But, remember the Final Straw: the graduation of the Earth Planetary Spirit which will be VERY dramatic. Once the life of the planet is gone, the life that only a Planetary Spirit on the Nature Path can give, Earth will become a dead planet. Any more about that will just have to wait. Your graduated Higher Self will have full access to all this information if interested.

Then the next simultaneous path planet will come into play elsewhere in this galaxy and FAR from Earth. The Game will go on. The sequentials will have to find the next wave of simultaneous incarnates to play with. Meanwhile we Earther simultaneous graduates will have far more interesting experiences that make the 3rd density Game pale in comparison.

The Genie Complex

In several M5 segments, I discuss how one's Higher Self will directly interfere with a 3rd density event in order to prevent an interruption of the path chosen for shim's incarnation. These are very rare occurrences and only happen in very key situations. I have also suggested that if you have questions that you go within and ask your Higher Self. This remains a valid concept. When one does this, the query is processed by your Higher Self. What happens is a direct result of the path that your particular incarnation is on and where that incarnation is in the scheme of the Higher Self's plan. In the overwhelming set of examples, the query is a body oriented one. This is reflected in religion where 'believers' constantly bombard their 'deity' for 'favors' like it was a genie in a lamp. What one should learn from this experiential loop is that the genie is never 'in'. It is a Game deception especially popular with Low and Mid level incarnates within their religions. When one progresses to the low-mid Advanced levels, they look for the same genie in a new lamp. The 'new lamp' is non-mainstream religions. The genie is still 'out', but you can run into lower astral entities who try to play the deity that they seek. New levels of progression bring new and more complex experiences.

I have written over and over that the Matrix 5 materials are NOT for just anyone and written for a very small audience on Earth. Nevertheless, the mid-Advanced genie seekers have found M5 too. Their new 'genie' is their Higher Self, but their misconceptions persist. These people, who think that their Higher Self 'is there to answer all their questions and ease their inquisitive, curious minds by direct responses' to shim's incarnation, are deceiving themselves.

Even after writing a segment about pseudo-conversations with one's Higher Self, I am still receiving an occasional email from someone who claims to be chit-chatting with their Higher Self as if this was a local friend over for some tea. This does not happen and I will reinforce this point with this segment. You indeed should pose questions of a spiritual nature to your Higher Self, but then let it go. IF your Higher Self decides that shim's incarnation (you) need an answer, it will most likely come in the form of a new teacher, a new book, an idea of how to pursue your quest, a new friend comes into your life, a trip that presents an opportunity or any of a myriad of options.

The people who are most prone to want to carry on conversations with their Higher Self are usually the mid-Advanced levels. Refer back to my segment on the False Summit of the mid-Advanced levels. This level beLIEves that they are 'the top of the incarnational experience road' and, hence, 'deserve full access to their genie'. Uh-huh. Since these people are at this level, they will defend their desire to possess their genie. Luckily, with experience and other incarnations, they progress beyond this level, but while there, they can be as stubborn as any 'one god' religious fanatic.

There is a level of spiritual maturity that your Higher Self requires in order to gain certain access to what is allowed to be shared with a Game incarnation. The Dominant Incarnations have some of this, as per previous M5 segments. The Awakened Final Incarnation has the maximum allowed access for an incarnation still operating in the Game structure. Not once have I desired, much less attempted, to directly interact with my core Higher Self. It is just not done by the Game rules. I realize this and have no problem with it. While I was in the Awakening process, I did have access to my Dominant Incarnations when necessary, but this was not as often as one might think. I still had to have my experiences and learn from my mistakes. This is part of the maturing process. At my current stage, I have moved far beyond my Dominants and have not needed any input from them. They even told me this a few years back. One thing my Dominants never were to me was as my personal 'genies'.

The process of spiritual maturity takes many incarnations, but it moves most rapidly when one has overcome the heavy limitations of the mid-Advanced levels. Your own Awakened Final Incarnation knows this and has earned the position. As for those who insist that 'their core Higher Self has moved in and gives them daily advice and question answering', you are having an experience. It may even be a set-up to lead you somewhere you may not have gone before. It may be an attempt of some being to have you give your power away to them. Remember Monroe's meeting of a 'god' spirit in his book who wanted to control him? That you are having that type of experience is something for you to process. What it exactly is for you, I cannot say, except that your core Higher Self does not interact with shim's incarnations in that way. The favorite way of deceiving spirits is to give you 'truth' so that you will follow. Once one is in the following mode, then the manipulation begins. Just be aware.

Anti-Semitism, Anti-Zionism & Chosen People

Special M5G Vol II Segment, 29 April 2004

Anti-semitism is based on the concept of one 'being against the semitic ethnic group'. It is not a 'racist' idea since there are 4 standard Earth races: white/black/red/yellow. Most of the jewish religion is composed of white, European Ashkenazi. They are not a semitic people. The sephardic jews are semitic, as are the arabs. The Ashkenazi want to be considered 'a part of the semitic group' even though they are not. BUT, if you repeat a lie often enough, people tend to consider it true.

Without getting into a lengthy review of easily accessed historical data, anti-Ashkenazism (the correct term intended by the use of anti-semitism today) has been a factor in Europe for a long time. The purpose of this segment is not to delve into that but rather to point out what anti-zionism is about and the Dark polarity behind it.

MATRIX V Gold Edition- Volume 2

The Graduation Key

© 2000-2004 Leading Edge International Research Group. All Rights Reserved.

In the historical fiction of the bible, the '12 tribes of Israel' are considered their god's 'chosen people'. The jews are one of the '12 tribes', although many today think that they are the ONLY tribe. This makes the jews 1 of 12 'chosen people' tribes in this fictional tale. The reference is to the ethnic group of the tribes. Therefore, one must ask: is it the religion alone or the ethnic group that makes them 'chosen'?

Since the religion is non-prosthetizing and marriage within the tribes is demanded, it would be accurate to say that it is the ethnic group and not the religion that makes these people 'chosen'. This would exclude the Ashkenazi who do not belong to that group despite their mass conversion hundreds of years ago. If it was that following the belief structure of the 12 tribes' deity made one 'chosen' by that deity, this would include the christians as being 'chosen' as well. The muslims have the same deity as the '12 tribes' and the christians, so, using that theory, THEY would also be 'chosen'.

Yet, over and over again, you hear that the "jews are the chosen people". Ah hah, it's back to the ethnic thing again. Since the other 11 tribes of Israel took off to other areas of the Earth, note that only the jews keep up 'biblical traditions'. Do you know of other non-jews who have the same traditions that the tribes supposedly kept as per 'the bible's old testament'? If these other 11 tribes abandoned their religious heritage, are they no longer 'chosen'? Did these tribes actually exist, or is it a concocted fable based on history (historical fiction)? The answers to these questions are found in the Library on Level 27. Even the semi-observant reader of the M5 materials should be able to connect the dots that I have given on that.

So, the only other history we have is that of the jewish tribe. During the Roman Empire, these were the ethnic, semitic jews. They were so full of their 'chosen by god' 'status' that they were always in conflict with the Romans. This ethnic superiority complex has been around for a LONG time and continues today with the idea that 'Israel has a right to exist because 'god' gave them that land'.

You should also note that the sephardic jews lived among the locals in Palestine and other areas and got along with them before the Ashkenazi stirred up that mess in the Middle East. You are correct in thinking that there is far more to this whole set-up than a fictitious deity's alleged proclamation of thousands of years ago. Although that is the reason given, since the European and American majorities dance to the 'god' of this group. The British and then the Americans became the patrons of Israel with a surface explanation of the 'right by deity' claim combined with the World War II European event. That event of WWII was also a major set-up and so many people died to further an agenda by others of the same ethnic group. This is part of the Darkside plan on Earth and the general population of Europe and America has fallen for it.

You notice that it is the Ashkenazi propaganda organs that try to keep people convinced of the deceptions of "anti-semitism" and to keep people on the defensive in order that fascist Israel will be allowed to proceed with the Ashkenazi Dark agenda. Of course, this does not mean that ALL Ashkenazi are involved. Far from it. There is a relatively small group that pulls the strings and who didn't hesitate to sacrifice millions of "insignificant" members of their ethnic group to gain far greater power. At the same time, there are also many who buy the crap that those in control are always spouting.

When I was at college in the western U.S., I had one mormon teacher who announced to the class that he is a zionist and proud of it. He is a mormon and ethnic European. He, like the Ashkenazi, are not semitic, although the mormons claim to be the successors to part of the original missing tribes of Israel. However if you take this claim to be true, that would make the mormons, who are identified as members of one of the tribes of Israel, a semitic people. Taking it further, that would mean if one is anti-mormon, they would also be anti-semitic. Think about that mess!

Anti-zionism is on the same level as anti ANY other political unit in any part of the world: Anti-American, anti-French, anti-Brazilian, anti-Portuguese, etc. Anti-zionism is anti-Israel but does not mean anti-jewish (or anti-semitic in popular terms) although the Ashkenazi are trying their hardest to make the world beLIEve that they are the same thing. After all, since they are the 'chosen people' of god and 'god' gave them this land, if you are anti-Israel, you are anti-god. <<Gasp>> Since the 'one god' of the christians is the same guilt dispenser that the 'deity' of the jews is, you should be able to see the lines of control. This control does not extend to the muslims since they have the same 'deity' and, based on the historical fiction of the bible, are half brothers of the tribes of Israel. In this event, you have different interpretations of 'the deity's intentions'. They all claim to be correct, yet they can't be, can they?

That this one 'god' can foster and encourage such hatred, conflict, war and misery should tell you something of what is behind this whole mess. This is a Dark agenda at one of its worst on Earth. The alien sequentials have been heavily involved here and the Darkside lower astrals are thriving on the conflicts. Notice, too, that the most gruesome events connected to this group are occurring during the EndGame phases.

Don't buy into the anti-zionism = anti-semitic. It is a lie and it is a control device intended to silence Israel's fascist agenda. While you will find that all anti-semitics are anti-zionists, most anti-zionists are not anti-semitic. Separate the religion from the politics. In today's news (4/29/04), CNN said that, during a conference in Berlin that:

Representing the United States, Secretary of State Colin Powell told participants the two-day meeting was necessary "to stamp out the new fires of anti-Semitism" -- and to take a stand against any criticism in which Israeli leaders are "demonized or vilified."

Notice that they are equating anti-semitism with anti-zionism. This is something that the Dark is desperate that the world beLIEve because belief in it is vital to the Dark's program for the sequentialization of Earth. It doesn't matter that the Israelis are engaged in genocide and many other Dark acts. Remember, they are the 'chosen people' of god. 'How dare anyone, who isn't chosen, question the acts of those who are!' The reptilians also believe that they are 'the chosen race of this galaxy'. Yet, there are also Israeli citizens and jews around the world who oppose what is going on in Israel. These are ignored by the leadership and other religious fanatics of Israel, yet they are heroic for standing up to them. These are simultaneous incarnates who disagree. Minion incarnations follow whoever feeds/waters them. Sequentials will follow the polarity agendas.

One more point to bring to your attention is that being a 'chosen people' refers to a body ID alone. It is a sequential concept as well and, hence, the major attention to physical lineage. This is one reason why the mormons are so deeply into bloodlines. Since the simultaneous path tells you that your Higher Self has incarnations in ALL races and most (if not all) ethnic groups on Earth, the concept of a 'chosen people' cannot exist except in the myths of the sequentials, who spawned the idea when they meddled on Earth ages ago.

Unfortunately, most people I know have bought into the Dark agenda. As I've said in many segments, if it weren't for EndGame, Earth would become sequential. The simultaneous incarnates are leaving and the sequentials believe that Earth will finally be theirs to rule. It's ALL experience however, no matter which role, if any, you choose to play in.

Sequential Agendas: Concentration Camps & The EU

Special M5G Vol II Segment, 3 May 2004

American and British soldiers, both male and female, are caught torturing Iraqi resistance and political prisoners. Both governments express "shock" at this. The true 'shock' comes from these incidents becoming public. The American government runs a concentration camp in it's Cuban holding area where people, suspected of planning to do something, are held without any legal recourse, which is anti-American at its core. These people are subjected to humiliation and torture. The vast majority of the American public either says nothing or encourages it to continue.

This is very similar to the German situation in the late 1930's and first half of the 1940's where those who were considered a threat (real or imagined) were imprisoned/tortured in camps. The Russians were known to have done the same during their communist rule as well as other communist countries past and present. This is very similar to the Israeli situation today where Palestinians are subject to imprisonment and torture. When allied forces forced the German civilians into the camps to see what had happened, the Germans all said that they didn't know. The same would happen today in America and Israel if these countries were 'liberated'. Don't you just love how that word is used!

The imprisonment and/or torture of people, who are considered by their country's leaders to be a threat to their system of rule, is a sequential process seeking to impose itself on simultaneous, independent thinking incarnations. The concentration camp idea is also something that has emerged during the latter EndGame period.

Suppression of thought and action is a must within sequential planets. Recall from previous segments that the sequential path requires a planetary progression. Hence all individual, independent advancement is extremely controlled to what will benefit the planet as a unit.

What makes the American torture in Iraq and in their Cuban camp so horrid is that at the same time while they engage in these activities, they are continually spewing "liberty", "freedom" and "democracy". True 'democracy' is the rule by the majority. TRUE 'democracy' is a sequential process. Use your own deductive process to connect the dots here.

One American soldier involved in the torture said that they were never 'instructed on the Geneva Convention'. This is a refusal to accept responsibility, which is epidemic on Earth today. His thought being that 'since no one told me that I couldn't torture anyone, it was fine to torture them'. Their actions were either very minion or very sequential in approach. A minion incarnation will not hesitate to engage in anti-social, destructive behavior and most low-end criminals today are minion incarnates. How many M5G readers would have to be told that torture/cruelty are Dark issues?

Certain sequential races (passing as Earthers) will also take a lot of pleasure engaging in the Dark thrills of torture. Reptilians and Sirians are two of those races. However there are other sequential races that will justify the heavy hand to stifle non-conformity.

I have mentioned certain Pleiadians who are extremely homophobic. The reptilians are all bisexual. It is their nature. They would not be a homophobic group nor appear on Earth as one UNLESS it can be used to further their agenda here. However certain Pleiadians, behind many of the one-god religions, are very homophobic. See where this is going?

The Pleiadians (and certain other sequentials) would love it if ALL EndGame misery was blamed on their enemies. In actuality, these Light appearing sequentials are behind much of the problems, although in different areas than the overt power-grabbing reptilians. Nevertheless, both sides will play the same cards in order to try and gain their way and the upper hand over the other. Bush, for example, is a Darksider who attempts to convince the average person that he favors the Pleiadian (Lightside) philosophy.

Darksiders do their thing in the 'dark'. One rarely sees their true nature in action. They will use Lightsider words to mask their true intent. This is why Darksiders love the excessive use of 'democracy' and similar intending words. Remember when all the communist countries were called 'democratic republics' that were neither 'democratic' nor 'republic'? The same is true today with American and it's empire building as was with the communists and theirs.

Another sequential device in operation today is the European Union and the NAFTA American counterpart. The EU is moving much faster however. This is a major part of the One World concept and this, as I have said before, is part of the sequentialization of Earth. I was pleased to see the Polish demonstrators against their country's EU membership.

Remember, too, that it is always national leaderships that push for the One World agenda because these leaderships are in bed with the sequentials who are pulling the strings on Earth at this time in these top levels. They don't care what the people think and you are free to support the One World agenda. Anything but that support can have the heavy hand slam down.

Sequentialization is moving rapidly during this latter stage of EndGame. With Vol II - The Graduation Key in your possession, you have many new insights to the sequentials, their agendas on Earth and EndGame. You must do your own investigating. Whatever you decide to do, it is YOUR experience. Keep your attention on the news. Armed with the M5G series information, you will watch the propaganda with a much more critical eye and sort what they want you to beLIEve and what is really happening.

Minions & Vegetarianism

Special M5G Vol II Segment, 3 May 2004

While I have written about minion incarnations in M5G Quest, I want to make a few more notes on that topic in here. The rejection of eating meat or fish by certain religions (notably hindu) and their reincarnation belief has also been covered. One new thing I will point out is that minion incarnations are all coming from the animal kingdom stream and not the plant kingdom. The Earth Planetary Spirit would never allow that to occur nor would it ever be necessary on Earth even during EndGame.

It is vegetarianism combined with the mysticism of the hindu, which has created the attitude among several holier-than-thou, western Lightsider groups that vegetarianism is the way of the truly Advanced being. This is as far from the truth as one can get, but they cling to this beLIEf. That is their experience for that incarnation.

Most of the minion incarnations are of the herbivore faction of the Planetary Spirit. They retain their inclination to eat as they did when they were incarnated as an herbivore despite being in an Earther human physical with omnivore teeth. Even as an herbivore would never eat meat, an herbivore-incarnated minion never will as well. They may even become physically ill if they attempted it under duress.

There are some simultaneous incarnates, especially in mid-Advanced ranges, who desire to try vegetarianism due to the Indian mystic connection and the incarnation's search for Advancement. This is not the same as the minion incarnation at all. You do not have the cravings to seek your truth when minion incarnated. As an example, look at those hungering hindus who would rather go hungry than eat meat. They know that they need Earther human compatible food; so grazing in the grass would be counter-productive. Pass the rice and beans. I wonder how many mid-Advanced vegans would remain so if they were starving and could only find meat to eat. It's easy to dabble in the vegetarian experience at the mid-Advanced level when there is plenty to choose from.

There is a vegetarian where I work. He is not a mid-Advanced level, but rather an upper Mid level incarnate and is only a vegan due to his wife's demand that he be so. We had an office holiday party and I made sure that there was a variety so he would have some items to eat. However, just like vegetarians are, he found it necessary to make those 'dead animal' comments to others who were eating meats. Not being one to tolerate this bullshit, I started talking about all the plant spirits he's killed by eating the salads. Since he has zero spiritual knowledge (other than what he picked up on vegetarianism from his wife), he said nothing and left everyone alone after that.

The vegetarian talks big talk about animal spirits but you never hear anything about plant spirits from them. The Planetary Spirit values each of them in equal manner. Review past segments for more on the Nature Spirit path. Vegetarians, being Lightsiders, are also huge on dispensing guilt. To those for whom the M5 project is in existence, you should be able to handle that easily. It's always good to see how they react to the 'killing of plant spirits'. What they are unable to grasp is the difference between the body and the spirit. The body for the Nature Spirit realm is no more or less than it is for the simultaneous path Higher Self. It is a vehicle for experiences. So, eat whatever you feel you would like to without guilt. The Earth Planetary Spirit appreciates working in partnership with the simultaneous path Higher Selves.

Volume II: Final Words

Special M5G Vol II Segment, 30 April 2004

This second volume of the Matrix V project is more Advanced than the first volume. This has been done on purpose and according to plan. If one cannot handle the information in the first volume, one would be even more at a loss with this book.

I also know that certain sequential incarnations have read volume one in the hope that reading it will give them what they seek from the simultaneous path without having the experience of being ON the path. Others are just curious about the simultaneous path in general. A sequential path incarnation reading the Matrix V materials would not be able to comprehend it well at all. It was not written for that path Higher Self even though I have mentioned much about them. The key is the individual Higher Self and the path shim has taken. Without Very Advanced and an Awakened Final Incarnations in shim's experiential stream, you just cannot 'get it'.

So, my advice to any sequential incarnational Higher Self is to take the leap of faith and enter the simultaneous path to reap the benefits of it. Individuality is the prime key to Game graduation. Planetary advancement concepts are only the first phase of the galaxy Game. You MUST strike out on your own and proceed to the second phase in order to graduate. Once you have taken that challenge, things will become clearer to your Higher Self. You will make this decision when you are ready, of course, but that you are investigating the Matrix V project and dabbling on Earth indicates that your time for making that leap of faith is approaching. Curiosity is the seed of change.

EndGame is getting rapidly Darker and Darker as the sequentialization process accelerates and the enforcement of the sequential mentality becomes dominant. The vibrations of this process are very unsettling to those in the Advanced stages of their progression. The more along in that progression that the incarnation is, during these latter stages of EndGame, the more unsettled one becomes. Yes, it IS an observational banquet, but it is also like taking a bath in mud since the vibrations are so heavy and Dark. This tends to increase one's desire to have less to do with general group activities, especially in Very Advanced and Final Incarnations. You may feel that the liabilities outweigh the assets for prolonged associations of that sort since group activities usually encourage conformity of one sort or another.

The sequential process *demand*s conformity by those under its rule. The thought/speech police and self-appointed enforcers of the sequential mandate are everywhere and actively seek violators of the New Order. One recent example of this was in Washington state where a teacher reported a 15 year old to the FBI for daring to draw Emperor Bush as a 'devil with horns'. This is just one of many daily examples of sequentialization that are seen everywhere. I frequently make comments at work JUST to hear the sequentialized make those "you can't say that" remarks.

While this sequentialization appears as a violation of the Game rules, it is not at the current stage of EndGame that we are experiencing. What is occurring now is what the sequentials have 'always wanted to do' to the simultaneous on Earth. Refer back to my M5G Quest segment about how former sequential acquaintances (of a now simultaneous path incarnate) may try to lure that spirit back, all the while not being aware that the now simultaneous path Higher Self could never go backward in progression. Even though this in the form of alien visitations occurs very rarely, it nevertheless does happen.

MATRIX V Gold Edition- Volume 2

The Graduation Key

As some sequentials think that since, in their linear progression, they have found that NO simultaneous path Higher Self ever returns to the sequential path, they believe the next best thing for them to do is 'take over Earth' and force sequentialization. This, in itself, is an externally Light polarity concept. They believe that they are doing this for our 'benefit'. In reality, it is a Dark polarity endeavor - seeking to force their will over someone else/deny experiences - with the Light 'covering' of "for your benefit". Yes, when one examines Game actions, these actions can become very complex. When one considers the reptilian motivation, you will find an overwhelming Dark vibration. When one examines certain other aliens, one may find an overwhelming Light vibration. BOTH activities have a similar goal: the suppression of individuality and end of the individual, simultaneous experience. Both can also work together at times for their common goal and worry about what will happen (after that goal is 'reached') at a 'later date'.

What the sequentials have on Earth now makes their efforts far more fruitful: technology. This includes electronic and chemical methods to weaken the incarnation's resolve to resist the sequentialization process. This includes replacing the natural immune system with one dependent on drugs. Minion incarnations are also very basic and will go along with these sequential lines. Yet, throughout all this chaos and control, we have a unique situation on Earth now. What is going on now has not happened since the EndGame cycle of the previous simultaneous planet in our galaxy and will not happen again until the next EndGame cycle of the NEXT simultaneous planet in our galaxy.

In each of these EndGames, the final action has been carried out by the graduation of that planet's Planetary Spirit moving on and leaving a dead world. A Graduation Key similar to ours was also in place. During the last EndGame, no doubt we were some of the sequentials involved. Each EndGame has its way of motivating many sequential path Higher Selves to take the leap of faith into the simultaneous path.

Between the Matrix V Gold: Quest of the Spirit and this Matrix V Gold: The Graduation Key, you have been given a massive amount of data that can easily be expanded greatly. That is not my purpose. Just as the sequentials have a window of opportunity during EndGame, so do the simultaneous path Earth Higher Selves. This window ushered in the Matrix V project. Through that project, the Graduation Key has been established and a unique set of vibrations extends throughout Earth's simultaneous path experience. There is a demand for these books at the Library on Level 27.

In the Gold Edition Quest of the Spirit, you have all the keys you need to break your experiential loops and successfully graduate the Game. In the Gold Edition Graduation Key, you have information that adds much more detail. Other keys are included in the Graduation Key special segments. These keys are intended for a slightly different audience than those for whom the Gold Edition Quest was written for. Those who activate these keys will understand what I mean.

The other day, my chiropractor said that he believes that when he dies, 'that's it. Nothing more!' I told him, "in that case, you're in for a BIG surprise." Remember, after graduation and your Higher Self has completed the Nexus of Time operation, all your memories are restored. When that occurs, I WILL have much to say to other Higher Selves as we look back on our 3rd density Game experiences. It was a most interesting experiment. Now, as to where I go from here...

Statue of the Dragon at the UN

3/9/2003

BBC America news was filming at the United Nations and one of their backgrounds was this large statue of "St" George killing the Dragon with a huge spear topped by a cross. You might think that this monstrosity came from Britain. It was a gift from Russia and Gorbachev wanted that christian spear prominent. The body of the dragon is made from the scrap of an ICBM.

This myth of George and the Dragon started in England. Notice, for one, that it's always THE Dragon and not A dragon. There is only one THE Dragon and that's the Orion queen. The George myth is a story based on the rebel Orion royal who took our solar system from the Orion queen. George is not who you see. George is the rebel queen. People at those times would not believe that a female could kill a dragon. The Ninhursag, the Earth representative of the rebel queen, has been in London for centuries. Read Matrix V Gold Edition for more on that story.

When Gorbachev assisted in the dismantling of the Soviet Union, seemingly out of nowhere, it was because of the intended return of the Orion queen who will take back what was stolen millennia ago. M5 Gold contains more on this return and a bit on the current queen who replaced the one who let this system slip away. Gorbachev and other world leaders were informed of what was coming and how their houses had to be cleaned to deal with the situation. The Soviet Union went out almost overnight. The Warsaw Pact is barely a memory today. This wasn't a revolt of the people. This was a severe change of direction by those in power.

The statue, given to the UN, demonstrated Russia's commitment to the rebel queen in 1991. The political leaders once felt that by uniting, in most areas, behind the rebel queen, they could withstand the Orion queen's forces. This was a step in getting people ready to engage an alien invasion.

However, the rebel queen, knowing that she is no match for the Orion queen's overwhelming military superiority, has fled this system. This leaves her former lackeys in a quandary. I suspect that if the Orion queen's emissary shows up, the current leaders (many are reptilian) will try and curry favor with the new ruler. We will have to see how this plays out IF this Wild Card indeed does come into play.

If you read David Icke's books, you will discover much on the dragon/reptilian claws on Earth and I suggest that if you are interested in knowing more that you visit his site. Of course the ultimate research area for these topics is the Library on focus level 27. These are 3rd density matters that are of major interest to low-Advanced through mid-Advanced levels. Very Advanced will not find themselves hung up on this but will find it just another interesting facet of the Game.

Deep Space 9: Emissary

3/13/2003

The Star Trek: Deep Space Nine series is being released on dvd. I have just watched the first episode of season one: Emissary. In this episode, Sisko (Mid level incarnate) enters a wormhole where the Bajoran proclaimed 'deities' reside. When Sisko meets these deities, it turns out that they have no concepts of linear time, the Game or the reason for 'corporeal existence'. This is an excellent example of some topics I wrote about in Matrix V Gold Edition. These beings are a group who wander creation in search of something new. Refer to The First Experiential Loop - Part II as well. They have yet to know of the various versions of the Game in 3rd density and think of 3rd density incarnations as lesser beings than they are. They also deny having anything to do with the Bajorans as deities. Sisko gives them many concepts that they are totally unfamiliar with. This is very true of pre-Game participant spirits.

Sisko, being a Mid level incarnate, doesn't know who he is either. They never do when in Low and Mid levels. He states that 'humans hold life as most important'. This is true IF one is body ID'd! Very Advanced and Final Incarnations know that this is an illusion and is another experiential loop to break. Sisko is talking to beings with no concept of the facets of the Game and who cannot grasp what he says because they have not yet chosen to experience the Game.

What these beings do know is that linear time does not exist and they present Sisko with several events from his life which, they say, he is still living. This is true. He asks why he can't get over a particularly hard experience from his past. They respond that it is not 'past' but is as current as any other portion of his life. This concept, while commonly known among those not in the Game and those who have graduated from it, is suppressed by Game players until they near the end of their participation in the Game. Even then it is not fully understood until the Final Incarnation summons all shim's incarnations back within.

What is most ironic is that the sequential Bajorans and the simultaneous Earthers are FAR ahead in progression over these very limited beings known as wormhole aliens throughout the Deep Space Nine series. If you have an opportunity to watch Season One, Episode One, the Very Advanced and Finals should be able to glean much from the interaction between Sisko and the 'deities'.

Science Fiction Universes

3/14/2003

The universes of such sci-fi icons as Star Trek, Babylon 5 and similar love to show Earth humans traipsing all over the galaxy like the aliens do. They are interesting to watch. Bob Monroe said he enjoyed Star Trek, but also noted that it would never happen. While sequential aliens of all types DO move about the galaxy, Earth remains quarantined due to it being the simultaneously incarnating planet of this galaxy. There is no way that the sequentials want simultaneous incarnates, especially of Very Advanced levels running about and being a spiritual 'infection' risk to the sequential path.

Theoretically, Earthers freely interacting with aliens in the galaxy could happen once we simultaneous Higher Selves have departed from Earth IF the Earth was repopulated by sequential incarnates. However the Earth planetary spirit will also be moving on to higher experiences for shim's path. Monroe talked about the pristine Earth of the future in his trilogy. Earth would not be pristine unless it was free of the Game and sequential aliens taking the natural wealth of the planet. Earth will be removed as a part of the Game in 3rd density. This is frustrating to certain alien and polarity groups and they are recklessly scrambling to find a way to prevent that from occurring. Third density incarnates cannot override the Game or the simultaneous Higher Selves involved in it. It is their (sequential) experience to meet defeat in this quest.

Keep Toilet Paper Handy!

Adolph von Bush has begun his war and the propaganda mills (known as the media) have moved into high gear. There is SO much bullshit coming out of Washington and the toady media that you better keep toilet paper nearby to wipe the shit off the tv screen/radio/newspaper! This IS the Game. The American government has learned that most Americans will respond favorably to anything IF the words like 'freedom' are used in a liberally to color their criminal actions. EndGame!

The American invaders say that they are coming to free the people from the government they elected. Almost all invasions have historically been to 'save the locals' from their government. This is propagandist bullshit! They are blaring 'God Bless America' on the radio where I work. It should be 'God Curse America' for not minding it's own business. Refer back to my M5 comments on America being a Cancer country. George Washington had a vision of the US being invaded by countries who have had enough of American meddling. If you haven't read it, find it in an internet search. It is UN-American to support empire building. It is UN-American to suppress individuality even if that individuality clashes with yours. It IS alien, especially Orion Empire, to do what America is doing now.

In the US, they prattle on about 'freedom of speech'. The 'freedom' is limited to supporting the fascist Bush government. Other dictatorships have the same 'freedom', of course. The Germans were free to support Hitler. The Russians were free to support Stalin. The Chinese were free to support Mao. The Israelis are free to support Sharon, and so on. The Law of Allowance is not welcomed on Earth except in very few areas or with individuals Advanced enough. EndGame!

This is another piece in the reconstructing of Earth from a simultaneous path planet to a sequential path planet. True individuality must be eliminated. The aliens have given criminal Earth governments, over the decades, technology to accomplish that. Technology, the enemy of spiritual progression, is THE tool of alien empires to suppress those who would disagree or want to chart their own course. EndGame!

You should have guessed that the US was up to no good when they refused to support the International War Crimes Courts. They know that they are guilty of war crimes already. Charges have been brought against the US by Iraqi civilians this month (March 03). Bush is not amused and his steppin-fetchit, Powell, has inferred that Belgium is another 'enemy' nation in a growing list. EndGame!

When Adolph von Bush came out with his moronic 'you are either with us or against us' line, the empire building tone was harsher than when the Roman Empire existed. This insanity has doomed America. Instead being a country that appreciates freedom of thought/expression/determination, it has become a country of conformity seeking and order giving. EndGame!

The Year From Hell continues. Don't get suckered in by the propaganda out of DC. It's ALL bullshit! It's going to get MUCH worse. EndGame!

'Shock & Awe' = Shekinah

3/23/2003

When I first heard 'Shock & Awe' being used by the Dark American/British invaders of Iraq, I thought it was strange, cumbersome and violent to the extreme. After all, they already have a few names for their aggression, such as Operation Iraqi Freedom (similar to Operation Austrian Freedom by Germany in 1938, Operation Ukrainian Freedom in the early 40's by Germany who was welcomed in and Operation Czech Freedom by Russia in 1968), same idea, different dictators. Then they tossed 'Shock & Awe' seemingly out of nowhere. The explanations for it being used are so weak, but the effect is extremely violent on the Iraqis.

Now consider the hebrew term: shekinah. This is a feminine hebrew noun. This word is also used by the muslims in their koran ("by adding a yod to 2fs), which translates as 'you she'. The use of 'shekinah', by hebrew rabbis, is also used to describe events where 'miracles' are physically manifested to protect Israel. And whose bidding is the American/British obeying in attacking Iraq? Israel, of course, on the surface.

Shekinah is considered the female divine presence in visible manifestation. The only 'divine' female in this sector of the galaxy is the Orion queen. Remember the Orion Wild Card and the Empire's impending return. Add this to the disappearance of the 2 moons of Mars and their reported appearance in wide orbit of Earth. They are artificial and typical of Sirian and Orion disguised craft. They are not large like the moon in Earth's orbit, but are both quite small. There has been reported sightings of them but you'll have to search them out in the internet. There is a lot of movement in space in this galaxy.

From The Wisdom of Solomon (50 BCE), written by an unknown hebrew in Alexandria:

"The true beginning of spiritual life is the desire to know Shekinah. A desire to know Her enables one to follow Her will. Following Her will is the sure path of immortality. And immortality is oneness with God."

"So the desire to know Shekinah leads to God and His Kingdom - a never-fading Kingdom. With all your thrones and scepters you may rule the world for a while, But take hold of Shekinah and you will rule the world forever."

This is total Orion queen bow and worship! Replace the word "Her" with "Orion queen". Then remember what I have written in Matrix 5 Gold Edition about the sequential aliens and the Orion queen's fanatical devotion to physical life extensions. The only one permitted, by the Empire, to attempt to grasp physical immortality is the queen herself. The queen's will is that all do their duty in assisting her in that goal. Her 'oneness with God' is by science contributing to her life extension, they are immortal (in deed) by assisting her to become immortal in body. Just more Orion body ID'd bullshit! Since the queen is called the 'manifestation of goddess in the 3rd density', the reptilians consider that only she is worthy. M5 readers already know that gender is a 3rd density experience alone.

The second paragraph: the Orion Empire is considered the 'never-fading' kingdom (remember it originated with a male ruler and it is the oldest race in our galaxy). The second sentence has 2 meanings. The first refers to the rebel royal 'queen' who took our solar system from the Empire. She 'ruled the world for a while'. Her time is considered over with the renewed interest in this system by the Empire. The second meaning is for any world that is not currently in the Orion Empire and refers to planetary/local rulers. Basically, 'I take what I want because I am the all-powerful, technologically superior Orion Empire queen' attitude. It is meant as a reminder to those who would challenge the Empire. The final sentence holds out a carrot - 'Take hold of Shekinah and you will rule the world forever': Embrace the Orion queen as goddess and you may rule your world in her name. This seems to be what the American and British are doing.

By naming the Iraqi destruction 'Shock & Awe', they are stating that they do this in the name of the Orion Empire and the queen. This is also obedience to Israel, a favorite of certain factions of the Empire. Expect more 'Shock & Awe/Shekinah' on Earth. Bush has said before, on television (twice that I saw) that he wants to be dictator. Apparently he and the British prime minister and queen have thrown their obedience to the return of the Empire.

This is a significant observation. My advice is to be extremely observant according to the level of Advancement you are. EndGame is here and this is the Year From Hell. More to come!

Comment From Reader: " There are references in kabbalistic texts about the 3rd "temple" being different from the previous two, as this one is going to "descend from the heavens, readily built". I already wrote to you about the nature of genetic/racial programming in Israel. If there will be this kind of ceremonial alien landing, proclaiming they're here to "deliver the people of Israel" -it will be bought INSTANTLY. I already told you that I've had dreams of massive alien landings along the Israeli coast line. I'm glad I chose to be on Earth at this time. It is SO Cancer to attack Iraq and then blame the Iraqis for violating the Geneva Convention [by showing film of US P.O.W.] - (D.Rumsfeld on CNN) Pretty soon they're going to blame the Iraqis for using weapons in their own defense, as it will be deemed Un-Amerikan to counter a US invasion. More from Rumsfeld: "The less they resist, the quicker it will end." My BORG pocket translator reads: "Resistance is futile. The less you resist, the quicker you will be assimilated". Shekinah---It's true that this is the ONLY feminine expression of 'divinity' in judaism. One other aspect of this is that words like "shekina" are words of power in jewish polaric magic (Light or Dark) Shekina is in a group of words that is VERY RARELY used(like other names of 'god'), because it creates a spin that is traditionally IMPOSSIBLE to reverse/undo. That they're using 'Shekinah' right now resonates extremely well with EndGame."

Three-Five-Zero-Zero

4/4/2003

I just finished watched the new dvd of the film, Hair (made in 1979). While I prefer the original Broadway cast arrangements to the movie versions, it is interesting to see how easily the situations can be switched from Vietnam to Iraq. The main difference here is that in Vietnam (another 'freedom' folly at the expense of the people), the military was drafted while in Iraq, the military volunteered.

The Graduation Key

While all the songs are great, one that sticks out is Three-Five-Zero-Zero: "256 Vietcong (Iraqi) captured...256 Vietcong (Iraqi) captured...Prisoners in niggertown, it's a dirty little war...three-five-zero-zero. Take weapons up and begin to kill, watch the long, long armies drifting home."

This current event is a major Dark play in motion. Dark has succeeded in deceiving the majority of the American population by using the proven emotional buttons: 'freedom' and 'patriotic'. The current 'dirty, little war' is neither, HOWEVER this is not apparent to anyone still experiencing the major and minor warmongering/patriotic loops. For those of you who have succeeded in breaking them, this segment is for you.

My suggestion is, if you are interested, get yourself a copy of the cd: Hair or the dvd: Hair (just released). See what other observations you may be able to note. Notice that this is a repetitive loop favored by the Dark in this final, simultaneous stage of the Game. It will be an interesting exercise for your observational abilities. Most Americans are SO easily played when Dark throws around 'patriotic' and 'freedom' that they don't even investigate for fear of discovering what really is true.

Remember too that those who are in these loops are entitled to play them out. Don't try to 'save' anyone from their experiences. THEIR Higher Selves know what is best for THEIR path at this time. You were once there and can now appreciate observing from outside the warmongering/patriotic loops which is far more interesting than being in these loops. EndGame will present many more interesting observational situations yet to come.

Who Gets Shot At?

4/8/2003

In the current warmongering phase of the Dark side, the police of Oakland, California opened fire on a crowd of war protesters. You can see the report/pictures on www.rense.com. Have you ever wondered why it is always the war protesters who get shot and never the warmonger advocates? Remember the Kent State murders by the government during the Vietnam War. These are all war crimes. Consider the Dark agenda.

The other day, I was asked to contribute to a phone card for a soldier in Iraq. I said "no, thanks". I do not support war criminals. The woman who asked me was taken back but moved on. Do you notice how rabid those caught up in the Dark warmongering/patriotic loops become when dealing with non-conformists? The hate that they express is a poison mothered by the Dark polarity. Dark responds with violence (verbal and/or physical) when confronted with opposition to its agendas. Dark is extremely intolerant.

As I said in Matrix 5, this sector of the galaxy is Dark polarity controlled. Light is used only to feed the Dark. Balance is definitely not welcomed. The Laws of the Universe are rejected. All this is part of the 3rd density Game. Finding people who can understand these observations on the warmongering/patriotic loops are extremely difficult and I have none in my area. Meanwhile, Adolph von Bush has even more Dark agendas to advance. Remember that most Germans loved Hitler when he was winning. The same applies to most Americans with Adolph von Bush. These are Dark times and they intend on becoming Darker yet.

Observation: Iraqi Farce - Dark Forces on the Move

Watching the propaganda news, the warmongering/patriotic supporters point out that a couple of hundred people (in a city of millions) are glad that the invaders are there. If the US was invaded so that the people were 'liberated' from Adolph von Bush and his Republican Guards, I'm sure that at least a few hundred people in DC would show up to welcome foreign troops too. You would likely discover that those few hundred people in Iraq are of the shiite sect that has historically opposed the sunni sect in power. They would have welcomed just about anyone in that case. These facts are not presented on the American propaganda media. Keep the public believing in their illusions.

The Game is continuing to force conformity and end the differences so marking a simultaneous experience. The sequential aliens, as discussed in Matrix V Gold Edition, require whole worlds to progress as a unit. The Dark has been in control, to various degrees, in America since at least 1860. When the constitutional traitor, Abraham Lincoln, refused to allow the southern states to legally leave the union. It's been downhill ever since, but you have to be free of the warmongering/ patriotic experiential loops to observe this.

Last night, South Park had an episode where they tried to explain the warmongering/patriotic and the war hating/ love&light groups in the US. They basically said that the anti-war groups had to be allowed to exist in order to disguise the true intent of the government and fool outsiders in other countries to believe that there is freedom to object. I agree that the Dark does use the Light, in this way, to hide their true intents.

I also read how one Lightsider actress, known for being very anti-war, also said that 'all anti-war protesters fully support the troops'. Can you see the duplicity in this? Supporting the troops, no matter what else one says, actually supports the war. I've said this before. The 'support the troops' line is Darkside bullshit. This is a significant part in the overall Dark intent and the Dark does use the Light to get its way. The purpose of government is to protect the citizens from external threats. The true purpose of governments (local & national) has been instead to create laws to restrict the people and remove freedoms and independence. How many millions of laws of all manner exist to control and to limit the citizens? This is all part of Dark's long Game plan.

War protesters in the US have never ended any conflict. Vietnam ended when the politicians and their Dark masters decreed it to end. All the noise of the late 60's/early 70's was allowed just for show. It is the same now with Iraq.. Earth is being moved to a sequential planet and the Orion Empire is in the wings intending to reclaim this system as their own. The people are being played as never before. Catch words such as 'freedom' and 'liberation' are the buzz terms that Americans are proven to flock around. They are willingly being manipulated. Willingly because they refuse to wake up to the war criminality of the current government.

The Iraq situation is just another step in the Dark plan. It will get more interesting especially to the very few who have broken their warmongering/patriotic loops. I don't mean the Lightsiders who still 'support the troops'. Their loops are just variants of the Dark. As long as one still supports troops in invading a country that did not try to invade yours, the loops are still active. However that is something you will not be able to appreciate fully until you have at least reached a yin-yang form of balance.

The 'Year From Hell' Update

We are in the Year From Hell. Here are some things to note:

*Iraq - Adolph von Bush has created a bigger mess in Iraq than what was there before. He has unleashed the Shiite muslims. It is the Shiites that rule Iran and were responsible for taking over the American embassy. It was reported that Adolph is "pleased" that the Shiites have religious 'freedom'. Expect this group to be strongly allied with Iran. This is most likely one of the real reasons for the American invasion of Iraq, as per the true rulers of the Earth. It is setting something in motion that is far Darker than Saddam's limited activities. The Shiite group is way more radical than the Sunni group. Can you see what's going on here? Keep observing this area. Certain Summarian-alien technological items have been stolen by the Americans, but that's a whole other subject.

*SARS - This genetically engineered bug is causing lots of problems in Asia (especially China) and in Canada for now and is expected to spread. The current Leading Edge Quarterly (April 03) has an article about SARS being a precursor for an imminent, far worse biological attack. This whole area of death is expected to become far more serious. My suggestion is to find a good homeopathic doctor to consult with.

*North Korea - Adolph von Bush is messing with this country, another in a long list, who don't want to bow to his empire building. CNN reports today (April 24) that North Korea says that war can break out in Korea "at any moment". Korea is ruled by an Aquarian. They do not do well with people who try to order them around and definitely will lash out if pushed. Korea is unstable and Bush is pushing them to do something. What does the world's rulers have in mind here? Keep observing.

*Miscellaneous - Some of the other things to watch for include the Montauk 20 year cycle that hits on August 12, the closest approach of Mars in all of recorded history (which may have a connection to the Alien Wild Card), the rapidly collapsing economy, the possible event of Planet X (lots out there about this, but I'll believe it if/when I see it), Syria (Adolph von Bush thinks of this like the Germans thought of Poland - time will tell) and several other events in the wings. Then there's the Wild Cards in the wings. Your observational/deductive skills need to be as sharp as possible. I didn't name this year the Year From Hell on an arbitrary idea. For Awakened Finals: we are in The Moment - Observe & Learn, you know what I mean. For Very Advanced incarnations: You will add tremendous amounts of information depending on how free you are from your experiential loops. The desire for aggressive confrontations is part of the warmongering/patriotic loops. For other Advanced incarnational levels: make the most from your participation in the events of EndGame.

EndGame Female Instability

4/30/2003

This week's episode of the HBO series, Six Feet Under, portrayed the mental instability of the female characters. Females, in the pre-Orion dominance era, were generally very mentally stable. In today's world, at least in western countries where females live under the delusion that they are superior to males, erratic behavior is the standard. As I've said in earlier segments, this could not have happened if it was not for the activation of latent Orion DNA commands in Earther humans with support from certain segments of the male population.

These segments of the population are significantly directed by alien sequential incarnates here on Earth passing as Earther humans. These are in key leadership positions both in politics and the judiciaries. It is because of them that females have been encouraged to seek superiority (under the guise of false 'equality'). This happens also because of the intended Orion Empire return. The idea is that it will be less chaotic for Earthers to be under Orion rule if they are already under human female domination in almost all practical areas of daily life. This, of course, is a perversion of the simultaneous mode and part of the attack in the Game by the sequentials. Much more on all of this is contained in Matrix V Gold Edition.

In today's world, using America as the core of the perversion, females expect to dominate/control men in all areas of life, not only in the marriage sector. They expect that every whine and sigh be addressed by the male that hears it. In my workplace, one female said to me, "I expect every man to cater to me". Boy, did she tell that to the wrong person! I have also observed that whenever any female in the office expresses the slightest complaint, there is always a man who tries to cater to her. This is pure bullshit. This is the Orion mode.

Logic would say if females are superior to males, then they can do whatever they need without the male. Yeah, that's going to happen. That's part of their illusion/deception and they are totally dependent on their illusions. I note that if I ignore a superior acting female who is trying to impose her will on me, they get very nervous and look for others to come to their rescue. When I counter the "he ought to be smacked" statements (females are FAR more violent than men) with "I'll deck you if you do". They keep their distance. At times, they need to be spoken to like the animals they act like. Generally, a violent prone/threatening female will almost always back down when their intimidation methods fail. When this happens, though, they will try to rally other cunts against the non-conformist male. One female in my office told me the others (behind my back, of course) always blame me for everything that they don't like. I'm the one irritant to them just by being here and not catering to them and they have no idea who I really am. This is the Orion DNA commands in full flow here.

The instability in females stems from these alien DNA commands. In the time before these commands kicked in, when woman were woman and did not try to be pseudo-male except in rare cases, simultaneous incarnates had a greater spectrum of experiences. The simultaneous path requires different experiences. The sequential path requires similar experiences. More on this is found in Matrix V Gold Edition.

I have received e-mails from a number of Very Advanced female readers of M5 who have agreed with what I've written on this matter. However the number of people, male and female, in the Very Advanced and higher levels is extremely small. This is EndGame. The transforming of Earth to a sequential planet is well under way. Part of Adolph von Bush's Iraq invasion is the phony 'equality of women' shit. That lizard is just trying to get more of Earth ready for Orion rule this way.

You can't go backward, only forward. EndGame is very difficult. There is so much that is just wrong. This is the climax of the Game for simultaneous incarnates. More and more of us want to be away from the heavy, Dark vibrations as they threaten our experiences. EndGame isn't pretty. It isn't meant to be and it's going to get worse.

Silent Warnings

5/3/2003

I just watched the Sci-Fi channel's new film, Silent Warnings. The final 20 minutes of it were exciting. As usual and typical, the females proved worthless when the aliens appeared and spent most of their time screaming. What happened to the bravado they love to spout when things are going their way? Exactly. They spent much of the final 20 minutes, even when the aliens were visibly invading, trying to drain the men of their energy. Another female commented that since the aliens are "so advanced" that they must be good. THAT bullshit has been covered in Matrix V Gold Edition. When they showed the alien claw (greenish/scaly skin) and after I saw the aliens' full body, I will advise you to steer clear of them. They are based on a type of Orion reptilian. They are extremely dangerous and are not open to any form of reason.

I was pleased to see that the ending of the film was practical and realistic, rather than the fantasy ending in pictures such as Independence Day or Mars Attacks. This type of ending is very unsettling to Earthers of less than Very Advanced levels and those who are body ID'd. Remember what I wrote about the Alien Wild Card in Matrix V Gold Edition. The Orion Empire is already positioning itself in our solar system. Very decent message in the film's end: you can run, you can hide, but you cannot escape. As for those who have moved beyond their body ID loops, this film has several good observations for you to discover.

Amerika - Fascism Rules

5/18/2003

America is under the near iron grip of fascism today. Adolph von Bush is the dictator and he is surrounded by his Republican Guards and worshipped by weak minded or body oriented people all around the country. This is very similar to Adolph Hitler and his Nazi party who were worshipped by people all around Germany as long as Germany was winning their wars. It is easy to find countless comparisons between Bush's Amerika and Hitler's Germany. Now it is Bush who looks in the magic mirror and asks, "Mirror, mirror on the wall, who's the Darkest of them all?"

The benefit we have this time is that Hitler's Germany is relatively recent history and the comparisons are very visible to anyone who looks or searches. The rabid patriotism and flag waving, the hatred of anything 'not like us' and the desire to war, conquest and attempt to force others to be 'like us' is at an all time high since World War II. Except in this day, Adolph von Bush warps the word 'freedom' to fit his Dark agenda. Minions, Low and Mid levels incarnations are easily swayed by his words. He plays the tune that they want to dance to despite the fact that these people are being led over a cliff.

Bush and henchmen/women are stripping the US of its Bill of Rights and Constitution with the blessings of these same followers who DO form the majority of the population. Now you can see why it is so important to have the planet as mostly minion. Fascist US could not happen if the minions, Low and Mid levels did not agree with Bush. The top of the pyramid is powerless without the agreement of the bottom to exist. These bottom dwellers are also the eyes and the ears of the Darksiders in Washington. Examples: The teacher who called the Secret Service because 2 high school students openly disagreed with Adolph von Bush or the neighbor who suspiciously watches other neighbors who don't fly the fuckin flag. 'You are either with me or against me' Bush proclaimed. There is no in-between for this reptilian.

Advanced levels do not cave into the fascist goose-step. Very Advanced levels look on in amazement with how America has fallen so far so fast. Awakened Final Incarnations know this is part of EndGame and know it must play out. The Year From Hell continues!

Amerika Uber Alles

5/21/2003

The television mini-series, Hitler: The Rise of Evil, was on CBS for two nights this week. Whenever television drags Hitler on the air, that usually coincides with something vile that Israel is doing in their persecution of the Palestinians. The purpose of the repeating propaganda on television is to make people react in a Lightsider way of 'the poor jews'. The thing is that the European jews of the World War II era bear no resemblance to Israel of today. The deception is glaring. They say they want to show this endlessly so we "don't forget". The reverse of this is that, since you see the examples, it is easier to identify Bush and the Republicans as America's version of Hitler and the National Socialists.

This mini-series was banned in Texas. Land of freedom and free speech, yeah, right. After watching the series, I can see the fear that caused this decision. The National Socialists are very similar to the American Republican party, for one. When Hitler called for a suspension of free speech and democracy due to 'terroristic threats', the National Socialist members of the Reichstag were totally behind it and tried to silence members of opposition parties. The Republicans in Washington are doing the same thing today with the so-called Patriot Act(s) and Fatherland, oops, Homeland Security.

What the National Socialists did to silence the opposition during Hitler's speech was to start singing their national anthem. Eventually, the opposition stood for that song. In Washington, the Republicans irresponsibly throw out labels of 'traitor' and the like to anyone who publicly disagrees with them. Then there's the national anthem and flag waving here to accompany their deceptions. The new American national anthem should be, Amerika Uber Alles, as a take-off on the German version.

The series showed Hitler's involvement in the Reichstag fire. After the fire, Hitler was outside the building and told that a Dutch communist was responsible for it. Hitler turned to the press and said that 'terrorists' are threatening democracy and freedom in Germany and something must be done. The American 'Reichstag fire' was the 9/11 event who our Hitler said is also caused by 'terrorists' threatening democracy and freedom. America has been dancing to that tune ever since. Seig! History repeating itself.

Yes, I can see why they didn't want people to see the mini-series. The aware could make comparisons and threaten to expose or attempt to defy the Game. When the German version happened in the 1930's, there was no example to compare the events to. Now that it is happening again, with slight alterations, it is easy to see the comparison and warnings. Instead of jews in the 30's, now it's muslims, for example. This is a multi-act, Wagnerian opera in action. It WILL get worse. Keep your observational skills sharp. Do what YOU feel you must for your path: participate on either side or simply observe and share notes.

American New World Order

It is said that the more you repeat a lie, as if it is the truth, the more people will accept the lie AS truth. Since the American government permitted the 9/11 incident to occur, it has been vomiting out a stream of lies to manipulate the American people, first, and the rest of the world second. The incessant lying is feeding the illusions that the bulk of Americans, who wish to remain asleep, want to beLIEve. These people live in a fog of deception and are not at all interested in hearing anything that conflicts with their beLIEfs about America. Why? Because if they entertained the facts, that would require them to do something about what they found out. They would have to wake up from the illusion of America and face reality.

In Matrix V Gold Edition, I revealed that the majority of the world's population is minion incarnation. Minions are easy to manipulate. They don't want to wake up. They just want to be fed, watered and given a place to flop. Those who plan the course of Earth in the Game are counting on this to serve their purposes. Low and Mid level incarnations will also fall into this group as far as neurotic patriotism goes. Low incarnates are very easy to manipulate. That's part of the body ID in control of the spirit.

The reptilian who is currently in the White House, along with his reptilian handlers, know how to manipulate the masses by keywords such as 'freedom'. They insist on wrapping themselves in a flag. This is the propaganda-spew mode and the majority of the country dances to their beat.

We are also seeing the new Roman Empire, or to be closer to this time period, a developing version of the Orion/Sirian Empires. Just as the Orion Empire moves to absorb more and more systems into its sphere of control, so does Adolph von Bush move to absorb more and more countries into his sphere of control. Bush issues demands to sovereign countries like they were vassal states to him. They don't always go along with the self-proclaimed emperor.

Last night, BBC America featured a poll taken around the world about how America is perceived and Bush is viewed. The report discovered that while, by a 10% margin, the world found America acceptable, but by a huge margin, over 2/3 of the people polled, abhor Bush. Not only that, but they find the US a greater threat to the world than North Korea, Syria or Iran. This is true. The US is attempting to be THE voice of Earth when the aliens return. This is also a sequential maneuver - the end of individuality and individual Paths.

As I've said before, America is a Cancer country. Cancer is a sign that demands control and favors using emotional issues to gain it. Hence, the emotional issues that play so well with most of the American population. This is one reason that World War II jewish/holocaust films and documentaries are always shown when Israel is up to terrorizing the Palestinians or some other group. This is why Bush drags out the flag and 9/11. These are just 2 of the buttons that work in a Cancer Sun country. Do as I say, not as I do is the Cancer country motto. Cancer can also be very arrogant, and Bush, also a Cancer, demonstrates all of the negative traits of that sign.

Today (6/18/03) London is calling for a blockade of North Korea, Bush wants to invade Iran and others. North Korea has an Aquarian ruler. That's one who will not conform just because the emperor says so.

It will be interesting to see how this develops. Movement is pretty quick due to deadlines that the rulers of Earth have set. The alien fleet continues to grow around Jupiter. The Year From Hell continues. What is your part in the Game? Player or observer? Whatever it is, it is your path so make the most of it.

US Supreme Court & Gay Ruling

Today the US Supreme Court overturned all laws prohibiting sex between consenting adults. To say that this was LONG overdue is an understatement! If America was really the 'land of freedom', they would have been the first country to forbid laws that prohibited sex between consenting adults. This was a great day for those who embrace freedom.

On the other hand, terroristic christians in America are having a hissy fit over this. Fascist justice Scalia whines about regulating morality and culture. He would have been one of those who would have voted to keep slavery, in that case, since ending slavery would have changed the culture too. Terroristic christians are pure Darksiders. They believe on forcing everyone to tow their beliefs and obey their external deity. When you hear the word 'morals' used as a weapon, you know that this has its basis in religious laws. Since America was founded on a separation of church and state, any laws based on religious beliefs alone should be stricken.

Since the christian terrorists have lost a major battle, they are now saying that this threatens het marriage. Really? What do these terrorists have to fear from gay marriages? What are they hiding? Since you are reading this on the Matrix V Gold Edition site, you should be able to connect the dots.

As Debbie Novotny said in the season 3 ender of Showtime's Queer As Folk series, 'we mourn the losses because they are many, but we celebrate the victories because they are few'. So true, so true. EndGame continues and the vibration to end the simultaneously incarnating Higher Selves participation in the Game is here. Graduating from the Game, by overcoming all the myriad of problems created by it, will be the sweetest victory of all! Get ready for THE celebration.

Journey To The Emerald City

6/30/2003

After the Supreme Court decision to toss anti-gay sodomy laws last Thursday, I decided to drive to New York City for the Gay Pride Parade held on June 29. It was definitely something to celebrate and my Higher Self arranged for everything to work in my favor. I was told that it was necessary for my Final to have this experience and I'm glad I went.

I met two of my lesbian friends from Pennsylvania and we went into the Village in mid-afternoon on the 28th where I received my first exposure to Christopher Street and was really taken with the experience.

We ate at a restaurant called Jekyll and Hyde. The napkin (sanitary, of course - I didn't bring back a dirty one!) has the following printed on it: "In each of us, two natures are at war - the good and the evil. All our lives the fight goes on between them, and one of them must conquer. But in our own hands lies the power to choose - what we want most to be we are."

While it's true about the 'two natures' (polarities to M5 readers), it is not to choose one or the other. That is exactly what the polarities want you to beLIEve. M5 readers know that our goal is to merge both polarities together to form Balance. It is in the interest of the polarities to force/entice you to choose one alone.

Jekyll and Hyde is an interesting meal setting with the dead and undead around...also quite gothic. Just keep in mind that for some strange reason they only accept American Express or cash. That has to keep the business lower than possible.

Next was the Dyke March to Washington Square. Lots of lesbians, a few from the Woodstock era being topless, were singing: "As the dykes come marching in" with several 'Fuck Bush' posters. All ages, sizes and attitudes...very liberating to watch in action.

Sunday was THE march. The New York news said 2.5 million people were expected with 300,000 marchers. The parade was 3.5 hours long, by far the longest parade I've ever seen or heard of. I was glad that there were very few christian extremists in attendance. I didn't see any and the news reported only very few to be found.

The parade started with the traditional Dykes on Bikes (or Bykes, maybe), followed by many uniformed gay cops and, after them, gay uniformed firefighters. The NYC police marching band was right behind them. I was so impressed by this open, joyous attitude. My empathic senses were processing a tremendous amount of visual and emotional vibrations. My Higher Self was soaking it up like water to a dry sponge. I could feel the processing going on. I wore my Matrix V t-shirt (with the cover of the book on the front of the shirt). While several people looked at it, no one said anything to me. There are only 6 of these shirts in existence and I have 2 of them. No one there to see The Author's unexpected visit. It was a fantastic experience to be around so many interesting, happy, easy-going people. To my right, at the parade, were black lesbians, one of whom announced to the world, "I'm a black lesbian who loves women and I want a wife." Her friend said, "So do I, but she has to have a W2 form, an address and not be in recovery." To my left were Puerto Rican queens.

It is typical for christian extremists to mis-report events. They've always talked about all the supposed sex going on in the floats in these parades. They were trying to do so again after this one, but this time I was there. There was no sex, but there was lots of fun. All this christian extremist blather after the Supreme Court decision should really make people wonder just why they feel so threatened especially because no one is doing anything to them. The phrase "They do protest too loudly" rings true. The closet doors rattle when a christian extremist moves near. If you are secure in your sexuality, you don't fear gays and lesbians.

All too soon I had to leave the glorious color of Emerald City and head back for dreary, black and white 'Kansas', but the memories/experiences I retain are valuable. The weather was great, but even more so, it was watching others who aren't bound by the Orion heterosexual loops. I am SO happy to have been part of the event.

Pride Issues & The Game

7/11/2003

The use of the word 'pride' is a 2-edged sword. The Game/DNA command structures use the word 'pride' to reinforce where they want you to be and to remain. Hence if you don't have the Game version of 'pride', you are in an incorrect mode and will be the object of harassment.

Here are some examples of Game approved uses of the word 'pride':

*'Proud to be American' : From what I've observed, no other country today is so obsessed with nationalism and national pride as America is. America is a Cancer country and, while there are certainly elements of the country that are very good, there are far more elements of it that are very bad/flawed. The nationalistic 'be like us' attitude is very Dark, sequential in nature and looks down on people/nations who want to follow their own path. It is controlling and dominating. The sub-loop of this 'pride' is the 'love it or leave it' mantra of the fascist, reactionary groups. They are not Advanced enough to comprehend that if you love your country that you will criticize it when it is wrong and support it when it is right. It is the real Americans who can point out the flaws in the country and work to overcome them. America is currently on a very Dark path under its current dictator, Bush. EndGame.

*'Pride' In Getting Married/Giving Birth: These are involved with the breeding sectors of major experiential loops. We are constantly bombarded in all the media with reinforcing propaganda for the Game that you are expected to marry the opposite gender and to breed. This is old religious bullshit but goes back to alien commands to breed. After all, the farmer doesn't want cattle who won't reproduce. Refer to Matrix V Gold Edition for much more on this. These are not pride issues unless you are looking to please alien masters and other Game obedient people. Unfortunately this is the majority of the population on Earth. Doing what you are programmed to do is not worthy of 'pride'. It is conformity. The harshest enforcers of these breeding rules are the fellow sheep/cattle. The Game is counting on them to obey. There is no 'pride' in getting married when looked at from the perspective of an Awakened Final Incarnation. There is no 'pride' in breeding either. It's just a physical function that you have been genetically engineered to do. There is no pride in letting the body rule the spirit, BUT it is necessary for the incarnating spirit to have these experiences. Without them, the spirit could not reach the conclusion of folly that people claim to have 'pride' in. This also brings up the lame 'Straight Pride' slogan that has popped up here and there. There is no pride in conforming and that's what heterosexuality is. Genuine pride is exceeding what you have been programmed to be. 'Straight pride' is an oxymoron.

The Graduation Key

© 2000-2004 Leading Edge International Research Group. All Rights Reserved.

*General 'Pride' In Following The Herd: The word 'pride' is overly used by those wanting to control you and force your conformity. Pride in appearance, pride in job performance, pride in how you express yourself, etc are all related to the false pride of conforming. If this is the pride you seek, then you are on the smooth road and avoiding the rocky path of peer disapproval. You must be on this road before you can appreciate the rocky road. This is what Low and Mid level incarnations are all about.

The other side of the sword of 'pride' includes accomplishments that take you away from the Game's desire and mainstream demands.

Here are some examples of pride that the mainstream Game players are uneasy with:

*Gay Pride: This one is a real thorn in the hardcore Game players, the hate mongers and those who seek to keep everyone asleep. I heard this on the talk radio this morning: "I have nothing against gays, but why can't they keep it out of sight and behind closed doors?" I've heard this lots of times before. A good counter is 'why can't hets keep their actions out of sight and behind closed doors instead of flaunting themselves in everyone's face?' The difference is found in experiential loops, alien commands and the breeding pits. The Game players look on gay romance as threatening to them, yet never have gays suggested that hets stop being hets. It is the mere viewing of same gender relationships that causes certain experiential loops to hit the panic buttons. "The disapproval of 'god'" is one fascist fantasy. Anyone living for the approval of an external deity (who is alien after all), is not worth listening to in the first place. You cannot reason with these people since they are spiritually extremely immature. It is no challenge to engage in het activity. Earther humans were programmed to do so. That's the Game and is spiritually repressive. However with gay/lesbian activity, spiritual advancement and awakening can occur. This is the true fear. For a lot more on those topics, read Matrix V Gold Edition. The real pride in being gay (WHEN your spirit is in control and not due to a flaw in the physical's DNA command structure of that body) is that you have succeeded in breaking a major experiential loop and are making it possible for you to Advance more rapidly. The Game fears that if people see gays/lesbians affectionate in full view, more may wake up to their true natures. Gay marriage puts sexual Game players in a pure panic mode. 'It's sacred' they wail, and out come the references to their nebulous 'god'. I discuss marriage in M5 as being alien in origin. I would not want to marry another guy because of the alien command and the astrological im

*Pride In Breaking Experiential Loops: This is something you can really pat yourself on the back for. You have overcome segments of the Game and move on in Advancement. I will tell you that the more Advanced you become, the less you will parade your accomplishments in these areas. You will take private satisfaction. You may even mention parts of it to certain close confidants. This occurs more in levels beyond mid-Advanced. Those in low through mid-Advanced stages wave their differences like a flag for all to see, a holdover from Game pride days. All those polarity oriented 'masters', teachers and other follower-seekers out there are struggling with their own path Advancement. The more Advanced one becomes in the Very Advanced levels and up tend to be more and more reclusive and observant. Their abilities tend to be far more impressive than a mid-Advanced level power displayer. 'The more one brags, the less they can do' is something to keep in mind.

This 'pride' discussion could go on for a while. I just wanted to give you a few things to consider on your own path and development.

Reptilians Against Gay Marriages

8/1/2003

Today's news has "Bush opposes marriage by gays" and CNN's site has "Vatican fights gay marriage". Both are reptilian. Both represent the religious line, which readers of Matrix V Gold Edition know as being set by the alien genetic groups who interfered on Earth. Marriage is 'sacred' and can only be between a man and a woman....'god' decreed marriage between opposite genders only. All this is alien control bullshit. Yeah, the alien 'god' did decree it...the 'god' has to eat too, ya know. Watch Stargate SG-1 for some examples of how alien 'gods' manipulate people.

Note that with all that gay marriage uproar by those controlled by religion, not once is het marriage challenged. No one says hets can't get married any more. The fuss is over the horseshit 'sacred deity given command'. Yet, read M5 to see that nothing is sacred unless you want to control people with it.

So, look at who is thumping the 'no gay marriage' drums: Bush, responsible for the murders of many thousands, power mad and reptilian controlled...the fucking pope, leader of historically violent control group and it's child molesting priests. Yeah, these are the people who are in a position to lecture others on matters of affection! Joining these two Darksiders are many minor Darksiders who, at the root of the matter, fear losing control of the Game. Whenever 'god' is invoked, M5 readers should visualize who this 'god' is and then draw their own conclusions as to why this group is being invoked and what is happening to challenge their ownership of Earther humans.

The Evening News tonight increased their coverage of the papal demands to catholic politicians and told them to vote against gay marriages. This, and other religious meddling, shows how religion is a control device by the sequentials who demanded they be worshipped as gods. It's one thing for the pope (living proof that the 'good' die young) to advise his people about his church's position on civil matters, BUT it's a whole other thing for this asshole to demand his alien beliefs are to be imposed on everyone else via the politicians' votes. One thing that should be demanded is the taxing of churches. The unbelievable hype that the religious rabid are generating on this topic is something that (depending on your level of Advancement) you should observe carefully.

This is another challenge to those who want to spiral out of the Game. Even the talk show I wake up to on the radio was asking why these people are so homophobic. As I've said before, although I would not want to be married to another guy (I'm all for just living together in domestic partnership at best), I support anyone who does want to get married. This is EndGame and it will get worse. This is one issue. Others will erupt as the simultaneous Earther incarnates prepare to depart the Game. The year from hell continues.

Talk Radio: The Oppression of Men by Women

8/14/2003

While driving to work this morning, I was listening to syndicated radio talk show 'Bob & Tom'. Today's topic (Best of Bob & Tom): The Oppression of Men by Women. ALL the comments and points that they made were completely correct. My question is since you know all of this stuff, WHY do you still associate with females to the point of letting them control all phases of your life? If it's just for the sex, prostitutes are FAR less of a problem and FAR cheaper. You can also visit the same prostitute over and over if you crave a regular partner. Some men do do this.

The real reason why men endure the curse of women during EndGame is because they are still operating with experiential loops in full control in these related areas. Their spirits are not strong enough to break the breeding loops. That females, especially in America and most western countries, have embraced the latent, Orion domination loops with enthusiasm, also shows the control of the body over the spirit. These power craving females are quick to use the word 'misogynist' to any male who disagrees with the slightest whim they may express. This type of verbal assault also has proven to work well with so-called minorities who try to intimidate others by using their body ID. When I complained that the revised Battlestar Galactica film due on the Sci-Fi channel in the fall made an error in making Starbuck and Boomer females instead of the males they were in the old series of the early 80's, some cunt used that 'misogynist' guilt trip on me(they never work). I responded that she is a 'misterogynist', a hater of men. Refer to Matrix V Gold Edition for much more on traditional roles and their purpose in the simultaneous experience of the Game. Misterogynists are as common today as sand on the beach.

Earth is being conditioned as a sequential planet under the Orion model of female dominance (review earlier segments). This is purposely meant to fly in the face of the simultaneous incarnates. 'We will deny you Earth' is what they have as their motto. 'You will no longer have a place to experience the wide varieties you have been enjoying' is another intent.

You've heard the phrase that 'men are from Mars and women are from Venus'. This is only half true. Mars is a good call for males, but Venus is totally wrong for the EndGame female. Venus is a pure/natural beauty with never a harsh word, demure and gentle. It is far more accurate, in EndGame, to say 'women are from Pluto'. Pluto is controlling, manipulative, violent and transforming. Females live to transform themselves first of all with all the dyes, make-up and other methods of changing their appearance. They look for a man to control and manipulate. This needs no further explanation since it is so obvious. Females are extremely violent, having fits of temper that initiates throwing things, slapping/hitting even frequently with weapons in hand. Not only that, they expect a man to stand their and be beaten. Only a fool, whipped man allows this. Females are from Pluto.

All this grief between the genders also feeds the astral entities who thrive on the vibrations of chaos, anger and other negatives. Matrix V Gold Edition has more on this as well as the reason why spiritual development is shorted out when opposite genders get together. You people are being played in EndGame as objects of enjoyment for those who instilled these experiential loops and their astral partners.

So, does Bob & Tom's radio program of today serve any purpose other than to highlight what is known, but females do NOT want to have the spotlight on? It does if action is taken to remove one's self from the cesspool of bad, controlling relationships. But to complain and not do anything about it shows that your spirit is not yet ready to break these particular experiential loops. Your path...your experiences.

Dark Cunt-rol Manipulation (Orion Thread)

"He hates women", the old cunt says about the man who won't cater to her. "He hates women", the middle age hag says about the man who won't bend to her will whenever she complains. "He hates women" says the young whore whose sexual 'charms' have no effect on the man. "He hates women" is the banner cry of the Orion mode females in America. It is specifically meant to rally other women and whipped men to their singling out of any non-conformist, non-Orion supporting male.

This banner has no basis in fact. You can disagree with the simplest thing, at times, and because a female issued the phrase, if a male disagrees, he is said to "hate women". This is similar to what other groups use to manipulate because they find it works 99% of the time, such as any disagreement with what Israel does means you "hate jews". I hear the 'he hates women' cry almost every day. The lesbian woman talks to me about a co-worker and says, "he hates women". I respond with "I don't know why you say that since he's married to one...you don't marry something you hate, do you?". It doesn't matter to her, because she will come back again a couple days later and give me the same comment over again.

This is the Orion, female dominance loop in full swing. Several women, in the office where I work, will complain out loud about something not going their way. They look to the males in the office to do something about it. One was bitching so loud about her computer that I asked why she's so mad at everyone else when she has a problem with the computer. She asked me if I thought she was "stupid". I said, "yes". Fortunately she hasn't been talking to me for 2 days now and told the old women at the front desk that since I don't cater to her, I must 'hate women'. One of the old women told me that and said that "he doesn't hate women and he talks to me". Cunt-rol, cunt-rol is the name of this body ID loop.

When females use the 'he hates women' banner, they expect others to descend on the non-conformist party and attempt to force him to obey. Peer pressure is what they are counting on to force obedience. They are SO body ID'd and sub-consciously anxious for the return of the Orion Empire that all else is secondary to their Dark desires for cunt-rol and power.

Observers, who have broken their body ID loops in these areas, note that female cunt-rol is growing by leaps and bounds in the US. Equality was never the desire, but rather the leverage used for intended dominance. Very Advanced incarnations in female bodies have emailed me that what I've written about this in Matrix V Gold Edition is true, however American females are the worst on Earth for this attitude. Due to this loop being generated from American women, I expect that the Orion Empire intends to make America a main operations location. After all, American males are mostly whipped into submission by their females already which makes them more likely to accept cunt-rol from reptilian females who rule the Orion Empire.

This female dominance loop will not 'go away'. It WILL get worse and more abrasive. It will be only the simultaneously incarnating Higher Selves, spiraling out in current EndGame, that will bring a conclusion to this nightmare. Watch and listen for the 'he hates women' banner cry in your area and on television. It's the Orion dominance loop in action.

BOOK RECOMMENDATION:

"Lies and the Lying Liars Who Tell Them (A Fair and Balanced Look at the Right)"
by Al Franken 9/19/03

In the Game of polarities, both Light and Dark have their propaganda mills. You can find volumes that adhere to the polarity they serve. Light polarity is very easy to spot in their propaganda by its calls for sequential 'equality' and dismantling of the simultaneous incarnation structures that have allowed us to experience so much on one world. The Light polarity propaganda is expert at using guilt to get their way. The Light polarity is the darling of the Orion Empire by using women's issues to destroy the simultaneous experience on Earth, for example. The Orion Empire is Dark, but Dark is shameless in using both polarity tactics to get its way. More on this in past segments in Matrix V Gold Edition.

However, it is Dark propaganda that this segment features. Dark propaganda rarely gets the spotlight needed to expose how it works. Al Franken's new book Lies and the Lying Liars Who Tell Them (A Fair and Balanced Look at the Right) is such a spotlight. As a unit, the Republican party in America is very Dark driven and its leaders are overtly Darkside who use political trickery to deceive the masses.

Franken uses excellent research into the mechanics of Dark patriotism (when patriotism is used to forward the Dark agenda). He easily demonstrates the outright lies used to create an atmosphere that minions and other Low and Mid level incarnates will enjoy. The Dark loves to create fear, hatred and controlled violence. Dark hate mongers such as Ann Coulter, Bill O'Reilly, FOX news and many others are exposed within. Franken shreds the outright lie of the 'liberal media' which is non-existent, but the belief that it is serves the Dark, how the Bush administration is responsible for 9/11 happening via Operation Ignore and much more. I am amazed that the constant, out-right lies of the Dark are believed. Now you can see why it is so necessary to the polarities that minion incarnations be in the majority during EndGame.

This book is far from being a dry, research type read. It is full of humor and very entertaining. Darksiders will hate this book. TOO much of the Dark American agenda is exposed. Of course, instead of examining it, they will respond with the traditional lack-of-defense for their abominable behavior by trying to put the Light on the defensive. This would be easier if they were honest with the pronouncements that Dark generates, but when you are covered with mud, you can't complain about how dirty someone else is.

Just as with my Matrix 5 materials, exposing what is going on in the Game and EndGame is something of value to those who want to spiral out. To far better understand how the Dark is in control in American government, you really need to read just how the population is being manipulated and the mechanics of it. This is part of the Advanced experience during EndGame. Buy or borrow this book.

Predatory Females

9/23/2003

Last night, CBS Evening News aired a segment on predatory females.

In Matrix V Gold Edition, I've discussed polarity balance on different topics. For decades the plight of females being sexually mistreated by male bosses/supervisors has been regularly featured on news programs. Now it's the reverse coming out - males being sexually mistreated by female bosses/supervisors. CBS News reports that since 1992 there has been a 50% increase in reported sexual harassment by female bosses of male employees. This should not come as a surprise to the Very Advanced levels of Matrix 5 readers.

Balance, as in polarity balance, says that for every male predator is a female predator. The major difference is that, due to Orion EndGame conditioning, (most Western) men (unfortunately) have been trained to allow females to hit, beat and otherwise physically molest them. Females have been able to warp most men into a version of the Orion model of female dominance. This, of course, is a corruption of the simultaneous existence on Earth.

When I exited a local supermarket, a woman, running for state assembly, came up to me and said that she would be the "first woman elected from this district". THAT was her main selling point. I told her that I do not vote for people based on their gender but rather what they stand for. She then again came out with the phrase "first woman" because you are expected to react favorably to that. It is bullshit that one's gender makes one a better or a worse person. Women have proven to be just as terrible or as good as men. Yet, anyone who uses the gender flag with me to get votes has just lost impressive points with me. The females of today insist on a sequential alien role in Earth. This was never meant to be.

Back to predatory females. If you read the CBS story via the link, this predatory female believes that her gender should exempt her from what she would expect a predatory male should get for the same actions. Females are encouraged to use violence if a sexual predator becomes obnoxious and refuses to back off. The same should hold true of a female predator. She should be sprayed with mace, as a woman would do to a man. She should be kicked and hit, as a woman would do to a man. These men should not be withholding action based on gender. Remember, the cunts claim to want equality and this means equality in ALL areas with equal responses. In reality they are using 'equality' as a tool to gain superiority due to the Orion command structure in EndGame. They cannot handle the consequences of equality, but thrive on superiority.

The fault lies with the current Earther human physical and women superiority/male inferiority. The curse of the Orion Empire is multiplying. Due to America's desire to rule the world and force a sequential life on everyone irregardless of culture, America has become, instead of a country of freedom to be a dictatorship of conformity to sequential (hence lesser once you have become a simultaneous incarnate) life. It is not incorrect for the muslims to refer to America as the "great satan" or other similar titles given by other cultures. Yet there are also other "satans" such as the muslims themselves for wanting to impose their ways on non-muslims, the christians for wanting to impose their ways on non-christians and so on. Yes, Earth during EndGame is a colossal mess, but that is the nature of EndGame.

No one should take any shit from ANY predator, male OR female. Minion incarnations in these bodies will act just like the animals they are. Since Earth is now composed of majority minion incarnations, there should be no surprise there. Refer back to Matrix V Gold Edition for more on that topic. Simultaneous Low incarnations will also be base in actions. Advanced incarnations will spot them for who/what they are. Do not allow yourself to be bullied by a sexual predator who won't take 'no' for an answer. If it's an aggressive cunt, give her a dose of what a female would give an equally obnoxious male.

What gets me is groups who have been the object of oppression/abuse don't hesitate to take on the roles of oppressor/abuser when they have the chance. This does not indicate spiritual superiority, but rather one group is just as bad as another when given the chance to oppress. This applies to certain racial/ethnic/religious groups and females. This is the Dark side coming out in them. If they were 'better' than those who were wrong in the past, they would show it in their manner/actions. They do not, instead they seek to be just as Dark as they can be.

Females would have males believe that they have some kind of moral high road over males. This is such putrid shit and a control device that any female who uses this line should be watched with suspicion and avoided as much as possible. She's an Orion agent in human form and has a specific agenda. Western females are the single largest threat to the simultaneous path due to the Orion control influence and their eagerness to embrace this Dark power. It is EndGame. It WILL get worse. Spiraling out will bring the release sought after, but this cannot occur until the time set by your Higher Self.

Insectoid Aliens

10/2/2003

In this third season of Enterprise, the current Star Trek series, an alien council is regularly shown plotting against Earth. I'm calling this the Andromedan Council just for fun. This council has some interesting-appearing alien members including the reptilian Xindi. The species I want to draw your attention to is the insectoid race in this council, the human sized, ant race. This species does really exist and they are allied with the Orion Empire. Even in Enterprise, the insectoids are shown with the reptilian Xindi bursting into the Enterprise to rescue one of their agents. (episode appeared on Oct 1,03).

The insectoid race, like the reptilians, also have 4th density allies. The 4th density versions of the insectoids are all black with no antenna or mandibles and the huge ant eyes. This type is one I had to deal with on the astral. They are very opposed to humanoid types and, with the sequential aliens working against the simultaneous on Earth, they enjoy wreaking havoc where they can. In 1999, they made an overt attack on me to try and preempt Matrix 5's entry into the Game. Just as with the reptilian essence astrals, the insectoid essence astrals try to coordinate with their 3rd density counterparts.

If you want to see what the 3rd density version insectoid looks like, watch Enterprise. The similarity is amazing. The council is not on every episode, but they have been on a few times already this season. This council's purpose is to eliminate all Earther human life. This parallels the Orion Empire's goal of 'if we can't control Earth, we will wipe out the Earthers and repopulate the planet'. To read more about the sequential alien incarnations, refer back to Matrix V Gold Edition where you will have far more information.

Halloween Observations

10/12/2003

October is Halloween month in the US and, due to American culture exporting, it is also observed in varying degrees in other countries. Halloween is a celebration of the dead and encourages simple frights connected with the dead. Ghosts, animated skeletons, vampires, witches and more are popular Halloween themes. In Matrix V Gold Edition, I wrote a revealing segment on Ghosts that makes excellent reading for this time of year. Check your index in the back of the book for its location.

Vampires have their origin long ago with the Orion reptilians who feast on drinking blood of their victims. Ambrosia, the food of the 'gods', is not the marshmallow and fruit side dish of today, but rather was a stew of blood and pieces of flesh (preferably human) that the reptilians still enjoy today. Much more on the status of Earth humans as livestock for the Orion and Sirian empires is found in Matrix V Gold Edition.

Modern history would prefer Earthers to believe that the vampire legend began with Vlad the Impaler. He is the basis for Count Dracula, while Bela Lugosi's portrayal of Count Dracula is the icon for today's Halloween vampire. There are also people who claim to be vampires and who do sip blood. This comes from the practice of reptilians on Earth who do, to this day, engage in blood rituals. For more on this, view the Arizona Wilder video available through www.davidicke.com and read Trance Formation of America by Phillips & O'Brien. Both make good Halloween material. The only thing about them is, unlike the fun Halloween films and shows, these are real and completely Darkside involving both physical and astral reptilians. There are reptilians living disguised among us and astral reptilian allies who influence others to participate in these situations.

Witches of Halloween are warped version of pagans by the Dark Christians who violently oppose dissent. The original witches were pagan people (both male and female) who used herbal healing and natural methods in their daily lives. Female witches were usually the wise woman of a village who the upstart priest viewed as competition. Refer to my previous segment on this site about the Dark party's lies to subvert and steal power. This applies to the church as well. The church's concoction of a devil was connected to these innocent people who didn't even believe in the fictional devil. Notice how the Christians love to point the finger at a Dark devil, yet they, through the centuries are the ones who continue to use Dark tactics. Those who continually shout/point at others for being 'devils' protest too loudly. It is a control device. Remember too that it was the church that was in control in the Dark Ages, a most appropriate name!

In order to increase control once the church began to sway gullible people to its lies about witches, they created caricatures of ugly hags on brooms. There is plenty of reading materials on the origin of Dark Christian witches. Along came the Wizard of Oz featuring the Wicked Witch and Glinda, Witch of the North. Refer back to Matrix V Gold Edition for segments on the Wizard of Oz and The Wiz. In these segments, also great for the Halloween season, read what I've discovered the meanings of these witches are. Hardline Christians despise the Wizard of Oz because it contains a "good" witch. While this is not literally true (read the segment), the hardline Christians of today still fear that people will see witches for who they really are instead of what they want you to believe they are.

In the mid-60's, along came Bewitched and the still popular Samantha. The image of witches became ordinary looking people. Endora, Uncle Arthur, Aunt Clara and many others entertained viewers then and now. One of the recurring themes of Bewitched was that the hag image of witches was wrong and just untrue. You didn't hear much from hardline christians then because they didn't come out of the wood pile until Carter became President in the mid-70's. It was his becoming President that brought the plague of hardline christianity into the pestilence it is today.

Despite the plague of hardline christianity, Harry Potter rules today. This is partially because christianity is on its long waited for decline, but the death rattles are noisy. This is also because simultaneous Higher Selves recognize that the magic of entertainment witches and wizards is an example of what we can do AS a Higher Self.

The christians, when they found that they could not pull people away from their pagan feasts, stole these feasts as their own. With what we know as Halloween today (Samhain back then), the christians tried to make All Saints Day (Nov 1) and All Souls Day (Nov 2) to pull away followers from Samhain since both these days featured the dead. However there is nothing fun about those christian days, while Samhain was a true celebration and pagans love a good time. Pagans also were repelled by the corrupt idea that you had to wait until death to enjoy yourself. Hardline christians and jehovah's witnesses today view Halloween as 'of the devil' and boycott it.

The Dark version of Halloween is still very much alive, but the Light version - trick or treat, jack-o-lanterns, non-threatening imagery, harmless frights, costumes - are what rule in public. For myself, Halloween is one of my favorite times of the year as it is for almost all of the Baby Boomer generation who were kids in the 50's and 60's. If you feel likewise, enjoy it according to your path. Salem, Massachusettes is an excellent Halloween spot all year around, but especially in October. I'm going to Disney World in Orland for Halloween week, as I did last year, just for the fun of it.

EndGame is very serious as is the continuing Year From Hell. You need to have as much fun as you can. These are necessary and important experiences. Don't let the Dark's dismal moves get you down. The lower astral allies of the sequentials are repulsed by happiness and fun. It is the counter to fear and despair. One more thing, the Halloween inspired scares (haunted house tours, scary costumes, etc) are not genuine fears that feed lower astral entities. But you must also be aware that the Dark does not want to lose total control. Hence you have Dark inspired slasher films, chainsaw massacres, gallons of blood and gore which I personally don't care for. Know that the fear that can be inspired by these films does, indeed, feed the lower astrals and the Dark's fear cravings.

Do what YOU need to do during this time of the year. I have a blast with it and avoid the Dark lures due to lack of interest in the blood and gore. Meanwhile, it's time for me to light my jack-o-lanterns. Happy Halloween!

Year From Hell: Gateway 2003 and More

Last year I said that 2003 would be the Year From Hell. Yes, it has proven so. However, I did not intend that 03 would be the ONLY Year From Hell. It is rather the gateway year into the final stages of EndGame for the simultaneous path Higher Selves on Earth. The sequential path aliens on Earth, when they die, will just reincarnate on another sequential planet since their involvement with the Game continues.

For simultaneous path Higher Selves, graduation will be here. This does not mean that all simultaneous path Higher Selves involved in Earth's EndGame move out as a group, for not all depart at the same 'time'. Your Awakened Final Incarnation has the key to your Higher Self's departure and each key is unique to that Higher Self.

The Years From Hell are a relative value due to the chaos of EndGame and the panic of the polarities. As the final stages of EndGame develop, chaos on Earth will continue to increase. Yes, the current world grief with explosions and death were caused by Bush and his dreams of world conquest. They move back to the blind support of Israel by America at the expense of the Arabs. Move back much further to the christian crusades and the pain and destruction that those Dark seeds cost the world.

There are far more elements than these. The Library on 27 has all the resources you would need to research what they were and are. Still, this is the nature of THIS galaxy's Game. The nature of another galaxy's Game is different. You knew the nature of ALL 3rd density Games before you chose the one you are participating in now. As a simultaneous path incarnate, you continue to play your role in the Game at the desire of your true self, your Higher Self. Don't be worried about the unfolding events. I, for one, love seeing the swirl of EndGame activities increasing. It is the body oriented that fear this because all they know is physical life, while giving robotic lip service to what their religious beLIEfs say about the 'after-life'.

One British woman said, when interviewed on BBC America, that the Bush/Blair affair is the true Axis of Evil. She is correct. The reason these two major Darksiders keep repeating words like 'freedom' is because they believe what was said during the 30's in Germany: If you repeat a lie enough, the people will believe it's true. The Bush/Blair axis talks about terrorism because their governments are 2 of the architects of that terrorism with Israel as an active manipulator as well. Throw in factions of the Orion Empire, the Dark AND Light polarities and a whole host of factors and you have the vile stew of EndGame.

The bottom line for the simultaneous path is, of course, experience. What you are seeing now hasn't been seen since Atlantis but is also FAR more chaotic than Atlantis. While the end of Atlantis was not EndGame, it was the end of a major chapter in the Earth portion of the Game.

Americans, as a whole, could care less about another country's misfortunes, yet if the same happened in the US as happened in Turkey, Americans would be carrying on like a multi-part Wagnerian opera and expect the world to march in step because it happened to (gasp) America, the budding Orion Empire of Earth. This is because they beLIEve that America and Americans are above any other country in the world, just as Germany and Japan did in the early half of the 20th century.

When you watch events in the Years From Hell, you can easily spot the body oriented. It will be VERY difficult to find those who have moved beyond body ID, for they stay mainly to themselves knowing that the body ID'd can be quite monstrous to non-conformists when these things happen.

In the US horoscope, the American Sun is 12 degrees of Cancer. 2004 will find Saturn (planet of retribution) right on the American Sun from late May through early June. The US Mercury is 24 Cancer. This Mercury rules the American Rising Sign of Gemini and the American people. Saturn hits here from late August through mid-September and again in 05 when Saturn retrogrades and hits this two more times. One more heavy Saturn transit is when it reaches 18 Cancer, it will quincunx the American natal Moon in the 10th house of national ruler at 18 Aquarius. Quincunx means reorganization. Regime change? I have nothing more to say on these matters. This information can give those (who can interpret them) some insight to 04.

Prepare yourself for what's coming. Read and learn as much as you can. Keep your copy of Matrix V Gold Edition close to where you are. Experience what you want to experience while you can. Adhere to YOUR path and YOUR incarnation's experiential needs whether it be wailing at body related chaos or observing/noting EndGame's chaotic conclusions. After EndGame and your Higher Self has become complete with all shim's memories (as described in other segments), then we can really communicate without the burden of the physical and the problems caused by sequential DNA commands.

United States of Deception: 'Freedom Tower'

When I read about what they were going to put on the old World Trade Center site, I was disgusted by the outright lie of its title: 'Freedom Tower'. I have written several times about the United States of Deception and this is just another of a great many examples that are out there for the observer to see. AND, you don't have to be that sharp of an observer to find them since the minions, Low and Mid and low-mid Advanced levels incarnates beLIEve this bullshit in this country. All you have to be is in the process of waking from the Game induced dream. This waking (NOT the same as a Final Incarnation's Awakening) occurs during the various Advanced stages when spirit overrides the body. The body ALWAYS believes in the polarities' lies.

Appointed president, Adolph von Bush, is the prominent American example of irony, constantly using nice sounding terms/phrases (freedom, liberty, etc) to enforce his fascist, world dominance policies. Whenever the government uses these terms, ALWAYS replace them with the opposite. Hence, 'we have come to liberate Iraq' would be 'we have come to dominate Iraq'. The communists loved the word 'liberate' in their heyday. The Americans use it in the same way today. Independence and diversity are very opposed by the Americans who always want everyone to 'be like us'. Yet the majority of idiotic Americans seem to buy into government deception phrases almost all the time. Why? Because they don't want to face the truth about the government of this country, since, if they did, they would have to do something about it and they don't want to do anything because they would have to admit that they believed the LIES. Next, at the levels of spiritual progression they have, they are not spiritually sharp enough to see through the Dark controls and eagerly give away what few 'freedoms' are left in the name of the bogus 'war on terrorism' which is a sham.

Americans LOVE being lied to by their government IF the lie is what they want to hear. Nixon was a bad president and now, 30 years later (Saturn cycle) we have another bad egg who is far worse than Nixon was reported to be. Both are members of the Republican (fascist/Darkside) party...what a surprise! This doesn't mean that the Democrat (Lightside) party is 'good', it's just that the tactics are different with both. Neither party can be trusted because they are opposite sides of the same coin. You need a new coin which is what the Very Advanced and Final Incarnations have within themselves.

There is no 'freedom' connected with the tower that will be built in New York City. But you will have to come to your own conclusions as to all facets of why. Your personal warning flags should come up any time you hear an American government official use words like 'freedom', 'liberty' or 'national security'. These are code words used to manipulate the population because they word SO well in a Cancer Sun country. The phrase that seems to work most of the time is 'national security'. That's another bullshit term and one of convenience/manipulation that works in a Cancer Sun country far better than it could ever work in an Aquarian Sun country, for example, because Cancer countries tend to be very insecure and, hence, they meddle in everyone else's business.

One reason why there is a rush to bring the world under the dictatorship of America is because of the returning Orion presence, the intended true 'second coming'. I would not be surprised if this had something significant to do with Libya's recent, dramatic change of stance. They think that this will impress the Orion Empire and allow the American president to rule the world in the Orion name. It won't work. Orion Empire worlds have an Orion female, totally loyal to the Orion queen, as planetary overseer. These are referred to as her 'daughters'. This is their intent.

Then there's the Final Trump Card, EndGame Finale on Earth. This is held by the simultaneous path Higher Selves. This card in play will negate/overrule any other Game cards in play, like the Orion Empire, sequential path aliens, Dark and Light polarities, etc. The Dark American government continues to deceive much of the world. The Orion ships are coming. The sequential aliens manipulate Earthers. Both polarities struggle for followers/sheep (baa). All this, and more, while the Very Advanced and Finals wait for the trump card to be played.

EndGame Comparison: The Lord of the Rings

12/24/2003

Here we go again, the American government is crying 'wolf' and playing more games with the American public concerning 'impending terrorist attacks'. <YAWN> Yes, the Dark American government has been trying to generate intense waves of fear ever since it allowed and conspired to bring about the events of September 11,2001. This time the news reports that they will keep the current attempt to raise fear levels through January 04. Using Lord of the Rings terminology, Mordor (Washington, DC) is beating drums of fear via their trolls (Dept of 'Homeland' Security and Defense) to attempt to panic those that they want to control.

The 'Eye of Sauron', present on the back of US $1 bills, is watching and scanning the population to see if the will of Mordor is being obeyed. Draconian (Orion Empire) security measures and forces continue to gain control of the fictitious land of the 'free'. Wormtongue (Bush) follows the dictates of his master (undisclosed) and has even become the Mouth of Sauron (in public). There are those who actively oppose the threats of Mordor, such as

Michael Moore and Al Franken, to name but two well known personalities. The Nazgul of Mordor, the likes of Bill O'Reilly, Sean Hannity, Karl Rove(the Witch King of Angmar) and Ann Coulter, wail the lies of Mordor for their master and seek to symbolically slay all who stand in Mordor's way. These, and other, Nazgul have hoards of minions/orcs who seek to enforce the end of opposition to Mordor.

We see them in everyday life, usually calling for sending in more of Mordor's troops to silence all opposition to Mordor's rule. These minions also call for violence/sanctions against any country who does not tow the line of Mordor. Wormtongue (Bush) has declared the right to nuke any country in a first strike if it so pleases him. Yes, the Dark clouds increase...as is EndGame's way. Unless you are one of Mordor's minions, you can feel very isolated as Mordor tightens its grip on the people of Middle-Earth. Certain European countries are currently feeling the wrath of Mordor for their non-support of Mordor's global conquest policies. The minions of Mordor gnash their teeth and foam at the mouth because of this defiance. This brings me to the One Ring, which can be compared to the Game itself. Sauron knows that he cannot succeed if the Ring (Game) comes to an end (EndGame Finale). Sauron craves to control the Ring.

Readers of the Lord of the Rings trilogy and fans of the fantastic film trilogy know that the One Ring WILL be destroyed. EndGame Finale WILL occur. The information you need to assist you during EndGame is contained in the Matrix V Gold Edition and following segments. BUT, as I've said in M5, the polarities will refuse to concede it's over until their last gasp, just as Sauron did not give up, but was brought down when the EndGame Finale (destruction of the One Ring in Mt Doom) was played. Then the mighty Sauron just collapsed and his orc minions were destroyed, in a dramatic way, because time was up. Draw your own conclusions depending on your level of Advancement.

Are you an orc of Mordor or one of the hobbits/elves/dwarves/men who are anxious for the destruction of the One Ring? Remember, that despite ALL odds and Sauron's superior numbers, the One Ring IS destroyed. It is no accident that the classic book trilogy has become an instant classic film trilogy. Are you ready? This is why the fear levels are kept so high in America because fear breeds inaction by those afraid and the giving away of personal power. If you have no fear, you keep your power. Don't give surrender to Sauron, Wormtongue, the Nazgul or the orc minions. Think of the heroes of the trilogy and gather strength from their determination.

Council of Guardians & "Space Conquest"

1/15/2004

Iran has a "Council of Guardians" who make sure that politics and politicians tow the religious line. They recently decided that a number of politicians cannot run in their next election because they 'offend' religious standards. The American, government-run news reports this as being terrible, yet if American christian militants had their way, the American government would have its own "Council of Guardians" who would make sure that people towed their Dark line. Iran has been controlled by religious fanatics for almost 25 years now. American christian religious fanatics have been trying to do the same thing here. Since ALL organized religion has its origin with alien interference, the astute observer will be able to note all these examples and discover their implications.

Refer to Matrix V Gold Edition for my segments about religion. Religions' core purpose is for the deceived follower to give away personal power and control to the religion who will tell you how to live and what to beLIEve, therefore attempt to deny you input from your Higher Self and Advancement. Earther organized religions, especially one god religions, are one of the projects of sequential aliens to derail the simultaneous path Higher Selves.

On another current topic -von Bush has said that it's a matter of "national security and defense" that American puts a base on the Moon then goes to Mars and "the cosmos". This has more than one implication. First of all, there are bases on the Moon and Mars. Earth's Moon has alien bases on it. Mars is under the Orion Empire's control as a staging area, as the Russians discovered in the past when their explorers were destroyed just after taking photos, with infra-red film, of one of the underground bases and an alien mother ship in orbit. The aliens will also destroy any other probes that come too close to their business, yet have permitted Earther probes to land in area where there is no activity. That's like landing in the middle of an Earther desert. NASA lands in a totally barren area of Mars then says, 'see, no life'. Why not land in the Sahara, take a photo of nothing but sand and say 'see, no life on Earth'. NASA and the government talk to the people like we are ALL minion incarnations!

When I watched Adolph von Bush's space conquest remarks on both BBC America and government controlled American news, they kept using the phrase 'conquest of space'. This concept is primarily Orion and Sirian, who live to conquer and control others, just like America today. Bush states that our 'destiny' is in space. Yeah, the Orion Empire is returning! Destiny is returning and Bush wants to be an Orion flunky. Images of the Star Trek version of Earth come to mind. Earth, in Star Trek, has become a sequential planet. Becoming sequential is necessary to travel through space. Refer back to Matrix V Gold Edition for why this is so and what the Earth 'quarantine' is and isn't. Bush is already proven a Constitutional traitor. American has become a fascist state and is getting worse by the week. EndGame Finale is continuing. What will be next?

Vichy Iraq: History Continues to Repeat Itself

1/24/2004

The news reports that collaborators in Iraq have been targeted by Iraqi resistance forces. Gee, what a surprise....yeah, right. What we have is a repeat of what happened during the German adventures of the World War II era. This is something even a half-competent observer can note.

When France was invaded by Germany, a French collaborator government was installed. The same has happened in Iraq after the American invasion. Both Germany then and America now have fascist governments in power who are interested in ruling the world, as opposed to a fascist government (Spain, for one) who was only interested in ruling, in Spain under Franco, itself.

In France during the Vichy collaborator period when French collaborators felt the sting of the French resistance, so now in the Vichy Iraq period are Iraqi collaborators feeling the sting of the Iraqi resistance. Note, though, that the French resistance was approved by the non-fascist segments of the world. Now the drama queens of the fascist invasion forces of the Axis (U.S. & Britain) wail when the resistances targets them and their collaborators.

In previous observation segments I've written that if the U.S. was invaded, you would find the collaborators and you would find the resistance. Ask Americans which would they be. I remember during the communist period that my one uncle said that if the U.S. was invaded that he would become communist because it was the way of who is in power. Yet I know others who would be in the resistance. Who is right? It's according to what experiences that your Higher Self requires for that incarnation. In general, however, those who invade, and want another country to conform to their way of living, are sequential in mentality (like the U.S.). Those who are content to leave other countries alone as long as they keep it within their borders, are simultaneous in mentality (like New Zealand). This allows more variety of experiences on the simultaneous planet. Governments, people, religions, etc who tell everyone else how they should/must live are catering to the sequential planet mentality.

The Graduation Key

The sequential fascists in the U.S. know how to play their lies to a primarily Lightsider audience. They know what words to use and images to broadcast to control them. Refer back to earlier segments for this. The Bush fascism is horrid. Comparing Hitler and Bush makes some nervous because they don't want you to make a conscious connection to what is going on and what is intended for Earth. Some say that Bush isn't Hitler because of physical differences or that Hitler was a decorated war hero while Bush was disgraced in the military, went AWOL for a year and has a bad discharge. Comparing Hitler and Bush is on the level of policies and desires to rule the world, and NOT on physical/personality contrasts, although putting the Hitler lip hair on Bush is fun to do.

History IS repeating itself as it did in the 30's and 40's but they don't want you to notice it. The main goal of those who dictate this thrust is to make Earth a sequential planet and deny its use to the simultaneous Higher Selves. Read about this in Matrix V Gold Edition segments. It is up to what incarnational path you are on to decide how you react to what is going on in the world during EndGame.

Bankruptcy & Hidden Horoscope of the U.S.

In David Icke's latest book, Tales From The Time Loop, he quotes from the US Congressional Record of March 17, 1993 (Vol.33, page H-1303):

"It is an established fact that the United States Federal Government has been dissolved by the Emergency Banking Act, March 9, 1933 Stat.1, Public Law 89-719; declared by President Roosevelt, being bankrupt and insolvent. H.J.R.192, 73rd Congress session June 5, 1933. Joint Resolution to suspend the gold standard and abrogate the gold clause dissolved the sovereign authority of the United States and the official capacities of all United States Governmental Offices, officers and Departments and is further evidence that the United States Federal Government exists today in name only."

The US has been a corporation since then, thereby creating a second horoscope, a hidden horoscope, of the US. The Emergency Banking Act is one date based on Roosevelt's declaration. The Congressional resolution is another possible date, although there would be a stronger case for the March date being the one to use since the July 4 standard horoscope is the chart of the U.S., and that's the date of the Declaration of Independence and the March date is the Declaration of Bankruptcy.

Americans, since 1933, do not vote for their non-existent country's president, but rather input to America's CEO since the president is answerable to the banks and corporations involved in the bankruptcy. This is one reason why Bush was never elected, but rather appointed, as CEO of the corporation of the United States. The illusion, with the people, is that the original United States still exists. As long as the people are foolish enough to beLIEve that, the illusion will continue. It serves the planetary rulers that this illusion continue until it is no longer necessary.

With corporate sponsorships of both sides of the same coin - Republican (Darkside) and Democrat (Lightside) - see previous segments on that - these corporations are jockeying to see who will give them the better deals. The people are insignificant. This is typical in an Orion controlled planet. Just some more things for you to think about. EndGame!

Head Scarf Ban

2/15/2004

France's ban on the wearing of religious items in schools has been all over the news in recent weeks. The notable thing is that the news wants you to focus on one portion of that ban: muslim, female head scarves. You would think that France is only banning that item. Why? On BBC America's news, they add, in a whispered one line addition, that the wearing of "large" crosses or stars of david are also prohibited. I guess small ones are ok because they fit the current cultural/ religious war of European/American christianity attacking muslims. Adolph von Bush used a correct slip-of-the-tongue when he called the latest American grab for world conquest a "crusade" since it is the latest version of that Dark Age event.

There is something even deeper involved than what it appears on the surface. Yes, the christian/jewish war against the muslims IS what you are expected to focus on. This is also why all the phony wailing about "anti-semitic" activities is SO loud. As I said in previous observations, the "anti-semitic" shrillness is always louder when Israel is up to no good. Part of their latest 'no goodness', besides the every day genocide they engage in, is that wall of theirs.

However that is not the deeper item I am referring to. Pay attention to the 'head scarf ban' spotlight. They are using a religious token, related to females, because wearing the scarf by a muslim female is considered subservient by the religion to a (presumed) male deity. One of the lame excuses that American media harped on in Afghanistan (that they couldn't in Iraq) was that women are "not equal". Matrix V Gold Edition readers know that "not equal" means "not in overt control".

The intent of forcing the removal of female, muslim head scarves, whether or not there are females who want to remain traditional, is part of the Orion sequential movement. You can't have any group of females, in an Orion dominated planet, that appears subservient to anything male. You can, indeed, have it in the reverse. That is preferable. So, those in power will find those 'progressive' (in this case a keyword for Orion leaning), muslim women who are encouraging obedience to this law. Now that I have given you this information, the aware M5G reader should be easily able to connect the dots.

When those involved with readying Earth for the Orion, sequential repossession want to stir the already hyper-active, American Orion DNA commanded to subservience to females, all they need to do is point to a feature of the simultaneous path in regard to females and manipulate the general public. This was one of their tools with Afghanistan. Expect them to use it again, probably with Iran, Saudi Arabia and similar with traditions that don't fit the Orion model.

The riff-raff minions, Low and Mid incarnations are SO easily manipulated. The low-Advanced through mid-Advanced can also be manipulated, although more difficultly. As for me, I just can't wait for EndGame to be concluded. It's only going to get worse as the world's greatest war criminal, the United States, under dictator Bush, continues to intimidate the rest of the world through nuclear blackmail. Remember that the only nation to use the bomb was America, the same one that fears others (who don't bow to Washington) may use the same Dark event on them. EndGame is such a huge mess!

Sequential Laws

2/18/2004

With all the foolish foaming at the mouth, primarily by militant christians, about gay marriages in the United States, the observer should look deeper than the surface appearance of the fuss to see what is going on. In previous segments, I have mentioned how the whole concept of the US is illusion with catchy appearing buzz words like 'freedom' and 'liberty' which are used by the political leadership today to increase American control of the planet.

A good example of the deception is the motto of the state of New Hampshire: Live Free Or Die. Yet this state is one of those paranoid over allowing people to marry the partner of their choice. They already passed a law against gay marriages and now they want to pass a law banning the acknowledgement of gay marriages that occur in other states. The news says that the state feels squashed between Vermont and Massachusetts' tolerance, and, by jesus, we have to show everyone that we are not tolerant. "Live Free Or Die" UNLESS you are gay or lesbian. Hey, New Hampshire - it's time to change your motto to "Conform Or Get Out". It's so very Orion Empire of you.

Notice that governments exist today to sit around and pass laws. There are two basic types of these laws: sequential based and simultaneous based. The sequential based laws are those that restrict how one may participate in the Game by limiting individuality. The simultaneous based laws are those that encourage freedom of expression in contrast to the sequential takeover of the planet. Simultaneous based laws, created during EndGame, are permitted because of the desire to create division, friction and force confrontations which feed the lower astrals and make alien conquest that much easier. It is not always clear cut what the creation of some laws are intended to do. You will discover, however, that the vast majority of laws are created with sequential design in mind. Also, remember that obedience to the sequential rules and regulations is you giving away your power to the Orion structure. This is a complex concept that the Very Advanced will have to unravel as best as they can.

On a different topic: the Mel Gibson jesus film. Such a fuss about a fictional character movie! Jesus never existed except in the minds of those who created him to entrap the public. The bible has always been, at best, historical fiction. The beLIEfs just continue to drone on. Remember that, in the greater picture, you are the god of those 'gods' as per other Matrix V Gold Edition segments.

Ash Wednesday & Chakra Blocking

Ash Wednesday comes around in its yearly procession in the catholic church usually always in February. It is always the day after Mardi Gras. What the priests do is burn the church's palms from last year's palm sunday events, place the ashes in a small dish and, to the kneeling person in front of him, the priest says, "Remember, man, that thou art dust and unto dust thou shalt return". This is purely body oriented as he addresses the body and not the incarnating spirit, but at this stage, the body ID is too strong to be aware of much else.

The use of ashes goes back to the good old christian days of sackcloth and ashes to atone for sins. To M5G readers, you can translate this into regretting experiences that you need for your path. Yeah, like there's anything to regret from a Higher Self point of view. The other main time ashes are used when the christian burial occurs and they toss some by, around or in the coffin with "ashes to ashes; dust to dust".

On Ash Wednesday, the priest puts an ash cross on the person's 3rd eye. It serves as a mark to those who see it. Yeah, what it really says is: by this action, I permit my 3rd eye to remain closed so that I may not see the truth. The 3rd eye chakra being the way to see. Of course ashes are black. This is also no insignificant thing because it is the color of the Dark polarity just as the cross is a symbol of the same. Refer back to Matrix V Gold Edition segments on those topics.

Ash Wednesday is a wandering religious day because it is 40 days before easter which roams due to ancient pagan calculations based on the Moon. The catholics/eastern orthodox today are also the most pagan of the christians with huge pantheons of gods/goddesses.

While Ash Wednesday is designed to keep the practicing catholics' 3rd eye from seeing the truth, there is another day that is designed to hit the throat chakra. This is on February 3, St. Blaise day. On this day the devout catholic kneels before the priest who had 2 'blessed', 12" candles that are tied with ribbon into a cross shape. The priest places the candles over the person's throat with one of each candle's end briefly resting on the person's shoulders while he recites a brief prayer over the throat. Again, you have the cross symbol, a Dark favorite, and this time adding a block to the throat chakra. This can be interpreted by M5G readers as: by this action, I permit my throat chakra to remain closed so that I may not hear the truth nor speak it. The throat chakra being the clairaudent chakra.

St Blaise is a mythological person in the vast christian pantheon. If you research him, you will find a liberal use of the "beLIEved to be" and "assumed" as an Armenian bishop in catholic sources. It is not significant if he ever existed. What IS significant is the tampering with one's throat chakra under the guise of a 'blessing'.

Since in both cases here, Ash Wednesday and St Blaise Day, the person is requesting the procedure, it can move through any type of minor protections that surround such a person, which are usually nil because they are wearing a cross or other such Dark magnet.

It is also interesting the blocking of the throat and the 3rd eye occur very close in time to each other. The 'throat day' is always during the season of Aquarius, which is primarily when Ash Wednesday occurs as well. The polarities' controllers know that Aquarius is the key, in the zodiac, to escaping the Game for the simultaneous path group on Earth.

MATRIX V Gold Edition- Volume 2

The Graduation Key

© 2000-2004 Leading Edge International Research Group. All Rights Reserved.

Aquarius is the sign of independence, individuality and true liberation of the spirit - a bane to body ID. You can also consider these 'blessings' to be like inviting the 3 monkeys of "Hear no evil, Speak no evil and See no evil" to take up residence on one's physical. The 'evil' though is that which is anything that will remove your false body ID and awaken you to who you really are. Based on the upside down reality, 'evil' here is really 'good'. Yep, that's the Game. It's also planned that the M5 project is Aquarian sponsored. It HAD to be, to be effective and serve its purpose.

When those who get their ashes and throats 'blessed' see or hear anything contrary to what the church says they may hear, 'bless' themselves (reinforce the Dark cross in your aura) they invite the Dark assistance in keeping one's body ID. All that continual 'crossing of one's self' really does reinforce the Dark over the crosser. The astute observer can take what I have presented here and find more in the world of religious mythology and it's practical (polarity) applications to keep one's spiritual ID suppressed.

Current EndGame Distractions

2/26/2004

No matter where one looks today, EndGame distractions are ALL over to attempt to keep the public's focus away from certain matters that are really important. In circus ring one, I liked the political cartoon of von Bush standing next to a chopped tree with an axe in his hand while the media was watching what he was doing. In the next frame, Bush is jumping and pointing away while shouting: "Gay marriage! Look, gay marriage!" and the media turns to watch that instead of what von Bush is doing. The whole gay marriage flurry is primarily a distraction from the dictator in Washington & his henchmen and, secondarily, a further way to divide an already grossly divided country.

In circus ring two: Haiti is currently another front line item, not because anyone in power gives a shit about that country, but it is another distraction to take away from American/British aggression in Iraq and Afghanistan as well as Israel's genocidal moves against the Palestinians and Dark designs on other regional countries.

The Dark polarity is a master of these techniques. They can nuke Japan, wipe out civilian populations of Dresden in Germany during WWII, finance Hitler, invade helpless countries (the list seems infinite) all in the bogus name of 'freedom' (to do what THEY want). Yet, when someone sneezes toward one of these Dark countries (America, Israel, etc) they have a seizure of indignation.

In circus ring three: Remember about repeating a lie enough that the public beLIEves it to be true? One common repeating lie is the excessively overused term 'anti-semitism'. The semitic group includes the arabs and, at best, the sephardic jews. David Icke explains this perfectly in his latest book, Tales From The Time Loop. The reader learns about the mass conversion (ruler instigated, of course) of the Ashkenazi group of southeastern Europe to the jewish religion. As David notes, if one converts to the Church of England, that doesn't make that person English. Likewise if someone converts to the jewish religion, that does not make that person semitic. True anti-semitism today is being anti-arab. Yet, while Israel (Zionist - which is different than being jewish) extends its sinister Dark reach through the US and other countries, it keeps up the phony 'anti-semitism' drum beating in hope that no one will notice what really is going on.

In another ring of the circus, number four, there is the Mel Gibson movie about the fictional character, Jesus. This is a film I wouldn't even watch for free. It is a missionary device, among other things. It is glorifying someone who never existed in a situation that never happened. The Jesus myth is so well exposed in many mid-Advanced level books and Icke does it well in his books. Low and Mid level incarnates are rushing to feed their fantasy about this fictional character. They should include a short, with the Gibson movie, on the life and death of the Easter Bunny too. After all, can one discriminate <gasp> against an equally fictional character?

Speaking of discrimination, here's some random discriminations that the Game has developed but are good exercises for the Advancing spirit as a challenge to the level of one's observational skills:

*February is 'black history' month. This is the only race to have a whole month dedicated to their history in the US, which is fine IF they had a 'red history' month, a 'white history' month and a 'yellow history' month. They do not. What do your observational skills tell you?

*There is a 'mother's day' and a 'father's day' and even a bogus 'grandparent's day' in the US. There is no 'single's day'. What do your observational skills tell you?

*The idea that any one group is better than all others is constantly attacked, yet the group who says that they are chosen by 'god' over all others on Earth is allowed to discriminate and even use that bullshit line to get their way with much of the world. What do your observational skills tell you? You have to dig really deep to get at the root for this one.

*Putting aside alien races, there are 4 racial groups on Earth: white/black/yellow/red, yet it is a victimhood fad to create new races based on ethnicity. The two are not, by any stretch, the same thing. Also, in the same vein, while the black race is permitted to verbally run rampant (in the US) over all other races, why is it that the remaining 3 races remain silent (for the most part)? What do your observational skills tell you about this heavily body ID'd sets of circumstances.

*There is an 'International Women's Day' on March 8. When is 'International Men's Day'? I'll save you the trouble of looking. It doesn't exist. What do your observational skills tell you?

Mad Mad House

3/5/2004

Last night, the Sci-Fi channel's new reality show premiered: Mad Mad House. It is an observational cornucopia!. It features 5 residents who refer to themselves as the Alts. They include a witch, a voodoo priestess, a vampire, a naturalist and a tattooed living art man. What a fun collection of low-Advanced through mid-Advanced people both of Dark and Light polarities.

Matrix V Gold Edition readers should not be lulled into thinking that the mid-Advanced level is only populated by Lightsiders. Nope, you will find an equal number of Darksiders too. What I find refreshing is the one admitted Darksider, Don the vampire who announced that he takes the life energies of people via drinking their blood. Dark has indeed become pretty bold to have one of theirs so public. Review my earlier segments on the nature of

The Graduation Key

Darksiders. They are not 'evil', since there is no such thing. It was invented by the Lightsiders as part of the Game's power moves.

I find Don a riot (in a good way, not a mocking way) and would enjoy talking with him. If Dark cannot invoke fear from you, they may be at a disadvantage in many situations. However, in many more situations, a skillful Darksider can disarm you with feigned kindness and work their way in your energy. It is never good to let down one's guard when dealing with them, no matter how charming they may seem. The charming nature is one of Dark's methods for you to let your guard down. The voodoo priestess (who is a lesbian per her interview with Advocate magazine), and the wiccan priestess I also find fascinating, although, having studied with the wiccans and knowing a fair amount about voodoo, the novelty, for me, would be in just hearing their personal perspectives. I'd enjoy shaking the rattles with them. Lots of fun.

The tattooed man and the naturist are two who I find less interesting (although they may be very interesting on a one-to-one, in person basis) on the show except for their enjoyment in shocking the guests who are dead common, Mid level incarnates. Note the naturist's comment that he only eats raw food because that's what the animals eat. Hmmmm, very minionesque comment, but he's not a minion himself from what I've seen. At the end of the episode, they have a sweepstakes where the 5 of them will come to your home to watch the final episode. Gee, they could come over to mine anytime! Such an interesting crowd.

Then there's the guest list: 10 people who are Mid levels all the way. It's a scream that they got a few christian bible huggers to show up for this and to watch their reactions in the 'blood bath' event and the voodoo ceremony. Shocking the Mid levels is a great way to assist them in breaking their experiential loops, but it should be done with finesse to be effective. The Alts have that finesse and make excellent teachers for that level since they constantly want to expand the Mid level guests' outlooks. The Alts make great comments throughout the show to the guests. In the opener, the Alts tell the guests that this is the Alts' house and they must remember that in order to stay. Mid levels beLIEve that their religion/society dominated ways are THE way. Finding out that they are not makes them uneasy. Similar to the mid-Advanced finding out that they are not the top of the heap either.

From watching the first episode, I cannot recommend it any more highly, and I watched it twice. It is an observer's paradise with all the unique situations. How much you gain from it will depend on your level of observational skills. It appears on the Sci-Fi channel in the US on Thursday nights. Check their website, if interested, and see when they repeat it. This is a RARE show to see and very EndGame. Fascinating! Can't wait for the next episode.

Observation: Bush/Hitler Comparisons

19 March 2004

I received this link from a Matrix V reader. It is an excellent graphic comparison of Hitler and Bush as well as the way that the United States has become fascist and is on the same destructive road as Germany was in the 1930's. While they make an important point that Bush is not a Nazi. He IS a fascist. Not all fascists are Nazi's. Italy and Spain had fascist governments, but not Nazi governments. This short video, with music to go with the photos, is outstanding and very well made. History is repeating itself wearing a new dress over the same fascist figure. In one part of the video, the raised right arm in salute is shown used by Hitler and Bush. This is a fascist (not Nazi) salute that has been around a LONG time. The Roman Empire used it, but it's even older than that. Check out the link. It IS worth seeing and sharing. <http://www.takebackthemedias.com/bushnonazi.html>

‘The Passion’ & Iraq Comments

* Mel Gibson's fantasy film, The Passion of the Christ, is historical fiction. It is based on a mythological character, set in an area known for excessive fictional tales, with religious beLIEfs at their core, while some actual historical background is thrown in to make it appear credible. This film ranks right along with other blood drenched, tasteless thrill movies like the Texas Chainsaw Massacre, the Halloween series, the Nightmare on Elm St series and similar garbage.

Matrix V Gold Edition readers, at the very least, should know that the attraction to blood, terror and torture are primarily reptilian in nature. The unfortunate twist to the Passion gore-fest is that many people actually beLIEve that this character, Jesus, actually existed. Never mind that the Jesus myth is based on several other earlier historical myths from other cultures. It has been reported that people faint in the film, one supposedly dropped dead and other similar tales of religiously rabid behavior.

Jesus “died for YOU”, the guilt controllers would have you beLIEve. Well, since he never existed, he couldn't have ever died for anyone. To question religious doctrine is a sin <gasp>. Control devices to keep you down no matter what you may try to do to escape the traps they set.

South Park has done a good mockumentary about The Passion calling it a “snuff film”, which it is. The South Park version also tosses in the anti-semitic bullshit too. The reason that tired, old guilt trip is SO well used today is due to you are expected to never say anything negative about anything connected with the self-proclaimed “chosen people”. It doesn't matter if it is true or not. If they are your god's “chosen people”, you better not do anything but cater to them. See the irony of all this, M5G readers? Body ID is in full bloom with that concept.

If you choose to experience this horror film, go for it. I have never been into excessive blood and torture films. They are WAY too Dark for me. Christian terrorism and intimidation is growing by leaps and bounds, which is typical for any religion that feels threatened and on its downward spiral. This is a fear based element due to the EndGame cycle.

*The other topic in this segment is the Iraqi mess that von Bush and his fellow fascists have gotten the world involved in. The other day, the Iraqi resistance killed four American civilian contractors and dragged them around a bit. Of course the American government is having a hissy fit over it. The American attitude is WE can kill/bomb/maim civilians but we are one of the world's sacred cows and no one should dare do like we do (Cancer country, remember, from previous segments). You reap what you sow, America, and it's getting worse. America's fascists are single purposed in dominating the world, not only politically but also with their christian radicalism. The American philosophy is not one of freedom but one of be as we tell you to be. This should be SO obvious to those who Matrix V Gold Edition was written for.

This is more EndGame grief that the planet's population must endure while sequentials and polarity groupies continue their insanity. What's next? You won't have long to see what that will be. EndGame...never said it would be easy or fun.

Observation: Liar-In-Chief

13 April 2004

Those of you who saw the extremely rare questioning of Bush on television tonight should have observed a LOT of manipulation tactics by the Liar-In-Chief. He used ALL the Lightsider catch phrases that Americans get aroused by: freedom, liberate, helping, etc. As I have said in earlier segments, Bush is a Darksider. Darksiders will use ANY tactic that they think will gain the ends they desire. They are experts at using Lightsider phrases and illusions. He did this is spades tonight. He was wrapped in the flag and his tongue was coated with it, all to play to the masses who he wants to dance to his music.

You should have observed how much Bush rambled on during the question responses and how he just could not think of any mistakes that he has made since the 9/11 event when he was asked to name one. Of course not! He's operating by a script that the sequentials have dictated for Earth. This is why he insists that he will "stay the course" because he works for THEM and not for the people of the country that he was appointed president of. Notice that he said more than once that he doesn't 'pay attention to polls' when making decisions. Of course not! He's a Darksider working for the sequentialization of Earth. He only pays attention to those who give him orders.

I have said before that Georgie is a Cancer and he demonstrates the negative Cancer traits of arrogance, fear of criticism and personal insecurity based on being 'found out'. He wants to be dictator and has said so in public before. He is proving to the people that he will do what he says. He even said that exactly tonight: he does what he says he will.

You could easily observe how nervous he was during most of the questioning and how he resented certain parts of the questions, several of which he didn't answer, but instead, presented the Lightsider comfort words and phrases. Remember, the Germans said in the 1930's that if you repeat a lie often enough, it will be beLIEved as the truth. That is a Darkside tactic.

Something else he kept repeating was the "liberation of Iraq". The communists were always running around the world "liberating" people who didn't want it. They 'liberated' Eastern Europe and many other countries around the world installing governments that would bow to Moscow or Beijing. They were the Democratic Republics of (whatever). This is the SAME tactic that the American Darksiders are using now: 'liberating' countries in order to install a government that will bow to Washington, although fascist instead of communist. Seig Heil!

How do you know when Bush is lying? His lips are moving! This was never so obvious as tonight. He said he would have "moved heaven and earth" to prevent the 9/11 event. No, it's far more true to say that he would have moved 'heaven and earth' to see it came to pass. It was part of the sequentialization plan for a one world. EndGame...and it's going to get MUCH worse.

Matrix V: More Questions and Answers

Question 440: I'm not quite sure how to ask this and I don't remember my question being answered in Matrix 5 but "where" do our Higher Selves come from? Or assuming our Higher Selves were "created" then "what" created our Higher Selves? Thanks for writing the book.

Answer: Since our Higher Selves are immortal, they always have been. This isn't something to spend much time considering or you'll get fatigued from being overwhelmed at the scope. You will regain all memories once your Final has completed the Summoning. Until then, be concerned with more practical matters in your progression.

Question 441: Well, firstly, just wanted to say thank you for the info. At the risk of sounding 'underwhelmed' by what you have done, I am deeply appreciative of the 'time' and focus that you have given back to me by sharing this information. Again, and with respect, thankyou. Although there are many things I would love to discuss further with you, in the interests of your time, I'll just start with one question. Understanding that the sequentials retain full memory of all incarnational experience- but not pre-incarnational experience (ie: they also start with a blank slate)- from your knowledge, what is their perception of their place in the universe and reason for being? I realise their focus on technological (external) advancement leads them further and further from the spiritual, but have they arrived at a common belief/concept that helps provide them with some sort of overall context- however misled or inaccurate it may be?

Answer: I'm glad you enjoy M5G. Concentrating too much on the sequential path, more than just in some basics like I gave in M5G, detracts from one's simultaneous path experience. You have the answers you seek with your Higher Self. You will have those answers again after your Awakened Final completes the Summoning. You should be able to draw some conclusions from what I have released. There is more in the Library on 27, but that is limited as well due to the nature of the two experiential paths. Sequential sub-paths do vary, like the Orion reptilians from the Errans from the Tau Ceti from the Andromedans and so on. Other than that, I have nothing further to add to what you've asked. Better to focus more on your current path unless you are a sequential here on Earth. To them I would say 'take the leap of faith in self and discover what lies beyond what is comfortable'.

Question 442: BRAVO! I certainly both see and understand the observation you made recently regarding the 3 Advanced-level projects. The way I see it, the Higher Selves are seeking people from all walks of life and interests that are in the Advanced levels of awareness to trigger an "awakening" of what's really going on and what this is all about: EndGame. It's happening on a mass scale now. Hell, even "personalities" like Sting are involved in this!

I have actually spoken to both people you mention on the mid-Advanced levels (Icke and Mutwa) and after doing so I realized —deep in my soul—that they had incarnated, just as you and many others in related circles (Ruppert, Jones, Horowitz, et al), for a specific task: to bring information about the very things they are speaking about to those that are at a particular level and need to be exposed to it AT THIS TIME. Their websites and works (books and videos) are portals of "light" (as in information/awareness as opposed to lack of information, ignorance/darkness) to increase awareness of the control mechanisms imposed on humanity. These people are actual instruments of their Higher Selves! I mean to think that Icke would still be going to the US to lecture after saying what he says in all his books especially his latest one without any worries about potential repercussions to him or his family, says a lot about him and others involved in this project. To me is almost like Neo going into the "fortress," near the end of the movie of the first installment of the Matrix flicks, while running to risk of being hit by the rain of bullets the guards shower him and Trinity with. But as you have said in the past: the Higher Selves will not be denied! Indeed.

Answer: Thanks for your comments and observations. It is important for M5G readers to know that what I release is for a certain (and smallest) level, while the mid-Advanced levels are much more populated and the low-Advanced levels even dramatically more so. One should not rush their experiential level, but rather enjoy it and the experiences unique to it. The M5G level attracts a lot of curious mid-Advanced because, as per my segment on mid-Advanced as the false summit, they are looking for validation that they have 'reached the top'. Yet, on diving into the M5G segments, they discover that they have far to go yet and this unsettles them. The unsettling is good, however, because it will eventually bring a desire to move beyond the limitations of mid-Advanced. For those in their Awakened Final Incarnation, well, I'll just say we have a satisfactory idea (for now) of the wonders to come and know that while we have reached the conclusion of the 3rd density Game, we are only getting ready to begin the next stages of our Higher Self's progression...and it's fascinating.

Question 443: I have been pondering on how to create a place that's beneficial for all and not sequential in nature. It would be also nice to have a period where it was simultaneous and -working- for the benefit / learning experience of everyone.

Answer: You CANNOT change the Game once you are in it. You have to deal with the rules that you accepted before entry. Anything else is just a mind exercise. So, 'ponder' away and then get back to the reality of the moment which is the Game, and, for this time, EndGame. You will realize this MUCH better in your Awakened Final Incarnation.

Question 444: You said that dominant incarnations have available access to the other dominant incarnations while incarnated; does this mean conversely that while incarnated, a dominant incarnation is also simultaneously serving as a guide to the other 2 or 3 dominant incarnates without necessarily being aware of serving this function, or is that a post death task?

Answer: No. The access I refer to is that within the Higher Self for the Final Incarnational structure. As to which incarnations are involved in guide positions, this is determined by the individual Higher Self. There is a fair amount of leeway in the Game for this purpose. Refer back to previous segments on the subject of Dominants because you've missed some implications.

Question 445: Thanks for the latest segment. You simplify concepts relating to the game that very advanced incarnates can arrive at quickly by connecting the dots. The particular question about what happens after the earth planetary spirit graduates has been on my mind only a few weeks before. I thought about it and eventually realised that of course! We simultaneous incarnates graduate from 3rd density after we die. Same for the planetary spirit. When the planet literally dies, shim graduates from 3rd density, leaving a dead planetoid behind. You also give much game info in other segments like "the source and root of the problem" found in M5G.

It is difficult to understand the game by connecting the dots when in the mid-advanced stage. It is difficult to know the 'right' questions to ask because many of those questions are often ones that have to be derived by self. The good news is that the mid-advanced level incarnate quickly progresses to very advanced after toiling through the hard work of thinking about concepts, making mistakes, thinking some more and then maybe gaining some insight through thought and experience. This is learning and advancement.

M5G makes it much easier to progress because the concepts are laid out. Much more difficult, I imagine, is the struggle of the mid-advanced incarnate 'out there' in the world who is toiling to gain insight and progress by themselves without M5G. Nevertheless there is much temptation for the mid-advanced incarnate with M5G to ask for much more help even after shim possesses the answer book with the hacks and codes.

Answer: Thanks for your comments. You are incorrect, however, by seeming to bunch everyone below Very Advanced into mid-Advanced. There are many sub-levels in each of the 3 major progression levels of Low, Mid and Advanced. You said that "the mid-advanced level incarnate quickly progresses to very advanced". This is NOT true. The Advanced levels are the most intricate due to the process involved with spiritual awakening. It takes MANY incarnations to wind through from low-Advanced to mid-Advanced, then many more involved in mid-Advanced, attempting to gain control over significant body ID loops to be able to move into the beginning Very Advanced locale. You don't move from mid-Advanced to Very Advanced in one incarnation alone, but you can start out feeling that you are (what I've classified) as mid-Advanced and then suddenly find yourself rapidly progressing. That's because you are in a transitional incarnation born as a Very Advanced but coming to this conscious awareness during the incarnation which, at first, can seem like a lesser Advanced one. This is one's spirit awakening while incarnated. This happens in all major transitional levels. From Low to Mid, when conformity becomes a feature but spiritual restlessness also begins. From Mid to Advanced levels where conformity becomes unsettling and one moves to alternative, exploratory concepts that the Mid levels look down on. A solid mid-Advanced level will not move into Very Advanced during that incarnation. When this type meets M5G information, they are gasping at the materials and how I presented some of them. Where's the love & light that is supreme?, they ask. Tough shit. M5G is not written for that type or lower. There are plenty of materials and teachers for mid-Advanced and lower out there. Once one reaches Very Advanced, it's time to leave the kiddy dependency behind and rely on self. Also, remember that the mid-Advanced level beLIEves that they know it all. They beLIEve that love & light is the height of achievement. Smug.

Question 446: I have reread M5G and am currently rereading your post publications segments. In the segment "EndGame, Earth & Higher Selves", you wrote in the second paragraph : - "Once we are gone and Earth is cleansed, Earth will be out of reach of 3rd density Gamers." There is a lot of lightsiders' crap around about 'the Earth moving into the fourth or fifth plane and all of human kind with it', so how will the planet be really out of reach of 3rd density players, and what about 4th density plane where the polarities still rage? Monroe hardly mentioned the subject in his books when he went in the future, only to say that Earth was vibrating on a different frequency. In the fourth paragraph of the same segment, about sequential HS getting the "itch" to want more, a new planet is set aside in a sector of the galaxy to develop/play a simultaneous incarnates playground. Now, I am wondering who/whatever decides/chooses the planet and the sector?

MATRIX V Gold Edition- Volume 2

Answer: When the Earth Planetary Spirit graduates from the Game, that spirit will progress on to other adventures. You are not making the distinction between the Planetary Spirit and the physical planet. I have covered this in M5G already. To touch on your second point, I'll answer with a question...who created the Game in the first place? This is partially answered in Monroe's materials. Remember the Game is an option and not a requirement. Just like on Earth now, if someone is playing a game of Monopoly (or anything else), you can choose to play or not, but if you play, you agree to the rules of the game or you don't participate. (Ed. Note: For more on this, see "Game Creator(s), Rules & Body ID" segment, 12 Feb 2004)

Question 447: I got M5G last August. All is perfectly crystal clear now!...huge thanks. thanks to MG5 and the Monroe trilogy, I have finally managed to understand 2 particularly significant dreams I've had in the last 15 years, and, to where shim went during an OBE in 1980. I now realise I've twice seen HS from the outside. Interestingly, in the 2nd dream there was a door in front of it which I desperately tried to open. I've have to chuckle when I recollect just how hard I tried to open the door!" Are you, by any chance, thinking of coming over to Olde Europe in the near future?

Answer: Thanks for you comments on M5G and I'm very glad it is beneficial to you. That you saw your Higher Self, and now know what you saw, IS significant to you. That you were unable to enter is also significant because you are unable to enter unless you are a Dominant or Final. Your Higher Self does not engage in curiosity allowing incidents with shim's incarnations since the incarnations are the Higher Self within the Game. Many M5G readers want to go within their Higher Selves, but, until the time is allowed, no way. All this will be totally clear in your Awakened Final Incarnation and after the Summoning.

I have been to Old Europe (which is much better than new, bow-to-the-AmericanEmpire Europe) in the past, pre-Awakening. I would like to return to certain places. As for coming to Europe as The Author has not been suggested by anyone in Europe. I have only given one lecture on M5 shortly before the First Edition was published. Shocked the small audience and have never been asked back. I'm not surprised. Old Europe should consider itself more simultaneous in orientation. New Europe is more sequential in re-orientation. You should be able to take it from there. Best of luck on your path!

Question 448: I am simply curious as to your observations on the concept of "if you believe you need to be protected....you are inviting attack." Specifically, in reference to the T1 Capsule, brain lighting and such. I have already ordered the T1 capsule because I felt it would be of assistance, I didn't necessarily feel a "need" for it though. More or less I see it as such, if Higher self planned a particular set of occurrences to experience via this vessel than no amount of protection or non-protection is going to prevent. I have not "consciously" connected with higher self (aka set down and attempted to do so) just yet, so in this case I followed what I felt was a nudge from higher self to purchase the capsule to further "evolve" via this vessel. More simply stated, I believe higher self wanted the experience of lesser interference achievable via the T1 Capsule.

Answer: You have been unable to grasp the finer points of this M5G concept. One is in reference to situations like getting guns to protect from possible other gun toters. The other is to protect yourself from a continual onslaught that we are attacked with: electronic, chemical and astral. When you ARE attacked (and these attacks are daily and almost constant), you should move to neutralize the attack or you are just a Lightsider feeding the Dark. Hence T-1 and gold light auras. Where you got the idea that Brain Lightning has anything to do with an attack is weird since it's a physical beneficiary enhancer.

It is also very foolish to think that one's Higher Self will stop any/all attacks and misfortunes. That's a Darksider concept of arrogance with 'it's all about me' attitudes and denies the purpose of the Game. There are no experiences based on that concept. Your spirit will lead you to information that you can use to enhance deflection of constant attacks. If you are one to believe that you don't have to do anything, your Higher Self will have events collapse on you for being a self-centered Darksider. If you are a person who cannot go outside your home without a hoard of protections and live in fear (the opposite polarity of the previous situation), you will have experiences that come to the paranoid Lightsiders. A quest is to find the balance and that's the personal journey and very individual.

Question 449: My higher self has told me that given the abundant alien influence there I might need to break a few experiential loops before attempting to progress to that level awareness otherwise those little bastards might have a field day with me. So I have begun setting aside daily time for meditation with the objective of identifying and breaking experiential loops, and eventually progressing to regular OBEs.

Answer: IF you believe you're in communication with your Higher Self, why are you looking for external validation? It means you either don't trust your Higher Self or aren't sure it really IS your Higher Self. Either way, it's your path and your discovery. (Note: See the segment Higher Selves, Mimics & Chit-Chats for more elaboration on this) Question 450: Been searching all over the web for the complete works of Robert Morningsky for sale or download. All I have been able to find is fragments of the terra papers stuff which reads like a hacked up rough draft. Yet and still there are certain paragraphs in it which cause my chakras to light up intensely. My higher self is telling me that it is available somewhere out there in webland. Any pointers you might have to this info would be much appreciated.

The Graduation Key

Answer: Morningsky's materials seem to have vanished unless you had gotten them when they came out in the 90's. I'm not parting with mine (print, VHS tape and audio cassettes). He revealed so much about Orion history that certain sectors cringed with the exposure. If you are meant to locate them, you will. If not, you don't really need them for your current incarnation.

Question 451: First, thank you and Val for producing the best reading material I have ever experienced. I has been a gift that keeps... on... giving!! Second, I know you have discussed the merits of the T1 shield as protection from the massive EMF and such that permeates this planet, especially when one is trying to meditate. I have heard that meditating under a (6' by 6' by 4') open pyramid made of copper or other materials, particularly if its' base and side angles match that of a pyramid, aids in the deepening of the meditation (increased alpha and theta brainwaves). Could such a pyramid help or hinder one who is trying to go within and possibly get in touch with ones Higher Self. And can such a pyramid, with its' properties, help in shielding someone from the negative frequencies that are all around us?? Or is this another lightsider red herring? Thanks again.

Answer: There's ALL kinds of crap out there. IF your current incarnation is meant to be in contact with your Higher Self, you WILL be without any external devices, although you may be led to learn certain methods/information that will be useful to you, even if not to anyone else, to assist you in being ready for such a contact again IF it is meant to be. IF your current incarnation is not meant to be in contact with your Higher Self, nothing you do can change that. It all depends on what the real you (your Higher Self) has in store for your current incarnation and incarnational intellectual curiosity is NOT a valid reason from the Higher Self's point of view.

Question 452: Is it possible for a wild card to happen that can extend the game beyond 2012?

Answer: While 2012 is a target year for several reasons, I also said in M5G that EndGame for the simultaneous on Earth can occur at any time. You demonstrate that you do not understand the difference between EndGame for the simultaneous incarnating Higher Selves on Earth and the end of the Game itself. Those are 2 different concepts. The 3rd Density Game will continue after the simultaneous EndGame. This is stated in various segments in M5G. The Wild Cards I discuss in M5G are connected primarily with EndGame and Earth, NOT the entire 3rd Density Game.

Question 453: I have been rereading Matrix 5 Gold Edition and listening (many times) to the CD you recommended. I have some questions concerning the recognition of the Dominants in regard to the awakening process. If you meet someone OUTSIDE of Higher Self and that someone in such a "matter of fact way" bluntly says "I'm your dominant", do you give him the benefit of the doubt OR do you wait until you are ONLY able to consciously able to go inside the Higher Self to validate what may be true without having a point of reference to work from before you accept the experience as being valid.

Answer: I would remind you of an incident Monroe mentions in his second book when the non-Game playing being came to him and told Bob that shim was his god. There is NO need for any Higher Self Dominant to pull such a stunt. The Dominants ONLY show to a Final when he is being Awakened and this is done under certain circumstances. You will need a personal teacher to take this further.

Question 454: I was under the impression that you would meet ALL your Dominants and not just one of them at the same time inside your Higher Self when you are made aware that you are at least a final. I have read in your Q & A sections about it being possible for the event of meeting the Dominants to occur NOT just only inside Higher Self. However, I thought you would at least meet ALL of the Dominants at once NOT only one of them.

Answer: The initial meeting with one's Dominant Incarnations DOES occur within that Final's Higher Self and NOT before. After that meeting, if necessary, a Dominant MAY be available for consultation while the Final is progressing through the Awakening process. A Dominant, if required by that Higher Self to do something specific for an Unawakened Final, will never reveal the Dominant status to the incarnation. The Awakening begins within the Higher Self as per what I've written in M5G. I had referred to Monroe as a possible 'Split Final' incarnation. Since I wrote that a couple of years ago, I have since learned that he was not such a phenomenon, but rather was a Dominant incarnation himself.

Question 455: I cant consciously go at will via Focus 12 to inside my Higher Self yet. No doubt, this ability will be accomplished later in 2004 when I go to the Monroe Institute.

Answer: Don't count on it. You won't be allowed within your Higher Self JUST because you are curious, etc. It can ONLY occur when the Higher Self has set the time and incarnation for this type of event. You are going to the Institute with expectations that you should not have. It's when you expect something of that magnitude that disappointment can be at the door instead.

Question 456: When one initially starts this astral and/or dream activity and is able to look at oneself, are you inside or outside the Higher Self ? If you were to turn 180 degrees, would you see the interior of the Higher Self ?

Answer: I can see just from your question alone that you are not able to comprehend the portion of M5 dealing with this mid-Advanced (at best) topic. My answers, although quite obvious to those I've written M5G for, are: 'no where near the Higher Self' and 'no'. Any further basic info is contained within M5G and in the illustrations therein.

MATRIX V Gold Edition- Volume 2
The Graduation Key

© 2000-2004 Leading Edge International Research Group. All Rights Reserved.

Question 457: Val, I ordered and have read Matrix 5. I know this should be directed at the author, but I just wanted to get your opinion on this. Since our lives are eternal, this should not matter but it does. I read in lightsider sites about unconditional love and forgiveness being required to advance spiritually. Yet, I know that if I were a person who lost loved ones during the commission of a war/invasion/occupation etc. (children, parents, brothers and sisters, etc.) I could not do so. I would be filled with such rage that I would do anything to both stop the attackers and hurt them as much as possible. If that lightsider statement has truth in it, I would never advance. I would not be able to restrain myself from violence even though I realize that it's always returned. Our higher selves seem to exist just to get experience by proxy, vicarious thrills without risk. It does not seem fair. I believe that most people would react by grief and then vengeance. It would seem extremely difficult to unconditionally forgive under such a situation. If I were tested under those criteria, I would lose.

Answer (Val): We do not get experience by proxy - we get it directly via incarnational and non-incarnational experience. Experience covers all the situations you mention, and more. Many HS incarnations work on different aspects of similar experience in order to distill the wisdom and learning into a more complete picture for that kind of experience - also emotions, body-id attachment level and other factors constantly weave in and out 'inside' each incarnational experience. What would seem to be your 'paradox' of 'forgiveness' would simply translate into more of an understanding of acceptance as your individual perspective advances. What you see as a perceptive 'discontinuity' is not really one at all. Experience itself is the ONLY aspect of existence that can be, if you will, considered as 'sacred' to the HS, and thus to you. All the things you mention above, polarity-based misunderstandings and misconceptions, are the thoughts of others who are, even by your own understanding, lacking in clarity, yet you still give them enough deference, despite yourself, in even asking these questions .... you know to trust your Self .... just do it .... you WILL take care of it effortlessly by yourself .... think 'balance' and observe ..... (Val)

Question 458: I want to start a discussion group for people that have read the MATRIX 5 GOLD EDITION. If you do not object to this I would like you to post this on your web site.

Answer: (Val) We tried an early online 'discussion' GROUP one time. It did not, and does NOT, work for Matrix V material, because Matrix V reflects the INDIVIDUAL journey. All it would do it attract those who would distort the material, mostly mid-levels, and the polarity-based with agendas. I say this based on EXPERIENCE. As the material is a result of direct observational experience, the material is not open to 'discussion'. Using the material as a guideline, each person pursues their OWN journey, which is also not open to GROUP (sequential format) discussion. If you have the desire to create a 'group' to 'discuss' the material, then you have not completely de-programmed sequential thought patterns with any sort of internal consistency. Do NOT create one of these groups. The dynamic does NOT work with non-group oriented material - such a venture is a red herring. The general internet population is NOT capable of interacting within this dynamic. No one's 'opinion' of the material out there is relevant to the fact that it is accurate - it is something to be LIVED, not 'debated'. Get it?

(For The Author's view on this, see Why There is No Matrix V Discussion Group.)

Question 459: Thanks for all your efforts. With over 30 years of searching, reading, studying, practicing this is the clearest, most resonant information with the lowest bullshit quotient I have come across. Even though I have lots of friends and am close to my family I actually lead a rather lonely life since most people just don't "see" what I see and/or feel. This material has given me much comfort and understanding. I have read Monroe's trilogy, Matrix V, the supplementary 2nd edition and am just finishing the Questions section of the Gold edition. My question: Since this is a Game that the Higher Selves all chose to participate in, either as sequential or, eventually, simultaneous why hasn't a bunch of simultaneous Higher Selves simply sent a massive rote to the rest of the participating Higher Selves and finish off this Game. I understand your point about this being an Individual experience path but, since it is a Game, one can end a Game. My feeling is Enough already with this 'dog eat dog' universe. This is so done why continue the general pain, suffering and ignorance for a game? It's been played by enough Higher Selves do we really need to go on for more of the same bullshit?

Answer: Your questions indicate that you are firmly entrenched in the Lightside polarity AND that you would like to change the rules of the Game after you agreed to them before playing and that includes NOT being able to change the rules. This has more to do with the limitations of your current, Lightsider incarnation. It also shows that you have not grasped significant portions of M5G. You are not yet ready (by far) for the fullness of M5G which was plainly stated that it is not written for those below a certain level of Advancement.

Question 460: I have a question about Lightsiders and healing/teaching. I am taking a Reiki class. The instructor has said a couple things I don't quite know what to make of. At the conclusion of the last day of Level I we were doing a group meditation. She began to observe and comment that she saw several children of many different nationalities - I think she even said they were blue - piled on top of each other in the middle of our ring. She said the children wanted to take a crystal and place it into the heart of each person present. I rejected this and placed a mental protective gold ring around myself. She later told me they were there on my account and that I have a lot of child energy around me. She said I was doing a lot of important work. I recognize the teacher to be of Lightside tendency as she speaks of ascended masters and Reiki masters and seems to have belief in indigo children. I intuit that she is someone with genuine ability that she has the intention to help and not harm. I benefited from the class as I could feel a difference energetically. But the heavy lightside thing sends up red flags and makes me a little uneasy and untrusting. Level II is coming up. I know I have to do what I feel I need to do - Would you comment on the authenticity of such a psychic vision? Is it 'dangerous' or something just to weed out and take what I can from the teaching? Was protecting myself the 'right' move? Very Best Regards

Answer: Thanks for your comments and I'm glad M5G is beneficial to you. Due to your comments below, I can see that you don't fully grasp the nature of Lightsiders and their ways to control others. They can 'kill with kindness' to get their way. I suggest you reread all that material. Of course you are not a Final Incarnation and must continue on the path chosen by your Higher Self with all the experiences that that involves. How I would act is not the way that you would act. Different levels, different perspectives. You gotta be you. I would never allow anything to be implanted in me. That you went into a protective mode suggests your Higher Self exerting himself. Lightsiders would give their souls away (if they could) to any glowing or lofty talking aliens. That's their problem, not yours. As far as what you should do, YOU will have to answer that yourself. Re-read the taking responsibility for self segments and don't look for me to 'tell you' what to do. I am not your personal teacher! Check with your Higher Self. On another note, I've never found anything impressive with Reiki but know that Lightsiders just fall all over it. I've had it done on me and felt absolutely nothing, BUT just because it's not my thing doesn't mean it wouldn't benefit another.

Question 461: Some people I know have been to the so called "past live sessions", "regressions", where you meet some other incarnations of you, I try to tell them that they are not past incarnations, just in another time period, most don't understand, and its fine. What I would like to ask you, because I have been seeing this for some time now, is why is that when people tap in to some other incarnations of their Higher Self they connect to incarnations that are having some very similar experiences to the ones of this present incarnation. Its like if they were attracted to one another (women having problems with its sexuality taps in to another of her incarnations has a prostitute, man having troubles with its father taps in to another incarnation having similar experiences). Its like they are working to overcome the same experiential loop for that specific Higher Self. Can you comment?

Answer: You are looking for conformity where you should be thinking individuality. And you are also trying to figure out why other Higher Selves are doing things that you don't understand. Don't worry about what everyone else is doing and why they are unable to understand things you do. Each will have to deal with their own experiential loops at their own pace just as you are having do deal with your own. Concern about the experiential loops of those around you, beyond noting them, will keep you from handling your own.

Question 462: Regarding the sequential ancient Earthers pre genderization, what became of them after Earth was set aside for the Simultaneous path? Did those Higher Selves agree to the game and thus go elsewhere to complete their experiences or do they still consider Earth as part of their playground so to speak? Would this account for part of the reason the sequentials want Earth back? (amongst other reasons)

Answer: I haven't investigated this question. It's not an area of interest for me. I'm sure you can get the answer in the Library on 27, though. This has nothing to do with why the aliens want Earth back. That information already exists in M5G and later segments. Go back and do your own locating of it.

Question 463: I have just finished reading your book Matrix V - thank you for spending your time producing such a wonderful book. My Higher Self has had me on a journey now for over a year in which many of incarnation's "illusions" about the world, religion, environment, health, history, society, government, etc. have been revealed. At first I was very angry and have since decided on my own, before reading your book, that the key to everything was within my own self and used that anger to fuel my inner search. I decided that dwelling in anger was not healthy! Then I found your book which took me further down the path. It has been a "rocky" experience lately as my "lightsider" friends and I "clash" and part paths. But certainly in my life, I have seen the rocky road getting smoother as time goes on.

Being a lesbian it was certainly eye-opening for me to read your description of women. I have some het women friends but never really paid much attention to their interactions with husbands, boy-friends, other males .... since reading your book, I've paid much more attention and have found many of them to be very subtly abusive to males. It is very interesting to see them "back track" when I call them on their stuff (in a loving "observational" type manner) at dinner parties and gatherings. Early on in my 20's I was very "turned off" by all the "male hating" found in the feminist movement and some lesbian "circles". After reading your book, I would definitely consider myself an advanced incarnation - but dominant or final, I do not know for certain and really do not want to get "hung up" on trying to find that out. I am focusing on inner work / journey and connection to my Higher Self.

My question for you is this: Where can I find out more information on the relationship that Native Americans had with their own gay people? In your book you mention that gay Indians played a special part in their communities and helped them ..... how? What was it that gays were able to help their communities with? I ask because I am currently living in a small, rural mountain community in Colorado which I love and wonder sometimes why I am here . I was raised Southern Baptist - yuck (lots of programming that has been overcome) and have always had a very heart-felt connection to the Native American path. During my journey to "be myself" regardless of family pressure, I would cry often when reading Native American books about their acceptance of gays.

Answer: I'm glad you are enjoying M5G. Keep checking the M5 site for my new segments since the book. I recommend The Spirit & The Flesh by Walter L. Williams. It's in trade paperback form. Try Barnes & Noble or Amazon to find it. Excellent book, so much so that my Apache shaman teacher asked for a copy of it. I did a Google search using 'gay Native American book' and I see there were several others that you may want to investigate, but Williams' book is the only one I read (late 80's). Now it's up to you to do your research on the topic.

Thanks for your comments!

Polarity-Based Power Plays and Observations On Ones Own Path

Question 464: Greetings. Your latest update (Darkside Aggressions) is very informative and powerful. Your last comment about observational criticism struck a cord because I have chosen to keep quiet most of the time around co-workers or people I know but not because of fear but rather the fact that nobody (except for one gentleman) will engage in true discussions. They refuse to acknowledge or respect any of my observations and think that I'm crazy. Rather than push it, I've chosen to silently observe and focus on my own growth. After all, you always stress the fact that everyone is on their own path and it is very darkside to force one's opinions/beliefs on somebody else. I have to admit though that it's very frustrating to deal with people that have no spark in their eye or any interest other than earning a paycheck. Breaking the "frustration" loop is a big challenge for myself. I thank you for the powerful and fascinating updates that you post.

Answer: While it is Darkside to force one's positions/beliefs on another (force being the key), it is very Lightside to be timid about them and allow another's stance to intimidate you into silence. It's a whole other thing to express your positions to allow others to consider what you have to say. Once you've expressed what you feel and you are responded to with resistance, then you can tell them to fuck off and not scatter your pearls before swine. At the same time, your opinion will encourage any interested party to approach you. Then, you are free to exchange ideas as long as the other one is receptive. Once the mind closes, they should be allowed to proceed on their path. The more Advance one is, the more you can keep to yourself, but you also don't roll over for the polarities. Instead, when they realize that you cannot be intimidated/controlled, they tend to steer clear of you. If you never express yourself, they believe you have an interest in what they say or can be influenced to join their herd. The decisions, however, are to be made according to your incarnational path. Keep watching the M5 site. The segments continue..

4th Density Incarnations

Question 465: Are the 4th density reptilians the sequential equivalent to the simultaneous incarnations that end up in focus levels 20-something post death? The reason they would be so heavily involved with their 3rd density counterparts is that they haven't fully moved on to incarnate again, similar to the Earthers who haven't matured enough to stop hanging around their acquaintances still behind, or what? I'm deducing here that they are also part of the sequential path in a different stage, as an incarnation's two stages are the 3D aspect and the 4D aspect.

Answer: This is a good assumption on your part and also logical. This is also part of the Game.

Question 466: The post-publication segments are always very appropriate, and the timing "just right". I would be startled if it wasn't for everything else happening with such amazing succession, like an all-encompassing dance of cosmic proportions. Thank you for putting them out. Would it be possible to expand a bit on the subject of brown hair/brown eyes being the only true Earther combination? Prior to reading M5G, I was unusually terrified of aliens, something even my therapist refused to take seriously. Of course, they can't do anything to me unless I let them do it, in which case it's just something I have to live through, but I wonder, following your comments on the Taken series about blondes and redheads being particularly useful to certain occult groups, it would appear this is so because of the non-Earther genes/characteristics. How much do I need to see the Arizona Wilder tape? Again, thanks for your work. It is appreciated. 2003 truly is the year from hell, both from a political/world perspective as from a personal one. Trying, yet I believe beneficial in the long run, at least personally.

Answer: The dark hair (DARK brown/black)/brown eyes is most Earth basic. Blonde, red, light/medium brown hair and other than dark brown eyes indicates significant alien genetics. You'll have to get into Arizona Wilder's materials (use Google search or check David Icke's site) for lots on that topic. However, in DNA codes, it the positive or negative factor that is more important. Negative factor blood has more alien components than positive factor. Even so, this and more is all body ID. It should not be more important than a curiosity to Very Advanced and higher incarnates. To get wrapped up in body ID indicates where one has not yet reached and will detain one from rapid spiritual Advancement. It IS important to know, but it is not important to halt one's progress over. Your incarnational body is just a convenience for the path your Higher Self has chosen for each individual incarnation. Glad you're enjoying M5 and the site's new segments. The Year From Hell continues!

Question 467: This must be an exercise in patience and self-reliance and maybe more. I know I have experiential loops to address for where I am right now and I am working on them. On the other hand I have a strong desire to know more too. When I first read "Matrix V Gold Edition and Astral Events" a while back, something happened to me that I hadn't experienced before. I experienced a state of extreme elation. This went on for a few minutes and I was just sitting there, overwhelmed. I wanted to know more. Similar thing happens when I read the line "The knowledge waiting for you WHEN you are ready is astounding", from "EndGame, Earth & Higher Selves." Each time I get to that line, my face breaks into a very unusual kind of smile, tense face and I feel tension on top and at the back of my head. Then I want to know more. Often when I have a question about Matrix V materials, I reread the book and think about the material and the answer can be found in there. Except when it involves an extension of the material. I take it readers can ask you helpful questions about the materials, but questions that are not too far-reaching, which allows you to share as much as you want to, if you want to (or can). For the far-reaching questions, they need to get answers for themselves. Thanks. This experiential loop of seeking unearned information will be broken.

Answer: Good response! If everything was just handed to you with little effort, it wouldn't be appreciated as much. M5 and my Q&A's give an awful lot of never heard info. There are also many questions that could be asked by readers, but have not yet. You just chose one of those areas that you must come to your own answer via your Awakened Final. There is So much stuff that would literally blow you away if you weren't prepared to handle it. All in its good time.

Question 468: If there is an endgame for our team, then there must have also been a deadline for joining the simultaneous mode as well...so what will higher selves in our galaxy do if they get bored with their system and want to advance quicker, with Earth no longer the spot to be?

Answer: Good question - Easy answer available to an Awakened Final: Yes, this is EndGame for us and our faction will be leaving. However, although while Earth is today the only simultaneous planet in this galaxy, after we leave another planet (in a different part of the galaxy) will be chosen for a new group of Higher Selves desiring the simultaneous path. Earth's Planetary Spirit is also readying to Advance on the Nature Path and this will take Earth out of the Game as well. When one door closes, another one opens. Who knows, the next simultaneous planet may be in a Light polarity dominant sector. This will occur AFTER we are gone. Third density will eventually end, but we will be LONG gone when that happens...meanwhile the Game goes on.

Question 469: Who is behind the reptilians? Who is guiding the polarities, light and dark? If their agenda is to extend the polarities into the 'upper' densities, who on the upper density is aiding this agenda? This plan is being implemented in all the galaxies. I suspect the simultaneous Higher Selves have decided to 'address' this agenda. Understand the polarities so that they have no influence over us on the 'higher' densities, thus halting their agenda but not in a direct way. A brilliant way. This seems like a piece of a FAR larger 'game' being played. As much as you have shared in M5 I know there is FAR more to ourselves beyond what you have said. This seems small in some way but builds to something all encompassing and grander, for lack of a better description. I am being brief about a thought that is impossible to translate properly I not even sure you know the answer to this, just thought I would ask.

Answer: Who is behind the chess pieces when a game of chess is played? Who is guiding the white and the black pieces? If you were able to grasp the material in M5, you would be able to view it as such. Of course the Game is far more complex, but the concept behind it is similar to chess. You are reacting in a polarity way with what you wrote. Yes, M5 does not contain all I know, by far, but it does contain the keys necessary to spiral out of the Game via your Awakened Final Incarnation. THAT is what really counts.

Questioner (REPLY): You are very correct in my comment, it was polaric. It was a very glib comment that was part of something I was expecting. It happened on the weekend. My thoughts had been idle as of late and I knew an event was coming for me. It was a polaric event, which explains the glib comment. The event came and went and it was very rewarding with many insights for myself. Thank-you for your observation. It put me to thinking more clearly about what I was to experience. As for M5, I do understand the material in it. Perhaps not at your level. My thoughts may wander from time to time do to boredom and I look for unnecessary thought. I have been inside my Higher Self several times consciously and met my Final Incarnation. Your material is as you say 'a key'. It is to be use for provocation of thought. It is not your job to think for everyone especially if they are your individual thoughts. Learning to find your own thought by reading the keys in the material is the key. Take what you are sharing and use it to expand and learn more about self and the individual exploration of self. Spiral out. To tell everyone everything does nothing for them. There is a gradual learning process that unfolds that provides a depth to learning that would not be there if you 'do it all' for everyone. I suspect this is what most expect from you. There is obviously common events that apply to everyone, those are plain to see. The M5 material has A LOT of depth to it. It is an intangible depth that is discovered when you find it through feeling the thought behind it, very subtle. There is more about M5 to be sure but you know it and I know it so trying to explain it is quite difficult with written communication. I like you and talking to you from time to time is something I enjoy. I have learned something very valuable from our last exchange and the event on the weekend that has made me considerably stronger and more focused. Time is growing short and there are interesting things afoot. I am very aware of the energies and thoughts around me so I am also growing impatient. We'll see.

Question 470: Your website article about Personal Teachers and the sharing of information in relation to functioning in higher levels made a lot of sense and I've realized how in certain instances I have been a big information leech. I don't recognize what 'knowledge' that I could share but I can share experience. You have helped me recognize I have Lightside issues (I used to feel I had to save people but have moved past that some time ago) The major experiential loops (marriage, breeding, religion) are over but I know there are other more subtle loops that are a source of frustration in recognizing and moving past. I feel on the cusp of a large leap forward so I try and push for, life could be much more interesting with certain abilities. I wanted to tell you I had my 'first date' the other day. We have genuine affection and relation but little sexual attraction for me (mainly because he isn't 'beautiful' - shallow I know). I've been meditating on the HS poster for a few weeks. I've noticed it leaves a lasting 'vision' in my third eye.

Answer: Well, you may be getting a handle on some of your experiential loops, but that you weren't interested in a guy because his external wasn't "beautiful" says you have a long way to go yet because you favor body ID over spirit. You'll know you're overcoming that when you look for what you find attractive in the person rather than the whole superficial image of body 'beauty'. That's part of the breeding loop even in gays and it seems to be heightened considerably in spiritually immature gay men. DNA commands don't just 'melt away'. You are being deceived BY your body in that. They tend to be quite dramatic when overcome. These are ancient, alien control commands and they have their own fail-safes. The proof is in the pudding, so to say, and action speaks far louder than word which can come all too quickly.

I'm glad you feel you are progressing. It's your path and follow it you must and I'm glad that M5 is helping you. You would have to get over your shallowness before I'd consider meeting you. The superficial vibration is a big turn-off and irritating to be around. Meanwhile, progress at your pace. Everything in its own time for each on their path.

Question 471: I was recently at Monroe Institute for a class where we used a 'slingshot effect' to get to F34/35. Several people in our group also report they saw the "jellyfish" (simultaneous Higher Selves) on 34/35, but some couldn't see them or realize what they were. It's interesting that only a certain number of people even saw them.

Answer: The Higher Self will not allow shim's incarnations to see shim (and consciously remember) until the incarnation is at the stage when it is part of the experiential path, and it is necessary for the incarnation to have that identifiable experience. Of course with M5 Gold out there, the cover picture is a major key for the Very Advanced and higher - to know what the 'jellyfish' really is! I loved the slingshot effect the first time I did it there. It was fantastic and I flew over 27. Yes, the area 34/35 IS dark. The only lights were emitted by the various simultaneous Higher Selves that I saw. So, the institute can get you there, but the Higher Selves will remain unseen unless it is your time to see. The Higher Selves are quite strict on that. I was the only one to see them in my group, but I had been there before then.

Question 472: Is there some sort of forum or chat room or something where you communicate on and are available?

Answer: No, there is no endorsed, public forum for M5. We had one over a year ago and the polarities tried to take over and ruined it for the others. I will not start another one. That experiential loop is broken.

Question 473: I haven't read Matrix V yet, only the observations and questions over the past 2 years but its been enough to change my perspective enough to get a grip of my incarnation, shake it up and get me moving and switch me on and be on the ball at all times. I wish there was people like what you represent in my personal world to relate to but things are as they are.

Answer: Of course the heavy materials are in Matrix V Gold Edition. It is available via Leading Edge and is also in the Library on Monroe level 27. The 50 Gold Edition segments will never appear on the Leading Edge site. If you are meant to have M5, your Higher Self will see to it that you do. You will not be able to grasp what appears on the site without reading AND understanding M5 Gold. No shortcuts.

Question 474: After reading your post I understand better the need to rely on my Higher Self for answers to personal questions and to keep observing/learning. Advancement cannot be forced --- but it will happen! It is all in M5. Although I am still young (early 20's) and have less in the way of life's experiences in this current incarnation, this is EndGame so it doesn't matter anyway. What matters is to advance as much as I can while making M5 accessible to my other incarnations. Meanwhile, I enjoy observing to the max. My eyes are open wide and clear to the way women today try to be superior to men. Just watch the lifetimes women's channel on cable. Horrible! The ads stink. The comedies abuse men blatantly. Another observation: women talking to/interacting with other women use different tactics than when talking to/interacting with men. As if women are afraid of/weary of each other. This is because they know themselves! I have come to realize that. It is a lot of fun observing. At an internship orientation a few weeks ago, the head of our orientation group ordered 4 of us, all guys to get up and give up our seats to women. I looked at him and said 'no. why?' He was shocked! His response, "because there are women standing". I wanted to laugh but I did not. Anyway, the others gave up their seats because a managing director told them to. He did not talk to me for the rest of the orientation, but he could not look at me, and I did not get punished. Now I realise these things more now, having read M5. There is still a lot to be learned/experienced. I shall keep at it and I shall find what I need to find. Great work you've done/are doing.

Answer: I'm glad you are getting a lot from M5 and, yes, the info does assist your more Advanced incarnations that don't have access to it. When he asked you why you wouldn't give up your seat, a good response would be because of 'equal rights' and women want to be treated like men. Stick to your guns!

Question 475: Thanks for M5. It certainly does have keys and I have experienced new things, like operating my chakras and going up through a warp-like tunnel as I meditate. I am interested in learning more about the occult. Any ideas/direction? Someone pointed me out to H.P. Blavatsky's work and the theosophy movement. Do you know about them? What are your thoughts?

Answer: Blavatsky's materials are poison. They are like the apple that the queen gave to Snow White and Blavatsky was a known druggie. Draw your own conclusions. You need a personal teacher. There are plenty out there and 99+% of them belong to one of the polarities. You will have to discover what is good for your path.

Question 476: I just came in contact with your 'Matrix V' material. I read 'Journeys Out of The Body' in 74 and got out on my third attempt using his method. I went many years searching for something more that was in Bob's book. In 1996 I found that Bob wrote 2 more books and had an institute where you can learn by direct experience. I finished X27 last fall. I did not see any reference the the material in Matrix V in any of Bob's books or from any of the instructors at TMI.

Answer: Well, since M5 wasn't written until Bob had been dead for a number of years, it's kind of a stupid comment to be surprised that he didn't write about it! You will have to read Matrix V Gold Edition to discover the answers to your questions. Start with the web site. There is also a prominent copy of M5 Gold in the Library on 27 and I know of some who have accessed it there.

Question 477: After reading about the emotional fire in M5 Gold Edition, I purchased the CD you talked about. It took a while to locate it but fortunately it is still possible to order it from the distributor. Most of the the numbers of the Swan Lake Suite were familiar to me except the Finale, track 14. This music touched me deeply at an emotional level especially the Finale's finale, which to me represented perfect balance. The sequel of May 27 help me to see more clearly what I felt inside, thank you. On another subject a week or so ago I listened again to Monroe Gateway tape " Wave VII a Journey to Focus 21" and somehow I felt that it was corrupted . Hard to explain but it seem in my experience that there is some kind of sentinel? or virus? some energy that shouldn't be there. One thing that I am learning and trying to put into practice is to questioned the energies that I come into contact in the astral world. I did just that when I again met the light energy not to long ago. Instead of being in awe and follow it as I did before in the past, I questioned it and refuse to energetically be guided by it. I saw that it was in a strategic position and I just willed to continue the journey.

Also about Moen, after reading his books last summer I register to assist to one of his workshop in Calgary Canada early fall. But after reading a bit more on his website and a couple of exchanges with him through email I decided to cancel my participation. It was my

HS warning me not to get involve with his work and shim clearly showed me that it was not in the best interest of this incarnation to go through the cycle again of getting in touch with an emotional man. I knew within where it would lead. Thankfully I listened and later when I read M5 Gold Edition about experimental loops it was easier to identify this one and drop it. Thank you for continuing sharing your observations.

Answer: Thanks for your comments and I'm glad you're enjoying M5 Gold. You're the second person who has told me the Institute is selling materials above Free Flow 12. Monroe was dead set against it when he was alive. I wanted Vibe Flow 15, for example, and he said he was not going to release it. Now I hear about 'wish granting genie' on Focus 15 from one and the corruption you mention. That tells me a lot. There IS no such 'wish granting genie' for one.

Question 478: "I find that a lot of this material I've somehow "known" all along but needed my memory jarred so to speak. One example of this is when I read we should not be concerned with the end of human life. It dawned on me that even if the human race became extinct it would not affect who we really are because our Higher Selves are immortal and eternal. How is it that we seem to forget this from time to time? Ah yes, it's called body ID. Your description of females is dead on. Whenever I catch myself being a "typical" female, I get very angry and upset with myself. When I look back I see I have been fighting the female DNA commands all my life. I'll be the first to admit that some of the material I am not quite ready for YET. I do not worry about it because I know eventually I'll be ready." Barb

Answer: I'm glad you're enjoying M5. Fear is a body reaction, not a spirit one. The body fears death and just about everything else not viewed as pleasurable. The more the spirit overcomes the body and breaks experiential loops, both major and minor, the less fear controls as the spirit is not commanding those areas formerly controlled by the body and alien DNA commands. Follow your path. You never know where it will take you.

Question 479: Just a quick question I hope you have a minute to reply...it's regarding the role of fully enlightened masters here on the planet right now. I have been lifted by the teachings of one such master (Suma Ching Hai) she teaches that the role of the master is to take on the karma of the people who go to her and uses her power to have liberation from this planet in one lifetime no matter if you are not a final incarnation or not so to speak. Do you agree with this, do you think that maybe these masters have gone through all dimensions and came back here to give us a short cut for those who want to go back directly to God or the Source? And what does it mean to be fully enlightened as Suma Ching Hai claims to be?

Answer: The answers to bullshit 'masters' are contained in M5 Gold. I suggest you go back and read it to get the answers to your questions. I do not answer questions that are answered by reading M5 Gold. That you bow to bullshit 'masters' indicates you are a Lightsider, but not ready for most of M5 Gold.

Question 480: Reading your observation about Bruce A. Moen material have made me remember one question that I was meaning to ask you since I did Gateway last April and read a book while I was there by this same author that is called "Voyage to Curiosity's Father". It regards Focus 15 and the fact that, according to the author, anyone that can access that level could place is will for a certain event to take place in physical world and it was up to certain "workers" at the Center to make this happen, if this was not in conflict with other peoples "wishes". It seemed a little confusing and farfetched when I read it, especially because it doesn't take in consideration the will of our HIGHER SELF and the different aspects that SHIM would like a particular incarnation to experience. This book was very interesting to read, although I have to confess that after reading and understanding MATRIX V its just impossible not to compare the wisdom that it contains with the rest of the literature existent out there. Its like one reader pointed out: It just puts things in another perspective; thanks for that once more.

Answer: There is a lot of material there that is meant to sidetrack you from spiraling out. They use terms and situations that sound true, but aren't. This is one of them and has it's origin in the polarities. My number one piece of advice is Trust Your Higher Self. Everything and everyone else may fail you, but your Higher Self, the real you, never will! Matrix V Gold Edition has the keys to allow you to see through the multitude of Game fantasies and control devices. That is because it is of Higher Self origin. Hang in there.

Question 481: I practice chi-kung (energy cultivation), but since our time and manner of deaths are pre-determined, am i correct to say that practicing it will enhance my health and quality of experiences only, but not prolong my physical life?

Answer: Yes, once incarnated NOTHING your incarnation can do will extend or shorten your life. YOU chose the time/manner of death. You cannot change your mind. It's the body's command structure that attempts to fool you into believing that it can override the spirit. The body fears death, not the spirit.

Question 482: In response to your April 30 segment, I agree with all of your points. When I heard that certain school districts were trying to teach ebonics and classify it as a language, my bullshit detector radar went off. Ebonics is crap. More advanced incarnations tend to be averse to it. Any 'black' acquaintances that I have that I have that 'think' (as opposed to only acting based on low level DNA and/or social programming), do not speak in 'ebonics' although they may use 'slang' occasionally when joking (I also use slang sometimes when I'm joking around). General conversation utilizes clear concise speech as opposed to the slurred, nebulous offshoot referred to as 'ebonics.' Another note....if you pay attention to slang amongst blacks in the U.S.....it has regressed. A good example is that in the 1960's, a lot of black males referred to each other as 'brother man'. In the 1970's the term became 'brother'. In the 1980's it was 'bro', and in the 1990's the term was 'b' (ex. "What's up "B" was used as a greeting). This reflects a species regression and a lazy mind (MINIONS and low level body id incarnations). A side note regarding slang words....'blood' was used commonly among black males greeting each other in the 1970's...this obviously reflected a focus on 'blood' (bloodlines/physical connections) between blacks which is body ID. The Orion masters love to see this amongst the worker race (black slave race) they created. "Stay black" is also a common term which on the surface means 'be proud of who you are'...HOWEVER, that phrase is another trick that simply means you are ONLY A BLACK HUMAN (or white or red, yellow, etc.)....Don't see yourself as more than black and human because you are only black and only connected to your bloodline. It's another trap to keep Simultaneous Higher Self Incarnations from realizing their true nature. I could go on about language and the many traps of language not only amongst blacks, but among all races and/or cultures. Language is a method for expressing thoughts and language that is confused/confusing serves as a powerful binder for the mind.

Answer: You are correct. It's one thing to play around with the words and an entire other thing to speak in minionese all the time in standard conversation.

Question 483: That is a very interesting piece you wrote on Sequential Incarnates (I also read the article that you sent about the 'child prodigy'). There is no doubt that the memories from previous/sequential incarnations of this 'prodigy' are what allowed him to solve math equations at 14 months of age. Another point that I'd like to make is in regard to the boy's perceived intelligence. Throughout my life, I've watched Earthers marvel at and worship feats of so called 'intelligence' or people who are perceived as intelligent (ex. PhD's and 'experts' in various fields of study). However, this 'intelligence', per third density game standards, is usually measured based on an ability to analyze and utilize information within a linear reality container....right brain centric. Intelligence, per the third density game definition, is only the 'potential' for a physical entity to compute the information, it is not a measure of what an entity knows. Lately, society has made an attempt to slightly improve measures of intelligence by measuring so called 'emotional intelligence', however even that definition lacks inclusion of awareness of the nature of existence. An incarnation who has more of a balance between right brain/left brain type activity combined with an innate 'awareness' of the 'spiritual' nature of existence, is in actuality FAR more intelligent (intelligence defined correctly as the degree of awareness of the various aspects of the nature of existence throughout the densities) than an entity who is operating via a heavy focus on third density linear based 'intelligence' (imbalanced). Wisdom is a compilation of what an entity knows and how known information is applied from a linear and non-linear (ex. 'spiritual') perspective. In the mean time, observe the less advanced incarnations as they flock like sheep around the various 'prodigies' and worship them, never going within to realize their own innate, unlimited potential.

Answer: Yes, intelligence alone is weak. It's wisdom that really enhances intelligence. Note the kid had to be taught 'cultural' awareness. This is due to his spirit not culturally aware of Earth, but rather the planet he originated from. That they are making such a fuss over this one may indicate that he will have an intended role to play in the booting off of simultaneous incarnates. Also, that he is hanging with Gorbachev and other reptilian types indicates that he would be from one of the Orion's Pleiadian allies, which is deceiving to Lightsiders who (foolishly) think all Pleiadians are 'good'.

Question 484: I have been observing the reactions to war in the US and its amazing how most Americans just don't see it, especially when they have people like Donald Rumsfeld that, literally, have said several times that would like very much for journalists to stop reporting the "bad" news. Just by looking at him and its posture when giving press conferences should tell people a lot. I especially enjoy the way that he scratch his hear when confronted with some uncomfortable question. The same is happening here with the local politicians, but not in the way that I see in the US. Endgame is really in force. My question to you its about the law of attraction and the consequences, not only to the US, but to the Orion Empire as well. Doesn't it mean that, eventually, they will suffer similar consequences? Like attracts Like!

Answer: They are ALL Darksiders. This is how Dark operates. It surrounds itself with lies and deceptions. It can be very frustrating to mid-Advanced and higher incarnates, but it is a major part of the Game. The frustration comes from being surrounded by minions and others with the warmongering/patriotic loops in full action. There are more Advanced people in Europe than there are in the US where the people are acting like the Germans in the 30's. Then it was jews. Today it is muslims. It's going to get worse. The majority of Americans today hate, yes-hate, anyone who does not want to follow their Dark path. Darksiders are persecuting anyone who publicly disagrees with them especially Hollywood personalities and anti-war Lightsiders. This is fascism and they are as guilty of war crimes as Adolph von Bush and his henchmen in Washington, the US Republican Guards! It is VERY Dark here but they have coated it with the white paint of the Lightside using phony words like 'freedom' and 'liberating'. Strange, though, when the communists used these words, everyone knew the truth about them, but when the Americans use it, not many question it here. This is the current nature of EndGame. It will get worse and we will have to see what is going to happen. Learn and observe!

Question 485: I live In Florida and sometimes it can take a week or so for packages to arrive in the mail from cross country so M5 Gold hasn't arrived yet. However I have a good grasp of the original M5 and was able to comprehend the latest posting to the M5 observations page which has led me to ask you a question. In a segment you basically give us the real reason why we are here. Which is that a 'rebel' group of omnipotent, omniscient higher entities broke off from the main collective in search of new experiential loops throughout the different space time continuum scenarios of the manifested and - universe. Which means that no invisible mystery deity said *poof*and created humans and universe and all the usual religious banter. My question is that since the simultaneous higher selves started out sequential and come from ALL the various alien groups that would mean that it would be possible for me or any other simultaneous incarnate to have been a reptilian before taking the simultaneous route here on 3rd density earth. That would mean that anyone of us could have been Rizqiyian/Sirian/Pleidian/Andromedan/Procycon etc etc before the higher selves we are connected to decided to experience 3rd density earth. That would also mean that if we could access our higher selves we could access those memories of when we were simultaneous incarnates. Are these factual conclusion I have reached? If this a example of what kind of info is M5 Gold then it will be groundbreaking to say the least. Thanks.

Answer: You cannot access PRE-simultaneous, sequential incarnational information while on the simultaneous path. That's part of the Game. For more, wait till you get M5 Gold.

Question 486: I've read Matrix V and i comprehend most of what has been written. In withdrawing from the game more and more, I'm beginning to enjoy less and less company with other people, I realize that everyone is at they're own level and getting what they need at this time. But in realizing where I'm at at the moment I find myself becoming a recluse. I just don't really bother trying to find a partner, or even building relationships with people. Also I'm beginning to see women's nature in relationships and it really annoys me, and i end up arguing with female colleagues, because I'm fully understanding the little games they play and it pisses me off. Is this natural?? I'm losing touch with al my old friends and it doesn't seem to bother me. I get shit from my parents/friends for not communicating and not getting out and meeting people. About 5% of the time i feel lonely. The other 95% i feel kind of empty. Like nothing. Is this kind of experience normal? I'm just trying to get a sense of where I'm at, and I've got no point of reference in this journey I'm on.

Answer: You are going through changes due to the M5 effect on you and your body is rebelling against your spirit. You have to deal with this as best you can. I never said it would be easy and, instead, I said it would be difficult. That's the Rocky Road. You ask if it's "natural". That's the body talking. It ISN'T "natural" to the body because you are bucking the DNA commands. It is part of the path of the spirit. You also claim to be miserable 100% of the time. That, too, is the body. You need to stop communicating for the body and talk for yourself instead. I don't deal with others' body bitchings. You'll have to find someone else who might. The choices are yours. The question is much more - since you have come this far, what are YOU going to do? Only you can answer that.

Question 487: I'm having some difficulties in understanding what's really happening inside NATO. I can see that countries like German and France are truing to give more power to the U.N. and I know what that means, but I can't observe deeper and see the alien connection. In MATRIX5 you talk about different groups with different agendas that are constantly infighting among them self's for power and influence. Is this something to do with the upcoming of the Orion Empire? Bush is not very please with this and there are some people here in Europe that are delight with that. I can see the polarities game here, but not the entire picture, can you help?

Answer: There are limitations in the amount of depth one has in trying to observe the Game. The more Advanced you are, the more you can see and understand. Handle what you are able to and don't get agitated over what you can't. The planetary infighting: Bush/Blair vs. Germany/France/Belgium is one battle. Bush/Hussein is another. Bush/North Korea is another. Islamic/christian is another (as in the defense of Turkey issue, plus others). There are more. The central agitator in all of this is the Bush family. His faction has never been in favor with any but the British royals. This is part of EndGame, part of infighting and part of polarity struggles. I am glad that everyone is not catering to Bush for he wants to be global dictator. With worlds under Orion control, there is a single planetary ruler. Bush wants this for himself. Reptilians are violent and demanding. You can easily see that in Bush. It isn't likely that you will see the entire picture. There are just TOO many details. Do the best you can and don't worry about the rest. Contrary to the opinion that the current fascist government of the US would have you believe, most Americans do not support Bush. Polls are either faked or rigged. One said 51% of the people support the Iraq war. That's probably 51% of the people who like Bush!

Question 488: After reading M5 thoroughly for the fourth time I've noticed that my desires and attraction to this time space reality has grown very thin. As I continue to follow the higher self and shut off the external noise my desire to retreat into the mountains has grown ever so strong. My Higher Self seems to want me to let go of the emotional load that I have created and concentrate on my purpose for incarnating here. I know that i must make this move and give up everything because the thought seems to be on my mind very often. I continue to ask shim for guidance and assistance in making this decision cause it is something I have never done before. Could this be that my higher self has started to break down the survival drive of the body?

Answer: There is no telling what an individual Higher Self will choose to do through an incarnation. I don't know what there would be for you in the mountains. That's something you'd have to discover on your own. If your Higher Self wants you to be somewhere/do something, the way opens up and the move is easy. If you run into block after block, it's probably not for you at this time. I can't speak for your Higher Self, though, that's up for you to discover.

Question 489: I guess the Orion Empire's return is not that far away!! One last observation and please correct me if I'm wrong. You've made it very clear that the Game allows an individual to spiral out as long as we don't form groups or make waves or go against the game. It seems to me though that we're getting closer and closer to a time when individual freedoms will be stripped away to almost nothing (especially if Bush wages war and America becomes an even bigger target). Homeland Security / Martial law etc. will be enforced to make sure independent thinkers or those who can read through all the bullshit are silenced. At my present level of maturity, I' have not been able to consciously connect with my Higher Self so I rely on reading and accessing your site and book and Icke's info to absorb as much info as possible. It looks like the Game is going to make it almost impossible for somebody at my level to progress as time goes on. Is this why EndGame is being sped up because the Simultaneous Higher Selves realize that the game will become too restrictive? I realize that my Final Incarnation exists at some point in time so maybe I'm not asking an appropriate question but any input you have I would appreciate - and thank you for your responses the last few days.

Answer: You are putting conditions on spiraling out. What you have written is NOT true, but you haven't reached the level where you can appreciate the individuality. You can form groups or, like Icke, fight the polarities. You can DO whatever you want. When you reach a certain level, you will know what you don't want to do any more, although you are involved in other incarnations. Do what YOU feel you must. Don't conform. You will embrace certain concepts when you are ready for them. EndGame isn't being "sped up". It's just ending. This is how it concludes - very rapidly. This is the Year From Hell and it will get worse. You are at the level you are for the experiences that that level will bring your Higher Self. So just do what YOU want and don't worry what anyone else is doing. Conformity vs. individuality.

Questioner Reply: Thanks for correcting me on these issues. I don't think I worded the previous questions correctly and that is my fault. I have come to a point where I try to learn as much as I can by teaching myself to observe as much as possible. My most glaring shortcoming is dealing with frustration mainly because there's nobody to talk too that would remotely understand the amazing material contained within M5. One final little observation that might make you smile. A female pro golfer is going to get an exemption to play in an upcoming tournament with the men's tour. Most golfers have to qualify before even entering a tournament but she's getting an exemption!! The amazing thing is that most men that called in thought it was a great idea!! Can you imagine if a male golfer came out and said that he'd want to play in a woman's tournament? Anyway, thank you very much for taking the time to respond to my questions and can't wait for M5 Gold Edition to appear in my mail!

Question 490: Re: Sequential Compliance & Wave Path Incarnations - Hello Author, Interesting that you bring this up. I have come across 'Do you think you are better than me?' many times in my experience. Often, this question is followed by 'Who do you think you are?'

Humans who ask 'Who do you think you are?' don't seem to want a reply. What they are really asking is 'Do you think you are better than me?'. The implication here is: 'Who gave you the authority to be wiser than me?' Humans who use this most certainly expect appeasement and nothing like, 'yes, I am better than you. I have gained such and such wisdom through such and such experience and you obviously haven't'. So 'who do you think you are?' is certainly another sequential idea being promoted on a simultaneous planet. It is Dark Side oriented and it disregards the nature of simultaneous incarnates as Low, Mid Level, Advanced, Dominant, Final.

Answer: You are correct with what you wrote. I've also been asked if I think I'm better than 'god'. Most definitely since that god is alien as per Stargate SG-1 deities. The way to induce breaking that loop is to defy it once you have broken it. "Do you think you're better than me?" "HELL, yes! Now leave me alone!" Yep, this segment needed to come out to expose both the sequential manipulation and the Lightside, cowering response expected.

Question 491: The post-publication segments are always very appropriate, and the timing "just right". I would be startled if it wasn't for everything else happening with such amazing succession, like an all-encompassing dance of cosmic proportions. Thank you for putting them out. Would it be possible to expand a bit on the subject of brown hair/brown eyes being the only true Earther combination? Prior to reading M5G, I was unusually terrified of aliens, something even my therapist refused to take seriously. Of course, they can't do anything to me unless I let them do it, in which case it's just something I have to live through, but I wonder, following your comments on the Taken series about blondes and redheads being particularly useful to certain occult groups, it would appear this is so because of the non-Earther genes/characteristics. How much do I need to see the Arizona Wilder tape? Again, thanks for your work. It is appreciated. 2003 truly is the year from hell, both from a political/world perspective as from a personal one. Trying, yet I believe beneficial in the long run, at least personally.

Answer: The dark hair (DARK brown/black)/brown eyes is most Earth basic. Blonde, red, light/medium brown hair and other than dark brown eyes indicates significant alien genetics. You'll have to get into Arizona Wilder's materials (use Google search or check David Icke's site) for lots on that topic. However, in DNA codes, it the positive or negative factor that is more important. Negative factor blood has more alien components than positive factor. Even so, this and more is all body ID. It should not be more important than a curiosity to Very Advanced and higher incarnates. To get wrapped up in body ID indicates where one has not yet reached and will detain one from rapid spiritual Advancement. It IS important to know, but it is not important to halt one's progress over. Your incarnational body is just a convenience for the path your Higher Self has chosen for each individual incarnation. Glad you're enjoying M5 and the site's new segments. The Year From Hell continues!

Question 492: This must be an exercise in patience and self-reliance and maybe more. I know I have experiential loops to address for where I am right now and I am working on them. On the other hand I have a strong desire to know more too. When I first read "Matrix V Gold Edition and Astral Events" a while back, something happened to me that I hadn't experienced before. I experienced a state of extreme elation. This went on for a few minutes and I was just sitting there, overwhelmed. I wanted to know more. Similar thing happens when I read the line "The knowledge waiting for you WHEN you are ready is astounding", from "EndGame, Earth & Higher Selves." Each time I get to that line, my face breaks into a very unusual kind of smile, tense face and I feel tension on top and at the back of my head. Then I want to know more. Often when I have a question about Matrix V materials, I reread the book and think about the material and the answer can be found in there. Except when it involves an extension of the material. I take it readers can ask you helpful questions about the materials, but questions that are not too far-reaching, which allows you to share as much as you want to, if you want to (or can). For the far-reaching questions, they need to get answers for themselves. Thanks. This experiential loop of seeking unearned information will be broken.

Answer: Good response! If everything was just handed to you with little effort, it wouldn't be appreciated as much. M5 and my Q&A's give an awful lot of never heard info. There are also many questions that could be asked by readers, but have not yet. You just chose one of those areas that you must come to your own answer via your Awakened Final. There is So much stuff that would literally blow you away if you weren't prepared to handle it. All in its good time.

Question 493: Are the 4th density reptilians the sequential equivalent to the simultaneous incarnations that end up in focus levels 20-something post death? The reason they would be so heavily involved with their 3rd density counterparts is that they haven't fully moved on to incarnate again, similar to the Earthers who haven't matured enough to stop hanging around their acquaintances still behind, or what? I'm deducing here that they are also part of the sequential path in a different stage, as an incarnation's two stages are the 3D aspect and the 4D aspect.

Answer: This is a good assumption on your part and also logical. This is also part of the Game.

Question 494: I have finished reading your book, and I'm going to read it again, great stuff! I like the idea that because of the interference to ancient Earthers, and the continued meddling by sequentials, we have the unique position for fast advancement, in this galaxy. In their direct attempt's to stop us knowing the H.S. they gave us the fast track we wanted. When the H.S. stream through the incarnations and time phases, has reached a certain advancement a Final is created from the dominants and H.S. knowledge and experience to draw up the incarnations and to exit to 8th density and higher. Is 10th density the source?

M A T R I X V Gold Edition- Volume 2

The Graduation Key

© 2000-2004 Leading Edge International Research Group. All Rights Reserved.

Answer : Unless you are referring to the sequential path, the proper word is "streams" and not "stream" and it's BY the Dominants who can choose any qualities from ANY of that Higher Self's huge number of simultaneous incarnations. I have never mentioned the 8th or the 10th density. I have not specified WHICH density the simultaneous Higher Selves reside, although there has been several who speculate on that. That answer will come to you, if important, via YOUR Awakened Final. It is not a significant bit of information for someone STILL involved in the 3rd density Game. There is much, MUCH more to be involved in knowing.

Question 495: I know linear time is an illusion, thus the final ending the stream draws up all the manifestations on 3rd and 4th density within itself. Is the consciousness individually following the H.S. stream through the time phases and incarnations or is each incarnation a 'separate' consciousness (on third density) from the H.S.? I thought before reading your book that the exit event, the omega point, the nexus of time was an event in the linear past history of this planet, now I can see its the awakened final in whichever time phase SHIM decides to incarnate.

Answer: This is made clear within M5G IF you are meant to comprehend this information in your current incarnation.

Question 496: You made a reference to higher beings helping at this time. At a critical stage could an advanced H.S. from a previous simultaneous path incarnate, manifest or intervene, perhaps in its own galactic creation?

Answer: You have not made your reference here clear and it seems that you are looking for an individual 'protector' beyond your own Higher Self. This is a major error. There is/are entity(s) who oversee the Game. These are those who designed the Game and ensure that the Game's rules are followed. Just knowing this, ALL Higher Selves are able to play by the rules, although there are numerous sequentials (more than simultaneous) who try to find loopholes and push the limits.

Question 497: At a critical stage could an advanced H.S. from a previous simultaneous path incarnate, manifest or intervene, perhaps in its own galactic creation? Is another experiential level being involved within harder/multiple games in multiple galaxies, or once the simultaneous path is complete via the final is this training ground (3rd density) exited for good, except when to have an experience as you described on future earth?

Answer: This is more information than you need while still IN the 3rd density Game. After your Higher Self graduates, you can get all the 3rd density Game information that you desire.

Question 498: Hi. I've matrix 5 first edition. Can I have access to the Q&A updates?

Answer: Since you have the first edition, you have what you need for your current incarnation. If you have a burning desire for more than what your edition contains, you can either get the Gold Edition, which has far more info than the first or second, OR you can visit the Library on 27 where the materials are easily accessed. The password system was created because unless the reader has read and understood all the info through the Gold Edition, you will not be able to grasp the materials that followed correctly since you are missing significant concepts. This includes the Q&A's. One other thing <I> never mentioned a "woman from nexus" as you state below. The M5 project was written for a VERY select group of EndGame incarnates, as stated in all editions. That you have not gone beyond the first edition or have been to the Library on 27 strongly indicates that you are not one of those people. So, your answer is 'no' for the site, but 'yes' if you visit the Library.

Question 499: In the question/answer section---one person wrote, Its not important who The Author is, its the material. I would like to take it one step futher. I suggest that the message/messenger are synonymous, (to the receiver). Its not unlike when you watch your favorite movie, or read your favorite book----its not the actor, or writer, you connect with. Its the "charactor". Its that part,(of the message) that touches a cord within you, and makes you want to reach out to touch the source. (not realizing its within you) Its what makes book signing popular, or better put, Its what makes a celebrity a celebrity. So "Giving your power away" What an expermental loop! Thanx

Answer: One reason why I use 'The Author' as my M5 pen name is because people expect me to be The Author 24/7 and that is not me. It is, of course, a large part of me but if I was to ever meet most of my readers, they would expect me to be something other than what I really am. I have met 2 M5 readers only. They were Advanced enough to not expect me to be The Author all the time that they visited. While I can be quite serious when necessary, I prefer being playful. You say that you enjoy the celebrity of it. I know how you feel because I do meet actors of favorite tv series that I have and it is great when they play their part even for a little bit with me. Yet, with acting celebrities, everyone (except the very strange) realize it is just a role for them. With me, though, The Author is not a role, but is a significant facet of my personality but I am not looking for dependents, followers or other such types. Anyway, keep seeing what you can discover for yourself within yourself.

Question 500: How did the creation of the universe begin? Where did it all start?

Answer: This question is a body ID'd question because the body knows it had a beginning and will have an end. When one has a spiritual ID, you know that you are immortal with no beginning and no end and would not ask such a question. This is too difficult for the body to handle as it relegates the body to a temporary vehicle for the spirit. This also goes against your body's programming that dictates: breed and serve society.

When I'm usually asked this question, I start explaining the creation of this galaxy Game. This does have an answer, but it is not what the questioner has in mind and I am told 'that's not what I mean'. As per M5 segments, the galaxy Game has a start and has a conclusion. Creation does not. This is a difficult concept for the body ID'd to grasp. Actually my response has caused this type of person to become close minded on this topic when they begin to hear the correct response and not the one that they expect to hear. I have seen mental doors close. The answer is too much for the body ID'd to handle. The body ID seek confirmation of their position and not anything else.

Something else to remember is that massive amounts of memory data are blocked from the incarnations as part of the Game rules. ALL memory, including that surrounding your immortal nature, will return upon graduation from the Game.

More Reader Comments on the M5 Material

"Since my original reading of M5G in May 03 , my spiritual growth and perspective has accelerated at an exponential rate to the extent which I would not have been able to comprehend up to a month prior of the original reading. I am now through my 4th reading of the materials and re-reading all post publication and observation segments up until the present postings. I have bound these as companions to my copy of M5G which also assists in my studies of the materials. Shortly after my original reading of M5G I began to notice more sharply the polarities at work. This began in my own workplace. I [was] employed in a industry which was predominantly female and it was during these [first] few months [as I continued to read M5G and appreciated its sheer power] I observed the Orion DNA commands at work with regards to female dominance and male subservience. This sharpened my observation abilities being employed in such an industry. As time progressed and I studied the materials further , I immediately noticed I was being confronted with what you had discussed in several segments , as I was not subservient - being ignored , confronted for minor things , isolated and the like. Your segment "Changes In You" was one particular piece which I re-read many times over and helped me tremendously to understand the changes [rapidly] taking place within me. In my meditations communing with my Higher Self as the months passed , I would speak and asked my Higher Self to open up a new opportunity for me to enter into as my interest working in this particular industry declined. I also needed a new challenge. Sure enough that particular opportunity arose just two weeks ago and I am now employed in a totally different industry , with a new challenge and the flexibility for my spiritual studies also [which I asked for]. Needless to say , since the incarnational connection has deepened even further my interest in work [as a whole] has also declined. I do understand this is a mainstay of the game , like paying rent , and is only temporary. I read in the Q&A section of M5G that other readers are also experiencing this."

"Many comments on the internet about Matrix 5 materials center on the het and homosexual information, and these people seem to reject the most valuable and comprehensive book ever written based on this. My body's desires are het, and initially this information confused me as well. However, my own experiences as a het have proven to me that this information is true as well. I have felt drained of energy after sex, and I've noticed this for many years, just didn't add it together. Additionally, when I'm around other males my energy levels can go through the roof, and this is just proximity, not sexual relations, AND certain other males have a far more powerful effect in this than others. This has nothing at all to do with anything physical (as in physical attractiveness) or material (as in wealth, career, "social status", etc., so I realize that this is true as well. Every time I go back to reading the Matrix 5 material I get more confirmation of what I've learned on my own, and much of what I didn't know. My opinion is that Matrix 5 is the most accurate information available here; I am still amazed every time I read it. It is invaluable."

"I VERY much enjoy reading the M5 Gold Edition. For me, the book is an excellent source of inspiration."

"I got M5G last August. All is perfectly crystal clear now!...huge thanks. thanks to MG5 and the Monroe trilogy, I have finally managed to understand 2 particularly significant dreams

I've had in the last 15 years, and, to where shim went during an OBE in 1980. I now realise I've twice seen HS from the outside. Interestingly, in the 2nd dream there was a door in front of it which I desperately tried to open. I've have to chuckle when I recollect just how hard I tried to open the door!"

"I received your great book 5 days ago and I am currently enjoying the material you have written. It does make a lot of sense. Finally, to discover the real truth about who we are and what is going on in the world!"

"Five weeks ago, I had a dream in which I was dying, yet I remained awake as my body died, all turned to dark yet I still was fully conscious, than a voice within said to me "I will die in 5 weeks" 5 weeks from that dream, matrix 5 arrived on my doorstep, my life has not been the same again, it has been a sheer eye opening adventure, I am only half way through it, yet things keep getting clearer and clearer, I look all around me and see spiritual dead ends in the polarities, it's almost amusing actually seeing how they work and how people still fall for it! the sheer amount of bullshit that can derail one is astounding! I will take this opportunity to thank you and Val and your higher selves and mine for bringing this material to me, for those who don't have the book, get it! it will change you forever."

"I am in the middle of reading M5 and have been repeatedly struck by its truth. Often I stop reading for a few days and during that time have been surprised to actually see/experience the truth going on in my daily life as well as the world at large. As I am a married woman it has been both eye-opening and humbling. I am having to admit to a lot of arrogance and impulses toward domination I'd been blind to up till now. These things I am now consciously aware of and working on changing."

"Thank you once again. Working on my other density travels. It has been a pleasure talking with you. Matrix Gold represents a culmination in a long search for truly meaningful knowledge for me, and already I am able to integrate it into my daily life and enrich it in a wonderful yet straightforward unfolding!! My life is so much more interesting now and I can only (or maybe not) imagine how yours is! Good Journeying!!"

"I'm not sure how to begin or what to say. I got your book two days after xmas and have been completely absorbed in it since then. I'm on my second reading and have read two of Monroe's books during this time also. During my first reading of your book, I wanted to write you several times, but decided to wait until I was more calm. Your book has answered so many of my questions and has explained so much about my life...I thank you deeply for sharing this info at this time! I've laughed AND cried several times while reading your words. It's really started a movement within me!"

"This last days of and game are being very deceptive in nature, and it's very interesting to see the polarities struggle. I specially enjoy the dark moves when disguised in Light and love crap. I have just finished reading an article meant to get people to defer to alien musings, and its easy to see that they are using some tactics mentioned in MATRIX V, trying to keep some of us in the box by giving our power to the light. Some of your postings and the GOLD EDITION are being very helpful in revealing this."

"Thank you for the continuing postings on the site. They are extremely helpful as usual. I can hardly wait to graduate and yet it seems there is so much yet to do. Some days I wish it would just end and others I feel like I want another 10 years. Your site is very comforting - and when I feel bad it always lifts my spirits to reread some of the postings as well as Gold."

"Thanks for all your efforts. With over 30 years of searching, reading, studying, practicing this is the clearest, most resonant information with the lowest bullshit quotient I have come across."

"During these times, M5 is the only compass in these challenging, troubling, but also fascinating times. WOW! What a privilege to be incarnating during this epoch. I am ever grateful to my higher self for allowing this experience. Thank you for M5, the site, and all of the time, effort and expense you incur to keep it going."

"Thank you, Thank you, Thank you for Matrix V Gold and the website. I'd been hopping around the globe searching for I know not what, and realizing that I had become spiritually stagnant. After sending my intentions to the universe seeking a way forward, I came across your website and the Matrix books. It was about this time last year. What Incredible Information! Now and then I do indeed shed a tear of joy for finding your material especially the Gold edition. Thanks!"

"What can I say? This book is...upsetting, uplifting, original and...beautiful in the sense that it can speak its' peace with such unqualified assurance of the authors innate experiential validity. It matters not that my heart leapt and dropped at the same moment...it is revelatory."

"M5G is the book of wisdom and keys I've been waiting for for a very long time. It's difficult to put into words just how HAPPY I am that I've got a copy."

"Just writing in to give some long overdue comments on the Matrix 5 material. I've had it for 3 months now and it is definitely the most important information I have come across on my journey to date. As a gay man I have found the material easier to embrace and all the authors comments are of so much assistance, yet challenge us continuously. It is interesting to see peoples reactions to the book who claim to be after answers to life's big questions and how people around me avoid it like the plague. I have decided not to lend this book out again unless someone specifically shows a burning interest in its content, but the best thing about it is the confidence in myself I am gaining at long last. Having a book as a personal teacher is probably the most empowering aspect of Matrix 5. I know I do not owe anyone anything and can reflect on what I read at any time without approval or disapproval from any source but ME. The ideas that constitute this work alone are unique and will be of use to absolutely anyone who is spiritually searching. A monumental work by far. Thank you Val and author for your brave and bold spirits that have brought this whole endeavor to all those on earth at this time who are wanting to work on themselves....Seemingly an expensive work but having the work in print form was worth every last penny."

"Thanks for M5. Without it, it would've taken a lifetime if not more to awaken to some of these realities. If the simultaneous experience exponentially accelerates higher self experience and learning in 3d, then M5 exponentially accelerates the potential for learning and experience on the simultaneous path!! Wow!"

"M5 the first time around was more than an awakening. The second time around, what I am discovering is the path home. Home to my higher self within, home to the truth of who we really are. After this (M5) and the other Matrix books and Leading Edge journals, other books/writings no longer have a home in my library. M5 is now displayed, the higher self poster (this really did it!) framed so beautifully that I can NOT STOP staring at it. I write this email with tears of absolute joy!! And now to the Library at the Monroe Focus Level 27. Trusting my higher self within, explicitly and without reservation whatsoever, has become the key which unlocks ALL doors. The words within M5 are so simple, the wisdom that resonates from it's words into this incarnation, is like being on rocket with an endless supply of fuel, with the Universes all waiting for discovery, my higher self at the helm... I can not thank you enough. I am quite sure that I am not alone feeling this." Ed

"Matrix V has quantified all of the disconnects around me that I see. Until I read the book, I felt overwhelmed by the seemingly overwhelming 'superiority' of oppressors. Only after reading the book did I realize that in the context of "a game", I have no need to give my power away to them. In all honesty, I need to spend quite a bit of time on my inner work- I have been too interested in the outer "illusion" to spend time working on myself. But I also feel it is important to pass on to others "clues" to pique their interest and to allow them to ask the same questions to themselves that have been asking myself. I know I cannot "show" anyone their own path, but I only hope to pass on a nugget of information which will instill in others the will to continue on their own path- where ever it may lead. I am so taken by your Matrix series, that I often suggest to people I meet to purchase your books- even though they "appear " to be expensive, the amount of material contained within them is immense. "

"I just returned from two weeks at Monroe doing back to back Lifelines and Exploration 27. I took my copy of M5 gold along to dabble in during my spare time. Right. Once word got out that I had a copy of M5 Gold, I never saw it again for the entire two weeks. Everyone loved it! A TMI staff member was in our group and was, um... hogging it. Anyway, thanks to having read M5 Gold, I felt my "discern-o-meter" was functioning beautifully and I would then instantly translate and shift the comments accordingly - picking and choosing that which resonated as true, useful and correct for me. Also, during the breaks, meals, and the late evening "night owl" discussions, I was able to throw in my perspective based upon the years of home study with the M2 through M5 books and other information on Val's site. In retrospect, I could easily have left my M5 Gold edition on the shelf in Bob's living room at RMR. M5 Gold would be an excellent prerequisite reader prior to a Lifelines or an Exploration 27 program. At least at these TMI "graduate" level programs, and perhaps more so with the Exp 27 group, a good number of the participants seem to have it together enough to see through some of the bullshit. Again, as M5 Gold endures, it does become the standard by which the BS will be exposed and eliminated. During one of my exercises near the end of X-27, I had forgotten to check out the large flat building at the F-27 Education Center. Turned out it was the library so often referred to in M5 Gold. I quickly started poking around and saw the M5 Gold on a stand but had to return before I got a chance to thumb through it. Nevertheless, this was very cool. It was great to experience things you have been talking about up close and personal. Thanks for your encouragement to see for myself what is going on in Monroe Focus Level 27. One of my classmates from Malaysia got a little bit overwhelmed reading M5 Gold. She kept talking about how it kept crushing her belief systems. Yet it was ok somehow as M5 Gold made perfect sense. She ended up ordering it during the week. Once again thanks for you and Val for greasing the wheel. It really helped to prepare me for one hell of a ride! Whoa! " Kent

"I have just finished reading M5 for the second time. (I inhaled it the first time.) Thanks so much for capturing this valuable material and sharing it with others. I thank you sincerely for what is truly liberating material. I feel a freedom that is at once exciting and scary, but in a really good way. When I first began to read M5, I gasped in excitement, quickly closed the book, and closed my eyes for a couple of minutes; I knew this was it and I was so happy. My life has been all about discovery, some good, some bad. Mostly, though, I have let myself be controlled by polaric institutions, rules, and dogma. These never registered with my intuition, my Higher Self as acceptable. In fact, I felt like my spirit was slowly dying. I was convinced, however, that I was a bad person if I did not conform. Now, I have begun to smash through the box I've allowed myself to be imprisoned in. I'm so thrilled, as this is only the beginning. Being a female, I initially had a hard time ingesting some parts of the material, but I gave my psyche a break and went back to it later. I totally get it now. I have been terribly guilty of succumbing to the Orion DNA commands and being a garden-variety, energy-sucking pain in the ass. I am aware now and am fighting those messed up instincts, as I know they are wrong. I have absolutely no clue what incarnation I am and have no desperate desire to know. I just know I want to grow, and M5 landed on my lap in the nick of time."

I'm a proud owner of M5. I believe you stated in your introduction that M5 would change the life of anyone who read it - a considerable understatement. I am woefully inarticulate so suffice it to say reading M5 (any addition, but the last is the Mother of all Whoppers) is akin to the feeling of "coming home". Thanks, Georgia

"Hi ! :-)) I'm reading M5 Gold and I am enjoying myself like I never did with any other book ! I've read all CWG's, Bruce Moen's, ROMC's "Cosmic Journeys" and of course Monroe's trilogy so many times ( and tons of others before that, rosicrucians', theosophist's, Alice Bailey, etc...) but this is THE BOOK I have been waiting for."

"Just a few comments if I may. When I received Matrix V, 2nd edition, I rushed through it because it was what I had been waiting for, for so long. Needless to say I missed a lot! I am now reading the Gold Edition and am taking it slow and easy. Wow! I am not nearly finished with the Gold Edition and have much to learn that I missed in the first Matrix V edition. I cannot explain the incredible calmness that is slowly sweeping over me. I find that a lot of this material I've somehow "known" all along but needed my memory jarred so to speak. One example of this is when I read we should not be concerned with the end of human life. It dawned on me that even if the human race became extinct it would not affect who we really are because our Higher Selves are immortal and eternal. How is it that we seem to forget this from time to time? Ah yes, it's called body ID. Your description of females is dead on. Whenever I catch myself being a "typical" female, I get very angry and upset with myself. When I look back I see I have been fighting the female DNA commands all my life. I'll be the first to admit that some of the material I am not quite ready for YET. I do not worry about it because I know eventually I'll be ready. When I see the incredible progress I made with the 'religious' bull-shit; from being an avid bible-thumper to knowing the only 'god' there is is my Higher Self (before I even read any of this material), all within a matter of a few short years, I know I can progress just as quickly in other areas as well. Thank-you for making this information available to those of us who were/are ready and waiting for it. One thing I will always remember is that there is absolutely NOTHING to fear. Thank-you for an incredible book! " Barb

"I now have the privacy, the solitude and the quiet time to grow, to work with the Monroe Gateway Series to connect even more with my Higher Self and to actually get to Focus 27. I know these CD's are a tool and I am determined to get to a point where I need no tools. I wanted to especially thank the both of you. Val for his wonderful website, dedication to the truth and for his capacity to publish all of the Matrix works. Also thank you to "The Author" for the Matrix V books, all of them, and of course for the continued updates, which I look for every day online. My journey would not be on this wonderful perfect path if it were not for your "works". Thank you both!!" Chris

"The new Matrix V Gold Edition is amazing! I love it! Thanks." Denise

"Everyday, I am amazed at the info that comes through for me when I read pages of The Gold Edition....It is incredible being in the 'observer's mode'...As you have said, it is going to be really interesting as we observe the unfolding events. Yesterday, when I clicked on to your website, I had an incredible connection to my Higher Self when I saw the new scene...It was incredible, it was like connecting (for lack of true description) to Home."

"I am from Slovenia, former Yugoslavia. Yesterday I've finished reading your book. As soon as I started to read it I could notice a significant impact that it had on me. Everything was the same yet at the same time everything has changed...for good. Thank you. This book was just what I needed the most."

"I received my copy of Matrix 5 on Friday and I just want to say thank you for what you have written."

"Really enjoyed the Matrix 5 book. I have been successful in getting out of my body recently thanks to your recommendation of the astral travel book."

"I spent some time reading the Gold Edition this weekend. The clarity and focus with which book this is put together is FAR beyond the 2nd edition. Either you were holding back in the earlier editions, or the maturity of your thought and writing has increased with time. Bravo! This is THE book I have been waiting for a LONG time."

"I have never written you prior, thank you for the truth within the M5 pages. I read it and I feel as if I already know it, as if you are through M5 reminding us of "things". Talk about mind-blowing expansion and awareness. It feels right, a very natural feeling for lack of english words to really describe how I feel! Since M5 my dreaming has become very intense, and not only that, I have total recall without ever writing it down."

"I have recently completed Gateway Voyage in Spain and I now understand what they mean when they say that gateway provides the tools for self-exploration and even more about what really means trusting in one's higher self. I'm thanking my HIGHER SELF for giving me the means to attend Gateway I would like to thank you for your work, because it has affected my present incarnation in an amazing way. I took MatrixV with me and show it to the other participants and it was very interesting to see their reactions to the cover of MatrixV. I have had some major experiences in that weak and it was amazing to be able to experience first hand much of the things that I have read about the Institute and Monroe work, but the greatest of all was being able to see true some lightsider material or complete some "inaccurate" information given there because I had previously been in contact with MatrixV materials. It just puts things in another perspective."

"The M5 so hits home. I feel jubilant euphoria, calmness, awaremess, silence; let alone the knowledge being imparted resonates, as if, I have always known all I am reading in M5. This piece of work is beyond power, it's like the wise power behind the power. It's very trippy trying to put what I feel into words. A million thank you's."

"I have to tell you, I have been glued to it since I received it on Friday. Staring at the artwork (I am about to order a lamination) I feel as if I MELT into nothingness yet feel everything. The Author's no holds barred, in your face writing and style is flawless and easy to read. Together with the Monroe Trilogy and the Frosts' Astral book, I feel as if I now have been handed a blue- print, a map if you will, not only to my Higher Self, but to simultaneous incarnations. Indeed, the Truth is liberating. Thank you and thank you."

"I ordered Matrix 5 about a month ago. Turned out to be a real mind-blower; initially, i.e. the first few days while/after reading it, the changes were so radical and sudden I had to laugh about it. Fortunately, I already had some experience dissociating with the body. Otherwise, some of it may (or may not) have proved a bit too much. In any case, many thanks to you for putting out information of such value. It makes having looked for it for so long completely worthwhile. As a matter of fact, the process of looking for that kind of stuff provides one with the necessary experience to integrate it. I look forward to reading Matrix 2 in which I hope to find an explanation for my former and apparently groundless fear of extraterrestrials."

"I just want to say that I have both the matrix 5 and matrix 5 gold books near at hand always and every time I read them something else pops up for me to examine or I understand something in a different way. I have been aware for sometime that this world is just way out of whack. No philosophy or religion even barely addressed the mess there is now or has offered a lucid framework for becoming beings to use. Your books fills this void. Thanks again."

"I've been enjoying M5 Gold. I sip a few pages a day like a fine wine. Very smooth, fruitful, excellent bouquet. The new editing/arrangement and new material resonantly fit me like a beautiful tailor made garment. Many thanks"

"I'm on page 100 of M5 Gold, I read the 2nd edition from November 2001 onwards and the restructure of the Gold edition is superb - thank you so much. This time I'm reading it slower! Previously, my reader comment on 2nd edition was that it was "intuitually unquestionable". Depending on what I'm reading in M5 Gold I sometimes get a surge from my tummy/solar plexus chakra up to my eyes or from my heart chakra up to my eyes, it feels good. Reading it is one of my major incarnational missions - for which I thank you. I have no more questions about life. Observation and experience."

"Matrix V Gold Edition received. My spirit has been doing somersaults ever since I opened it. I think the reworking of the layout and order of the material is a big improvement over the second edition. But it's really like a new work. I will report that about a week before I received it, I had two recurring dreams of "reading" the book in a "library". I am so grateful that you have put out the Matrix V books. The most valuable tool in the box. I embrace it and accept it. The thing about the book is no matter how "off the wall" any of it seems upon first reading, the more one thinks about it and looks around using it as a lens, the more truth I can see in it's position. Matrix V is right on ! Thanks again, Kris"

"Wow! What a trip ... what can i say? Well, I've finished my first read through and ONCE AGAIN want to express my thanks ... this book is fucking outrageous! Many many times I laughed out loud from the pit of my stomach! For the first couple of days I was doing over a hundred pages a day! And the website said "600 pages" it didn't say 600 BIG pages! The first night after getting the book will be forever remembered as "the night of a thousand dreams". Loads and loads of great information that I understand already and some that I will need to really work with and take as I can in my own time.... but for me ... the greatest thing is the section on THE NEXUS OF TIME ...yeahhhhhh! This segment was a true revelation .....it filled in so many holes for me. You keep on stressing the uniqueness of each HS path....How only you can find out by going within....to enjoy your current incarnation....be pleased with being you....don't get hung up on where you are...your HS will make the path known to you....if not now, that somewhere you are your dominants/final...and they are all you....ALL FANTASTIC ADVICE that I really resonate with .I want to concentrate on what my Higher self wants this life to achieve and not some ego based idea of the right path to higher realities ...been there ...done that...surely all that HORSESHIT is blown away ? All will be revealed naturally...bollocks to the rule book! Trust the HS." John, UK

"I have literally just received Matrix V Gold and before I begin reading, just wanted to express my sincere thanks to you both For this work ... I stared at the box for ten minutes before opening it and the energy level running through me is very high!!!"

"Today I received the MV Gold Edition; I would like to thank you for the swift delivery in sending this to me on the day of publication. It is no coincidence that the two MV editions were published prior to two major events in this particular time frame on 3rd Density. Because of the oncoming war, no matter which way one turns the predominant emotion surrounding us is fear! With the knowledge that has been imparted within the MV materials and understood by those it was it was meant for, these feelings of fear are dormant because there is the realization that we are in effect visitors here, that we are NOT our bodies, and this is just one of many incarnations. Knowing this completely frees us from the manipulation surrounding us, the effect being that the feeling is one of being somewhat out of phase or sync with the rest of 3rd Density, yet we are all here, living and experiencing our own specific incarnation, to live here we have to participate, to do what we have to do on a daily basis to survive. THE MV EDITIONS ARE 'THE' MOST IMPORTANT PUBLICATIONS EVER TO BE PUBLISHED IN 3rd DENSITY'S HISTORY. This time frame marks the beginning of the end, and in this vein MV in its entirety was published at just the right time. I am totally indebted to the Author and Val for the volume of collated material, to have amassed this knowledge and chosen to share it, is invaluable! Speaking for myself, all the questions and mysteries regarding 'life' that I have had since childhood have been answered. Although I find myself alone in my belief, I am not lonely! The feelings of self-containment and awareness set me apart, yet completely in control, this is a great place to be. It was my destiny to be one of the recipients of the knowledge within the MV editions, and through this with the changed mindset, and all that this entails; I feel that I have evolved to a position whereby I have achieved my life's purpose to this point." Margaret

"I just wanted to thank you again. I have been reading Matrix V Gold since 3/10/2003 when it was left at my door. I have just finished page 193. I feel such joy and excitement about what is coming that all I can say is, what a mind blower! You must be on a great ride. I know I too will be there and I look forward to the knowledge and experiences to come. Thank you."

"Received my M5 Gold copy last Wednesday. Thanks so much to all for such an excellent and revelatory work product. Have been reading every page. Wonderful. Change and movement felt deep within and in dreams. I'm sure it will take time to fully integrate; background processing and insight is constant. Thanks"

"I have just received my copy of M5 Gold and the effects on me have been noticeable to say the least. Since I opened the package my pulse rate has increased greatly as well as the overall vibration of my physical form. This has happened even though I have only briefly read some of introductory material I have already read in M5 Blue! Plus my Third Eye sixth chakras areas has been hurting and pulsating all day long giving me headaches. It is obvious SHIM was anticipating the books arrival today even before I knew it was here. I can already tell this book is going to be awesome because I am physically rattled just by having it near me, this is very strange indeed. Its like SHIM is tuning in on me so it can send the info I am reading to all my other incarnations that need it, or at least that is what I sense. My 6th chakra has been throbbing all day long this is obviously a MAJOR incarnational event for me. Are my conclusions valid because this was unexpected by myself. I can see this is a very serious incarnational mission I am on. Thanks."

"Until I read Matrix V, I had no idea of the true nature of the whole alien issue on Earth. It's amazing how every UFO related website out there is, in effect, acting as an unwitting extension of the same game that doesn't want people to know who they are. But, that's where these people are at, preferring to give their personal power away in awe of beings that are techno- logically advanced, but comparative simpletons when it comes to who WE really are. Anyone involved with UFO-alien issues who doesn't have access to Matrix V cannot appreciate what is really happening here. I can see how all UFO websites are unwittingly red herrings, as you have said."

"I feel intuitively, and its underscored by all events around me that big changes are imminent. Thanks to materials you've provided, I can face anything without fear. And its relieving to know there are at least a few people around that see through the games myriad illusions. Thanks for giving access to what I've come to trust as a fairly accurate road map And a forum of voices of sanity."

"I am having a blast being involved with the M5 project. It gets me off seeing all the observations and comments. I enjoy watching all the different levels of incarnations advancing. It is really true what you say to just enjoy your incarnation. I have had the opportunity to give several M5's to higher self incarnations exposed to me. It's amazing watching their lights turn on exposed to the information. I am having a great time, thanks for keeping it rolling as long as possible. I like the way the website keeps advancing. The truth really gets me high is the best way I can explain it."

"Just want to thank you for the wonderful information in Matrix V. I almost didn't read it. I have a female body in this incarnation and after reading a few pages, threw the book down, thinking that I didn't need information from a female hating male. "Something" made me pick it up again and read it carefully. Matrix V explains so much for me. I understand why I never desired to marry or bear children, I understand the presence of the 3 entities that I have recurring dreams about, I understand why I have always intuitively chosen gold light, even when instructed in guided meditation to use white light. There is much I do not understand, but am confident it will unfold at the correct moment. I still continue some of my light side activities; participating in weekly peace vigils, publishing a peace newsletter, etc. but no longer feel compelled to convince anyone of my position. It's more like I'm putting out information and people can do with it what they will. I have ordered the book you recommended on astral projection (have only projected while asleep) and use your very powerful meditation technique. It's a reversal of my former practice when I started with the base chakra and went up. Your's works better for me. Thank you. By the way, I love the "sum of" symbol you use in Matrix V. It says it all. I will continue to check your site for updates and will order the gold edition in March. Please know that I do NOT consider any of the material to be "female hating" at this point. That was my initial reaction, long since revised."

"To read Matrix V and to understand it in its entirety life is irrevocably changed. The mindset switches to a new plateau and viewing life as it truly is here on 3rd density with all that this entails - Matrix V is a one way ticket to this! What I have found is that my perceptions have been honed, the inner voice, coincidence, and when I focus on questions, they are answered; your inner voice never lies! To be honest the spin offs have been awesome! And this is inherent in each and every one of us living simultaneous lives. To know that there is no such thing as death is liberating, and at a stroke, fear of this is eliminated!"

"I've read your material 3 times in order to absorb as much as possible. Since I was a teenager I always had a feeling that there was something wrong with the way reality was being portrayed and found myself in a never ending "search" for real answers. Thanks to M5, I now see the world without blinders. It is however a very lonely path since there's absolutely nobody I know that could relate to this material. I look forward to your latest observations while at the same time sharpening my own observational skills."

"I would like to personally thank you, because through your book, I found Monroe books. After I have read Monroe's Trilogy and reread this excellent Matrix V, I understood what you were meaning by insisting on reading Monroe books before Matrix V. Anyway last December, 2002, I attended my first Gateway Voyage at the Monroe Institute and I have just returned from the Lifeline and I can't wait for the Exploration 27. These last months have been the most exciting of my life discovering and living the game of life."

"I'm in my second reading of Matrix 5 now, and I'm understanding more and more about myself and how the world really works."

"Matrix V changed my reality beyond measure."

" Since the time I began to read the Matrix V materials online, my life has gone from mid-turbulent to MEGA-turbulent. Relationships have been demolished. Illusions have shattered. Dreams have blown up in my face, and through no conscious choice on my part, I find myself feeling a greater disconnection with many people. My world has changed drastically. My opinions of many things have shifted, flip-flopped and the opinions of others towards me has also shifted, as they witness that I am not playing the same game as they play. My relief has been through simplifying my life as much as is practically possible, and through a continual focus on my inner voyage, and tuning into my inner space, which is another way of saying my Higher Self. As increasingly, that is the only place I get any comfort. Certainly don't get it externally. I have realized some kind of progress: While I'm aware of the judgment of others, it doesn't bother me so much what they may think about me. Not too long ago, it would bother me HUGELY if someone didn't approve of me. I DID go through a period when I suffered at not being understood by those that claim they love me. Now, I say, So be it. Doesn't matter. Who cares! I'm orchestrating my own play now. And choosing the parts I want them to play. And the truth is, they cannot possibly comprehend what these changes in me are or why. And that's ok. They don't need to. They are in their own play. It's your material that has helped me gain this perspective. So, thanks."

"My Matrix5 have arrived on the 24th of December (what better present can a person ask for) and since then I just cannot put it down. I have been reading the materials that you post for a while now, but it all "pales" to the amazing knowledge contained in Matrix5. I cannot find the appropriate words to thank you for this revelation. Now, I can understand the comments made on the website about Matrix5 - it's really an "eye opener".

"Since I have started to read Matrix 5 I have been analysing much of my previous choices in life, Why did I have chose one particular road instead of another, why I have all this curiosity, why did I always "feel" marriage is not for me and so on. I can now understand that this was my HIGHER SELF trying to awaken me to the real true of what I really am. I now, more than ever, have a great desire to contact with my HIGHER SELF, meaning ME, and can't thank you enough. This material is so advanced that I don't know when would be possible for me to have contact with something like this, if it wasn't for your sharing. I was not a very psychic person, but since the year 2000 I have had a continual interest in all material dwelling with the spirit. I have never had an OBE but I'm determined to do what ever is necessary so I can (if that is what my HIGHER SELF wants me to do), get in contact with the real ME, and be able to explore and travel in to greater realities. I'm LOVING MATRIX5 and I just wanted you to know about it".

"Got M5 a week and a half ago. Haven't put it down. Even more lucky to have read The Monroe Trilogy and The paradigm book by Breton & Largent before getting M5. Having OOBES after reading M5 at night. Just before going to sleep. Last night, it was strange, nodding off after reading M5. I felt myself lifting out my bed and to the left. Then moving down beside my bed. I was sure I was going to hit the ground. It felt sooo real!! I kept on waiting to hit the ground and eventually opened my eyes. I was positive that I would be out of my bed and on the floor. But I was still in my bed. Wow ,what a cool experience !"

"It is now about eighteen months since I initially came into contact with Matrix V . Reading the book the first time completely took my breath away, at the same time I felt an exhilaration that I have never felt before in my life. As I read page after page it was like a key unlocking doors in my mind. To me personally each piece of information gleaned felt somewhat familiar, I sensed recognition from within which was profound. This material is so life changing. To find information such as this that is so thought provoking, it is easy to look to the Author of the information as a guru, is this not what we as humans are programmed on 3rd density to do, to look outwith ourselves for masters who pertain to have all the answers? And by doing this, giving our power away to another! What is and has been important is following a road, listening to my inner self which has brought me to the MV materials. Had I not for the last twenty years or so followed a road that has had many twists, turns and dead ends which has resulted on an ongoing learning experience, then I would not in truth have been ready for nor understood Matrix V. I initially opened the first page of Matrix V without being overly dramatic. My life has been turned upside/down - inside/out. It has been an ongoing learning experience, which shows no signs of slowing down. To participate in a belief and experiencing it for myself by looking within has shown me what is real and true and what is not; because of this it is easy to be an observer of life here on 3rd density. To become aware and resonate with the information within Matrix V is power, which releases forever the invisible shackles that have imprisoned us since birth on 3rd density. Margaret"

"Last night after reading the M5 meditation for crown chakra connection I focused on my 18 x 24 Higher Self poster. When I layed down to sleep I visualized the ball of the stream coming down to my crown when I said CONNECT. I felt the surge all the way down to my heart chakra! This was the first time."

" After considerable thought, I have come to the following conclusion. Waves of vibration make up existence. These waves are in essence THOUGHT (for lack of a better term) waves because existence is mental by nature. THAT is why permanence is an illusion and change is constant (waves do not rest, otherwise it would not be a wave). It is the same principle as waking and sleep states. When a person in third density is awake, they are operating primarily on alpha and sometimes higher frequency beta waves. When sleeping, there are primarily lower frequency theta waves, and in so-called 'deep' sleep there are even lower frequency delta waves. These theta and delta waves of vibration (electrical brain waves emanating from the 'mind') compose the reality created by the mind of the 'sleeper' when in the 'dream' state. The 'creator' in this case is the sleeping person. The experiences of the characters in the dream (astral realm) are very real and are carried 'up' into the subconscious and sometime consciousness of the 'creator' and upon awaking, the characters are drawn back into the mind of the creator (the person sleeping). The experiences of the dream characters actually become part of the creator because the creator truly feels every aspect of the experience as if the creator is the character (the characters are simply an extension of the creator). Third density so called reality is another dream state and the higher frequency waves/vibrations (similar principle to higher and lower frequency brain waves emanating from the 'mind') of the Higher Selves that chose to incarnate here slowed the vibration of that extension of themselves (the incarnation) to the point that the incarnation believes it IS separate and REAL. In actuality, just like when a person dreams, the EXPERIENCES are real and are carried back to the HIGHER SELF, but the characters end when the dream ends (death/waking up). The Higher Self ALSO eventually 'wakes up' and moves on to higher vibrations (new experiences). You are truly your own GOD as your Higher Self is the source of your existence here. However, your Higher Self is not THE SOURCE. THE Source cannot be defined or limited. The Higher Self eventually realizes/reconnects with its source which moves on to realization of its source, in constant movement toward new experiences and toward THE SOURCE which is not definable in words, it simply IS. There is a journey ahead that is infinite when defined in the mind of third density consciousness. It is important to note that the interconnectivity of the various states/rates of vibration are not as simple as a linear number line such as Higher Self vibration, to lower vibration incarnation, to dream state (although that is part of how it works, it's not the ONLY way that things work).....instead there is an interconnected matrix of 'portals'/nexus points between the various rates of vibration. Linear existence and movement is a third density concept. In actuality, even when in a lower vibration Delta state (so called deep sleep dream experiences), one can move to awareness of the higher vibration Higher Self (faster vibration than the waking state physical body/consciousness) and in essence 'skips' over the third density dream 'creator' body. Various densities can be accessed by instantly traversing the densities via will, with or without apparent movement. These examples serve as an illustration of some of the basic principles on which the nature of existence rests. Is that basically accurate?"

Author note on the above: Needs some tweaking, but basically correct.

"Thank you so much for the information you have brought forward. I have read many books, like Monroe's which are wonderful, but Matrix V, which I've read two and a half times, explains to me why I have never fit in with other females and their groups, could never understand what the hell they were talking about when plotting about guys/men, and had thoughts and feelings I could never share with any of them. Never say never, but that's what fits here. I underwent a transition 6 years ago and am not attracted to anybody physically (lots more to this). My best friend now is a gay male, but not like most gays, and it is your material that helped him realize this. Our paths have crossed for 30 years, but most profoundly in the last 12 in which we have been waking up rapidly (lots of amazing and escalated life as well as "spiritual" experiences). We can, as he puts it, communicate and share "across the gap". He is quite psychic and gifted, and when we talk he sometimes reminds me of you. None of this of course is a coincidence. I am just very grateful for my increased and better understood connection to my Higher Self (got rid of the religious interpretation), for my friend, and for you, Val, and your on-going material. What an amazing and exciting time it is to be here! Thanks again. Judy" 9/20/02

"I am on my third reading of Matrix V and find new awareness every time" 9/17/02

"Thank you for writing the most informative book I have ever read." 8 Aug 2002

"I have a few things to share in my studies of Matrix V. As I continue to reread Matrix V, I am becoming aware of my purpose on this prison planet. A great transformation is taking place in my life and I have started to see the world entirely different from a few months ago. I view the game from a higher perspective, now, with the knowledge I have digested." 8 Aug 2002

"Dammit, I never expected any of this to actually work. Since starting to read the read the book, however, things have taken a marked directional shift from where they once were. I find myself torn between two strong emotions - one, incredible sadness (nostalgia for the days of ignorance and bliss - almost as Cypher in the Matrix) at the life and times I've got to leave behind, and two, an incredible amazing excitement and possibilities within this time machine in which I now reside and within the world which carries this weary traveler to whatever destination he so desperately seeks. Your writings have actually done what they claimed capable of and rubbed more of the sleep from these weary eyes. Your mission has been accomplished at the very least in this lone individual." June 9, 2002

"Since reading Matrix5 and the Monroe trilogy, I have had some amazing things happen. I had previously written about using the advice of the Author on connecting with my Higher Self and what had happened. This seems to be just the beginning. Now that I have taken that first step towards a more expanded awareness, I have had more intense experiences. What I find even more interesting is that I have ALWAYS been doing this and having these experiences since childhood but because I was "taught" by the Game to focus my attention outward, I forgot about so many of the things I KNEW as a child (the DNA kicking in didn't help either!). Since having my new expanded viewpoint, I reread Matrix5 and it's ALL there. The more I expand my awareness, the more I will see in the book. My struggle now seems to be internal. The body is trying to fight for control and I can feel this incarnation is demanding that I identify with it. I sense that it knows it is fighting a losing battle but despite all this I do not view my incarnation as my enemy. To hate this body and feel anger at the Game is only going to add more baggage that I am going to have to let go of eventually. It's all about turning INWARD and TRUSTING yourself and KNOWING that you are MUCH more than your physical body. I knew this as a child (before the Game got its hooks in me) and some of you out there knew it too. It's simply a matter of remembering what you forgot."

"I ordered M5 on some impulse and I am about 50% through it. It showed up at a curious time in my life because a few months ago I moved out on a woman I was about to marry. The relationship just wasn't working, and everything you write in M5 rings true for me. M5 makes so much sense because it is the only material I have ever encountered that could really resonate with my experiences."

"It took me a long time to digest the material contained within M5 and I did initially hold a lot of reservations, but as of late I have had experiences which have led me not only to believe but to KNOW. For instance a week ago I got a small bundle of info from my Higher Self telling me this 3rd density reality truly IS a game by the very definition of the word . I don't claim to be a Dominant or a Final (at least not until I know any better) but nonetheless all my fears concerning the future of my existence evaporated in an instant and I kept laughing 'til the next day - the truth really does set you free. I now have a burning desire to know more and to explore the many regions of myself I haven't yet been acquainted with.

"Something very interesting happened to me a few hours ago and I thought I would share it. I was feeling very restless today and decided to lay down to relax. While I was resting, I suddenly felt a sexual urge run through me. Instead of giving in to this urge, I thought about trying something. I used the advice given by the author on connecting to my Higher Self and I felt the sexual energy surge upward through my body. I then visualized a cord running up from my head to my Higher Self (like on the cover of Matrix5). What happened next is something that I can't really put into words. My perspective changed and I had the impression of being surrounded by multicolored lights. I also understood that everything I was experiencing in this incarnation was being processed and sent down to other incarnations and that I was also receiving info from the other incarnations as well. All this sharing was happening at once because all the incarnations were the "same". I felt the impression of a "previous life" in 17th century France. I also felt that one of my goals in THIS incarnation is to experience Endgame. All of this happened in only a matter of minutes. I had read about this in Matrix5 but to experience it is quite a different thing. What I have described isn't even everything that happened because it's so difficult to find words for what I felt. One of the things that got to me was how crystal clear EVERYTHING was. I'm going to keep pursuing this."

"I joined the Matrix 5 Forum last week and since that events things have happened on the 3d that just cannot be ignored. The narrative of those events is as follows. Monday- I became very ill while I was at work and was not sure If I would be able to make it through the day. I asked a female coworker who I had gotten to know very well to drop me off at my apartment which was just 10 minutes away during her lunch break. She created a bunch of excuses and refused to do it even though I had there for her whenever she needed me. So I had to spend a miserable day at work before leaving on my own accord. Every day during the week I experienced related incidents. THIS ALL HAPPENED THE WEEK AFTER I JOINED THE M5 FORUM. I have never been treated like this before by people. This is the vilest that people have ever treated me in my entire life. I can take it that my higher self wants me to experience all of this and that I should just hang in there. I can also see that I am definitely on the right path to make people act like this. They all know I'm spiraling out of the game and they don't like it one bit. I CAN ALSO SEE MY PROGRESS IS MORE ADVANCED THAN I THOUGHT because they came at me with all guns blazing. Doing all they could to deter my progress however I know that shim is awakening me daily and that I CANNOT FAIL and that this is just a bump on the road. My higher self is trying to get my attention that its time for me to advance and that I have some very serious things to do in this incarnation. From now on I will be in observation mode and will not feed the dark polarity by reacting to it. Shim is making me realize that my higher self has serious info to discuss with me but I have to be ready to receive it. My higher self wants to actually communicate with me on a higher level I can FEEL its presence. I just have to be ready when that occurs and this week was a example of that."

"I want to share an experience I had 2 weeks ago...since this topic of ascended masters has come up, I think it is relevant. I was invited to a 'musical evening' by an old friend and since I enjoy music and singing, I accepted. I was aware that she was a part of this group who believes in as. masters but did not know that the musical evening was solely so called 'ascended master' songs and meditation. Anyway, I decided to sit through the one hour programme. As soon as they started out their 'love and light' meditation, I was amazed to find that there were a whole bunch of dark entities who converged onto the location...some were openly mocking, some were actually 'feeding' off the energy they created. (I am a Reiki teacher and can see auras and am very sensitive to this kind of thing.) I threw up gold shields around the location and within a few minutes at most, they wandered off as if they could not sense the energy any more. It brought to mind what you had said in Matrix 5: using white light attracts the dark. Very strongly it did."

"Reading Matrix 5 has cleared up some major issues I have faced while in this incarnation. I have had several bisexual and homosexual experiences in the past few years. During this same time period I have had a furious interest in occult and metaphysical teachings that seemed to start a few years before my experiences into different aspects of my sexuality. Before >reading Matrix 5 I never knew how to deal with this because I did not understand how to feel about this. I have dealt with a lot of grief and guilt because I did not know why I was the way that I was. Now I know that these aspects of myself are the benchmarks of a advancing spirit and that I don't have to feel ashamed about anything. I know now that all I need to do is drop the labels that people have placed upon me and reach towards the inner me my higher self. I can see that there is nothing wrong with me but rather it is the game that is improper to a advancing spirit. I am also very curious to find out the level of incarnation that I am currently at in this life."

"I have always considered books my best friend and guide. I have always been interested in subjects of the spirit, I remember since my childhood memories. Now I have found and almost finished reading MV. Written in MV I believe I have found the Purpose for my life long interest (I am 56) which I believe has been the foundation I needed for this Purpose." C.J.

"The Matrix V material lends itself to truth and has answered more questions in the short amount of time I have read and studied the first few hundred pages than all my 44 years of indoctrination of mormon/christian bullshit, newager/lightsider coercion, media shovel-fed mass disinformation and mass manipulation by the elitist few. When I saw the attacks on the trade centers I found myself just observing, not shocked at all-thank you. When I hear or read of all the death, violent or otherwise, alien manipulations, bullshit meteors hurtling toward earth, this and that ad naseum, in this wonderful world-I understand and observe and I thank you. "Heavy on the heart" is displaced by pertinent observance and allowance, thank you. What one doesn't know that one doesn't know can be found in oneself and can be awakened by the Matrix V template and again I thank you. I do feel I AM making progress. I appreciate your candor and directness." Erik

"I could spend a lot of time writing so I just cut to the chase and say: Thank You. In Matrix V I have found my Purpose. Count me in! I am not quite finished with my 1st reading. I am not a joiner, nor have I ever joined a chat club, but I will see you all at SmartGroups soon because the book taught me that in this case we need each others assistance. I understand. I am here & I want to help!! Thank you for MV!"

"I have had the distinct opportunity to read all such volumes before Matrix V. And they have truly been literary marvels; harbingers for the more intense literary endeavors to come of it's kind. However, no text has had as great an influence upon my every day thinking as this particular piece of literature -- Matrix V. I would venture to say that it stands true to itself as a "Magnum Opus" of sorts; a "Divine Pymander" without question! Let the "becoming" continue."

" Gentlemen, I have received my copy of MV on the evening of the 9th - have read through 75 pages so far and what I have found valuable is that many things which have been 'known' and which I have implemented in my life have been listed herein and the blurred edges have become focused sharply. I agree entirely about what you say on genders. Down the years I have tried to tell people who wail about relationships, to try and integrate their male/female energies within and not look to someone else to complete what I used to describe as the circle, and then look for another complete person to move forward with ... you have put focus onto what I tried to formulate and convey. I myself was in one het relationship from '82-'86 (shim had clearly told me that it was better NOT to marry... I ignored the message) and then had to walk away - as my spiritual growth was hindered terribly by the friction. I learned the lesson of allowing another their path, not interfering or trying to 'change' or control. I just did what I had to at the time without the knowledge I have now, and it was not easy but after reading MV, I realise that my HS needed to overcome the programming and it was done this way ..after that I have not been in any relationship...never found anyone with whom I could move forward. It has definitely been a rough ride but I am glad for it. Would not have had it any other way. I agree totally about the female control too and the posturing and manipulation. It is good to know why these things are in place, but once this information is filed away, the most important thing to do is to get on with our progress and overcome the blocks. the very first 70-odd pages of MV have given me clarity on this issue and I look forward to completing my first reading for more inputs, known and new. Thanks once more." Ketayun

"After reading the material two very keys incidents have taken place that confirm the accuracy of the material. At my job I discovered that I have a co-worker that has knowledge of shamanism and is willing to share this with me. I also "discovered" that the manager of the health food store I shop at teaches reiki and is willing to instruct me in that as well. None of this was made aware to me until after I read matrix 5. That makes it plain as day to me its time for me to learn these things as began the advancement of my spirit. Its so obvious why these opportunities have presented themselves to me." Ian

"I just wanted to say thank you for bringing this information out. I just finished re-reading the main narrative and Q&A, and already, this work has had a dramatic impact on me, and has put so much into a greater perspective for me. I was amazed at the other works you mentioned in the narrative, because just about all of them came to me in highly synchronistic ways, over the past few years, as did this material. I knew of its existence for a while, but finally, one day, I just knew it was time to get the M5 material into my hands. I've used the Hemisync music for a while, and have had some very seriously profound experiences while in the heightened state it produces. I've had unusual experiences since childhood, and this work has put so much into a greater perspective for me. Thank you so much! All 3 of the Monroe books are on the way, and I can hardly wait to begin reading them. Thanks again for publishing this amazing work. It has had an incredible impact!"

"I wanted to express my appreciation for your work set forth in Matrix 5. Having received it about a week ago, I'm on my second read-through (except the Handbook which I read a few months back - a very slow read). Wonderful, insightful and your Q&A sessions are very revealing, both in the questions and how you handle them. The last few years I've been on a search for these materials and in the process have learned a great deal of the background on issues you mentioned in M5. In fact, somehow I knew to first digest some of Val's other matrix books and materials before M5. "Waking up in time" is the refrain that goes through my mind. The implications of the insights in M5 are profound and will take me time to assimilate. But I know one thing for sure - this will be a year of major change in my life as a result. Already many decisions are made and it remains but to implement them. I have ordered Monroe's three books and Icke's Greatest Secret and need to assimilate these as well. I've not been into astral travel before but am now very interested in learning, and will do so. There is no substitute for knowingness resulting from direct experience, rather than belief and opinion."

"First of all, thank you for writing Matrix V. It is impacting my life daily and I am on my second read through, and, of course, I am picking up things that did not resonate the first read through. I feel as though I understand the "rules" of the universe now, where as before it was a hodgepodge of stuff I had read over the years in which I was never able to put "it" together. All I can say is that I feel centered about the information I have read in Matrix V." Nancy

" M5 IS a great aid. It's enabled me to embrace my unique feelings about this life instead of wondering what is wrong with me. Great appreciation goes out to Val and the author for this leading edge work. Wanda

" Just wanted to post a note of thanks to all that are responsible for the fabulous information you have made available to those intended to receive. After turning 40, my life took on a major rapid change (now 49). I left the church of many years, my daughter went off to college and independent. Divorced (remain good friends) got rid of all the material baggage. All this was prompted by several (OBE) experiences non-induced. I learned the usage of the word NO and really like the way I felt after using it bold and strong. In this new found freedom I became a loner by choice and got quiet and went on an inside search. Then I began hearing this voice speak to me telling me things that were so bizarre to my intellect pictures, flashes and, sounds I had never heard. The cover of M5 was one of the pictures I saw two years ago. I even drew the same picture except my people look liked little oval balls dangling from the cord. I didn't come here this time to be an artist. Anyway, synchronicities began to happen one right after another and now it's just my normal way of life. First I get this information from inside of me, even though I never quite have the full understanding I know that it will come so I just continue and then here it comes. That's just what happened when I stumbled on Trufax.org. I saw the picture of M5 I knew that I knew that I knew this was going to be the catalyst of completion of the blurry things I needed clarity on. (After all I saw the picture two-years prior.) I knew all the unusual things that have been occurring in my life where not just coincidences. However, not having anyone that could converse with on such matters kept me going within. It's so AMAZINGLY true! to find all answer within effortlessly. Just relax go with the flow of the moment in knowing the answer (s) will be revealed to you. Just stay tuned to the voice and you can't be tricked or at least not for long.

Thank you Thank you Thank you I always knew who I was and now why I am here. I am having a good time living the four laws and truly having a grand laugh at the media, and the mass. I am not hung up on an image, name, body, labels, friends, family, and lonely... what's that about? Do what you did when you were a kid's... talk to yourself! Without a doubt, I am sure the masses would label me as a cold non-caring insensitive Bitch, and I don't care what anyone thinks especially where my life concerns are... I'm doing what I came to do. I will deliver the letter to Garcia. My HIGHER SELF has it all under control I'm just enjoying the adventure, the grand picture show in amusement. Again, thanks Val and Author"

"I look at life here in rather a humorous state and The Matrix V gives me a license to do so. Love the book. When I read it I breakout in laughter and say, "Right on". What a wonderful book to confirm my suspicions about life. I'll laugh my way to the 4th level and beyond. I can't recommend the book enough." Jude

" Just wanted to thank you for your presence, your wisdom and the presenting of important information at this critical time in our lives. You are correct---I have begun to see things differently and have deepened my understanding of who I am thanks in part to the emergence of Matrix V and the material therein. We should be in for an interesting ride this year....

" Matrix V was published at just the right time, with information for people who would be receptive to the truth and reality of life on this planet. Armed with this knowledge, there is a new understanding and awareness that effectively changes life's perceptions forever."

" This is the first Xmas since coming into contact with Matrix V. And I have never felt more alive, together with being consciously aware of the reality of life on 3rd density."

"It's been a year since I resonated my way to "Thought Patterns" on Trufax. I know this from the date on the hard copies I've printed of the entire material. I couldn't afford the risk of it being gone the next day. I instantly knew that this kind of passion, the complex overtones and the hard core honesty of the Q&A interactions were beyond anyone's ability to fake. Besides, almost all the concepts in the narrative had been previously validated by my own life experience, all but one: I've never seen an alien personally, although I have encountered (OOBE) some kind of probing/monitoring device, slightly out of phase with the physical. (I have a feeling these are all over the place). However , this is not the reason I'm writing this message. In my first message to this group, I wrote that when I first saw the M5 cover art, I became dizzy and my heart started to beat rapidly. I recognized it !!! It turns out that between the years 1993-1996 I've had two direct interactions inside my Higher Self. I just didn't use that name. I called shim my "Headquarters" or my "White Room With The Tower". I had no idea that I was inside my Self, it just felt more "Home" than anything I had previously encountered in this lifetime, in or out of my body. These 'contacts' occurred at two very critical points in my life. They came with no preparation, absolutely no planning, training or intention. They just happened. The only possible trigger was the fact that at that time I was feeling very scared, very heartbroken, very disoriented and VERY ALONE. Strange things had started to happen to me, like spontaneous Out of Body experiences, powerful dreams, countless synchronicities, and much more. The state of mind I was in at that time was something like: If I die this very moment, so be it. For a short period after the second contact, I even believed that I had actually died. This was far ago and long away, and I have "changed" A LOT since then. I would like to describe two aspects of those interactions. Of course, there is so much more, but that's another story for another time. First, the visuals were almost identical to the M5 cover (the colors, the texture, the energy pillar etc.) There were two exceptions: 1) I didn't see the energy connection in my upper HS, and 2) I didn't see "heads", only shadowy, humanoid appearing silhouettes, of which two were more prominent. Secondly, I wasn't told anything about incarnational levels, dominant, final or otherwise. Of course, I didn't know those existed (at that time), and I had totally different questions in my mind. Those were clearly answered. I will gladly share more about these contacts with anyone having a point of reference for this specific type of interaction. None of the people I know have such a point of reference. Those two 'events' were followed by dramatic changes of course in my current incarnation. Many of those changes I have later read about (with tears in my eyes) in the M5 narrative. To sum it all up: When I saw the picture on the book cover, I KNEW, maybe for the first time in my life, that I was not alone. Happy new year, everyone. "

"Several years ago, in December, I found the Leading Edge Website and ordered and read the first four Matrix Books. I also got several books about the Montauk Experiments, which I found fascinating at that time. Now, thanks to Val, the author and Matrix V, I am armed with further knowledge about the game and it's players and about the reality of my Higher Self. This is the greatest gift I could ever be given." Sue

"Since coming into contact with Matrix V six months ago, the transformation within me is absolute. Because of this I feel as though I am living on 3rd density on two levels. I realize that I am here in this physical body to fulfill specific experiences in this incarnation. Finding out the truth about where we come from, why we are here, and where we return to after we leave here is priceless information. EACH WAKING DAY, I REVEL IN THE KNOWLEDGE THAT I HAVE ACQUIRED IN Matrix V Now that I view 3rd density without the box, the manipulation, deceit and all of it are plain to see. Yet in spite of this knowledge, I realize that as much as I would like to leave this place, this incarnation, I know that I have to fulfill my assignment here - so to speak! If life ends in the next breath or lasts however long, it is of no consequence. So now I find myself outwardly still functioning as before, inwardly I am still me of course, yet the change! (There are no words capable of describing it properly!) there is a 'knowing' Observing everything with a changed mindset and perspective is a world away from where I was six months ago Together with this, the most important change for me is my success in astral projection, which I have found with practice and dedication was my next logical step to take. To the Author I would like to say. What you have done for me in providing me with the information to help myself is invaluable. For years I have struggled along a road with many twists and turns in my search for truth. The information and advice that you and Val give on this forum is invaluable. Matrix V along with the web site and forum are unique on 3rd density."

Note from author: Thank you for your comments! (above) You seem to be doing quite well on your own with the M5 materials and THAT'S WHAT I LIKE TO SEE. You aren't looking for a 'master'. You are your own 'master'. Your level is one of those I've especially written for. The number of whiners, immature (for the M5 level) and pontificating people who have slithered into this Group, and booted out when they are identified by their own hand, is significant. Their demanding, victim/victimizing incarnations are easily manipulated by the Game and Game DNA commands. While this is their stage and they MUST be allowed to progress at THEIR pace, they continually try to attempt to throw road blocks with belief (but totally false information). These are attempts to drag others down to their level or, at least, keep you from Advancing. What they don't get is that when you have reached VERY Advanced levels and Final, you don't fall for these tricks that low thru mid-Advanced levels will believe. That's one of the reasons why it takes HUNDREDS of incarnations to reach Final. The Laws of Allowance are lived, not just understood, by the Very Advanced levels along with their implications.

"In the months that have followed my connecting with Matrix V, and really absorbing the impact of the work, I have had many definite phases of development. I don't hold Matrix Five as a bible but I do hold it with reverence. The truth stands up and stands out now. I can spot my old patterns a mile away. What a gift. People continue to drift out of my life, I am pretty much just watching it. The new clients who come in (out of the woodwork I am so busy as of late) are all interesting and I seem to be acting a catalyst in their lives. I just hang out and do my thing and things pop out of my mouth that surprise even me. This leads to huge shifts in them and when I see them the next week they are breaking up with lovers, losing jobs, distancing from family the whole gamut. This all seems to be accelerating and I am sitting back and watching. Meanwhile my focus remains the same. I am all about connecting fully with my higher self and having a good time with it. No agendas to speak of. Just clearing out the closets and watching the show."

"Ever since I read this material a year and a half ago on Trufax.org, my life has changed dramatically. What is contained in Matrix V is THE most compelling exercise in critical thinking I have ever come across. I suspect some people who see this material, including myself at times, think that the Author is criticizing certain behaviour, and people get offended by that. He is just sharing his experience, and it seems to me that the Matrix V material is more about questioning one's own behaviour and self rather than comparing it to what the Author has experienced and what works for him. I haven't found anything else quite as interesting as Matrix V, and I have made the mistake of turning it into a 'box', making Matrix V parameters and standards to compare myself to. The real gift I have learned from reading Matrix V is how to experience my own path without letting others run it for me (including Matrix V!). I have to say, a lot of what I have read in Matrix V are things I have always suspected (women for instance, never worked for me once my body got satisfied by them, and I could never quite pinpoint why). Many of those things however, I did not have the courage to deny and oppose, b/c I was afraid of others opinions. Matrix V for me, has helped me learn to think independently, more so than I already did, and in a completely new direction. My higher self brought me the answers to questions I had, and some I didn't even know about! Even in the midst of what appears to be the utter stupidity and pettiness of myself and the human race, I am now seeing more and more the beautiful cosmic gears turning in perfect balance and harmony. Knowing everything will always work out exactly as it should and with perfect timing, how could I ever worry about or fear anything?"

"I want to share a perspective I have after reading Matrix V : I have discovered that I have a bad case of the "I'm sorries". As I come to realize more and more that experience is only a teacher, devoid of right or wrong choices, but rather only experiences to learn from, I find that apologizing for things I have done is silly, and gives my power away. I find that to really correct things, you have to make a conscious effort to avoid having to learn the same lesson again and again (break the loop!). Just saying I'm sorry and feeling self-pity is victim consciousness, and robs myself of the ability to do anything about a situation, not to mention being a distortion of the lesson I had been a part of. Making more constructive decisions in the future, and then experiencing them through to their consequences is the only way I am going to learn."

"Coming from different parts of the world from all walks of life, viewing and living life from differing perspectives, due to the circumstances into which we were born, yet all having one thing in common 'that need to know what our lives are all about' we, who in spite of the particular situations we have found ourselves in, have somehow been drawn to Matrix V this in my opinion is no coincidence. To be in possession of the knowledge within Matrix V empowers one to observe life on 3rd density without the box. With the realization that life within the box is controlled from cradle to grave without this being perceived in general by the 3rd density population. When you think about it, we are born into a body which is needed for the experience of life here, everything that we amass during our incarnation our homes, money etc., can't be taken with us when we leave, only our experiences, which is the sole reason for being here. Unfortunately for the masses that cling strongly to body ID believing the lies that they are fed throughout their lives there is no freedom of choice, as they are consistently mentally and physically body focused. For those who have listened and trusted their inner voice, this has taken those on the road to enlightenment. To live in this specific time slot is very special because I feel that we are coming to a complete metamorphosis of reality and consciousness on 3rd density the like of which has never been seen before."

"It is nice to find this forum on the Leading Edge Research Group web page. Came highly recommended. Actually, the material found me right on schedule; considering the synchronistic flow of late. (For me) shim's spiral out continues to accelerate (almost exponentially), and that which is needed is being successfully presented. Accordingly, resonance with Matrix V is quite intense, thanks for the words. Historically, words have fallen way short on the 'who am I, what am I doing here' trail. Reprogramming one's 'vision' for truth is tough in today's society, especially with the constant bombardment of useless, disconnected terms and concepts ("education") projected during the most receptive stages. That which does hold truth for the Earther's eager spiritual growth, lay cloaked in compartmentalized form, scattered and dissolute to logical understanding."

" The release of this material and much other related info has substantially improved my connectedness and brought me to new meanings and understandings of 'life'. Of course this ongoing process of having all of this material sink in and continue to reveal far more than my mere imagination could or would have ever dreamed up is especially rewarding to me (and I would assume for most people on this list as well). So all of the alienation / loneliness / isolation / sense of being different etc. are now understood as welcome and necessary experiences and have become tools on my palate of life's variety. That I AM has become far more important than Where I am. Like the saying goes, 'It's not so important what happens, as what the reaction / response to it is'."

"Matrix V opened my eyes; giving me the ultimate knowledge about 'life on 3rd density' and because of this life has taken on a whole new meaning. I feel an ongoing exhilaration that I have never felt before in my life. Each day for me is exciting because what I have learned I have incorporated into every day life."

"Matrix V is my favorite written material by far, ever published. What a breath of fresh air to read a cohesive journey through the game, it's rules and the possibilities of spiraling out. Previously I found so much Light sided material that seemed to be fodder, just another set of Dogma, or exercises to keep the mind busy and looking outward rather than directing the seeker within. I am also most impressed with the information regarding gender identification and breeding."

"I have to say that Matrix 5 is the most awesome material I have ever read. I am about 7/8 done with reading it. After reading a few chapters I have to lay down and think about it. It is true that once you begin you can never go back. I know Matrix 5 will change anyone that reads it even if they don't comprehend or understand. I really look forward to the rest of my life so to say no matter what happens."

Editor Note: (Comments below are excellent. Loneliness, after spiraling out with the info in Matrix V, is one of the rocks near the END of the rocky road. Since you accept leaving the Game, you've overcome most of the rocks. Now it's time to test your dedication to what you've now learned. Can you incorporate what is given (that you need/want) into your life? If it's only an intellectual thing, you have far to go, but will go that way either later on or in another incarnation. The Narrative Author, Nov 2001)

"There were two big things that came into my life as a result of Matrix V - loneliness, and responsibility. Loneliness (although I have plenty of 'people' around) is not new to me, (or, I would guess, to most of the people on this forum) but this is a different kind of loneliness in that 'meaningful' conversations with everyday people becomes tedious and 'meaning-less'. (unless humor can be brought into it! - I find the two extremes very satisfying - either a conversation in which something new can be learned or given, or just a bloody good laugh just for laughter's sake - I would rather peel my eyeballs than engage in small-talk). I often sit and marvel at the genius of the 'game' when listening to intelligent, articulate and philosophically astute friends opine their theories with well-rehearsed ardor (if I can stand it that long)- to the point of mesmerizing their close audience - BECAUSE it is blindingly obvious they simply do not 'get it' - the blinkers are too high and wide and dense. And what is even more fascinating is how their audience is readily 'taken in' by it. A few grand gestures and a well-placed 'I think...' or 'I believe....' and the audience is hooked. Matrix V says a great deal about the 'beliefs' and the belief-system territories give an excellent example of this human folly. This is the lonely part - but can be fascinating. The responsibility part comes with not only how one handles the information; but also, how one uses the information. Human (3D) nature being what it is, many people would have hidden agendas or motivations for either being involved with the Matrix V information, or for using it to satisfy their egos (hence the body-id based "longing to be a Final Incarnation" - and then let everyone know about it). Also, as The Author stated many times about 'pushing the information to one side if it's too much', many people cannot take the responsibility to themselves to admit that some new information or other is too much at that time (hence we had our synchronous journeys to this information which came along when ready) and in personal conversations with people when this material is brought to the surface, it is easier for the listener to dismiss your information outright if they can't handle it, than to just put the book to one side. The human contact thing really upsets some people whereas the book is a lot less intimidating. I'm aware that I'm beginning to ramble now, but I just wanted to think but loud and share some thoughts with you all. So, on a last note (and trying to stick to the title of this thread) I wouldn't say that there's a Challenge 'beyond' Matrix V as such, as I think the information is part of us on many levels and therefore gets to evolve and grow as we do - and WITH us. It's not like we can read the book a few times and put it down and say 'ok I've learnt that lot, what's next?').

"It was my experience before reading Matrix V that I would be subjected to the same alienation, loneliness and general disassociation that I have experienced during my reading of the material. The real divergence in experience for me, has been that now I more fully understand why. This has made all of the difference. I had read a few light-sided texts and channels on my path to Matrix V and felt even more the outsider. I would find bright and promising friends who knew that something was amiss here on Earth. Slowly I would watch as they would then proceed to construct a whole new set of boxes to fit themselves in.

Subsequently they would fall out of my life and I would be alone again. Each time having their judgment that I was "Dark" linger. I had to be dark because I wasn't buying into the new set of dogma ... Also there are the unfolding gifts of consciousness that I didn't have before Matrix V and have really tapped into. It is a blast sharpening these skills and allowing others to surface. Almost like the Christmas morning Gestalt . A mixed anticipation and glee of the unknown yet certain to be pleasant experiences awaiting ."

"All or most of us who have found Matrix V have traveled many roads, with each road new experiences taking us further from what we have been brought up to believe as normal. The further that we have traveled the lonelier it becomes because we find ourselves out of sync with society in this world. When you think how many people are on this planet, with all the different belief systems, no matter where you go there is control. So is it any wonder that we, during the search for truth, should be surprised to find ourselves lonely and isolated. At the end of the day we are only responsible for ourselves. People, whether they are family, friends or others are only interested in their own life's agendas, and in the main only see what they are programmed to, most never think beyond what is considered normal life. It doesn't matter who they are to you, if your views don't concur with their ideas and lifestyle, you ultimately find that they are uncomfortable around you. They are where they are meant to be, just as I am, and that's the way it is. Because of the changed mind-set, and seeing the world the way it really is, on the one hand is the euphoria in finding the answers to the most important questions in one's life. The other is the loneliness, because looking around you there is no one to talk to, or share this with, because no one is on the same wavelength. That's why this specific forum is so unique, because each of us can share experiences with other like-minded people. I have always agreed with the saying that anything worth having is not easy to get, and anything easy to get is usually not worth having. Coming into contact with the information in Matrix V has taken many years of searching, yet these years have taught me so much because without the knowledge that I have acquired during this time, I would not have understood or have been ready for what Matrix V has taught me. There is a reason for situations we find ourselves in and everything that we do, although this may not always be clear or apparent to us at the time."

"I've been following the Matrix publications since the early 90's. Began reading Matrix V in June. I've noticed that it pushes buttons in my friends who claim to be very spiritual."

"First of all, let me tell you my life changed in every way after reading Matrix V. It made me doubt everything in my already doubtful life full of questions in search of the truth. Religion and control have always been a real repellent to me - thanks to myself for evolving this far. I think Matrix V is the true last step you have to overcome to be able to really spiral out. The most difficult step will be to digest this information and be able to control it instead of it letting control you. This information has the tendency to sweep you of your feet - and you will have to crawl back up. But when you do succeed - they won't be able to knock you down again."

"I have found M5 very helpful in clarifying things I have known, felt, thought, and been confused by. I have 3 teenage boys that have helped me live and refine my Truth. I am in a dominant incarnation and see no "problem" with any of my choices. I have always known the presence of my higher self, even though I didn't always have that word as a reference. Having children is an experience. What is gained is up to the incarnations having the experience. Having children has been a great opportunity for me to find out the nuances of living the universal laws. It has also given me the opportunity to learn the difference between body and spiritual stimulus. I allow the spirits inhabiting the young bodies the same opportunities."

"I had a child 6 years ago, just one. I got M5 on November 2nd 2001, I can't put it down, when I'm not reading it I am constantly thinking about it and see everything around me with M5 eyes! I agree with it so far. M5 is the first time I've read about manipulative females, breeding and the DNA commands installed by the meddlers and that Earthers have only 2 strands of DNA left after the original 12 strands had been mutilated. Anyway, while reading I was becoming concerned that I'd bred and becoming over-concerned with wanting to know whether I am a final, dominant or very advanced. I've been on the excellent rocky road since I was 10 and began a dedicated spiritual path about 5 years ago."

"In 1996, I found a book that started my conscious connection back to my Higher Self. I left The Game gradually in 1997 and 1998. Still on the rocky road. Three days ago I received M5, I'm on page 144. I recognize, understand and agree with it so far. What was brand new to me though is the female thing. Some of it was difficult to read but it is all true, I can see it in every female I know and the one I used to be. Even the "spiritual" females now appear more more likely light-siders than Awakened. In fact, they try to manipulate other females too. I find it difficult to interact with those stuck in programmed responses and their failure to look deeper. I gave up social life and shopping for anything other than food 3 years ago and am most pleased with the inner results."

"Matrix V is not something one can just read and then place on the bookcase when finished. This knowledge is SINGULARLY the most important issue on this density, where upon coming into contact with this information, turns life upside down, inside out. In effect like the film 'The Matrix'. Once this knowledge is gained, your mindset is effectively out of the 3rd density Matrix, and there is no going back! Observing what's happening in the world, everything appears to be as it has always been. To watch television, read newspapers, listen to people discussing world affairs, this is all normal, yet with the changed mind-set, it is like watching a play, in which I am part of, yet not participating in - like before Matrix V. Now I find myself looking at events with new eyes, I expect the unexpected and think the unthinkable."

"I was on the path to understanding the game and it's myriad of ramifications when I was lead to Matrix V while looking to more fully override my body identification. I cannot agree enough to the change in perception while continuing to integrate this material. I knew there was a game before. I saw it all around me. I guess I knew just enough to keep me out of trouble. Matrix V has been the graduate course I was seeking. While reading it I have connected on a much deeper level with my higher self and every day this brings more talents to light."

"There are many novel insights presented in the narrative. The stuff about higher self and minion incarnations is an explanation I've never come across anywhere as to how we can suddenly have 6 billion "people" here on earth, when past populations have never approached that level. Perhaps it also suggests an explanation for how so many "people" can be such "sheep" in falling for the daily mind wash."

"I've just received M5, I've read the first 35 pages and feel different already - has further intensified focus of my observations of 3D, its very potent stuff, intuitively unquestionable. Love the meditation - thanks for that, beauty in simplicity, thanks I've been searching for a straightforward method of connection to My Higher Self. There's far too many complicated methods around. "

"When I first started reading my opinion was the the author was rude and arrogant. Now I realize how social niceties and light-siders waste our valuable time. Too many years I have been what people expected me to be and held myself back trying to be that perfect, loving image. I recognize that I am not a final or near final incarnation, but I love the information and sending it on to my Higher Self."

"I have just received the Matrix 5 and am only on about page 40, however I find myself reading ahead and am intrigued. I don't really have a question for you, but I just would like to say how many things make sense to me. Now I finally have the Matrix, I am reading it very slowly, rereading and doing a lot of thinking."

"On discovering the information within Matrix V - Life, as we have known it is changed forever for each of us who have come into contact with this material."

"Life during/after Matrix Five and subsequent shifts in creative focus: I have found that there is increased contrast with the few people I have allowed to stay in my life that are trying to pull me back into the game. Most are clients and a few sporadic family members. I am observing as they are pulled out of my life. As I align more clearly and with focus on being in direct and full connection with higher self I see that all vestiges remaining in the way of this flow will fall away. This happens perfectly and without effort."

"First off, a big thank you for your work in Matrix V. Every bit of it has struck a chord with me, and in many cases, you voiced and articulated sentiments and feelings I'd had and hadn't even really been aware of or how to state clearly. I've been on a search for information about life and the universe since around the time I was 13, and up until recently, most of the information I've been able to find has been light-sider, light-worker, new age, etc. There's been some useful info through all that shit but it's always been frustrating trying to weed out what applies and what's simply utter crap. Also, your book is wonderful because it's written from a human perspective"

"... I gained something that I've never notice before, I gained the ability to know when my body is speaking and when my SPIRIT is doing it. Never before had I been such aware of this... Just my experience on how matrix 5 changed my day-to-day life..."

"I received my copy of M5 today. Thank you!! Yes, I am already beginning to see and feel differently.... Thank you for presenting the possibilities."

"Reading the material is so life changing, in that if you are ready for this knowledge, then this life's experience is irrevocable changed, you can never go back to what you believed prior to accessing this information. There is only one way to go and that way is forward. I feel that in MV the Author explained everything in an interesting, detailed, easy to read and understand format, and that is no easy feat! "

"I cannot thank you enough for your brilliant, honest and powerful work in Matrix V. Much of your material served as welcome confirmation to what I have known within since early childhood but never had very much "outside" validation of. This being so, your direct and often pointed and humorous approach added a very welcome dimension to the review. As for the 'new to me stuff' WOW!! Mind blowing and so exciting. I have been reading and re-reading since late August and feel so alive. I have witnessed countless confirmations of the Orion female material and even recognized many patterns from my early experience and some still lingering now. The understanding of the DNA commands is essential to overcome these patterns, at least for me. I am almost saddened to see the infiltration of "Female Power" in countless movies and other forums of expression here. I am rather unplugged from the mainstream media and have been for about six years yet still see evidence daily of the obvious control being propagated. I am ever more focused on the new paradigm, and full connection with my higher self because of this invaluable material. For this gift words cannot explain both my gratitude and excitement. I could go on and on with this praise but sense you have no real use for it. Just know that your material is reaching many. Even those who on the surface appear to be Long Island housewives. I was working diligently on releasing residual female programming about how I looked, ate, spoke (I tend to swear like a sailor when I get excited:-) dressed ad nausea when I was prompted from within one afternoon to order the book. What a help. The thought forms on Long Island are so large and powerful surrounding all things of body consciousness. I was having a bit of a struggle. While reading Matrix V I giggled yet shuddered at having faced so many of the obstacles you mentioned with focus primarily to males (e.g., forced marriage before I was strong enough to say NO, the battle over my retaining my healing career and staying financially independent of my husband and most recently the battle of breeding which I have stood strong and refused to do; but not until I read your book did I fully understand why.) These concepts have all been pushed at the hands of my mother in law a dynamic that does not escape me, her control of my husband is the role generally played by wife... At any rate, your material has truly helped me to balance any of my remaining tendencies towards control et all via these DNA mechanisms which are fostered by the sleeping masses and their current puppeteers. Your mention of the Matrix movies axiom about anyone in the Matrix being an enemy to those trying to get out of the matrix is an example I have used many times. I have many questions that arose during my reading but will continue to put them to my higher self and wait to see if any remain gray or fuzzy enough for me to direct to you and your obvious experience. Your continued and forceful reminder to remain true to self and to stand strong on the path of discovery as well as your reminder of accepting where one is without comparing is all so beautiful and one of the things I most appreciated about your work. I have known for years how our beliefs and lenses as I call them create our reality here and I have been working to ascend above polarity consciousness this is yet another area your work proved to be both essential and perfect for. The Light-sider stuff was stumping me. I would see it for what it was, including a ploy by the dark-siders, but found little to support this outside of a gut theory until your work! Many a friend has passed out of my life because of their addiction to the Ascended Masters, Angels, God outside of self and the general "save me oh power outside of myself " game. Before reading this material I was staring to question if I was the only one who noticed this new age trap and felt the dark energy posing as light behind it. Alas now as my focus is now fostered I will attract beings of like mind and forge ahead in my own understanding. Yahoo. Thank you again sir for your brave, funny and most of all heart opening work. You have entered my list of top ten favorite artists causing shifts and ripples of consciousness with a bullet; perhaps even taking the number one spot to unseat the band Tool who's new album uses one of your terms "spiral out" often and well. I saw them twice last week at Madison Square Garden and oddly thought of you and that you might be a fan if you have yet to discover them. I believe based on the lyrical content and also visual focus that the band is a fan of Val's website or perhaps of Monroe's work, or just Higher self connection. I digress. With gratitude and admiration, Leslie"

"Matrix V represents a natural progression for dominant/very advanced higher self incarnations."

"I have recently received Matrix 5 and have been steadily processing the information ever since. The material which you have presented is dynamic in the sense that it is so far beyond the average human consciousness that they could never hope to comprehend even a inkling of the material."

"Not long after I received and started reading Matrix V, I also became successful with astral projection. The author is so right. OBSERVE just OBSERVE! --- IT'S ALL ABOUT THE EXPERIENCE!"

"Matrix V is my favorite written material by far, ever published. What a breath of fresh air to read a cohesive journey through the game, it's rules and the possibilities of spiraling out. Previously I found so much Light- sided material that seemed to be fodder, just another set of Dogma, or exercises to keep the mind busy and looking outward rather than directing the seeker within."

"Let me make use of this occasion to say thanks for what you have done to my life. Without you, M5 and your prompt follow-up advice in this forum I would never be where I am right now. Since there might be an event taking place in the future that could destroy my body, I just wanted to make sure that I didn't forget to show my outmost respect for the things you have accomplished. Not only to me but probably to everyone who has been in contact with your material. At your advice I have read M5 and Bob's trilogy. And it has literally changed my world - not only the view, but also my participation in it. You have pushed me on the rocky road - which is a good thing - because right now its already getting smoother and the results are definitely worth it. I'm able to see right trough the Game and am ready to proceed to 'the next level'. Words do not suffice to describe what you have done for me and my Higher Self. Maybe I will get the chance later to thank you in person." 19 Sep 2001

"On reading Matrix 5 I have been through an amalgam of emotions, to read this information is so thought provoking that for me if I am not reading it at every opportunity then I am thinking about it. What the author talks about in MV just makes so much sense, no matter what situations we find ourselves in, it's all about the experience. Now to find out amongst other things our DNA has been tampered with, that religions, governments and all of it are to keep tight control of the slaves. Where have I been all my life? - up until now I have lived here on this earth, I see and I'm blind, I hear and I'm deaf to all that has been happening around me. I have no idea where I am situated regarding my higher self, what I do know is because of what the author has imparted, I am armed with the most powerful of all tools and that power is KNOWLEDGE! I also realize that having the information is wasted unless it is followed by actions that further one towards one's higher self! I feel as though I have been awakened and freed from the lie I have been living, I know my higher self is aware of this. Now my journey is beginning." 10 Sep 2001

"Thanks for this information! I have never thought about the meaning of my name since I've read Matrix V. But now it becomes totally clear. What I came to realize, again with this subject, is that the most obvious things which are right under your nose are the most difficult to detect!" 10 Sep 2001

"I have not yet read Matrix5, but it is on order. From the other Matrix material I've read, I find that the more I study and comprehend it, the more my questions seem to be answered in my head even before they are fully typed out. " Very interesting!" 10 Sep 2001

"Matrix V has awakened my present incarnation to an entire new level" 9 Sep 2001

"Just received my Matrix V book yesterday and find it difficult to put it down. I'm sure there are others like myself out there who will share their thoughts and joys about this book." 8 Sep 2001

" I have read about 20% of Matrix V so far, and am enthusiastic about being able to discuss the material with other readers. Matrix V has a certain depth and ring of truth about it that is hard to find elsewhere." 1 Sep 2001

"Thank you for distributing the Matrix V material. It has been invaluable I have kept up with your work since I first began my "awakening" in 1992 (the precursor to that was me being enshrouded by a glowing, transparent sphere in 1988 at age 18...still not quite sure of the significance or if you could provide any insight on that). Since that time I've read Matrix I, II, III, IV and now V (I also keep up w/your website material). The person who is writing the information for Advanced Incarnations is very aware. A major source of very advanced information during my "awakening" has been the Advanced Incarnation Material. I do realize the synchronicity within this existence and that I have come across this type of information because of who/what I truly am (Higher Self). thank you for everything. Your efforts are greatly appreciated by myself and many others. I wish you success in all that you do." 30 Aug 2001

"Thanks ... it's been an interesting transformation." 30 Aug 2001

"I have been reading your website for 18 solid hours ... can't tear myself away. What blows me away is that all the material you present is self-evident truth. I do not say this lightly...I am a 50 year old cynic/skeptic and a former religionist/ idealist/ lightworker/ save-the-world-type with three marriages behind me, and I normally disagree with damn near everything I read or hear until I test it. So it is a shock to find absolutely nothing to disagree with in what you say, zero, zip. If anything, my entire life experience (and I have quite a bit, especially with women) totally validates everything you are saying! Amazing. May I say thank you and (I really hope this doesn't offend you,) bless you for what you are doing." 29 Aug 2001

"I have received the Matrix 5 book. I've only read the first 45 pages and have just those 45 pages totally eye opening in the most positive way imaginable!! Even the artwork feels familiar and right. I don't know how to fully express it. I am married, but I call the lady my friend as we are companions where sex is only an option and never held against each other. In fact, the marriage is all about companionship and the sharing of our spirits company FIRST AND FOREMOST. We have no children, and after 2-3 years may or may not. After reading the book, I will choose not to breed. I also feel she is at least an Dominant incarnate without the Orion evils. She's not possessive at the least, and full of spirit. I couldn't want a better companion. We both are beyond the sex, the marriage games, etc. Even though I'm considered quite attractive by the GAME, she is considered at best very cute, but it is her spirit I love as well as her. Yes, it's an experience, but we both realize this. Thank you for confirming what GAME rules were with marriage as it not only confirms what I've always known, but what I just happen upon. I will be in touch with my questions, and thank you for writing this book." 29 Aug 01

"It is amazing what you see, once you start opening your eyes. When I first started reading the posts about women on the trufax site, I had mixed feelings. I knew the author was right, but It still did not fill good to admit. I tried to force myself to make changes but I was not ready and it was not natural. Than when I read Matrix V, it just just clicked and now I can see it clearly. I am a member of an e-mail list. One of the girls was talking about how we should "guide" (control) men and instruct them on the proper way to do certain things. I usually stay out of it, but it made me so mad that I had to tell her off! After witnessing my own reaction to the girl's post, I actually realize that I have been unconsciously changing. I never would have picked up on the control aspects of the comment before reading the Matrix. My relationship with my spouse is also evolving. Neither of us feel the need to force anything anymore (sex, convo, etc). I also used to get mad or upset when he went out with the guys. It was all about control and trying to make sure he did things the way I wanted him too. I was scared that the guys would influence him more than I could. I do not feel that way anymore. I have also realized what I have gained from him. I really think that I was led to him. It was through him that I gained access to some of the more eye opening occurrences in my life (such as this). We have had convo's on our relationship and both agree that when we feel we no longer need to be together, we will peacefully stay friends and go our separate ways. Before, that scared me, but now it does not. I have been looking at my life and I feel that this is one of the happier times. Things seem to be falling in to place." (28 Aug 2001)

"One of the biggest things that MATRIX V explained for me is to be Happy with where you are in one's Incarnational Cycle. I think worrying if your Awakened or Not or a Dominant or a Middle Advanced shows one's Ego talking. Be Happy with where you are. If you read MATRIX V or have the book it seems one was able to connect to valuable information. Process what you can and chuck the rest if it doesn't resonate with you at the moment is what I do. Part of me would like to boast about how Final I am....but in the bigger picture thru reading MATRIX V, whatever level one is at, if you observe and learn and live the experiences one is faced in life with a sense of Humor and detachment, it really doesn't matter to me, as long as I am in the process of attempting to connect to my Higher Self and letting that info flow thru my life, I am not in competition with anyone. Enjoy have fun, don't feel guilty, and use the time you have for how you see it."

"... The MOST CLARIFYING BOOK I have ever read in this incarnation ... If you are searching for the truth, read & understand Matrix V."

"Many times in my life I could have been married. I am the one who always backed out. There would then follow a long period of self-condemnation, consisting of beating myself up for "being such a coward", etc. Yet, in spite of all the self-berating, that "still small voice" within would be resting quite comfortably with these decisions. This shows me the distinction between the status quo approval of the ego and the gentle urgings from my inner most self. This kind of inner battle has gone on most of my life. I know now that I don't have to do that any more because I am able to see it for what it is and which voice is really doing the talking. All my life I have been doing these kind of things. No more! Now I know why seeking the status quo would never work for me. Just quite maybe it was not suppose to work. Matrix V has cleared up the gay/lesbian issue for me completely as well as my own feelings of shame and degradation whenever I would question my own sexuality. Thank You for the info concerning the use of gold light. I have had many negative experiences while out of the body and the change in color should put a stop to it. Yes, I got "scared off" (as did your friend whom you did not see for a year and a half) and refused to meditate for years. So, I have the Astral Travel book on order, as out of body travel seems to me to not be a good idea for the novice. When I found the excerpt for Matrix V on Val's site I experienced a rush of relief. I was glued to the page for two days. Finally an answer to what is going on. I don't have to be hard on myself as in the past. Matrix V is confirmation of this."

"I have had OOBIE' since an early age and only recently in the last 4 years have broken out of a religious belief system and connected with my higher self. I have experienced a merging with my other incarnations as well as meeting my future self who has come to help me on a couple of occasions to get out of my body. When I was in the book store I saw the cover of Matrix V and immediately I recognized the artwork out of my own conscious memories. I didn't even have to pick the book up to know that it contained some very advanced truths, many of which I already know (although nice to see and confirm that there are others who are aware of it). I haven't even finished reading it. I've gotten about one fifth of the way through it. It's so very encouraging to meet other final incarnates who have woken up."

"I received Matrix 5 as a Fathers Day gift. What a book!"

"The information in Matrix V for advanced/final incarnations resonates with how I "feel". The information presented by the author is very "true" and much thanks is given to the author for taking the time to present the information "now". The specific information regarding genders/gender splits very clearly states the conflicts caused as a result of the gender split and I have noticed this for a long time and the Matrix V information brings things into even better focus. It is time to move past the bullshit and the agendas being pushed by the polarities (whether terrestrial or extraterrestrial) of this planet ("alien invasion", "aliens running the planet", "follow me I'll save you", "this group is right/this group is wrong", etc.). I am very aware that my true nature is unlimited and that through my experiences I will continue to access more of my "potential", which is unlimited."

"Matrix V and the Paradigm Books have given me a sense of personal power and excitement toward trying a more creative approach to life. If it is a game that will end, may as well try out some new ways of thinking and have some fun while we are here! Knowing that I don't need to ask questions to an external source is what I am working on presently. All of the answers I need can be received from my higher self, if I can learn to trust the information. I sometimes hesitate to contribute to this discussion, because of the fear of sounding stupid or getting criticised. I realise that this is an external focus rather than realising that I don't need validation from the outside."

"I am in the process of reading Matrix 5 and I love it. It is amazing how much of it is me. I am female, so for me to say that is stunning! I have been following the site for sometime now. I was raised pentecostal. Very strict. No pants, no make up, no music, go to church every day type of thing. Wasn't me. Went to college and joined an organization that woke me up and impacted my life like nothing else ever had. The organization talks about a lot of the stuff mentioned in the book and on the site, but I was tired of the games. The power struggles, lies, worship me, do as I say not as I do aspects of the organization got on my nerves. It was like looking for a diamond in a pile of coal. The information was right but what you had to go through to get it was ridiculous. So I started to pull away a little. discovered your web site, and have been enjoying it every since."

"I am finding the Matrix V material to be an excellent tool for me on my path. It is my deepest desire to fully and completely connect with my Higher Self, and to fully complete my personal mission for the good of my wholeness in this simultaneous lifetime. I want to thank you for your excellent works found within the Matrix V material!"

"Thanks for the astounding information. This is my second to the last incarnation so that may be why I resonate with it. Many bits and pieces of what ETs and other sources have said seem to hint at what you have on this page being true. I am ready to hear what's written there, though much work remains for me to unload the flawed programming left and live life accordingly."

"The stuff is incredible. It's all true. I always felt I should be with someone else that I was weird and people would think I was weird if I wasn't married , dating etc... I was particularly shocked by the Sirian Orion conflict in regard to war on a mass level. My ego swells and shrinks it is not so solid. My fear is also not solid. Staying in light and dark is a trap. Judgment, superiority, war are the result. I do not want to be a part of this. I will be studying and researching this stuff further. P.S. This is not a new trip for me, just something I have been asking for."

" I recently came across your information and very quickly realized just how intrinsically in-tune I was with the messages and also the Handbooks for the new paradigm. I have been on a long search for this very material and have come across other materials that only contain a small portion of the truth you represent, but have lead me ultimately to this present direction. I have known these things deep inside me since I was 9 years old but have not been able to put it into words or understand that I wasn't the one who was 'strange' or had 'weird ideas'. I have struggled hard with my inner feelings about the deeper meaning of life as it conflicted with the 'general view' and the indoctrination of the system - I always knew there was something 'very wrong' with this holographic 'reality' and couldn't quite put my finger on it. Thank you for allowing me to find you - your words are music to my ears and the message is so clear because I feel right at the core of me that you are putting into words what I always thought and felt."

" The truth of what you are presenting here is sinking in, and the longer I contemplate it, the clearer it becomes. Since first digesting this material a month ago, its been gestating within my consciousness and I am now seeing validation of its truth in my everyday life. Particularly in regards to dating and relationships, I have experienced all of the characteristics you lay out as the 'programming of the Orion DNA commands' in females firsthand, and its a pretty ugly scene. I have had continual friction with the opposite sex, particularly when it comes to ideology...If I am truthful about what I feel and see concerning trends such as 'feminism', the 'women's movement', the emerging totalitarian state, etc. I am ridiculed mercilessly as small minded and reactionary. Eventually, each potential relationship was thwarted by a decision by myself to be true to myself and stick to my values and what I know to be true. I have always valued freedom and wisdom above anything else. I am not an abrasive, bigoted 'chauvinistic' man. Quite the opposite."

"The material in Matrix V is at once shocking and ultimately freeing if you can let yourself go for the "reaction ride". I had some definite reaction to the " roughness" with which the author endeavored to communicate not only the truth about women and their programming, but also his very personal feelings about such. After letting all the reactions and arguments play out, I understood that it doesn't matter. The author is very concise at conveying his message, it's just a different frequency of communication. So after getting down to what is important, well, it's the information no matter how it is presented. I realized that if the burning bush is speaking truth then I want to listen, even if it is a little hot."

Hello Author,

Truthfully, my narrow minded/self-centered viewpoint caused me to fail to see the bigger picture and to attempt to use only my situation to generalize the description of mid-Advanced levels and below. I see better now, the need to be a good observer, and this is one more step to understanding that the whole progression thing is a process. It makes a lot of sense. The last segment was great for me. It was like information/understanding I needed but hadn't asked for. I must say that this is a cool game, looking at it from some of the points of view in M5G. Learn the hard way, get help if you're lucky/destined to... Thanks for all your help, both direct and indirect.

February 22 2004

To The Author and Val:

" I wanted to give thanks to both yourself and Val for M5G. In addition to this , the continued update of the materials with post publication and observation segments. Since my original reading of M5G in May 03 , my spiritual growth and perspective has accelerated at an exponential rate to the extent which I would not have been able to comprehend up to a month prior of the original reading. I am now through my 4th reading of the materials and re-reading all post publication and observation segments up until the present postings. I have bound these as companions to my copy of M5G which also assists in my studies of the materials.

My own experiences I would like to share with you since my original reading.

In a coordinated reply by both yourself and Val , via e-mail to me dated June 16 02 you stated that I would need to make some serious decisions on several levels. As you mentioned in this particular e-mail I would decide to dump my magazine project, which I have. I outlined in my final epilogue to readers that I was no longer interested in challenging and/or attempting to alter the game through Beachhead or any other means within my own personal experience. Obviously Beachhead was where I was at then and part of my journey. This particular e-mail in conjunction with M5G is the basis of me contacting you.

Shortly after my original reading of M5G I began to notice more sharply the polarities at work. This began in my own workplace. I [was] employed in a industry which was predominantly female and it was during these [first] few months [as I continued to read M5G and appreciated its sheer power] I observed the Orion DNA commands at work with regards to female dominance and male subservience. This sharpened my observation abilities being employed in such an industry. As time progressed and I studied the materials further , I immediately noticed I was being confronted with what you had discussed in several segments , as I was not subservient - being ignored , confronted for minor things , isolated and the like. Your segment "Changes In You" was one particular piece which I re-read many times over and helped me tremendously to understand the changes [rapidly] taking place within me.

In my meditations communing with my Higher Self as the months passed , I would speak and asked my Higher Self to open up a new opportunity for me to enter into as my interest working in this particular industry declined. I also needed a new challenge. Sure enough that particular opportunity arised just two weeks ago and I am now employed in a totally different industry , with a new challenge and the flexibility for my spiritual studies also [which I asked for]. Needless to say , since the incarnational connection has deepened even further my interest in work [as a whole] has also declined. I do understand this is a mainstay of the game , like paying rent , and is only temporary. I read in the Q&A section of M5G that other readers are also experiencing this.

In addition to this , I moved house and feel much healthier. I have deliberately cut off most of my family members. I can see how they attempt to pull you back into the game if you're no longer a party to their victimhood , imposing their guilt and general polarity plays. I am at the point now where I barely hear from any of them ["Changes In You" segment] - i.e. the phone hardly ever rings! [laugh]

The concept of Emotional Fire is amazing! In my meditations I have been working with my throat chakra and working to speak with spirit and without polarity interference. I've noticed over the last few months that is exactly what is taking place and I am becoming more and more forthright and upfront , which I find very empowering. In actually fact , you also have mentioned this in particular segments , when I am direct and use my emotions to work for me , how it actually shakes up other incarnations! As people have been conditioned to accept that others should only use fluffy lightside emotions!

A month prior to receiving M5G I got married. Since my readings and studies of the materials , my attraction towards women has declined profoundly. I now see marriage exactly for what it is as too breeding [I have one son] and together with my wife we have agreed that marrying each other was only done to please others. She is currently reading M5G [first time] and is absorbing all the information , including that surrounding the female dominance agenda. We had also decided that having one child was/is enough. That breeding was merely a body id consequence. It's interesting that when I tell people we're happy with one child and are not interested in breeding [for the empire] how they [the surrogates as you term them] try and pull you back into the game using guilt and so forth. The women I am married to , we talk openly with each other and have agreed that when the time comes for us to part we will do so. Our marriage is becoming more and more plutonic. Sex is becoming less frequent and frankly I am less and less interested. I prefer instead to meditate and focus on astral travel. We have both openly talked about homosexual attraction , to each other. For me , I am in holding. I note that if I am attracted to a male it is more spiritual than body id [few and far between]. For the moment , I am enjoying being where I am at.

The information on Dominant incarnations has helped me decipher some more notable dreams I was experiencing. Originally my [3] Dominant incarnations were phased out somewhat , but over time their appearances are becoming more and more clearer.

M5G is indeed THE wildcard. Thank you providing the keys. EndGame , bring it on!

As in the Roman Empire, they didn't care what deities you worshipped as long as you did worship. The variety of deities, headlined by 'the goddess' (read Orion queen), keeps your attention focused on the external and for external salvation. Never forget, the Game requires you to be your body, look for external salvation and that you are nothing without deity. In reality, once you do discover who you really are in your Final Incarnation, the Game has no power over you nor do those who play the Game, for you are ready to move beyond the Game and the Game's creators.

The New Age religions will not allow the discarding of individual genders. It's in their pantheons and ceremonies. These deities, like those of ALL religions, are to be worshipped, obeyed and pacified. To find your Real Self, you must move beyond all religions, for each religion is another trap. Each is a different cage for your spirit.

Pagan/New Age Deities
(Special Gold Edition Segment)

In several segments of Matrix 5, I refer to mainstream religious deities as having their roots in alien visitors. It is also necessary to know what applies to pagan/new age deities as well, especially since this is where the One World people would like to steer Earthers. I studied with the wiccans for several years in the 80's. It's an ancient religion generally based in striving for harmony with the planetary spirit, wrongly referred to as "mother" Earth. The planetary spirit is, like we are, both male AND female, so "mother" Earth is a misnomer and an Orion oriented term. This stems from the idea that 'we all came from the mother' which is a reference to us all coming from the Empire 'mother' or, more correctly, the reptilian queen as the genetic scientists told Ancient Earthers. To understand the true nature of spirit is reflected in the terms one uses. If you feel you need to whine/complain about that, you might as well close this book because you are not ready for Matrix 5 at this stage of your progression.

I have just read a Jan/Feb 03 editorial by a major wiccan female leader. In it she is all aflutter about certain wiccans who dare "think that they are stronger or wiser than a goddess". <GASP!> All deities of Earth are based on alien beings depending on the pantheon and type of aliens active at that place/time in Earth's history. It may be Greek, Egyptian, Celtic, Norse, Chinese, etc but they are still based on aliens who interacted with Earthers ages ago. The worship of these aliens continued via the priesthoods after they left the planet. Earthly followers, under priestly rule, prayed to images of what they believed were deities. In doing so, they created astral images of these gods/goddesses. It is the astral forms of these beings that continue to store the energies of their worshippers who are, in reality, their gods. This is due to the powerful incarnational spirits creating them in their minds. When a wiccan calls on the power of a god or goddess, they are tapping this energy which resides on Monroe level 25.

I have been to the Greek and pantheon on 25 as well as briefly to the Chinese. These astral creations look just like the worships believe them to look like. The Greeks are particularly impressive looking. Without continued input from worshippers, these astral constructs would eventually fade into free flowing energy. It's the will of the worshippers that gives them life and holds their form. So, to answer the question given by the wiccan leader, by one who knows the true nature of the deities, the answer is a resounding 'yes'. You ARE stronger than a god-ess since YOU are one of many who created that form. You ARE also wiser because the image cannot be more than what the energy of the creator-followers are.

The wiccan leader's admonition goes further and swoons at people in circles who "demand Their presence". Note the capital T in their. She urges her readers to "respectfully ask Them to observe". Note the capital T again. Capitalizing deities and the pronouns referring to them indicates superiority of them to you. Honor, like respect, is earned, not given. This is one reason why I never capitalize these astral creations' nouns/pronouns. If you defer to the astral creation, you are giving away your power to them. "Offer them the respect that is their due." Oops, she forgot to capitalize the T's in that sentence. The 'respect' that an astral creation is due is no more than the 'respect' that you would give any other creation you might make such as a sand castle, clay figure or stick figure.

When interacting with nature spirits, you should act differently than with the god-esses of religion. These beings are indeed real and part of the Earth planetary spirit. You don't command them, but may work with them if you are in certain new age religions and wicca. They are NOT deities but are on par with simultaneous incarnates in so far as they all are expressions of the planetary spirit. Working with these beings is common in certain lower through mid-Advanced levels. You will Advance beyond this stage, but it can assist certain Higher Self incarnations to remember/discover who they really are. This is the shamanic experience for those Higher Selves who choose it. The real Advancement comes from moving beyond the shamanic path after having immersed yourself in it.

This hat-in-hand approach that the wiccan leader wants to see is just another form of giving away your power to an external deity and meant to keep you from knowing who you really are. As long as some religious leader, both mainstream or not, can get you to give away your power to an external being or idea, you are not in a position to spiral out of the Game. Hence ALL religion is a dead end for simultaneously incarnating Higher Selves.

New Age Shamanism – "Power Animals"

On the American continents, the pursuit of 'animal spirit guides and guardians' is a drive of those who dabble and engage in shamanic practices. Americans, always looking for power over others in one form or another, prefer calling these animal spirits 'power animals'. Something to keep in mind - the seeking of power and control over others is the domain of the polarities BOTH Dark and Light. Genuine shamans do not have 'power animals', but will deal with animal spirits for specific guidance. If the shaman comes to look at the guide as superior and submits to the animal's will, balance is broken and power is given away.

There is a nationwide training in the exploration of certain demi-shamanic techniques. This series of courses is open to those who can pay. An important note: TRUE shamanism can NEVER be bought. My main shamanic teacher had me attend one of this group's basic teaching weekends in the late 80's. I had a few years of genuine shamanic training at this time. I was taken back by how the participants were instructed into ignoring all safeguards and invading the animal spirit realm without regard for their safety or any concern other than finding a 'power animal'. I will not go into further detail on this as it is only for properly instructed shaman apprentices. Animal group soul incarnates who become animal subservient shamans are another story.

During the weekend, the participants were told to 'become their animal'. They formed a large circle and acted as their animal spirit. This is one way of inviting animal spirit possession of the human. The animal they opened themselves up to was the one they brought back from the animal spirit realm.

This animal realm is comparable to a generally pleasant level found on a Monroe focus level. There are lots of woods, plains, waters and other areas. This is not in the location of Monroe upper levels, the levels of the Higher Self incarnations. This animal spirit realm resides parallel to the planetary spirit location where Earth's Spirit can be found.

Something to consider...does this make the planetary spirit the Group Soul of the nature realm on the planet shim resides in and the 3rd density incarnations in everything from rock to air are shim's individual incarnations? It will make you look at certain things differently.

The animal spirit realm should never be barged into like a bunch of American tourists with superiority complexes. A respect for the incarnational path of nature must be developed, and it is in Advanced incarnations. This doesn't mean living off air and water, but it certainly isn't killing the buffalo as they did in the 1800's. You will get input from the real you, your Higher Self, as you mature.

Bursting into the animal spirit realm is done by Dark, immature and, many times, otherwise well-intending people. Remember the old adage: the road to hell is paved with good intentions. In this case, the 'good intentions' are centered around 'what can these spirits do for me'. It's also part of giving AWAY your power. The Higher Self is about regaining all personal power, not giving it away to animal guides/guardians or humans or aliens.

Once you realize this, you no longer need these externals. I know shamans who say all they do is done because of their animal associations. If the animals are doing it all, why are they there? The Higher Self shaman is to learn that they need no animals. The Higher Self has the ability to do all. THAT is what you will learn. Have respect and balanced compassion for the creatures of Earth, but realize they have their experiences and roles to play on the planet.

To Men Who Want To Open Their Heart Chakra

Last weekend I was asked how a male can obtain an open heart chakra for himself. This is easy in a female incarnation, but not so for a male until he's reached at least mid-Advanced levels. Therefore, I am writing this with them in mind.

Your Higher Self is ultimately to decide when and in which incarnations will the powerful heart chakra be opened. When the heart chakra is opened, emotions flow freely. In a female body, the lesson to learn is to control these emotions so they do not rule you. In males, the control is usually there, but there is a fear (especially in males considering themselves heterosexual) of their female energies. "I'm a guy. I don't have female energy", they may say. In that case, he is NOT ready to try the steps below. Remember, outside of the incarnation, we are all BOTH male AND female balanced in one.

There are certain pre-requisites that you guys must meet before your heart chakra will be opened (by your Higher Self). It usually helps if you are in a gay incarnation, but it can be done by any orientation IF the spirit is strong/Advanced enough to overrule the body. Also, sage smudging will greatly assist you in clearing your auric field as will massage help in stimulating the chakra areas. If you have a trusted friend or one with his heart chakra opened, they can assist you greatly if only just to listen and advise you.

First - You must come to UNDERSTAND that you have both male AND female energies regardless of incarnational physical body.

Second - You must RECOGNIZE what these male AND female energies are, especially in regard to your current incarnation.

Third - You must EMBRACE, in your case, your female energies and bring them into balance with your male energies. This is not the Balance I've talked about in M5, but rather a balance AND expression of male/female energies.

Fourth - You must DEMONSTRATE to yourself that you understand, recognize and embrace your female side. This is primarily done by the rejection of the fears that keep you from doing the first 3 steps. You demonstrate this by living what you've learned.

Fifth - Once you are comfortable and have demonstrated this energy balance, THEN can you SEEK the opening of the heart chakra.

Remember, you can only try and fool yourself (incarnation) but you cannot fool your Higher Self who is watching your progress nor anyone else who has this chakra properly opened. When the heart chakra is connected, your emotional flood gates will open wide and all repressed/restrained emotion will come pouring out in tears at first, but this will subside once expressed sufficiently. You will find this, if you achieve it, to be one of the most liberating events you will face in that incarnation. Psychic abilities tend to increase and the connection to your Higher Self is far stronger. It is cleansing, fulfilling, rewarding and most amazing.

The Effect of "Surrounding With White Light"

"Place the white light around you for protection" says the "love & lighter". As I've said before, white light does NOT protect anyone. Since that's the case, why is this false phrase so commonly used? It is the chess game between Dark and Light played in third density and the incarnations are the playing pieces. Just as in chess, there are 2 colors. In this case, black and white. In order for you to play in their game, you must choose a side. Surrounding yourself with white light identifies you, on the astral, as a Light side player. Surrounding yourself with black light identifies you as a Dark side player. These auras are used so that the polarities know who their allies and enemies are and will act accordingly. Protective? Not at all. If anything, using a polarity light will encourage attacks by the opposing side since it radiates like a beacon in the astral. The polarities are constantly recruiting new members and members have been known to change sides. It's all a game.

So, enter gold light. Gold light will nullify BOTH white and black light. It's interesting that when the Light polarity attacks, their offensive astral creations become black. This is because black is the color of polarity attack. So, when a Light attacks a Dark, Dark will absorb the attack and it increases Dark's power. It is a myth that Light creates light astral weaponry. Light is masochistic, turn the other cheek stuff. Dark is sadistic, aggressive and accepts the turned cheek as something not yet attacked. As a shaman, I've removed and dealt with both polarities and have seen only black-colored weaponry. No such thing as white-colored weaponry except in Light myths.

Gold light will instantly dissolve black and is a bane to BOTH Dark and Light. The polarities wish Balance would go elsewhere. In the historical FICTION known as the bible, it says Balance is rejected by the polarities with cautions against non-participants in the Game. This is pure bullshit. Polarities fear Balance because they know that both Dark and Light will eventually be absorbed into Balance with is a blending of the polarities NOT in yin/yang but in gray.

So, cover yourself in white or black light IF you still wish to play the living chess game. We've all done it at different stages of our incarnations. Eventually you mature in experiences to see the polarities for what they are and will no longer play the games (as much as possible to exist in current Earth). This should give all of you lots to think about.

More on White Light

"Cover yourself in white light. It'll protect you." Variations of these phrases are used by many. It's time to reveal the fallacy of white light. Both polarities use light. Dark uses black light. Light uses white light. The lights are visible on the astral. They also serve as ID badges. Dark workers seek out those who surround themselves in white light. It is these who they will go after. WHITE LIGHT WILL NOT PROTECT YOU FROM ANYTHING. Using white light will just identify you as a Light polarity worker, a masochist for the sadistic Dark polarity; a victim for the victimizer; a cheek-turner for those who love to slap cheeks! White light is the beacon that draws Dark to you!

White light serves NO other purpose. Since this is the case, you have to look at all those who tell their followers to surround themselves in white light. Yes, there are those who are well meaning and believe it to be true. There are also those who are agents of Dark and want to identify those who innocently cover themselves in non-protective white light. Dark can be very insidious, very deceptive. That 'cover yourself in white light' gets so much publicity should also warn you since Earth is under Dark control.

Energy Colors

Do you notice how green and red colored energies (encased in black or white) are the primarily used colors in attacks? Green is the color of the solar plexus chakra, the seat of attack/defense. Red is the color of the sexual chakra, the seat of creating energy. When you are attacked, it is the solar plexus chakra that is the recipient of the attack as well as where energy is sent from to attack another.

The feeling in the 'pit of your stomach' when someone does you wrong is the solar plexus chakra slamming shut in defense of an anticipated attack. This is the physical manifestation of an action by your spirit self.

Dark and Light both uses lower energies when attacking. The glowing green figure of a Dark one on the cover of a book aptly shows the summoning of the solar plexus energies. This is commonly shown in fantasy based movies as well. However, when Dark attacks, they also use the red sexual energy to create the attack which can look as red-enhanced green beams or any variety thereof. Many/most times this energy is sheathed in black, the calling card color of Dark. When it is sheathed in white, it is the calling card of Light. These are signature energies.

Light likes to wrap itself in blue energy, the color of devotion. It doesn't mean devotion to something specific, just devotion. It is just as easily used by Dark in their devotions. One is white-coated blue, the other is black coated blue, but blue nevertheless. White likes to claim blue as one of its colors. This is a propaganda lie, but Dark doesn't like to tip its hand unless necessary. Blue glowing figures are generally used for Light-siders. This is also propaganda as Dark can glow blue as well in proper instances.

Red, green and black are common Dark portrayals while blue and white are common Light portrayals. Just remember that both polarities use propaganda for creating an image they desire. Light lies just like Dark, but Light gets highly indignant when you call them on it, the nature of Light.

As stated many times before, the gold energy will deflect or disperse these depending on how much energy you put into your defenses. The more you develop, the stronger potential you have in defending yourself. White does NOT deflect black nor does black deflect white. Rather they attract each other and feed each other. Black needs white and white needs black. If you surround yourself with black or white, you WILL attract the other polarity. If you surround yourself with gold, they tend to look elsewhere in the attack mode.

A Bit More on Blue

Again, blue is simple the color of devotion. The who or what the devotion represents is another question. It is a favorite of Dark because Light has the PUBLIC reputation of using blue, so 99% of those who see it think of 'good' and the Light side. This is a Dark deception. The color of the UN flag is blue, UN helmets are blue ... but their devotion? Well, I think you all know.

Dark also won't hesitate to use white if it suits them. Dark is very opportunistic. If you check below their use of white, it is pure black. Remember the wolf in sheep's clothing fable. This is discernable by those who KNOW. Although they can use 3rd dimension white, it cannot disguise their aura! It only fools 3rd density eyes and minds.

With the Israeli flag, the Star of 'David' is composed of 2 triangles, one point up and the other, point down. According to Morning Sky, the Orion reptilians use the up pointed triangle to indicate their genetic scientists and the down pointed triangle for their military. Put them together and you have the Star of 'David', the emblem of the united military and sciences of Orion. The 'god' of the bible is actually the reptilian Orion queen. The white on the Israeli flag is the sheep's clothing. Take it from there.

Observations: More Data On Colors - The Latest Diversion

David Icke's latest 'thing', on his web site, was turquoise. It seems he will be in a turquoise 'outfit' (see his comments on his site) since he believes, based on one 'scientist' that turquoise is the color of the universe. <sigh> The physical/3rd density matters that Earther humans get caught up in are all pretty much guaranteed to take one AWAY from knowing who they really are. This, of course, is part of the non-Earther Higher Selves plan in the Game.

From Icke's site: "I cured my male cat of debilitating feline urological syndrome with turquoise, the colour of the 5th chakra, and the centre of communication energies."

That comment is from a Canadian 'meta-physicist'. Turquoise is NOT the color of the 5th (throat) chakra. What would have been correct for him to say was that he used turquoise color energies through his cat's 'throat chakra'. ANY color can be used on any chakra for specific events. Just because he used that color successfully, in this one case, does NOT mean what he claims. The true color of the 5th chakra is deep blue. This guy used a combination of blue & green (turquoise). It's the green that is the healing color while the blue is calming. Also, Icke is placing TOO much emphasis on clothing color. 'You attract what you wear' has some validity. If you're wearing a t-shirt with Jerry Garcia on it, you will likely attract other Deadheads. When I wear the Matrix 5 t-shirt with the book cover on it, I'm looking to attract others who might recognize it.

Wearing colors, though, is strictly a personal decision and, in most cases, does NOT have cosmic implications! You wear what you tend to look good in. Pink is the color of love/affection in higher densities, but yet a lot of shrews wear pink on Earth and they exemplify control/domination of men. The color has NO effect on them. Many hard core Lightsiders wear all white. That's a joke. Remember, too, what I wrote about surrounding yourself in white light. Wear what you like and whenever you like. Resist getting caught up in color identities in regard to clothing. Black is a flattering color in clothing. It does not mean you favor the Dark side just as pink doesn't mean you're a loving person! Green is the color of conformity, but can also be used for healing, depending on intent...and so on.

More On The Nature Of GOLD Light
(Special Gold Edition Segment)

Earlier, I discussed the use of gold light in a protective shell around yourself as well as other defensive uses for this color. I suggest you reread those sections to renew your awareness of that topic.

Gold light has other uses far more potent than protection and defense. Gold light is the color of creation/creating. Today I took a classical cd and thought I had taken one title, but wound up with a different one (my Higher Self in action). While playing this in my car, I was given a rote of information on gold light that I wasn't consciously aware of before. This came complete with visions and powerful emotional vibrations. Things like this have happened to me before when driving. I know that I won't run up a pole or similar as my Higher Self will control the vehicle during one of these download phases. As a side note, my most Dominant of my Dominant incarnation trio decided to appear to me, while I was zipping down an Interstate road, to convey information I needed about my China trip of last April. It IS most interesting in the Awakened Final Incarnation phases.

The cd I am listening to in my car is Tchaikovsky's Swan Lake recorded in 1963 by Arthur Fiedler and the Boston Pops Orchestra. I know that there is some potent knowledge purposely hidden in some of the classics. This knowledge was instilled by Higher Self Very Advanced and higher incarnations of the time for use by those needing it NOW. The keys are musical in nature and will react with you according to your level of Advancement and the time set by your Higher Self. This Swan Lake is ONE of these compositions.

While I was enjoying the music, the rote of Gold Light information descended on me in a swell of energy. I saw swirling, crisscrossing gold energy being use to actually create what the Higher Selves and the highest density inhabitants desire just by will. Again, as with previous highly Advanced subjects, English is very poor in giving me ways to describe what I can see. I'm glad that once we are done with 3rd density, the limitations of verbal languages are left behind.

The pure energy of Higher Self thought IS gold light in appearance when used to create. Light is used by these beings for so much, as is sound. ANYTHING can be cured on the 3rd density level through the use of light and of sound. Remember, everything you have seen and heard is forever imprinted in your Higher Self. I can think of the exact sounds of that section of Swan Lake and the sound is as rich as listening to it on a Bose sound system.

These sounds and colors are needed in higher densities for matters that you will learn when your Higher Self has determined it is necessary for you. Once you have graduated 3rd density on the Earther fast track, you will have the awareness of this and will build on it in higher densities. Something absolutely amazing awaits. I have only been given a glimpse of it and it is more powerful that could be contained within a human physical. It is pure spirit, uncontaminated by polarities. Gold light is the energy of pure Balance. This is why gold light has a repelling effect on both Dark and Light energies. United it stands (gold), divided it falls (polarity). Gold light energy - search this out in the Library on 27 when you are able to do so. Even more information on gold light is contained within your Higher Self. Earther planetary controllers are using 'fear' on Earth to manipulate Earthers and attempt to close down your reception of information such as this. Your Higher Self WILL prevail, though. Keep moving forward and spiral out of the Game.

Spiritual Healing

This past weekend I attended a seminar where I heard a friend of mine, a Reiki master, give a workshop on Reiki healing. She made a point, more than once, of saying that the healing does not come from her, but from the 'universe'. We've all heard spiritual healers deny that they are anything more than a channel for the healing energy. It's always from another external source.

It is time to end that once and for all. The 'universal' energy that the Reiki master was talking about is nothing less (nor else) than her own Higher Self. The healing energy does not come from the incarnation's physical, true, but it comes from the spirit connection animating the incarnation. Each one of the energy streams originating from the Higher Self (see Matrix V cover), is an extension of the Higher Self with all the abilities shim has. The progression of incarnations is rediscovering who you really are and reclaiming your powers. Healing is one of your natural abilities.

You are taught by The Game that you are nothing and that an external deity is who you owe all to. THIS IS A LIE. While spiritual healers try the Light polarity blurbs of 'it's not me, it's the universe/'god'/jesus' or anything external, they deny who they are. This applies even through the Very Advanced stages who just haven't clicked with their own Higher Self. This may not settle fully with you until you are a Final Incarnation or one of your Dominants. The healing ability is from you and no other source!

During this weekend, I also gave a lecture on my materials (first time) and I was asked who deity is. I described the formation of popularly conceived deities (pagan pantheons,

MATRIX V: The Gold Edition
Quest of the Spirit – The Ultimate Frontier

© 2000-2003 Leading Edge International Research Group. All Rights Reserved.

christian pantheons, etc) that are found on Monroe Level 25. These deities are created by the wills of those who worship an image they form in their minds. These 'deities' exist ONLY because they are given life by developing Higher Selves.

The next question was, then who is THE deity. The answer is YOU are your own deity. That is insinuated in my materials. It is a MAJOR step for you to consciously come to this realization. The Game would call this a prime 'sin' to dare think that you are better/more than 'god'. They do NOT want you to know who you are. Once you have advanced enough through experience, you come to the realization and your abilities will manifest. Confidence in and reclaiming of your power are essential. If you still defer to others and their flawed opinions/controls, you cannot reach the top of your mountain on 3rd density Earth. Fortunately, ALL Higher Selves will eventually reclaim their power and the polarities will be overcome. For now, just remember and consider that you must do away with the Light polarity's false humility. It is the healer who is healing. The healings become MUCH more potent when you realize and KNOW that this comes from you. You cannot reach your full potential as a healer until you do.

One other situation to keep in mind as a healer: Each Higher Self has their own Path and will stick with it. This is why the true healer will know they cannot alter another Higher Self's chosen destiny. You cannot heal someone if it runs contrary to that person's Higher Self's Plan. You can ease their passing, but not thwart the other's road. This is why no shaman, healer, etc can stop what that person's Higher Self requires even if the incarnation is not advanced enough to know it. There is much to consider in this section and, as usual, much more to this. The seeds are here for your success.

Revelation: Percentage of Brain Use

This is something the mediator was saying on his site (Andromedan Discussion Group):

"As a reminder, the Andromedans are thousands of years in advance to us and our science and understanding. As a reminder, in their reality they use 80+ % of their brain capability to our 15-%. And yet we are their equals. Now does that not ring a bell of truth."

Comment: Notice how he worships "science" and believes it goes hand in hand with "understanding". They do not. The more you rely on 'science & technology', the less you rely on spirituality. This is giving away one's power to 'science & technology'. True higher beings don't need or use ships to travel in or technology to do things. His statements also go to encourage the state of awe over aliens, which serves their faction of The Game. Remember external deities of any sort! Also, we are NOT the equals of the aliens, except at mid level incarnation or lower Advanced stages. Once into the VERY Advanced stages, you have spiritually progressed beyond their levels! The 'we are all equal' horse shit is part of the alien manipulation to keep you focused on THEM (external deities).

This percentage of brain use is another flawed statement. IF you don't use something over hundreds of thousands of years, it will atrophy and shrivel up. IF Earther humans were only using a minor percentage of our brain, it would not be the size it is. The human brain would be undergoing a series of shrinkages. It has not. I don't know which alien group started that line of shit, but it seems to have strongly taken root here. Even the interesting focus level 24 film, Defending Your Life, harps on percentage of brain usage despite the fact that all the people there are dead and have NO brain! The likelihood is that the aliens want to maintain a superiority position based on technology alone.

Unfortunately, the alien genetic scientists, when they created separate genders here, made sure that the original DNA commands we had, that could CONSCIOUSLY use the brain to its fullest, were cut up and made unusable. This means that while the incarnating spirit CAN (and DOES, depending on level of progression) make use of the full brain function, the body cannot unless the spirit has matured enough to override the damaged DNA commands. This occurs in genuine psychics and similar sensitives. This is a bit difficult to explain, but you will understand it when you are ready. Take heart as there are LOADS of lies & half truths about Earther Higher Self incarnations that those on the other side of The Game do NOT want you to be consciously aware of because IF you do become aware of them, you will win The Game by finding the escape hatches set into The Game just for this purpose.

Touch Therapies & Minor Melding

Chiropractic and massage therapies are two prominent healing methods where it is necessary for the practitioner to touch/manipulate the recipient. Both can do wonders for the physical body which thrives with physical contact. I regularly visit both practitioners and mine are also male (like energy to like energy). The chiropractor adjusts the spine for optimum benefit. The massage therapist stimulates the muscles to move blood and release built up toxins. I do strongly recommend both therapies.

Now to look at both therapies from another standpoint. Both practitioners must get into the auric fields of the recipient. You should talk with the potential practitioner before you have him/her work on you. Note your intuition on the person.

Once you allow someone into your auric field, you open yourself up. There are Darksiders out there who can and will steal your energies/soul pieces. I have run into these types on the astral when doing shamanic work.

Also, if you are male, my advice is to avoid female practitioners due to their inherent succubistic nature and the draining of male energies. They could be the nicest female you've ever met, but the energy draining ability is still there even if she is not consciously aware of it. My massage practitioner says that he's talked with some males who say they 'just couldn't have some guy massaging' them. In this case, that male will run to the female. Males, of these lower levels, are reacting from a body controlled position and need the experience of having their energies drained. You have to go through hell to realize this and break the accompanying experiential loop. These male bodies still don't have Advanced enough spirits to break this Game loop. While I do understand this level of person, they are far from being ready for the bulk of Matrix 5 materials at this time.

Females will receive optimum benefits with massage and chiropractic, like males, if they have the services of a spirit driven(same gender) practitioner rather than spirit dragged (opposite gender) practitioner. If the females HAVE to have a male practitioner, it's the body, like a vampire, demanding to drain a male's energy (alien DNA command). If a male HAS to have a female practitioner, he's obeying his alien DNA command to allow himself to be drained by the succubistic female. Again, of course we all must pass through this segment of the Game to come to this realization. If you feel you have to have the opposite gender, you should not be reading the Matrix 5 materials. Remember who these materials are written for and how you are just upsetting yourself by reading what you are not yet Advanced enough for at this time.

I am also trained in massage therapy. I have given massages to former male friends (who are body ruled). My specialty involves clearing the chakras during the massage and the session lasts at least 1 hour. When I do that, I'm able to touch the receiver's spirit and give him a boost. Unfortunately, when the spirit isn't strong enough to take control from the body, the DNA commands' alarm systems go off and run into overdrive to suppress the spirit's control very soon after the session. This massage does not involve sex at all, but rather the body's DNA commands react to me connecting to the spirit and attempting to upgrade the spirit's progression. The person's Higher Self wanted my work done and was able to suppress the body long enough to receive it. Even if the body re-exerts control, I have already assisted the spirit in awakening. I've offered to teach this technique to 4 different men and all 4 refused my offer. THAT tells me where they are not yet for the right ones would jump at the chance to learn these techniques.

Here's a MAJOR factor in body related work: IF the practitioner has an emotional tie to you, such as friend, the benefit to you is doubled. It becomes not only physical, but also spiritual. A woman can do wonders for her female friends as a man can do wonders for his male friends. The problem, especially with het males, IS being het and all the negative baggage that brings. However, when you progress far enough, you start dropping this baggage and opening yourself to higher opportunities. Where that leads you is something you all will eventually discover as your spiraling out of the Game continue.

Another type of touch therapy people engage in is sex. IF it is sex JUST for sex, it is of the body and not of the spirit. So many people have sex with no emotional ties to the other person that the sex is empty and unfulfilling. Yes, you satisfied a physical need but by ignoring the equally important spiritual need, you are wanting for more and seem to always be looking for that elusive 'perfect' partner. This is an old alien DNA command - one of the oldest - sex for sex. While sex for sex is usually interesting for someone just discovering it, sex for sex alone can rapidly leave the spirit craving what him's NOT getting and that's spiritual energy compatibility. When you combine the physical with the spiritual AND both are moving in the similar Path directions, you have a relationship that will grow and enhance each other. This is a rare gem in the world today, but one that can be realized. The two people would be of the same gender and a similar level of spiritual maturity. It cannot work if they are opposite genders due to the Game's warped influence and the female draining the male's energies. Parasitic relationships cannot work. I have written quite a bit on this topic already.

When two people of the same gender and similar spiritual levels form a partnership, you have a minor melding of spirits that is like a temporary melding of two Higher Self spirits. Since both physical bodies are the same polarity, both spirits are moving to higher vibrations, input from two Higher Selves can manifest easier on 3rd density Earth. THIS is something the Game absolutely cringes against. These two people will Advance rapidly while paired.

These insights will give you some ideas about touch therapies and types of escapes from the Game. You should NOT get into a relationship JUST to be in a relationship. I would never get involved in the Husband-Of-The-Month club (yes, husband is a gay spelling of the het term). That is still a body orientation. Hets can belong to the Marriage-Of-The-Year club and recycle spouses just as easily. I've never been in a relationship because I wouldn't even consider it with a guy who is not moving on a similar path, and, at my stage, that's a hard one to find. As usual, there is a lot for those ready for this material to think about. Needless to say, there is more that could be said as well.

[Ed.- See also the segment The Vibration of Affection]

Minor Melding II – Part II

In my previous segment, I briefly touched on the subject of minor melding. Melding is a term used to indicate a blending of 2 spirit entities' energies. Prime Melding happens when your Final Incarnation recalls all of shim's incarnations to the Higher Self and then moves to the next level of progression. Minor meldings are temporary in nature. They can occur when two unobstructed spirits join to work together when progressing on similar paths. Unobstructed minor meldings can only occur between same gender physical bodies. The Game has warped this by introducing opposite gender marriages. The sequential, alien DNA scientists knew the effect of electrical polarity opposites coming together and that it shorts out true spiritual progression. I have explained this in earlier segments.

Minor meldings were the standard back when Ancient Earthers populated the planet. The Game put an end to that and created a situation where those desiring the simultaneous incarnational path could rapidly progress despite all the Game would throw at them including hostile genders and polarities. Minor meldings DO include physical intensities. Sex, tenderness, touch and physical affection are expressions for the exchange of energies in 3rd density. If someone (same gender) says they are your friend or 'best' friend and then they say something like: 'I hate when you touch me' or 'you're always so touchy-feely', they aren't really your friend on the level that you need one for minor melding and it's time to move on. This demonstrates incompatibility of paths. You are wasting your time with this one. If your intention is to 'save' or 'change' the person, then you are on a polarity binge.

Genuine minor meldings are not all that common today, unfortunately. This is partially due to the individuality of Higher Self paths and the scattering of all incarnational levels over a wide period of Earthly 'time'. This adds to the challenge. To be successful in minor melding, here's some things to consider:

*Opposites never attract. An example: I met this guy where there was instant physical attraction. After talking with him, I found we had nothing in common and I told him it was no use continuing the discussion. He said, 'but opposites attract'. That is a Game lie and at my Final stage, I cannot be swayed by those terms AND I wasn't looking for a fling. For my level, flings are SO unfulfilling.

*Paths must be similar. You can't successfully mix a dead common, mid level incarnate with a Very Advanced incarnate, a Dominant Incarnation with a low incarnation or any other such glaringly different paths. Someone who is a religious adherent will do poorly with someone who has moved beyond religion. If you are into the psychic areas, you will not do yourself any favor by moving in with a christian fundamentalist. Each one, in that case, would spend time trying to convert the other and stir controversy. This is pure body ID even if both are the same gender. Horoscopes are excellent indications of path for that incarnation and compatibilities do show there.

MATRIX V: The Gold Edition
Quest of the Spirit – The Ultimate Frontier

© 2000-2003 Leading Edge International Research Group. All Rights Reserved.

*Spiritual compatibility is the second, but also equally important consideration. The same gender indicates physical compatibility. You must have the spiritual compatibility to go with it for minor melding success. Spiritual compatibility involves working together. The idea of changing the other person (standard thought form with women who constantly try to change the man they sink their fangs into) is doomed to failure and is very polaric and indicates control/dominance issues. This shows they are not on a similar path.

SOME minor melding blend combinations that may (stress on 'may') work are two Final Incarnations, a Final Incarnation and a Very Advanced, two mid-Advanced levels, two mid level incarnations, and two low level incarnations. If you are in the Very Advanced and higher levels, you have to be careful not to saddle yourself with a spiritual dependent. Remember, growth should be assisting each other, not one following the other.

You could go through many periods without a minor melding partner. It is a hallmark of your Progression if you don't partner yourself with someone just to say you are in a relationship. The key is compatible/balanced relationship. I have yet to have a relationship in this current incarnation and would only consider such with another man who is moving along a similar path. If it doesn't happen for me, then it's not meant to.

Minor meldings do occur far easier on the astral plane due to no physical body/genders, but levels of Advancement still hold true. Also, polarities do exist on the astral and next few density levels, thus you will have to deal with that. There are still beings who will try to 'save' or to control you in the next few higher densities. Robert Monroe ran into some of them and some of his stories about these encounters appear in his trilogy. All your problems do not end with the conclusion of 3rd density incarnations. There will be other situations to deal with. Meldings, both Prime and minor, will continue beyond 3rd density Earth.

Observations: Feng Shui & Yin/Yang

I'm reading Essential Feng Shui by Lillian Too. On pg 48, she mentions 'The Attributes of yin and yang':

Yin is DARK, stillness, LIFELESSNESS, and DEATH.
Yin is the moon, the night time hours, the negative.
Yin is the cold, it is the valley, and STAGNANT WATER.
Yin is the FEMALE, passive, weak, soft and yielding.
Yang is LIGHT, brightness, sunlight and the sun.
Yang is activity, sounds, fire, strength, determination.
Yang is movement, LIFE, raised landforms, mountains, the dragon.
Yang is the MALE, dominant, hard, warm, heat.

She correctly says 'summer, which is YANG, gives way to winter, which is YIN' and 'YANG energy is vibrant and alive with life. What Lillian Too says is almost the same as what I've said in Matrix 5. Life is male and death is female (love the stagnant water addition). So why do people insist on calling 'Mother' Nature and winter 'Old Man'??? Life, living and bounty are MALE. If anything, it should be 'Old Woman' winter and I've already made comments on insulting the Earth planetary spirit by calling him 'female'. While it's nice to see that feng shui orientals do understand yin and yang, they can't comprehend the two joining into Balance, but that's part of the Game. They talk about the 'eternal' yin/yang and other Game crap like that. This is one way the Game tries to defeat the Higher Self incarnates by drilling into them 'you can't win'. Of course that's based on deceptions and outright lies. Feng shui is excellent material and I've adapted it in my home. One thing to know though, it is NOT a cure all. I know 2 totally incompatible people who hired a feng shui person to go through the house. All the feng shui in the universe won't make these 2 compatible. For that you deal with astrology.

Feng shui will be able to assist with home/work energy flows, but cannot overcome astrological clashes. Feng shui practitioners can optimize environment but they still can't make gold out of shit! They say how feng shui is used all over Asia and that's true, BUT how many rich, singing from sunrise to sunset people are there in Asia and how many are just scratching to get by. Know feng shui as an enhancer that it can be BUT it will not make someone slated for a low income life suddenly become rich. Remember, it's the Higher Self's Plan that is in motion and that cannot be circumvented.

The Myth of Angels

The statement that the material I've written is for Dominant and Final Incarnations does not deter some people from responding with comments that are pure horseshit. One such comment was that we feed energy to angels and divas who, in turn, grant your wishes. Can you believe someone actually said that with a straight face?! I also saw in the local free paper, in the classifieds, that some believer in the mary myth had this prayer to her followed by instructions that if you pray this 3 times, say Heil (my word) marys AND publish this crap, your WISH will be granted. They're always looking for a genie.

Angels are mythological creatures created by those who perpetuate the mythological pantheon of Jesus, Mary, 12 apostles and so on. The Christian mythology is no more valid, and probably less valid, than Celtic, Norse, Greek and other mythologies. However these older mythologies are primarily based on aliens, especially the Egyptian pantheon where Isis is based on the reptilian genetic scientist who was primarily responsible for splitting Earth humans into 2 genders.

Because Monroe level 25 is loaded with all kinds of belief systems and humans have chosen to believe in the false religion of Christianity, you can find 'angels' on level 25. These have been created by human thought. They cannot exist without human thought feeding them. If people stopped believing that they exist, they will fade away and their binding energy will return to an unformed state. As long as people continue to feed them and give their power away to them, they will be there on 25 waiting to order you about. Sedona, Arizona is crawling with angel pushers. Someone to take care of you. Someone to SAVE you. Someone to keep you from finding out who you really are is much more like it. The infection of angel control has dramatically increased since the mid-80's. I saw a Christmas tree in Burlington, Vermont that was covered in wing-flapping angels. A friend with me seeing that said, "Get a fly swatter".

Final Incarnations will see angels for what they really are - myth. As for devas, they're part of the nature spirit stream of progression and are quite advanced. Devas pay little, if any, attention to those in the Higher Self progression. Those in awareness (VERY Advanced and Final Incarnations) do likewise to them. We do interact, to a certain degree with low level nature spirits, especially earth spirits who are very curious. But other than respecting and admiring what they do (with plant growths), we let them do their own things.

I have been asked about the nature spirit line of progression and it just isn't our concern at the 3rd density level. Eventually, higher up, you will learn much more about them, but that is for a later stage in your progression.

Revelation: 'Ascended Masters'

We have all heard of the so-called 'Ascended Masters' and many of us know the names of these alleged beings. The Game, through the polarities and sequential incarnates, warps what is to create dead ends and false paths to prevent or, at least, retard spiraling out of the Game. 'Ascended Masters' is one of them.

When an Earther Higher Self completes the incarnational cycle, reintegrates all shim's 3rd density incarnations and move up (ascends) to the next level, THAT Higher Self becomes an Ascended Entity. That is the basis for the lie known as 'Ascended Masters'. As with all 'masters', slaves/followers are required. This means giving away of one's power to an external. This is pure Game. Part of your spiral out is to recognize these various lures, to give away your power/control of self, for what they are. There is one site I've looked at that has drawings of these polarity/alien creations called 'Ascended Masters'. One thing I've noticed on all of them was the sinister look in their eyes. You have no need of ANY kind of 'master'.

Once a Higher Self has won the Game, shim no longer needs to be involved in it. There are many new experiences to have. If a being is involved in the Game, it's because that being's Higher Self is still engaged in the learning process in 3rd density. The deception comes when an incarnation tries to control others with the 'one way' that they all seem to offer. If anyone offers a 'one way' as the only way, it's time to move on since each Higher Self progresses differently and uniquely.

If you've read 'Ascended Master' material, it's loaded primarily with Light-sider unconditional love bullshit and the desire to shepherd you to their tune. If there were no sheep, there would be no shepherds. They are searching for sheep! Being aware of this should assist you in avoiding the 'Ascended Master' detours. Of course if your Higher Self requires such a detour, then off you go and experience. After your experience you will also know who they are and are not.

Revelation: 'Ascended Masters' - Part II

As with all other religions, the New Age religion, intended to be the planetary religion upon One World completion, needs a pantheon of deities. The so-called 'ascended masters' are the foundation of this pantheon. They already have kuthumi, buddah, jesus, mary and more. Diana will be another they intend to add. What they choose will appeal to various areas of the world. If you have researched the 'ascended masters' pantheon, you can see the development of the religion. You will find they need and will present both god and goddess figures to keep the true nature of the spirit in denial. Pantheons tend to have 12 major deities and a host of minor ones, such as catholic gods/goddesses known as saints. The New Age religion will likely have this as well.

This New Age pantheon will gain increasingly more exposure, especially with the assaults on the catholic, protestant, muslim and hindu religions in today's press. This is being done on purpose to try to disillusion the members of these religions. The catholics and muslims are undergoing the heaviest attacks. Even though people think it's justified, it is being orchestrated with the New Age religion to fill an eventual vacuum. Remember that these established religions were originally created as control devices based on fantasy and legends. Their time is almost over, having served their purposes. Now it's time for a new control device in religion.

When you examine what is happening in the news, you must dig deeper than the surface story. Priests have sex with teenagers. Muslims are terrorists. These buzzword headlines are meant to push the buttons of the unaware. There is nothing new in these headlines, but that they are being given so much publicity now means they are needed to play a role in the continuing subversion of Earth. I advise you not to dance to their tune, but to examine and dig deeper if you are interested in why.

Since the core of these headlines is religion, that's where you need to look. Here comes slithering in a new religion headed by a variety of New Age icons called 'ascended masters'. Can you see where this is intended to go?

Revelation: Akashic Records
(Special Gold Edition Segment)

The legend is that the "Akashic Records" are the total event histories of the 3rd density and much more. The term "Akashic Records" comes from Asia and, as usual with religion, has a mystical glow about it meant to keep the believer a bit off balance. What really are the "Akashic Records"? In reality, this term refers to the collective knowledge that is contained within EACH Higher Self. When someone says they want to access the Akashic Records, they would actually go within themselves to attempt to tap into their Higher Self's vast knowledge banks.

With religion, as usual, they talk about looking for the Akashic Records as one would look for the Library on Monroe Level 27. Some have believed the Library to be the Akashic Records. It is not. The Library is an extension of the Higher Self knowledge banks. It contains only a fraction of the Higher Selves information. The simultaneously incarnating Higher Selves have created the Library to make a portion of their accumulated knowledge available to those able to access level 27.

The massive Higher Self knowledge is restricted while you are in the Game. After you have had your Awakened Final Incarnation and finished your participation in the Game, then this knowledge, in full, is available to you once again.

Just as religions, etc demand you look for the non-existent, external deity, so do those who have coined the words, "Akashic Records", want you to look for an external source of knowledge and wisdom. This is part of the polaric deception that continues in certain sections of higher-than-third densities. To counter this dead end in the Game, this segment exposes just what the "Akashic Records" are and are not.

Revelation: 'Guides' / 'Guardian Angels'
(Special Gold Edition Segment)

In an earlier segment, I explained that 'guides' and 'guardian angels' are not some wandering being assigned to spend the rest of your incarnation watching what you are doing. This is a christian fantasy (guardian 'angel') and a new age fantasy (guide). I have done lots of shamanic journeys for people and have met with each person's guide. When I do a journey, I always request the person's guide come forward. When this being comes to me, an identity is given to me to give to that person.

After a journey is completed, one of the many things I tell a person is who the guide is and a brief description of shim. The guide is actually in the appearance of another of that Higher Self's incarnation. It is NOT the incarnation as such, just the image of one. I've found that those in North America have a 'guide' who is Native American in appearance. Those in other countries have 'guides' in the appearance of the land they live in, such as Celtic for those in British areas. This is to make it more comfortable for the incarnation to accept the information the guide has to reveal. The guide travels with me to assist in a journey for that current incarnation who requested this assistance. The guide shows me where, for example, missing soul pieces are for that person, after which I act on the information.

Now here's the core of the 'guide'/'guardian angel' experience: When that Higher Self has something to convey to the incarnation, something that requires extra effort, that Higher Self utilizes the incarnational stream that comes from the Higher Self proper. Just above where the Higher Self incarnates into a person, the energy forms a small stream apart from the larger one (an inverted Y shape) and the smaller stream assumes the shape of one of shim's other incarnations to communicate to the incarnated message receiver. Once the message is received, usually by dream or meditation (although, if necessary, by even more dramatic ways), the guide stream is withdrawn back into the main incarnational connection of the Higher Self. This is why the 'guide' is not there on demand. The Higher Self does not engage in 'thrills' of this sort as they serve no purpose other than curiosity and this curiosity is of less than Very Advanced levels.

The 'guide' apparition is a common way that the Higher Self communes with shim's incarnations until the Awakened Final Incarnation. It is the belief, in almost all people, that some fictitious deity assigns some being to be their 'guide'. This is religion warping the manifestation of the Higher Self to shim's incarnation. Religion exists, primarily, to keep you from discovering your Higher Self and all connected to that knowledge. The 'guide' becomes another external to give one's power away to. In actuality, it IS you, but unless you realize it, you are going through the motions of power giveaway. Knowing, if you see your true 'guide', that this is an extension of your Higher Self can open some interesting possibilities for you to ask something directly of your Higher Self.

Something else to keep in mind too - false 'guides'. These are lower astral beings who delight in coming to someone as their 'guide' to attempt to turn you off your path or just mess with you. I spoke to one woman once who told me that Buddha came to her in a dream and was crying because she was examining other options and belief systems. This being was attempting to get her to remain stagnant in her beliefs. Your Higher Self exists for change and new experiences. False guides can be very clever. They are polaric. They DO deceive many. Those Higher Selves allow their incarnations to be so deceived for the experience. They WILL learn from them. These are some of the rocks I mention in the Rocky Road segment in M5. Learning false from true guides is something you must do individually.

MATRIX V: The Gold Edition

False guides will probe your mind and use images of those close to you to have their way with you. This is where you don't trust your astral 'eyes'. You MUST look deeper. This comes with experience. You will make mistakes, but this is part of the learning process.

One common fallacy with 'guides' is the winged being. Since in densities above 3rd, will alone can move you to wherever you wish to go, there is no purpose in forming astral wings (although you could if you want just by willing them to be there). This is another COMMON deception by lower astrals because they know most Earthers beLIEve that these are beings sent by 'god'. This is Lightsider propaganda. Religions encourage this. That, in itself, should tell you something. The lower astrals use it to their advantage. One time I was on the astral and saw what appeared to be someone's 'guide'. I looked at that being suspiciously and shim said to me, "Do you feel more comfortable with this" and a pair of wings appeared on the being. This is NOT from person's Higher Self. This is some lower astral meddling around. They are nothing to fear, but rather to chase away. They are part of your learning experience. Keep in mind that experiences are not limited to 3rd density for your incarnation. Several new and key items appear in this segment. Consider them well.

Examining the 'Ascension' and 'Rapture'
(Special Gold Edition Segment)

There are popular phrases with both new age groups and certain christian cultists that amount to the same thing. The 'Ascension' is the new age term. 'Ascension' is the lifting off of Earth of the select so they no longer have to endure the trials of Earth. The 'Rapture' is a christian cultist term, which is similar in regard to christian cultists. 'Translation' or 'twinkling' is a mormon term. Translation is mormon for having one's body instantly changed from physical to immortal "in the twinkling of an eye". Note that in all 3 terms it is the body where the concern is centered and the body's fear of death combined with the craving of immortality for it. This is a sequential alien fantasy that has gotten hold of many Earthers via religion. Religion on Earth will always find some alien or alien idea at the root.

The Orion queen's desire for an immortal body is the ultimate seed for the desire of the Earther body to want to 'live forever'. Since the reptilian genetic scientists were responsible for the creation of Earther bodies, as we know them today, that idea of physical immortality was instilled by the Empire. This, again, is also part of the Game. This is a dead end deception meant to keep you away from discovering who you really are.

The ONLY way there would be any kind of mass teleportation of groups of people from Earth would be if alien ships were responsible. Remember that the sequentials are your opponents in the Game and no good can come out of such a trick by them. They will play to the religious mindsets and minions, who are great followers, will easily be caught up in that IF it were to occur. 'No thanks' would be my response, although only your Higher Self can decide what experiences shim wants for himself.

This myth of 'Ascension' is based on a truth that has become terribly warped. The true version of 'Ascension' occurs when your Final Incarnation summons all your Higher Self's incarnational streams back within. THAT is the basis for the myths of group physical "salvation". The sequential incarnates will warp anything they can to try and delay the simultaneous from spiraling out of the Game. The thing is that there is a preset end to the Game that the sequentials are also unaware of. It is necessary for both the simultaneous and the sequential factions to be thus unaware in order for the Game to progress as planned.

New agers love to say "planetary ascension" for Earthers. This will not happen on Earth as that, again, is another sequential alien experience where they progress as a planet and everyone is close to being at the same place in progression. 'Planetary ascension' is very popular with new agers at this time and is being heavily pushed by several new age groups. When you hear of 'planetary ascension', know that aliens are involved in that propaganda and that it is being used to sidetrack Earther simultaneous incarnates. Personal red flags should fly when you hear that term.

When you hear the commonly used terms of 'Ascension', 'Rapture', 'Translation/Twinkling' or any other similar concept term, know that they are all red herrings/deceptions for the actions of your Final Incarnation when it is time for the real you to spiral out of the Game.

Lightsider Deceptions Update

I knew it would only be a matter of time before the mechanism of the Light side would see the effect of the Matrix 5 materials and try to warp parts of it to fit their agenda. I have just seen this in a message on a Lightsider site. The whole thing is gushing, as usual, with the sweet toxins of the Lightside. But, what is new is that they have taken the Higher Self and thrown him into their mythology of deceptions.

Here's a portion of it:

"It is time to teach unconditional Love and Power. Love and Power of God, of your Family of Light: Angels, Spirit Guides (by whatever name or perception you have), and unconditional Love and Power of your Higher Selves. It is time to understand that the Higher Self has God Realization and complete energetic and conscious connection with its incarnations on the Earth and beyond, and is in complete control of who you interact with, both consciously and energetically, on every plane of existence. You are Safe! Even if you cannot go beyond the misconception that there are "negative beings" out there yet, know that you are safe through your Higher Self, your Guides of Light and God! St. Germain"

Now look how the Lightside takes truth and mixes it with deception to lure the budding Advanced into their latest dead end. First it's the old 'unconditional love' crap that Lightsiders thrive in spewing. I have already dealt with that ideological nonsense. Now they try and tack it on to the Higher Self.

Note too that, according to 'St Germain' (reptilian origin, by the way) the Higher Self is subordinate to the mythical 'god' (Orion queen), that seemingly omni-present being who they want you to give your power away to! They talk about the Higher Self, with some semi-true comments, but leave you the impression that you have NO independent controls and are just going through the motions in 3rd density. I had recently written why the incarnate spirit does NOT have the Higher Self's full memory. This is another body-centric Lightsider fantasy, along with their popular 'spirits are genders' major myth. It also leads you to believe you are not responsible for anything you do. Love & Light...horseshit!

The end sentence that I included above says "you are safe through your Higher Self, your Guides of Light and God!" Geez, that just makes me want to puke! They refuse to allow you to know that you are complete within your Higher Self, but that you also need external 'guides' and that fucking 'god', who is the simultaneous alien beings who messed with Ancient Earthers ages ago.

When you read the abundant garbage that the Lightsiders generate, I advise you to ALWAYS remember The Game and its 2 major players: Simultaneous and Sequential Higher Self incarnates. If you keep that in mind, you should be able to view the deceptions put out by the sequential incarnates as part of the Game's mechanisms to keep simultaneous incarnates from graduating the 3rd density experience.

Now that I've seen the misuse of Matrix 5 materials in print by Lightsiders, I know M5 is having the effect they didn't count on: the loophole in the Game that allowed M5 to come out and the stimulation of the readers to their Higher Selves to break away from the Game and move to the next stage. I also expect to see more of the use of 'Higher Self' in Lightsider materials to deceive. They are using their "Light" to blind you from seeing where you are going IF you choose to follow them. You DO fall for that shit as you progress, but it is limited to Low Advanced through Mid Advanced levels.

Trust your Higher Self and you will be fine.

Astrology: Potent & Polaris Manipulations
(Special Gold Edition Segment)

I was sent a copy of Bush jr's horoscope with an interpretation that was flattering and glowing of him. One look at the chart told me "what a bunch of crap". The person who wrote the interpretation was probably hoping she would become the personal astrologer to the current occupant of the White House. I made some comments about what the horoscope really says about that Darksider. What I said about him is not the thrust of this segment. What you need to know is that astrology can be used by both Light and Dark polarities to gain the results desired. I've seen this happen over and over. An astrologer makes some grand declarations that I know just are false. This can go along with the Lightsider astrologer who believes that only the "good" things should be told and if you can't find many "good" things, create some. I have seen them create "good" things out of some flimsy scrapes of data that just are not true, but they sound great.

Dark manipulations can include trying to steer the client into taking certain actions that are not to the client's benefit. If you have to ask 'why', you are not Advanced enough to handle this material. You would need to reexamine the definitions of Dark and Light polarities. Dark astrologers can go on bigger power trips. They may concentrate on things that bring distress to the client.

Examples of the manipulation: The Bush sycophantic astrologer notes his Libra placements and says how "diplomatic" Libra is. Yes, it can be a very diplomatic sign. What you aren't told is that Libra can be the most vicious sign of all 12 if they fail at diplomacy. Not only that, but Bush is a Cancer. That sign is in hard aspect to the Libra placements and this brings conflict. Pluto is also in significant placement in this dictator-wanna-be's horoscope. Pluto is a sign of dictatorship/control. I heard twice on the news when this man said he wanted to be dictator.

The first question is: Is astrology valid? Yes, it is. Astrology is the most complicated/complex of the psychic sciences and, therefore, the most potent. It takes a long time and lots of study to become a competent astrologer. Because it is so powerful and potent AND is used by planetary big shots, it is to their advantage to ensure that many false and pseudo astrologers are in the public eye. Your horoscope should not be published or shown to everyone since it reveals your hidden sides and secrets. Be careful with your birth data and who you give that information to.

Quest of the Spirit – The Ultimate Frontier

The Game does NOT like the use of astrology by competent, ethical astrologers, especially of a Very Advanced level or higher. But, too bad, since the psychic sciences are allowed in the Game's rules. Since this is so, the Game resorts to belittling the psychic and related sciences to keep people away from what they may discover about themselves.

The next question is: are astrologers ethical? Most of them are. Most will give you their best advice, however some of them are anything but ethical and this includes Light and Dark polarities.

This brings up this question: how will I know if the astrologer I deal with is competent and ethical? The competency part is easy - ask for credentials. How long have you studied? Someone who has a computer program and sells computer generated horoscopes for $20 may not know any more about astrology than you. Check first. As far as ethics go, you will have to use your intuition. Some people can say anything. Be cautious of overpriced astrologers. I spoke to a person who said she got her horoscope for $1000, and, she said, it came in a leather folder. That impressed her more than her horoscope, apparently. If you spend more money, it does not mean you are getting a better horoscope.

While I want you to understand that astrology can tell you almost anything about your current incarnation (and some of other incarnations you are having), it should be used as a tool, valuable but still a tool. Don't let astrology run your daily life. Make it the spice in your soup. Those daily horoscopes in newspapers are just for fun. I could write them. Take them ONLY as fun. Astrology is so unique that each chart is like a fingerprint, so having encapsulated 12 signs to stand for everyone (or anyone) in each sign, is impossible. I am not a commercial astrologer and I don't know any personally, so don't ask for recommendations from me.

Reptilian Infighting: Moses vs. Egypt

Blood, blood everywhere: The Prince of Egypt, available on tape, is an animated version of the biblical fable of Moses. Most people know the general story, but you need to look deeper. Of course access to the Library on Monroe level 27 makes access to knowledge dealing with this (and countless other) subjects a breeze. Unfortunately, VERY few incarnated on Earth can touch the knowledge there.

Although the Moses story never took place (Egypt was NOT destroyed when Ramesses I ruled, but rather increased), the story was meant to show the conflict between factions in the Orion Empire. ALL ancient deities, including those of the bible, are alien and the aliens were very overtly involved in ancient times. They were not unified and in harmony, but were highly competitive and jealous. ("I am a jealous god" - biblical deity).

Once the Orion queen lost (temporary) control over this solar system to the rebel queen, the rebel queen and her allies sought to control different groups on Earth. However, in each group, the serpent played a visible part as did the flow of blood to satisfy the reptilian appetite and feed their 4th density relatives. Yes, I know that A LOT can be said about all these matters, but that's not the purpose here.

MATRIX V: The Gold Edition
Quest of the Spirit – The Ultimate Frontier

Back to Moses - what was his calling card when he told pharaoh his demands? He threw down his staff and it became a serpent, calling card of the reptilians of Orion. Why not a lion, a hawk or an elephant? Because the serpent is the symbol of Orion power, both rebel and standard factions.

Pharaoh, recognizing this as an opposing faction since it threatened him, had his priests throw down 2 staves, which also became serpents. Moses' serpent ate the other two demonstrating the superior power of his reptilian faction at the time. It's just like warring 'system lords' on Stargate SG-1!

One thing to remember, the Israeli deity is male, therefore Sirian home world controlled, allied with the Orion queen. Pharaoh was aligned with Isis, the rebel queen and genetic scientist, and the rebel Sirian king and genetic scientist. That Moses' serpent ate the Pharaoh's serpents demonstrated that the Orion queen would devour the rebel queen in time. The Sirians are the dog soldiers of Orion, so Moses was on a 'mission' for the Sirian king in the Orion queen's name.

Well, according to the story, the god of this small, primitive group of nomads beat the hell out of Egypt - water to BLOOD, fire from the skies, DEATH of the firstborn and destruction of Egypt's army all because the reptilian deity decided to war with the reptilian deities of Egypt. If this really happened, Egypt's neighboring enemies would have invaded and conquered Egypt with no real opposition. Obviously, this did not happen because the story never happened. Remember, the bible is written by followers of this deity and therefore written in such a way to increase belief in the deity's power. The bible is NOT history. It is historical fiction. It seeks to replace one (or several) sets of deities for this particular faction. You can only break free of ALL deities by realizing there is only one 'god' for YOU and you can see this god by looking into a mirror. Do not give away your power to an external being, unless you wish to be a servant.

ALL reptilian factions demand blood sacrifice. In the Moses fable, you had water to BLOOD, BLOOD on the door posts, BLOOD sacrifices and death of first-born people AND animals (what did the animals do to piss off this 'god'?).

The reptilian deity of this desert group (Remember, he told Moses 'I am the god of Abraham and Isaac'. He did NOT say 'I am the god of all on Earth'), became ambitious indeed. After directing these nomads to the land of 'milk and honey', they proceeded to kill and swindle all those already living there out of their land. This from the god who said, "Thou shalt not kill". Right. MUCH more can be said, unfortunately, the blood still flows today in the name of this deity.

Two America's

1 - America, the fictional land of the free where everyone has free speech, freedom to worship as they choose, freedom of association, freedom of the press, a government elected by the people who responds to the desires of ALL citizens.

2 - Amerika, the real U.S.A. This country does, unfortunately exist. Free speech - few segments of the population allow free speech. Take the Miami christian gangster community. See all the freedom posters and talk, but when 2 women showed up with "Elian should go home" posters, they were attacked and beaten by this group who claims to be non-violent and freedom-loving.

MATRIX V: The Gold Edition
Quest of the Spirit – The Ultimate Frontier

© 2000-2003 Leading Edge International Research Group. All Rights Reserved.

Freedom of worship, in the USA means freedom to be christian or jewish (grudgingly, though, jewish). Congress starts sessions with a religious poobah, but they are always christian, possibly a token rabbi thrown in. How many muslim clerics, wiccan priestesses, hindu cleric, satanic ministers, scientologist ministers, etc have their day as an opener of Congress? Who would complain? The christians, guaranteed. They spout freedom of religion, and that is supposed to mean ALL religions, but limit or ban those their narrow-minded, hate filled religion don't agree with. They NEVER mean freedom of religion EXCEPT for christianity.

Freedom of association...try to associate with non-christian religions and the evil head of christianity raises it's head. The chief cult of Amerika, ruled by the jealous god, shows its jealousy by viciously suppressing minority religions. What do they fear? That the false nature of their religion be discovered. Gay student groups, nope, the christians don't like that either, even if it isn't religious. So much for that association. Political freedoms, how about being a communist during the 50's?

Freedom of the press...the mainstream press does not report the news, but rather try and convince you to take their views, which almost always are that of the government. Check the wording of headlines, the photographs used and the tone of the wording. Does mainstream press call non-mainstream religions 'cults'? Yes, even though they don't call mainstream religions, the cults of mary, jesus, mohammed, 'cults' (although they'd like to with muslim). How many people had themselves nailed to crosses this past week?

They aren't called cults, but if any minority religion did that, the scream of dangerous cults goes up in the press. True, there are a very few, minority presses, but these get branded tabloids or fringe (therefore not worthy of consideration) rags. Freedom of the press should mean non-biased reporting...but not in Amerika.

A government of, by and for the people...which president was elected by the majority of the voters? I don't know if there ever was one. Not a majority of those who voted, but a majority of the voters. The Presidents of Amerika are elected by a minority of the voters. If they win by 56% of 49% of the voters, that's not a landslide, that's a pitiful minority. Once elected, the person sets him/herself up as some kind of royalty that the people must bow to, rather than the other way around. Amerikans have given away their power by lowering themselves to elected officials and forgetting that THEY work for you. In how many businesses do bosses, bow down and tip-toe around their employees? Exactly.

Now, even the minority elected government responds to those who fork over the most cash, not the desires of the constituents unless both are the same on one issue. It's not a government for the people; it's a government for the lobbies and powerful special interest groups.

Amerika is a very sad place. Unfortunately, many in Amerika are in a fantasy land of America in their minds. It is in the interest of Amerika that people believe they are in America. Give away more power. In order to see Amerika for what it is, one must regain their power from politicians, from religion and from ALL others. Only then can one see Amerika for what it is and what it is not.

Breeding and American Over-Consumption

Sunday's newspaper supplement has a headline shouting, "What on Earth are we doing?" with a side bar saying, "The planet may not last another century if we don't curb consumption and population growth, experts say." The 'experts' are FAR too liberal in their estimations. The world as we know it will not last beyond 2012. The text describes that while Americans are about 5% of the world's population, they consume 1/3 of the planet's energy and create half of the solid waste.

American propaganda would have the whole world believe they can live like Americans do. This is impossible. In Jan 1900, the planet had 1.6 billion people. Despite World and local wars, as of Jan 1, 2001, Earth has over 6 billion people. 5-7 Earths would be needed to give the world the consumer rate of America. The article said population growth is not the only problem. If no more babies were born at all, the collapse would be delayed by only 7 years, and there's no need to consider that breeders will stop breeding.

Consumerism American style is the U.S.'s prime export cloaked in the illusion of freedom. The world wants to consume more and more. The more they consume, the sooner the planet collapses.

Reality is that the breeders will continue to breed, per the Orion DNA commands. The majority of the population is minion incarnation, as per Orion design (see previously discussed material). Even if the aliens were not returning, the planet would collapse.

Why would the alien genetic scientists allow this to happen? One option is the feared and rarely mentioned conclusion - the harvest of Earth's population to feed the Orion and Sirian Empires. Earth could be harvested (as shown in the television series "V") and the alien genetic scientists create a new human minus the perceived flaws in abundance in the current versions occupying Earth today. This is definitely one of the options that I've called Wild Cards.

The Earth Spirit is very troubled and shim is speeding up Earth Changes. Some recent ones are the eruption of Mexico's huge volcano, earthquakes in El Salvador and on up the Pacific coast, plus lots more. Observers (Final and Very Advanced Incarnations) can read the signs and know the end of the world as we've known it is at hand. As I said last year, the Wild Cards are ready to be played. Only the naive will cling to the illusion of 'life will go on as it is'. Time is on the side of the Observers because the Observers have put incarnational life in its proper place as just another experience.

Reptilian Infighting and Election 2000

As discussed in other material here, it was the combination of Orion and Sirian genetic scientists who brought Earth humans to the spiritual challenge accepted by many Higher Selves. Back on Ancient Earth, the genetic scientists' uniforms had the symbol of the serpent on them. The serpent has played an important role in Earth mythologies, but is always connected to the reptilian aliens.

When a reptilian royal, in charge of the Orion queen's interests in this solar system, decided to start her own rule independent of Mintaka, she became the rebel queen. There would be no change in policy toward Earth (whether rebel or Mintaka queen ruled) and its inhabitants. The only difference was who was in charge. The rebel queen split from Orion during the reign of Atlantis and the sinking of Atlantis brought the end, temporarily, of Mintaka rule over all Earth.

Quest of the Spirit – The Ultimate Frontier

Egypt, a colony of Atlantis, was dedicated to the rebel queen. The 'goddess' Isis is the chief Orion genetic scientist who became the rebel queen. The serpent on pharaoh's crown was the symbol of the genetic scientists from Orion. The rebel queen's original center was Egypt, which fell to Alexander the Great, who did NOT replace the religion but kept it intact. Even those who ruled Egypt after Alexander's conquest were devoted to Isis.

While Alexander did his thing, the rebel Sirian allied with the rebel queen was busy in Rome. The legend of Romulus and Remus raised by the wolf (Sirius) depicts wolfish Sirian involvement. Notice, though, the stress is on a female wolf - alliance with the female rebel queen. If it were of the Sirian throne (allied to Mintaka), a male wolf would have been used as the guardian of Romulus/Remus. Egypt and Rome were allied. Julius Caesar and Mark Anthony were Earth representations of Sirius' rebel royalty with Cleopatra representing the rebel Orion royalty.

The rebels have never been able to rest since the system coup. Although rebel factions have been dominant most of the past several thousand years, Mintaka factions have been becoming more assertive especially in the 20th century since the Mintaka queen is expected to return. World War II was a fight between rebel queen fascist factions and socialist Mintaka factions.

The Mintaka throne's faction started to assert itself through the catholic church. The mythological mother of mythical Jesus, Mary, is the representation of the Orion queen. The protestant split from Rome mirrors the rebel split from Orion. Since that split, I don't know if you can find a catholic church that doesn't have the statue of Mary (Orion queen) standing ('crushing the head') of the serpent (rebel queen-genetic scientist) while both stand on planet Earth.

The catholic church's steady elevating of Mary shows the intended return of the Orion queen. The current pope's insistence of Mary's supremacy over Jesus is quite easy to see. He talks about Mary and Jesus. The protestants have been clashing ideologically with the catholics ever since the split and are fully set against Mary-worship as this favors the Mintaka queen over the rebel queen.

Now with the crisis of the US election 2000 for president, the factions are clashing in another arena. Bush and Gore each represent a different faction, however BOTH represent reptilian interests on Earth. Barring a MAJOR event, the Orion card is in play and the queen is returning to take overt control of Earth. The Bush family has much closer ties to the British throne which Robert Morning Sky has said is the Nin-hur-sag (representative) of the rebel queen on Earth. The right wing is rebel queen supportive to the left wing supportive of Mintaka. BOTH factions are bad for Earthers. It's a matter of which poison do you choose - arsenic or venom.

The shooting at many alien craft trying to enter Earth's atmosphere, when not identified, is typical of the rebel queen's faction since the Mintaka faction has been slipping agents to Earth for quite a while, as have other non-related factions.

Although this greatly simplifies a very complex issue, you get the drift. Infighting between Orion and rebel reptilian factions continues like 2 dogs fighting over a bone called Earth. By some groups referring to 'Faction 1' or 'Faction 2', they refuse to go to the root of both factions. It's not the Mafia, religion or security agencies that are the root. They are arms of the factions, but not the factions' rulers. Researchers fear to dig too deep to face the alien factor due to a false superiority complex inherent in most Earthers and especially Americans.

The interesting situation with this election is the severity of the clash between both factions. True, they've managed to cause a new division in the US due to this situation, but the clash is indicative of something major to occur that both groups want to control. The Dark and the reptilians DO fight with each other at all times, but to be so public with it is major. I suggest the returning Orion ships to this solar system have a significant role in this and, unless the Andromedan Council intervenes, it could really get messy. Refer again to that Simpson's episode of Kodos vs. Kang. After that election, the aliens dropped their human disguises and ruled Earth overtly alien and made slaves of the population. Whoever finally becomes president will rule under a dark cloud as those who voted for the other candidate will feel they were robbed. There will be no true winner and half the country will be bitter. It will be interesting to see how this current crisis develops.

One more thing about the 2 major factions: It is FAR too simplistic to think there are only 2 factions. Under each faction are several sub-factions. Each sub-faction supports it's senior, but will battle others in the sub-groups under that senior. The 2 major factions are the second level from the top of the pyramid and there are many layers under that. I never said it would be easy!

Observation: Election 2002 & The Game

Last night (Nov 5) was an excellent example, for observers, of how the Game ensures that it will proceed as planned. I have no doubt the fascists in the White House are goose-stepping in glee today with the results. Emperor Bush has taken control of the Senate who, like the House, will eagerly give him whatever he wants to expand the American Empire.

While this can be disturbing to Advanced levels of Higher Self incarnations, remember that it is necessary that the Game moves in certain directions to conclude EndGame. What you should keep in mind is that everyone who voted for fascist Bush supporters is guilty of pulling the trigger on guns or dropping the bombs that will kill in other parts of the world. If civilians die in the US because of this, they were not 'innocent' unless they voted against the fascist Bush cronies. Nevertheless, this is all part of the experience and the Game!

Because EndGame must move into an even higher gear, it was necessary for the Dark to win. Those who voted fascist did so for 1 of 2 reasons: either they are Empire party members or they are minions or Low through Mid levels of progression. These people in the latter categories were manipulated through the use of such keywords as fear, conformity and patriotism. Fear, of course, was the prime drive which is highly effective on minions and Low levels. Even so, most people who could vote didn't vote. There are all kinds of excuses for why they permit the fascists to run rampant over the country, but they are all hollow IF these people complain about the results without exercising their voting ability.

As an observer, you should be able (depending on how Advanced you are) to see the interaction of the various players (fascist Dark/Lightsiders, minions, multitudes of Low - Mid levels, etc) and dissect the Game's structures. That the US has been thrust into a full war stance lead by a wanna-be dictator will bring more horrors to the world. As 'Adolph' Bush said 'you are either with us or against us'. Don't fall for that line of shit! The Americans deserve what they will get either because they actively wanted it by voting fascist or they sat on the sidelines through apathy. This is all the Game! Keep watching...keep analyzing. It's going to get much worse.

Observations: Divide and Conquer

CNN European Edition today shows clashes in Nigeria of ethnic battles. One tribe doesn't like another. This has been going on around the world in high gear since the 90's: Yugoslavian ethnic clashes, Indonesian, Sudanese, Ethiopian, etc.

In the USA, increasing divisions based on language, race, sexual orientation, religion, politics, gender (caused by females), etc. Europe has similar divisions, although more racial and religious than the myriad of American divisions.

"United We Stand" says the bumper sticker on the car next to mine in the parking lot. Well, Americans have not been (mostly) united since WWII (and there were problems there too). The rest of that saying is "Divided We Fall". We ARE divided. We WILL fall. Fundamentalist christians hate everyone not like them and they form the core hate group in the USA from a religious point as do people who wrap themselves in the flag - extremely intolerant.

Why all this division, especially in the USA, the (false) land of the free? The Americans united are the most formidable nation on Earth today. This is well known to the rulers of the world. On one level, in order to form the One World government they desire, they know the Americans would never agree and stand in their way. This is why American rulers (elected officials) have been pandering to minority elements under the banner of tolerance. It's not for tolerance, it's for division of the population.

The Middle East is going to explode. Israel's pompous leader openly wishes the death of the Palestinian leader. This one hates that one who hates the other one. Islamics hate Jews who hate them back. Christians hate everyone not like them and the polarities are in their 7th heaven for it.

Take language in the USA, the Tower of Babel example. To divide a people, you break up the common language, in this case - English. Instead of making English the official language of the country, divide it with lazy Spanish speaking peoples. By lazy, I don't necessarily mean not willing to work (although that is changing), but that they refuse to learn the language of the country they come to live in. They don't want to be American, they want to keep their language intact and make Americans learn it and be like them. There are some states that give driver's licenses in MANY different languages. If I wanted to live in a country whose language I didn't speak, it would be my prime resolve to learn that language. Why can't these foreigners do the same? The answer lies with minions.

Unfriendly alien craft in and around the planet and the return of the Orion Empire are another level for the divisions on the planet, although these divisions can vanish in the face of a much greater threat. But with alien technology, there is zero chance of effective resistance. Remember ALL non-Earther Higher Self incarnates are playing the Game AGAINST Higher Self Earther incarnates (refer to M5 and M5 supplemental materials).

On a third level, the hate & divisions are feeding lower astral entities who are enjoying a banquet of negative vibrations almost all around the globe. These entities will do whatever they can to encourage negative vibrations which Dark astrals feed on.

Yep, Earth is VERY messed up and will get WORSE. This is part of Dark's plan of 'if I can't have it, no one else will have it either' - scorched Earth. I told Val about that over a year ago. It's very Orion & Sirian Empire attitude-wise.

What's a Higher Self incarnate to do? Depends on your level of Advancement. If you are in the Very Advanced levels, Dominant or Awakened Final, you KNOW what YOU must do: gather experiences and observe. You learn a lot from observing. You do NOT fight the Game. Pointing fingers at the Game's players is part of observing. It is not fighting the Game as you are only identifying the elements of it. The Game MUST be allowed to proceed on its own course. It will end because of itself, not because of any polarity. If you are an Awakened Final (VERY few of these around), you do NOT use your energies to attack the system. You observe and tag what you see, from the very Dark George Bush & cronies to the obscure person who does a kindness because they want to and not because some god or group tells them they must.

For those of you on other various levels, you will experience what YOUR Higher Self desires through your incarnation. In some cases, it will be to act against the Game (never an Awakened Final incarnation though & you WILL know why when you are there). It's your experience, after all, and that is the main purpose of the Game.

People think Sept 11 was bad. It's going to get MUCH worse! The police state is shadowing the USA as the people give their power away to Washington. Enjoy what you can now. Now won't last forever. There will be those of you with the Atlantis Syndrome, the 'it'll go on forever' attitude that the Atlanteans had even on the day the islands sank. This is the body talking. The body will override an immature spirit. The body talks about expanding the species. The body is ruled by alien DNA commands in these areas. When you have reached Awakened Final Incarnation, you tell the body to 'fuck off'. It's always better when the spirit drives the body rather than the body driving the spirit (low, mid and below Very Advanced levels).

If it is your Higher Self's desire that your incarnation be swept up in the high dramas of today, so be it. For those beyond that point, continue to observe, tag and make personal judgments using your intuition. You can totally trust YOUR Higher Self. Divide and conquer is in full swing. Earth is a planet of victims. The stage is set for the victimizer. Know that it will all end and the end is near.

Assisting Orion DNA Commands

The woman on the television 'health' spot says both women AND men are victims of domestic violence but (I knew this was coming) 95% of those on the receiving end of the 'domestic violence' are female. That is totally untrue. I don't doubt that 95% of the REPORTED domestic violence is to the female, but then how often do males report violence by females to the authorities? If true statistics were kept, you'll find that it's pretty much 50-50 and, if anything, it will continue to increase with females committing more and more violence.

This is part of the Orion DNA command for a matriarchy based on the Orion model. Orion reptilian females are very violent and subdued their males eons ago. Now that the Orion queen is returning to Earth, it is necessary (from their point of view) that Earth mirror Mintaka as much as possible since it will be an openly part of the Orion Empire. The DNA structure placed in the genetically created genders had delay activated segments, as discussed elsewhere. Part of this dealt with female dominance and male subservience.

If you've seen the Jerry Springer show, you've seen minion and low incarnations going at each other. Minion and low incarnations are completely body ruled and it's easier to see the new DNA commands in operation.

Unfortunately, the spirit must be quite strong to resist these commands and shim doesn't get strong enough, until the VERY Advanced stages and the Final Incarnation, to be able to control the body's structure and break from the conform mode.

Television and film constantly reinforce the female dominance/violence commands. Laugh tracks when the female slaps, kicks, punches, etc the male in sit-coms. This female violence is on the increase due to the DNA commands. Do you ever hear a laugh track today if a male returns the violence? No, because you are being conditioned to accept female violence as the way it is...as in the rest of the Orion Empire.

Violence is not limited to only physical, but also mental. The controlling partner who threatens to leave if not obeyed, withholds sex/sleeps in a separate room if not obeyed, gets 'pissy' if not given the material possessions wanted, and so on. The purpose is to dominate and control the other. Females have become experts at this. While victimizing the male thusly and then the male reacts to it, she always turns around and says 'look how badly he treats me' when she is the cause. Yes, it does happen both ways, but the tide of events has the female side on the increase.

The Canadian law giving females unheard of special status if they claim 'abuse' is just one of the new Orion models taking hold. This law is on the Leading Edge site. Greek poet and philosopher Virgil said, "Foolish is the man who trusts a woman". Virgil was at least a very Advanced incarnation. It can also be said 'foolish is the woman who thinks she can change a man'.

There ARE advanced males AND females, it's just that the overwhelming majority are body and therefore Orion controlled. This is increasing around the world, but is centered in the US. You can still find remote areas where women are women, but this is shrinking by design. Unless you are a Dominant or Final Incarnation, you probably won't be able to handle this, but my material is for the VERY Advanced who will resonate with it.

Violence is unacceptable. People, both men and women, live with it every day. Victim becomes victimizer...a nasty cycle. A truly MAJOR event will be needed to break this cycle.

More Evidence of Female Dominance

From World Daily News (Jan 2001):

IN THE MILITARY
Soldiers not allowed to cuss, 'break wind'
Female troops prompt lessons in politeness, raise question of creating olive-green bras

As I've been saying for over a year, it never was a question of equality, but rather control and dominance over men. It's like an infestation that continues to grow. This is according to the Orion plan and the evil nature of the female will continue to progress in this line until ALL their goals are met. Females demand power and control and want men to take the role of females of the 17th century and earlier. Unfortunately, almost all men are going along with this, as per their Orion DNA commands. I'm ready to check out. There is nothing short of reconstructive DNA procedures that will end this since even if there is a wonderful cataclysm, the surviving females will still press their agenda. Better to end the nightmare and cleanse the whole planet. This WILL happen, according to Robert Monroe's visit to Earth's future as well as my own.

Victimhood

There is a sub-polarity within the Dark and the Light polarities. This is the victim and the aggressor. Victimhood is very popular, especially in America, these days. EVERYONE seems to want to be a victim. Dark side 'victims' are the lackeys, servants of their superiors. Light side 'victims' are those who 'turn the other cheek', follow their superiors because they are "deity-chosen." More could be said on these, but you get the drift.

IF YOU ARE A VICTIM, YOU WILL ATTRACT AN AGGRESSOR. The victim female or male – always in a bad relationship, always giving, always subservient, always feeling sorry for self and looking for external saviors. Light side superiors LOVE to appear as saviors. Light side victims get into victim groups. Dark side superiors LOVE to play the needed role as aggressor (you can't have a victim unless there's an aggressor). Dark side lackeys love to assist their superiors in making the victim feel like a victim.

Victim and aggressor are opposites. In order to do away with the aggressor attitude, the victim MUST give up the victim mentality and merge with the aggressor attitude to regain their power. Once the victim is gone, the aggressor is gone. Aggressors ONLY seek out victims. American society encourages victimhood. You should ask why and what is there to gain. Since the world is Dark-controlled, and balance must be satisfied, the more victims in the world, the more aggressors.

The upcoming New Reality will NOT have any victims. Those who STILL desire to be victims will not participate in the New Reality, but will reincarnate somewhere where they can continue playing this power game.

Americans love to blame everything but the obvious for events in their lives. It's the school's fault, it's the neighbors' fault, it's the government's fault (true, but for different reasons), it's the <who/whatever's> fault. When their miserable child does something criminal it's everyone's fault but the kid, and the parents who raised it, so they'd like you to believe. Until people can accept responsibility for the event they caused, they'll be stuck in the victim/aggressor mode. Those who are not victims are those who can say "it was my fault". Those who DON'T say "it's not my fault" and "I can't help it" are spiraling away from this prison planet.

When I hear, "What could I do, I had no choice"... bullshit. You HAD a choice to do it or not. There's always a choice. Victims say the "I had no choice" sentence. Balance-oriented people say, "I had a choice and chose this". I told a smoker he chose to smoke. Yes, he did, but still not out of the victim mode (although he's making attempts to rise above it), he still refuses to accept responsibility. I can't see why not, who forced a non-smoker to become a smoker? He CHOSE it. He has to live with his choice.

When I heard "Boy, I wish I got that promotion a long time ago so I would have had the money to buy Y2K supplies." I said, "if you weren't smoking, you would have been able to buy supplies." He responded, "that's ONLY $30/week". Yeah, $30 that could have been used to buy supplies or other things. Victim and his 'oh poor me' attitude. This applies to so many people who refuse to take their power back. AND don't give me the old chestnut, "you don't understand how hard it is to quit". Well, who told you to START! Your body told you not to be getting sick when you tried to, but your CHOICE to poison yourself, limit your psychic abilities was your choice for stupid reasons (usually to impress someone not worth trying to impress). Always go back to the source and see it was your decision. You are experiencing the consequences of your decision. If you can't admit and see that, you will remain a victim. Until you accept your responsibility, you will not be able to heal yourself.

I see all these victims every day. Victimhood is comfortable for them because the Light-siders are there to encourage them (it's societies fault, his/her fault...but NOT yours). IF YOU WANT TO PROGRESS, YOU MUST TAKE YOUR POWER BACK AND SHUN THE VICTIM TRAP.

If you complain about anything, this does NOT make you a victim unless you look for external salvation. When I hear complaints now, I say, "Ok, now what are you going to do about that?". Big Mary the lesbian complains to me about her roommate. I listen and say what are you going to do about it. She says "what can I do?" I told her throw the bitch out. "No, I can't do that". What she's telling me is she's looking to carry her victim status around like a cross looking for sympathy while she does nothing about it. Pure Victimhood. I told her if she's not going to do something, take her power back and progress, I don't want to hear it.

Another whines to me about some clown. I give my opinions and suggestions. They are not what he wants to hear and comes back with the ultra-lame 'you just don't understand'. Yes I do. I understand he enjoys being the victim and doesn't enjoy when I don't play the Light-side hand-holder part. When I suggest actions that require the giving up of victimhood, he won't hear it. So I say "don't mention it and you won't have to hear my comments."

Victims – what pains they can be when they drag their crosses around in front of you, weeping and wailing, but refusing to drop their cross! The "I-love-to-suffer" syndrome!

Victims do NOT want to be told how they can correct their choice. They get indignant if you suggest ways in which they can take their power back. If you do this to them, they instantly lose their 'oh, poor me' attitude and take a vicious 'you just don't understand' chip on their

Quest of the Spirit – The Ultimate Frontier

© 2000-2003 Leading Edge International Research Group. All Rights Reserved.

shoulder view. 'How dare you tell a victim he can take his power back when we want you to help carry our cross, but NOT how to discard our 'cross'.

They maintain the 'oh, poor me' attitude if you feed their psychic 'vampirism'. Once they have all they can get from you, they tend to look for another. Someone who has been living a life of a victim may decide to take back his or her power at any time. If they want to throw off their cross, they will show it with actions, not just words. Words come all too freely, but to escape from the victim trap, actions on the part of the person are REQUIRED.

We all know people who tell you their sob stories. When they are told how to begin repairing them and regaining their power, you get 'I can't do that because of this reason or that reason'. Tell them until they are ready to DO something, please don't bother you with visions of the 12 stations of the cross that they love to parade around!

Don't Be Deceived – Polarities On The Move

I received an email about the so-called 'ascended masters of Light' being on the move and 'descending from their lofty towers in the far East'. The Lightsiders tuned into this have their hearts all-aflutter in the belief that 'Earth will be shifted to the Light polarity'. I'm sure that Dark will say, ok, if that's what you want, we'll just disappear. The Light says there is some 'rare stellar alignment that will herald their time'.

Don't be deceived! For every supposed 'ascended master of Light' is an equally powerful 'ascended master of Dark'. Balance requires this, as I've said in previous writings. Earth has been in control by the Dark for a LONG time and they will not go gracefully. The Light propaganda machine is churning and, thereby, fueling the Dark as one polarity feeds off the other.

We are in the years of grand deceptions, arrivals of false 'ascended masters' and similar events. Notice how these 'ascended masters' all require followers and minions. A TRUE ascended master would never allow these nor would this person allow self to be surrounded by adoring minions. Nevertheless, both Light and Dark power points not only allow this but also encourage this.

It's one thing to pass on knowledge, but to allow and encourage (rather than discourage) cults of personality shows they are not the 'ascended masters' they are passing themselves off as, but rather shepherds looking for sheep...and sheep are mindless followers. This is why the christians look to be sheep...lead and we will mindlessly follow. This goes for the New Age religions and 'ascended masters'.

There is only one source that is pure for you, your own Higher Self. You can get input from others, even some great ideas, but the path each Higher Self takes is unique to himself. Earthers look for conformity (misery loves company). Your Higher Self could have you experiencing events that make others shudder. It's not their place to condemn or to judge as it's not their path. Even showing someone a less painful way usually doesn't work, even if they come to agree with you later as they needed the pain as part of their growth. Stick with the Laws of the Universe and you can't go wrong.

For guidance, connect with your Higher Self, for himself is your true guardian 'angel' or guide and, therefore, the LAST focal point that the polarities want you to connect with. The Light polarity pays lip service to the Higher Self, but they keep you looking to external rather than internal controls of your life's path.

What to do with the upcoming Light and Dark pony shows? Sit back and watch...observe. If you feel you must participate, it's part of the pain you need for your own Higher Self's growth. As for this Final Incarnation, it's observe and study reactions.

Strengthening the Polarities

Sadism cannot exist without masochism. Masochism cannot exist without sadism. That the Dark polarity uses overtly nasty methods to strengthen their position is a given. The Light polarity reacts to this by 'loving' their enemy (who really ISN'T their enemy, just their alien-split 'other half'). The Light polarities have been beating that "love-the-Dark-side" band like it was the end of the world as they knew it (hmmm). I know former teachers who have lost themselves to the Light side and refuse to defend themselves when attacked...just send 'love'. I read a piece from a group that leaves a bitter taste in the mouths of those who KNOW, that, among other things, said something to the effect that "love is like hot coals to the Dark and sends them away screaming." NOT IN THE LEAST!

I have seen, as a shaman, first hand how the ethers work when Dark attacks and Light responds with 'love'. The only 'hot coals' they form are the coals to stoke Dark's fire by reveling in Light's weakness. Sending 'love' to the Dark actually feeds their sadistic desires even more, because they see you as an easy target and one who will roll over for their attacks. When I was called on by this Light side former teacher of mine to assist her (cause she only sends love to the Dark now), I went over and found the Dark literally crawling all over her property and place. I cleaned them out with the only method Dark understands - force...and they went flying out of there like bats out of hell. When I was done, this former teacher was safe, at least for the moment. Why did she call on me to help? Because Light's love didn't work...and it never will against Dark. It just encourages them.

If love was so powerful, why did the US send armies into WWII? Instead they could have loved Hitler and company. Yeah, right. If love is so powerful, why doesn't love drive the reptilians mad with trying to get off the planet? Cause it doesn't work that way.

Love is a very wonderful vibration, one that should be generously used to those who deserve it and who have earned it. Light only cheapens the vibration by blanketly trying to 'convert' Dark. It won't work. If 'all there is, is love', you have imbalance. Love is countered by hate. two sides of the same coin. Bring the love and hate into the refinery to melt and make the wonderful Balance emotion, which has no English word to describe it. Monroe used the word 'loosh', due to no proper word being available.

So, anyone who pushes the "love the Dark" is actually assisting the reptilians and their Dark allies in keeping the planet down. Dark respects strength and lack of fear. The christians fear and love their 'god', according to them. Sure they do. Since their 'god' is a reptilian (no matter WHAT the christians may say, it is what it is), yes, their 'god' needs to feed off their fear and their 'love' of "that which they fear" that makes them open to Dark attack.

What's a sadist going to do if there is no masochist to "play with"? What's a masochist going to do if there is no sadist to punish and use them, "poor sinners" they are? Think about it.

Although Dark and Light are equal halves, you don't “make both halves whole” just by sitting and acknowledging them. They actually have to go through a MAJOR spiritual transformation to join them back. This has to be done on an individual level by your Higher Self, once it has advanced to a certain level. It is not in the interest of those in charge on 3rd density Earth to have this material known. It is very advanced. It will eventually overcome the polarities. Neither Dark nor Light desire this because they dance to the reptilian song both on 3rd and 4th densities.

Victimhood Revisited

The sharp observer notices how many people and several groups alternate between being victims and victimizers. This tactic favors taking on the role of victim first to appear justified when they become victimizers, which is the position of control over others. Once they become victimizers, they will not hesitate to flip back to victimhood if their position of Dark dominance is threatened. These are all facets of the Game. Here's a short list of the most notorious victim/victimizers.

1. Females - The champions of 'do what I say and not what I do'. Since Orion DNA dominance activation in the 19th century, they have learned to become quite brazen in their goal for dominance. Using true inequalities of the past, such as voting rights and equal pay for equal work, females have continued to cling to victimhood status whenever they don't get their way. In order to continue their march to dominance, they continue to manipulate weak men and wave equality flags when true equality is what they fear and would never allow. Final incarnations, male and female, do NOT get involved with this very Dark segment of the Game. Remember the first 2 laws of the Universe.

The females' “need to have gifts” always given to them is a minor mirror of the Orion queen's need to have tribute. If this is not a regular feature in their life, today's female takes on the victim role while victimizing the male in her life.

You are labeled a misogynist whenever you disagree with the female agenda. This is just a method of trying to get you to conform and put you on the defensive. Those who choose to walk in this snake pit have many lessons to learn.

2. Christians - These groups have been victimizing millions since they organized under Constantine. Countless millions have suffered and died at the hands of these master victimizers. It was the Crusades that turned the Middle East vicious. Christians ravaged the American native population. Christianity has been the bane of sanity in the world for almost 2000 years. Nevertheless, they do not hesitate to wear the mantle of victim if anyone criticizes them irregardless of the never-ending onslaughts by christianity of those who disagree with them or live lives outside of christian draconian rules. When a christian toots the freedom of religion horn, they ONLY mean freedom to propagate their brand of poison.

3. Israel and the Jews - Israel is to the Palestinians what the Germans were to them in the 30's-40's. The victims of the WWII era have become the victimizers in the Middle East. The over use of the word 'anti-semitism' has been perfected by American Jews who revel in being victims since they've discovered they can get their way, just like the other groups, if perceived as victims. Anyone who disagrees with Israel or Jewish position is labeled an 'anti-semite'. This is a control term used by victimizers to make themselves appear as victims. Yes, there are true anti-semites such as the Klan and neo-Nazis and anyone who hate ONLY because of their personal religious belief. People are free to believe what they will, but when they try to force it on others, then they have problems. Unlike the christians who try to coerce others to their beliefs, the Jews do not. But the Jews, like the christians, do claim sole connections to the non-existent 'god' and this deity's will. However the overuse of the term anti-semite places them on this list.

Quest of the Spirit – The Ultimate Frontier

© 2000-2003 Leading Edge International Research Group. All Rights Reserved.

4. Blacks - This group is next on the list of self-appointed sacred cow victim/victimizers. Far too often, blacks have been true victims and their victimizers have always been christians. Can you think of any non-christian group that has a history, in America or Europe, of victimizing the blacks, that wasn't christian? Yet the blacks still mostly cling to this corrupt religion. You would think they'd have learned from being victims in the past to not being victimizers in the present. For example, they can say whatever they wish about whites (victimizer mode), but get highly offended if the same is done to them (victim). They have yet to learn if you say things with the intent of being offensive (cracker, whitey), then don't be surprised when you are treated in kind (nigger, etc.). The same with disagreements and decisions. How often is heard "blah, blah, blah because I'm black" as the excuse for something that covers up one's lack of knowledge, competence or a simple disagreement. One's race has nothing to do with it, but one's insecurities love the false victim way out.

5. Hate Crimes Laws - The US Bill of Rights guarantees 'freedom of speech'. With the mountains of laws in this country for every major, minor, petty and ridiculous versions of assault, why the push for punishing people for what they think/say? It's part of the alien plan to remove freedoms and even the appearance of freedoms. The list of victims begging to be included, in the bill to end freedom of speech, grows each year. First it was the blacks, now it's women (no surprise there), religion (read christians and jews) and gays.

There are many things that shouldn't be said, but freedom of speech guarantees you can. The huge amount of minion incarnations mixed in with low level incarnations mean the vast majority are body (therefore emotionally) ruled and do not seem to have the capacity to walk away from words. These, however, are superficial reasons for hate crime bills.

Whereas blacks, women and religions enjoy being victims, gays do not. Since laws in many states are not enforced when the object of the crime is gay, this group feels it must get on the hate-crimes bandwagon. They are deceived by those ruling the planet. They do not see the big picture and only look for a fix to their valid, poor situation. They need to rise above the cloud of victimization and not become as the power hungry women or the seemingly eternal victims/victimizers like the christians. Another group that has valid persecution status besides gays is Native Americans. The others, for the most part, are just a bunch of "oh poor me's".

There are other groups who see the perceived advantages of alternating between victim and victimizers. This is a large part of the Game's rules of 'divide and conquer'. The seed of all this is alien and the Dark polarity. Also remember that by observing these and other elements of the Game, you are far more able to spiral out of it. You are NOT your gender or your race. You are an incarnation of your Higher Self having a human experience. The true object is to regain knowledge of who you really are and suppress the body's will in favor of the spirit.

Dark Expansion Threats

The Handbook tells how the polarities are attempting to extend their reach beyond 5th density and into even higher realms. This will not be permitted, although the polarities will attempt to do so, believing that they just haven't found the right 'formula' to extend their will yet.

The polarities also realize that the Higher Selves have turned the Dark plot against Earth into a rapid advancement course of simultaneous incarnations. The Higher Selves have turned what, on the surface, seems a miserable situation (The Game) and made it a much faster acceleration of spirit than the sequential incarnations of alien lives. This does not sit well with the polarities who seek to control and divide. This is also behind the Orion consideration of wiping out human life on Earth and re-creating a new human life with all the Orion perceived 'flaws' eliminated.

The graduated Higher Selves are adding to the talent pool of beings resisting the expansion of the polarities. What has the polarities on edge is they know that once the densities begin to pull up, they will eventually be absorbed into Balance. For example, when the 3rd density ceases to exist, polarities will lose their major playing stage.

Just like Princess Leia said in Star Wars, the more the Dark tightens it's fist of control, the more systems will slip through their fingers. This does not stop the polarities, but instead makes them more frantic in looking for the always-elusive 'correct' formula for extension into higher densities.

The panic of the polarities is mirrored in the fear of the Orion hierarchy of dying, which is why the Queen on Mintaka is cloned and given life-extending drugs. Polarities greatest fear is the end of polarities and THAT is the Higher Selves greatest expectation. Something more for you to consider.

Vampiric Religion

We are all familiar with stories of how people are buried and come back from the dead as vampires, ghouls or other undead. Well, on so-called Good Friday, the dead body was supposed to be placed in the grave and tomorrow, it rises from the dead just like a vampire. Even though the story is myth, far too many people believe it was literally true. So the vampire rises tomorrow, forms his coffin (church) and continues to suck the money, spirit and lives of the people who are foolish enough to believe in him as he has done for almost 2000 years. Knowledge is the garlic that is guaranteed to kill this vampire if he tries to get into your life or you wish to kill him (again) from your life. Knowing what he is (or better yet-isn't), the purpose of his many churches (as common as saloons in America) and how his priesthood steals away the lives, souls and money of his followers is like cutting off 4th density reptilians from their feeding frenzy.

Good Friday is a great day to show your independence by eating meat. Unfortunately, once the vampire sticks his fangs into you, you become his slave (sheep). Even so, only the sheep can free himself. No one else can 'save' the sheep. You can offer to inform the sheep. Offer to give the sheep the garlic (knowledge) to free himself from the vampire, but unless the sheep's spirit is strong enough to break free, it will be to no avail. If a former object of the vampire breaks free, they become fierce in trying to get others to hold on to the garlic of knowledge. One thing to remember, EVERYONE has their free will and if they refuse to be shown how to free themselves, they MUST be allowed to continue in bondage.

Easter is the day they believe the vampire rises from his grave. It will be a good day to have the garlic (knowledge) handy to truly celebrate your freedom (if so) from the vampire by reading The Handbook or other works that keep you free of the Return of the Vampire into your life. The vampire's minions are persistent and the lure of the vampire (conform) is a sedative, so hold close to your garlic. Once you become strong enough, they can never lure you away!

Observations: "Woman's Awareness"

I don't know if there is such a month as 'Women's Awareness Month', but it should be Women's Awareness EVERY day. Why? Because, although women are aware of their nature, they become very defensive and vile to any man who knows it or comes close to discovering it. Women use outright lies and denials to hide the truth of their nature.

Misogyny is a word for "the hatred of women". This is a term women love to use, but the definition is incorrect. The above definition is coined by women. Misogyny is better defined as one who is aware of the nature of women and deals with them accordingly. This doesn't mean, just because you know their nature (as you know the nature of spiders, snakes, cats, fish, etc) that you can't be friends with them. Knowing their nature means you understand their manipulative nature and other intricacies. For obvious reasons, they don't like it if you call them on their nature. What is...is. A fish can't be a rock. They almost always, in order to take the attention away from themselves, will try and reverse it to you and put you on the defensive (if they can). You must try and resist that ploy.

Women have had covert, manipulative control for ages while crying 'oh, poor me' all the while. That's part of their deception. For the past few decades, they've been seeking overt as well as covert control. By slamming men and elevating themselves as better than men, they've whipped (good choice of word) 99% of the males into believing their propaganda. Now it's common to hear men (especially white men) demeaning themselves in favor of women. The female propaganda has been working. This, of course, has its origins in the return of the Orion Empire's intended open control of Earth and the Orion Empire is dominated by reptilian females.

The vast majority of men (both het and gay) will fall for the female manipulations. The local gay group here has many who want to cater to the lesbians. See, it doesn't mean that the sex act is the aim here, it is deference to the female who doesn't want to be treated equally, but rather as better.

This week, for example, a female pulled into a reserved parking spot. She came out and said, "I guess I'll have to move this. Where can I park?" I pointed across the street to the gutter. She sighs, gets in her car and asks, "Can you help me get out of here?". I said, "No, you got yourself in, you can get yourself out". Of course she did and she knew she could. BUT the purpose of the 'helpless woman' ACT is to control. Boy, was she barking (mooring) up the wrong tree!

Another item: why do females always expect males to buy things for them? Last night I was at a restaurant owned by a friend of mine. The waitress, hearing my conversation with the

MATRIX V: The Gold Edition
Quest of the Spirit – The Ultimate Frontier

© 2000-2003 Leading Edge International Research Group. All Rights Reserved.

hostess, came up and asked, "What would you like to buy me?" I said, "Nothing." She said, "I'm a good date (read whore)." I said, "You're the wrong gender."

Janet Jackson's What Have You Done (Bought) For Me Lately song says it all. Men don't need to have things continually bought for them, but women do, like whores/prostitutes, except with whores/prostitutes you pay them for a service and that's it. With the females men live with, they're always paying and mostly get varying degrees of grief and more demands. It's their domineering nature at work and their succubistic nature draining the male. Man's best friend is a dog (loving). A woman's 'best friend' is a diamond (materialistic).

It gets me when some female is foaming at the mouth, as they do almost daily, while wearing a shirt or top with hearts and roses on it. Those shirts are part of putting men off guard. A woman will do almost any manipulative thing they can to get a man to bend to their will, and the stupid men bow to it. Some females are bossy and domineering about it, some are clever and subtle, but the nature is the same.

The talk radio station yesterday (a man and a woman host) said that "gay men don't have the 'benefit' of a woman telling them what they can and can't do and how they can/can't live." Whip cracking! Why can't a woman be happy being a woman? Why does she want to be a man? They chose the incarnation of a woman for a female experience. Instead they try and change the experience. There are far more genetic flaws in the female physical than the male. The female knows that the male is the source of life and that irks them, so they try and steal the role from him through deceit.

You can be an advanced spirit and have female incarnations. If you are and do, you will admit the nature of the female IF the spirit controls the physical. If the physical controls the spirit, forget it. Even so, I'm sure these advanced ones exist. They do NOT do the 'oh poor me' routines. They do NOT seek to be men. They do NOT play the games females constantly play.

Women and men are incompatible. This was known since the genders were first created by the meddlers. Since the meddlers created the genders, they consider themselves to be owners of Earth's inhabitants. All the grief we have today comes from that original splitting of genders and the continued genetic manipulation by alien groups. IT WOULD HAVE BEEN BETTER OVERALL FOR THESE SPLIT HUMANS TO HAVE ALL BEEN DESTROYED AND THE SPIRITS ALLOWED TO FIND OTHER MEANS OF EXPRESSION.

Due to the energy friction between male and female, an aware/mature male will keep females at a distance. Yes, you can still be friends with them but you must set parameters for them not to cross (but they'll try anyway - it's their nature). You must be strong, but if you are that advanced spiritually, you already are, ONCE you've learned. If you reveal their nature directly to a female, you likely will get the tired old chestnut, 'you hate women'. Another counter-attack to draw you away from them and to yourself. Don't fall for that one.

For those of you who have not advanced to the higher stages yet, you will continue the mistakes of the past UNTIL you learn. Like the guy who got married, gets divorced (from the bitch), then seeks to do it all again. That's the circular cycle that you're doomed to follow until YOU break the cycle, as with all cycles.

Females are becoming more and more oppressive. They do all manner of vile things to males. But if males did any of them to the female, they scream 'sexual harassment'. Again, the bogus female way of disarming a justified male event. Will men ever wake up and backlash? I don't know. The females won't stand for it. Power corrupts them even further, the Orion way. Never forget, females will search for the ideal way to manipulate a man. The only deception to this is the one she gives you and the self-imposed one you have. Breaking the cycle means just that. You must realize that you DON'T need the opposite gender. The need is artificial.

Females would be horrified to see these secrets in print and would use all their manipulations to get a man not to read it or pay it any mind. It's so much easier for them to try and get you to pay attention to your 'insignificant, inadequate' male nature. If they tell you this enough, you will likely believe it. The need you hets feel for a woman is artificial and forced by meddlers in your DNA. It is your body, NOT your spirit in control, but it's your choice to break the control or not.

Final incarnations, both male and female, have no difficulty in seeing these observations for what they are. They are the Orion DNA commands moving to completion. Fortunately there is not much time left on 3rd density Earth.

Observations: "Men's Awareness"

Men tend to be very aware of their nature. Men, being the givers of life, have an abundance of energies. When the genders were first created on Ancient Earth, men and women kept apart, knowing the other was wrong for them. Men had sex with men. Women had sex with women. Both were done for pleasure and the sharing of their spirit in a physical way. The meddlers did not like that. They needed slaves to control. So, they altered the DNA even further adding a desire to reproduce. Unfortunately, they needed the female for the egg matrix, which was taken from the original being, for their sperm to develop into another human. Since females cannot create a being, they arranged the female DNA to crave the energy of the male and reproduce. The rest I've covered in earlier writings.

Men like being men. Men like to horse around and be physical. Women, jealous of men's independent nature, have always tried to get men to stop being men. "Don't fight" "Stop horsing around" "Be like we want you to be" (read - cast aside your male nature and let us control/guide you to be what WE want you to be).

Men are here to develop as a man, not as a woman. You have separate incarnations for that. Once the spirit has matured to a certain degree, it starts to influence the male side to alter to better fit the maturing spirit. The physical behavior becomes increasingly for fun "I'm going to slap the hell out of you" "You're gonna' get a beating". This allows the male expression without the primitive destructive violence.

Talking about the violence, it's usually the manipulations of the female in trying to get a man to be like a woman that brings it out. Trying to (usually) verbally assault a man (as they always do) to be something he's not. Then they wonder why the man lashes out at her. As I've said, men do not belong living with women. The woman is manipulative. The dominance desire WILL show either openly or in subtle ways, but it WILL be there. When the man explodes on her verbally or physically for her meddling, she bitches to other bitches how horrible the man is for not obeying her. "What did I do?" "What's wrong with him?" They will NEVER admit it was her tampering with him that caused the event. Females today believe (wrongly) that it's their 'right' to do so and they get pussy whipped men to cater to their desire to rule. This is all part of the Orion programming.

There is not one man I know who is married or living with a female who is not under her control in one way or another. This is not a partnership situation as it should be, but rather a gender control by one over the other. One guy I know is outwardly dominant and hollers a lot. He married this subtle controller who knows better than to confront the dominant appearing male. I've seen her in action and all the while he's saying "no woman controls him." Yeah, right. Is it his ego too fragile to admit what is happening? Probably.

Why do men stay with these abusive women? Because society demands it, because they fear being themselves, because the body rules the spirit and because the spirit hasn't matured enough to know what is going on - there are also other reasons.

Why are all the guys that I've fooled around with - married with kids? Married men are the easiest to play with, but society/religion keeps them, in public, as conforming. I've heard lots about married women doing the same with other women. It's quite natural. Until both men and women can be true to themselves and their natures, problems will continue and get worse since the females are seeing how much crap they can get away with.

Then there's men who say 'I'm with a woman because she's spiritually like me' or something to that effect. My question is, if you were going by 'spirit compatibility', would you do the same if the spirit was in a male body? Don't think you're going to pull me in on that deception. If men and women were with people they are compatible with, they'd be with the same gender, the ones they like to hang out with, share their secrets with and have things in common with. Would you even consider making a life with someone based ONLY on the spirit? If you lie, you're only lying to yourself.

Men's awareness ... yes, and you have to be true to yourself and not 'change to impress a female', because if you do, you're only submerging your true self which WILL pop up again. Getting with someone whose idea is to change you (female mantra) or getting with someone who likes you for the way you are. It's your choice. What are you going to do?

Testosterone

Have you ever heard men say "There's too much testosterone here"? No, and you won't UNLESS they are under direct control of a female, and then they're whipped. Why do we always hear complaints, from females, about testosterone? Why don't we hear complaints from men about 'too much estrogen'? Because men are happy being men and females are neither happy (as a whole) being female and jealous of the male as giver of life.

Testosterone is a direct expression of male energy, an expression of the ability to give life. Some men have high levels of testosterone (read unable to completely control this) and express it poorly. In most cases, it is a spirit having either it's first or very early incarnation as a male. They could have been female in their last incarnation(s), and now want to try male. When in the male body, they have to adapt to the energy that wasn't there as a female. Similarly, someone who has had a string of male incarnations and is having their first female incarnation, realizes what they no longer have in the physical. If they are advanced enough, they enjoy being a female. If they are not, they are the embodiment of misery loves company with the attitude of 'if I can't have it now, I'll make it miserable for those who do have it'. They attempt to make males feel guilty for being male! Unfortunately, weak and/or whipped males will bow down to the alpha cows. This is connected to the DNA flaws in the male body placed there by the meddlers.

Males can thrive in testosterone atmospheres. Like attracts like. Women seek to invade these areas to feed off the male energy and try and control it for their own purposes. Males tend to bond in testosterone areas, and females see this as a direct threat. Males don't care if females bond in estrogen areas and rarely seek to be part of them. But females are constantly seeking to break down male bonding. There is a severe problem with these (majority) females. The desire to control males is Orion. Females fear that if males bond strongly enough, they will not need females. <They really DON'T need them except for breeding purposes - refer to previous writings on this.> When males try to bond, the females try and intrude, always wanting to burden themselves on the males AND, in trying to control them, will try to get them to NOT act like males, i.e. "Stop fighting".

Females do not understand what is necessary for males and male bonding. Resentment builds as females try and control male bonding, then when the male lashes out at the females, they counter with 'what's wrong with him?'. It's NOT him, it's HER.

It's men who have to take back their power from women (woe to men). This doesn't mean to mistreat them, but it does mean to treat them equally and to treat them firmly when they cross the line. It's very popular for females to talk down to males today (Orion again) and express a faux sense of superiority. As long as males allow this, it will not only continue, but grow. When a female is caught crossing the line, she most likely will try to force herself over the line but using guilt, tears, threats and other control methods. If the male is strong, he will ignore these, knowing she has donned the role of victimizer. If you won't be the victim, her control methods have no effect. If you will be the victim, the alpha cow is happy. This also means several incarnations must be used to try and advance both people beyond the victim/victimizer.

Men let women be women. Women need to let men be men and overcome female's severe insecurities. However, Earth is now primarily a victim mentality planet where almost EVERYBODY is a 'victim' of something. This is another imbalance that must be responded to by a victimizer of equal proportions. It's arrival will be made clear VERY soon.

Orion Empire Lackies: Testosterone Wails

Today's front page, of regional newspaper where I live, screams, "One view: 'Too much testosterone'". This is quoting some unknown attorney who says, "There's too much testosterone going around" in the Middle East.

First of all, who the fuck cares what some unknown ambulance chaser has to say and, then, why does it appear on the front page? Simple, it's part of the anti-male campaign by the rulers of the planet to alter Earth for the intended return of the Orion Empire. They figure that most will say 'if it's in the paper, it must be so'. Low Advanced through much Mid-Advanced will light more candles on the altars of their various goddesses (One thing required to enter Very Advanced levels is the abandoning of fantasy deities such as god/goddesses/angels and related fiction. If you still deal with any of them, you are not ready for Very Advanced levels.)

MATRIX V: The Gold Edition

The anti-male tirades of the cunt-ruled Orion Empire continue at a heated pace as their forces draw nearer to Earth. They want males to feel that all the world's problems are due to them. They want males to submit to the awful sea of estrogen threatening to overwhelm the givers-of-life gender. Since the polarities love the problem-reaction-solution sequence, it's: Problem: men(testosterone) cause war. Reaction: war is bad. Solution: let females rule. This is PURE manipulation in behalf of the Empire and their polarity lackies.

In the Orion Empire, males are not permitted to question/counter/challenge female dictates. Yet the female is far deadlier and more vicious than the males ever were. It is illusion that is being spread like manure and the weeds growing from this shit are visible everywhere today.

What can be done about it? Really nothing as it is a major part of The Game. You can educate yourself and assist others who are open-minded, but the only actual escape comes from spiraling out of The Game. Therefore you can keep much of The Game away from your individual sphere by not participating in its tirades and by not assisting it in the acceptance of the draconian changes that spread like a cancer.

As we are in EndGame years now, it will be interesting to see which Wild Card(s) is/are played to counter these massive controls that the Empire has in place. They WILL be played and they will HAVE to be massive indeed. It can't happen soon enough for me. Keep observing and keep Advancing yourself.

Men Must Take Back Their Power

The news reports that warfare in country Z is "killing women and children". The various movies include the words, "Save the women and children first"...and on and on the blather goes. What happened to the men? Why is it OK that men are killed and not rescued?

Let me tell you, once your spirit has matured enough through evolution, and you see the Game for what it is, you are repulsed by the rules of the Game and astounded that everyone falls for them. The constant drilling that men are expendable has droned on for far too long. It was one thing when women were happy being women and acted like women, but with the 20th century, they decided they wanted to be like men BUT keep the status women have had. They now wanted the benefits without the equal treatment. This topic has been covered before.

The comment I received yesterday from a man who, after reading some of my material, said, 'that's what guys HAVE (my emphasis) to do - anything to keep the woman happy'. I just wanted to scream! This is an ideal example of men giving their power away to women. It doesn't matter who is right or wrong or deserving, just obey the woman. This is giving away of your power, being subservient, just as to obeying the non-existent god/goddess. Giving away one's power means you must reincarnate. Even though we all go through this hundreds of times, once you reach your Final Incarnation, you DO gather all your power and see the Game for what it is. One of your desires is to try and wake up others so they can see the Game for what it is. This can be most frustrating. You MUST reclaim your power to break away from the Game.

The giving away of power by a man to a woman is based on an illusion, a lie. It is NOT the man who 'needs' a woman, it is the woman who 'needs' a man. Here I'm talking about non-gay men and women. If het/bi men ever united and called the women's bluff, there would be lots of fuss and theatrics, but females would eventually cave in, in order to be recharged by the males' energy. Part of the lie is that "women give life". They cannot. They bear the life the male transfers to them. This has also been previously discussed. (Yes, this whole paragraph can be expanded)

Women fear that men, as a whole, will discover the truth about genders and they have tremendous arsenals to keep it hidden and increase their control of men. Going back to the root of this abomination, you find Orion Empire genetic scientists. Remember, the Empire is female ruled and dominated. The Orion belief is that males are controllable and expendable. This has manifested on Earth starting with American females. The Orion queen is pleased.

This belief has been woven into both male and female genetics and encouraged by royal families, the bogus 'lady' on a pedestal crap. Pedestals raise those on it above those below it. No one belongs on a pedestal, least of all because of their gender. Also, alien reptilian shape-shifters have guided the current view of western women to what it is today. This reached high gear in the 20th century due to the planned return of overt control by the Orion Empire of this solar system.

One of the main, if not THE main, attribute the aliens fear in us is our spiritual abilities. The male incarnates are the key here. The Empire uses the Earth females to keep males from discovering who they are and turn their creative, life-giving energy into changing the status quo. Earth females have succeeded, so far, in controlling the males for the Empire, except in one case: the gay groups.

All the bans on gays and lesbians stem from them only partially being non-breeders on the Empire's human farm. The main reason is to keep these people on the defensive so they don't learn how they can use their power, since gay men cannot be controlled by females and lesbians can't be controlled by anyone.

Native American tribes considered a gay tribe member a major blessing as one who walks between both worlds. Gays were considered sacred and defended by all tribe members because their unique spiritual nature allowed them to alter situations in the tribe and for the tribe. Can you see why it was imperative for the European invaders to destroy the Natives or convert them to European controlled ways?

I will only teach my best material to people who have reclaimed their power and defer to no one based on gender, age or status. Retaking one's power takes effort and determination, but once it's regained, you never want to give it away again and you're also ready to spiral out of the Game. For, if you haven't reclaimed your power, you couldn't handle above 4th density. So, be disgusted when you hear of the poor treatment of men, not only because of the women's attempt to keep men away from their power, but mostly because these men allow it to happen. If it's not 'killing people' regardless of gender, it's part of the Game and the Orion master player...and enough is enough!

Observations: Why Monogamy?

Why monogamy? The popular bullshit line is 'for the children'. This is a outright fabrication. The 'children' are the excuse. Deities forbid that they might learn their true nature, after all. No, it all revolves around the female's succubistic nature. She insists on monogamy in order to protect her feeding source, the male, from other females. She does

MATRIX V: The Gold Edition
Quest of the Spirit – The Ultimate Frontier

© 2000-2003 Leading Edge International Research Group. All Rights Reserved.

NOT want to share the pot, so to say. Abundant male energy can easily handle a number of females. The greed of 'I want it all' is one of the hallmarks of the female gender. Knowing that they are not givers of life, they've settled for becoming takers of energy and they guard their source jealously.

In het males, monogamy is more of a power trip. They really don't need to control the female, as they are as common as flies (but more annoying). The DNA meddlers put that damned reproductive urge in humans and het males see female 'luring away' (with energy of another male) as 'denying the male a chance to reproduce'. This, of course, is all physical body controlling the spirit. Many het males will wave the 'children' flag just as readily as spurned females. It's just their core reason is different. It's been outdated for ages, but still exists. The children in Ancient Earth had very healthy lives - no monogamy and no heterosexualism (no genders).

If the spirit controls the body in a het, they will not allow the body to have a jealousy frenzy of mouth foaming and ranting. If they want to be with someone else, let them. If they fear to leave because of the other's ranting, it is Dark side on the part of the controller and victimhood on the side of the controlled. While it's fine to let people be with whom they want to be with, once they've chosen someone other than you, you should cut them off financially. They've found a new person to be with. You should also never take them back. Once they've left you, no matter what they say, they'll do it again. They made their choice. Respect their choice, and they must also respect yours, not to be 'had' again. People who are in a marriage that fails, if they continue the cycle, it'll just be the same thing with a new face. In order to progress, you must break the cycle by doing something new. It boils down to monogamy being an artificial control method. The female fight for the male energy can be quite fierce and competitive. That's pure 3d physical. It does not exist in higher dimensions.

Aware males are quite selective with who they will feed with their energy. Aware males do not drool over females - that's so body dominant. Aware males are also not limited to females. Needless to say, there are not many aware males on Earth in relation to the population. Aware females, although unable to stop the female succubistic nature, can control it to a certain extent and do not insist on monogamy from the male as long as the male is attentive to her needs, but she must be attentive to his needs as well. Aware females are not limited to male partners.

Spiritual compatibility is not limited to opposite gender. If it is, it's the body talking and mutating the spirit's desires. This is just something more for you all to consider.

Observations: Consequences

Why is it that so very few people are willing to accept the consequences of their actions? This is a subset of the victimhood mindset. Why do people complain about the consequences but refuse to look at what brought those consequences about? Here are some examples:

A) This person (T) invites someone to be at his home at an agreed upon time of 1-1:30. The person arrives at T's house at 1PM, knocks on the door and no one's home. The visitor pounds the door several times in case T is in the bathroom or asleep. No answer. Waiting there for a few minutes, he decides that T is either asleep and dead to the world or made other plans and leaves T a note. The person returns home and finds a message on his answering machine. T, with a lot of voice attitude, starts to say how he decided to go out and was kept waiting in line somewhere. Also, he says you were supposed to be there at 1:30. With great indignance, he takes the victim attitude (which does come quite easily to T) – “It's not my fault/I couldn't help it.”

The core decision here is by T to go out and not leave a note on his door stating he will be back. The visitor must guess what's going on. Now, the visitor didn't think this was the end of the world, and although disappointed, he knew it'd work out. However, when T's oh-poor-me message is found with attitude, the visitor wonders why T refuses to take responsibility for his action of not leaving a note. It was an act of omission, an act of carelessness, but it was T's action. T complains about the consequences while refusing to see the cause. All T had to do was admit his error and the problem would have gone away. Instead T chooses to make a bad situation worse by 'it's not my fault' and 'I couldn't help it'...it's YOUR fault. Poor T, will he ever break the cycle?

B) This person (P) wants to “learn all his teacher can teach him”. He promises to do what the teacher says and actually does begin learning. He has shamanic soul retrievals done for him in person. P wants to learn how to do this as well. The teacher says it'll take time, but don't do anything with what is taught until the teacher says to. P goes off to the Monroe Institute to learn out of body techniques. While he's there, some woman is bitching about something (isn't that always the case). P decides to offer to do a shamanic journey for her EVEN THOUGH HE HAS NOT BEEN TRAINED TO DO IT!

P calls his teacher bragging about what he's done and the teacher is horrified. P has disqualified himself from learning shamanic methods because he abused his VERY limited knowledge and did not follow his teacher's warnings and instructions. P also chooses a mundane/conforming path and the consequences of this decision take him away from his former teacher. P disappears for 18 months, then shows up out of the blue expecting his teacher to act as if nothing happened at Monroe or with his conforming path.

P tells the former teacher how he wants to learn 'everything'. The teacher says nothing. P gets upset with the teacher for offering to teach him and then not doing it. Why doesn't P see it was his actions that caused the consequences he's living? When P is told this, P doesn't like it and wants the teacher to share it the blame! Can you believe that! P refuses to see the consequences are there only because of his choices, his decisions to do something that took him away from the learning. But, P says, it's not my fault - I can't help it...it's YOUR fault. Poor P, will he ever be able to break the cycle?

C) This person (L) makes a decision to live and to support another woman. While L is a lesbian, the other woman claims not to be. L financially supports this woman, but spends much of her time complaining about finances and the woman. I told L for her to kick the bitch out. L replies, “I can't do that”. So on and so on. L made the choice to do this then complains about the consequences. It's not my fault, I can't help it...it's somebody else's fault. Poor L, will she ever be able to break the cycle?

D) One last case is that of C. He wants to learn from a teacher. C is in a bad marriage. C has 2 spoiled brats. C has come to realize that getting married in the first place was a mistake. That is good. He recognizes his error. Recognition is only the first step. But C can't break his current cycle and there's always a reason. Oh, I want to learn so much, C complains, but this gets in the way, that gets in the way. Oh, you just don't understand. Yes, I do understand. C is in a cycle that can only be broken by him. There will ALWAYS be an excuse why he can't learn, but C is being controlled by circumstances he set into motion. Unless/until he's ready to break the cycle (and it will be costly as it is a costly mistake), he is doomed to put off the higher learning to play the Game. It's not my fault, I can't help it, you just don't understand...it's somebody else's fault. Poor C, will he ever be able to break the cycle?

I could give you many more examples, but they all end the same. Even those who read and agree with the material in the Handbook (Vol. 1-3) and make progress in other areas, know this: if you can't accept responsibility for your actions, you have far to go. It is a major spiritual step to be able to say, "It's my fault/it's my decision". It's not the decision that is important, for it's just an experience. What IS important is being able to accept that you made the decision and can live with the consequences. If you don't like the consequences, then it's time to make another decision to alter the consequences. The power lies with YOU. If you give your power away (it's not my fault/I can't help it), then you need to reclaim it.

Observations: Trophies

When some men go deep-sea fishing and catch a marlin or something big, or even something much smaller, many like having their picture taken with the catch. This picture becomes the 'trophy'.

When a woman gets married, she wants her trophy too, those damned wedding pictures. That's her trophy AND, more importantly, they litter the house with them, especially the living room and bedroom. This is to remind the man who he belongs to and who has staked claim to his energy. The succubistic nature of women is very jealous in guarding their energy source, especially from other women. They know that women are predators (the reptilian part of them).

Females are always seen hanging around males, but always complain about it. Why, then, do they hang with them? It's their energy which they feed on. They bitch that 'men should be like women, be subservient to women and let women change them to what they want them to be'. This is very Dark side/controlling, but this is their nature. Go to any area, even a gay bar, and you'll find women hanging around, feeding. They don't need sex to feed, although that's a prime way, at least in order to hook their energy source and stake him.

Wedding pictures...do the men, unfortunate enough to get married, run around with their wedding albums. No. It's the female to keep him under her control and warn other females away. Trophies.

Observations: Television Revelation

Last night, on VH1, in a half hour interview with Al Yankovik, he was asked why his music deals with food and TV and never women and sex. He said ALL women will drain the life out of a man and it's a matter of finding one who will drain it slower than the others. Boy, did he get that right! However, once you've spiritually evolved enough to realize that, it's NOT a matter of finding one who will 'drain it slower' (still unwilling to go the next step to break the cycle), it's a matter of having as little as possible to do with them. Of course we all have hundreds of lives in the heterosexual mess, but the purpose of incarnation is to progress.

Once you have reached a certain level, you will realize this and never return to that lower state and the other spirits you're supposed to deal heavily with will be the same gender, thus facilitating mutual growth. If you've reached that level of awareness, you will have prearranged with other spirits to enter the same gender body as you. Until you reach that level of awareness, you will continue to play the Game on the sexual level. Be friendly with females who deserve it, but always be aware that they're looking to feed and stake their claim to a male energy source. This means always (even with a female friend) to keep a certain distance from them and never get too involved with them. Atta' way, Al Yankovik!

Observations: Gender Unrest

Why is it that women aren't happy being women? I've written several essays on this topic, so here's more for you to think about:

Why are women always invading areas where men get together? Why do females try and attach themselves to groups of males? Why can women have female exclusive meeting places, but females insist on violating male exclusive groups? Why is it you don't find men demanding access to female areas as females do to male? Why do females seek to be like males, but males (except for entertainment purposes, i.e. drag queens) do not seek to be like females? Why when you see groups of females together, you don't see male hangers on like you do in male groups with female hangers on?

All these questions and more go back to the core explanation: The male is the giver of life and the female is a succubistic incarnation seeking to feed off males and trying to claim one for her exclusive use. Men are quite happy to have female exclusive clubs, colleges, etc. Females are not happy when men want the same - there may be energy they can harvest in that group. Look at the Citadel in the south. Why were these females foaming at the mouth (while wearing hearts, flowers and kittens on their shirts) demanding entry to this all male bastion? The core explanation fits.

A secondary explanation is the spirit occupying the female body is dissatisfied with the limitations of the experience. It knows it shouldn't have these limitations (blame the meddlers for splitting Earth humans and creating genders), but it doesn't know why nor does it know (until very spiritually matured) who created the mess. (Even so, it desired the female experience.) Instead, it, in the 20th century, began creating problems by trying to be something (incarnate) that it isn't. This division is part of the manipulation caused by the meddlers and current overseers of Earth to further divide the population and cause disharmony.

This is also part of the Orion Empire plan to subjugate males by the females, as in their Empire. The givers of life subservient to the matrix holders. All this fuss is 3rd density big time and carried into 4th density by spirits refusing to see themselves for who they are (non-gendered). This is part of the trap the meddlers have set. They would dearly love it if it could be carried into the 5th density, but that won't happen.

When the DNA glitch occurs in the standard human body, you have gays and lesbians. Why isn't the lesbian, a female, seeking out males to recharge themselves? First of all, ALL spirits in either male or female bodies are essentially the same. Think of it as electricity. Plug a device (physical body) into the electric and it works. The spirit gives life to the physical. Some devices can transmit ideas, some can toast bread, some can light rooms, etc.

MATRIX V: The Gold Edition
Quest of the Spirit – The Ultimate Frontier

© 2000-2003 Leading Edge International Research Group. All Rights Reserved.

Each device is different, BUT the electricity is the same. The female Earth body has been created by the meddlers to drain male energy, among other things. When you have the DNA glitch, the program to drain energy from males is negated, thus allowing the spirit's natural inclinations to show unaltered.

Due to religions' (keepers of the meddlers plans) tendency to curse this as 'unnatural', much fuss is raised over same-sex relationships. Remember, the Handbook correctly states that a 180 degree shift in attitude is necessary to survive the chaos. It's not the lesbian woman who is unnatural or corrupted, it is the heterosexual female that is. The lesbian female does not seek to hang out with males as their het counterpart does. The lesbian knows (on a subconscious level) that it does not need the opposite gender and therefore doesn't attempt to steal energy from a male and is repulsed by the thought. The lesbian knows it is self-sufficient, unblocked/unaltered by the meddler DNA commands.

Again, and I'm getting tired of saying this, but you, being at your level, need to hear it: we ALL go through the experiences of being in both genders. Progression and spiritual maturity will take everyone (eventually) to where they can see the Game for what it is and see how 3d humans have been manipulated. You will come to see heterosexuality as an unfortunate perversion of the spirit that has caused far too much misery because of vastly superior meddler technologies that took advantage of pristine Earth. Meanwhile, non-lesbian females will go on acting as succubi and denying their spiritual selves to let their physical control the spirit until the spirit matures to the level where it can see the true nature of the Game.

Observations: Advanced Female Verification

While visiting a married woman that I know, she commented that what I write about women is true. They usually just 'don't want to hear it' or make it common information known to men. She also said with women, a man has to either obey her or amuse her. If not, he is in for difficulties with her. She also said not only that, but they thrive to know ALL secrets and confidences held by a man. When I heard that, I remember what I said just last week, 'if a woman ever agreed with what I wrote about the nature of females, I think the world would crack.' It did on Feb 19, the day of the Full Moon in Virgo! Knowing their nature does NOT mean not associating with them, it does make you aware and cautions you as to how close you might want one to get to you. What I found interesting was that this confirmation and additional info on women came from a married het female and not a lesbian. It is nice to find an advanced spirit incarnating in a female as well!

Observations - Abortion

The wail and moan over abortion continually raises its head. Most organized religions say a child is 'killed' at any time during an abortion. The majority say it is a woman's choice to decide what to do with an unwanted pregnancy and avoid commenting on the religious stand. From the information in the Library in the Upper Astral, confirmed by my shamanic perspectives, the spirit does NOT enter the body of a baby until it takes it's first breath. Before then, the developing body is primarily dependent on the mother's system. Even when the heart has formed and beats, it is strictly the body, the physical. Spirits who chose to incarnate have much better things to do than lie dormant in a developing physical for 9 months.

But, once the body is born, it shudders as the spirit enters the body and forces the first breath. This makes the newborn an individual, which it isn't before that time.

So why the fuss over abortion? Remember where it primarily comes from - religion. Who is the founder of religion? The aliens in whose interest it is for the slave race to multiply. It is built into the DNA commands. Preserve the physical. It's 'sacred'. All alien commands. The physical is but a tool for the spirit to be discarded when no longer useful. There can be an unlimited supply of bodies on 3rd density Earth, actually more bodies than higher spirits, but that's another topic. It is a low to upper moderate spirit level that requires the birthing experience. These low to upper moderate levels are controlled by the body. They ARE their bodies. Beyond upper moderate levels start to realize there HAS to be more out of life and turn first to no religion/anti-religion, then to the psychic and occult. The static nature of breeding eventually becomes the boring repetition it is. The higher your spiritual level, the less your body you are and YOU control your physical rather than the other way around.

Abortion should be a woman's choice, not imposed by religion, parasitical women or dynasty-oriented men. The image of 'dead babies' is artificial. There is no disgruntled spirit as the spirits KNOW more on higher levels, and are not that fussy on lower levels with regard to incarnating again. The demons the anti-choice crowd raise are, in reality, 4th density reptilian and self-created images, NOT a frustrated spirit whose vehicle he or she was cast out from. Before the first breath, no spirit occupies that body. The anti-abortion mob, just like most christians, are fear and control based and seek to drag the planet into another Dark Age like the one christianity created at the fall of the Roman Empire (starting with Constantine the Apostate).

Minion spirits incarnating into overabundant physical bodies make excellent followers of religious nuts for they ARE their body and really belong in animal bodies.

Since ancient times, Earth's seasons have been divided into winter/male and summer/female. This was based on the purposeful confusion by those aliens when they split the original humans into genders. Before this alien perversion, the residents of Earth not only understood the nature of the planet but the expressions of both its male and its female energies.

As the male is the giver of life, this is reflected in nature as the growing season. This occurs in both hemispheres at the opposite times of the year. The matrix female period is winter when it rests from the male season of life and regenerates for the next season. The intentional swapping of the seasons was the alien overlords' attempt to add confusion to the newly created, genderized humans and keep them from learning their spirits' true selves and abilities.

The genderization of everything by languages also reinforces the lie of genderization of, not only physical, but spiritual. Male, female and neutral all have their own language expression, but there is no provision for both male and female as that was something NOT to be considered. English is the only major, if not the only planetary, language to drop the genderization of everything. However English still does not have a pronoun for male and female inclusive - he (male), she (female) and it (neither male nor female). This stresses you have to be one or the other or neither, but not both.

Observations – Words and Fears

At the Oscars they sang 'Blame Canada'. This song, from South Park's movie, is full of fucks, farts and similar, but yet it was still nominated for an Oscar (unfortunately it didn't win). These people, who are 'offended' by certain words, can be fun to question as to why they are offended.

I asked one woman why she didn't like the word 'fuck'. She said she didn't like the sound of it. Then, she must also find muck, truck and luck offensive as they sound similar. No? then it's not because of the sound. In every case, they refuse to allow further questioning (even though I know the answers to these questions, I'm forcing them to look at the why's and look within).

Another one: why don't you like the word 'cunt'? She says 'I hate that word'. Why? It sounds terrible. Oh, then you must also hate runt, hunt and bunt. No? Then it's not because of the sound.

These are just 2 examples. It's not the sound of the word, it's the meaning of the word. Look at all the words some people find 'offensive'. They deal with sex and bodily functions/parts. these are things that RELIGION has decided are 'sinful' and 'dirty'. They are, in reality, neither. Sex is a taboo because this is a key to your power, something religion never wants you to regain because then you will realize that religion is a sham and something you never needed. The body functions/parts in the banned list include the genital areas which, of course, have sexual connotations. Does anyone bristle when someone calls someone else a 'heel'? No. but it's a body part! Yes, but an acceptable-to-religion body part.

Even many people who claim to be free of religion are timid about using most of these words. This is due to ingrained social/religious programming. This programming must be consciously and deliberately overcome and IT TAKES TIME. You have a genetic history of obedience to religion to overcome. However, once overcome, you NEVER go back.

South Park has gone far in liberating people from religious programming. Religion will ALWAYS be offended about something. Religion is a dinosaur, a relic of an ancient time no longer needed. You must shed the past to enter the future. You must regain your power to control your destiny.

When told by some religious nut that they don't like your language, tell them you don't like theirs either. All that 'god bless you' crap you have to put up with hearing. Remembering that the 'god' of the bible is a reptilian alien puts a whole new slant on the meaning. I tell them 'god bless you' offends me when I sneeze. That makes them stop. How can anyone be offended by that? Well, how can anyone be offended by fuck? You have to turn their game against them to make them reflect on their own words and knock them off their ivory towers. They seek conformity and control. You should be seeking freedom and your power.

Observations - Fat Is Fabulous

Some facts about the role of fat seem to have been forgotten in our rush to be the 'right' weight, which, by the way, nobody yet can tell you.

*Without fat, you would be chained to your refrigerator and you would die in less than 24 hours if you didn't have food. Your fat store, the adipose tissue, is best regarded as a sort of buffer. The amount of fat that goes in and out during an average day is enormous.

*Fat acts as a sort of bubble wrap, cushioning many areas of the body from mechanical shocks. It is particularly true that the padding on the heels allows us to walk or run without pain.

*Various fat stores in the body are designed to do many different jobs besides supplying emergency energy. Fat controls the immune system, mood, behavior and fertility.

Women's fat is placed on the hips and in the breasts while men's tends to concentrate around the waist. Both genders have a large portion of their fat stored under their skin. Scientists have figured out that in ancient times, women needed a low level continuous supply whereas men needed an energy supply that was large and could be drawn upon at short notice. To this day, belly fat is laid down and burns up to 3 times faster than fat in other areas.

So, with these comments, one has to wonder what is ultimately behind the push to be scrawny. As the article says, if you have no fat, you'll be dead in 24 hrs unless you have a constant food supply. Good way to eliminate those who follow the scrawny routine. No one should be shamed/taunted into conforming to what others think they should look like. genetics and individual path plans make us unique, hence we are called individuals. BE an individual and tell the anti-fat people to 'fuck off! They are living proof that misery loves company. With the Changes that are coming and the reduction of Earth humans from over 6 billion to about 500,000, the non-fat ones will die quickest.

Observations - Judgments

The Light side has so ingrained the "judge not" ditty, via the horribly evil christian religions, that it has poisoned valid observations, with fear to make them, by countless people. A judgment is a conclusion made by someone based on observations. They should not be made based on hearsay or physical attributes, both of which are petty. Using physical attributes, such as race, weight, sexual orientation, etc is flawed. Why do people, especially Americans, resort to taking someone's action, then add "he/she's so fat/ugly/gay/etc"? None of those descriptions add, in any way, to a VALID judgment but are just spiteful and reflect the conformist attitude of the spewer.

Judgments should be made on actions - physical, verbal or written. Judgments also should be those which apply strictly to you and your Higher Self's path. Valid judgments allow you to refine your Higher Self's path. Once a judgment is made, you should then apply the Laws of the Universe, especially the second law - Allowance.

One person I know married this horrid female. It was a standard bait and trap move on the part of the female. It was his choice, nevertheless, despite my warnings. My observations of incompatibility fell on deaf ears before the marriage. Time has, of course, proven me correct. Their house is now wallpapered with photographs of her, many in the marriage trap poses (reminding him who is boss). Other photos are conspicuously placed to keep a symbolic eye on him. It reminds me of dictatorships where Hitler, Stalin, etc are glaring down at the masses to keep them in line.

MATRIX V: The Gold Edition
Quest of the Spirit – The Ultimate Frontier

This man chooses to remain in this energy-draining situation. This is his choice. The second law says he must be allowed to follow his path, no matter how painful it is. Where my judgment of this unfortunate situation comes in hand is to apply my observation via the Laws. I do not allow myself to be put into a situation of having to deal with the female, nor will I do anything to enhance the quality of her situation. The laws state to remove yourself from any situation you do not approve, but allow the participants to proceed as they choose. Only a Final Incarnation or a VERY Advanced one will understand this correctly.

Making valid judgments is a necessity for your growth and Higher Self advancement. Resisting to make them or guilt after making them are taints of the Light side which lives to be in a state of fear and to create guilt, which feeds the Dark. Your path is both enhanced and altered by your judgments. Don't hesitate to make and acknowledge them for what they are.

Observations – Violence

Last night I saw a beer commercial on TV where Cheech Marin was repeatedly slapped by these vicious bitches only because he said things (in a singles' bar) like, "I lost my phone number, can I have yours?". Instead of ignoring what he said, they, in ALL cases, became violent and slapped him. There is no call for that kind of behavior, yet one continually sees in film, TV and print that it's ok for a female to be violent against a male even though he hasn't touched her. Why is this violence encouraged? I'd like to see what would happen if she said a comment like Cheech said and a guy slapped her in the face. You know those cunts would raise a ruckus of violence to females, while all the while encouraging violence to males.

NO ONE should be violent to anyone else unless in defense. It is unacceptable for women to be violent against men and then complain about violence against women. Victimizer (woman) becomes victim if she gets her instant karma. If any male is slapped by a female AND he didn't touch her first, he has the RIGHT to slap her back!

And another thing, I keep hearing/seeing how men always should be apologizing to females even if they didn't do anything. What is it with the damned cunts!?! Always manipulating and controlling (Plutonian) and what's worse is that most men buy into their crap. You should never apologize to anyone because of their gender. You only apologize for something you did, real not imagined.

Observations - More Violence By Women

Last night, I saw a beer commercial where 4 different women slap Cheech Marin for making harmless, non-sexual comments. It's a Miller Lite commercial and totally anti-male. I've noticed that so-called sitcoms are getting worse and worse in promoting female violence against males. This is part of the Orion program for female dominance and making males subservient.

MATRIX V: The Gold Edition

It's like a cancer, spreading and destroying. The men go along with it due to THEIR DNA programming. This is why such a fuss of 'you hate women' is bullshit and pure victimhood. The female DNA structure recognizes when someone isn't following the Game and it blows the siren with the shrill 'you hate women' campaign. Then, if they can't convert you to the new ways, you will be isolated and marked with their curse. Of course this has nothing to do with 'hating women', it has to do with recognizing what's going on and trying to alert others to it. Why do men become so defensive with these miserable females throw the 'you hate women' line? Why don't you hear 'you hate men'? It's all in the DNA command structure and the position of the spirit in its evolution. An Advanced incarnational spirit wouldn't stand for that and a Final Incarnation has much to say on that topic. When Washington dumps the 'violence against women' project and replaces it (won't happen) with 'violence against people' project, then I'll take notice.

Observations - Police State

In one northeastern state, several kids have been thrown out of school for the so-called zero tolerance of violence bullshit. Four of the kids (grammar school) were tossed out because they were playing cops & robbers in the playground and using their hands as, gasp, guns! Another young grammar school kid was tossed out because he drew a picture that MAY be a gun and scribbled words that MAY be a threat even though it can't be read cause he's so young. These are just 2 of the incidents this week. This is all bullshit. It's police state programming with the consent of the majority of the people, just like in Germany in the 30's.

The Light polarity AND the Dark polarity both want this to happen for different reasons. The Light is, as usual, in its holier-than-thou mode and believes if all guns are removed from sale, the criminals will give theirs up and it'll be 'love & light'. BULLSHIT! The Dark loves the Light doing this and being most vocal to remove guns because they know once the guns are removed, then it's all over for the U.S. and the Dark will take control with overt, rather than today's creeping, dictatorship, although 'creeping' has become running today because Dark knows how short time is for their plans to be fulfilled.

What gets me is that people STILL say America is 'free'. How stupid can these people be??!

I saw the old movie 'Judgment At Nuremberg'. The criminals judging the criminals. The US Prosecutor wailing about how many civilians the Germans killed. Oh, who bombed German cities? Who dropped the nukes on Japan? The Germans and Japanese started it, they say. OK, but why did you have to do the same and then try to act morally superior when you're just as guilty?

American atrocities continue: bombing civilians in Serbia and in Iraq, for example. Where's the trial of American politicians and military for these crimes? You can't do that, they say. We're Americans. Yes, and that's a major part of the problem. America is a Cancer country. Cancer is the sign who can dish it out but cannot take it. Only the Germans should have tried other Germans for what they did in their country, not foreign conquerors. What come around, goes around.

A while back, there was a brief flurry of activity around Americans killing civilians in Korea during the Korean War. The former military responded that they were only carrying out orders. Really? That's what the Germans said and it didn't wash then, so why does it now? America, while it SHOULD be an icon, is anything but. Those who think otherwise live in denial. What's that song, God Damn America? Why damn? Because it was the American citizenry (vast majority) who allowed America to go corrupt. As the Handbook says, we must accept responsibility for our actions. Actions such as voting for people (Roosevelt, Lincoln, Wilson, Clinton, Bush, etc) who had nothing in mind except to strip away American freedoms for creeping dictatorship: Take away states rights, allow the destruction of Pearl Harbor, drag the US into European wars, etc. Well, America, this is what you wanted and what you got.

Observations: Voting and The Game

Election day is almost here and it's Kodos vs. Kang, as in The Simpsons episode of 2 aliens disguised as humans. Both major presidential candidates are part of the Game, fronts for the aliens and the Dark who currently control the Earth. Just as in The Simpsons episode, it won't matter which of the 2 major candidates gets elected, the Orion agenda will continue.

The idea of 'wasting your vote' by voting for one of many third party candidates is a lie that the overwhelming majority of the country buys into. Even when the people, who found out the major 2 candidates are alien (in The Simpsons) and say they'll vote for a third party, the aliens say 'you're throwing away your vote' and the people reluctantly agree with them! That's all part of the lie. A third party candidate is governor of Minnesota!

While the major 2 candidates have some differences to what they promise, they will both obey those who control them from behind the scenes, and that's NEVER the people. Unfortunately, the majority of the people are minion and low level incarnations who always believe the government or just don't care as long as they're fed, watered and housed. Mid-level incarnations are more concerned with conforming, in most cases, than in researching. Advanced level incarnates realize the government and politics are lies. Many refuse to vote at all, which is approved by the Game, because they won't threaten the 2-party system (2 sides of the same coin, in reality, and the coin interior is the Orion/Dark faction). They didn't figure on the rebellion in Minnesota. Imagine if it happened in a national election.

Voting is NOT giving your power away. It is expressing your opinion in running the mechanics of the country. The Game counts on your vote for one of the major 2 or not voting at all. If you genuinely feel comfortable with either of the major party candidates, that's one thing. However, if you don't, examine 3rd party candidates and vote for one you really support. If you can find none who you support, maybe you will choose not to vote. Never vote for the lesser of 2 evils. That you view them as 2 evils (and they are) is enough for an Advanced incarnation to look to someone other than the 2 evils. A vote for the lesser evil is STILL a vote for evil! Remember this on every election day.

The Third Density EndGame

Still in the Game?

I believe you all recognize the Game, but are you still in the Game? If so how, by how much and are you eager to exit the Game or continue? THERE IS <NO> WRONG ANSWER!! You are where you are, and that is neither good nor bad. It's YOU!

So, intellectually knowing the Game is one thing. You may enjoy playing the Game. You may want to continue playing the Game, regardless of the nature of the Game. WE <ALL> MUST PLAY THE GAME and WE ALL MUST LEAVE THE GAME. Once your spirit/Higher Self-extension matures enough to be uncomfortable with the Game, it wants to know 'why'. It knows everything is not what it seems to be. This can take several incarnations or it can take few, but once you begin to spiral out, you rarely fall back UNLESS you desire to. Even if you fall back into the Game, you never quite play it the same, as your progression of Higher Self will reel you in even if it takes several incarnations. Your FINAL incarnation is the pilot of the ship. The other incarnations are 'crewmembers'. You will have a nagging feeling in the back of your mind because you've been exposed to higher material. This material will help awaken you to who you really are. If you deny this and your feelings, you're only fooling yourself and delaying the inevitable.

Fighting the changes (even on an individual level) will cause you pain and turmoil because the body is temporarily overpowering the real you. In other words, you cause your own suffering because you're fighting your true (Higher) self. When you flow with the changes, life is exciting and the stream of higher information is incredible because your spirit dictates to the physical, more than the other way around.

Intellectually agreeing to observations about the Game is one thing, but if you keep fighting what you've learned in order to continue playing the Game, regardless of what you now know, will bring unwanted upsets into your life.

Here are a few examples of the Game: Does the drive to make money overcome your desire to learn spiritually? Does society outweigh your decisions to change? Do others' opinions take precedence over yours? Do you say, "I can't say/do (whatever) because society doesn't approve"? Do you enjoy hearing others break taboos (that don't physically harm anyone), but you 'just couldn't do that'? Do you really enjoy the company of your same gender friends but can't complete the friendship (energy exchange) because "I'm heterosexual". Do you worry what others think about your hair/clothes/opinions? These are ALL some of the signs of the Game and the body's control of the spirit as well.

Of course, one of my favorite peeves is the "I can't because I'm heterosexual". YOU'RE not heterosexual. That's your body speaking. Since we are all the same out of the body, THE SAME, your spirit is androgynous!!! Like attracts like in the spirit. As I've said so many times before, the genders are artificial constructs by vile meddlers and everyone bought into it.

Religion and society are meddler-institutions that are there to insure you don't find out what is. WE ALL HAVE TO GO THROUGH THE CURSE OF WHAT THE MEDDLERS DID <FOR THE EXPERIENCE>. We were all cursed with heterosexuality and its divisiveness.

Once you've connected with the spirit/Higher Self AND it overpowers the physical enough to be dominant, you will experience the true nature of the spirit. If you deny the true nature of your spirit, you're still playing the Game ... AND THAT'S OK. Just be aware of where you're headed. You cannot reach your maximum power with the attitude of "I'm heterosexual". All gay or all lesbian circles are FAR more powerful than mixed gender because those in the gay/lesbian circles allow their full power to flow (even if the Higher Self hasn't matured enough to really appreciate it). You will know you're more in touch with your Higher Self when you've advanced mentally to the bisexual stage. This stage is caught between the body and the spirit, but it IS progress, although it denies the incompatible nature of male and female physical (too much damage caused by the meddlers).

This is really quite deep and intricate. These are just a couple more leaves from the tree, and I've given you others in the past. If you want to know more, there is more to know, far more. If you wish to continue the Game, enjoy it!

Words are not enough in making the transition from 3rd density, body controlled existence to higher density, spirit controlled existence. Actions MUST proceed once you've come to conscious acceptance of the changes. If you refuse because ("what would my parents/friends/society think?"), then you bring your own problems to your door and only you can correct the error.

If you say, "I agree" but continue to heatedly chase money on the stock market/seek to get married/want to have kids/need the opposite gender, etc, you haven't spiraled out far enough to make the break with the Game.

As I said earlier, this may take several incarnations. That you're getting this information at all says you've advanced enough to at least begin spiraling out. DON'T PUT YOURSELF DOWN IF YOU STILL WANT TO PLAY THE GAME, IN ANY DEGREE. The other side of that is, don't put down those who are spiraling out and at the end of their individual journey of incarnations. One guy once told me, "You're no better than I am, EXCEPT for everything you know". Indeed, and then the Game caught him, he stopped growing at the rapid pace he was, got married and had a child. Play that Game!! However, this was his choice and I honor the choice. It gets them when I don't make a fuss over their choices, but they don't like the consequences of their choices either (that's the spirit making them uncomfortable for their decision).

One other point, once you've started spiraling out, don't look back on others down your nose with comments like, "he/she hasn't progressed" "he/she is still at the level they were a year or 2 ago". It doesn't matter. Don't be a snob and look down at them for where they are. Be concerned with where you are, not where they are.

Matrix V and The Time Machine

I will make some comments on the new film, The Time Machine (2002), which I just saw. If you don't want to have segments of the film revealed, read no further. This film is recommended. The most important segment is when there is a murder and the time machine inventor goes back in time to try and prevent it. While he does stop that incident, the person winds up killed anyway AT THE SAME TIME in another location, but still violently. NO ONE can intervene when a Higher Self's decision/path is set. That incarnation WILL die when scheduled. So the inventor's quest is to find out why he can't prevent the person's death.

A statement made in the film is wonderful: "If you don't like the answer, you shouldn't have asked the question". So true, so true. I can't tell you how many times I've been asked questions and the people aren't looking for knowledge but rather confirmation of their position.

The time machine took him to 2037 when the end of the world occurs. Take off 30 years and you'll be much closer to the time. When the inventor moves forward in time, he comes to Earth as a desert. THIS is what I have seen in 2200 and so have thousands of others who have independently travelled, as an assignment, to that year. I was surprised to see that.

One other important clue - the Morlock leader (reptilian) who is reptilian controls the others who act very Sirian (wolfish). As he said, if it wasn't for his control, they would eat all the humans in a few months. Because the time traveller was SO stupid and tries to make everyone like him (no Law of Allowance for him), he winds up killing the Morlock leader (who was correct in what he said) and causes the Sirian types to run rampant (as they would do if not for the Orion Empire). He tells them that humans are their food and that's the way it's been for 800,000 years. The traveller should have left it alone. If you can't see why, you still have FAR to go in your learning.

Observation: Polarities and EndGame

The EndGame scenarios require BOTH polarities to be as active as possible. On one hand, there's Dictator Bush in DC (siege hell) as one of the visible Dark polarity icons surrounded by all his fascist/religiously rabid supporters and an easily deceived public. On the other hand is the Light polarity with the 'love not war' and power giveaway mentality. The Game NEEDS both polarities in EndGame since the conflict between them creates the energies that the lower astral feeds on (chaos). BOTH sides use fear as their main weapon - fear of nebulous terrorism, fear of war, fear of death (body ID), fear of different ideas, etc. This fear's use is intended to stimulate you to give away your power to either polarity and to allow them to manipulate you if you do so. If the fear methods had no effect, neither polarity could exist. This tells you the major reason why minion incarnations are encouraged - easily controlled humans with no simultaneously incarnating Higher Self "interfering".

The politics is dirty Dark. Bush lies over and over again in his attempts to control the public and world opinion. For everything he says about his enemies, you can delete their names and insert his. He knows that most Americans will foolishly respond to patriotic themes and body ID fears, so keeping up unnecessary "terrorist alerts" is meant to keep the public off balance.

The Light polarity focuses of fears of death and dying but from a different perspective than Dark's. Dark wants to kill for power. Light wants to preserve all life as bullshit 'sacred'. Death fears appeal to those who are still body controlled and to minions, but minions will almost always choose the baser Dark path. Meanwhile Higher Self incarnates, although in both polarities, will tend to choose the Light polarity in the lower through mid-Advanced levels.

Those in Very Advanced and higher levels know that Bush is a sack-of-shit traitor to the Constitution, and that the Lightside hand-wringers are out of step with the thrust of the Game but still serve it. The nature of EndGame is not peaceful co-existence, but rather to go out in a hail of activity, the Grand Climax. The Game certainly doesn't want Light in control in this sector of the galaxy, but, at the same time, doesn't want Dark in full control either (yet) since that would end the major conflict here. Yes, Dark wins if the Alien Wild Card is played, but the fear of the Orion Empire would create a Thanksgiving feast on the lower astral for quite a time.

It could very well be that several Wild Cards will be played at the same time. The obvious card is the War Card. Meanwhile, that second moon in orbit of Earth visible from the southern hemisphere looms along with record ufo sightings all over - the Alien Card. Another is the Earth Changes Card. The Earth planetary spirit is pissed with the polarities and that has been made known in weather/geological patterns. The Asteroid-Hits-Earth Wild Card - they would never tell us if one was really going to hit Earth. Any government (all of them) based on lies/lying to their public cannot be trusted to tell the truth if it were not in their interest. There are also other Wild Cards in the deck as well. For those observers reading this, just keep watching and taking mental notes.

Occasionally I hear someone say that those who are trying to stop the War Card from coming into play should stop and let the Game move into an even higher gear. The Game's pace will not be rushed or retarded. The Game is proceeding as it intends and the Lightsiders are necessary as they irritate the Dark players even more thus causing more dissention. As I said earlier, BOTH polarities are needed for EndGame. October 02 is particularly astrologically active in the negative sense. My advice for you is keep observing and making mental notes - look deeper than the surface events to see if you can spot polaric manipulations and Game thrusts.

Wild Cards, Events & Participation
(Special Gold Edition Segment)

During EndGame, there is a dramatic increase in Events and the playing of Wild Cards. How are YOU dealing with these? How will YOU deal with them as they are played? Last night (2/20/03), I was told that an "Amber Alert" was flashed on one area's television screens - ALL channels. However, other than listing the counties involved (I believe it was state-wide), the people told me that there was no sound or other caveat on the screen. They told me that they were "so afraid" and didn't know what to do. That is exactly what the government want you to say and the state of mind that they want you to be in. I said something to the effect of 'what a shame that nothing happened'. The response was 'yeah, we expected you to say something like that'. It turned out the 'alert' was 'unintentional'. Right, you know what I think of that statement!

MATRIX V: The Gold Edition
Quest of the Spirit – The Ultimate Frontier

© 2000-2003 Leading Edge International Research Group. All Rights Reserved.

This was a minor Event, true, but it served a purpose for those who rule. I heard that the talk radios all over the state were filled with panic talk on this incident. Remember that the government has been instilling fear into people for the last 1.5 yrs (9/11). Americans are basically prime for the picking. Then an oil tanker explodes near New York City today. One of the talk radio moderators said that he was so angry at being always in fear that he wants to "bomb some country". The government loves that kind of response too. Fear continues to rule. Expect more fear inducing incidents around the country. The Year from Hell continues.

Examine your reactions to these types of Events. It is far easier to say what you would likely do when it is a textbook style lesson, such as what people in California thought when New York had its Event in 01. Their reactions are significantly different than those people in New York/New Jersey.

My advice is to be as mentally prepared as you can be. Arm yourself with knowledge according to your stage of Advancement. Your Higher Self has already chosen the experiences you are to have. Trust in YOUR Higher Self. Those in Very Advanced levels will resist getting caught up in the moment by refusing to become one of the mob. That may turn out to be your experience OR it may be your experience to observe the mob. Both have valid points relative to your stage of Advancement.

As for me, the Observer mode has been on for years now, but an Awakened Final Incarnation has a class of its own. The smallest number of Observers will be Final Incarnations. Low, Mid and through mid-Advanced levels will almost totally be manipulated by the government, Events and Wild Cards. Don't worry about them. That's their experiences. Remember the Universal Laws, especially the Law of Allowance. Let your Higher Self be your guide.

If you fall to pieces, that's your experience. If you try to be a group leader/icon, that's your experience. If you commit suicide, that's your experience. If you go along with the mob, that's your experience. If you stand back and watch, that's your experience. These examples can go on and on, but you get the drift.

You will be where YOUR Higher Self requires you to be no matter if it is in a city, small town or hidden in the mountains. Don't worry about the 'should have/could have' thoughts that will race through your mind. Most of that is body survival command structure. That structure will try to get you to lose any semblance of balance you may have. Then, when it is your time to depart this sector of the Game, your Higher Self will guarantee that you will die according to shim's pre-chosen decisions for this incarnation. Trust in your Higher Self!

Endgame & Simultaneous Incarnation Higher Selves

This time period is unique from all others since Atlantis was destroyed. We have instant global communications, electronics both known and unknown (to the public) and the ability to experience other alien influences without leaving the planet. In former time periods, pre-U.S. civil war, few people went farther than 20 miles from home. Today you can hop a plane to the other side of the globe any day of the week. By flying to foreign countries you can experience the difference in cultures, standards, foods (to a certain extent), languages, ethics and much more. These are remnants of the alien races that engaged in genetic manipulation after the Orion Empire created genders here. You can discover that the ROOT of foreign languages is similar to the alien languages of those who tampered on Earth. This also refers to written languages. These, of course, have changed/adapted as time progressed, but the alien flavor remains. For example, Chinese and Japanese look the same to untrained eyes, but they are very different. Yet the written versions bear similarities to their Rigelian origins.

This was part of The Game, as I have stated previously, to experience this WIDE variety without leaving Earth. However before this time period, people could not really experience them as they can today. This PLUS the Endgame situation means that ALL simultaneously incarnating Higher Selves have an active incarnation or two or three during this WHOLE period starting with the late 1800's. I have seen one of mine in the World War II period.

As for now, we simultaneous incarnates are here for Endgame. There ARE Final Incarnations, Dominant Incarnations, many Very Advanced incarnations and loads of other levels of incarnations. It is up to that individual Higher Self to decide which incarnation would be present, and what shim wants that incarnation to experience. There are many Final Incarnations out there who will never reveal themselves as they choose just to observe. That is their choice, although they are very interested in the Matrix 5 project. Like always, if you want to discover what incarnation you are, YOU must take that up with YOUR Higher Self.

This time period is excellent for learning (computers, TV, huge libraries of books, etc) as has not been so since Atlantis. This is the climax of The Game. That the polarities are trying to undo the differences that were FAR more pronounced before this age, shows how they intend to make Earth like any other homogenous Orion Empire world. This will not happen.

Experience whatever you feel pulled to. Don't let the polarities dictate what you should/shouldn't do. The word 'terrorist' has become a code word for anyone who doesn't tow the one world line. They use this word for violent people, but also for any other person/country/group that won't tow the line and people BELIEVE that shit! This is a central part of the Orion Empire plan - anyone who disagrees is a 'terrorist' or 'traitor' or 'unpatriotic'. These are ALL lies, but you must be Advanced enough to see through this propaganda. They don't want us to travel, hence all the hassles at airports. Fear is what they are trying to spread. ALL this is part of Endgame and we are here to observe and experience according to the needs of our own Higher Selves - the REAL you.

Falun Gong and The Game

The Falun Gong organization was cracked-down upon by the Chinese government, as we all have seen. The government said they were a threat. The group said they were only gathering to meditate. Why the fuss by the government?

Falun Gong organized to meditate to change their lives and their country for the better. The Handbook for the New Paradigm warns people NOT to organize to do this. By organizing, they formed a visible structure with a leadership. This indeed IS a threat to the Game and the Game moved against them, as the Handbook warns it will.

The Game will not tolerate any SERIOUS challenges to it. Robert Monroe warned about this as well. What the Handbook says to do is be individual or maybe 2 or 3 people, but definitely not an organization. The Falun Gong in China involves thousands. That's a lot of linked spirits working for a good cause, but the Game's masters are always on the lookout for these activities. The Chinese moved in when the Game was threatened by Falun Gong which means the Game's energies were being tampered with. They have protections against this.

Quest of the Spirit – The Ultimate Frontier

Falun Gong did not disappear from China, but the organization has been dealt with. That lesson must be applied to the rest of the world where ALL people are monitored, especially in the US, Canada and Western Europe. Conversations are monitored through the phone lines and much more. Read the 3 volumes of the Handbook to know how to improve yourself. Don't worry about tampering with the Game. Concern yourself with spiraling out of the Game and connecting to your Higher Self. The Game will not tolerate Falun Gong type attacks, but will not move against you working within yourself for yourself.

Observation: Body ID In Control

This appeared on CNN's website (Apr 19,02):

SAN FRANCISCO (Reuters) -- Clothing maker Abercrombie & Fitch said on Thursday it was pulling a new line of Asian-themed T-shirts after Asian-American groups complained they were a blatant example of racist stereotyping. The shirts, which retail for $25, hit the shelves this week and carry caricatures of slant-eyed Asians in conical hats along with such slogans as "WONG BROTHERS LAUNDRY SERVICE: TWO WONGS CAN MAKE IT WHITE" and "WOK-N-BOWL -- CHINESE FOOD AND BOWLING." "It is not and never has been our intention to offend anyone," Abercrombie spokesman Hampton Carney said. "These graphic T-shirts were designed with the sole purpose of adding humor and levity to our fashion line. Since some customers have been offended by their content, we are pulling these shirts from our stores," he added.

Body ID has become central to most Earthers. WHY? Because the Game and the Orion Empire do NOT want you to know that you are NOT your body. If you believe (look at the word 'beLIEve' and see what is central to the word) you are your body and are here for one incarnation, then you will allow your body to rule you unless your spirit matures enough to get over it and know that shim is incarnated in ALL kinds of bodies and Earther races. Therefore, it really doesn't matter if you joke about one or another or ALL of the races/genders/etc. You are them all. If you can't laugh at yourself, you will NOT be able to spiral out. This carrying on about being 'offended' over the slightest thing makes an Awakened Final Incarnation just shake his head at the foolishness AND one other thing, you aren't ready for the Matrix 5 materials yet.

If you are offended because someone makes a comment on race or gender, get over it. One example: I watched Politically Incorrect and the black panelists are all arrogant over the use of insult words used by non-blacks. They say 'you can't nigger (or anything else that they consider as insulting' to us, but yet at the next breath say 'cracker, honky, whitey, etc.' to white people INTENDING the same insult to whites as they refuse to accept for themselves from whites. Double standard - we can be racist but no one else can. When it should be, for those wallowing in the Game, if you don't want to be the brunt of those terms, don't use similar ones and if you use them, expect them to be used back to you.

The Game basks in such injustices and encourages them. They breed resentment, fears and Dark emotions that feed the low astral beings and encourage more conflict. When I talk with other Very Advanced, I can refer to past incarnations as any race I have been and do it with humor because I know who I am and am definitely NOT my physical. It's ALL about experience.

Observation: Zigzag, Body ID & The Game

"Fear will keep them in line" says the Dark AND the Light polarities. As you know, there is a drama happening, in the Washington, DC area, of a sniper randomly shooting the locals. The fear being generated in that area is a feast for the lower astrals and is conditioning those who live in that area. The latest test of control involves this "safety tip" from police ("WHEN outside, move quickly and walk in a zigzag pattern") to those who want to tempt fate and dare to move outside their homes <sigh>

For those who have been regular Matrix 5 readers, you know that your Higher Self has chosen the manner and the time of each incarnation's death. As I wrote in the Time Machine 2001 segment, there is NO way to alter that once the incarnation has begun. Those who have died and will still yet die in this planned event are fulfilling their Higher Selves' plan. If your incarnation has a violent death and you, knowing that, were to hide in your home on that day, you would STILL die violently on the appointed time. A plane crashes into your house, a truck rams your house, a meteor levels your house and so on.

This zigzag nonsense is something that those in control are using to gauge obedience under fear. The government has the ability to catch ANYONE that they WANT to. 'Want' is the key here, but if the government is involved...connect the dots. If you go to the Library on Monroe level 27, go to the Current Events sections and discover some of what is to be enacted in this EndGame scenario. If you are meant to know...you will know what these events are. While you can discover Game Wild Cards in the Library, which Wild Card(s) will be played is not available (yet) to us even in the Library. That's part of the Game's restrictions and, I have discovered, that is for the overall best.

The people you may see zigzag moving in the DC area are all body ID'd people. Minion incarnations will be fierce zigzag movers. Higher Self incarnations below Very Advanced stages will do the zigzag trot too, but something will nag at the back of their mind in the Advanced stages. This will be an impulse from their Higher Self. These are valuable learning experiences for both Game participants and the much smaller section of Game observers. For myself, I'll be watching the news and hope they show video from the air of the zigzag trots and I'll laugh. Expect fear based conditioning to increase. 2003 is set up to be the year from hell. Stay tuned. Fear rules in the US.

Observation: Drums of Fear

Do you get a load of the bullshit that the American and British governments have in play?! Tanks at Heathrow Airport in London and missile batteries pulled around Washington. Will there be a tank invasion of Heathrow? What country will be firing long range missiles at DC? This is ALL FOR SHOW and to raise the fear levels in people. Chicago shows their emergency services activated. Fear, Fear and more FEAR!

The American government tells people to stock up with a 3 day supply of water and other items for "terrorist attacks". The only 'terrorists' to strike have been the American government in the past 1.5 years. This government is using terror and fear to influence the population and control the attitudes of the public to cater to the whims of government. This is to raise the fear levels in people because in fear, people give away their power. The governments know this and are exploiting it! It's also been said on television that the duct tape/plastic is worthless. I agree.

Quest of the Spirit – The Ultimate Frontier

They want your power because without your power, they are powerless. They know it, but most people DON'T know it. Minions quake and shiver. This is why the majority of the planet is minion incarnated. Minion incarnates will eagerly give away their power because this is the order of things in the animal world carried over to minion-human event. Low and Mid level Higher Self incarnates will also give away their power. This is part of their experiences. You can see that there are relatively VERY few Very Advanced and Final Incarnations around. These are in the process of taking their power back. Mid-Advanced incarnates can be torn between giving power away and taking it back. A mid-Advanced level will believe that Iraq is the cause of problems. A Very Advanced level knows that Iraq is the symptom but not the cause. The cause is to blame, not the symptom, and, anyway, this is part of the Game.

This is the Year From Hell. So far it is well justified, but it will get much worse. This is not the time to give away your power, but the time to take it back. EndGame is here. Depending on your level of Advancement, you will either give your power away, struggle to get it back or be an observer. Observers do not give their power away. Do what YOU must.

Observations: Clinging to Body Identification and Victimhood

This is appeared in tonight's CNN-Europe's site headline:

01 September 2001- "Africa calls for slavery apology" . "African leaders have called on the U.S. and Europe to apologize for their part in colonial slavery but are divided on whether to insist on reparations."

These guilt dispensers are trying to lay the blame for what happened in the 18th century and earlier on today's inhabitants of Europe and the US who had nothing to do with the situation, now that we're in the 21st century. The Arabs were BIG slave traders, and still engage in the practice in some areas, but they aren't mentioned. Maybe the victims/victimizers fear they'll 'come & get them'?

So, why are these people engaging in this scam? A segment of American population says that much of America was built on the backs of slaves. True, but that was then and this was now. But the Japanese and the WWII European Jews got money, so WE want some too. There are many of those people still alive today. This is recent history, not history that ended shortly after the mid-19th. None of those people OR their children are alive today on BOTH sides of that problem - slaves & owners. The people alive today are only distantly related to them.

One other, and more important, thing to think about is that we could have all been in bodies of slaves in those well-past times and we could have also been in bodies of slave owners too. It's all experience, after all. These people, so body ID'd, are just looking for quick bucks. But, they say, the American government didn't keep promises made. The American government NEVER keeps promises it makes unless it is convenient. This has always been the case. Look at all those Native American treaties-of-convenience (of the moment) that were broken when Washington felt like it. Same today with reptilian Bush breaking arms and other treaties made with Russia. The American government is one of the Darkest on the planet. Should you expect any less of them?

Quest of the Spirit – The Ultimate Frontier

So, these clowns want apologies for the distant past, well, then the Greeks will want apologies from Turkey for occupying their land and making Greeks into virtual slaves. The Spanish will want apologies from the Arabs for plopping themselves in Spain. Then there's those damned Huns making slaves all over parts of Europe. The Israelis are carrying on over some ancient crap all because of 'we believe we use to live here in the past'. Using that logic, the Native Americans can toss all Europeans out. Then that damned Roman Empire - the Italian government should be apologizing all over the place for everything that happened under their rule. These are just a FEW examples of dragging up OLD stuff and body ID/ victimhood. SO petty. SO unwilling to get on with life.

You can't blame the descendants of long gone generations for stuff their ancestors did. It's SO body clinging and goes against spiritual development. Let's see, maybe next the Southern US states should demand an apology and reparations for the Yankee burn and kill of civilians during the Civil War. The Dark will do ANYTHING to increase the division of people on Earth. I can't imagine how it could be any more divided here! It's time for The End!

Difficult Aspects of The Game: Slavery & Victimhood
(Special Gold Edition Segment)

This segment is written with the Very Advanced in mind only. The Game and many of its components have been written about extensively in Matrix 5. There are light, easy areas; heavy, dark areas and some extreme trying areas. Your Higher Self wants experiences in ALL areas. This is necessary to spiral out and handle above 5th density realms.

One of those extreme, difficult areas (from an incarnational point of view) is slavery. Slavery has existed on Earth ever since the alien genetic scientists split the Ancient Earthers into two genders. First it was human slavery to alien masters. The aliens created the black race specifically as heavy, manual laborers, but not all slavery is manual in nature.

After the aliens left or moved behind the scenes, slavery continued. Atlantis had slaves as did other cultures of that time. Slavery continued after the flood period and it was common all around the world. Slaves were black, white, yellow, red and brown (plus some others). Conquered countries became slave fountains for the conquerors. Greeks, Egyptians, Romans, Chinese, Japanese, Nubians etc all had slaves of one sort or another. There were manual labor slaves, menial labor slaves and educational/teaching/mental oriented slaves. Slavery is part of the Game experience. Some slaves were treated very well, many were not. Slavery still exists in some small parts of the world today, although it does not get publicity it did in the past.

The ending of most slavery didn't get its start all that long ago, relatively speaking. It isn't that slavery is no longer a facet of the Game. It is that slavery is gaining a different connotation. The Orion and Sirian Empires certainly have slaves and they do consider Earthers as part of their property. If they succeed in their intent to return before the simultaneously incarnating depart, you will learn what being a slave means in the 21st century. It isn't pleasant when the race is alien and looks on you as livestock.

In the US, the big brouhaha over slavery began in the early 19th century. This event was part of the Game. Slaves are not permitted to have slaves and, in preparation for the return of the Empire, the concept of Earthers having slaves must be done away with. There were well meaning people who were repulsed by the idea of slavery, but that in itself would not bring about the end of it. (Remember about trying to change the rules) Slavery would have ended eventually in the US without the massive bloodshed of the Civil War, but then you wouldn't have had a fear feast for the lower astral allies of the Empire. You also wouldn't be taking a major step toward the One World concept without the Civil War. The traitor-to-his-oath, Lincoln, caved under the One World concept when he didn't allow the southern states to leave the Union by following constitutional procedure. Way back in the early 1860's, the One World push had already started in the US.

Slavery is an experience. All Higher Selves know it. It is the incarnation that either delights or is repulsed by it, depending on the experience required. You will have been on both sides of that coin in several places in your incarnational experiences. Examples: Black slave in the southern US/slave owner in the Roman Empire...slave in England/slave owner in China. You must face up to these experiences. You will have full memories of ALL your experiences when your Final Incarnation summons back all of your Higher Self's energy streams. You will also see them for what they really are - experience, part of the Game. You can own slaves in Dungeons & Dragons or similar games of fun. These are very minor examples of the Game itself. While ruling your best friend's character as a slave, this does not change the friendship you have outside of the D&D style game. Likewise in the Game - the Higher Selves know it is a much grander version of a D&D style game.

All this whining about slavery is done by those incarnations stuck in low through low-Mid levels of progression. In the US, there are many blacks who cannot stop harping on the slavery issue. This is because it is used as a victimhood weapon and should be seen as such especially since none of them alive today have been slaves nor were their parents. Refer back to victimhood segments of Matrix 5.

Another group who uses the slavery victimhood weapon is the Jews. They'll go back so far as the Egyptian period where they were not the slaves of the bible as they would like to think. Of course any time one tends to disagree with one of these former slave clinging groups, they don't hesitate to walk around the room carrying their cross. They claim to want to be accepted for themselves, but constantly use a victimhood tactic if they don't get their way. This is spiritual immaturity. This is THEIR problem and THEIR experiential loop to overcome. Those people in these types of groups (there are more than just these two examples given), who are of Very Advanced and higher stages, recognize this and have moved beyond the victimhood ploy that those who enjoy the loop play. The key to remember here is that this IS the Game and these ARE segments of the Game. Race based shit is SO 3rd density.

One look at the cover of Matrix 5 and you can see what you really look like. Not only that you are all races/genders and both sides of all coins. The Learning Experience! When you entered the Game, you knew what was involved. You also knew the incarnations would create havoc of varying degrees until you achieved Very Advanced stages. Nevertheless, experience is the name of the Game!

Observation: Terrorism & the Game

A minority group in one country decided that it doesn't want to be under the rule of their 'mother' country, so it engages in actions to disrupt the economy and the control of the 'mother' country. Small bands engage in violent acts, mostly under cover of darkness. Guerrilla attacks against regular military/government forces and against people (the majority) who want to remain part of the 'mother' country. Violence causes more violence. The rebels eventually succeed in ousting the 'mother' country forces with the assistance of foreigners.

In today's climate, these minority forces would be called terrorists. Their country was formed on the basis of 'terrorism'. This country is known today as the United States. The Boston Tea Party is considered a 'terroristic attack' against Boston merchants to give one example. Separatists regularly terrorized loyalists as well as British troops. Yet those terroristic activities are held up as 'good' when taught in American schools. Remember, back then, they were ALL British citizens.

By the victor, the history is written with their political slant and bias. As British citizens, violent acts against the crown were, obviously, against the law. Yet, what did the new American government do once organized? They made illegal for using the same tactic that put it into power. Examine and think carefully about the events. For a country founded on 'terrorist activities', there is something to hide when it forbids other similar activities and when it could not adhere to the law in the first place.

Now, America, as the world's bully, is telling everyone else what they should or should not do and uses threats, both economic and military to attempt to keep others in line. It was the terroristic-founded US that started using the word 'terrorism' to refer to others who didn't tow the American political line. Like 'Old MacDonald's Farm', here a terrorist, there a terrorist, everywhere a terrorist - the American and, conveniently, the British governments are attempting to rule everyone else. Why?

This is a major segment of the Game on Earth for this time. The British royals represent certain reptilian interests on Earth, as does the American government and especially the Bush family (at this time). Remember, the Orion Empire is planning to return, as I've discussed several times in earlier Matrix 5 materials.

They LOVE using the word 'terrorist' because they've discovered it pushes buttons in most people that will invoke fear. They form foreign policies that will encourage the same type of people today that decided they wanted to be free of Britain back then, to take actions against the people who (supposedly) elected the government that makes this heavy handed policy. They are blaming the American people due to the illusion that the people, as a whole, want these actions. The recent push of the pro-Israel bill in Congress just reaffirms that. In this scenario, the American people would deserve to reap what they sow. Their government, by proxy for the people (and false polls) are encouraging 'terroristic' actions in America.

The American people are also being manipulated by the Game to follow the illusions that their current, non-elected president spins for them. It was essential to the Game that Bush be made president and, if not elected, then appointed. This happened. These events are the Game in full motion. There is NOTHING you can do to stop these events.

As an Awakened Final Incarnation, I observe. I can (and do) point out the Game's facets but NOT for the purpose of changing/challenging it. I do this for education.

With other levels of incarnations, participation in the Game's favor and against it (polarities) will continue until EndGame.

The Game MUST run its course.

If you try to halt it, you will fail, however the experiences you gain by either working for the Game's objectives or for those who seek to change the Game are invaluable to YOU and YOUR Path. The problem develops when others try to make their Path YOUR Path. You WILL learn not to do that and you will learn it at YOUR pace and in YOUR time.

The purpose of my pointing out Game operations is so you have the chance to learn from observing and to understand SOME of the mechanics/manipulations of the Game. Your 'salvation' lies in ultimately escaping from the Game. I've given you several things to consider in this message. EndGame is in motion.

Observation: Why the American Government Cries 'Wolf'

Ever since the Event of Sept 11, 01, the American government has been issuing attack warnings on almost a regular basis. Yet, NOTHING has happened. Why does a government who lives for paranoid 'security' feel it necessary to do this? Why does a government who avoids any positive communications on aliens, spread such obvious Chicken Little 'the sky is falling' empty warnings?

The Game is in play. The government fully knows what their part in the Game is. This facet of it (today) deals with desensitizing Americans. They know that if they keep harping on the 'threat of the moment' that people, not ever seeing evidence of it, will eventually stop paying attention to the cries of 'wolf'. Why? This is because when the next Event happens (not the one the government plans to cause, such as 9/11), people will be caught SO off-guard that it will be major banquet time for the Dark and the lowest astral entities who will gorge themselves on fear. More importantly, they also know that people who are wrapped in fear will do anything and obey any government directive to have what caused that fear removed.

The Orion Empire and the Dark polarity are both involved in these theatrics. Since Earth is, in these times, minion incarnate and when you add Higher Selves in low levels, mid levels and lower-mid Advanced levels, fear will become the emotion of the time, as it is today, but will be SO paramount that it will rule their lives. This is what is planned and in operation.

It is important that the Very Advanced and higher incarnates realize this and understand its implications. Depending on YOUR Path, you will make decisions necessary for you and YOUR experiences. My hope is that by presenting the Games tactics, you may be better equipped to make better decisions.

Observations: Osama Bin Laden

Osama has been busy in the past few years and America has been hand wringing over him. Why hasn't something been done about the situations he's responsible for? It's NOT Osama who people should be focusing on despite that's where the government wants you to look (an old magicians trick). They describe Osama as filthy rich. Ok, does he carry all of his money around with him? No, of course not. SO, where IS the money he's using to fund what he (in public) is in charge of? It's probably in several banks.

WHY hasn't any government gone after the banks where the money is? Because they are off limits and controlled by the planetary/alien rulers.

WHY hasn't any government gone after the countries where these banks are located. Obviously if you cut off his funds, he (or anyone else like that) is just another voice of discontent.

WHY does Osama continue to get funds and weaponry? Banks and countries where these banks are located AND the countries who sell him weaponry.

WHY were 5 (so far according to the news) Arabs trained as pilots for these huge planes that they piloted to crash? You just can't be a foreigner and walk up to these schools and waltz on it. You have to have financial backing (banks) and foreign government backing. This foreign government would NOT be at odds with the US (Libya, Iraq, Iran, N. Korea, etc). It would have to be a country who, on the surface, seems friendly to America.

To wrap up - why doesn't the government deal with these criminal banks and their host countries and cut off the life blood of these terrorist organizations? These are some of the hard questions they DON'T want you to ask. But, then it means the government must also be involved. BINGO! Now you have one feather in the bird of why they want so many minions/low through mid levels around. There is more, but I've given you a lot to go on here.

Observation: Semi-Global Mantra- "Leader of the Free World"

The American president is the 'leader' of the "free world". Really? Was there an election held (that no one participated in) that bestowed this title? Why is the American president deserving of this title? Definitely not, because America is not a free country. It is no freer than others and less free than some. Yes, there is the mythological belief in American freedoms, but this just is not true today or ever. I could go into a lengthy litany of American duplicity and lies, but here's a few:

*Ask the Native Americans about American honor and freedom in regard to American treaties and genocide.

*Ask slaves back in the Civil War and before about 'all men are created equal' and American blacks after the Civil War about how their newly awarded 'freedoms' made them equals to European Americans (get in the BACK of the bus).

*Ask the Irish in the 1800's when signs were up 'Irish not welcome' or 'not hired'.

MATRIX V: The Gold Edition
Quest of the Spirit – The Ultimate Frontier

© 2000-2003 Leading Edge International Research Group. All Rights Reserved.

*Research the Manifest Destiny (might makes right) declaration from the Supreme Court.

*Ask gays why they have to struggle to get basic benefits that hets think are unique to their orientation.

These few examples plus LOTS more show that there is nothing more than bullying by Americans to the rest of the world when it suits their purposes. If 'all men are created equal', these would be moot topics. In America, they say you have the 'right to pursue happiness'. However what they don't say is, yes you can 'pursue' it, you just are not likely to gain it. Communist countries are 'terrible' they said and still say. Why? They aren't 'free'. Hmmm, Americans, except in select cases, neither are you, so what's up? These other countries do not, for the most part, have the illusions of freedom that Americans are deluded by. Other countries will tell their people what they can and can't do - outright. America is deceptive about it coating the government's edicts with the flag. AS LONG AS AMERICANS BELIEVE THEY'RE FREE THEY WILL NEVER AWAKEN TO WHAT IS TRUE. This IS a major part of the Game (North American version). American isn't a bastion of freedoms, it's an icon of illusions. The government FEARS people waking up to this.

Why does America bully other nations? Because 'might makes right'. America is a Cancer ruled country which is big on telling others what THEY should be doing, but don't they DARE point fingers at America's many faults. Do as I say, not as I do. For Very Advanced and Final Incarnations, waking up to the Game and MANY of its facets are required to spiral out of the Game. In these very late stages, FIGHTING the Game is not what we do. The Game MUST proceed at its pace and schedule. You've won when you wake up to it and refuse to play it any longer or any more than necessary to accomplish your incarnational goals. At the same time, we allow those who want to play the Game to continue to do so (Law of Allowance). If having the illusions removed from you is more than you can bear, then you are not ready for Matrix 5 materials nor are you yet Very Advanced. That's ok. You are where you are supposed to be, but that is NOT where we are. Lots to think about, as usual.

Observations: Winged Reptilian Emblem & American Ditty

In a current episode (Apr 11) of Farscape (Sci-Fi channel), there is a scene in the Peacekeepers' command carrier where a huge, wall mounted emblem is displayed of a winged (royal) reptilian. This is close to the Orion Empire's queen's elite sector of the Orion military. It does exist.

Also interesting in Farscape is that they refer to the police state military as 'Peacekeepers' which is the same title used for Earth's occupation forces around the globe. Think about this and the above comment and draw conclusions.

The power give-away ditty on US money (and appears elsewhere), "In god we trust", encourages you to conform to trusting the alien master(s) since the 'god' they refer to is the deity of the bible which is alien. The motto of Very Advanced and Final Incarnations, in this matter, is "In NO god do we trust". Take back your power!

I've just read how one Lightsider group, after praying (can you believe it) to the nebulous 'god' of theirs named 'Isness', is encouraging their followers to rise up against the Game. That's like saying, 'the Dark side needs more energy'. When you fight against the Dark, you feed it. That's part of polarity energy exchange. Don't get caught up in the passions being stoked these days. Engame is upon us and it is essential to Very Advanced and Final Incarnations to keep their composure. However, low Advance and mid-Advanced WILL fight the Game. It's part of THEIR path and experience. Remember the Law of Allowance and apply it according to your comprehension and level of Advancement.

The Game and Dinotopia

In the TV Guide (May 11-17, 2002), open the cover and see a 2 page, color ad for Dinotopia "A Secret World is about to be revealed", says the ad. This is a 3 part mini-series by Disney. Disney is HEAVILY involved in the Game. This series begins on Sunday May 12 with a 2 hour first part. A quote from TV Guide (p.106): "Wonderful World of Disney mounts a lavish three-part fantasy about dinosaurs of many varieties who peacefully coexist with humans in a utopian society."

The cover of TV Guide (home mailed issue) features the mini-series, although the store version has Star Wars II on the cover. Coincidence? Think about it.

This is an effort by the planetary rulers, who KNOW about the intended return of the Orion Empire, to put a spin on the reptilians. They say this mini-series is a fantasy. That IS correct. The genuine reptilians do not act like they portray them in this upcoming show. They'd like you to beLIEve that the reptilians are your friend. Yes, they'll help themselves TO you. I will be interested in watching this 3-parter just to see what they are selling. The Empire IS on its way back. Star Wars is more like it though. Don't be disarmed by, what seems like, a cutsie show.

A major US insurance company has a new series of ads being shown on US markets. I've seen 2 versions of this ad so far. One has a lizard featured in the ad and the other has a human. In both ads, the phrase "cold blooded, reptilian balance" is needed for us "warm blooded" is used. This is a brazen move by the reptilians on Earth. Add this to Dinotopia, Figment (Disney character) and countless other prominent lizards portrayed as cutsie. The real thing is anything BUT cute.

This is the first time that I've seen them overtly state the 'superiority' of reptilians to humans in a factual, non-science fiction way. The reptilians are NOT balanced. If you have read all the Matrix 5 materials, you know what Balance is. The reptilians thrive on the Dark polarity. Look at the Orion Empire and the reptilians active on Earth. It's all about power and control, but NEVER 'balance'. Keep an eye out for this type of reptilian promotion. The Empire is moving to return and their agents on Earth are trying to get us use to it, all in the illusion of 'cute'.

The Game and Dinotopia: Revisited

Dinotopia, Disney's attempt to portray the reptilians as kindly, love & light beings, was not all that interesting to me. However, there were a couple of things I took note of, one of which was the book entitled, "The Care and Teaching of Humans". Another was, at the end of the mini-series, Disney announces that Dinotopia will return in the fall as a series and showed a reptilian hand, palm outward touching a human hand also palm outward. Remember to consider the opposites. What they are trying to let you know, according to the Game, is presented as the opposite of what is. The book is more like the old Twilight Zone

MATRIX V: The Gold Edition
Quest of the Spirit – The Ultimate Frontier

© 2000-2003 Leading Edge International Research Group. All Rights Reserved.

"To Serve Man" cookbook and a "Handbook for the Care and Feeding of Humans as Livestock". The two species' palms touching is pure fabrication. You don't make friends with your food and the reptilians consider Earther humans to be a far lower species and, therefore insignificant. This is also a deception.

Abundant commercials for next week's Disney film of loveable lizards were shown during the 3-parter. The drastic increase in love the lizzies is part of the return to the Orion Empire and the return of the queen that is, for the most part, considered inevitable. This is a major flow in the Game and a darling of 3rd density Dark polarity.

Another reason for the return of the Empire is the core nature of the game itself - Earther Higher Self incarnates, the ultimate frustrating point of the sequential incarnates. Nevertheless, it is a central part of the Game, which is drawing to a close the Earther Higher Self portion as those Higher Selves are preparing to exit the Game and move on. The Game will continue without these major pieces as the sequential incarnates will continue to SLOWLY plod along on their Path without the 'distraction' of Earther Higher Selves.

Symbols: The Dragon and the Phoenix

When I was in China for 10 days, I was shown many references to the dragon and the phoenix being representations of the Emperor and the Emperess respectively. When touring the Ming Emperors' tombs outside Beijing, I saw the Emperor's dragon throne and the Emperess' phoenix throne. Both symbols significantly present in their tombs as well as in the Forbidden City. When I had my picture taken wearing imperial robes, the dragon was significant on the embroidered design.

The dragon is a direct link to the Orion Empire in all Earther cultures. It is not as well known that the phoenix is also a symbol of the Orion Empire especially a significant segment of the Orion queen's influence. I found one Ming era teapot interesting. It depicts the phoenix subduing the dragon. This DID happen in ancient Orion history when the females, in a violent coup, became the dominants in Orion reptilian society. I flew a China Air flight from Beijing to Shanghai. The symbol of China Air is the phoenix. It is on the aircraft itself as well as the ticket stub I saved. Notice they did not choose the general symbol for the Orion Empire, the dragon, but rather the Orion queen's symbol, the phoenix. Rigel is allied with the Orion Empire and Rigel was the prime designer of the Asian peoples.

When I studied with the Native American shamans for 12 years, the phoenix was revealed as connected to the Native American's star origins. This is not commonly known and it took me almost 6 years to receive that bit of information. The phoenix is a common symbol used by the queen's genetic scientists, along with the caduceus. The different symbols refer to different sections of the genetic command structures. The caduceus is the scientific segments while the phoenix is the political segment.

The phoenix is central to the largest city in Arizona as well. Yet, I remember an Apache shaman teacher I had say that in the old days the city, now known as Phoenix, was considered so evil beneath the ground (underground base) that shamans were buried face down to attempt to keep the evil away. Much still goes on beneath Arizona's surface today.

The phoenix is a prime symbol of the rulers of the world, the Illuminati and so on. Their connection, while originally to the Orion queen, was switched to the rebel queen who has been in control of Earth for several millennia now. The 'true' phoenix is returning, as I've said in earlier messages. ALL of these are considered main elements of the Game. Bringing these things to your attention may alert you to look deeper and with a more critical eye to symbols and Game participation. It can greatly assist you when you desire to spiral out and to watch, when you are Advanced enough, how the Game's major pieces may move.

When the US began as an individual country, the phoenix was pushed for as the symbol of the new country. Do your own research if you wish to know more on that. Dragons and the phoenix - all symbols of the Orion Empire. Watch and learn.

Observation: McCarthyism returns as McBushyism

There was an article on Rense.com entitled 'Bush And Friends Try To Quash Criticism Of 'War On Terror' On The Front. It's rare for me to mention something from Rense because it must have relevance to Matrix 5. It shows a major shift in the Game in the U.S. because of overt suppression of illusionary freedoms. Note one person below says Americans have freedom of speech but there are consequences to that freedom. With that perspective the WHOLE world has 'freedom of speech' because anyone anywhere can say anything ONCE. THAT is NOT 'freedom of speech'. Just as McCarthy, in the early 1950's, used fear and guilt wrapped up in the flag, this horror has returned, now 50 years later, with McBushyism.

This manipulation by the Game is part of the return of the Orion Empire. As an overt member of the Empire, Earth will become female dominant and fascist (just like Mintaka). With the UN-American McBushyisms, they use guilt, fear and more to attempt to force conformity. These are the real Anti-Americans. Those who buck that system are Higher Self incarnates (minion incarnates would NEVER buck the system as long as they are fed/watered) who want the experience of clashing with the Game. They have a lot of courage, but then, TRUE courage is an Advanced Higher Self trait. It's the courage to be an individual. As for my Path, it is not to confront the Game, however I will expose segments of it so you know what is happening and how manipulation attempts are working. You can only make your decisions based on what you know. Once you know, whether you believe or not, the decisions made by you will be based on the Path YOUR Higher Self has chosen. Do what YOU feel you must. Try to remember the Universal Laws and experience what you will.

Observation: 9/11 Media Circus

The destruction of the World Trade Center in NYC, the attacks in Washington and other connected events would indicate the War Wild Card is in play. With all those thousands of deaths, you're not going to see the Americans sit back and let that pass. This will be viewed as infinitely worse than Pearl Harbor. So, now we finally have action. The lesser level incarnates will be wailing over the physical deaths and planning 'revenge'. The Very Advanced should now be perked up to watch how these events will unfold as the crank of events in 3rd density Earth takes a major turn. Now is the time to observe and there's PLENTY to watch.

Yesterday, the dirge of wailing over the old event of one year ago was blasting through the media. Radio and television droned on over 'oh, poor us'. I turned on BBC America's 6pm news, hoping for some real news. No way. They had this sad faced woman (who looked ready to lose her composure) doing nothing for 25 minutes but last year's event. Of course the same was true for American national news. Not only that, but I notice that when I flipped from BBC or NBC to a non-news channel that the mood lightened. It was much more rewarding watching reruns of The Beverly Hillbillies on TV Land than the self-pitying news. There was a constant subliminal, electronic feed of sorrow coming from the new channels. I was able to physically feel this emotional charge when changing channels back to news. From BBC (heavy) to TV Land (light) to NBC (heavy) to Sci-Fi (light). Every time I went back to the news, a heavy wave of negative vibration shot out of the set.

The Game loves to pull this shit when there is something else going on that they don't want you to pay attention to. From my point of view, the new "moon" that took up residence around Earth should have been the lead story (refer to the previous segment on this site for that story). Well, they are attempting to hide this real event from the general public. Instead they are trying to whip up hatred against enemies, real and/or mostly engineered/imagined. They want the war on Iraq. They will do anything they can to ensure there will be a major war with Iraq. If you are playing in the Game, you will do your part to help this war - flag wave/patriotic song ditties, etc. If you are in the observer mode, you will notice (depending on your level of Advancement) how the Game is taking the Game players for a ride and manipulating them to do its will. If they aren't getting the support they demand, they'll cause more serious mischief here.

In the office where I work, only one person was overtly caught up in that patriotic crap. She was the one who told everyone to wear 'red/white & blue' for Sept 11. Instead, only she came in wearing that costume. I wore a purple shirt. During the day, a several co-workers complained to me about all this whining that the propaganda mills generate to control the population. Today's daily newspaper wails, "America Weeps". It should say "Some Americans, In Full Body ID, Cry Like Babies". ONLY the body ID'd person and the Game player will fall for all this 9/11 melodrama, especially since the origins for 9/11 are not where they want you to believe they are. The news yesterday also said that they will be placing an "eternal flame" on the site. THAT is Illuminating trade marking, as with Diana and JFK. Those who believe the official lines for the old event are in the fog of deception. Lots of experiences and observations here. Try to look deeper at these events passing through.

Observations: Setting Up For Act III of the Event

Act II of the Event is progressing to war. Act III will be the consequences of Act II. These people have proven they will meet fire with fire, but the Event must progress on. What will be interesting is if aliens show up as that the Alien Wild Card would trump the War Wild Card. This is all a field day of experiences/observations.

Observation: Wild Card - World War III

From watching/reading the news (remember that 'news' does not necessarily mean 'truth'), it seems that American dictator Bush is dragging the world into what is shaping up as World War III. World War III is one of the several wild cards the Game has to play during the final stages of EndGame. This is the card, many believe, will be the card. Don't count on it, however it IS a Wild Card and that has several possibilities to it.

Problem/solution/reaction is how the Game and the polarities try and steer the directions that they want people to take. Bush uses the artificially created group of "terrorists" as the problem. He tells you that war is the only way to deal with this issue and, by the way, we need your illusionary freedoms to be surrendered as well. They use high drama to create the problem (9/11/01) because Americans are slow to move without something like this. Pearl Harbor was allowed to happen by FDR to drag America into WWII. Yes, it could have been prevented.

I noticed on BBC America World News tonight that the European polls say 'no war without United Nations direction'. Now THAT is significant for where the Game & polarities want Earth to go. These Europeans are no longer looking to their national governments for solutions, but the intended world government. This is what the polarities want people to do. The Game's direction is a One World Government. All this bullshit about 'terrorists' is just to use fear to get everyone to give away their power.

If this WWII Wild Card does play, you will have to decide what YOU will do. Will you play the Game by waving flags, cursing engineered enemies, demanding everyone be rabid against these people, etc? If you do, that's totally your lessons to learn in your current incarnation. What I will do is to stay within the Balance path and be a neutral. I will not flag wave, rabidly curse an "enemy" or anything else along those lines. I will not support anyone on either side. No yellow, green, chartreuse, or magenta ribbons either as these all indicate one's support of the positions they represent. I will observe, make notes and watch the Game in full action from the sidelines. I am not urging anyone else to do what I'm doing. I'm urging you to do what you feel you must. I would suggest you don't mindlessly react. Geez, if you're reading the Matrix 5 materials, you should be beyond that! Think before you act. DON'T react. Expect events to pick up and move rapidly. Meanwhile, observe and learn while you still can.

Observations: "The Need for a Gun" as shown on Stargate SG-1, First Wave, etc.

While watching such TV shows as Farscape, Stargate SG-1, First Wave, etc, I see the constant "need for having a gun in hand" by the lead characters. In Farscape, Crichton nearly panics if his gun is taken away. In First Wave, Foster feels impotent without a gun. In Stargate SG-1, Colonel O'Neill whines and near panics if an alien group tells him not to bring a gun to their planet. What is all this need for a gun?

Each of these characters is dead on mid-level which is dead common in 3rd density Earth. They have no spiritual understanding and believe the body is the center to their existence. They don't believe they have any power without that gun. Those who are firmly established in the Advanced levels don't require a gun. These Advanced people have (to various degrees) increasing confidence that their physical is not the omega of all and are coming to an increase of Higher Self control over the physical (which is at the height in 3rd density in shim's Final Incarnation).

Something else, in Stargate SG-1, one of the most 'advanced' alien groups (Asgaard), chooses mid-level/zero spirituality Colonel O'Neill as the one they will deal with (contactee). O'Neill is permanently attached to his gun and is a nationalist. Here again we have their so-called 'advanced' aliens picking the worst one they can to be their go-between with Earthers. Did they pick Daniel Jackson, who has at least some Advanced (lower) traits and a terrific background in Earth's myths? No, he might ask the 'wrong' questions and is not as easily manipulated.

Then there was this one episode where another alien group says if they deal with Earthers, they require the whole planet to know of their existence and what is involved. (Power/control groups shiver at this type of declaration). These aliens ask a valid question, if the Asgaard are such 'friends' why do they limit their friendship? Also, if these Asgaard are so 'noble' why do they allow themselves, to have the planetary populations they 'control', worship them as deities? These are all excellent questions, but, of course, the show's writers have to make this type of alien 'evil', when they are not really. However, this is body centered Earthers I'm talking about here. It's a different thing if you're in a war zone to have a gun handy, but to be so attached to guns that you can't function efficiently without it on your person (Crichton, Foster, O'Neill, etc), then you can see where the person is (and isn't) in their progression.

Farscape Season One #6

The Sci-Fi channel is releasing their excellent series on video and DVD. Tonight I received DVD#6 which has 2 episodes from the first season. I am recommending you either rent or buy this. If you can't find it locally, you can get it at a reduced price at www.buy.com. Here's why: I've written that you can see what the Sirians look like (not exact but close) in the first of the two episodes - "Till The Blood Runs Clear". If you want a pretty good idea of these wolfish allies of the Orion Empire and how they act, this is the best depiction I've seen yet. The real Sirians are even MORE vicious, however.

The second episode in #6 is "Rhapsody In Blue". John Crichton, the central figure, is an Earther who finds himself in a part of our galaxy where there are NO humans. Crichton is as mid-level spiritually as you can get. Zero in the Advanced level. In this episode, he is dealing with an encounter with Delvians (blue, plant beings with advanced mental capabilities). They do well in making him believe what they want. His Higher Self allows this for the experience. BUT when he's told he's different/weird (almost every first season episode), it's his vibration, even in the mid-level, that emanates since he's having simultaneous incarnations on Earth despite one incarnation in another part of the galaxy. He's told that he can help Zhaan regain what she needs from within. Zhaan tells him how he can be seriously damaged for wanting to engage in this ritual. This is when Crichton's Higher Self kicks in overriding the incarnation. Crichton gives Zhaan some advice that is quite advanced (for a mid-level) and that a mid-level just wouldn't have. When the event is over, Crichton complains because he can't remember what happened. That's because it was an event between a simultaneously incarnating Higher Self and a sequential Higher Self. Crichton's Higher Self has stored the info, but it isn't necessary for him's incarnation to remember at this time. You will have to get the video/dvd and see what YOU can observe. I found this MOST interesting and urge any who want to test their perceptions to view.

Farscape & Stargate SG-1, 2/7/03

I was surprised to find a few interesting observations on last night's (Feb 7,03) Sci-Fi Channel programs Farscape and Stargate SG-1. In Farscape, a Scarran female leader was depicted. When she came on screen, I was surprised to see how what she was wearing was very similar to what Orion reptilian female royals sometimes wear, especially the headpiece she had on. The Scarran female was also referred to as a member of the ruling class.

Later in the same program, a Scarran dreadnaught was hunting the central character's ship, Moya. The Scarran ship was amazingly similar to the ship that was hiding within the Hale-Bopp comet's tail when it passed through this system. When Hale-Bopp was visible here, I went out of body to see if there was anything hiding within the tail. There was a huge, black ship that looked similar to a 4 bladed fan. The central core was round with one 'blade' extending, on a 45 degree angle, from each quarter. The windows on the blades were different than the Scarran ship, though, which showed red windows. The Hale-Bopp ship had standard light glowing from their windows. Needless to say, I was very surprised to see this on tv.

Following this episode, Stargate SG-1 featured one of the Gua'uld female system lords using a genetic altering machine to instantly change a person's genetic structure. AGAIN, this is very similar to the types of machines that the alien genetic scientists used to alter Ancient Earthers into genders. Whoa...and it's on television too! A lot of interesting sightings are out there if you but observe. With these from last night added to my observational list, I know there will continue to be more. This is EndGame. I've also found it interesting that the White House dictator and his henchmen are using the term 'EndGame' as well these days. Keep your observational antenna raised!

Farscape & Stargate SG-1, 2/14/03

The Sci-Fi channel's 2 showcase programs, Farscape and Stargate SG-1, continue to educate in a fictional setting. The Earth planetary rulers once stated that they could tell the people exactly what is going on and they wouldn't believe it. Information continues to show up but you must be a sharp observer to catch it and sort through the fictional elements. Last night's episodes of these 2 series programs were loaded with jewels.

The Farscape episode, A Constellation of Doubt, centered on an interview and commentary about the alien crew's visit to Earth. The type of aliens you see surrounding John Crichton in Farscape are not the policy makers with the exception of Rygel VI. Rygel excluded, these beings are the ones that the genuine policy makers would want to keep as far away from Earth as possible. The 'Peacekeepers' even have a death penalty for their race if they become 'contaminated' by alien association. It is because most aliens are similar to this crew that the quarantine of Earth exists, as discussed elsewhere in Matrix 5.

The average, friendly, sequential alien would be most interesting to talk with. There are many friendly type aliens out there. Semjase of Erra in the Pleiades was one. If you read Meier's materials, she was chastised for accepting gifts from Earthers and not allowed to keep more than a stuffed bear. On the other hand, there are very hostile to Earthers out there as well, such as the Orion and Sirian Empires.

No matter what planet the crew of Moya visit in the series, it's just like going to a different neighborhood. Yet, when they arrive on Earth, it's a whole different story. The aliens are fascinated by the Earther experience. Remember that these beings are sequential aliens used to conformity on a planetary scale, and here they find people who are very individual. The danger, as the sequential leaders perceive, is that actually experiencing the simultaneous existence to any extent will cause defections from simultaneous to sequential and a far faster rate. This is the Game and the sequential players are guarding their territory.

It is interesting that the alien interviews, in this episode, broadcast on television brought out comments like:

- "if Earth is remembered at all, it'll be for the quality of it's manual labor." This from Rygel VI who, as a former empire leader knows about enslaving worlds. An Orion thought form.

MATRIX V: The Gold Edition
Quest of the Spirit – The Ultimate Frontier

- "Earth must learn it won't always win." This from General D'Argo after assessing Earth's lack of technological sophistication compared to alien races. That is SO true.
- Other comments: "Earth is technologically inferior" and "current defenses could not stop invasion by aliens".

Remember the Alien Wild Card and the intended return of the Orion queen. Read between the lines and connect the dots!

This episode was followed by Stargate SG-1's episode, Disclosure. In this the Chinese, British and French were finally told about the Stargate program due to an imminent invasion by aliens that require the Earth to unite. The Americans, in typical arrogant style tell the others that they, with Russian support, should keep the program under their control. An American senator wants to transfer the control to an NSA type organization away from the military. That's like jumping from the frying pan into the fire! The Chinese wisely say that they would have to inform their people about this program so people can get ready. The Chinese position is correct! Of course the Americans respond with that old ditty of people aren't ready, yet they refuse to educate the people in order TO get ready! Control freaks who treat the population like infants. In the end the Grey alien "supreme commander" gives veiled orders to the governments that they want the military in control. Awed by the alien technology and appearance, they all give in. The main key here is the Alien Wild Card: invasion imminent. Another example of the Orion Empire's return for those who can spot the connections.

Apart from this, I want to pass on some information to the reader about the real Stargate. I have spoken with Val on and off about the genuine Stargate for several years. Yes, it does exist. While the technology is used in the film, They Live, that film does not show what the gate itself looks like. It really does look very similar to the gate used in the Stargate film and series. It also operates with the watery-looking discharge on connecting. If you are interested in more on this subject, I suggest you get the Winter 2003 issue of The Montauk Pulse (vol 2, #17). Read the lead article The Pyramid of Sound by Preston Nichols. The Montauk Pulse is published by Sky Books, PO Box 769, Westbury, NY 11590. Subscriptions are $19/yr and are released quarterly. I was glad to see that someone had released data on the gate.

In the Montauk Pulse article, reference is made to a group called the WingMakers. Exactly who they are is up in the air. It sounds like just another sequential alien tampering project. Keep that in mind when reading that article and DON'T get dazzled by the technology. You don't need a Stargate to travel to other worlds or densities. Those who cannot yet do, cling to technology, and, like a drug, the need for more and more technology is addictive and very competitive.

Observations: V and V-The Final Battle

The mid-80's television movies, V and V-The Final Battle, are now both out on DVD. I just finished watching both of them and view them totally differently than when I saw them on TV. If you haven't seen these films, you might want to at least rent them. They had been released on VHS several years back. V depicts an alien invasion of Earth by reptilians. Much of V is based on the Orion Empire, real reptilian aliens and their agenda. In the short lived series that followed these two films, more reptilian culture was shown. These have not yet been released, but they have been rerun on the Sci-Fi channel. Unfortunately the V theme was written to deceive as well as enlighten Earther audiences. In reality, the outcome would be quite different than the story portrays to lull Earthers into a deception of just how intelligent and capable the Orion Empire is.

Some notable scenes in the film:

*Humans taken as a food source - seemingly endless rows of humans encased in containers for the trip back to the home worlds. The humans are kept just barely alive in a form of stasis. While they do show the reptilians eating birds and small animals live, they indicate (but don't show) that they like ALL their food live. Earther audiences couldn't handle seeing reptilians eating humans. In V-The Final Battle they show a human-as-food processing plant. Humans are placed in containers here after being wrapped in a cocoon-like substance (alien preservative). The same idea was shown in Killer Klowns From Outer Space where humans are also shown being taken as food and encased in a cocoon or balloon. In this film, you must observe beneath the clown exterior and see what they are trying to tell you. There is a scene here where the 'clown' alien drains a body of its blood by sucking it through a straw. The Dark rulers of Earth have boasted they could tell Earthers exactly what is going on and no one would believe it. This is what you have in both of these films. Eating of humans has been a theme in several films over the years.

*Reptilians appear as humans. This is a reference to their shape shifting abilities. The human skin does not rip off, as shown in the 2 films. Also, not all reptilians shape shift. Another flaw here is they show the reptilians as physically similar to humans in matters of strength. This is absolutely NOT true. They are taller than humans, as I've said in earlier segments, and far stronger. Earthers in the 2 V films give the reptilians a good smack and down they fall. No way! You give the reptilians a physical punch and they'll just get pissed off and have their way with you. Physical confrontation with a reptilian is a sure way to be dispatched to the astral! Reptilians are also very rapid in movements. If they portrayed reptilians, in the V series, as they really are, it would have been a whole different story. They would destroy a whole city to do away with a terrorist cell of humans. They would do this without second thought. The reptilians are the oldest race in the galaxy with technology that is unparalleled. The human rebels would have been dealt with quickly and mercilessly. What you see in the film is pure Hollywood pandering to human illusions of physical superiority. Remember what I've said in Matrix 5, it's the spiritual advancements Earther humans have and that's where we are the most advanced. Review Matrix 5 on these topics.

*Impregnation of human by reptilian - Human teenage female whores around with reptilian hunk (appearing). Here you seen a human female in search of power. The reptilian slips her the forked tongue and gets her pregnant per her vamping. In trying to use her energy vampiric ability, she got WAY more than she bargained for. Talk about experiences and 'serves you right'. She has twins (no way did she appear to be carrying twins). One looks human, but the forked tongue comes out. That was good for a laugh from me. The second one was a reptilian with blue eyes. The second one dies early on, but the first starts shedding her skin and aging rapidly. The outward appearance is blond human (as that would happen with the dominant reptilian genes), but she spits poison on this other little girl. In the show, the little girl recovers. In reality, she'd have died almost instantly. Reptilian females DO spit poison. This girl becomes the 'star child' with impressive psychic ability. I don't know what the writers were smoking when they came up with that. They would like you to believe that mating with the aliens produces the ideal super race. That is alien propaganda popular with the 'dying race' theory. The reptilians LOVE sex for sex, not for romance. The reptilians are bisexual. They'll do it with anyone they choose. Read Matrix II for insights on this. Sci-fi is full of all aliens looking to human females as the galactic ideal. This is just NOT true and another Earther fantasy. The same goes for breeding. Sci-fi would have you believe that any species can breed with any other. While this can happen with some, it cannot with most. Look at nature. How much inter-species mating do you see? Exactly! Reptilians with humans would be like cats with dogs.

*The virus/bacteria gets them - The Orion and the Sirian Empires have conquered countless systems and planets. Their science is unmatched, including medical. They have been to Earth many times and never really left. Do you think, as in War of the Worlds, that common germs will be their undoing here? They created human life as we know it today. This end is just another Earther fantasy. Earth military (especially USA) has been trying to develop something to zap the aliens. The aliens know this. The aliens are unimpressed. What is even more unimpressive is how Earthers got the better of the aliens in Independence Day. That computer idea is so laughable. The aliens had to pee themselves from laughing so hard over the idea of it. At the end of V-The Final Battle, the aliens race off Earth and hide behind the Moon. IF, and it is a huge IF, the humans managed to annoy the reptilians to this extent, one of their Death Stars would blow up Earth and this system would have 2 asteroid belts - end of story. Reptilians do NOT think like Earther humans, although Earther humans never seem to tire of transferring their behavior patterns on alien races.

I'll stop my observations here. There are many more to note, but better for you to observe them on your own. ALWAYS read between the lines or beneath the scenes in films like the ones listed here. Go beneath the obvious and discover a wealth of hidden gems. The more Advanced you are, the more you can unearth.

Observations: First Wave Episode on the Sci-Fi Channel

First Wave Messages

The Sci-fi channel show, First Wave, is about the first wave of aliens on Earth getting ready for the major invasion called the Second Wave, which is about to happen. In the episode aired Aug 25, the main character, Cade Foster, was taken into a pocket dimension where he met an alien who tried to tell him how to defeat the Gua (reptilian invaders). It was a mixture of truth and misinformation (what else is new). The alien told Cade that in order to defeat the Gua, he had to 'forgive' them their nature of invading/enslaving planets. If he could do this, he would win. Cade, being a pure Mid level incarnate thinks the alien is talking about a military victory. The alien does nothing to discourage that. A better way to put the advice is not to 'forgive' them, since forgiveness is something requested for a transgression. The nature of the reptilians just IS and does not require 'forgiveness', but rather understanding of what they are and the need for employing the Law of the Universe called Allowance. Allowance says you allow beings to be what they are. It's part of the Game that the reptilians invade/enslave/dine on people. How many times do we here "it's the nature of the animal". That applies to all creatures. Why do you need to allow these things to happen? Because we are immortal beings and the 3rd density is a temporary learning ground where the worst that can happen is the body you occupy is killed. This is part of the experience as well.

Back to Cade Foster: He CAN win if he follows the Laws of the Universe as he will spiral out of the Game, thus defeating the aliens at their own level by denying them their victory. Remembering who you are and why you are here circumvents the Game and brings you above it. So they kill everyone you know in the physical. Are they dead or do they always live? If you don't know that answer, you don't belong reading my materials. The alien told Cade that he would have to sacrifice friends (allow them to die to save others). Cade was told that many have died due to his inability to kill the alien leader occupying this woman's body. (Damned het males and their DNA commands - "I can't do that to a woman" bullshit). Unfortunately, Cade's level is so body ID'd that he has sacrificed hundreds of people to selfishly cling to 2 people, 1 of whom the alien leader possesses the body.

If you cling to the Game, you will want a military victory over the aliens WHICH IS IMPOSSIBLE! My chiropractor is in that mode saying how he can 'take out' reptilians. Such a fool. He misses the point and is playing the Game. They WANT you to resist. They WANT you to try and deny them their prize. This will not bring you anything but very hard experiences, which, at certain levels, may be what your Higher Self wants. Finals and the VERY Advanced rise above the Game, step over the bodies and realize what is REALLY going on. It is NOT cold/hard (common complaint of the levels below Very Advanced), it is reality.

Another Cade flaw shown, which is one I run into ALL the time, is that he wants to learn quickly, without much effort and with limited commitment. "I just want the power and I want it now" attitude is what he has, always running around with his gun and VERY insecure without it. Clinging to your gun will keep you hooked on 3rd density. The power isn't in a gun, it's within yourself. Remember and live the Laws of the Universe as they show the way to spiral out of the Game.

Observations on the Concept of Home Ownership in America

Own your home and be independent" the advertisement says. This is just one, but a major one, of American illusions of freedom. If you really owned your home and property, you would not be required to pay property taxes nor have it randomly 'condemned' by local governments for their convenience. If you REALLY owned your own home and property AND you decided you wanted to pay taxes for certain services, the town you lived in would have a list of services and cost per home for participating in these services. You probably would want police, fire and trash services, but, if you had no kids, you wouldn't want school services. IF you really owned your home/property, they couldn't legally do anything to force you to pay. If you REALLY owned your home/property, the town couldn't condemn it just to build some structure (tunnel, mall, etc) they wanted. I've read of perfectly good homes being 'condemned' because the town wanted to bully something through. The illusion is 'I own my own property'. The reality is you are a cash cow for the many governments who ALL have their hands grabbing for your wallet/purse. This means you are just RENTING the property from the state. You may own your house, but you can't really OWN the property. If they condemn your property, you could pay to move your home and you know what that must cost. Why do people allow governments to control them when it should be the other way around? That's one reason why they want so many minion incarnations, who just love to follow and obey. Home/property ownership in America is an illusion.

Observations on the Concept of Freedom of Speech in America

As I've said several times in Matrix 5, America is based on illusions that just are not true. As long as the overwhelming majority of people believe these illusions, they will remain. The first illusion buster I did on this group site was the non-existent 'home ownership in America'. Now it's time for the next illusion buster 'freedom of speech in America'. We are constantly bombarded with the propaganda that we have freedom of speech in America. This is NOT true, but they want you to believe it is. In actuality, speech is becoming more and more restricted with the populace dancing to the polarity piper's tune. Look at those grand 4th of July spectacles. These are in place to bolster America's illusionary freedoms. They are a lie.

I was talking to someone the other day who said he quit his job because people at work were using the word 'nigger'. He is not black. He told me he has a black friend and didn't like hearing it. Well, if we really have freedom of speech, you could say whatever you like. True freedom of speech means you are unrestricted in everyday verbiage. You don't have to like what you hear, but people have the right to express themselves, even if in poor taste.

Even go back 150 years before today's technology. Was there freedom of speech here? Absolutely not. Slave owners were free to say whatever they liked, but resorted to violence when the contrary was said. Even after slavery, blacks were still called niggers, but they could not respond with a negative word about those who used that term. If there was TRUE freedom of speech, the blacks could have freely said what they wanted. Today the reverse is true. Blacks can say whatever they want but whites cannot. Both are valid examples, NOT of freedom of speech, but rather might makes right.

Those in control using their position to force themselves on those who can't. The list of 'you can't say' is growing yearly, BUT the myth of freedom of speech is held on to even though it doesn't exist. Now laws are changed so that men cannot comment on women based on gender, BUT women still comment on men, based on gender. Even if both genders were forbidden to comment, how do those who believe in the illusion comment on freedom of speech. How many times have you been told and heard others say, "You can't say that". Use the masses to enforce conformative directives. This is also one reason why they want so many minion incarnations. Minions tend to obey as long as they are fed and watered.

Now as to the why of what's going on. In the Second Edition of M5, I discuss the sequentials in the Game. These same beings are trying to enforce THEIR desired roles in the Game on Earthers to retard their spiraling out. Refer to the Second Edition or the new supplemental materials for more on that. Since Earth is ruled by the Dark polarity and the aliens, they figure if they can impose their rigid conformities on Earth, they will win the Game. They cannot win the Game, but they are desperate due to the impending conclusion of Earth 3rd density.

What I would encourage those of you, who feel so inclined, is to comment on the illusion busters so far given - home ownership and freedom of speech - to those of your friends who you think may appreciate it. It may assist them to spiral out of the Game. As always, if they don't see what you see, drop the subject and respect where they are in their progression. American 'freedoms' are a lie. The prisoner who is worst off is the one who believes he is free when he is not.

Observations: Freedom of Religion in America

American riff-raff loves to parrot the phrase: "We have freedom of religion in America". This is PURE bullshit! What we do have is christian dominance in America with a limited tolerance of jews and next to no tolerance of every other religion. IF we had freedom of religion in America, sessions of Congress would not always open with a prayer by some christian minister or priest, with maybe an occasional non-offensive jewish rabbi. You would have openings by ALL religions practiced in this country. Yes, the christians would have their stuff, as well as the jews, but so should everyone else including, but not limited to, muslims, wiccans, hindus, satanists, buddhists, druids, various pagan groups, etc. This won't ever happen as there is no freedom of religion here. Can you imagine a satanist in Congress praying, "deliver us from jesus"? What a riot! But the damned christians say 'deliver us from satan'. That is not religious tolerance. The riff-raff responds, 'but you can still join these religions'. Well, christians are all over the radio and tv with their mythical nonsense, but put on a satanist or a wiccan program and the fuckin' christians will try and close it down. Actually, try doing anything the christians don't like and they will show you just how far 'freedom of religion' goes. I remember in several areas where wiccan seminars were being held that the damned christians tried everything they could to disrupt or block those meetings. Yet, these are the same riff-raff who will say 'America is the land of the free'. I know I'm not the only one who can see through that. What it comes down to is that people who are against freedoms in the Bill of Rights are actually anti-American.

"It has served us well, this myth of Christ" said Pope Leo X and quoted in David Icke's Children of the Matrix (p194). Yes, the myth of christianity...of ALL religions has served the aliens and polarities VERY well. David says, on pg 195, "By choosing to give yourself to a deity or 'god', you open your psyche to possession by the force that deity or 'god' represents, and deities like 'mary' and 'jesus' represent very different forces to those perceived by their 'believers'." This is VERY true, which is why I urge you to only go within and give yourself to your Higher Self, the true you. In this way you open yourself to receive messages from your Higher Self, the ONLY 'god' who counts for you. It doesn't matter that the religious believer thinks he/she is getting messages from "jay-zus". He's opened him/herself to get messages from the real entity behind the mythical jesus. How many times have we heard 'god told me to kill...', 'jesus is with us and he told me...' and similar phrases.

Certain groups get after people who like the Confederate flag. They say 'the Klan uses it'. Yes, the Klan also uses the bible and jesus, but you don't hear those same groups saying, 'dump jesus/bible cause the Klan uses them extensively'. Why not? Does it hit too close to home for the christians? These same groups will worship the master's 'jesus' instead of seeing through the illusion of it.

If there was true freedom of religion, tolerance, REAL tolerance, would be the norm as would respect for other religions. Attempts at imposing your beliefs on others would also be not allowed. No missionaries. If someone wanted to know about religion x, they could investigate on their own. No one needs missionaries banging on the door to try and spread their poison in a misery-loves-company zeal with the intent of blocking your Higher Self. Freedom of religion stops when it involves harrassment of non-members. Freedom of religion in America? No way, never has been. The christians have seen to that.

Observation: Twisted Words

The television ad starts with a view of a block of homes. The next frame mentions Sept 11,01. Following that shows the same block of homes this time with a hoard of American flags outside each one. The final frame is a reference to "freedom". What does this ministry of propaganda ad have to do with freedom? Absolutely nothing. Freedom is NOT conforming to political homogeny. Freedom would be to express your ideas DESPITE what the government wants, DESPITE what your neighbors want, DESPITE what anyone else wants. If the ad wanted to depict 'freedom', it would not have been a show of conformity but rather a show of varying opinions. However the US population is SO lied to about the word 'freedom' that it has taken on a life of its own, similar to the word 'love' meaning 'sex' when actually they are vastly different.

THIS IS THE GAME IN ACTION! The Game lives on word play and mutation of truth. What happens when the anti-war group expresses themselves contrary to the government's propaganda drive? The rabble descend on them for not conforming! If 'freedom' were a reality, those with contrary opinions would not be harassed but rather honored for their difference. Remember what I wrote earlier about America being under the sign of Cancer. Cancer is a sign of conformity and government rule. It is the shadow opposite of Capricorn and overt rule. The Cancer/Capricorn axis is not interested in 'freedom' unless it is 'freedom' to live within the narrow confines of their dictates. The Cancer/Capricorn axis is far more interested in empires (Great Britain, US, etc) and controls. Remove the veil from the warped wordings and see what is really happening.

Freedom was visible when the group of firefighters in Florida refused to have the American flag on their truck as a political statement. If 'freedom' was valid in the US, people would have moved on. Instead you had a ruckus over NON- CONFORMITY. THAT is NOT 'freedom'. These same people who bitch at these firefighters are the same who parrot the propaganda illusion of "American freedom". Well, "American freedom" is NOT 'freedom'.

To escape the Game, you must be able to see with your eyes unblinded by the sparkling rhetoric that the propaganda mills love to spew. If you have not yet reached observer status, then you will participate in these learning experiences. This is your path at this time. However the Matrix 5 materials are not written for participants in the Game. As an observer, you must distance yourself from participating in the flow of the Game. You must also look deeper at what is presented to you, by the propaganda mills, and remove the wrappings of belief to see the level of deception. What you will see will not be pretty. In observer status, you do not move against the Game, but you most definitely can point out the Game's mechanics to other interested observers. Share what you see. Remember, you don't escape by fighting the Game, but by removing yourself from it. Remember what the word 'observer' means - a non-participant in events, but someone who takes note and evaluates.

Observation: "Four Steps Away From Sieg Heil"

On a popular, national radio talk show this morning, one of the 2 male hosts said, "We're only 4 steps away from Sieg Heil (in the US)". Observers can easily notice the rapid decline of America into a fascist state. The current occupant of the White House has become the Hitler of the 21st century, but it should come as no surprise since he said publicly (twice) how he wanted to be dictator. Even Hitler didn't say that in public. Congress has become mostly silent on the fascist take-over antics as has the Supreme Court. We've had our version of the Reichstag Fire on 9/11/01. The American public of today has chosen to be like the German public of the 1930's. The scapegoat jews/gypsies/gays/etc of Germany's era are now Muslims or (ridiculously) any turban wearing person in America. Double standards (one for the US and one for everyone else) is an American priority. Remember when I told you America is a Cancer country and that's 'do as I say, not as I do'. The majority of the public DO support this fascism. This IS the Game in action. Go to this site and check out these cards dealing with the fascist movement of the US: <http://yorick.infinitejest.org:81/> You will see a number of excellent cards you can download. The only cards I don't support are the 3 'women screwed' cards. This shows that even when you have such inspiration that the Orion program regarding women STILL pokes through in all but the Very Advanced levels where female superiority is a known myth. The best cards, in my opinion, are Loyalty Oaths (Ein Reich, ein Volk under Jesus), Reichstag Fire (World Trade Center Plaza), and American Public (Land of Mass Hypnosis). There are many more excellent ones.

Minion incarnations are absolutely vital in a fascist system since minions make wonderful followers as long as they, like barnyard animals, are fed and watered. Higher Self incarnations can also trot along, for the experience, in all incarnations below Very Advanced. The Very Advanced and Final Incarnations are here to observe these shenanigans of manipulation and the Game in high gear (EndGame). It's interesting that George Washington had a 'dream' of the US being invaded. Well, since the US and the majority of its people have chosen the same route as Germany did in 1930, it should not be surprising that the outcome will be similar since this is an historic experiential loop. Americans have chosen this route and, as you know from reading the Matrix 5 materials, choices have consequences.

Those who are being swept up in the manipulation of emotions/so-called 'patriotism'/hate mongering, etc are fulfilling their roles in Game development, polaric manipulation and Higher Self experiences. Those who distance themselves from these types, observe and make comments contrary to the fascist line are learning by watching those who are foolishly led. Adolph (seig heil) Bush is trotting around the country wrapping himself in a flag and spewing emotionally charge speeches laced with lots of fear inducing phrases similar to Hitler's. 1930's Germans were swept up in 'seig heil' mass demonstrations. Americans in 2002 are now swept up in 'seig heil' sentiment and visions of false superiority. I have an incarnation in Germany during that period. That incarnation is a common mid-level. In this, my Final Incarnation, I have the opportunity to observe from a far different perspective than last century's German one.

The Game wants you to hate. Remember we are in a Dark polarity controlled section of the galaxy. Dark rules and, in the long run, wins in 3rd density in this sector while the Game is in play. That the Earther simultaneous incarnate STILL overcomes and wins, despite the Game and its controls, says much for the Higher Selves who chose this path.

In this path, you immerse yourself in everything Game-connected, and raise yourself up and out of it. In this way you WIN the Game despite its controls, alien meddling and polaric demands. The war/superiority drum beat will grow louder. Examine YOUR role in this Event. Your position is important to your Higher Self and your progression.

Observation: The Great Dictator (1940) & Game Symbol

From Turner Classics Movies site:

Warner Bros. publicity described this bold film as "The Picture That Calls a Swastika a Swastika!" Satire as a Weapon is wielded by Charlie Chaplin in The Great Dictator (1940), a spoof of Hitler and another daring film for its day (seen on TCM in the television premiere of a newly restored version).

I watched this for the first time the other night. VERY well done and funny in several places. They said in an interview, with one of Hitler's inner circle, that Adolph watched it twice and thought it was funny especially in parts with Mussolini.

With certain obvious differences (like instead of jews substitute muslims) and it really does parallel the US with von Bush (siege heil). Even in the end, when Hitler takes Austria, he's standing on a platform with LIBERTY engraved on it. Fuckin' Bush is exactly the same and his henchmen mirror the Germans from the 30's. History is repeating itself quite well. The movie was filmed before Hitler/Stalin invaded Poland. The 'threat' of Poland to Germany in 39 is the same as the 'threat' to the US from Iraq in 02 - non-existent. The Germans convinced the population that the Poles were going to attack and even stages a fake attack. The Americans are doing the same with Iraq.

The Game LOVES to recycle events with minor changes in them. The cyclical nature of the Game, the infinity symbol (never ending and never going anywhere) is really the symbol for the Game. The only way to escape is to find the escape hatches located in various areas of the infinity symbol. This can only be done with full Higher Self guidance that comes only in your Awakened Final Incarnation. Before that incarnation, you are here for the experiences and maturing. Once matured to the level needed to move up to new densities, you reach Final International status. Matrix 5 is one, if not THE, best way to locate the escape hatches out of the Game.

Americans are becoming more and more like the German population in the 30's, by 1938, the hands of heil were raised by almost everyone. I keep pointing out observations on this (more so in private to certain people) but it's SO obvious that only those fully in the Game will refuse to see it. However, the Matrix 5 materials are written for those looking for the escape hatches. The hell with those who want to play the Game from the Very Advanced and above levels. When you observe the shenanigans, see how you are in OTHER incarnations when you were in lower Advancement levels. Learn from watching and resist being swept up by the fervor that the American fascists (primarily Republicans/religious types) are propaganda milling for. It's going to get worse in America, MUCH worse as the fascists/traitors continue their draconian (Orion Empire) goose-stepping. I see otherwise sane people in my area that have been swept up in the spying, speech restricting fears that Washington is generating all in the name of "Freedom". My advice: Keep your observational levels high and be suspicious of anything coming from government as 'truth'. Do what YOU feel you must do, but question yourself/motives before getting involved. Playing the Game or observing?

Observation: "Nose Thumbing" at the World

Colin Powell, one of George Bush's lackeys, stands at the press conference affronted by North Korea's decision to remove itself from a nuclear non-proliferation treaty. They are "thumbing their nose at the world", both he and his massah Bush(Harry Belafonte is correct), insist. How come you don't hear anyone in the world say the same about Bush withdrawing from several treaties because it doesn't suit him?!

This is just another episode of the US, a Cancer country with a Cancer dictator, crying 'do as I say, not as I do'. I have previously given observations on this. You can see they continue and will continue to develop. Observers can see the obvious nature of the US's dictatorial imposition on the world. This is one outcome of alien, sequential thought on the world where the aliens have been preparing Earth to become just another of many sequentially inhabited planets.

The nuclear treaty that they are talking about stems from an agreement by those who had the marbles not to share them with the rest of the world. This, of course, has not stopped other countries from gaining nuclear weaponry, such as Israel, India, Pakistan and South Africa. Nor did it cause the US to throw a hissy fit when they did get them. Now with overt dictator Adolph von Bush in the White House (remember what I said about Cancers in the paragraph above plus add the reptilian factor in with abundance), it should be the rest of the world who demands the US give up its nukes. Actually everyone should give up their nukes. Reptilians never give up power. You are seeing it in action here - a microcosm of the Orion Empire (US/Britain) trying to rule the galaxy (planet Earth). This is also in preparation for the intended return of the Orion Empire to Earth.

MANY people are foolishly falling for dictator Bush's lies and manipulations. This is easier to have happen when the world is primarily stocked with minion incarnations. Low and Mid level incarnations are also fairly easy to get to tow the line. Remember, the bottom line, at this time, is the removal of the simultaneously incarnating and the replacement by a new type of being to run this planet for the Empire.

The police state of the US also keeps turning the screws. This happens a little bit here, then a little bit there with the hope that no one will notice what is going on. The latest is the increased surveillance of American citizens going outside the country. It was reported on CNN and other news formats. The free (relatively speaking) ability to travel outside the country is decreasing. This will also happen within the country as the US fascist government continues its war with the Muslims and Arabs at the behest of Israel and its alien masters.

Blind Obedience & Questions

Some person or group of people in your government's houses of power decide that they don't like someone in another country. They decide that YOU, the people, should do something about their hatred. They decide that YOU should risk YOUR life to carry out their whims. They don't like leader or party of country XZY, but they also seem to go out of their way to tell you that it is not the people of country XZY, but the leadership that they don't like. However if the people of both countries are innocents, why do they insist that the innocents kill, wound and maim each other to satisfy the mutual dislike of the leaders? The innocents, therefore become part of the guilty by engaging other innocents. The invaders of a country are the guilty.

Switching from the ambiguous to some specifics: The current appointed president of the US is engaged in a personal vendetta against the elected president of Iraq for personal matters and due to orders by those in true power on Earth. Both leaders say that the people of the other country are not who they have problems with. Well, in that case, the people of both countries should sit it out and those leaders with the problem should meet in a stadium and fight it out in a ring with no rules other than it is just them who do fight.

If people involved were Advanced enough (Very Advanced and higher), they would ask 'why should I fight with someone who has done nothing to me'? The Law of Allowance would say it is ok for those who want to fight to go ahead and fight, but leave those, who don't want to, out of it. Very Advanced and higher do not fight wars where they have no reason to fight.

Afghanistan is another such surrogate war. Bush and cronies concocted a story and dragged in (under false pretenses) those who were not involved. These people removed the government of the country and bombed, as well as continue to kill, people who are innocents. This makes the US a war criminal country. The US government knows this and that is why they will not sign a world court treaty because all the US politicians who ok'd the war crimes would be hauled off to Europe for trials just like the Germans and Japanese were after World War II. If they weren't guilty of war crimes, they would sign the treaty. Notice how quickly that the US wanted Serbian "war criminals" on trial. Well, what's good for the goose is good for the gander!

Now Emperor Bush is foaming at the mouth for another war with Iraq. He has assembled all kinds of horseshit reasons in a panicked attempt to stir the public. He is working as Israel's surrogate and also is interested in Iraqi oil plus other things. He's grasping at straws to link a minor islamic group to everything wrong (in his opinion) in the world today. He is hoping the American people buy into his fantasies. The Very Advanced and higher will not. It is very easy to see through this type of manipulation when you are in these latter stages of your progression through the Game.

People should question 'why should I kill them if they have done nothing to me'. Tell those who want to drag you into their hatred to fuck off for the false reasons they give as 'truth'. If enough people said this, it would be less likely that there would be war. Why the fuck should I fight YOUR battles when they haven't done a single damned thing to me AND, not only that, they said that I'm part of the people they aren't pissed at?! They're pissed at you (Bush)? Fuck that...it's your problem because you certainly aren't going to come help me when I have a problem with someone who doesn't like me.

Enter the minion faction. Here you have blind followers - the herd/group mentality. THESE will make war at the drop of a hat and enjoy following the leader or perceived alpha type as they do in the animal kingdoms. This is one of the reasons why they want so many minions on Earth and why the majority of the planet's population is minion. Minions are meant as counters to the Very Advanced groups, for one, and would help in rallying the Low and Mid level incarnates to their leaders' will.

Finally there's the Game itself. What is happening is what is supposed to happen in EndGame. The Law of Allowance urges us to let them do what they want to as long as it doesn't involve our direct action. This will prove to be a test of YOUR resolve. As the war mongers and the innocents who choose to become guilty move into war modes, they will most likely try to drag you in as a co-player. What will YOU do? Will you refuse to participate or will you cave in to the Game and choose polarity? Whatever you do will be your experience and you will have to live with your choices. I, for one, will keep myself in Observer status. Keep your damned flags and ribbons away from me. If they sell me flag stamps to put on my mail, the flag will be put upside down to indicate that something is very wrong in the country. Be Aware. Be Ready. This is a part of EndGame.

Observation: White House Cries 'Wolf' AGAIN

Today's news is beating the usual 'fear' drum that they have been beating for the past 1.5 yrs. Once again the alerts are flying color 'orange' to increase the fear of the locals in the US. The White House dictator is concerned because the people are not behind his empire building and war/blood lusts (SO reptilian). Now they say these omnipresent 'terrorists' are targeting hotels, sporting events and so on. I DO expect that if something should happen, during this Year From Hell, that it is far more likely that Dark government forces are behind it. Another staged event like 9/11/02. This will be so the dictator can stir the US population to march to his warped tune.

Then the regional talk show (radio) was trying their best to instill fear into people as well and these 2 Bushites were calling for blood. When a caller responded with anything BUT the reptilian/blood party line, they were harassed and belittled for not conforming. This applied to many of the callers. Some dared to suggest Israel is behind much of this Middle Eastern mess. They ARE correct, but I bet you can figure out what these 2 Bushites yelled....the tired, old word, "anti-semitic". ANYONE who uses 'anti-semitic' as a synonym for anti-Israel is part of the Dark agenda. You absolutely can be anti-Israel and not anti-semitic. It is interesting to see how people go on the defensive when this term is used. They should tell the term caster to shut the fuck up! Of course you can add an exclamation point to that by blowing your nose in an Israeli flag. Israel IS the Nazi Germany of the current era. NEVER go on the defensive for your positions. If you do, you appear weak and your position is indefensible.

The Year From Hell is getting more and more interesting almost by the day. I saw an Air National Guard officer (major) wearing his brown khaki jumpsuit in a store. On his sleeve is a patch with a reptilian head, complete with horns and their eyes. Another patch showed this same reptilian image over the US flag. Shows you who is really in charge! Observe and make mental notes. You never know what you will see.

Notice, on this reptilian patch from the Air National Guard, that the shape of the reptilian's head is triangular and the point is down while the triangle behind it is point upward. This is a stylized 6 pointed star incorporating the Orion sciences (point up) and the Orion military (point down). The military is over the sciences, but yet the sciences use the military to carry out their agenda. Look at the eyes to see the soul. Genetics and technology are priorities for the Orion Empire in it's battle to bring immortality to the physical. It IS a no-win position, but they aren't spiritually Advanced enough to know that even though they are the oldest race in this galaxy.

Observation: Orion "Princess" Mode

In the Orion Empire, the queen has many daughters by birth and many more by favor. Their title is 'princess'. They are emissaries of the Orion reptilian queen. In Earth history it use to be that the daughter(s) of kings/queens were called 'princess' and the sons were 'princes'. The 'princes' were a reflection of the Sirian Empire where the king rules. Earther history reflected the 'as above, so below' in that the king/queen was a minor reflection of the Orion/Sirian Empires' queen/king setup. They sought to emulate the alien ranking. This is also true in priesthoods. When the Orion Empire plans it's return to Earth, the queen herself won't be on a ship, but rather one of her 'daughters', a princess of the Empire.

It has been a relatively modern Earther thing to refer to female children as 'princesses'. One thing you rarely hear is male children referred to as 'prince'. This involves alien programming and the dominance of the Orion reptilian female over the reptilian male. This is pure conditioning. You have to be Advanced enough to recognize it. The Empire loves using subtle approaches when it can, like a virus that enters the body and you don't realize it until too late.

Looking in various catalogs, I see LOTS of 'princess' this and 'princess' that. This is indoctrinating human female children to rule over males. It is not the cutesie thing many thing it is. Candy coating poison so that it tastes sweet does not negate the poison or the effects the poison has on your system. If you look hard and long enough, you may find a token 'prince' shirt for a boy, but you'll sooner find items where the boy is the 'hero' to serve the female. The use of 'prince' is equated more with being a servant of the 'princess' as the Orion males serve the Orion females. Fathers are obeying their DNA command structure in kneeling to their daughter ('princess'). They are programmed to encourage this mode. You have to be quite Advanced to resist that command. This DNA command is but one tentacle on the octopus of female dominance that the Orion genetic scientists installed in Earther bodies to activate at certain time periods like time bombs.

Since Earth is targeted to become an overt member of the Orion Empire, the aliens want to adjust mindsets to conform to Empire standards and that places female dominance at the top of the list. We've all heard of 'jewish princess', 'black princess' and various forms of it. You tend not to hear queen used the same way. In the Empire there is only ONE real queen and she is very jealous of her position. However there are many 'princesses'. Queen is very mockingly used on Earth in such terms as 'drag queen' or 'gym queen'. It is also used in 'queen sized' items of clothing. You also have prom, parade and other silly 'queens' of no power. Note here too, outside of proms, kings are scarce. These 'queens' are only princesses with delusions of grandeur. When 'queen' is seriously mentioned on Earth, it's Lizard-breath the second in London that people first think of, although there are a few other minor figurehead queens running around of no consequence. This brings up the rebel faction of the Orion power plays. For more on this, refer back to Matrix 5. The only institution that contains 'princes' is the catholic church. These 'princes' serve the pope who serves the lizard queen in the guise of "Mary". This reflects the princes of the Sirian Empire who serve the Orion queen.

Don't be deceived by what you see on the surface of conformity or seeming innocence. Don't ever settle for what's on the surface. While watching an ancient 'Donna Reed' show on TVLand cable, there was an episode where Donna is instructing her daughter on how to control men, do it stealthily and make them think that your ideas are his. That was in the late 50's. That is another form of the Orion programming. Females really believe they have the right to be a 'princess' and be treated as such (DNA command structure). This has rapidly increased in EndGame. Watch, observe and analyze with your spirit and not with your Orion DNA command physical IF you want to see just how the Game is trying to manipulate you. It's insidious. 'Princess' - yeah, right.

Observation: Anti-Male Hatred Rages On (Orion Influence)

Last month I wrote a segment on the Orion "princess" mentality. Now I've found an excellent article that deals with that subject. Of course it doesn't mention the Orion factor as most Earthers are too stupid to believe that they are anything but the center of the universe. The rabid anti-male attitudes of women, especially American women, has added to the decline of western civilization to make it increasingly an Orion civilization. Yes, this is the Game and the Dark polarity. Yes, this involves experience...BUT I never said you had to agree with the Game, the polarities or viewing/living in certain experiences. They have to be taken on an individual level. One person's experience can be another's observation. With that in mind, and with the intended return of the Orion Empire to rule Earth, I am including this article to increase your awareness of the pervasive influence of Body-ID:

Anti-Male Bias Increasingly Pervades US Culture

By John Leo
MensNewsDaily.com
9-7-2

A famous television newswoman told this joke last month at a fund-raising dinner for a women's college: A woman needed a brain transplant. Her doctor said two brains were available, a woman's brain for $500 and a man's brain for $5,000. Why the big price difference? Answer: The woman's brain has been used.

Most in the audience laughed, but one man stood up and booed. What's wrong? asked a woman at his table. The man said, "Just substitute woman, black or Jew for 'man' in that joke, and tell me how it sounds."

At about the same time, American Greeting Cards launched an ad campaign in Newsweek, Life and other magazines. One ad featured a "Thelma and Louise" greeting card, pasted into the magazines, that said on the front: "Men are always whining about how we are suffocating them." The punch line inside the card was this: "Personally, I think if you can hear them whining, you're not pressing hard enough on the pillow."

The newswoman, who is a friend, seemed shocked when I phoned and raised questions about her joke. "The poor, sensitive white male," she said. A spokesman for the greeting card company saw nothing wrong with a humorous card about a woman killing a man. He faxed a statement saying the card had been pretested successfully, and besides, "We've heard no protests from consumers who are buying and using this card." But would American Greetings print a card with the sexes reversed, so the humor came from men joking about suffocating a woman? No, said the spokesman, because 85 percent to 90 percent of cards are bought by women. There is no market for a reverse card.

In truth, no man could get up at a fancy banquet and tell a joke about how stupid women are. And a greeting card joking about a woman's murder would be very unlikely, even if surveys showed that millions of males were eager to exchange lighthearted gender-killing greetings. The obvious is true: A sturdy double standard has emerged in the gender wars.

"There used to be a certain level of good-natured teasing between the sexes," says Christina Sommers, author of "Who Stole Feminism?" "Now even the most innocent remark about women will get you in trouble, but there's no limit at all to what you can say about men."

Men's rights groups phone me a lot, and I tell them my general position on these matters: The last thing we need in America is yet another victim group, this one made up seriously aggrieved males. But these groups do have an unmissable point about double standards. On the "Today" show last November, Katie Couric suddenly deviated from perkiness and asked a jilted bride, "Have you considered castration as an option?" Nobody seemed to object. Fred Hayward, a men's rights organizer, says: "Imagine the reaction if Matt Lauer had asked a jilted groom, 'Wouldn't you just like to rip her uterus out?'"

The double standard is rooted in identity politics and fashionable theories about victimization: Men as a group are oppressors; jokes that oppressors use to degrade the oppressed must be taken seriously and suppressed. Jokes by the oppressed against oppressors, however, are liberating and progressive. So while sexual harassment doctrine cracks down on the most harmless jokes about women, very hostile humor about men keeps expanding with almost no objections.

Until recently, for example, the 3M company put out post-it notes with the printed message: "Men have only two faults: everything they say and everything they do." Anti-male greeting cards are increasingly graphic, with some of the most hostile coming from Hallmark Cards' Shoebox Division. (Sample: "Men are scum ... Excuse me. For a second there I was feeling generous.") Columnist Cathy Young sees a rising tide of male-bashing, including "All Men Are Bastards" and "Men We Love to Hate" calendars, and a resentful "It's-always-his-fault" attitude pervading women's magazines. Commercial attempts to increase the amount of sexual antagonism in America are never a good idea. And if you keep attacking men as a group, they will eventually start acting as a group, something we should fervently avoid. But the worst impact of all the male-bashing is on the young.

Barbara Wilder-Smith, a teacher and researcher in the Boston area, was recently quoted in several newspapers on how deeply anti-male attitudes have affected the schools. When she made "Boys Are Good" T-shirts for boys in her class, all 10 of the female student teachers under her supervision objected to the message. (One, she said, was wearing a button saying "So many men, so little intelligence.")

"My son can't even wear the shirt out in his back yard," she said. "People see it and object strongly and shout things." On the other hand, she says, nobody objects when the girls wear shirts that say "Girls Rule" or when they taunt the boys with a chant that goes, "Boys go to Jupiter to get more stupider; girls go to college to get more knowledge." Worse, she says, many adolescent boys object to the "Boys Are Good" shirts too, because they have come to accept the cultural message that something is seriously wrong with being a male.

"The time is ripe for people to think about the unspoken anti-male 'ism' in our colleges and schools," she says. And in the rest of the popular culture as well.

Observation: Orion Female Agenda Rampages On

I have this new ABC Distribution fall catalog in front of me. We get it where I work. Inside they have a "Girls Rule" sheet set and 'lounge' shirt. Both the shirt and sheets are white with phrases and sentences in different colors. The descriptions say, "Dreamily soft cotton jersey is covered with colorful observations." and "Cover yourself with some hot topics. Shirt is chock-full of choice conversational openers in a variety of colors." "Colorful observations" and "Choice conversational openers" trivialize the seriousness of the Orion DNA plague on Earth now. Here's SOME of what is written on these items:

- Boys Lie
- Boys Have Cooties
- Too much princess for one boy
- Princess(princess)n. see me
- Spoiled rotten
- I Have Issues

I hope most of you can see where this is all going. The Orion spin has increased to a deafening level. Female dominance is progressing so rapidly in the Orion mode and, unfortunately, most males are falling for this lock, stock and barrel. This set above is obviously for young girls and programs them to embrace their Orion DNA commands AND, for boys who see this, to surrender to their Orion DNA command structure.

'Boys Lie' - actually it's not the boys who live a lie. It's females who cover themselves in make-up, dyes and loads of artificial enhancements throughout most of their lives to make their appearance a lie. 'Boys have cooties'? Well, if this is the case, why do non-lesbian females spend most of their time chasing after boys? 'Princess' - that is a direct Orion DNA connection where reptilian females, of the royal lineage, are all considered 'princess' and 'daughter of the queen'. 'Too much princess for one boy' - Orion female royals have multiply male consorts. 'Spoiled rotten' - well that speaks for itself and what they expect. Using the word 'rotten' says it all though. What do you do with something rotten? You throw it in the trash where it belongs! 'I have issues' - yes, you do and they are not what you think they are. Summary: If boys are such liars with bugs living on them and you are so royal, why would you want to be associated with a boy? Who's living the lie here?

The Orion DNA commands are in a brazen, in-your-face mode these days, especially in the US and Canada, and spreading like a plague around the world. Unfortunately, there is nothing you can do about it on a global scale. This is the Game. However you can insulate most of your private life from the effects of these shrews IF you have Advanced enough to first override YOUR physical's DNA commands (by will of the spirit) AND then keep these people out of involvement in your private life. These types of observations can be made by anyone willing to face the reality of the current Game thrust. This message, as all of my Matrix 5 messages, are NOT written to those who still want to play the Game. These messages are for those who are ready to escape and to end their participation in the Game and move on to bigger and FAR better growth. For those of you who want to see, a day won't go by without you observing something on the order of what I've just written here. Stay awake and continue to Observe.

Observation: Increasing Anti-Male Droning

Last night, on ABC tv, Disney had a film about Santa Claus and his son, Nicholas. In one part of the movie, an elf is reading off names for Santa to pass judgment on being "naughty or nice". Every boy's name read was judged "bad". Every girl's name read was judged "good". You should be able to see the subliminal message here.

In the 1930's, a German said that if you repeat a lie often enough, people will believe it is a truth. This is being used by the fascists in power in the US in regard to Iraq and everyone else they don't like. It is also being used by the media and other organs of Orion propaganda to demean the males and artificially raise the females. This is very similar to how the Orion females took power from the males, even though the final coup was violent by the reptilian females.

As per previous segments of Matrix 5 materials, I've written about the violent nature of females which is FAR more violent than that of males. If you have to ask 'why', then you are not yet ready for the Matrix 5 materials and your Orion DNA commands are calling you.

In a Sopranos episode on HBO last night, an intervention was set up for a drug using younger gangster. One of the people there was his mother who encouraged that her son have sense knocked into him (violence encouraging). At one point, when he was being particularly set upon by the others, the mother chimed in and he responded, "Shut up, you fucking whore". She gasped and several men there immediately started to beat this guy.

Do you wonder why women can say WHATEVER they feel like (at least in the US) and EXPECT to get away with it (unless another female is involved)? Do you wonder why women are responsible for most of the violence in America today (and throughout history by getting men to carry out their demands)? This is one of the oldest Orion DNA commands - protect the woman. At one time, when women were women, this was understandable.

Since women have been DEMANDING that they are treated equally (as men), this is no longer a valid position. At their insistence, they should be treated the same as men. Hence, if she hits you, you have the right to hit her back.

While this is evident from the position of Balance, this moves beyond the Game, especially in the current EndGame. The Game is well along moving to female dominance and overt Orion Empire control. The Game is well along moving Earth to a sequential alien planet. Those who have reached Very Advanced stages and higher want OFF of this planet and OUT of this density, seeing that it is almost totally down the drain. If it wasn't for EndGame, it would get far worse than it is now.

What other anti-male propaganda is out there? It is EVERYWHERE to those who are even semi-sharp in their observations. 'Man bad...woman good' is the popular mantra. The male counterpart to the Orion DNA commands is to agree with this bullshit. Men, as a group, have given their power away to women who DON'T deserve it. Due to the advanced stages of this perversion, it is being forced on countries with different ideals. This is necessary for Earth to be sequential - a homogenous culture. This is necessary to make the Orion rule easier for THEM. Women attack male genitals (but yet can't get enough of having them around). Penis envy is stronger than ever. Since they cannot have them, they ridicule them. What's worse, most men buy into that ridicule. This is Orion DNA commands at work.

Men are put down by women and other men. This will increase even beyond the shrill volume of today. Hurry final stages of EndGame!!! The crap the females put out is deception just as much as the daily deceptions about themselves. Just as they use make-up, wigs, all manner of costumes/jewelry to cover up who they really are. They FEAR their true selves and their appearance. They FEAR the male gender. The best way to cover up fear is to ridicule, to point the finger at what one fears in order to draw attention away from yourself. Females excel at this because they have discovered it works for them.

Ridicule of men, violence to men and the attempts to reverse the roles intended will continue to rise. The men who put up with this are in bodies too submissive to Orion DNA commands, hence occupied by minions or spirits not Advanced enough to overrule the body. Yes, this is experience, even though of a perverse sort. This is embraced by the Lightsiders and is one of the features of the Light polarity today.

If a female says she would like to hit me, I always warn her to be careful because I WILL hit back. That itself keeps them back because they can tell I mean it. You notice, that women talk bullshit, but when called on it, they run for a MAN to carry out their will. If no man is there to carry out their will, they would return to the place that they were meant to have without Orion reptilian tampering. This is just part of what you will discover when you move into Very Advanced stages in regard to genders on Earth. I have given you several segments on these topics in Matrix 5 materials. It is up to you to enhance them, become strong enough in spirit to override the Orion DNA commands (it WILL happen) and learn from what is happening today. Observe, but restrict participation. The more you participate, the less you can observe correctly.

Observation: Violence Against Men Encouraged

In today's (11/24/02) Sunday newspaper's editorial page, a 'cartoon' appears with female golfers engaging in violence against men and men's property. This is in reference to females joining the male-only golf club in Augusta, Georgia. The drawing shows 3 females hitting golf balls to break windows (shown) and cause harm to men (2 are unconscious on the ground with golf balls around them).

Where is all that 'stop the violence' mantras that we have to hear daily? You won't likely hear it when it applies to the violent nature of females against males. This editorial cartoon is only one of countless examples of it being fine for females to be violent to men. This is PURE Orion mode, although this is the first time I've seen it on an editorial page. This is unacceptable to Very Advanced and higher incarnations. This is also the Game. I have been saying over and over that it would get much worse. Women are encouraged to be violent, both physically and verbally, with men. This is because whipped males, under total Orion DNA commands, obey the female at all costs.

What can you do about this. In the general or global sense - nothing. What you can do individually is, if you have moved to the Very Advanced stages where you can override your physical DNA commands in this area, is to refuse to play in this section of the Game. If ANYONE decides they want to get violent with you, you can allow it (Lightsiders) or give them a dose of what they had out (instant balance). While violence is not recommended by anyone, if you are attacked, it is your right to return the favor. If females know that their violent nature will not be tolerated, they will hesitate to engage in the activity. If they know you are whipped and Orion DNA obedient, they will have a field day with you.

Observe well...it's intended to get MUCH worse!

Observation: Orion in Disney

When I was in Orlando, Florida, I enjoyed the Disney Halloween atmosphere and the parades, both regular and special Halloween. One character that was prominent was Maleficent from Sleeping Beauty. She seemed to be all over, in the parades, in the evening MGM show Fantasmic and at the Halloween night where the most commonly worn costume by female attendees was Maleficent. I commented to one there that Maleficent clones were busy tonight.

Examine the character...the horns (a characteristic of the reptilians even though they are not correctly shown on the character), the shape shifting ability (she changes from a woman into the winged dragon (which is royal Orion reptilian) and the commanding, cold personality (typical of Orion royal females). In Fantasmic, in her huge dragon form, she is the central villain. The villains here threaten to take control of your dreams. There is a fair amount of Dark/Light banter and one piece of Lightsider propaganda which I just had to laugh out loud at: "Light will always defeat the Dark". This is an illusion that I've discussed elsewhere in Matrix 5. Jafar from Aladdin is in Fantasmic and changes into his snake form. Yeah, reptilians everywhere. Jafar proves far less threatening here than the dragon. This goes along with Orion females being far more vicious than Orion males.

Another visible character last week was the queen from Snow White. I watched as an actress portrayed her both in MGM and the Magic Kingdom. She was cold, aloof and very reserved, just as in the film. Once again, you have a shape shifting character of pure Dark side (all for/about me). This queen deals in poison (natural talent of Orion females). This queen was perfectly portrayed at Disney and showed almost as much disdain for Earthers as the Orion queen does.

One more character I want to mention here is Figment at EPCOT's Imagination building. Figment is the cute winged dragon that talks to people about imagination. At the start of the ride, the actor is talking to those in the ride and Figment shows up. During the banter that they have, Figment licks the actor on the face and says, "Tastes like chicken!". Here you have a cute version of an Orion royal with wings and the comment that humans taste like chicken implying the need for humans as food.

Disney's Animal Kingdom also has a dragon in its symbol. Expansion plans are said to include bringing dragons more and more into that section of the park.

While I had a wonderful time in Disney, I kept my observations on full. This is something the Very Advanced and above should continually do wherever they go. You can never know what you will see that you aren't expected to notice. Remember, always look deeper than the surface presentation.

Observation: Rigelian culture - China

I spent 10 days in China, one of the larger Rigelian manipulated cultures on Earth. My main reason for going to China involved one of my Dominant Incarnations and an energy infusion from the vortex area in the Forbidden City. With this visit, I have now touched bases with all 3 of my Dominant Incarnations, in the areas where they are incarnate/existing, and completed a cycle necessary for me and my Path.

When I was in Shanghai, at the end of my Adventure, I was taken to the local catholic cathedral as 2 of my fellow travelers wanted to see it. It was quite UNimpressive. One of the women (mid-60's) went on this preachy bit with the local guide about their deity, Mary, supposedly appearing around the world in different ethnic make-ups. I saw she was attempting to dazzle the Chinese guide (a young woman in her early 20's). I responded with how these are all alien holographic projections intended to stimulate submission to the religion and a giving away of one's power. The woman responded, "but we have to believe in something".

Of course, where she is on her path does require that power giveaway, but her defensiveness was based on belief rather than conviction. It is impossible for someone at her level to comprehend that you must look within to escape the Game. Since nothing more was asked of me, I said no more on that subject because both her and the guide have to decide what is best for them.

When the 2 women went to the can, I told the guide that you have to be wary of both christians and muslims (one god religions) as they are deceptive in their practices. They come in with this faux humility, then when they gain a foothold, they attempt to subvert everyone to their beliefs in a fervor of 'misery loves company' and condemn those who do not live as they want them to. I told her how, in the US, that American christians are constantly trying to get everyone to conform to their beliefs and standards. I told her if given the chance, they would also try to do so in China.

I found the Chinese significantly different and, while very interesting to spend 10 days there, it is not a culture I'd prefer to live in in my Final Incarnation. The American government would have us believe they are like Stalinist Russia, which is far from true. China is very modern, many people are glued to cell phones, just as in America. The cities are clean and, especially Shanghai, have wonderful architecture. Goods are plentiful and the stores are stocked with wide varieties of produce. American propaganda lies a lot. That's the Game for you.

The guide I had in Beijing is a minion. Not a flicker of Higher Self in the eyes, very flat. The same went for my first guide in central China. However, my final guide, in Shanghai, is a Higher Self incarnate, but of mid-level incarnation.

The Forbidden City is a strong vortex area and my Dominant Incarnation was waiting for me when I passed through the 3rd gate, even though she exists a few hundred years ago. I received so much information on this trip that I will be processing it for some time. It was a wonderful, Eventful experience for me.

The women in China have not reached the obnoxious level of the women in America, but then they've only been moving to the Orion dominance level since the 50's after Mao came to power. The current relationship male/female in China seems to be mostly on par with equality. However, with western influence strong (on tv, advertising), I can see that the Game will eventually (with enough time) move to influence Chinese women to become more like their western counterparts. Then I came back to the US and was again soaked in the bullshit of female dominance that is even more oppressive than before. I left the sewage pit of whipped America for a while, got cleaned off, then had to return and find it getting worse. That's the Game.

Observations: Zimbabwe & the Nibiru

With the sham Zimbabwe election's anti-European sentiment AND the support for it from all the other black African countries, I wouldn't be surprised if the Nibiru are behind it. The Nibiru/Annanakki are the ones behind the formation of the black race (they took over in that area after the Orion Empire did their gender splitting thing on Ancient Earthers). Since the Nibiru are returning AND they have something in mind for the slave race they created (possibly taking all their non-grossly mixed and pure blacks off Earth to be slaves elsewhere), the central/southern African leaders are aware and want to rid themselves of the Europeans. The deception is that while American Mulsim leaders think the aliens mean them well, they do not. It's just another alien deception on these people. This whole matter is really murky though and I'll be interested to see how it unfolds. Notice how Mugabe has a mini-Hitler mustache? Black Nazis, Israeli Nazis, American Nazis...Nazis, Nazis everywhere. The Empire is returning.

Observation: Death of a U.S. Senator

Paul Wellstone, US Senator from Minnesota, was killed in a plane crash along with his wife and daughter. Expect the usual hand wringing from his political enemies over this. This is the surface event. It is NOT a Wild Card. A Wild Card is an Event of a global nature, not regional or national, but GLOBAL. Nevertheless, this event was instituted to remove someone who was not an ally of Emperor Bush. Those of you who have been watching the political movements in the US know that only 1 US Senate vote keeps Emperor Bush from dominating Congress. Due to this, I will give you some food for thought:

*In Missouri some years back, the Democratic challenger to then-Senator Ashcroft was also killed in a plane crash. The difference between this and Wellstone's is that those who manufactured this event did not count on the dead opponent's wife to run in her husband's place. This was a miscalculation on their part.

*In Minnesota today, not wanting to repeat the 'miscalculation' of Missouri, the candidate's wife was also removed from the scene AND this event happened only days away from the election.

*I was asked if Ted Kennedy is a target for the fascists. No. He's part of the problem. Remember when you watch the theatrics on 3rd density Earth that if they want you to notice someone, they will put the spotlight on him as much as possible. Those in the spotlight are NOT the people to watch. If they want you to look at A, you better look at everyone BUT A. This was the case with Wellstone.

Now take what I've just given you and come to your own conclusions. Correct answers are located in the 'current events' section of the Library on Monroe level 27.

This is the Game in action! Certain things must happen in EndGame. The simultaneously incarnating Higher Selves ARE paying attention to what is happening here as well. They will ensure that the rules are adhered to by the sequential incarnates. I said, a number of months ago, that the first 3 weeks of October would be horrible. We've seen much Bomb usage(in many areas), Earthquakes in Manchester, England (30+ in 4 days), Snipers in the Maryland/Virginia area, Moscow's Chechen hostage activity, Senator Wellstone killed and more. This is all part of EndGame and, it hasn't "begun", as I've heard said. It is Well advanced.

For those who are Observers, you need to look deeper, much deeper at developing events/situations in order to see the roots of the issues. What you get on the news, in the papers, etc is propaganda from that country's government. If you believe what they say, then you are still being manipulated BY the Game. This is not either good or bad. It is where YOU are in the Game. The 'news' should not be the omega (end) of information, but rather the alpha (start).

What I release, in the Matrix 5 segments, is for a relatively few people because so few are ready to grasp it all. Yeah, I know there are a lot of wanna be "Awakened Final" readers of the Matrix 5 materials who are not ready for it, but you are only deceiving yourself if you can't admit your current incarnation's limitations to yourself. Also...very important...you must, and I mean MUST, learn to accept responsibility for what you say or do. People have told me their opinions or emailed them to me and, when I point out their errors in their opinions, they come back with "that's not what I meant" and try to make their problem my responsibility. Now, it OK to make errors, we all do while incarnated. However maturity is to accept responsibility for yourself. If you tell me something, and I respond to what you said, AND you respond with "that's not what I meant", the problem is YOURS. You must learn to say what you mean. I have been given the 2 step/backtrack and a flurry of reasons why I should be able to read their minds. This is avoiding responsibility on the part of the person. The correct response is something like "I said that wrong; let me rephrase that" or just plain: "I was wrong". Don't sink in the quicksand of your ego. Admitting error allows you to progress over ego. Meanwhile, EndGame proceeds.

Observation: Shuttle Craft Columbia Explodes Over Texas

ALL day long, and I DO mean ALL day long, American television has been focused on the American shuttle, Columbia, that exploded over Texas today. 7 people died. Well, military helicopters/planes crash as well as small civilian planes crash and they don't get more than a few lines in the national news. BBC America states that this explosion is almost to the day years ago (1986) when the Challenger shuttle exploded. Hmmm. Can you find any suspicious clues here?

Interestingly Israel's first astronaut died in the explosion. He was carrying a drawing made by a 14 yr old teenager killed during WWII in one of Europe's death camps. BBC America said this 14 yr old was gassed then burned in the ovens. A vibration that would be held in the artwork and a tie to that period. When I visited Auschwitz in Poland, during my last year of college, we were allowed to walk around the deserted camp next to the museum original site. This was before I started my psychic trainings. I found a glass insulator on the ground near the electric, barbed wire fences. I picked it up and was flooded with the most awful vibrations I have ever felt. I put it back on the ground. You don't want to carry around artifacts from a death camp. They carry their vibrations with them. Taking that object on the shuttle did no one any favors.

MATRIX V: The Gold Edition
Quest of the Spirit – The Ultimate Frontier

© 2000-2003 Leading Edge International Research Group. All Rights Reserved.

However while I feel that was not an appropriate item to take into space, that was not the reason for the explosion although that added to the tragedy. The 1986 shuttle was widely agreed upon, in Advanced circles, to have been zapped by an alien group as a warning to Earth. The sequentials, ALL sequential groups, want simultaneously incarnating Earthers to be contained on Earth. Matrix 5 readers know that the Orion Empire is planning to return. There are various alien craft (large, small and HUGE) in our solar system. Did this shuttle see something it was not supposed to? Was something given to this shuttle by one alien group that another did not want to be delivered on Earth? Maybe yes. Maybe no. If the aliens were responsible, you'll never hear that from any 'official' sources.

It is no coincidence that the shuttle was destroyed above Texas, home state of the White House lizard, Adolph von Bush. A message to him as well? I wouldn't doubt it, rather I would expect it especially since Bush is threatening to use nukes in Iraq and anywhere else where they don't bow to him. The aliens do not want Earth nuked and ruining the resources they want to plunder more of. NASA has said this did not happen due to "anything on Earth". THAT is also worth noting.

Yes, of course Bush's favorite terrorist scapegoats (in this the Chinese year of the goat) aren't blamed for the explosion. The way that these shuttles are overly checked, and with much heightened security in Florida for this shuttle, mechanical problem excuses won't fly, although I think that this is what they will eventually sing to the public: tiles fell off or some such nonsense.

Bush said that these people are "heroes". Talk about cheapening the word, but dictatorships and oppressive governments are always looking for heroes. The only valid hero is someone who does something extraordinary, usually at the risk of life, that is spontaneous. If someone is paid to do a job and danger is part of the risk, if they die because of a job related risk, that does not make them a hero. They knew the risks. An example of a real hero would be a bystander who pulls someone out of a burning building. It is a fireman's job to do that. He is being paid to do that. The bystander is not. But in these fascist, heil Bush days, you will hear more and more of pseudo heroes. I haven't heard so much of that hero bullshit since the Soviet heydays in recent history.

One more observation for today (Feb 1,03): In today's newspaper, on the front page, is an article reporting that "the Bush administration is revamping decades-old labor regulations in an overhaul that could force many Americans to work longer hours without overtime pay". "The administration argues that the pillars of American labor law, which established the 40-hour work week, a minimum wage and overtime pay, are antiquated." This is likely not be well noticed due to the explosion. This is a dictatorship tactic AND is a facet of a return to slavery of the populace. Do you think you would have the benefits you have working today if the Orion Empire succeeds in returning and makes this an overt slave planet. No Way! The fascist White House will continue to look for ways to strip away what we still have in order to prepare for one possible Wild Card that is desperate to be played.

The Year from Hell has just begun. Stay tuned and OBSERVE!

[Ed.- (Feb 9 AP News) Late Saturday February 8, NASA said the U.S. Strategic Command apparently tracked something flying near Columbia after it had reached orbit. Space agency spokeswoman Eileen Hawley said it was possible the object came from Columbia, but stressed "this is very raw data" that had just been turned over to investigators and that it was too early to speculate. One day after Columbia's Jan. 16 launch, military radar detected an object moving rapidly away from the shuttle.]

'Time', 'American Freedoms' & Incarnational Visitations
(Special Gold Edition Segment)

When I was apprenticed to a Native American shaman, I would call her just after midnight on New Year's Eve and say, "I'm calling you from the future. It's Jan 1 here and Dec 31 by you." Using that logic, it IS the future, however events all around the world are happening simultaneously irregardless of the date or clock time. Since this is so, what is clock time? Time is an artificial measuring of something that doesn't exist. Just because something happens on 3:00am in China on Dec 19, but yet it's still the day before where you live, does that mean you can alter events because you 'know' what's going to happen in 12 hrs from your current time? Of course not. Time does not exist.

It is just this lack of time that allows simultaneous incarnating Higher Selves to exist in whatever 'time periods' they should choose to experience. The Game wants you to buy into the illusion of time, just as the American government wants you to buy into the illusion of American freedom. Just as time does not exist, neither do American freedoms. Just as you are manipulated by the 'limits of time', you are manipulated by the skillfully deceptive use of the word 'freedom'.

I saw people walking the Underground Railroad route from the Civil War days. This was the route fleeing slaves used to enter northern states for 'freedom'. Visualize southern slaves as in a small box called slavery. They escaped this box only to move into another fenced in area for, although in the north they weren't slaves, they were certainly far from 'free'. It took almost another 100 years for serious progress to be made here. The common myth is that the Civil War was fought over slavery. This isn't true and Lincoln didn't want to free slaves until the near the end of the war and ONLY as a last resort. The American Constitution provides for any state that wishes to exit the Union. When this was used by the southern states, the illusion of American freedoms was shown and the Constitution no longer in force. The northern states refused to honor the Constitution and Lincoln became a major tool for the Game and those earlier stages of the One World government. The Game required the US be kept as it was despite the illusionary Constitution. American propaganda and historical rewriting, of course, would prefer you to believe that Lincoln moved to preserve the Union despite it being an unconstitutional move on his part. They would also prefer you to believe it was a war to 'free the slaves'. It was not. It was a war to subvert states' rights to the central government despite the ultimate 'law of the land', the Constitution. The Library on Level 27 contains much more untainted, interesting information on this and any other historical event.

Think of this major event in relation to the use of 'time'. Since Earther Higher Selves are simultaneous incarnates that means that the Civil War (and the Roman expansion, WWII, Crusades, etc) are occurring now just as you are reading this and I am writing. Just the contemplating of this can be a real mind-blower and something definitely for those of a Very Advanced or higher incarnational level.

If you've read Robert Monroe's trilogy, you know in one book he visits a few of his incarnations at their point of death (ancient battlefield/African village/early 20th century New York City). Although he was in the 'Robert Monroe' incarnation's current time period, when he visited these incarnations, their time period is active. This is an ability of simultaneous incarnating Higher Selves. Each incarnation serves as an anchor to that frequency and makes an easy entry point for the Dominants or the Final Incarnation. It is the energy streams from the Higher Self that assist the Higher Self to visit other time periods.

Likewise you, as your Dominant or, especially, your Awakened Final Incarnation can visit any of your incarnations in any time period you are incarnate whether it is American Civil War, Atlantis, Dark Ages, the Egypt of Pharaoh, etc. This can be done either through any incarnational stream from inside your Higher Self. This is a fast way: by touching the face on the Higher Self inner wall, you immediately see through that incarnation's eyes what he or she sees. Another way is to just will yourself to where an incarnation is. However, with this mode, you should have some idea which incarnation. You can learn of these incarnations on Monroe's focus level 27 in the Library or with other creative means at your disposal on that level. Your Awakened Final Incarnation receives a massive amount of information/abilities in preparation for the Incarnational Recall and Advancement to Higher Densities. Yes, it IS fascinating and even if your current incarnation is not at that level, you DO have one that is somewhere in time. Your reading of the Matrix 5 materials is helping that one in another frequency.

Some EndGame Observations

Two of many Observations: CNN reports that catholics, in almost all cases, are pledging MORE money to their church despite the corrupt priesthood. Sheeple of the religion FEAR facing the truth about their church, so they ignore it. If they paid attention, they would have to face the reality of religion and their non-existent gods.

Bush is wagging the dog daily. One of the latest is arresting someone for thinking about building a 'dirty nuke'. Shades of the Tom Cruise film, Minority Report, due out late June where they arrest you because of a supposed murder you'll commit in the future. They label that fantasy, when it is reality and present day! The majority of American residents call for more of their constitutional, paper freedoms to be taken away in the guise of security. Ben Franklin said to his peers at the time that America would give away all the freedoms they place in the constitution. Ben Franklin was one of those who knew the general direction of the future. He was also part of the Game.

You are labeled a 'trouble maker' for daring to disagree with emperor Bush, just like those who disagreed with Hitler in the 30's. Without 'trouble makers', Americans would still be overt British citizens and would still own slaves or be slaves, just to cite 2 examples of the benefits of 'trouble makers'.

Everywhere you look, depending on your level of Advancement/Awareness, you see both massive and minor examples of the deterioration of 3rd density Earth. Those listed above are just a few. These are part of the Game's current/final phases. I'm amazed how so many Americans would rather wrap themselves in the fog of illusionary freedoms/beLIEfs than face realities of religion and government. On the news last night, a shill for the government said that if a nuke went off in DC, "people would lose faith in their government". In other words, they might see the government for what it is and is not. Control/fear...trust us, we know what is best for you - these are the current government means and motto for the citizenry. A government to screw the country and its people WITH the majority consent.

Part of this is due to the huge amount of minion incarnations. As long as they are fed/watered, they obey. This is what is being counted on. In almost all cases, Final Incarnations are watching/observing the chaos and decline. There has never been an Event like this in the history of Earth. This is far surpassing Atlantis' last days. When Atlantis ended, it was the start of a new chapter in the Game and 3rd density Earth. When this current chapter ends, the Higher Self Earther incarnate book will be finished and closed. EndGame!

There is nothing you can do to stop what is happening. It's a Lightsider fantasy to think otherwise. Whatever role you may play in EndGame has been set by YOUR Higher Self. We need events pointed out so that we can make the best decisions we can for ourselves. Keep observing, do what you feel you must, but do so with as much information as you can glean so that you are not swept up into the Game by the fear it is spreading and lose your perspectives.

Observation: Dance of the Vampires

Dance of the Vampires, a Broadway (New York) musical, will be closing late January 2003 after only 3 months. The reason given is 'bad reviews', although it plays to packed audiences. I just returned from seeing it. It is an outstanding play. Everyone I talked to after the show said it was one of the best they had ever seen. So, why is it closing? Mama Mia, also an excellent Broadway musical, got bad reviews but has been playing to packed audiences as well. It isn't closing. Dance of the Vampires is a musical where there is a wonderfully, unique twist to the ending. The Darkside wins.

The play takes place in the 1880's in Transylvania. After a neat opening number/dance, Count von Krolock's coffin rises from the ground with lots of smoke and special effects. The 2 women say, "God help us". The coffin opens and Krolock says, "God has left the building". That's the first clue that this is a very different play.

Interestingly, the female lead chooses to be with the Count and to become a vampire over being with her suitor, Alfred. Even when Alfred and Professor Abronsius 'rescue' her from the vampires, despite her not wanting to go, I thought the ending would prove standard death-of-vampires stuff when the sunlight hits Krolock. I was pleasantly surprised to see it wasn't so. Krolock doesn't die and you see him again at the very end of the show. The female lead had already been made a vampire before her rescue and winds up biting her suitor, Alfred changing him into another vampire.

The finale is an extensive dance/song number taking the audience from 1880's to 2080's where everyone is now a vampire. Time Square has loads of ads, just as usual, but with a vampiric twist. Some examples: Virgin Air is now Sacrificial Virgin, Tang is Fang, Cats (the musical) is now Bats and the Rolling Stones are the Rolling Bones. Very clever. The lyrics of the finale deal with how the vampires have come to rule the world, "We drink your blood. We eat your souls." are sung. This got a rousing, standing ovation with cheering. It was excellently done. The Darkside was brazen in advertising.

On exiting the theater, I did hear two Lightsiders express unease over the ending. "They should have all died", said one. Lightsiders do NOT like it when they can't have their fantasies!

The vampire image is based on the reptilians who DO drink human blood. Remember I told you that the Orion queen intends to make Earth overtly part of their Empire. The conquest of Earth in the play corresponds to the Orion Empires intended assimilation of Earth. Dark wins Earth. Even the songs in the play stress over and over to "escape from the Light" and "remove the bindings of your imagination".

The play has lots of humor in it. Dark does indeed have humor. The female lead tells Krolock that she turns 18 in 3 days, on Halloween, at midnight during the eclipse of the Moon. The vampire looks to the audience and says, "It can't get any better". This happens a few times during the play. The dream sequence song "Carpe Noctem", seize the night, was a rousing number about escaping the Light. The vampires say that once the planet is all vampire then they can live in the daylight. In my opinion, their 'daylight' here is basking in the glow of the Orion queen.

If you have the chance to see this play before it closes this month, do see it. The Dark side very, very rarely does this type of thing and they do it here with music and humor. I believe that this is the ultimate reason why it is being axed - the Lightside does NOT appreciate it. Balance definitely does, however, and you must embrace and integrate the Dark with the Light to reach Balance, as I've said in other segments.

The polarities are also VERY body oriented. The vampires stress immortality of the body, an Orion obsession, yet the soul is no longer there. This is depicted by no reflection in the mirror when one is a vampire. The Orion queen doesn't want our souls around. Those 'damned' simultaneous incarnating spirits are an obstacle for the queen. Better to have the soul-less ones (minions). They obey. The 'wonders' of vampire life are glittering in the play. This also makes Lightsiders very nervous. Their 'god' has no real power over the vampires.

In one scene, Professor Abronsius marvels at Krolock's library of "every book ever published". Abronsius wants to read them all. Krolock hints that body immortality is needed for that. Advanced incarnates know otherwise. That's a lie of the body oriented and a denial of the spirit.

Great play...very different...very EndGame. Loads of observations to be made by those who see it and analyze it.

I just read a couple reviews, by non-critics, who said the Germans, who originated Dance of the Vampires, complained that the Broadway version "isn't Dark and sinister enough". They even boycotted the opening. The German version is supposed to be more into producing fear in the audience rather than entertaining in the Broadway version. The German version, from what I've read, is truly VERY Dark on the Orion order.

Embracing the Dark Polarity
(Special Gold Edition Segment)

Most Earthers are so propagandized by the Light polarity that unreasonable fears of the Dark polarity are extensive. The Dark encourages this fear as fear feeds the lower astral and makes Earthers far easier to control. I have written several times that Light and Dark feed each other.

My comments on the Broadway play, Dance of the Vampires, appear in another segment. In watching various video clips from the play on their fan site (www.dotvfans.com), you can view how, in several instances during the play, that the Dark makes its case against the Light. Pay attention to the words that Count Krolock sings in "Come With Me". He encourages you to see the Dark apart from Light propaganda. "Come with me and bless the night. Let the Darkness be your salvation. Curse the day, escape the Light. Break the chains of imagination."

It IS necessary to embrace the Dark and the Light to reach Balance. The Light would have us believe that they are all 'good' and Dark is all 'bad'. This is not true at all. There is good and bad in both polarities. The count is correct in saying you must experience the night in order to appreciate it. The Dark saving you from the Light is the opposite side of the coin for the Light saving you from the Dark. As long as you adhere to one polarity above the other, you have not reached a major experiential goal for the 3rd density path. What one will eventually do is absorb the best of BOTH polarities. By blending them together you discover true Balance.

Imagination IS severely limited by the Light polarity. The volume of 'you can't do/say' rules is a binding on your imagination. In order to break the bounds, you must use Dark techniques. If it makes you quake to know that, you are definitely not ready for Matrix V Gold Edition.

This doesn't mean that Dark doesn't have its own propaganda. It definitely does. Dark is very body/3rd density oriented. The vampire/undead legends are all body centered. Count Krolock sings that if you follow him "you will live forever more" as a vampire. This is body orientation at the suppression of spirit and your true self. You already are immortal. Your physical body is meant to be only temporary. Yet Darksiders, such as the Orion queen, the undead of legends, etc, all crave an eternal physical body and stagnation of spiritual growth. This is the Dark's lure for the body oriented of the 3rd density. However in one song, "Eternity", the vampires complain about the eternal loop of physical existence with nothing new being a "pain in the ass". The spirit craves change. The body craves conformity (the youth industry as the ideal). This song demonstrates a spirit influence for a true undead would not say that. It's a caveat included in the music for those who can observe and note.

The choice that the female lead has in the play is body over spirit. "It feels good" she says when the count bites her. "It feels good" Alfred says when she bites him. That's the body talking because once the person becomes a vampire, they are soul-less with no reflection (indicating the body exists without the previous soul while acting on past memories).

You need to really examine Dark very well to see its many facets and traits. There are some very valuable ones that you must have to Advance. The Light has many facets as well, some of which you also need and many you don't. Both polarities use fear to control. Fear is the one element both polarities feature that you will learn to overcome. Here's a clue for you to consider: to reach Balance, you need an equal amount of both Light and Dark blended together.

One other Dark propaganda I want to comment on is the idea of soul stealing. I had a Matrix 5 reader as a guest at my house last weekend. I showed him Arizona Wilder's video tape (excellent). In it she talks about how a reptilian was there when Diana was murdered and he 'looked into her eyes and stole her soul with her final breath'. It is a Dark technique to attempt to steal your soul (or parts of it) using a breathing technique. This involves the Darksider inhaling his/her breath over your mouth, many times while kissing you. I had this tried on me once in the mid-80's. At the time I didn't know what was going on since I was not familiar with the technique at the time. This man kissed me several times and each time he inhaled deeply. It did not have any effect on me other than raising a question mark in my mind. He did not steal my soul. Since then I've been shaman trained and learned a lot.

Your Higher Self will not allow someone to permanently steal your soul. This would mean that an incarnation has more power than a Higher Self which is pure fantasy. A Dark shaman could steal a part of a soul. The Higher Self would look on this as another experience. This is a temporary state. As a shaman, I've seen stolen soul pieces. Rest assured that all pieces will be returned to where they belong by the time your Final Incarnation summons all that Higher Self's incarnations back within. One thing a shaman does for people is find lost soul pieces and return them to the owner. Few are deliberately taken. Most are lost through some hard event in your life. There are relatively few Dark shamans in the world, fortunately, and they tend to be quite gaudy in ceremonial garbs and smile way too much. There are also relatively few genuine shamans in the world and, unfortunately, too many wanna-be shamans who can only do you a disservice. Trust your Higher Self in these matters.

The paranoid fear of Dark by Light attempts to erect a box that they trust your fear will keep you in. This is to perpetuate the continuity of polarity. I have heard that many Lightsiders up and left Dance of the Vampires once they saw the track of the story line. They didn't like having their fantasy bubble burst. I really enjoyed it and my observational skills were in high gear during and after it. Thanks, Count Krolock and company! Dance of the Vampires, although only briefly around dispensed very important information to those who were able to participate in that event.

Observation: Light Polarity Attempts to Alter the Game

Here's another example of polarity trying to change the Game. A faction of the Light polarity, 'the emissary of light', calling themselves "spiritual warriors", plans to launch an attack on the world on February 9, 2003 as 'a great experiment'. They will attempt a technique of theirs to force change and control the will of people. Whether or not their website (emissaryoflight.com) will be there after Feb 9 remains to be seen.

The Lightside loves to couch their controls in fluff and soothing tones. You will see plenty of that on their site. Their central figure is a crippled kid in Korea. Lightsiders just do fall all over children and, if they are handicapped, it really fuels their fantasies. You have all read enough in the Matrix 5 materials about Lightsiders to know when they are up and about mischief.

The Korean kid has a "vision". Geez, don't all the polarities have 'visions' any more. Major Darksider Bush has his 'vision', new Republican Senate boss, Frist, has a 'vision'. All polarity king/queenpins seem to have 'visions'. Visions are also delusions that are given many times under the influence of drugs. The 'vision' of the Korean kid is to attack the Middle East on Feb 9 with massive amounts of psychic generated energies to force change. Forcing change is always the way of polarities. Conformity - it's for your benefit. Bullshit! The question is what energy is manipulating that kid? Lower astrals love possession tricks and it may well be that they are behind it. The lower astral knows that Lightsiders believe in the nonsense 'children of the blue ray' crap. That was a Darkside set up at the root anyway. This has also been covered elsewhere in Matrix 5. The key people for today are in the Baby Boomer generation born 1946-1965. The red herring is that the key people are born in the 1985-2004 generation. When the Game directs you to one area, you must look elsewhere. It is in the interest of the Game to have you look where it wants you to.

Quest of the Spirit – The Ultimate Frontier

Of course since the Lightsiders have announced this to the world (I found it announced on David Icke's site and he is a Lightsider), the Darkside will be well prepared for it. The Darkside lives for these kinds of attacks and has the ability to follow the energy streams of these attacks to the people who generate them. It's all part of the Game's polaric mess. My advice is not to get involved in this battle except as an observer.

I remember the Lightside attack on New Year's Eve at midnight going into Jan 1, 2000. They directed attack energy to the great pyramid in Egypt. I observed how the Dark polarity was ready and eagerly accepting the challenge. The pyramid was a swirl of black energy in preparation for the attack. I stood far back watching this phenomenon.

The polarities are all about force and conformity to their will whether it is because of "I want it so (Dark)" or "It's for your benefit because I want it so (Light)", it's all about obeying their will. Externally forced changes do not help a spirit to advance. Changes bringing advancement must come from the internal because of observation.

Observation: Lightside Delusion & Allowance

I saw this quote on a site: "Infinite love is the only truth. Everything else is illusion." This is the Lightside's ultimate delusion. It is the core of their beLIEfs. As long as unconditional/unlimited/infinite (or whatever term is in vogue with them) love exists, the polarities will continue to thrive.

Matrix 5 talks about polarity terms quite a bit. Now that we are in EndGame, the polarities will actually get more pronounced. As Darksider Bush gets more and more into empire building and threatening those who disagree with him, Lightsiders will get increasingly shrill with their 'unconditional love' loop. One feeds the other.

The Light polarity is blinded by the Light. They are so blinded that they cannot see anything but the Light as they move to the edge of the cliff not seeing where they are going. Notice that both Dark and Light polarities stress that you are with them or against them. Adolph von Bush has been proclaiming that from his appointed seat in the White House, since September of 2001, for the Dark side. Champions of the Light have been trumpeting the opposite - ultimate love instead of ultimate domination. This is when you have to bend the line into a circle and see that they are just opposite ends of the same coin. They both see to dominate and manipulate. They both seek to control everyone else in one way or another.

The Law of Allowance says one must allow another to develop as they desire. It is not a Law of Acceptance. Allowing does not mean you accept or agree. It does mean that others can progress as they desire as long as they don't force their will on others. The stance of polarities always excludes the Law of Allowance. However in EndGame we see many examples of varieties of expression that rubs society wrong. Sex (not gender) and sexual expressions, the great taboos of religion/society, are based in repression of Higher Self contact. Refer to other Matrix 5 segments for more on that. Those who complain and wail over gay/lesbian expression are mainly those who would identify themselves with the Light side and Light polarity religions. Political/personal independence matters are usually cried over by Dark polarity types and control fanatics of physical dominance who demand everyone should be like us, or as popular in America, like U.S.

The polarities are so caught up in their agendas that Allowance is the last thing they would consider. Allowance oozes individuality. This should tell you where the conformist blather of the polarities is rooted - the sequential aliens who are the control mavens of the galaxy. Earth, a wealthy planet, as the location for simultaneous incarnates just irritate the sequentials.

The Game is allowing the challenges of gay/lesbian visibility to show those simultaneous incarnates, who are Advanced enough, how polarities operate. It also adds to one's observational notes and sharpens one's skills. The Game allows the sequentials to warp the simultaneous experience by moving to place females above males and cause a shift away from different incarnational experiences that the genders afforded in the past to the increasingly Orion model of today. The Light polarity will do whatever it wants because they are doing it "for your benefit". That's an outright lie. The old chestnut, "If you love me you'll...(whatever)" is pure control freakish. The Dark polarity will continue with One World mentalities. The Light seems to concentrate more on spiritual control/dominance. The Dark wants physical control/dominance. BOTH are dead ends by themselves, yet BOTH must be embraced by the 3rd density players in order to reach Balance.

2012 & Lightsiders

I was in my favorite health food store the other day and the owner asked me for some general advice for the coming year. I told her that 03 was setting up as the 'year from hell' on a global scale (EndGame moves into high gear and final stages). Next she mentioned 2012. I told her that I expect most of us would be long dead by then. This shocked her. "But isn't 2012 the year of a change in consciousness?" Yes, a changed from 3rd density life to 4th density for most as your physical dies.

Lightsiders, almost always fearing death in any form, know that 2012 is rapidly approaching. In order to calm their anxieties about that year, they've fluffed it up to be a 'change in consciousness'. This is PURE bullshit. Not only that, the impression they like to convey is that the world pretty much keeps going on as it is, then, on a magical day in 2012, suddenly everyone is all 'love & light' and Dark ceases to exist. FOOLS! They close their eyes to what has been going on for years, the fascist government in America continues to try and rule the world as wars are demanded by the rabid, appointed president-dictator Bush.

Only a Lightsider could delude themselves into the 'change of consciousness' myth. This myth is right alongside with other major myths, such as Jesus, female superiority, 'god', 'the government is here to help you' and 'space brothers'. The Game is fine with Lightsiders believing these things since this places them in the position of inaction and Dark can move ahead with its agenda. This belief actually allows the Dark a free hand because the Light says, "it'll all change at once in 2012".

The Law of Allowance says everyone is free to do what they want, so it demands that the Lightsiders have the freedom to wallow in their myths. This is part of the experience pattern and, when they grow beyond their own limitations, they will realize where their errors were.

My advice to the store owner was to trust in her Higher Self and resist outside attempts to create and encourage fear. It is by fear that they will try to control the populace. In fear, people tend to give away their power. This fear is total body orientation and the body overriding the spirit. It is fear that strengthens body ID control. It is overcoming fear that strengthens spirit control over body. Choose wisely.

Special Gold Edition Segment

I remember when I first heard the buzz about the Mayan calendar ending at 2012, it will occur in December of 2012, that the end of Earth (as it has been) will occur. Depending on who you listen to, it can be anything from the planet blowing up to a change in consciousness. The Dark version would be that Earth will blow apart. They would like this because it would induce the most fear in people. The Light version is the 'change of consciousness' thing because just about anything more threatening makes Lightsider knees knock and teeth chatter. I remember seeing in one of the Prophecy series (on television) that the common household appliances would come alive and attack people. The waffle iron would chase you around the room! Yeah, sure.

At first it seemed that people wanted to hear just about any 2012 idea in the late 80's because it was perceived as a year so distant. Now we are in 2003, less than 10 years until the date arrives. Lightsiders are starting to be more active with their version of 2012. I've recently read about someone saying that there are some indigenous people, in the area where the calendar was discovered, who say it won't be the destruction of the Earth, but a 'change in consciousness' IF certain Lightsider beliefs are adhered to. Of course when these people add that what they say is some Central American local's opinion, the Light version gains more followers. The attitude being 'if it's Native, it must be better'.

When Atlantis was in its final days, there was a similar mood. The Lightsiders of that day preached a similar fable of 'change of consciousness'. Atlanteans still carried on like their routines would never end. Then the 'end' came and it arrived - literally. The Earth didn't end, but it was FAR from being the same. Atlantean civilization ceased to exist. This invited more alien involvement in numerous Earther sections. The Atlantian history is known in certain segments of Earth today, but these groups have no intention of allowing the general public to know what it is. Those 'live' pyramid room openings in Egypt that pop up now and then are strictly for show. They already know what will be shown in those "live" television broadcasts. You won't find any genuine surprises there. The pyramids were there when Atlantis existed and thrived.

One thing you can count on is that Earth will not explode in 2012. Another guarantee in 2012 is that people will not suddenly stop being who they are to spout 'love and light' nonsense. Always dump both extreme polarities' bullshit. The Game is in full play and we are in the stage called EndGame. Just as your incarnations have their major experiences and deaths preset by your Higher Selves, so are the Earth's set by the planetary Higher Self. The Wild Cards discussed in Matrix 5 refer to possibilities for this end, but it isn't for us to know exactly which one will bring the completion to the simultaneous incarnational path on Earth. When I traveled to 2200 for the Astral Travel course, I saw what Earth would look like. Gavin Frost told me that he knew that I had been there because I saw the same situation that all the thousands of people, who took the course and got to 2200, observed all over the globe. Now as to what Event happened to make Earth this way is what the Wild Card(s) to be played will determine.

You can observe from the current occupant of the White House (Adolph von Bush) that insanity has command of vast amounts of 'weapons of mass destruction'. That person lusts for war, destruction and dictatorship. Earth changes, Return of the Empire and other Wild Cards want to be played as well. There is nothing we can do here with EndGame except observe and experience. ALL simultaneous path Higher Selves have one incarnation in this time period because of EndGame. These incarnations are at all levels of experience. This is considered to be THE prime time to have an incarnation in. This is also why Matrix V has been produced. Keep your balance and observe is my best advice to you. EndGame will take care of itself, and don't be hung up on any one date.

Looking Forward – The Age of Aquarius

In The Christ Conspiracy by Acharaya S. (a MUST read book), a good job was done on describing the past Ages of Taurus, Aries and, especially, Pisces and their influences on Earth. Pisces, the Age we just left a few years back, brought us the evils of christianity and other one god religions, slavery, drug use, secret governments and such. The Age we are entering now is Aquarius. This wonderful age is one of spirituality, the antithesis of religion. We will have (finally) the end of the Dark christian and other one god religions, but they will not go gracefully. No Dark ever does!

Aquarius will also bring about the end of the artificial-to-humans state of monogamy/marriage and the era of individual growth with a connection to the Higher Self not seen in, literally, Ages. None of this will come easily. A major catastrophe must occur and a severe reduction in Earthers inhabitants as well. Val and I have discussed this on and off. Will the meteor that is supposed to hit either Italy or Morocco on Sept 21, 2001 be the EVENT? Maybe, but SOMETHING will occur pretty soon because 2012 is the year that should END the chaos, according to all known signs, and the Age of Aquarius move into full swing with the remaining Earth inhabitants.

This means there will be no more minion incarnations on Earth, only Higher Self incarnations. What happens to the Orion DNA commands? That's a great question and I really don't have the answer for it because that's an internal problem that could only be corrected by reconstructive DNA repairs. It WILL be corrected, the Orion Empire will be cut off from Earth, the drive for gender dominance will end, the need for credit/currency (ONLY in Orion Empire worlds) will no longer exist on Earth. Pretty much all we are familiar with today will cease as structure. You can see why the reduction in planetary occupancy by humans would have to be reduced to about 500,000.

Signs and portents are invaluable but can be tricky to interpret at times. What can you do? The only thing you can really do is to educate yourself and connect to your Higher Self. Your Higher Self will ensure that you are where you are. If your destiny is to exit (die), you will, as this is something you chose BEFORE incarnating. If your destiny is to live through the Changes, you will as your Higher Self will see you are in the area(s) you need to be. No need to worry nor to think of all the angles. Trust in yourself, your Higher Self and you'll be just fine. The Age of Aquarius will be a marvel, once it has begun in full swing, like never before. Embrace the changes, roll with them...don't fight them and you will do just fine.

Earth – Ending the Myths

The current and long running belief is that there is Mother Earth and Mother Nature, female planet and female expressions of the planet alone. These are invalid. Earth is NOT female. It is both male AND female, as are all fertile planets. The Earth is the same as its ancient human residents were, male and female perfectly blended into one. I have written about Earth humans previously.

The spirit that has Earth as its body (as we have our physical bodies) is a brilliant, opalescent energy being. Its size compares to our own spirits' sizes. It is highly intelligent, has the full range of emotions and is learning/experiencing by its interaction with those beings on and under the surface, regardless of species or planet of origin. The path these beings follow is different than our own, but just as valid.

Sedona's red rocks are an example of Earth's female nature. The fertile exterior is an example of the Earth's male nature. Dead planets are those where the animating spirit has departed. These have no atmospheres and no life. There is still an essence, however, as all matter has a form of eternal essence. Forming planets will have one of these spirits, like that of Earth, once an atmosphere is in place. The atmosphere indicates a spirit within, unless the atmosphere is artificially constructed. This mirrors life on Earth beginning with the baby's first breath. The first breath signifies the spirit has entered the body. The planetary atmosphere indicates the spirit has entered the planet. Those who deal with deities and the planetary spirit are in error.

'Calling down the goddess or god' does not summon the Earth spirit, nor the lunar one (there is no spirit in the Moon as it is an artificial construction around a dead planetoid). The Earth spirit is not at the beck and call of beings on the planet. Since these deities are really non-existent, these people can only summon energy constructs that they created on the astral and put energy into. The true origin of the 'goddess' is the Orion reptilian queen and any of her female representatives or genetic scientists. The origin of the 'god' is the Sirian wolfish king and any of his male representatives or genetic scientists. In this relationship, Orion's will supercedes Sirius'. These are responsible for the mutating into genders what was once a single, whole Earth human. All of that is another, previously discussed topic.

Montana Crop Formation

The Orion Empire, ages ago, adopted a Sirian major weapon. This was to produce a craft that looked like an asteroid, but was actually a planet destroyer in disguise. At one time LONG ago, there was one in orbit around Earth. It was called, by the Earthers, the Eye of God due to it's roundish shape and prime weapon port in the center, which from Earth's surface, looked like an eye. The weapon port can be disguised as well to look like part of the asteroid or small moon. The Star Wars movies had the Death Star.

This was based on the Orion/Sirius craft except it was metallic looking instead of disguised. It was one of these that blew apart the planet we now call the asteroid belt. It takes just one blast to destroy a planet.

As I wrote of in the Wild Card possibilities, the Andromedan Council is said, by Alex Collier, to be moving to intervene on Earth. They are on their way now. If the Orion Empire feels it will lose Earth and our solar system to the Council, it plans not to allow it to happen.

Just as on Earth, when an army in defeat must retreat, they blow up bridges and railroads and kill the livestock, etc so the Montana crop formation (summer 2000) shows 3 Orion Death Stars (circles with weapon ports open) firing on Earth. One Death Star caused the asteroid belt. 3 will leave nothing but dust. If this is carried out, death will be instantaneous for the entire planet. The attitude is, as with Earth's retreating armies, 'if we can't have it neither can you'.

The crop formation gives that warning. This doesn't mean that Orion will actually succeed with it, but it does reveal their plan in case they lose our planet.

Observation: Signs

I just saw the new film, Signs, with Mel Gibson. Before you read further, this segment will include parts of the film, so you may prefer reading it after you have seen the movie. What occurs in Signs is a partially potential with the alien wild card scenario. The alien language you hear is insectoid. The aliens you see are a reptilian variety noticed by the claws and height. The actions by the alien in the central family's house near the end are more like Greys and definitely not reptilian. Reptilians would NEVER stand still for what happens at the end. What Disney has done is create their own hybrid alien. I do believe the general public could not handle a true Orion reptilian in the context of the film if it was done as they really are, however in Signs the aliens are not defeated as they were in Independence Day.

Both films have an base theme of hostile aliens wanting to harvest the Earth, although in Signs it's harvesting the Earthers (must taste like chicken to them). Earthers have been fed the superiority lie for so long that when faced with the reality of the overwhelming superiority (technological) of alien empires, they either panic or hide their heads. Movie makers know this and therefore greatly soften the blows given in almost all alien invasion pictures. Too bad. Earthers could do with a severe dose of reality.

This is not a gory film and several scenes are left to your imagination. This is more like a 50's style invasion with 30's/40's suspense. It's very well done. Unfortunately 'god' has a sub-theme in Signs. The writer desperately wants you to run to your local external deity for salvation. Matrix 5 readers know that won't get you anywhere, but it still is an oppressive curse of society in most of the world. The 'god' stuff was weak for me, especially the end, although I know where the writer is going with that and how he wants to lull the viewers back to the mythological sleep induced by that non-existent being.

Disney is behind the release of Signs. Disney has been heavily involved with the government since Walt became a government agent and there are numerous references to that in print. About 10 years ago, Disney made a 1 hour television special about aliens to coincide with the opening of Tomorrow Land's Alien Encounter. Only the last few minutes of the show dealt with Alien Encounter. The rest of the show explained real aliens and many facets connected with them. What was especially interesting was that the narrator didn't use words like "may" or "could be". He used words like "is" and "are". One would think the whole planet already knew what they did. Unfortunately, they only broadcast that show once. Lucky for me, it was at a strange time and I had taped it.

Now Disney is involved in producing Signs. With 2003 set to be the 'year from hell' due to several HEAVY astrological placements, I would not be surprised that the alien wild card finally gets played. However we won't find that the aliens come, harvest their load of humans and then depart. If the Orion Empire has its way, they'll be here to stay and Earth will be an overt part of the Orion Empire. On NBC evening news yesterday (8/2/02), a White House spokesman said that the next war on Iraq is planned for April of 03 and "it'll be like any other war ever seen". THAT should catch people's attention. Will alien technology play a part? Are there some alien toys the military wants to experiment on the Iraqis with? Time will tell.

I do recommend seeing Signs. Use your observational skills and see what YOU can glean from the film. There is a lot to sort through, although forget that tossing water on them acts like it did to the Wicked Witch in The Wizard of Oz. It doesn't work that way, but it is there to make Earthers feel a bit more at ease.

Coup on Mintaka

A reliable source told me that he was told, during sleep, by a type of mottled Grey alien, that there had been a coup on Mintaka (home system of the Orion Empire) and the ancient queen was killed and has been replaced by a new queen. The former queen favored covert control of Earth. The new insists on overt control of Earth, complete with "knocking down of buildings and enslavement of the planet". This isn't something that just happened last year, but several years ago. The rise of a new queen is probably behind the crop circles with the Death Stars (orbs with circle in their centers) and another showing the inner planets of our solar system but no Earth depicted in orbit.

The last time there was a coup in the Orion Empire was when the females deposed the king and killed his supporters. This happened back before they discovered Earth. My friend was told that the new queen devoured the old, as is their way.

Observations on the Animal Plagues

Mad Cow disease began in England. Now Hoof & Mouth disease's breakout also began in England and is rapidly spreading across Europe, the Middle East and now South America. What's up? England is the center of the Orion rebel queen's power on Earth. Are agents of the returning true Orion queen at work here?

The Orion Empire intends to make Earth an overt member of the Empire. The Empire is returning. The rebel queen will be dealt with. The Empire is not pleased with the development of humans on Earth, not the minion incarnations, but the Higher Self incarnations. The breaking down of Orion DNA command structures and the Higher Selves entering into consciousness with their human incarnations are major concerns. Loss of slave labor, loss of food supply and more are at stake. IF HIGHER SELVES NEVER CHOSE THE EARTH INCARNATIONAL PATH, THE DNA BREAKDOWNS WOULD HAVE NEVER BEEN OCCURRING! It is the Higher Selves that are, in fact, causing the end of Orion domination on Earth.

As I've said before, one serious option Orion is considering is removing ALL humans from Earth and replacing them with newly created beings with safeguards preventing another DNA deterioration. One way to consider is that Orion queen agents employ germ warfare against the Earthers' food supply. That both started in England, seat of the rebel queen's power on Earth, is no coincidence. If you think so, you should not be reading this material.

The huge object entering our system, reported by those using infrared telescopes, from the direction of the Orion system says much. Time will tell, but do consider these observations. Planetary events are speeding up as we move closer to the end of 2012 and whatever that will bring. Being able to observe and detect details is essential for spiritual maturity and definitely for a Final Incarnation. Keep observing.

Wild Cards

Earth is currently at a critical juncture. The direction that will be followed depends on several 'wild card' events. Wild cards are those events that are not predictable as to WHICH will occur. Depending on which one or which several, events brought on by their playing will take place. I will touch on 3 of the major wild cards.

1-The Orion card. This involves the intended return of overt rule over Earth by the Orion Empire. All pretext of 'human rule' will be done away with. If you get a chance, watch the Simpson's episode of Kodos vs. Kang where Earthers are turned into slaves, etc. One of Orion's options under serious consideration is the eradication of the current human population to be replaced with a new type of being without the Orion perceived 'flaws'. If the Eye of God, the ship also known as the Death Star (similar to as in Star Wars) shows up visible in our sky, the Orion card is being played.

2-The Andromedan Council card. This involves the removal of the repressive alien presence on Earth and Earth's artificial Moon which is loaded with alien involvement. This brings the totality of the Andromedan Council to bear on the situation here and removes Earth from Orion control. This will bring much radical change to Earth including the end of rule by money and credit, which are part of the Orion subjugation system. If this card is played and you live for money, credit and stocks, you better catch a departing ship for the Orion system. This card will reveal the aliens operating on Earth so all can see. This would be a most interesting card to play.

3-The Earth Changes card. this involves massive natural disasters that will forever change the face of the planet. Look at Gordon Scallion's maps to see. One way or another, Earth will have its Balance returned.

What also makes it interesting is that the situation does not have to be limited to a single wild card play. No matter what card(s) is played, Earth will NEVER be the same again. If you are a Final, Dominant or VERY advanced incarnation, you will revel in what is coming, no matter which card(s) is played. If you are not one of these incarnations, this will be a tremendous learning experience. The body centric and controlled will be weeping and wailing and I won't even go into the minion reaction.

Earth Changes and Minions

Eventually earth will reach a perfect state, but there are those of the Dark polarity who will do all they can to keep this from happening.

That's why the reptilians put 'breed like roaches' into human DNA, because they'd need them at this time. As they are a Dark-side manipulation, Dark is counting on their animalistic reactions to the changes to create further chaos and, therefore, more fear for their 4th density relatives to feed off of.

In future Earth, there are relatively few beings. It will be close to how it was when the Orion Empire arrived for the gender splitting in Ancient times. Just as they knew to artificially create a calendar to say 'next year is 2000' based on what they knew to be coming, so they also knew they needed X amount of minions incarnated. The idealistic Earth can only be possible once the minions are removed, for they were not meant to be in human form. They were meant as fodder/distractions.

Earth will assist in doing its part in trying to restore balance by earth changes that have occurred, and will continue to, rid the planet of minions. True, non-minions are also being removed by earth changes, but Higher Selves look on this as another experience. To really stop minion incarnation, breeding must be severely controlled and the population reduced. Paying them to breed (welfare) is reptilian cloaked in faux compassion. It is in the reptilian interest to step up the breeding. Those in power want to increase breeding, but want certain "undesirables" removed, especially blacks, hence the current eradication programs in Africa. Yet, the reptilian controlled religions in the West call abortion 'murder'. They want more 'acceptable' races bred.

Wishing for "everything to be perfect" is one thing. People who do so also need to realize what is involved in making everything perfect. Many humans must transit. Once the transition is completed, THEN the group soul can be used to create animal/bird/fish, in a clean environment, in plenty. That's the purpose of the group soul - nature. They are supposed to develop differently in accordance with their own purpose.

Some Commentary on Handbook II-39

Among other things, Handbook II-39 states:

"The desire to 'rescue the suffering' will be great and examples of victims will be within victim consciousness. The observer mode of allowance, while the new paradigm focus manifests and brings the ultimate solution to their plight, must be held securely at the forefront of the conscious awareness. If dropped, it must be quickly picked up. Looking at or recalling a meaningful symbol is the easiest way to regain the focus. Will all who resonate and commit be able to retain their focus? The success of the project will depend on the consistent and the persistent. Each must look within themselves to determine if their evolvment and genetic adaptation is such that a commitment of this magnitude is possible, plausible and noble enough to find out if the traits of character necessary are available or not. It is certain that each one that commits will find out!"

What that means (you gotta read both Handbooks) is that the Dark side will parade victims in front of us (Bosnia, Kosovo, Chechnya, etc) to 'tug on the heart strings' of the Light side.

If you want change, you GOTTA let this go. You have to not participate in the 'we gotta do something' attitude, as this participation is counted on by the DARK side. Dark side blows up a building in Oklahoma and right away power is given away to 'do' something.

Those who will survive the chaos will stiffen their resolve. Remember from 6.2 billion to 500 million means a LOT of people will be recycling into the astral AND YOU HAVE TO LET THEM GO! As I've said before, if you understand death, you have no problem with this. In order to succeed with the New Reality, you have to say 'no' to victims. They don't want to be helped out of victimhood, but want to be sympathized with. If you can't be strong enough, you will become one of them. Unfortunately, although I hope otherwise, I don't think everyone I'm sending these things to will pass the tests. For them, there's reincarnation. If you pass the tests, it's because you've reclaimed your power and became an OBSERVER of the chaos in order to help bring in the New Reality.

The Observer Mode

The observer mode, in the sense of spiritual progression, comes in stages starting with very Advanced and Dominant incarnations and reaches its Earth 3rd density climax in the Final Incarnation.

The novice, as well as developed, observer mode is a 'people observer' first. To others, people observing is purely a curiosity of human activity, but that's only the surface appearance. What is more critical is the Higher Self is trying to communicate with the incarnated part of himself. The Higher Self wants the incarnation to notice the mechanics and the postures of the Game. Observe the awakened Orion DNA manipulations, especially in the female and the growing subservience of the male, etc. This energy originates from the awakened Final Incarnation and passes to him's Dominant and very Advanced incarnations. Remember, Higher Self incarnations on Earth are simultaneous. I realize it may be a difficult concept to grasp, so just push it to the side, for now, if it mystifies you.

It has been tremendously helpful and of great assistance that the Handbook for the New Paradigm volumes are available at this time. They have greatly assisted those incarnations who have read them and contain the 4 Laws of the Universe. Of the 4 laws, the first 2 are especially important in advancing in observer status - Like Attracts Like and The Law of Allowance. [Ed: see the section at the end of the book for a review of these principles.]

It's very synchronistic that I had just spoken to Val about writing this piece when he received the new 4-section addition to the Handbook, which deals with being an observer, among other things.

Section 2 of 4 in the new material gives the difference, in terms, between watcher and observer. The watcher is passive. The watcher is only indulging his/her curiosities but has no intention of becoming aware. The observer intends to use the knowledge to become aware and develop. The observer strives to spiral out of the Game. The watcher desires to play the Game. The watcher can also intend on using the materials gathered from watching to further control other Earth humans.

You don't become a full observer over night, although once ready, spiritually, you progress rapidly. Being an observer is an active role. You receive important knowledge and then you apply what you learn to your life. For example, you apply the 4 Laws of the Universe to your private life. Let others do what they will, but the observer is eager to spiral out.

When you have reached observer status, no one will be able to drag you back, although they will try. As I've mentioned before, this can be a lonely path unless you are fortunate to connect with another observer. The keen observer, as stated in #2 of 4, is cognizant of the scene and his/her place in it. The observer also knows how the new knowledge differs from the Games rules and sees how his/her reality has changed and continues to change. This is an important part of the spiral out.

The observer does not submit to the Game's peer pressures. The observer has adjusted his/her life to fit the spirit's control over the body. This is the rocky road, as per one of my earlier pieces. Once you have accepted one "logical statement", as #2 of 4 says, into your belief system, you have begun the total realignment of your belief systems. Knowledge trumps belief since belief, which is a Neptunian deception, is not necessarily based on fact and always contains control systems of the Game. As you realize what is true, your entire viewpoint can change.

Observers share what they discover with others, but will never force this knowledge. If an observer shares something, and the interest is rejected by the other person, you change the subject. A seed has been planted; so let nature take its course.

Those who 'go with the flow', as #2 of 4 warns, take the path of least resistance. This is the smooth path I warned of. Those who go with the flow are adding to the momentum of planetary enslavement.

The chaos period is almost here and could kick in full swing at any time. Observers will handle this far differently than watcher, common or minion incarnations. This piece should give those who read it much to consider.

One's Fun Side

You have to be complete to enter the higher realms. One of the essential elements of completeness is a sense of humor and an ability to have fun.

When I told someone on Saturday that I was putting up my tree with the train around the bottom on Sunday, he said, "If I were living alone, I wouldn't do that because christmas is for kids." How sad! He let the child/fun side in him die! There's no grim, stodgy types in the Higher (Above 5th density) Realms.

I got carded (Yes!) in Las Vegas at Quark's. She really made my day when she told me she'd have to see my ID before she'd sell me a Romulan Ale. I was having fun with the Klingons and the Ferengi, letting the fun side of me enjoy itself. You MUST do this. There are some of you who are always so serious and I rarely, if ever, hear laugh. How sad! You're "following the Dark side plan", even if you didn't realize it.

What happens to the fun side of people? In my own observations, it is almost always lost when the person marries the opposite gender. Fun men become dronish when the female starts 'changing' him. Fun females become drudges when the male wants her to be a 'traditional' wife. Opposites do NOT attract in anything but magnets. In all other areas, opposition is trouble. In astrology, it is a separating aspect of friction, for example. Oil and water don't mix. Like attracts like in human fields. Heterosexual couplings are learned behaviors, not natural. Men belong with men and women with women.

THAT is natural. This shows where females hang with their girlfriends and males prefer their boyfriends. They only grudgingly get together afterwards 'because society (read Dark side) expects it.

I told myself I'd never take on an apprentice who was burdened with a woman. She ALWAYS gets in the way. Understanding the energies, I know I could only seriously teach another male - compatible energies. Every time I've tried to teach one burdened with a female, there was interference, bitchiness, etc. And in all cases, the female came into the picture (as if sent by the christian devil) AFTER I started working with the man. Needless to say, these poor, unfortunate males have ceased learning while their succubae drain them. But that's another story.

Of big importance, though, is don't lose your fun side. If you have (and some of you have) one, you must find it and let it out! Get that whoopee cushion, water pistol or rattlesnake egg envelope. Laugh. Have fun. If I find someone who can have fun, I try to bring it out of them. But you who are always so serious (and you know who I mean), geez you can put me to sleep being so serious ALL the time. Even with the serious stuff, you can put a fun twist on it. Make fun of death. Make fun of everything, because none of that matters when you KNOW what the other dimensions hold.

Laughing

In the Handbook II, I just got done reading II-27:

"The more playful the attitude and the greater the sense of humor that is brought into the process, the easier the passage through becomes. Indeed, those who have trod the path before you laugh well and frequently. Try it, you will like it."

If you haven't gotten to the point that NOTHING is sacred and EVERYTHING can be looked at humorously, you have work to do on yourself. A couple of you are working towards that point and some of you are stuck in the somber and serious mode which won't do at all if you want to progress (you know who you are). If there is ANY sacred cow for you, you have room to improve.

SOME of the current sacred cows: death, women, religious icons, perceived minorities, and victims. I can't stress enough that you have to see beyond the game and look from the eternal. Things taken as so damned serious are really not at all, however, you won't be able to recognize it until you become an observer rather than a player. Consider the words of the Handbook. As you allow changes to take hold within you, you'll get to know what I mean.

Free Will & Choice-Comments on Handbook #27

In Handbook for the New Paradigm, section 27, it says, "Again we remind you that free will allows those who choose to remain in the pattern of present existence [to do so]. DO NOT BE CONCERNED WITH THOSE." "One is concerned with the choosing of his/her own experience and is not responsible for the experience of others." "However choosing not to participate does have its consequences. Those who choose deliberately to withhold their participation in ending the present paradigm will be allowed to continue it elsewhere in a somewhat different format." [Ed.- discussion follows on next page]

As stated in my materials, these are my experiences and what I've seen. You are free to believe any you choose or none at all. That won't change what I've experienced. However, if you can resonate with any of the material, you need to do more than just agree intellectually. You must adapt what you believe into your life. I know of some who've said to me that they agree with what has been written, but just can't make changes in their lives as that would upset others. This indicates the spirit is not mature enough to override the body. This type of spirit still seeks approval from others (mid range level) Of course we must still earn a living and pay taxes (at least for now), but breeding and marriage are 2 areas that you don't HAVE to participate in. If you want to live with someone, do so, but marriage is for society and for the alien masters. That's why people get congratulated for marrying and breeding - the Empire approves. What do you get for living with someone? Nothing and you hear things like, 'why don't you get married?' Read instead, 'why don't you conform?' This goes for both het and gay marriages. A domestic partnership should be the most that would be needed.

As the Handbook states, if you choose not to change your life, you will continue to live it elsewhere, while those who DO change their personal lives will move on to higher matters. People need to stop worrying what everyone else will say/do/think. Awakened Final Incarnations know this. The Game on Earth will be changing rapidly and forever VERY soon. Be sure you're on the right side of the fence for your progression. Whichever YOU choose, choose well and be happy with your choice for you can't have it both ways.

The TRUE First Commandment

We all know that little ditty known as the First Commandment - I am the lord, thy god. Thou shalt have no other gods before me. As I have said in earlier writings, religion is all about control, conformity and keeping people from knowing who they really are.

The responsibility for this command began back when Ancient Earthers were split into genders by the Orion Empire. "Remember, we are your gods. You will worship no others as gods except us." With all their dazzling technology and abilities due to this technology, the genderized humans obeyed the new party line.

The loyalty to an external deity began at that time and has continues to this day. The Orion/Sirian Empires instilled this external deity concept and saw that the genetic codes reinforced it. The alien group, that became the god of the Middle Eastern desert tribes, codified the command as the first commandment of ten. This alien control freak became the god of the jews and the muslims by design and the christians in a second hand way. Remember, the knee-benders are warned: worship me and only me for I am your god (optional thunder and lightning in the background for optimum drama).

This false statement is reinforced by the recurring phrase of "I'm only human". You cannot be more than you recognize yourself to be. Keep this in mind. When I hear that phrase, I respond with: too bad for you because I'm not 'only human'.

Yes, there IS an immortal, omnipotent being who you should defer to at all times. This being's concern for you (24 hours EVERY day) is above all others. This eternal entity is ever vigilant of what you do, permanently records all events in your life and will never abandon you. This being is none other than your Higher Self.

MATRIX V: The Gold Edition
Quest of the Spirit – The Ultimate Frontier

The TRUE First Commandment, therefore, is: I am the lord, MY god. I will have no other gods before ME. YOU are your own deity. This is one of the major cover-ups of Earther history. When, not if, you awaken to discover who you are, nothing and no one can ever cause you to fear or give away your power again.

This major revelation, the True First Commandment, should be given very careful consideration by each incarnation having a Higher Self. Reclaim your power from all false, external gods of religions and sciences. Remember: YOU are your own god and must have no other gods before YOU.

Brief Looks – ‘Andromedan Council’ & Atlantis

The ‘Andromedan Council’ was back in the ‘news’ in June 2001 due to activity with Alex Collier and his reports on the Nibiru and the Council. The ‘Andromedan Council’ is to this sector of the galaxy as the United Nations is to Earth. Just as with the UN, you have all kinds of members, so to in the Andromedan Council will you find all types of aliens, both good and bad.

Just as the UN is viewed with suspicion by many, so should the ‘Andromedan Council’ be also examined. Collier's recent (June 01) comments that the majority of the Council will do nothing in regard to Earth and conflicting claims by different alien groups should cause you to read between the lines.

As I've said before, the predominant polarity of this sector of the galaxy is Dark, thus you only have a handful of alien systems that seem to have noble intent in regard to Earth, such as the Tau Ceti, certain Pleiadian systems and the Zenetae. With the others you find the Orion/Sirian Empires who have made strong cases for control of Earth in the Council.

Enter now Nibiru, another Dark group that looks on Israel as their property. The Nibiru do NOT have Earth's best interests in mind. Now we must bear one thing in mind, the Andromedans have a zero percent rating in doing what they say they will. Remember the great fly over of alien ships that didn't happen? That's just one. Keeping that in mind I'll say IF they show up, keep your defenses up and be cautious. Remember in the series Earth Final Conflict, the Taelons came saying they were friends but had alternative plans in mind.

There's a LOT of fluff and flack connected to this ‘Andromedan Council’. The proof is in action, NOT talk. As I've said before, ALL aliens have an agenda in dealing with Earth. Don't be put off by hearing the lofty sounding ‘Andromedan Council’ being mentioned by aliens.

Atlantis

Atlantis in getting press primarily due to Disney's animated film of the same name. Notice the prominent inverted capital ‘V’. This also appeared in the old movie ‘Atlantis the Lost Continent’. The inverted ‘V’ is the symbol of ancient Atlantis. They DID have very advanced science, air ships and beam weaponry. The crystal was central to their energy, but not because of the crystal itself, but rather that the crystal amplified the energy attached to it. This is why quartz crystals are so valued by those who use their psychic abilities.

The Atlantean prime power crystal had much power. Unfortunately, Atlantis was of Dark polarity at the end, unlike what the Disney movie would like people to believe. Atlantis also dealt with several alien races and was involved in the war culminating in the destruction of the planet that now forms the asteroid belt in Earth's solar system.

There is MUCH more known about Atlantis by segments of the American and British secret government controllers than one might imagine. Just as there is MUCH ancient Earth information that they'd never release. Remember, polarity is all about control and subjugation...POWER. Knowledge is power, the phrase goes, and they have no intention of sharing the knowledge they have. If they did, you would likely know more of who you really are and THAT runs contrary to the enslavement policies of the rulers of the planet.

This is why it is SO important that each of you gains the knowledge of who you REALLY are and proceed accordingly, not to change the Game, but to spiral out of it. Information on Atlantis and the Andromedan Council is very interesting, especially the Andromedan Council since that is current in our time stream. However, I caution you to not get so wrapped up in these topics that you forget your main purpose for being here - to discover who you really are.

Atlantis & Crystals

Atlantis met its final destruction because of their Dark uses of crystal energies. Crystals and gemstones are considered the bones of the Earth Spirit's physical incarnation. These stones, provided they are still living (not pierced with metal), can be tapped into, by those who know, to use the Earth Spirit's abilities connected to the stone/crystal concerned. Quartz crystals amplify any energy placed next to it, for example. The Atlantean prime power crystal was primarily quartz.

The Earth planetary spirit is very aware of who uses shim's 'bones' for what purposes and has no problem with those who use them for positive intents, such as healing and personal development. What the Atlanteans tried to do was harness the entire planet's structure with the prime crystal. This, in effect, would have bound the Earth planetary spirit to serve the Dark polarity in Atlantis.

The Atlantean prime power crystal, you can imagine, had tremendous power. They had found a way to harness the energy of Earth's planetary spirit for Dark designs. This did not sit well with the planetary spirit, who is a spirit of Balance, and shim eventually said 'enough is enough' and caused the destruction of Atlantis through their prime crystal. The Atlanteans underestimated both the power of the planetary spirit and overestimated their perceived abilities to control the planetary nature spirit.

The destruction of Atlantis, at this stage, was quick and complete, so enraged was the Earth planetary spirit of how they tried to cage shim. That the planetary spirit took this drastic action shows how out of control the Atlanteans had become. They went beyond working with crystals in a positive manner to using them for the Darkest intents.

The planetary rulers, through certain agencies, have been searching for this prime power crystal with the intent of using it as the Atlanteans tried. It is unlikely that it will be found as the Earth spirit reclaimed in the destruction of Atlantis.

Observation: Atlantean Experiments Revived

This appeared on Oct 22,02 in CNN's website:

"WASHINGTON (AP) -- By manipulating swine sperm, Italian researchers have made a strain of pigs that carry human genes in their hearts, livers and kidneys, an advance that could lead to creating herds of pigs that could provide organs for transplanting into humans."

This is a revival of experiments that Atlantis was heavily involved in. It was the Atlanteans that created pigs using human genes and cats using reptilian genes. This creation of pigs, using human genes, is why the ban on eating pigs exists in certain religions. Eating pork was considered a form of cannibalism.

Earth is returning to a variation of the late-Atlantean period when it was about to be destroyed. Heavy genetic experiments, under alien guidance, was a drive for Atlantean science. Extending life to equal the life spans of simultaneous incarnates was one goal as another was to be like the sequential incarnates. When Atlanteans became so body ID oriented that they fell under the spell of the sequential aliens, they signaled their end as a civilization on Earth. The sequential aliens were attempting to circumvent the vibrations of the future and of simultaneous path Higher Selves.

This was outside the limitations of the Game. Earth is meant as the simultaneous path planet in the 3rd density of this galaxy. When the violation of this concept, by over manipulation by sequential aliens, the Atlanteans were destroyed and life had to begin the cycle again and Earth reverted to a state for simultaneous incarnates. The aliens sought to eliminate the vibrations of, from today's perspective, was the last 10,000 years. Atlantis was the last time that the sequential incarnates moved against the simultaneous incarnated in such a heavy handed manner. We are now repeating that cycle.

Metaphors From The Wizard of Oz

The 1939 film, The Wizard of Oz, contains several excellent examples of Dark and Light polarities, Balance and the Higher Self. The Dark polarity mind control in the U.S. relies heavily on Wizard of Oz themes (read Cathy O'Brien's 'Trance-Formation of America' for numerous examples).

I have mentioned the Wizard of Oz in other material in Matrix 5, but will expand on it here and give you an important, totally new way to look at the movie.

Three of the main characters are Dorothy, the Wicked Witch and the Witch of the North, Glinda. It is obvious that the Wicked Witch is the dark character. However, the Light character is Dorothy, NOT Glinda.

Dorothy is a perfect Lightsider character. She calls herself "the small and meek" but is anything but meek. It is Dorothy who the Wicked Witch (in Dark black) battles with, NOT Glinda. Glinda, in the position of Balance, tells the Wicked Witch in Munchkin Land, "Begone you have no power here." True - polarities have NO power over Balance, but the Wicked Witch knows she can zap Dorothy ONCE Balance has departed. "True, I can't tend to you now..", she tells Dorothy under Balance's direct protection.

MATRIX V: The Gold Edition
Quest of the Spirit – The Ultimate Frontier

© 2000-2003 Leading Edge International Research Group. All Rights Reserved.

Glinda never refers to herself as the 'Good Witch', only the Witch of the North. I suggest to you that Glinda represents the Higher Self. How does she arrive? As a globe of energy that transforms into Glinda. The reverse occurs when she leaves where we see Glinda absorbed into the globe of energy.

The energy globe represents your Higher Self (Dorothy's in this case) and Glinda is the image the Higher Self chooses to communicate, as a guide, with shim's incarnation, Dorothy. I would suggest that Glinda represents a Dominant Incarnation.

At another part of the film, Dark attempts to halt the Higher Self's Plan for the incarnation by putting a spell on the poppies thus causing Dorothy to fall under a deep, paralyzing sleep. This is a major, unacceptable interference in the Higher Self's Plan for the incarnation. As the Higher Self (in ALL cases) will not allow any permanent derailing in the Plan shim has chosen, the Higher Self intervenes to stop Dark, in this case, by sending snow to disrupt the Dark spell and allow the incarnation (Dorothy) to proceed.

Remember, Dark does NOT see those protected in gold light, so the Wicked Witch can only say, "someone keeps helping her", but apparently has no clue as to whom. The Dark Witch is unable to know that Glinda (Balance and the Higher Self) is acting on Dorothy's behalf even after the events in Munchkin Land.

Note that Dark still makes life quite miserable for Lightsider Dorothy. These are necessary experiences for Dorothy's growth and the Higher Self knows that the incarnation can overcome them and grow from them.

Finally, when Dorothy has advanced enough in experience and maturity, Glinda tells her how to go home. Glinda says, "You've always had the power to go home." We are always connected to our Higher Selves from first through Final incarnations. When asked why Glinda didn't tell her back in Munchkin Land, how to return home, Glinda responds that "she wouldn't have believed me." This is true.

This compares to the progress of an incarnation. Since all incarnations on Earth are simultaneous, the Higher Self (Glinda) has vast amounts of knowledge that shim will not give an incarnation until the incarnation is ready to receive it. BUT the Higher Self CONTINUALLY watches over ALL shim's incarnations to ensure that shim's Plan is not interfered with.

Dorothy clicks her heels 3 times, says the words and Glinda circles her wand behind Dorothy's head. The circling wand (clockwise) represents the transfer of knowledge from the Higher Self to shim's incarnation.

"There's no place like home" also has another interpretation other than dreary black & white Kansas. Consider that 'home' refers to the Higher Self, the REAL you and where you return to after each of your incarnations, your incarnations' true 'home'. There is NO place like home. Now, when you watch The Wizard of Oz, you can look at it very differently. There is more that can be drawn from the film, but that's up to you to discover.

to put the knowledge gained (from the Matrix V project) to practical use is moving us from the simmering pot and forcing us into the fire that the pot hovers over.

Sequentializing Earth: Control of Speech

In today's newspaper (Sept 1, 04), the headline states: Mind your manners or it's a crime in Britain. Under the bogus guise of cracking down on petty crimes, the British (Reptilian central on Earth) government has issued an anti-social behavior order (ASBO) in order to control what people say that does not conform to sequential standards. Violations of this draconian law are punishable by up to five years in prison.

Some examples of this sequential law: teenagers are banned from saying "grass" (slang for informer). An 87 year old was brought to court in Liverpool for breaching the law that bars him from shouting, swearing or making sarcastic remarks to his neighbors. Orders have been used to ban thousands of people, some as young as 10, from associating with certain people or engaging in activities such as shouting, swearing or even walking down certain streets!

M5G readers better pull down the shades in Britain before reading the M5G site and my comments! My sarcasm and fucking language are creatively used to draw attention to where I want to make a point and also to drive away Lightsiders who shrivel when nonsense 'love & light' isn't omni-present.

Graduation Key readers have had their attention alerted to the rapidly increasing sequentialization of Earth. Sequentialization is proceeding at a rapid pace within the United States, but it isn't limited TO the U.S. as this British example shows. Don't think that a version of this law isn't in the wings for the country of "free speech" too.

"Free speech" has been non-existent in America since it began. That's a publicity gimmick. Back in the foundation of the country, one was free to be anti-British. One was NOT free to be pro-British due to revolutionary terrorism. Slaves were never allowed free speech. How many alternate lifestyles were criminalized? Freedom? Only for those in control and who supported those IN control. One had to move past American borders to find some freedoms and that was part of the western expansion. Nevertheless, the Washington government continued to expand, use genocide against the Native population and suppress anything or anyone who didn't bow to Washington. The American Civil War ensured that Washington would be in charge as state's rights lost in favor of a sequentialized government format. Review previous segments related to these matters.

Fast forward to today, the latter stages of EndGame, and compare passionate political protests of the late 60's-early 70's to the police state version of today's protests: fenced in areas where quiet complaints are the only ones permitted. The sequentializing process moves forward. The population is FAR more conditioned today. Note the anti-government liberal attitude of the Vietnam era to the fascist pro-government attitude of today. This is modeled after the German state of the 1930's. They would like you to beLIEve that you are a "traitor" if you do not obey. In actuality it's the traitors who are in control. They are traitors to their constitution and to the simultaneous process: EndGame!

The American constitution is very simultaneous in content. The dismantling of that document began in the 1860's. Today it is press freedom that is still pretty free, but not mainstream, controlled press, rather the Internet and small printing houses. I remember when Monroe told my group how he couldn't get the original copy of Ultimate Journeys printed because he was told that people couldn't handle it. If it wasn't for Leading Edge Research Group, you better believe that the M5 project would never get printed! If it weren't for the Internet, the M5 project would not have world-wide attention. The axe is intended to fall on the Internet as well as part of the sequentialization process. You should easily note that when something eye-opening is issued by a small printing house, the government controlled major press will quickly pass negative judgments if it is not sequentially Game approved. A good example is the 911 In Plane Site video.

This week the American fascist (Republican) party is meeting in New York City with a police state atmosphere. This atmosphere is what they want for the whole country on a daily basis. The tactics are somewhat different than they were in Germany in the 30's, but the resolution is intended to be the same. Hone your observational skills during these days. Learn what you can and experience what you must. You won't always have me available to point things out for your attention. When the Internet, in the form it is today, is history, the M5G site (as well as Rense, Icke, etc) will be gone. Then it will really be up to you and a test of your individuality. Nobody ever said EndGame would be pretty.

Sequentialization of Earth & Sudan

One of the areas that the world's controllers want you to look at today is Sudan. The Sudanese are having an internal affair that involves old conflicts and the attempts to settle them. The controllers, under United Nation's hand wringers, are urging the world to "do something" to prevent the deaths and upheaval in Sudan. The same thing happened with Yugoslavia and its Bosnia/Serbia events, Haiti, Iraq, Grenada, Panama and other locations where a local conflict tragedy was occurring and global indignation was solicited.

Lightsiders seem to live for these global attention events so that they can 'save' someone or some group. Darksiders live for these events so that they can impose their will and loot the locals for their resources. First of all, this is body ID'd bullshit. Second of all, it is part of the sequential pattern placement for Earth. Third of all, global internal matters are nobody's business from a simultaneous perspective as long as the internal matter does not spill over into other countries, specifically yours.

The body ID is such a basic flaw in all these 'oh-poor-them' scenarios that sharp M5G readers should recognize that first. Remember the segments about the time and the manner of death being chosen by each Higher Self for shim's incarnations? Remember the segments about this manner and time of death being unchangeable by any manner? If one is meant to 'die' because of these internal conflicts, using this specific example, then they will die. If they are meant to 'survive', they will 'survive'. As long as the consideration is all about the physical, the spiritual path suffers. The Very Advanced sees the body for what it realistically is and nothing more.

The Journey

The sequential pattern placement for Earth requires a uniform behavior with the planetary residents. Enforced conformity is necessary on a sequential planet. The United States running around claiming to bring "freedom" to everyone is just a form of this sequentialization. Imposing one group's version of "freedom" over another group's cultural preferences is just sequential slavery. Goofy Bush, on the final debate, thinks it's wonderful that American "freedom" is imposed on Afghanistan and that the first voter in their elections was said to be a "19 year old woman". This IS wonderful IF you are sequentially-based because it strips away another's point of individual expression in favor of a planetary dictatorship.

The women in muslim countries are meant to have different experiences. ALL of Earth was created to have a multitude of different experiences and setting for the simultaneous path. These different experiences are simultaneously planned and executed. If you do not comprehend the simultaneous path and want to cling to your sequential past, you will want the uniformity/conformity that you had on your former incarnations' sequential planets. These simultaneous incarnates need to mature and they WILL do so with their Very Advanced incarnations.

American females (as a group) are the absolute worst with sequentialization on the entire planet as they develop in emulation of their Orion counterparts. Several previous segments touch on this subject. They want to spread their Orion domination attitudes around the globe and force all females to adhere to their reptilian structures and put all males into subservience. This could only happen now, during EndGame, as we conclude our simultaneous experience. Any M5G readers who watched the final American presidential 'debate' should have noted that both candidates proudly state that they are under the control of "strong women". Gotta get ready for the return of the queen of Mintaka after all!

The third reason is that internal matters (from a simultaneous viewpoint) should remain internal and of no one else's business unless that country tries to enforce its will on yours. It IS fine to express opinions that you think, 'this is terrible' or 'that is awful', but to attempt to enforce your opinions (on others who are not trying to do the same) is sequential-conforming.

When I visited my chiropractor yesterday, he asked me all sorts of questions looking for loopholes to this simultaneous position. In one question, he asked if that meant you couldn't send aid supplies to Haiti because wouldn't that be interference? Not true. By sending aid, you are presenting an option that they can accept or reject. It in no way forces anything on anyone. In Haiti they want you to send in troops to bring 'order' as well.

The Journey

© 2000 - 2005 Leading Edge International Research Group. All Rights Reserved.

Conflict is a necessary simultaneous path experience. You dare to think that your current incarnation knows better than the (including your) Higher Selves that require these experiences?

What you have today is the intensive 'problem-reaction-solution' situations that are sequential alien in direction. "But, they are killing all those people!" - Tough shit...it is part of THEIR experiences and THEIR paths. Lightsiders come up with ALL kinds of reasons why they should rush in and "save" people, bring them bogus concepts of "freedom" and 'make everyone the same'. How bland, how boring...how...sequential!

Examine your positions on global events. Examine how you feel pulled to make certain judgments. Check your Light polarity strength. It is your Light side that wants to 'save' the world. It is your Dark side that wants to homogenize the planet and turn them into colonies of your country.

With EndGame in its latter stages, the sequentials are ratcheting up the Orion sequentialization process of Earth: 'you will be safer as one planet'...'don't upset anyone'...'line up for the approved injections and pills'...'females know best'...'you have the right NOT to be challenged in speech or deed'...'bow to your god'...'don't make anyone upset'...'do what we say'...we will take you back to the sequential path. IMPOSSIBLE! They just not only don't get it, they are incapable of 'getting it'. The sequentials cannot halt Earth's EndGame! EndGame: what a mess. Graduation from the Game: I'm ready, are you?

American Taliban, Orientation and the Gold Ring

Homosexuality is a major threat to those who don't want Higher Selves to move beyond the Game. One of the Game's prime intents is to keep us from discovering who we really are while incarnated in the 3rd density. Review the M5 segments on how het sex shorts out spiritual functions and how this was designed to keep the spirit imprisoned within the Game. Het relations are rewarded by the Game while gay relations are feared and condemned. Why such a fuss over nothing, one should ask.

Same-gender vehicles make an excellent path for spiritual energies to flow uninhibited. Opposite-gender vehicles strengthen the breeder commands as well as interfere with spiritual expression. Yet this is something that we ALL must endure. Add the oppressive fanaticism of Game addicts who don't want ANYONE to jump the fences and you have heavy opposition, especially during EndGame, of the freedom to be you. Again, the very nature of simultaneous is to learn to be yourself, an individual, and not a sequential pather of just another sheep in a herd.

While it is true that bisexuality is common in many alien races, including the reptilian, it is not just the sex act that stimulates spiritual opportunities for growth. The sex act itself is a physical function. As I have said before, it is not the simple sex act that stimulates proper energy flows. IF one desires spiritual growth via this intense melding, sex should be the expression of the spiritual connection between two and not the reason for hooking up. It is the affectional nature that is critical to consider. The quickie flings or relationship-of-the-month clubs are physical-based and would leave someone, who is seeking spiritual growth, feeling empty due to the lack of the second necessary element to the energy loop: a significant spiritual tie. Significant other incarnational ties, when recognized by both persons, may lead to such a situation, for example. I have heard from a couple M5 readers who thought that the sex act alone would have them seeing the galaxy glow. Then they were disappointed when the quick fling didn't do it. I guarantee that it won't! As long as you think it is the sex act alone, you can't get it.

The United States, icon of Dark control with the christian Taliban in control of much of the country, continues to whip up sequential Game fever with fears of same gender marriages along with the Dark power center, the Vatican which is another closet of sex for sex alone activities. It's not the sex that really matters to these people; it's the affection potential that risks completing the spiritually progressive response that the Game fears. American's Taliban wants states to vote for this issue. If states voted on the slave issue in the 1800's, what do you think the outcome would have been? Exactly!

Yet, in more enlightened countries, such as Canada (with mormon ruled Alberta as one exception area) and several European nations (Spain most recently), same gender affection is on par with Game demanded opposite gender affection. In these countries, you have far more simultaneous path people in key positions as required by their Higher Selves during EndGame. These incarnations pop some of the bubbles of Game control in this area by allowing independent expression to develop.

In the America, Vermont and Massachusetts are two pioneering states where the simultaneous path has overcome the sequential but not without excessive Game-spawned grief. Massachusetts really zapped the Game addicts by legalizing same gender marriages. We all know the fallout from that brave decision. America's Taliban increased their terrorization of the population, both gay and het, by using false fears and lies. Minion incarnations, always the crowd followers that the polarities count on, along with Low and most Mid levels are easily swayed by fear and control by 'authority figures'. EndGame is such a mess!

Note as well that many of America's public anti-gays are heavily closeted gays themselves and they flock to the fascist Republican party. I saw one banner: GOP – Gays On Parade. These people trade their orientation and potential spiritual growth for Dark power. They are spiritually weak and play their roles for the Game during this period. They feel the best way to hide is with the enemy (Game addicts vs. Graduation candidates). They prefer betraying who they are for trinkets from the Game. This attitude, in any sector of the Game, ensures its continuation and identifies a Game addict.

If one makes a spiritual, same gender connection, the physical DNA commands will scream into play unless the involved incarnations have already broken those particularly spiritually disabling loops. If one person is Game control orientation free and the other is still held tightly by their body ID commands, it is most unfortunate. Unless the other person has sufficient spiritual power to break free of the DNA commands with the assistance of the Game-free person, the more Advanced of the two must move on and continue the search. Locating a match during EndGame, more than any other period, is the gold ring of the ride. Unfortunately there are far more brass rings than gold. Yet, with simultaneous path incarnations of an Advanced level, hope springs eternal and the search is part of the Game. I hope that everyone who is looking for their gold ring finds it.

Sequential Conspiracy Theorists

Conspiracy theories, in general, are spins on events that may or may not be totally accurate. They are usually based on assumptions. The term itself is just a label and is quite valid by itself. Yet 'conspiracy theories' have become a sneer that goes along with 'tabloid journalism' which implies 'contrived' news items. This is done on purpose to keep Earth's Game players away from discovering segments of the Game that the planetary controllers do not want you to notice. They fear that if the masses (simultaneous incarnates) discover certain threads of their control that these masses may be able to either undo the plot or remove themselves from the drama in some way.

Therefore you will have Darkside lackeys attempting to dismiss genuine conspiracy exposures as non-existent 'conspiracy theories'. Major Darksider Cheney is one who uses the term on the news to dismiss probes into matters that Earth's Darkside doesn't want you to see.

The PRIME generator of 'conspiracy theories' IS the government. The flow of Washington's conspiracy theories is constant and daily especially since they orchestrated the 9/11 event. Remember, these conspiracy theories by Washington are generated as outright lies to deceive the public in order to adhere to specific agendas.

The DVD "911 In Plane Site" is recommended to M5G readers. This DVD exposes the conspiracy that the American government created to lead the United States down a sequentialized path agenda. In a longer-range examination, this was one reason why the American national horoscope is a Cancer Sun with Gemini Rising: easily deceived with nationalistic flags. By swallowing the conspiracy theory that the Bush government shoveled to the population, thousands of innocent people are dead and will yet be killed, all in the name of a pack of lies. New enemies have been created and the dangers dramatically increased for a Dark sequentialize agenda.

There is a huge segment of the American population that absolutely refuses to consider that their government would purposely work against the good of the country or use mass murder of their own citizens to further an agenda. They have done this in the past. They do it now. They will do it again. This is part of the latter stages of EndGame. These people are totally closed of mind and may react violently in the presence of these revelations. This is due to their fear of the truth. Review the Fear of Knowing segment.

The Journey

The muslim militant group that attacked the American navy ship in the Middle East, some months before the 9/11 event, became the 'fall guy' for 9/11. They set themselves up to be the scapegoat that the Darksiders in the Bush government needed to commit the 9/11 events.

Washington has been quick to push their 9/11 conspiracy theory which fart blossomed to other events like the invasion of Iraq for the sake of Israel's Dark agenda. I was the only person that I knew on 9/11 who said it did not occur how the government was insisting people beLIEve it did.

Other related conspiracy theories that the Bush government rumor mill generates are concerned with foreign 'terror' events that may be committed in the US. Since the government was behind the Oklahoma event and the 9/11 events, know that ONLY the government can be behind an event of such magnitude in this country. They either directly commit the event or manipulate others to do it for their agenda's purposes.

There is urgency in the Dark agenda for Earth. They were unable to halt the Matrix 5 project for the simultaneous-pathers, which really 'binds their panties' and is considered a MAJOR defeat from their point of view. The Earth Planetary Spirit is proceeding with shim's graduation activities despite the many attempts to reverse or halt this by the sequentials. Although they have not given up on trying to halt this being's graduation, there is no way to stop it.

These simultaneous events, of the previous paragraph, will prove to be the undoing of the sequential attempts to stop our spiral out of the Game. There are those sequential incarnates already considering their 'options' for the next simultaneous path designated planet in our galaxy Game. However they will not succeed there either, just as they have failed in previous simultaneous path planets.

Fahrenheit 9/11

I just returned from seeing the Michael Moore documentary Fahrenheit 9/11. To all Matrix 5 Gold series readers: see this film if you are able to. If you cannot see it in a theater, it is due to be released on dvd in September. You owe it to yourself to view this landmark of Darkside exposure. This is the first movie that I have ever stood in line to see and when my show exited, there was another long line waiting to enter for the next session.

Michael Moore has been able to expose much of the Darkside of the Bush family and presidencies. In one part of the film, von Bush jr is at an obviously wealthy function and he states that he is with "the haves and the have mores" who he is proud to call "my base". The connections of the wealthy, the Saudi royals, the Bush (and more) families are well demonstrated with video/audio exposure. The absolute wrongness of the American Iraqi invasion is totally shown. Be prepared to have many of the lies (that Washington and the controlled media have been flooding you with) exposed as either outright fabrications or downright manipulations. This is how the Dark polarity LOVES to operate.

Throughout the film, the audience either audibly gasped, laughed or, in a couple parts, some had actually sobbed softly. At the end of the film, the theater burst out in applause, and this was an afternoon matinee!

Darksiders, as you can see from the news, totally hate this film and its producer. Darksiders are like cockroaches and work without light. When light is placed on them, they run to hide. American Darksiders are doing that by crying 'oh poor Bush' and 'unfair'....'turn the light off'. Or as Golem in Lord of the Rings said when Sam held the elven rope on him 'take it off, it hurts us'. Yes, Fahrenheit 9/11 definitely DOES hurt the American Dark and no dirty trick is beneath them to try and keep people away. Last night's evening news had reviews attempting to cast doubts on Moore's film. See the movie for yourself and make up your own mind.

Now, Darksiders are not the only ones who fear the film. There is a heavy Lightsider contingent that also fears Fahrenheit 9/11. This is NOT because they know it is true, but because they FEAR it is true and therefore their fantasy image of the United States would be exposed as non-existent. Those Lightsiders who continue to cling to this beLIEf in an 'idealistic America' are only doing themselves a disservice. This is EndGame, though, and there are ALL kinds of mischief going on from BOTH polarities.

I encourage you to view this film and encourage others to see it as well. I would tell anyone who has NOT seen the film that they cannot comment on what they haven't seen. EndGame is in full swing and you never can tell what will come sailing into the Earth sphere next!

Fahrenheit 9/11.... outstanding for what it contains. M5G series readers can fill in many of the blanks that it is not able to show.

Review: 9/11 In Plane Site

Today I received my DVD copy of 911 In Plane Site. If you think that Michael Moore's Fahrenheit 911 is powerful, and it is, wait until you see THIS video! This 70 minute documentary examines, in great detail, the World Trade Center and Pentagon attacks. The examination is with actual news broadcast footage, private observations and more. The host starts by defining the term "conspiracy theory". By the conclusion of this video, you will see how the tremendous evidence given proves this is not another 'theory', but an actual 'conspiracy'.

If you are familiar with David Icke's materials, some of this is already known to you, but this goes beyond what David has. On his site, Icke says "The 911 film Michael Moore should have made". However in my opinion, far more people will be comfortable with Moore's film than this one. Watch it and see what I mean. It's not that there is any doubt of the evidence but where the finger of guilt does point. Again, the viewer is presented with video and photographic evidence, much of which was shown on television one time only and that was live.

Some of the questions asked and answered:

*Why did a FOX News employee report (and you DO hear this on the FOX News broadcast included in this video) seeing NO windows on "Flight 175", a commercial United Airlines jetliner?

*Why were there numerous reports of bombs & explosions going off in and around the World Trade Center before any buildings collapsed? Hear and see the testimony of the reporters and the rescue teams.

*Why does photographic evidence, taken moments after the event, show NO wreckage on the lawn of the Pentagon?

These and many more points are directed for your attention.

Visit the web site: www.911inplanesite.com and view the trailer. This is a digitally mastered documentary and it costs only $20 (including postage) for either DVD or VHS versions. Go with the DVD if you can.

M5G readers should be very interested in viewing this video. You owe it to yourself to see it. It is THAT important to get a better view of what is going on during this stage of EndGame.

The Fear of Knowing

In my previous segment, I gave the video 911 In Plane Site my highest recommendation for M5g readers. This video takes the viewer into areas of manipulation of the public that you were not meant to see. This is why it is so powerful and may not be available for too long. Get it while you can.

I brought my copy into work today and showed it to a couple of people. Their comments were very similar. They are afraid that if they saw it that just knowing what the government did would be TOO much of a knowledge burden to bear because they know that nothing can be done about it. This is a good example of the Fear of Knowing.

Knowledge brings responsibility. The old phrase 'Ignorance is bliss' is quite true. If you don't know something, you cannot act on it nor have it touch your life.

The Journey

In the United States, most people have an idealistic image of the country and the government in general. This is drilled into the populace daily by multi-media events, constant flag waving and mantra. This is necessary in order that people will continue to beLIEve the bullshit.

With the information in the video, people are shown (with evidence) that their government was behind 911 and the Oklahoma bombing (discussed in the DVD's supplemental materials). The American public has been manipulated to serve the Dark sequential agenda. What is a person to do when they discover this? You can't go to "elected" representatives since they are also involved. Those who do buck the rulers wind up in plane 'accidents' as have several elected officials.

It all depends on YOUR incarnational path. The activist incarnational path (usually the upper Mid levels and the low-mid Advanced levels) will want to DO something about it (the David Icke example) and challenge the iceberg as its tip shreds the boat SS America. It's TOO late. It's EndGame. However it is their right to explore their options and they should be free to do so. They have THEIR paths to follow and the experiences that THEIR Higher Selves require.

For the most part, Very Advanced incarnations and Finals are in various stages of the Observer mode. Gathering information is essential as is internal processing of that information. This is one reason why I share so much with M5G readers. The level of awareness is proportionate to the amount of valid information you have. Knowing this, the sequentials and control mavens of both polarities continue to pollute the informational rivers with red herrings, half truths and outright lies in order to deceive those who pursue truth. This is because that once you discover the truth, they have no control over you in that matter. Yes, the truth indeed DOES set you free. It is essential to your ability to spiral out of the Game and graduate.

There is fear of what I have written in the M5G materials. At first it's easier to ignore or deny but once you've been exposed to it, the seed is planted and your Higher Self can proceed with shim's designated incarnations to dig deeper for more. You have incarnations that DO fear knowing and you have incarnations that crave knowledge without being concerned about consequences. The latter is the mental state of your Awakened Final and the graduated Higher Self.

Monroe discussed the basic Higher Selves in his books when he journeyed back "Home". Review what he wrote about that visit. Once we moved beyond that basic state, the desire for more knowledge and experiences took over. That urge moved us from the basic state to various other pre-Game experiences. Then the Game options presented themselves and we chose THIS galaxy Game (one of many available) and entered as sequential path participants. Eventually that was insufficient for our growth and we moved to the simultaneous path. By your Final Incarnation, you have gathered all you need and outgrow the Game. Graduation and the desire for more, new and different experiences/knowledge will take us to what we want by presenting options from which we may choose what WE want to do.

The Fear of Knowing is a genuine barrier to your progression and one of the rocks on the rocky road that usually stands next to a side path to the smooth, conformist road. It is your choice to decide which way to go at this time. We ALL move through the Fear of Knowing. NO ONE is exempt from that.

The Fear of Knowing comes in degrees and areas. In areas where you have active experiential loops and fences, your fears can keep you contained. In areas where you have broken experiential loops and fences, you are free. Pick an area, ANY area in the M5G materials. Is it an area where you have no problem dealing with the information or one that you have "problems" with? Trust in YOUR Higher Self for the correct pulse. Remember, though, that you will get the information that YOU need based on where your current incarnation is on YOUR Higher Self's progression path. The information I get is vastly different than others get due to the value of the M5 project and my role in it. Remember too that individuality is the key and a major goal of the simultaneous path. The more you move through the Advanced stages, the more individual you will become.

The Fear of Knowing has to be faced by each incarnation in their own time and according to their own Higher Self's agenda. As I've said before, you should resist trying to impose your knowledge on others. Resist trying to "save" them. That's how the sequentials operate: everyone the act the same/be the same. The Americans are the biggest sequential enforcers of the day wanting to impose their ideas/values on the world, for example. This is why in the M5G materials I constantly stress that if you cannot handle any stream of information, just push it aside and deal with what you can handle. Knowing that the Fear of Knowing exists should assist you in facing challenging information. Our galaxy Game is complex but it's the complexity that appeals to our Higher Selves. Simple Games are left to Higher Selves in simpler stages. Fascinating, isn't it?

Sequentialization Self-Examination

Volume III Special Segment

The sequentialization of simultaneous path Earth has been a major thread in the M5 materials. Plenty of examples are given. It is appropriate that the external observations be also directed inwardly to see how sequentialization is manipulating your actions and speech. Sequentialization is insidious and a malignant cancer. It progresses slowly. Here are some things to consider in one's self-examination:

Speech – M5 segments address the lists of 'you can't say this/that'. This is being drummed into us on a daily basis on all media outlets. True 'freedom of speech' never legally existed, but it does exist in the American illusion. This sanitized speech is in news, entertainment, sports and any other mass exposure media. Since the Orion version of sequentialization is in force in America and (primarily) Western countries, speech is geared to female dominance/male subservience, European racial harassment/non-European racial superiority, christian/jewish monotheistic dominance/everything else harassed, American fascist (Republican) equated with patriotism/any disagreement equated with treason. Matrix V readers can add their own polarity divisions depending on their nation and location.

The important thing here is that Earthers are being molded to a certain sequential thought pattern. This has been tried before under different political systems: communist and overt fascists of the last century. This has been the sequentials' way of searching for the correct formula to sequentialize Earth. Both systems are currently valid on other sequential planets, yet neither, by themselves, was proven to be the correct one to sequentialize Earth.

So we are bombarded by the faux 'freedom' fascists. This combines the European fascism of the 20th century with the illusion of American freedoms. After all, who can be opposed to 'freedom'? Isn't this what the simultaneous path is all about? Indeed TRUE freedom is what the sequential path is all about. This bears no resemblance to American fascist freedom and Empire building.

Hence, speech is most important because repeating a lie often enough convinces people that the lie is true. Due to this, we are constantly told how we should be speaking and what we just can't say causing the 'offended' serpent to raise its head.

Now for your self-examination: how has Orionized sequentialism altered your speech patterns and, by end result, your thought patterns? Are you sequentialized 'politically correct'? Is every group (other than European descent males) a victim group to you? Are all victimhood groups allowed to mold your speech and thought? If you subscribe to these concepts, you are operating on a sequential mentality.

Accepting/treating people as groups, rather than individuals, is a sequential concept. Blaming groups of people because of what others did in the past (sins of the fathers/mothers idea) is a sequential concept due to memories being intact from incarnation to incarnation on that path. Do you withhold comments because someone belongs to a 'politically correct' victimhood group? Do you favor females over males because of their gender? Do you fear offending a group or the female gender (if you are male)? Do you expect to be treated with deference if you are a female? Have your thought patterns become so rewired that you fear to speak your mind in private? Do you correct your family/friends for saying things that conflict with the sequential paradigm? If so, you are becoming sequentialized.

If you think I get going in these Matrix V segments, you should hear me in person! One person recently said to me, "Is there no group that is excluded from your comments?" Hell, no! I have NO icons. The reason why is because I know that I am a simultaneous path incarnate. I AM all these groups. I AM both genders, all races and ethnic backgrounds. The reason why the group mentality/victimhood is so popular with the sequentials is that they do remember who they are and what they did in previous lives. Hence, their experiences remain with them, both positive and negative. They cannot be all things at the same time (as we are) since that is a feature unique to the simultaneous path. Simultaneous thought rebels at the sequential 'political correctness'. So pick a group, ANY group and I will give you my observations on them in blunt language that would make the sequentials gasp and 'clutch the pearls' in horror.

Actions – Talking the talk is not the same as walking the walk. All talk and no action is meaningless. Sequentialization of actions is expected by conforming with sequentialized speech. M5 segments have mentioned lists of 'you can't do this/that'. Prove you mean what you say by following it up with what you do. Speech is the first step. The Orionized sequentials not only demand verbal agreement, but proof by actions. They fully expect males to be verbally submissive to females and, by action, to allow females to have their way (ANY way) with males. This is why female abuse is institutionalized. In the entertainment media, not only is it profoundly verbal, but also physical in abuse. All the while the male is expected to endure this. The whims of the female are given priority at all time on sequentialized Earth. You can hardly turn on the television without seeing this.

Now for your self-examination: how has Orionized sequentialism altered your actions? Do you rush to defend someone (deserving or not) for no other reason except their gender or victimhood ID group? Do you allow yourself to be used by anyone because they wave the victimhood-as-a-group flag and expect exceptional treatment ONLY because they are a member of that group by body ID? Do you allow yourself to be abused by a group because of actions that you had no part in? If you bow to victimhood groups, you are being sequentially conditioned.

There is no right or wrong way to answer any of these questions. Part of the simultaneous path is to know that each path is unique. What your current incarnation does today may not be what it does next week. One's path is fluid and guided by your own Higher Self. You do what you feel you must. Yet, in order to operate properly, you must be aware of what is in operation. The road to hell is paved with good intentions, the saying goes. However there is no need to take the road to hell if you know what the end destination of that road is. The road to sequentialized Earth is paved with good intentions. These intentions are disguised in words that sound good: freedom and equality. They are deceptions and the current empire builders are pretty good at deceiving much of the world. It is the sequential path at work. One must learn the difference between sequentialized planetary equality and spiritual individual path freedom. They are both vastly different in concept.

Sequential Control Devices & EndGame Earth

Unless you are a hermit, you should be able to easily observe how people, in general, have become overly sensitive and defensive. This is a culmination of electronic and chemical assaults combined with victimhood conditioning and financial debt slavery. The electronic attacks come from a combination of media, cell phones, ELF waves and more, which bathe the population in confusing vibrations of seduction, submission and easy irritation. The chemical assaults are due to food additives, fluoride in water and dental supplies, uncontrolled usage of medications and more. The financial slavery is credit/debt based and a direct intervention by the Orion Empire.

Matrix III documents chemical and electronic attacks well. However since M3, those in planetary control have considerably increased their attacks on the general planetary population especially in industrial countries. This is because sequential reasoning equates technological development with spiritual progression. This is definitely not true.

There is more than one reason for this hyper-conditioning. In part it is to weaken one's immune system and create an artificial dependence on establishment approved medications as a substitute/artificial immune system to your body's natural one. In part it is to break the independent spirit into sequential, planetary conformity. In part it is intended to weaken the planetary population's resistance to the surrender of Earth to alien overt control. In part it is to slow, or better yet, to halt spiritual progression, thus forestalling Graduation. If you look deeper, you can discover more 'parts' to this scenario.

The majority of the American population has given away its power to the federal government. Instead of a government OF the people, it is a government CONTROLLING the people. This has been covered in several segments in the Matrix V books. In order for the government to continue controlling the people, it must divide them into a multitude of smaller factions since a divided people is far easier to control since the factions are unlikely to unite for a common cause that will bring down that government. The government plays one faction against the other in order to keep attention from its shady activities.

The American government actively works against the population by making decisions enforced from other areas of planetary control. These decisions are generally rooted in financial control. The system of debts and finances is Orion based. The elimination of estate taxes for the rich and the restructuring of bankruptcy favoring the financial institutions are just two recent examples of increased controls. Financial controls are present on all Orion Empire worlds.

The sequentials really do not understand the depth of the simultaneous path. They cannot until they actually move to experiencing the path we are on. Hence, they try to use proven control devices that work well on sequential planets: electronic, chemical and, in Orion Empire jurisdiction worlds, financial controls. This multi-level assault is intended to stifle the simultaneous progress toward imminent Graduation.

The Journey

To this last purpose, it won't work on Earth. It will fail.

Graduation is set by the simultaneous path Higher Selves and the Planetary Spirit of the world involved. This is part of the Game's end. Even though the upcoming Earth Graduation is guaranteed, this does not stop the sequentials from trying to halt the process and keep us Game bound. They just don't get it. They are unable get it.

Recall in previous segments where I reveal how there will be certain sequentials who will try to hold on to the Game to the very end, even when the sterilization process has become complete. These are the true Game addicts who are extremely immature from a spiritual standpoint.

Since the Orion Empire is the oldest in this galaxy Game, it is there that you will discover the most stubborn Game addicts. It is their technology that has been active on all simultaneous worlds. Yet, all previous simultaneous planets have had successful Graduations, as will this one. This does not deter the reptilians and their allies. They assume that they will get it right (to halt Graduation) with the next simultaneous planet designated. This is why, as explained in previous segments, that they were looking for (what became known as) Matrix V in rural Virginia. It was a similar setting in the previous simultaneous planet that brought forth that world's Graduation Key. The simultaneous path players on Earth tricked them again just as those Higher Selves did on the former simultaneous path planet.

In biblical myth, killing of first born children was a way to try to eliminate a needle (threat to the Game) in a haystack. Burn the whole haystack for the one needle. Yet, these attempts never work as the simultaneous path Higher Selves are always underestimated by the sequentials. Direct intervention by a simultaneous path Higher Self will occur to keep shim's incarnation's path from being halted.

So, in Earth's latter EndGame, the haystack burning takes the form of electronic, chemical and financial controls with a huge dose of victimhood for the planet. Despite this, Matrix V moves forward, the Graduation Key has been established and those who will graduate proceed on schedule. How are the sequentials and their Game allies on Earth responding? They become increasingly shrill and the use of fear/victimhood is an everyday control device.

What they fail to grasp is the nature OF the simultaneous path. Our incarnations are scattered over the whole spectrum of Earth time periods. Simultaneous path Final Incarnations are located in most of these periods. Advanced stages of our Higher Selves are in all of these periods. The sequentials cannot handle this huge range of 'time'. They are use to only dealing with a population as a whole who are close to the same level. Their efforts do succeed when a planet is populated by Low or Mid levels.

The Journey

© 2000 - 2005 Leading Edge International Research Group. All Rights Reserved.

Even the introduction of minion incarnations has not stopped the progression of the simultaneous path Higher Selves. Our Higher Selves look at this situation as just another facet of EndGame and adapt accordingly. The ability to adapt to situations is necessary for a Higher Self who will move beyond the Game.

There is old latter EndGame saying: when in danger, when in doubt, run in circles, scream and shout. This is what they hope you will do by their assaults. This makes one want to give away their power to those in control. The minion incarnates will do this. The Low and Mid levels will do this as well. If one was on the sequential path, that in itself would be enough to halt your progress. Yet the same thing that would fluster a sequential, one-at-a-time incarnating path is merely another experience for a simultaneous path Higher Self who has hundreds and hundreds of other level incarnations proceeding with their path experiences independent of this sequential path interference.

The panic, victimhood, spiritually stifling attitudes of most people can be most annoying to the Very Advanced and Final Incarnations who can think 'get a grip on yourself'. Fear of the day, victimhood of the moment is contagious. In my own environment, those who get caught up in fear and victimhood are always taken back that I do not participate in their reactions. It frustrates them when they run in circles, screaming and shouting that I refuse to play along. So I continue to spend time alone as I will not allow my personal area to be polluted by sequential and that level of vibration. EndGame, nobody ever said it would be pretty. Waiting for Graduation!

Victimhood – A Sequential Tool

Volume III Special Segment

Several Matrix V segments discuss victimhood, its expression and its relation to the polarities. On Earth today almost everyone seems to be some kind of victim and that's just the way of those moving Earth to the sequential path want it to be. Victimhood is one of the tools that is proving most effective in altering thought patterns and behaviors of Earthers into a bland, sequential mindset.

The installation of the victimhood mentality is intended to stifle independent thought and action to ensure conformity and security in a haze of sterility. Victimhood, especially in Dark, sequential hub America, is easy to observe everywhere. The list of 'you can't say' and 'you can't do' are growing daily. The easily and always offended are those who embrace the sequential mind and cry for laws to make it so, especially under the insidious 'hate crimes' legislations. Both polarities dance over the success of those!

"Don't talk about this/that topic because it may make someone uneasy or (gasp) offended." On a message board I read, someone referred to a television viewing group as "fanatical". One member of that group shot back that she was "offended" by the use of that word in regard to the group. The originating critic "deeply apologized" for "offending" her and retracted the word and replaced it with an oatmeal bland word. Hell, if someone told me that they were “offended” by something I said, I’d respond in several ways: Are you ‘offended’ because it’s true and you don’t want to face up to it? Are you ‘offended’ because I disagree with your position and you can’t handle it? Can’t you deal with the pressure of examining your position – after all, if you are sure in what you say, can’t you defend it? And then there’s the good, old standard: Fuck you! And toss in: If the broom fits, ride it! Be creative with your responses. These are only a few in my arsenal. Spicy, direct language – the bane of Lightsiders – is a simultaneous tactic indicating breaking from sequential ‘societal’ limitations. Society rules equal sequential fences.

The phony term, ‘politically correct’, is Lightside sequential in origin. To be ‘correct’ is a Lightside goal while ‘political’ has sequential fence overtones. Yes, both Light and Dark polarities are engaged in sequentializing Earth. They are working together for the same basic goal: end the simultaneous path on Earth. It is the Light polarity behind the ‘protection from being offended’ demands. It is the Light polarity that creates laws to enforce this. The Dark just loves it. Just like the old phrase: only Nixon could go to China, only the Light could find a way to cater to Dark Earth ambitions. It also shows how one polarity feeds another. Light is smooth sailing, lack of mental challenges, harps, love & light and other bullshit Light sequential concepts.

The Light polarity plans to fight over Earth once the simultaneous pathers are gone. Dark does not care if Light believes this. Remember Earth is well inside this Dark sector and stands zero chance of becoming a Light enclave. However Dark knows that the simultaneous are reaching toward balance/Balance. This means it requires sequential Light to assist in derailing the simultaneous in order to appeal to the dualistic polarity thrust. Priorities can bring enemies temporarily together, such as when the Chinese Communists allied with the Chinese Nationalists to work against the Japanese during their invasion. Once the Japanese were eliminated, they went back to fighting each other.

In the Game, Light and Dark do work against each other, but there is one thing that can bring Light and Dark together in a common cause: undoing the current simultaneous path planet. The simultaneous path planet, in our case: Earth, has a unique vibration in the Game that alerts the sequentials to the potential of balance/Balance and an exit from the Game. The simultaneous path is considered, by the polarities, to be the enemy of their positions in the Game. Of course it is not, but that’s how the immature sequentials view it. Instead of allowing a simultaneous path planet to develop on its own and ignore the simultaneous incarnates there, the sequentials try to figure out ways to undo the path and make it sequential.

Hence, we have both Dark AND Light working together on Earth forcing sequentialization. Yes, this is part of the Game and within the rules of challenging those who are on the way toward Graduation once they enter the simultaneous path. It doesn’t matter if these Higher Selves will Graduate on the current simultaneous planet or the next, once a Higher Self has made that leap to the simultaneous path, the next leap is Graduation whenever that Higher Self is ready.

The Journey

© 2000 - 2005 Leading Edge International Research Group. All Rights Reserved.

The polarities know that they are losing some of their best to the simultaneous path. They feel that in order to retain their polarity members, they must eliminate the simultaneous path by reconversion. This IS part of this Galaxy Game. Nobody said the simultaneous path would be easy. It is complex but the rewards are outstanding.

This brings us back to victimhood, 'political correctness' and 'the rule of law'. This is a combination of both Dark and Light energies involved. The 'rule of law' and victimizing are Dark. 'Political correctness' and victimhood are Light. The victimizing of Dark is to create situations that allow the Light to demand conformity and security. Do you see how it operates? The American government, under sequential planetary directions, set up the Oklahoma and 9/11 events in Dark manipulation thus allowing the feigned victimhood stance of external enemies. The Light took over next with the demands for increased 'political correctness' and willingness to give up individual freedoms, thus feeding the Dark. BOTH are working to deny simultaneous expression! The same is happening around the world: Spain, Britain, the Middle East, etc.

The incarnations that recognize this isn't right (for various reasons depending on incarnational levels) protest via internet or groups. These are heavily watched and spied on by the polarities for daring not to conform. They are identified as simultaneous pathers by their actions. The Higher Selves of these incarnations are proceeding on a defiant path against sequential intrusion. These are primarily of Mid and lower Advanced levels and part of their experience. Smoking out the true simultaneous is part of the sequential plans. Once they are identified, they think they know how to better challenge them. Their error here is in thinking only of the incarnation while ignoring the power of that incarnation's Higher Self. Thinking ONLY of the incarnation tells of spiritual immaturity and a lack of Higher Self comprehension. This serves the simultaneous pathers that bring ultimate victory over the sequential oppressors.

Rolling over for the sequentials is not advised. No simultaneous path Higher Self incarnation will be comfortable in doing so. Remember that each Higher Self has specific experiences required during this stage of EndGame and, once on the simultaneous path a Higher Self is unable and, more importantly, unwilling to return to the far more restrictive sequential path.

Independence of thought and action (uniqueness of path) must be respected. You must do what you feel you must for your path experiences. The sequentials plan to eliminate freedom of expression on the internet. That is a given and it will be for 'political correctness' (in the name of Light) due to 'terrorism' (by those Dark in power) who will do it for peace (Light) and security (Dark).

The sequential plans for Earth are working very well which also indicates that Graduation is soon to occur. Victimhood is a major and successful weapon in the sequential plans for Earth. Light loves victimhood and Dark exploits it: a perfect marriage of sequentials united against simultaneous. Many cling to victimhood as a way to gain power. They are all furthering the sequential agenda. That's one reason why there are so many minions on Earth as well as sequential groupies. All are here to intimidate and coerce the simultaneous pathers. Beware of victims and victimhood mentality.

As situations get Darker in the name of Light, go within. Remember who you really are and are not. No matter what happens here, take comfort in the real you and always trust in YOUR Higher Self!

Increasing Sequential Agenda Pressure

Volume III Special Segment

"Let no one be in any doubt that the rules of the game are changing," said British Prime Minister Blair at a London news conference on August 5, 2005. Yes the rules of the Game are changing for all simultaneous pathers on Earth. EndGame is proceeding for Earth's Planetary Spirit and pre-Graduating Higher Selves. The sequential movers and shakers know this. They have experienced it before on previous simultaneous path planets. They are taking much joy in enforcing it again. This time it is on Earth.

The changing rules, that sequential advocate Blair advocates in connection with the above announcement, involve deporting anyone who "meddles in extremism" or 'advocates hatred or violence'. By allowing the 7/7 bombings to occur, the government now wants to narrow the amount of activities one may have even more. Personal freedoms are to be restricted or denied to have the 'security' that the simultaneous path offers. The United States is another such sequentializing country. If they really want to deport anyone who "meddles in extremism", these politicians would have to leave their own country.

One can check any news source to see the latest moves in denying individuality (simultaneous path) in favor of conformity in speech and actions (sequential path). Conformity, also known as 'political correctness', is a sequential planet staple. Boring! Sequential planets move as one and are monolithic in nature. Much has been written about the sequential path of this Galaxy Game in the Matrix V series. Enough so that those, for whom M5 is written, can easily observe what is being done on Earth and where it is leading.

The alien sequentials know how to read the signs of a simultaneous planet's departure preparations. Some of the signs on Earth include massive ice shelf detachments, erratic weather patterns, and movements to extinction of species. I recently read of the disappearance of a basic plankton in the Pacific Ocean which now threatens the whole life cycle situation. Magnetic fluctuations and strange solar activities are also connected to Earth's pre-Graduation.

For those simultaneous path Higher Selves, the Graduation Key is in place. The keys needed to prepare those Higher Selves for Graduation are available, via the Matrix V project, both on Earth and on the astral. The Graduation Key has been connected to the Planetary Spirit as of the first quarter of 2005. All these events send ripples of energy throughout this Galaxy Game and there are those sequentials who are reacting to this in panic.

As stated in other segments, sequentials beLIEve that they can halt or delay a Graduation by forcing the simultaneous planet to become sequential. They beLIEve that this will force that planet's simultaneous path Higher Selves back onto the sequential path. That faulty reasoning is due to the lack of understanding OF the simultaneous path by the sequentials. This also reflects the spiritual immaturity of the sequential path Higher Selves who are attempting to impose their collective will on the simultaneous independent.

Of course, the sequentials will fail again as they have on previous simultaneous planets. Yet, this experience will sufficiently induce some sequentials to take that leap of faith to the next simultaneous planet.

Until that happens, the sequentials, via their incarnations on Earth and their allies will continue to impose sequential rules in more and more areas of our lives. Sequential speech/'political correctness' is a huge demon that begins with verbal limits and, by experience, dulls the mental processes. This is already the case in many places in the world with all kinds of laws against saying anything perceived as 'offensive'. Refer back to previous segments on that topic. Sequentializing Earth will mean the elimination of those simultaneous radicals who dare not submit to sequential dominance.

What the sequentials cannot grasp is that they are not creating the departure. Rather they are a planned part OF the departure. They are part of this Galaxy Game. Those Graduating Higher Selves and the Planetary Spirit are not being forced out. It is our time. We are moving on because we have earned it. Remember what I wrote about any interference to a simultaneous path Higher Self's incarnational plan. A caution that those who seek to interfere should note: don't press a pre-Graduating Higher Self to directly intervene to preserve shim's simultaneous path agenda. Basically, play your control games, but leave the adults to their business. Don't make a mountain fall on top of you to get your attention!

Expect extreme sequential controls to continue to be forced on Earthers. Yes, the minions will love it if it promises safety of the herd. Expect that the British, American, Israeli and other governments to tow the sequential line. Expect more staged violence to be the catalyst for increased sequentialism. Finally, as always, Trust In YOUR Higher Self!

Electronic Net Experience

On May 1, an EndGame related test was conducted by the sequentials and their allies on Earth. At the time, I thought it might just be an astrological event concerning my own horoscope placements. However, on the night of the same day that I was having my experience, I received a phone call from an M5 reader on the other side of the country who was having a similar reaction. Since he has similar astrological cusps as I do, I thought that he was having a response to the same planetary transits.

The Journey

Yet today (5/15) I received two more phone calls from M5 readers in different parts of the world. They commented on having difficulties on the same day two weeks earlier. It turns out that this was no astrological culprit, but rather a test of a global electronic net that resulted in a feeling of heavy depression by those sensitive enough to feel it. Whether this was the intent or a bi-product of the electronic net, I cannot say at this time. It does seem that one had to be of a sufficient spiritual level to experience this. The depression was quite heavy. This was confirmed by the others who independently brought it to my attention. The depression did not fade quickly but rather took several days.

The purpose of this brief segment is to alert other M5 readers who may have undergone the same event. It was not you. We were just able to sense it. I was also asked if anything could be done to block this interference. Gold light is effective only on astral energies. The T-1 is great for low yield devices. This is far more potent than a T-1 can counteract. The only way that this can be negated would be through the actions of your own Higher Self. It was necessary for some of us to experience the effect. If it is to happen again, we have a reference point to the cause. Likely origins are ELF towers or the notorious HAARP project. Remember the recent stories of exploding toads in Germany and Denmark? This was another test of the same device. If they can explode toads this way, they could explode people.

EndGame is a very dangerous period. It involves Planetary and Simultaneous paths' Graduation. There are those who will do whatever they can to either halt or, at least, retard this Event. This is why it is so important that you trust your own Higher Self.

Attacking The Graduation Key & The Matrix V Project

I received this email today in regard to the Electronic Net Attack segment:

"Thanks for the response. I have to admit that I could barely concentrate today at work after reading your post. I kept thinking that this event marked the beginning of a final, desperate attempt by the sequentials to derail the M5 project. I felt depressed and frustrated. Compounding the issue of course is the fact that there's nobody to ever talk to, quite a surreal feeling. Daily chores/ activities are becoming extremely mundane. After reading your response tonight though, a feeling of calmness took over, especially your emphatic statement of TRUSTING in our Higher Selves. My frustration and anger is slowly turning into an "eager" anticipation, a feeling of "bring it on". I feel that we're entering the final stages and the fireworks are ready to go! Once again, thanks for your timely response and the "key" words that you always use to bring clarity to the situation."

I have further comments on this topic with new information that Matrix V readers should be aware of:

The Journey

Yes, you are correct in your observation. At the time of initial impact, I said that I would not write any more M5 segments. Note, though, that since then I've written 3 new segments. The Graduation/M5 project Higher Selves will not allow derailment by bitter sequentials and will directly intervene when/where necessary. Using methods of control, that we incarnates cannot cancel, is a path obstruction that project Higher Selves will not permit for more than a brief experience. I know of some non-project M5 readers that are still enduring the electronic net. This is part of their experience. The M5 project will not be closed down due to the bitter Betty sequentials or polarity mavens. Graduation is proceeding on schedule. Challenging the greater purpose of Higher Selves on the simultaneous path is not the smartest thing to do, yet they continue to try. Two nights ago, I noticed a Dark astral watching me late at night. Frustration over the latest failure to undo the Matrix V project is obvious to me. It will also not be the last attempt.

It was necessary that certain M5 connected incarnates feel the effect of the electronic net as it gave us a reference to the desperation of the polarities and sequentials. In the Gold Edition I wrote that Game addicts will be attempting to prolong the Game all the way up to its conclusion. The same concept applies to aggression against those who will be Graduating on simultaneous planets in our Galaxy Game.

Weariness with the Game and mundane matters becomes more and more trying as one gets closer and closer to Graduation. Game addicts embrace the mundane issues. Graduation candidates consider it a burden that cannot be eliminated soon enough. The fact that the sequentials/polarities have gotten so desperate, that they are employing global electronic nets to control a planet preparing for Graduation, does demonstrate how close that Event is.

Another important element from the May 1-2 attack is that I discovered yesterday that the net has caused a ripple through the simultaneous path incarnates as it has infiltrated beyond our current time period. One of the intents was to try and halt the initial emergence of Matrix V by reaching back in time to close it down. I can't say how far back in time this ripple went, but know that it has gone back to the 1990's. Tampering with time is an element of certain sequentials and Dark polarity power mongers. Removing or undoing the Graduation Key is essential to their plan. I assure you that project Higher Selves, including the Planetary Spirit, will not allow this to happen.

Last month (April) had a lot of secret activity around the North Pole with alien craft and missile firing. Certain M5 readers had sent me reports on what they saw astrally. Then, shortly after this, we have the May 1-2 electronic net attack. Allowance was never a favorite rule for the sequential-minded. Allowance is a simultaneous expression. With all the billions and billions of planets in this Galaxy Game, why does so much attention have to be placed by the sequentials on the single (at a time) simultaneous planet? Why can't they just be happy conquering each other or living their lives as sequentials? Because part of the Game is attempting to keep anyone from completing the Game. It's not that those who actively try to keep the simultaneous-pathers from Graduating are trying to 'finish' first. Not at all. The Game is designed to trap Higher Selves within.

The Journey

© 2000 - 2005 Leading Edge International Research Group. All Rights Reserved.

The Game itself is meant to contain Higher Selves in a loop-matrix that only the most Advanced of Higher Self incarnates will eventually succeed in escaping. A Higher Self cannot Graduate from the sequential path, hence the billions of years spent on that path. Now that we are ready for our Graduation Event, the Game is throwing all it can at us to try and keep Graduation from happening. This involves astral attacks, technology complications and anything that they think will stop it. If it was not for our own Higher Selves and the prime exception to direct overriding of a major path event, the sequentials definitely would succeed.

We will ALL know all that is kept hidden from us (while in the Game) once we have Graduated. Keep my one major concept in mind: Trust in YOUR Higher Self. EndGame is not a pretty sight.

Star Wars III, Balance and EndGame

Star Wars III is an outstanding film. It accurately demonstrates the power of the Dark polarity. Keep in mind that when you are in a polarity heavy galaxy Game location, that polarity is more potent than its opposite. As we are located in a Dark sector, Dark is far more potent here. In Light galaxy areas, that polarity is stronger than Dark. It is the concentration of one polarity's power that enhances it. Hence, the Light polarity can never 'win' overall in our sector. Light may win a battle, but Dark wins the war. These concepts are part of the Game rules well known to all participating Higher Selves. If any incarnations don't want to accept it, they do so at their own folly.

It is also in Dark's interest that the myth of Light as 'superior to Dark' ('good' stronger than 'bad'), be maintained. This makes it easier for Dark to manipulate the masses on Earth. The wild hair on Earth, as far as the Game is concerned, is that this is the simultaneous path planet of the moment. The sequentials don't know just how much the simultaneous path's Very Advanced and Final Incarnations know since these levels are not part of the sequential path.

Star Wars III is amazing for several reasons. Yoda, who in all the other chapters of this series, always wants the viewer to beLIEve that Light (Jedi) is superior to Dark (Sith) and thus always wins. Well, Yoda got his ass kicked by the Dark Emperor in this film and admits that he failed. The Emperor proved to be far more powerful than Yoda and his Light masters. Anakin Skywalker, on embracing the Dark, kills a number of children (boys & girls I'm pleased to note) with his light saber. This shows a reality that is missing in 99.9% of the entertainment media that likes to show men being killed while females and children almost always escape. That is not the way of reality and it encourages false senses of security.

After I saw Yoda get his little butt kicked, I was thinking: Yoda, what about the superiority of the Light polarity? How did you get your butt kicked if you are so damned superior?

Slink away to the swamps of Dagobah and learn your lesson. You would think he learned, but, as we know from the rest of the series, he did not and was still preaching Light purity as the optimum state of being.

Note in Star Wars VI that Luke defeats his father only when he incorporates the Dark with his Light (when Vader threatens Leia) creating a temporary yin-yang balance. This allowed him to beat Vader. Yet this balance was too great for this sequential Luke to hold on to for very long, so he flings his temporary Dark energy enhancement away, allowing the Emperor to almost kill him. Vader killed the Emperor only because Vader did what Luke had done in reverse: he incorporated the Light to his Dark and, hence, had his yin-yang balance that was more than the Emperor could handle. Balance ALWAYS wins because it is a mixing of both polarities. This is the most feared concept by both polarities in the Game. Neither polarity can defeat Balance, whether yin-yang balance or the far more potent true Balance.

Other interesting observations in Star Wars III include Anakin Skywalker, in his Dark vein, saying: "If you're not with me, you're my enemy". Shades of American dictator George Bush's: "Either you are with us or you are with the terrorists"! The great difference is that Anakin was truly brave while Bush is a coward who gets others to do his dirty work.

In other scenes, the Emperor uses threats that he created to get more power. War destabilizes the republic, so he promises 'security and peace' by getting the legislature to grant him more power as the only way to end the war. Senator Padme (Mrs. Anakin Skywalker) correctly observes: "This is how liberty dies: with thundering applause". The same has been happening in the United States. The majority of the people and Congress eagerly give dictator Bush and the executive branch of the government fascist powers while stripping the Constitution of its freedoms. "But you will have security and peace" is the Dark mantra to seduce the people.

The Dark, in the Star Wars films, is called Sith. While it can be said to be an anagram of 'shit', it is also a reptilian word. Reptilian words are loaded with 's' and 'th' sounding words. From this you should understand that the 'Sith' are the reptilian Orion Empire influences. The reptilians are the prime Dark force in this Galaxy Game. They are the oldest race and most Game addicted.

Take the Dark sector of this Galaxy Game, add simultaneous EndGame on Earth to the mix, and you have forces of spiritual assassination involved, as has not been the case since the previous simultaneous path planet. The object of the assassination attempts is simultaneous path Graduation candidates. The electronic net of early May was just one of the latest examples of that. When you watch Star Wars, watch it with a discerning eye. Lots of hidden meaning that will be recognized by simultaneous-pathers.

Alien "Divine" Intervention & EndGame

If you check this link on Rense's site, you will find an article regarding Tibetan monks' 'remote viewing' that aliens (referred to as "divine") will intercede on Earth to prevent the destruction of the planet: <http://www.rense.com/general63/rv.htm>

Matrix 5 readers will note how this article is loaded with sequential concepts such as karma, reincarnation and alien 'spiritual superiority'. These tired, old ideas have been around ever since the sequentials discovered that Earth is the current simultaneous experience planet in this galaxy Game. 'Give away your power to the 'divine' aliens (space brothers) who know what's best for you' is their mantra. They come in 'glory' after all, but their 'glory' is glittering technology. The sequentials ignore the fact that we wouldn't be in this EndGame mess if it were not for alien interference and the distribution of alien technology on Earth. Yet the EndGame scenario IS part of our necessary experience.

What this monk refers to as "supernatural, divine powers" is a direct reference to the Higher Selves. The simultaneous path Higher Selves are the 'divine powers' of Earth as are this galaxy Game's creator(s). The rest of the galaxy is for the sequential path Higher Selves who are doing their best to keep us from Graduation.

Sequential aliens have been trying different methods to keep us, and the Planetary Spirit, from spiraling out of the Game. Some of their techniques involve using various craft to manipulate Earth's grid points in order to try and subdue the Planetary Spirit, introduce technology to lure the simultaneous away from spiritual development and to set themselves (the aliens) up as 'divine' and beings worthy of us giving our power away to. Notice, in the 'ET Saving World' article, that it is the aliens' usage of technology that will 'make them superior', not anything spiritually superior (which they do not possess).

Remember as well that Earthers are a resource to various alien groups, such as food for Orion reptilians and Sirian wolfish, mineral wealth to many aliens and a playground for their attempts at godhood. It is in THEIR interest that we do not Graduate. They say that technology is not where spirituality is Advanced. That is correct, yet it is their technology that they rely on and have been using to create chaos on Earth.

When the Planetary Spirit concludes shim's 3rd density experience, Earth will be left as a lifeless rock. That would be similar to your local supermarket permanently closing down requiring you to locate a new one elsewhere.

If anything, it will be the simultaneous path Higher Selves and the Planetary Spirit that force the event and drive the false deity sequentials away BY Graduating. When it is time, nothing will stop what must occur. Beware of aliens bearing gifts for they have ulterior motives in mind. Keep in mind Twilight Zone's "To Serve Man" episode, Earth Final Conflict's alien 'saviors' and similar entertainment based warnings. The sequentialization of Earth is a prime alien goal. It is well underway as per previous segments. The Graduation from the Game is the prime simultaneous Higher Self goal. Both goals are clashing now. The body ID vs. the spirit ID....sequential vs. simultaneous paths.

There is nothing "supernatural" or "divine" in alien technology, although they would love us to beLIEve it. This plays to Body ID and deity concepts that are rejected by Very Advanced, Dominant and Final Incarnations. The aliens also are aware of this. It is their plan to also eliminate these levels from Earth as well as any mid-Advanced that do not defer to their superiority. It is the Very Advanced, Dominants and Finals who see the alien sequentials for who they truly are and that is FAR from 'divine'.

It is the body ID'd who beLIEve that they need to be 'saved' for they do not understand the nature of the Game and the vehicle of the spirit. Matrix V's segments contain the keys that you need to spiral out of the Game. The Graduation Key is in place and has been enhanced this year by certain events including one on March 11 that resulted in the Japan earthquake. Alien propaganda by their agents on Earth is meant to sidetrack those on the simultaneous path. Go within and trust your Higher Self, the only pure source of your individual path and, hence, 'salvation'.

Alien Abductions & The Game

Alien abductions on Earth have been a popular topic for decades now. The television in America has plenty of genuine and pseudo documentaries and entertainment surrounding this topic. But, have you ever wondered just why Earth is so targeted by the aliens for this and what are they looking for? You are not going to be able to grasp the fullness of this unless you are a Matrix V reader.

Throughout the galaxy one can encounter all kinds of physical beings classed as humanoid (arms/legs/head) and others, as well as carbon-based life, silicon-based life and others. The full classifications of sequential life options are known to all Higher Selves and you will 'remember' them once you have graduated The Game and once again have all your memories at active disposal.

Human life is not limited to Earth. This is also known to those investigating the UFO scenario where the Nordic types are just one of the other humans witnessed. Yet Earther human is quite different than non-Earther human due to genetic engineering as discussed in previous segments. Genetic engineering is not limited to the Orion Empire's domain, although they are the prime culprits on Earth. Even so, this is not the core reason for the abduction scenarios.

The answer to this is not the body but rather the spirit. The reason for all this alien attention is the simultaneous path and how the sequential-pathers are looking for loopholes and shortcuts to gain what we gain without taking the leap into the simultaneous path.

The Journey

The aliens give Earthers all kinds of lame excuses that are body ID oriented. One popular excuse is the dying race victimhood stance. One cannot get more body ID'd than to push that worthless line!

They are trying to appeal to those of lesser than Very Advanced and Lightside in outlook. Races come and races go. Physical bodies are only Game pieces as is well stated in Matrix V. One expects sequentials to be heavily body ID'd. It goes with their territory. Look at how the Orion queen and royals are obsessed with extending body life. This has also been discussed in M5.

Yet, if this is so, why have they been spending so much time plucking up Earther humans with a shorter life span in relation to theirs? That's because what they say is meant for Earther consumption. It is not the truth.

The alien abductors wrongly think that 'by extensive mapping and examination of Earther human bodies' that they can discover 'what makes the simultaneous path work as it does'. They believe that they can discover a physical reason that allows the spirit to move beyond mid-Advanced levels, which is the highest that one can reach as a sequential path Higher Self. There is NO key or code in the Earther physical that will answer their question or solve their riddle. Yet they will continue along this path because they cannot accept the results, just as the polarities will continue to seek dominion right to the last gasp of The Game.

Sequential path Higher Selves cannot Advance beyond mid-Advanced levels, hence they do not have the talent/abilities of the simultaneous pather who has Very Advanced and a Final incarnations in play. These levels cause great unease among the aliens because they cannot control or impress them to submission by their technological tricks. They would just as soon eliminate any of these they can find, if they are able to do so.

There are those alien races who abduct humans for food. Those who do this do not limit their 'grocery shopping' to just Earth. They harvest from planets within their grasp. Harvesting for food is not the same as abducting and then replacing of the abducted subjects to their environment.

Abducted Earther humans have implants in almost all cases. The purpose of this implant is tracking and monitoring. The monitoring is part of their attempt to discover 'the why's and how's of the simultaneous path'. This is not known to all the aliens involved, but it IS known to those aliens who have designed the abduction programs. By monitoring, they hope to be able to create a 'technological device' to simulate the simultaneous path.

As stated in Matrix V, there is NO shortcut to having the simultaneous experience. The central problem with these sequentials is fear: Fear of taking the leap into the simultaneous path and fear of losing their Game memories while still in The Game. I have stated that fear is one's prime undoing in every instance. Fear will keep someone from experiencing astral travel, for example. Fear is one of The Game's primary tools and something that all Higher Selves must overcome in order to graduate. We simultaneous path incarnates overcame our sequential fear when we took the leap of faith and left that path behind. The rewards come when you face your fear and progress despite it. This has been a constant theme throughout the M5 segments. Keep this information in mind when you watch or hear about alien abductions.

Sequentials: Erran Interference on Earth

I have mentioned Billy Meier's contacts from the Erran system in other segments of M5G. While doing some internet research, I discovered that there is a recent book (February 04) that one of Meier's associates published entitled: And Still They Fly by Guido Moosbrugger. One may locate this on Amazon.com, if interested. Being curious as to what propaganda these aliens are up to, I wanted to poke around a bit. The publisher of this book has a site (www.steelmarkonline.com) and the forward to this book may be read at this site. I mention a few Erran philosophies/beliefs in earlier segments, so didn't think there was anything significantly new that I would locate. I did find this paragraph contained in the forward:

"The Errans are several nose-lengths ahead of us, meaning 3,500 years in technological regard and about 30 million years further in their spiritual development. Due to their enormously high evolutionary level, they master universal space travel almost perfectly. They maintain a great number of bases throughout the entire universe and serve to a certain extent as keepers of cosmic order and as assistants in spiritual guidance to needy civilizations."

M5G readers should be able to easily note the sequential thought processes that the aliens employ with their logic and body ID. They use linear processes and group ID to define their 'evolutionary progress'. This is intended to induce the reader to give away personal power to these 'superior' beings since their planetary race has been 'hanging around so long' - which is typical for a sequential race. The reptilians have been around even longer. Note the references to their "enormously high evolutionary level" and "about 30 million years further in their spiritual development". Sequential path incarnates measure their time in the Game by their incarnational level. Since the Earth simultaneous path is a galactic young race, we are considered to be 'immature' by the sequential incarnations, and called 'Earthlings' (see my segment on THAT term). Even with all their incarnational memories they are still body ID bound. They think technological advancement is equated with spiritual advancement. Using that flawed logic, the reptilians are more advanced than the Errans are. Meanwhile the reptilians continue to dine on humans. They want you to be dazzled by the technology. They continually dangle it in front of the 'Earthers' to induce awe and obedience. The more spiritually advanced Native Americans were expected to be in awe of the western European invaders and their technology, for example.

By the time a Higher Self takes the leap of faith and rejects the sequential path for the simultaneous path, that Higher Self has moved ahead in Advancement over the longest-lingering, sequential path Higher Self. Some of the reptilian incarnating Higher Selves have been here much longer than the entire group of simultaneous path Higher Selves. They refuse to Advance and are Game addicts. Refer to previous segments for information about that situation.

Aliens claim to have ‘cures for all Earther diseases’ but won’t give them for a variety of ‘reasons’. Remember that all aliens who meddle on Earth have agendas. Their central agendas deal with denying Earth as a simultaneous path learning center and control of Earthers by alien masters. Their agendas may be of Light or Dark polarity, but each polarity is self-serving. Either it’s “I know what’s best for you” or “Do it because I say so”. Note, in the forward quote above, that the Errans want their ‘followers’ on Earth to beLIEve that they are the “controllers of the universe” and the “keepers of cosmic order”, while dispensing “spiritual guidance” to “needy civilizations”. How very western European colonialist of them! How Lightside of them! I will let you determine the implications of all of this beyond what is mentioned in this segment. EndGame brings much more alien contact to us simultaneous-pathers on Earth.

While the sequential incarnates operate under full incarnational memories, they do not have pre-Game memories. ALL Game Higher Selves do have them, of course, but their incarnations do not.

Higher Selves on the sequential path will manipulate their Game pieces (incarnations) to interfere with those on the simultaneous path according to galactic Game rules. When they accept the simultaneous path, they will have the sequentials of the time doing likewise to them. Several past segments cover these topics in both volumes.

The Errans and their allies talk about their ‘grand armadas’ of space fleets, overwhelming (to Earthers) technologies plus more to keep you concentrating on them and away from you. At one time, you may have been one of the Errans. You certainly were on the sequential path in order to find yourself here. As we near Graduation, expect the aliens to step up their programs on Earth. UFO sightings seem to be increasing significantly. The sequentials think that they can ‘lure back’ former sequential (now simultaneous) friends back to their path. They are not Advanced enough to know that you cannot go backward in progression. The aliens will, as always, steer clear of Very Advanced and, especially, Final Incarnations who will not buy into their cheap card trick shows. Observe...it’s getting more and more interesting.

Technology and Higher Densities

Volume III Special Segment

Technology is a third density ‘necessity’, depending on incarnational path. Technology ranges from such simple devices as the wheel, lever/pulley systems, etc. to the other extreme of complex electronics, and weapons of mass destruction, from bombs all the way up to the Orion Death Stars, and beyond. These are all inventions of incarnations here to experience the Game. These devices mimic certain natural abilities of a Higher Self. Technology, in general, has been discussed in various M5 segments.

Technology is a passion for the sequential path, especially the older civilizations with long-term Game addicts. These ancient Game addicts will continue to beLIEve that ‘the answer’ to circumventing the simultaneous path is technology.

On the astral (4th density), one may easily mimic 3rd density creations by willing anything (in the 3rd density function of the Game) to manifest on the 4th. On focus level 27, astral manifestations exist which mirror 3rd density Game play. You find buildings of various types: homes, the Library, the Park, etc. On focus level 25, one can see the afterlife ideals of all Earther Game beliefs. On lower astral levels, all manner of astral creations exist, depending on the strength of the intent of the Higher Self incarnation(s) that designed them. The basic nature of astral creation is a mid-Advanced level topic and much can be located in print on that topic. Yet, as Bob Monroe said in his trilogy, these astral creations will no longer exist (after what M5 refers to as Graduation).

As one approaches Graduation, one learns that it is not necessary to carry these Game manifestations in more than memory. They are ties that bind one to the Game and what we outgrow when we are ready to Graduate. Yet, those still firmly in the Game continue to use technology for a variety of reasons. Do not to confuse astral creations with interdimensional objects. Yes, it can seem complex if one is not at the level necessary to comprehend the difference. The 3rd density has various dimensions, as stated in an earlier M5 segment. Dimensions belong to the density. This is one of the many topics that will become clear to you after Graduation. Your Awakened Final Incarnation has a degree of information on this topic, but it is limited due to still being in the Game.

Those for whom Matrix V is written should be aware that astral technology is not employed in higher than the 4th density. I have received reports of scenarios in which astral ships are created to ‘transport select incarnations to higher densities’. The stated purpose is ‘to explore’. It was reported that participants in these ships are requested to put energy into a manifested crystal to “power” the ship, and that ‘the energy is reclaimed upon return’. Within these ships are “security” beings who restrict access to ‘certain areas’. These non-Earther beings seem to be interested in the “energy spectrum” of those who power the ship’s crystal energy device, per the report given. The whole affair should send up warning flags to the Very Advanced, and definitely to Awakened Final Incarnations.

The Journey

EndGame has brought heightened interest to simultaneous path Earthers, as already stated many times in M5 segments. This includes physical and non-physical beings of both polarities. The Graduation Key in place has set up a beacon that is also being responded to by those for whom it was not designed. There are those who are just 'curious' and there are those who are looking for a shortcut that involves Graduation without passing through the simultaneous path phase. There is NO shortcut.

By placing energy into the astral crystal, these naïve explorers are actually giving their energy signatures, which are being analyzed by certain non-Earther beings. This is not a benign activity. Aliens know that almost all Earthers are impressed by technology and buy into the myth of 'space brothers'. By using this combination, it's a great way to impress the love & light crowd. Not only does this impress Lightsiders, they also become advocates of this experience and entice others to this fancy trap.

Simultaneous path Higher Selves do not entertain curious incarnates, hauled around by sequential polarities, visiting like American or Japanese tourists with cameras clicking, on the density level where they reside while in the Game. It just doesn't happen. With that in mind, one should wonder just what is going on. Those for whom M5 is designed should think of this sequential vehicle as a theme park ride where illusion can be made to appear real.

Despite what the designers of this energy analysis device would have those who ride it beLIEve, the ship remains on the astral. The astral is expansive, as are recreations with in it. It is very easy to have the ride begin in a fairly common area, then shift to a remote one where the theme park design can continue. Meanwhile the original intent, analyzing the energy signatures of the participants, does proceed while they are in the theme park exploring.

These sequentials are looking for shortcuts, yes, but they are also looking for specific energy signatures, which are more important to those behind this charade. No ships are ever needed, or used, by any incarnation (designed by their Higher Self) meant to travel to densities beyond the 4th. In my travels beyond the astral, I have never seen any 3rd density based technology. One's Higher Self is immortal and omnipotent. 3rd density technology is the imitation of certain Higher Self abilities.

If you are on the astral and meet anyone who tries to sell you the concept that they 'have a ship that can transport you to higher densities', my advice is to keep moving. You are being sold something that has Darker designs. However, there are those Higher Selves who want to have the experience with these beings. In those cases, I say to remember the number one rule: Trust in YOUR Higher Self. Shim has the reason for the 'why'. All will be made clear upon Graduation.

EndGame Energies & Incarnational Meetings

This galaxy Game was created so that incarnational Advancement is earned by a combination of experiences and the spiritual strengths gained from these experiences. On the sequential path, while memories of previous incarnations remain intact after the initial incarnation, recall that there is only ONE incarnation for each sequential path Higher Self at a time.

Once sufficient experiences and spiritual strengths are gained, the sequential path Higher Self may choose to take the leap of faith and proceed to the simultaneous path. As the reader knows from many previous segments, full incarnational memories are restricted to within your Higher Self. Simultaneous path incarnations do not have the same benefits of active memory that the sequentials have. On the other hand, the sequentials are still moving down a tediously long experience path while the simultaneous are developing very rapidly toward Graduation.

Due to the very nature of the simultaneous path, a Higher Self on that path would not have multiple incarnations meeting on the physical. This would be a Game violation and the Higher Selves know and agree to this before accepting the Game challenge. It would give the simultaneous path an unfair advantage in the Game. If two or more incarnational streams in the physical were to meet, the proximity of these energy streams would be able to bridge the memory blocks of the simultaneous path. This would give that individual Higher Self an unfair advantage in the Game, especially as Graduation approaches. One may compare this to cheating on your final exams in school. This is just not done.

Of course you do have incarnations scattered throughout EndGame since EndGame has been active for a few hundred years now, beginning as a slow vibration and moving to the hectic latter stages of now. Many in their current incarnation, born after World War II, know that they have an incarnation in the World War II era. That incarnation died before your current one was born. You would not meet in the physical.

Monroe talked about having another incarnation in Russia doing the same thing that he was doing in Virginia except that this incarnation was female. Monroe stated that he would never meet this woman in the physical and he never did. What was the purpose of this who event? Only his Higher Self can answer that, but it is not our concern. What is to be noted is that they were never allowed to meet while incarnated.

It is possible that you will meet people who you feel instantly very close to. There is something in their eyes, their aura that pulls you to them. This is not the feel of having the 'same' Higher Self, although the non-Awakened Final and lesser incarnations may think so.

Energies are coming to a close on Earth. The spiral out is tightening. The meeting of pre-Game close friends is occurring as a prelude to individual and friendship group Graduation events. This was touched briefly earlier this month in another segment. These are Higher Selves who entered the Game together and desire to exit together. One caution though: if you are significantly Advanced over another incarnation that you recognize, they may not be able to return the intensity because the particular incarnation you recognize is not sufficiently Advanced to ID you beyond an attraction that may be limited. This would not be an incarnation that I am referring to.

Yet when you do meet someone who is sufficiently Advanced and able to respond to this recognition, you may be stimulated to act on this by preparing for Graduation together. I know of 3 groups in 3 different 'time periods' that have united this way in preparation for Graduation. What I have noticed is that these meetings are not consciously planned. They just seem to appear. This is because the Higher Self knows that you may doubt such an event, due to body ID/self-fulfilling prophecy, if you consciously knew that you would meet person A on this date and he would be someone you agreed to form 'The One' event with. Even an Awakened Final Incarnation is not aware of this until the time actually happens. I can tell you that when it does occur, you will get energy zapped by the Higher Selves involved. This will also lead to some startling revelations that are conveyed by your Higher Self as well as any other Higher Self involved. A natural cascading of events will follow, depending on the Higher Selves involved and the commitments of the incarnations.

Review the segments on rejection and the Game. Be aware of the refining of the spirit through fiery challenges successfully met. If all is comfortable and you are satisfied with your lot in life, you are not ready for your next level at this time.

Necessary other life ties can be a priority for you if you know that you have to meet this other person or people. While this can be true on many incarnational Game levels, when it is of the Graduation level, there is a different feel that you will sense only when you are ready to engage in these types of meetings.

Preparations for Graduation may involve relocating. While relocation is a typical incarnational path experience, the vibration for Graduation relocation has a different overtone. Vastly different knowledge and dynamics come into play.

The Earth Planetary Spirit is currently undergoing Graduation preparations. This can be observed by noting events in nature. Yes, the Indonesian event of late December was significant on many levels, but one should also note other lesser dramatic events, such as robins in January hopping around in 20 degree weather on ice and snow, huge flocks of geese flying at night, the abandonment of nesting areas by animals and the disappearance of schools of fish from former spawning areas. These are just some of the Planetary Spirit's Graduation vibrations.

Just as the Planetary Spirit is preparing for Graduation, so are individual Higher Selves. Events are moving rapidly. Sharpen your observational skills. The crescendo of EndGame is in play.

Graduation Events

Circumstances connected to the Graduation Key and other related matters have had me otherwise occupied for over a week in another state of the country. The southern Asian earthquake and resulting tidal waves are a direct result of Earth's Planetary Spirit's movement toward shim's own Graduation.

Now to finally say something on this:

It was in October that I reported to Val that my attention was taken to the Graduation Key. I was shown that it has started to very slowly move in a clockwise direction. At the time I did not know exactly what that would involve. Then the quake and tidal waves hit southern Asia in December.

Shortly after I saw the Graduation Key movement, I was put in contact with someone who put me in contact with another that required me to be at a certain location at the end of December. When I arrived at this place, I was introduced to yet another person. It turns out that these two people that I was visiting are significant (understatement) other life ties and eons-old friendships from before entry into the Game.

While at this location, the three of us were to complete a process that reunited our Higher Selves in such a way that exceeds our pre-Game friendship. This turned out to be our pre-Graduation formation. I cannot go into detail in this public forum, but can say that another phase of EndGame has been processed. This phase is as important as the revelations of M5G and the Graduation Key. Your Finals will all have access to necessary parts of this information no matter what time period they reside in.

Basically, what amounts to a Game-wide 'spirit flare' was sent rippling throughout this galaxy Game has occurred. This 'flare' announced the upcoming Graduation of the Earth Planetary Spirit as well as those who will spiral out at the same time. It signaled the intended end of one simultaneous planet to be replaced by another.

Those who are not ready for Graduation at this time will continue their simultaneous path on the next simultaneous path planet in another part of this galaxy. This planet is already preparing to be this so designated world by the Game's constructor's.

What is happening during EndGame has occurred at each simultaneous path planet's EndGame. Higher Selves know that this is only a new phase on the Game board and that there is FAR more to be played on it even though those of us Graduating will have moved on. When that planet reaches its designated time, their version of EndGame will take place. The Earth simultaneous planet is about 1/3 of the way through the designated duration of this galaxy Game. There are yet 2/3 of the simultaneous planets yet to be in play but, remember, only one simultaneous planet is in play (in this galaxy Game) at a time.

This whole Event will have me relocating soon for there is so much to do in so short a time. When I took my visit out of state, I was given no indication of what may occur. I bought my air tickets and made arrangements with someone I had never even seen before in this incarnation. Expect the unexpected kept coming to me and I just knew that this was what I had to do. Yet when the events started cascading, I was totally taken away by the magnitude of what was happening. I never expected what had happened.

Likewise, I don't know what will occur next for me on a personal level except that I know it involves relocation. When these new path directions happen, I just know that I must do them and the reasons will be made clear as I proceed. This has happened to me numerous times before on my own the advice that I give to everyone else: trust in YOUR Higher Self. As a Final Incarnation, I have lots of information that my other incarnations cannot access. Yet, I am in the Game and, as such, cannot know all that my Higher Self does. I am considering logistics problems, uncertainties and more with what is developing.

Meanwhile, the Earth Planetary Spirit is doing shim's thing as well. Hang on, everyone; it's going to get even more interesting. Trust in YOUR Higher Self!

Graduation Key Crop Circle

One of the many crop circles in the past (1995) was most interesting because it showed the Sun with the orbits of Mercury, Venus, Earth and Mars depicted around it but, unlike the other orbits with their respective planet, in the Earth orbit, the planet is not there. On one hand, based on one of the Orion plans, Earth has been destroyed. This plan has been discussed in M5G Gold Edition (Volume One) in several segments.

Now, with the Graduation Key in place, I have been able to access new information that this crop circle has another interpretation. While those who placed the circle may well have intended the Orion plan, in actuality, it refers to the Earth Planetary Spirit's own graduation from the Game, to those who are aware OF the Graduation Key.

Refer back to the Matrix V Gold Edition Nature Spirit path segments concerning general planetary path graduations from the Game. The Earth Planetary Spirit is as eager to graduate during EndGame as are the Awakened Final Incarnations for each simultaneous path Higher Self. With the Earth Spirit, the disappearances of species, both animal and plant, are connected to the EndGame preparations for graduating. This was also covered in segments in the first volume.

The placement of the Graduation Key AT THIS TIME is VERY significant for the spiraling out of both the simultaneous and the nature spirit paths. Each of your Higher Selves is having a significant role in the creation of the Graduation Key as per Key segments in Vol II. It is not by 'chance' that the Matrix V volumes are in play at this time. This was planned long ago by several simultaneous path Higher Selves as part of the EndGame scenario and well within the rules of the system Game. The Graduation Key will remain until the Earth Planetary Spirit has moved on. Once that being has concluded shim's Game experiences, the Graduation Key will have fulfilled its purpose and will no longer exist. There will not be another version of the Graduation Key until the next simultaneous path planet in our galaxy has entered the similar stage that Earth is in now.

Graduation Key & Earth's Planetary Spirit

In January, I wrote that I was elsewhere in the county engaged in an effort that enhanced the Graduation Key. In March, once again my travel resulted in another enhancement to the Key. The formation occurred on March 11. Shortly after that, Japan experienced a major earthquake which was a direct result of the Planetary Spirit's energies preparing for shim's own Graduation. On March 28, another hefty 8.7 earthquake hit Indonesia with reports of another tidal wave forming.

Certain sequentials have been attempting to contain the Earth Planetary Spirit by tampering with grid points. Bruce Cathie has discussed grid point tampering and has extensive data on the planetary grid in his books. (Check Amazon.com for his materials).

The Planetary Spirit is preparing for shim's Graduation on the nature spirit path. Earthquakes, volcanoes and weather related dramas are all part of this. However you should be aware that the tampering of the grid points by the sequentials and their Dark allies on Earth are making these events even more dramatic than they need to be. The aliens are having an effect of attempting to put a lid on the Earth energies. Instead of a natural flow of energy, we have a pressure cooker effect. When some of the energy seeps out under such pressure, we have dramatic Earth changes such as the Indonesian quakes of December and March. Yet, this is how EndGame proceeds.

One of the purposes of the Graduation Key is to assist the Earth Planetary Spirit to overcome the sequential interference. The Planetary Spirit is being significantly aided by the Graduation Key. Review Matrix V Volume II and the Graduation Key segments. Note how the Key was formed and what was required for it to be in place. This is an alliance between many simultaneous path Higher Selves and the Earth Planetary Spirit's Higher Self. We are all moving towards Graduation and will not be cut off at the pass by the sequentials and Game addicts.

Each Higher Self, connected to Matrix V via an incarnation during this time period, has placed energy into the formation of the Graduation Key as per EndGame opportunities and Graduation activities. Matrix V is found all over the globe in areas that I would not have imagined. It continues to reach those who need it for their path progress. As it does, more simultaneous path Higher Self energy joins with the Graduation Key. Can you connect the dots of this picture? The Planetary Spirit engaged the Graduation Key in January 2005. In March 2005 the Planetary Spirit linked even further with it. The scope of the whole Event is absolutely amazing for me to view.

Indigo Ray Children & The Window-Of-Opportunity Event

Volume III Special Segment

In earlier segments I referred to the New Age (mid-Advanced levels) fascination of children tagged with the 'indigo ray' label. They have been described as "brilliant" with an ability to easily function in a technological world with a computer as an extension of their aptitude. They also claim that these children have enhanced psychic abilities as well. Along with the 'indigo ray' label, other New Age factions refer to them as 'blue ray' children. In either case, they seem to tag the appearance of these incarnates starting in 1984. If one wishes to research the New Age mythology in regard to these 'indigo ray' children, you can easily research it on the internet.

The purpose of this segment is to tie the 'indigo ray' children into the EndGame activities on Earth.

When a simultaneous path planet nears its Graduation Event, there is a Window-of-Opportunity experience available for sequential path Higher Selves. This Window-of-Opportunity allows sequential path Higher Selves, who are considering the leap of faith, to experience an incarnational event on the current simultaneous path planet in this Galaxy Game. They remain on the sequential path, but can observe firsthand the simultaneous Game stage, which includes everyone at all levels of incarnational progression. Remember that the sequentials are conditioned to planetary progression where everyone is near the same level of Advancement.

In order to participate in this experience, the sequential path Higher Selves agree to a limited block of their Game incarnational memories. While their incarnations have the talents of their path, their memories (of who they really are) remain restricted. This has a two-fold purpose.

First, it is to restrict those on the simultaneous path from being TOO aware of this situation unless you are at a Very Advanced or Final Incarnational level where knowing will benefit your EndGame experiences.

Secondly, it is to give the sequential-pather a taste of not having their full memory of past lives. When the Window-of-Opportunity incarnation 'dies', that Higher Self will be faced with a decision to either return to the sequential path or take the leap of faith to the simultaneous path on the next planet so designated for this Galaxy Game. Game rule: The Window-of-Opportunity experience is limited to one incarnation per sequential path Higher Self.

Our Higher Selves (Earther Graduation ready) have been there. We accepted the Window of Opportunity experience on the last (pre-Earth) simultaneous planet in our Galaxy Game.

Those Higher Selves (Window of Opportunity participants) who choose to not take the simultaneous leap of faith tend to take the adversarial role in the Game to the next simultaneous planet's simultaneous path Higher Selves. They are significant in creating obstacles that the simultaneous will face. They are the aliens who visit their former sequential friends and try (vainly) to lure them back or, at the very least, get them to give their power away to their technological superiority. They also carry tales back to the Game addicts such as the reptilian royalty.

In order to correctly appreciate the situation, you must look at it from a Game level. Step back from your incarnational self and try to see it from the point of the Higher Selves. It is JUST an experiential Game. The physical body is a device for learning what the Game has to offer. This is covered in numerous M5 segments. The reason some of the Game's mechanics are being presented is only because it is EndGame and this is written for those who will be Graduating to far more interesting activities when they activate their Nexus of Time.

These 'indigo ray' children will not respond to someone who, having read M5, is foolish enough to confront them. That would be just spiritually immature and would serve no purpose. We allow them to have their experiences just as we expect to be allowed to have ours. If you cannot adhere to Allowance, you are not ready for greater events.

The Window-of-Opportunity experience, a one-time-per-simultaneous-path-planetary-event, always occurs in the linear time closest to the end of that planet's simultaneous experience. The Window of Opportunity is not a Nature path event. It is only a sequential path event on a simultaneous planet. The Window of Opportunity experiences began in 1984, over 20 years ago. Minion incarnations are multiplying as well.

Next stop for Earth: Graduation! The Window-of-Opportunity experience is over. Minions are rejoined to the Planetary Spirit. Simultaneous path Graduates, engaging their Nexus of Time, head for new, fascinating experiences. Simultaneous-pathers not yet ready to Graduate will continue on the next simultaneous path planet. Is your Higher Self ready for what shim will be doing? Only your Higher Self can answer that.

The Window-Of-Opportunity Event – Part II

Volume III Special Segment

The Window-of-Opportunity Event is a major progression for the sequential path Higher Selves. When this experience is made available to sequential Higher Selves, most of them are not even Advanced enough to be aware of it. One would have to be in the sequential Advanced levels to even be aware of it. Sequential Advanced levels are comparable to simultaneous path low-Advanced through mid-Advanced levels. The Very Advanced levels are simultaneous path additions to the progression of this Galaxy Game.

In the previous segment, the limited sequential memory access (during the Window-of-Opportunity) is mentioned as two fold in purpose. The first consideration is that the sequentials cannot be allowed to run around the simultaneous planet meeting former sequential associates who are now on the simultaneous path and trying to stimulate their sequential path memories. That defeats the purpose of the simultaneous path experience. Can you imagine an Earther Mid level family having an “indigo ray” child who, as soon as he/she can speak starts telling them about the ‘good old days’ on planet xyz? Talk about breaking rules at the very least!

Very Advanced incarnations are far more likely to be able to deal with certain facets of the sequential path, but even an Awakened Final Incarnation doesn’t have that kind of access. Graduation will soon be here and then ALL our information can be processed. Meanwhile, enjoy your final Game experiences, pre-Grads!

Another reason for the memory blockage during the Window-of-Opportunity Event is that, by giving the sequential pather a taste of how it is not to have memory access, the progressing sequential path Higher Self will have a feel of how it is to operate without past lives memories. This does become too much for some sequential-pathers. Many others find it fascinating. After this event, the sequential path Higher Self must then decide whether or not to take the Leap of Faith and plunge fully into the simultaneous path.

We (simultaneous path Higher Selves) have all enjoyed the Window of Opportunity Event on the previous simultaneous path planet in another part of this galaxy. This Event is an excellent time for pre-Game friends to progress together on the next phase of the Game from sequential to simultaneous path. Higher Selves are very social and enjoy having company. Those of us in the Earth Graduation Class will have a lot to discuss after Graduation. Those who will follow in the next simultaneous planet will have their own memories to make and experiences to endure.

Magical Mystery Tour

Volume III Special Segment

On the sequential path, our Higher Selves were involved with the tediously slow progression through first, the Low, then the Mid and finally the Advanced levels available to that path. This was a process that lasted millennia. Once we had reached sequential path mid-Advanced, we were presented with the option to move to the simultaneous path. This has been discussed in previous segments.

On the simultaneous path, your Higher Self has directed shim's incarnations to the full spectrum of experiences. On this path, a Higher Self re-experiences similar situations of all those levels which shim is already well familiar with from the sequential path (without the memories) plus the simultaneous path bonuses of Very Advanced and Final incarnations. This is why the simultaneous path is similar to a self-final exam of all previous experiences combined with the movement toward Graduation: where I am going next.

The psychic sciences and various occult studies beckon to all simultaneous path Higher Self incarnations of the Advanced levels of progression much more than to the low/mid-Advanced of the sequential path. While simultaneous Low and Mid levels concern themselves with Game conformity in religion and societal structures (similar to reliving numerous sequential path experiences), the Advanced levels are preparing for Graduation in appropriate stages. Hence Higher Selves' incarnations will avail themselves of psychic predictive sciences (astrology, tarot) as well as other practices and divination methods. Explorations into non-mainstream Game religions stir curiosities. These curiosities are spirit driven and, once on that path, momentum towards Graduation has begun in earnest.

The new progression areas, for a simultaneous path Higher Self, are the Very Advanced and Final incarnations. The new total sensation for the Game Higher Self is experiencing the range of all these levels at the same time. Being able to direct and to process all of these hundreds of incarnations and the information generated by them in the Game simultaneously proves to that Higher Self that shim is ready to Graduate and is prepared to move to more complex and interesting spheres of activity.

The simultaneous path provides various disciplines of spiritual stimulation that break experiential fences and weaken Game demands for conformity. This is why most cultures forbid, condemn or isolate the occult and psychic sciences practitioners. Many also secretly restrict this information to ruling classes and their agents while condemning it in public. There is much power contained in the occult (meaning 'hidden') but most Earthers are conditioned to fear that label and what is connected with it. Occult power should be equated with breaking experiential loops and fences by giving you a spirit ID over a body ID. By demonstrating to yourself the abilities you innately have, you come to a realization that you have been bound by artificial rules and fake deities. You reclaim your power.

The Journey

However the psychic sciences and occult are only means to an end. They are not the end unto themselves. They can be a way of power over others (Dark), a power to change what one feels must be changed in others regardless of their wishes (Light) or a power to keep unwanted forces away and retain one's power/individuality (Balance). The lure of the Dark and the Light sides are powerful. We all go through incarnations involved with both polarities. We need this in order to fully appreciate Balance and this comes with spiritual maturity.

When I was studying with the wiccans, I concentrated on defensive knowledge. Yet I knew many who were interested in controlling others (Dark): I'm going to make him/her love/obey me – get the black candles. I knew many who wanted to interfere on other people's paths 'for their benefit' (Light): We gather here today to cast a spell to change his/her ways to what we feel that person should be doing – get the white/red candles. Similarly, with my shamanic apprenticeship, I knew many who want to use the knowledge to "save" people (interfere with their path) Lightsiders. I also knew of some who seek to use their power to steal others' energies and enforce servitude Darksiders. I concentrated on defensive tactics and spiritual repairs.

No matter what polarity an incarnation concentrates on, it is what their Higher Self requires for path experiences. This makes it right for that incarnation at that time, whether Dark or Light. Keep in mind that there is no right or wrong, just different experiences. Just as one Higher Self is having several Dark path incarnations, shim is also having several Light path incarnations. All the while, the Higher Self is processing all the information internally. This is factored in when the Dominants create their Final Incarnation. The Final Incarnation is the 3rd density culmination of all the simultaneous experiences for any given Higher Self. It is only during one's Final that Balance (capital B) can be finally found. Nevertheless, Balance cannot be total until Graduation when the Final accesses shim's Nexus of Time and all incarnational streams have merged with that Higher Self. At that time, all Game rules are over and the Higher Self is once again free to act on what has been learned from experiencing a Galaxy Game.

It is essential that psychic sciences be pursued by interested incarnations despite what Game-clinging incarnations around that incarnation may think. If you are interested in astrology (considered the gold key of occult knowledge), the most complex of the predictive sciences, you owe it to yourself to learn as much as you can handle. If you are interested in tarot (considered the silver key of occult knowledge), the same applies. Keep in mind that you cannot learn all psychic sciences/occult knowledge in one incarnation. Work with what you feel most interesting at the time and don't force it.

As for myself, I learned what I needed from each of my areas of concentration then moved on to new ones. A Final is likely to do that for a last reintegration of other life disciplines. It is like tying together any loose threads left by other simultaneous path incarnations. As with all Higher Selves, no ONE path or ONE experience combination suits all. I cannot stress individuality strongly enough.

The Journey

The occult will open your incarnational eyes while drawing the unwanted attention of Game conformist religion and 3rd density 'sciences'. Both of these will use whatever intimidation they have at their disposal to try and drag you back to conformity. When you clash with tradition and conformity (sequential demands), you know you are moving toward independence and Graduation at the level that the current incarnation can handle. Remember that while this is happening, your Higher Self is processing your experiences and watching that your path is not significantly interfered with.

The psychic sciences and the occult definitely present a magical mystery tour and this tour is 'waiting to take you away' as the song goes. Any fears with beginning this tour are strictly of body ID generation and fear/control oriented. I have found the magical mystery tour most invigorating and would not be where I am today without it.

The Journey

Volume III Special Segment

This segment was originally a private communication to the incarnations of two other Higher Selves in this time period. It is now time for this to move from private to M5 Volume III, although it is edited and enhanced for this purpose. This segment originated with a massive rote that I was given in January 2005.

The three of us became close friends in what Monroe refers to as 'Home'. It was here that we decided, along with another group of three close friends, that there must be something even more interesting than the simple, but fun, games we had been playing at Home. With that, we all left Home to explore what there may be that could be interesting to us.

Eventually we discovered a hugely popular venue referred to as "The Game". It seemed to be pulling Higher Selves from all over. Some just looked on, while others were eager to play. We saw that there were all kinds of interesting, but different, 3rd density Games that we could join, but one particularly looked exciting to us.

This Game had a choice of two different prime paths to choose from. In order to play, you had to choose one or the other. The 6 friends decided to split up here with each original group of 3 going on one of the prime paths. We 3 chose our Higher Self path. The other 3 chose (what I call) the Nature Spirit path. The experiences would be extremely different but we knew that at the end of the Game we would be able to share these experiences as if we took them ourselves. We decided that no matter what, we would meet again when it was Graduation time.

For us, we had to start at the beginning: our first sequential incarnation. For eons we played the sequential path. We learned to move as a planet or a system, everyone close to being the same. While this was fun at first, it took on a similar feel as Home did. It was getting boring and predictable. There had to be more.

The Journey

We have been recently hearing something about a renegade group who left us a long time ago. They wanted to move forward as individuals without sequential memories. What a strange and dangerous thing to consider! Nevertheless, we kept hearing of the occasional Higher Self or Selves who wanted to take a seemingly 'blind risk' and go to the simultaneous world. We saw that each simultaneous world would be in the Game for a short while, from a sequential perspective, and could not guess why. It was always in a different location in the Game board each time. Curiosity got the better of us and we decided, as a group of 3, to investigate further.

At this time we heard of something called the 'Window-of-Opportunity' event (see special segments on this event in M5 Vol. III). In our location, very few Higher Selves were even interested in knowing it was available. Yet, the 3 of us took the risk and wanted to see what possibilities it may have. It turned out we were born on a strange planet. It turned out to be the simultaneous planet in the Game just previous to the current one – Earth. I did not have my sequential memories, although some of my more developed talents were second nature to me in my child physical. My parents called me a 'wonder child'. I didn't think so, since I had known that I was thus talented for a long time. Yet, without my past life memories, I could not say how I knew what I knew. Several people on this planet felt familiar, but I could not tell just how. I could not remember at the time.

When my physical died on that world, I was back in the sequential pathway that I had been in before the Window of Opportunity experience. My other two friends were also there and we discussed what had just happened to us. We had no memories of our past relationships when we were in the Window of Opportunity on that planet. We could not get beyond a feeling of familiarity with some of those people. This was a major new sensation for us to process. In all our other sequential lives, we knew everyone and our experiences were shared. How radical this world they call simultaneous must be! People don't know exactly how they truly know each other. The simultaneous planet turned out to be far different than we were lead to believe when we are with the sequential group.

We held back on incarnating (after the Window of Opportunity) while we discussed this experience. No wonder why it was called radical! On this path we were told that we would have many incarnations together at the same time. It really doesn't matter to us that our sequential memories would be suppressed, because our experiences would be SO much different. Instead of the slow one-incarnation-at-a-time, we suddenly could have a huge amount of incarnations at the same time and we could get to play with each other in many different ways. Each of these ways would convey huge amounts of sensory knowledge to us. How fascinating! However when we reviewed our current sequential path experiences, we all felt it was becoming more like 'Home', with little to find that is new. That was when the 3 of us decided to take that Leap of Faith we heard about in connection with the Window of Opportunity event. Going back to the same old sequential life path just did not hold our interests any more. We considered our other 3 friends back before we began this Game, but had no idea what was going on with that path.

The Journey

We notice, on review, how much we have changed since our first Home. Now, we can feel and sense things that we had no idea were possible. Emotions, and the intensities connected with them, allow us to express ourselves so much more completely than the earlier ways. It was time to move on and see what The Game has in store for those on this simultaneous path. We knew that the new simultaneous planet, called Eridu by some groups, would be known as Earth by its simultaneous inhabitants.

Part II – ‘The One’ Event

I was prompted by my Higher Self to take a trip to meet a Matrix V reader who I had been engaging in communications with. I had not seen his photo, nor is it usual for me to embark on a long journey to spend more than one week with such an unknown set of factors. Nevertheless, I knew that I had to take this trip ‘blindly’ and be there by December 30, 2004. While the first day visit was very pleasant, I still didn’t know why I had to make this trip. Enter my third day of this trip (1/1/05) and another person who I was told ‘had’ to meet me. I was not expecting anything significant from it, just another interested M5 reader. When we came around the corner, a connection was made that brought in a cosmic bolt of a shock to me, that even ‘sheared’ of a soul shard (which I had to retrieve later on), I suddenly knew how I knew both of these people in other incarnations on Earth, not in any significant detail, but enough to begin the answer to why I was here at this time.

Later on that day, I was given the massive rote while I was engaged in conversation with these two people. As per a previous M5 segment, rotes are total packages of information that include not only facts but the emotion that accompanies them. They could watch me receiving the rote as I stopped what I was talking about to change tracks to what I was now receiving from my Higher Self. Rotes from one’s Higher Self, in their purest form, are staggering to an incarnation when accompanied by such powerful emotion. I will give you elements of that rote here, although parts of it are strictly for my other two friends.

In 3 different chronological time periods, 3 sets of our incarnations are together under similar situations. In the current time period – unique due to EndGame and my writing of the M5G materials/Graduation Key, etc –you are able to see how EndGame events are developing. In this Endgame period, my Final is central to the three of us. However, in 2 other ‘time periods’, each of you are the central energizing incarnations. In one time, person A’s Final is the central figure. In another time, person B’s Final is the central figure. The non-Final Incarnations in each of the 3 period groups are at Very Advanced levels.

We arranged, according to Game rules and provisions, for 3 special periods where we would be together, with the assistance of the Final of that individual Higher Self, to reconnect energies in ‘The One’ pattern that we began with when we chose the way of the 3rd density Game.

Yesterday, coinciding with all 3 Finals in all 3 time periods, through the energies of each Higher Self operating through each one's Final Incarnation, 'The One' Event occurred. It took all 3 Finals to bring that about. Without all 3, it could not have happened.

'The One' Event required that we stand in a specific ordered circle and make an energy connection with each other via our hands that would allow our Higher Selves' energies to flow through our physicals. As soon as we joined, our 3 Higher Selves positioned themselves very close to each other (in the same circular order) and pulsed energy through to each incarnational stream to each of the 3 incarnations of that Higher Self in the 3 time periods. The gold energy moved down the connecting cords into each of the 3 participating incarnations of each time period. I noticed that each Nexus of Time was radiating energy. Only one's Final Incarnation may direct their Nexus of Time to operate in this manner.

This caused the energy to accelerate through and around us and 5 of our chakras (2-6) to reach out from each of us and meet in the center of our circle. As soon as the chakra energies met, each in its own color, a unique spark occurred. These 5 sparks connected lengthwise and gold energy began swirling clockwise into a stream of energy that burst upward into the center of our 3 Higher Selves. This gold energy opened like a fountain to spread gold energy to envelope the 3 Higher Selves within one golden bubble. This was a pre-melding movement.

The following day, we repeated the same process. This time, the energies, after forming the enveloping circle, also moved upward and shot out to the Graduation Key causing a "notch" to be formed in the upper level and an enhancement to the lower level where the Planetary Spirit resides.

This Event set off a vibrational shock (spirit flare) that was noticed by the Game's creators (who were waiting for it), Earth's Planetary Spirit and the linchpins of both polarities. The Finals in the other two time periods have instructed the participating Very Advanced as to what has occurred. 'The One' phenomenon has been re-formed – similar to the reforging of the sword in The Return of the King that Sauron so feared. This was something we planned as Higher Selves before taking our initial sequential Game plunge – a promise made/a promise held. Only a Final Incarnation can grasp the depth of this Event.

Meanwhile, on the Nature Sprit path, the Earth Planetary Spirit turned out to be one of our friends from the other trio mentioned earlier. The Earth Planetary Spirit has recognized me as a Final since I began my shamanic training. The Nature Spirit path does not deal in memory losses that our Higher Self path must endure. As a side note, once when I hiked through Boynton Canyon vortex in Sedona, AZ, I saw one of the guardian spirits, a manifestation of the Planetary Spirit. I had never seen such a spirit before who looked at me and said, "I know who you are" then swirled around my aura and vanished. That really shocked my not-fully-Awakened self in the late 90's. The Planetary Spirit has also connected to each of the other two Finals in 'The One' Event.

The Journey

The Planetary Spirit needed us and all the other Higher Self incarnations that have become a part of the M5 project to set the Graduation Key, as described in Volume 2's Graduation Key segments. Matrix V gives us the keys needed to stimulate who you really are and give those, for whom it was written, the energy needed to Graduate.

Part III – Tweaking the Graduation Key

In March 2005 I made another trip to visit with my two friends and we formed the circle once more. The link between our Higher Selves was again dramatically manifested through our incarnations with color and energy. The connections from our Higher Selves pulsed down through our crown chakras which caused energy from our 3rd eyes through our creative sexual chakras to extend into the center of our formation. This energy swirled and merged together and shot back up to our Higher Selves and surrounded them in a golden sphere, as it did in January. Meanwhile the circle of energy continued to move clockwise at our level.

What I noticed new this time was that the ground fell away beneath us, and I could see the Planetary Spirit watching. This time, shim added a potent loop of energy to surround the three of us on the third density. The best way I can describe it is to say that I could see the Planetary Spirit watching what we were doing (from below) and focusing shim's energy so that it enveloped us almost to the ceiling of the room we were in and back down to include the Planetary Spirit's essence. The incarnational crystals that surround the Earth Spirit were glowing in a golden light. Remember (from a previous M5 segment) that these crystals correspond to the wall of incarnational faces within our Higher Selves.

This energy tweaked the Graduation Key even more, although I could not perceive just how. I just knew it did. After all, I don't need to know it all while IN the Game. Our Higher Selves do, however. This event was necessary for the Graduation Key and, as previously stated, it was being simultaneously enacted by our other two sets of Final/Very Advanced in two other time periods and locations.

After the enhancement was completed, I was told "it is enough". Yet, I responded that I wanted to hold the link a bit longer so that the other two could feel/experience more of the event. And we did just that until I felt they had gotten all they could from this experience. This is something that was planned long ago. It was also something that we earned by our participation and actions IN the Game. Once again, our Higher Selves each have the full details which we will all 'remember' when we have Graduated.

Part IV – Conclusions

This information was originally written in January and in March as segments intended to be shared only with the other two participants. It was not to be shared with anyone else at that time. Now that Matrix V Volume III is here, the time is right to share. While some may consider it an interesting event for us, how does it apply to the other M5 readers and pre-Graduates?

The Journey

The Graduation process is a series of events centered on EndGame. Certain Higher Selves agreed to participate in unique ways that would ensure that Graduation does occur for all those prepared to move beyond the Game. In order for that to occur, certain keys must be dispensed so that the simultaneous will be able to discover more of who they really are and are not. Body ID vs. spirit ID and a focus beyond the Game need to be available to those searching for it. This is why Matrix V (on this simultaneous planet) was created.

Next came the need for the Graduation Key energy. It required a certain number of pre-Graduate Higher Selves incarnated on Earth to combine their energies to form this Key. The Graduation Key continues to be strengthened by the increasing numbers of incarnations on Earth who are employing the keys, given in the M5 series, to focus on moving beyond the Game. This involves those physically here on Earth and those with M5 access in the Library on focus level 27.

With the Graduation Key in place, enhancements were necessary and this required a unique formation event called 'The One' that would ripple through time and not be solely focused in EndGame. The details given above were repeated simultaneously in the other two time periods as well. Energies flowed to/from them as they did to/from us where I am the Final Incarnation. This event bound more than just EndGame, as you can see.

'The One' event also united the Planetary Spirit with the Graduation Key in a way that it had not before. The Planetary Spirit's unique energy has combined with those of us on the simultaneous path to further enhance the Graduation Key.

Events are moving to our Graduation. The shock that the polarity linchpins and others felt proved to them that they, once again, were not able to prevent another simultaneous planet from being a stage for Game Graduation. Even now, these same Game addicts are planning to 'compensate' for their perceived failure on Earth and are planning how to move on the next simultaneous planet. Meanwhile the Game creators are pleased that another group of Higher Selves are succeeding in Graduation despite the heavy opposition from the Game and those addicted to it.

Know that this is all significant to you wherever you are. If you are on the simultaneous path, you can rejoice over it. If you are on the sequential path, it's time to move forward and take the Leap-of-Faith. Games are meant to learn from but also to move beyond. There is so much more to experience after the 3rd density Games.

Meanwhile, keep observing and evaluating. We have much to discuss after Graduation. You have no idea just how much! It will soon be time for old friends to gather again.

EndGame Chaos

Volume III Special Segment

The unsettled feelings with planetary situations, that pre-Graduates are coping with these days, are increasing dramatically. The Bush government in Washington is goose-stepping around the White House with their christian icons while hiding behind the illusionary flag of 'freedom'. The only 'freedom' that these people agree to is their freedom to impose their will on the rest of the world: sequentialization.

The decades of chemical, biological and electronic controls are paying off by changing the majority of people into sheeple in the United States. Add to that, the mob of minions who gladly follow-the-leader. Brush with fluoride, get your recommended shots, keep that cell phone glued to your ear, take your medications, trust in your country's government which will tell you how to think and when to act. This is not limited to the United States, by far, but the Americans are the test population for sequentialization control. America is the EndGame center due to the type of population. It is also the country where the Matrix V project and the Graduation Key originated, despite the sequential agenda.

Blind obedience to central authority is constantly being tested on the public. The Oklahoma bombing, 9/11 NYC, Madrid bombings, 7/7 London, etc are all pre-chosen by those in control to see just how far they can control public opinion and manipulate a response to something that is staged by one group and blamed on another. Nero's Rome did it with their fire. The Germans did it well with the Reichstag fire. America has succeeded with Oklahoma and 9/11. Spain's government succeeded with the Madrid bombings. Britain is meeting success with their 7/7 bombings. Syria was blamed for a Lebanese politician's death when Israel was behind it. Actually the sharp observer will discover Israel behind most of what is happening today. It is all moving along a well planned agenda.

The difference between Nero's Rome and modern day staged terror is technology. Media enhancements are common to manipulate 'evidence'. Technology during these latter stages of EndGame is particularly devastating and makes it fairly easy for those in power to manipulate the people with faked 'evidence'.

While knowing the answer to my question, I asked someone, where I work, why people just do not want to hear that their authority figures/government are behind 9/11, etc. She correctly answered that if they knew, they would have to do something about it. They do not want to have to do something about it as long as they have their creature comforts. The only ones who are not put off by creature comforts and will point their finger at the person behind the curtain (Wizard of Oz reference for any who don't get it) are those incarnations who have Earther pre-Graduate Higher Selves.

There are two vastly different versions of unsettled feelings going on. One is that generated BY the sequential agenda to have people beg to give up personal freedoms for promises of fascist security. The other version is felt by pre-Graduates that their simultaneous planet is being raped by the sequentials for an agenda that works against us. What is happening these days just feels wrong to us. The true terrorists are in the halls of planetary power. This feeling makes us long for Graduation and a way out of this depressing EndGame situation.

The other night I spoke with one of the participants in The One Event of January/March 2005. We discussed pre-Graduation and I compared it to how we felt when we were going to graduate from high school or college. We had great memories and hard memories. Reminiscing about past years is common for seniors about to graduate. There are people and situations that we will miss and those that we are glad to be rid of. He mentioned the bittersweet sensation of graduation. That is a perfect word for it. Yet we retain all our memories in our Higher Self.

Now, as those of us who will Graduate prepare to do so, our memories tend to think back over our current incarnation in EndGame. Observations are abundant. With the wide array of keys given in these three volumes of Matrix V, we have a distinct advantage over those who will continue in the Game. While it is true that we cannot access our memories as sequentials do, we have the sense of something coming to an end and a new beginning about to enter. We will be leaving those behind as we move ahead on our individual paths. Bittersweet – indeed!

EndGame chaos is rooted in sequential/alien interference, heightened by their technology, on Earth. They have been attempting to derail the simultaneous path and force Earth to the sequential path. Sequential biases, race hatreds and false senses of superiority (examples: Orion Empire Dark/Pleiadian Light) have been wreaking havoc on Earth for ages in attempts to end the simultaneous paradise of Earth. The sequential aim is everyone to be the same, as it is on sequential planets all over the galaxy. How wearying.

The Earth Planetary Spirit is making shim's pre-Graduation preparations known by weather changes, earthquakes, etc. Leaving behind the frustrated sequentials and not-ready-for-Graduation simultaneous behind is something I will be glad to do. There is SO much more for a Game Graduate to engage in and to learn. Meanwhile, until then, keep your observational skills sharp and be ready for the unexpected.

Monitoring The Matrix V Project and Graduation Key

Volume III Special Segment

Due to a frustration by those opposed to this project, it is important that I keep watch on the quality of the M5 segments and what is purported to be representing the M5 project. Since the first volume was released in 2001, there have been multiple attacks on various levels just because M5 exists. This is despite my caveats that the materials are written for a specific minimum level of spiritual progression.

Early on, when I first started writing essays in 1999 that would become part of M5, I was frequently subjected to astral attacks to try and prevent the work from continuing. Here I was dealing with lower astral agents intending simultaneous path harassment. At the time I consciously had no idea what the M5 project would become, or any purposes for it. This was kept from me at the time because if I had been consciously aware of what the scope of M5 would be, it would have tipped the simultaneous path Graduation hand too soon. Now that Matrix V has reached its global distribution goal and the Graduation Key has been created, it is too late for the sequentials to do anything about it. This being the case, the sequentials and their lower astral allies are trying to 'minimize' any further 'damage' from the M5 project to sequential plans for Earth. Note that 'damage' is from their perspective.

The Graduation Key has opened the path out of the Game for the Planetary Spirit and us soon-to-be Game Graduates. The Graduation Key is the path, the beacon to point the way past Light traps and other sequential hindrances placed around a simultaneous path planet. This Key is now under direct supervision of certain Higher Selves to prevent tampering or disruption. This was completed in March 2005 with the last necessary formation of 'The One' event. The monitoring of the Graduation Key is now fully in the domain of these Higher Selves working with Earth's Planetary Spirit. Once Graduation has been completed, the Graduation Key will no longer exist. The pathway, known here as the 'Graduation Key', is a feature of the EndGame of all simultaneous path planets in this Galaxy Game.

Of course, new copies of the Matrix V series are still being received world-wide and new golden energy threads are being attached to the Graduation Key by those Higher Selves' incarnations with their Gold Edition copies. Also, people who get copies of M5 from the Library on level 27 are also connecting to the Graduation Key from the astral as well. Remember that the astral serves a distinct purpose to the planet it forms around. That is common mid-Advanced level data, however.

Yes, the lower astrals are frustrated over the whole Event. They will still harass people who have copies of M5, if they feel they can get away with it. One M5 reader in Canada wrote: "Even writing to/corresponding with The Author sometimes invites increased astral attacks and misbehavior." I have received similar reports from all over the planet. If an astral attack doesn't happen as a direct nuisance to the M5 reader, the astral enemy alerts those around you (who are easily manipulated) to use sequentializing peer-pressure to attempt to get one to conform to group standards.

An M5 reader in the Czech Republic wrote about a group in his country who uses the M5 Gold cover of the Higher Selves and then its leader “channels” information from “aliens” who warp the M5 segments to fit their agendas.

This desire to warp (deliberate or not) the M5 messages has been carried out by unauthorized groups via websites and chat room attempts. When investigated, their purposes were to either turn M5 into a quasi-religion or to tear it apart. ALL such attempts are lower astral or sequential incarnate directed. What disturbs these people is that the stress in Matrix V is, ‘do what you feel you must’ and ‘trust ONLY in YOUR Higher Self’. Creating personality cults and single path/one way commands are purely sequential. Being on the simultaneous path means breaking away from the sequential path and striking out on your own. You don’t need a consensus of opinion, a rule of ‘law’ or majority, or the opinions of others before you experience what you feel you must. There is no right or wrong, just different experiences. Remember too that ‘the rule of the majority’ is a sequential demand.

Naturally, the sequentials find this individuality to be horrifying. Yes, the simultaneous path by its nature discards the worn-out sequential group ‘necessities’, especially during one’s Very Advanced and Final Incarnation phases. We are preparing to exit the Game as Graduates. They refuse to ‘permit’ our exit and free choices. They also either ignore or underestimate the power and the nature of a pre-Graduate Higher Self. That is part of their learning experience. Why can’t sequentials and the sequential-minded just leave Matrix V and M5 concept readers alone? Because that, too, is part of the Game. The heat is greatest as you near the end. This is part of our refining fire.

This requires that I monitor the M5 project to be sure it retains its purity. Purity is easy to taint when the person interpreting the material does so from a perspective other than that of an Awakened Final Incarnation. The old phrase is ‘the road to hell is paved with good intentions’. I have seen so much ‘good intention’, in regard to misunderstanding M5 segments, that a super highway to hell could be paved. While these have been primarily innocent, even an innocent can make a fatal move. Therefore, I continue to correct email inquiries and perceptions of M5 readers when they misinterpret something that is otherwise easily understood by an Awakened Final Incarnation. This does not mean they must accept what is told to them. Everyone is free to discard whatever they cannot handle. Every Higher Self has an Awakened Final and that incarnation is able to grasp the M5 project in total. That is part of our function. For our pre-Final incarnations, grasp what you can and push aside the rest. What you cannot understand at this time is eagerly embraced by your more Advanced incarnations.

Explaining all facets of the Game and creation is not the purpose of the M5 project. Some M5 readers are not happy with the scope of what has been written in M5 and want to know information that is restricted as long as we are IN the Game. They want to know

© 2000 - 2005 Leading Edge International Research Group. All Rights Reserved.

'everything about everything' and they 'want to know it NOW'. Even as an Awakened Final Incarnation, I know my limits of outside Game knowledge while still in the Game and do not seek to move beyond these limits. This seems to be difficult for those who want instant gratification of curiosity. Just wanting to know something does not give one the right to have the information. The Game is based on restriction of that total knowledge we have as our Higher Selves. The restrictions are removed upon Graduation. Before that time, tough shit! The sequentials are notorious for seeking shortcuts in the Game. This is why they continue to look for simultaneous path knowledge that can only come from being on that path.

This segment has added some information that had to be kept until Volume III. EndGame is moving rapidly. Keep your observational skills honed. Beware of all planetary authority figures since they are proceeding on sequentialized direction. The Graduation Key is our path to post-Game activities. I, for one, can't wait.

Numerology and Matrix V

Volume III Special Segment

Numerology is the study of numbers and their 'mystical' values. Basic numerology is reducing any series of numbers to its lowest number by adding each number to the other. Numerology is a mid-Advanced study area, as is astrology, tarot, etc. If you want to investigate numerology, there are many books out there on the topic, although there are none that I am familiar with to recommend.

In one of the M5 Q&A's, I mention that the number 6 is significant to the Matrix V project. Actually the numbers 3, 6 and 9 are all important. Note that 3 is the central number with both 6 and 9 being multiples of 3. With me, I have 3 Dominant incarnations who formed this Final.

When Matrix V Gold Edition was published, I wanted to do some research on Tchaikovsky's Swan Lake beyond the content analysis of the Gold Edition recommended CD version. Swan Lake's world premier debuted in Moscow on March 4, 1877. 126 years later, to the very day, Matrix V Gold Edition was published: March 4, 2003. The Gold Edition contains the Swan Lake segment which is not found in the previous two editions of M5.

One of the sources for the Swan Lake debut information, if you care to check, is: <http://www.coronet.gr/0405/pro2/en.html>

First performance: Swan Lake
Bolshoi Theater, Moscow, 4 March 1877
Music: P.I. Tchaikovsky

The Journey

© 2000 - 2005 Leading Edge International Research Group. All Rights Reserved.

Using numerology:

* 3/4/1877 = 30 = 3 (3+4+1+8+7+7) Swan Lake's opening in Moscow

* 3/4/2003 = 12 = 3 (3+4+2+0+0+3) Matrix V Gold Edition

* 1877 = 23 = 5 as does 2003 = 5 as in M Five Gold

* There are 14 tracks in the CD recommended in M5G: 14 = 5 (1+4)

* 126 years after Swan Lake debuts, M5G is published: 1+2+6=9. Nine is the number of completion.

I wrote this information down and stuck it in my copy of M5G. Earlier this year, I located it after returning from my trip to participate in "The One" event discussed in the Journey segment exclusive to M5 Vol. III. To that I add:

*The 3 of the debut of Swan Lake + the 3 of the release date of M56 = 6. Completion requires the number 9, one event to go. On January 1, 2005, the missing third person entered into the equation which completed the needed energy to allow me to finish the interpretation of Swan Lake as I did verbally at that location to the other two. The 3 of us, on the numerological date of 9, combined energies with 3 other sets of 3 incarnations from the same 3 Higher Selves (3 + 3 + 3 = 9). The three events: Swan Lake/M5G/The One all combined to describe, form and secure the Graduation Key in place as described in the Journey segment.

The numbers 3 - 6 - 9 are in motion for Graduation and tied to the number 5 (very potent combination of the four elements plus spirit). 5 is a number connected with the Planetary Spirit as well. It is no coincidence that the keys that Graduating Higher Selves, via their incarnations, have been waiting for are contained within Matrix V. I am very sensitive to numbers of 3 - 6 - 9 especially when looking for connections to the M5 project. This also indicated that there would indeed be a Volume III to the project, even though I was totally unaware of it until this year.

Numbers are significant. They contain spiritual energy signatures. Music is numeric based with beats/tempo and so on. Numbers and music are connected to the M5 project. The full nature of numbers, music and much more is stored within each of our Higher Selves. This segment gives you an insight into the numerological sense of the M5 project. It is not meant to get the reader overly absorbed in the detail. It is meant to give you another insight to the complexities of the M5 project. All is going well. Graduation nears.

Higher Selves and *The Graduation Key

Volume III Special Segment

In Volume II, the necessity for many Higher Self incarnations to create the Graduation Key, our path out of the Game, was explained. The Graduation Key's purpose is further explained here in Volume III. When I consider all that is involved in the formation of the Graduation Key and the energy needed to sustain it, I am awed from an incarnational standpoint. From the position of a Higher Self, it may be no big thing, but then a Higher Self has full memories and knows well shim's abilities. As the Final Incarnation of my Higher Self, I am amazed at the whole Matrix V project, its complexity and goals.

In Volume II, it is stated that a specific number of Matrix V owners/possessors were needed to initially form the Graduation Key. As Matrix V Gold Edition books continue to travel around the world, and as new Higher Selves connect to the project via their current time incarnations, they add new gold threads of energy that reinforce the Graduation Key, announcing to the Game that each project-involved Higher Self is ready to Graduate from this 3rd density Galaxy Game. This added energy also serves another purpose: to buffer the Graduation Key from simultaneous Game addicts and polarity powerhouses that would abort the Key if they could. What they do not realize is that once the Key was in place, they are powerless to do anything about it.

If, for any reason, a pre-Graduate Higher Self is unable to have an incarnation in this current time period with the ability to physically receive a copy of Matrix V Gold, that Higher Self includes in the incarnation's agenda the impulse to reach the Library on Focus Level 27 and receive a copy of M5, of which there are unlimited supplies. This would most likely occur during the sleep phase when the spirit does travel out of body. It may also occur by conscious out of body travel. If the incarnation dies before having the opportunity to get M5 Gold, shim will do so at the Library as well. Trust in YOUR Higher Self! ALL pre-Graduate Higher Selves will have the connection to the Graduation Key via M5 either in the physical or the astral.

How the gold thread is energized to the Key is already explained in the M5 series. In the case of non-physical connections, the Higher Self, via the astral extension of that incarnation, takes an astral copy of M5. Once this happens, the astral copy may be either read line-by-line OR, far more likely, absorbed instantly as a rote. Either way, once this happens, the necessary keys are utilized and a gold thread is formed from that Higher Self's incarnation to the Graduation Key. NO pre-Graduate will be left behind or not have the ability/knowledge of where and how to get their connection to the Graduation Key.

The vibration of the M5 project is unique to Earther Higher Self pre-Graduates. When the Graduation Key was initially formed, the vibration resonated throughout the Game. Those simultaneous path Earther incarnates, who are ready to Graduate, have been responding to the vibration. This is an amazing Event that only happens once on each simultaneous planet and is tied in with the Planetary Spirit's Graduation as well. Amazing, at least for me!

Graduation Key and Post-Graduation Gathering

Volume III Special Segment

The prime purpose of the Graduation Key is revealed in the M5 Volume III exclusive segment: Monitoring the M5 Project & Graduation Key. This segment expands what is revealed there.

The Graduation Key's primary function, as a pathway exit for Game Graduates, is a simultaneous/nature spirit path feature only. It is not accessible or viewable by sequential path Higher Self incarnations. Recall basic M5 segments explaining the natures of both sequential and simultaneous paths as well as the nature of linear time. A simultaneous path planet's location and sequence is determined by the Galaxy Game's creator. They take into consideration the status of Higher Self players on both the simultaneous and the nature spirit paths. The timing of the Graduation Key is also part of this decision-making.

A simultaneous path planet's existence is very brief indeed when compared to the overall Game or sequential path progress. From the Game creators' point of view, simultaneous path planets are popping in and out rapidly as Higher Selves complete the Game, moving from sequential to simultaneous environments then Graduation.

Inevitably there are many M5 reader questions about the nature spirit path beyond what is offered in the Matrix V series. Certain information about that alternate path in the Game is necessary for EndGame purposes as well as for Awakened Final Incarnation enhancement. The knowledge given here is within the rules for EndGame, pre-Graduation environments. It is not necessary for us to know all about the nature spirit path just as it is not necessary for those on that path to know all about the sequential/simultaneous paths. The full details of all paths are known to our Higher Selves and will be able to be acted on after Graduation. Post-Graduation Gatherings bring pre-Game and path friends together to share immense roles on their unique path experiences.

We will all be amazed at the experiences of others and other paths. We will learn more about non-humanoid life forms, non-carbon based humanoid life forms and topics that we would consider unfathomable while we are still in the Game. The word 'humanoid', in Advanced perspective terms, means Game path intelligent, self-aware with physical head, arms, legs and body trunk. This includes Earther simultaneous, Earther sequential, Earther minion, Orion reptilian, Sirian canine, etc. A non-carbon based life form may be humanoid. If the life form has no legs/arms, such as a gelatinous shape-shifter, that life form is not humanoid even if it may take a humanoid form at will. This type of information is very basic to a Galaxy Game Higher Self, of course. We will become re-aware of this AFTER Graduation.

The nature spirit path has a wide variety of expressions in the Game, more than we are consciously aware of in the Game whether on the sequential or the simultaneous path.

The Journey

© 2000 - 2005 Leading Edge International Research Group. All Rights Reserved.

Again, we must concentrate on our current path experiences during the Game. All reasons why are well understood and agreed to by our Higher Selves before being accepted to participate in a Galaxy Game.

We have also had a wide variety of incarnational expressions in the Game when we were on the sequential path. I repeat: it is necessary for that to be blocked while we are on the simultaneous path. Curiosities we have in the Advanced stages are remote feelings of past experiences. Our expressions were not limited to carbon-based humanoid. You will remember all of what you experienced when you return to being your Higher Self. In linear terms, it will take millennia to review your experiences, integrate all of these and share them with your friends during the post-Graduation Gathering. However, since there is no 'time', 'time' as such is limitless and of no concern to the eternal. 'Time' is only of concern to the finite – your physical vehicle.

The Graduation Key is designed for the Planetary Spirit and each Graduating Higher Self's Final Incarnation to use. Your Nexus of Time is in vibrational synchronicity with the Graduation Key's energy signature. When your Final Incarnation engages the Summoning via shim's Nexus of Time, the Graduation Key is the path that the summoned incarnations follow back up the incarnational streams to return to their respective Higher Selves.

The Summoning event is expertly contained within Swan Lake, as per the M5 Gold Edition segment. In January, when I was involved with the two other people who formed 'The One' event, I requested the Swan Lake CD to be played and was able to verbally decode the full interpretation, as it played on the stereo, from pre-Game to Graduation. With the last Summoning complete and the Planetary Spirit also Graduated, the Key will cease to exist: its purpose having been served. The Gathering, though, is about to begin and it will be a tremendous party of old relationships and friendships renewed.

Honoring An Icon

Volume III Special Segment

M5 readers also know that the 'gods' of Earth are primarily aliens in origin, no matter what religion they hail from. Yet, some of the world's lesser deities are based on people who actually lived and had a mythological scenario built around them in the years following their incarnational deaths. An example: Quan Yin, the 'goddess' of compassion, is actually based on an oriental cross-dresser. Basically, he chose to wear female clothing and was regionally known as a very compassionate person in his travels. Over time, due to the Game's fear of non-heterosexual icons, Quan Yin was transformed from a male into a female. The Game frowns upon drag queens being seriously worshipped as a pantheon's deity.

In one of my trips to focus level 25, I went to visit the oriental deity residence that compares to Norse Valhalla, Greek Olympus or any other religious version of 'heaven'. I particularly wanted to find the energy creation that has become Quan Yin since one of my Dominant incarnations is a big fan during her incarnation. Of course the person who was the real Quan Yin, being a Higher Self incarnation, does not hang around there 'playing goddess'. This is only an energy creation formed by those who keep her in their minds and prayers. This is a basic astral formation lesson. The astral entity is in a female form, unlike the genuine incarnation.

It was easy to find this astral creation which is the result of the devotion of Higher Self incarnates' creative energies. I told Quan Yin that one of my significant incarnations is devoted to her examples of compassion. Quan Yin was impressed and gave me a lotus blossom to present to my Dominant with her regards. I notice that Quan Yin also had a large lotus blossom tucked in her gown's sash. She pulled one petal from this flower and said, "This is for you".

I returned within my Higher Self and told my Dominant what had occurred. That Dominant incarnation of mine has always been very business-like, no-nonsense and composed. This was the first time that her façade melted and she revealed her always very restrained emotions when I gave her the blossom. For my Dominant, the image and life of Quan Yin is most significant.

For those incarnations still involved with religion and their intended power corrupting influences, it should be a goal to learn from the examples of their mythological deities and adapt these traits into one's incarnational path if found desirable. My Dominant does not worship Quan Yin, but she honors her example. Worshiping the deity of any pantheon is an exercise in giving away one's power. Honoring their examples, by incorporating what you are impressed with, is a whole different and mid-Advanced to Very-Advanced way of dealing with religions icons. Once one honors, instead of worships, one deals with enhancing their incarnation but not at the expense of who you really are. This applies to no matter which polarity an incarnation belongs. Dark lessons are equally important to Light. Without balance, you cannot truly progress.

Understanding Rote Communications

The past eight segments (posted to this site) have resulted in a number of strong responses from M5G readers around the world. These segments contain unique keys that certain Higher Selves have been waiting to become available on the physical plane.

Comments from these readers center on being able to feel deeply beyond what the printed word of the segments convey. This indicates that chakras have been touched by these keys and this causes the sensations that these readers are aware of feeling. This involves a communication to you from your Higher Self. The more sensitive you are to non-physical energies, the stronger you may react to this interaction. When you read an M5G segment that hits you with total immersion of mind and spirit, you will have a strong response. This is due to you having absorbed the rote within the printed segment and your Higher Self is decoding that rote. An emotionally strong sensation tells you how powerful that rote was to your Higher Self. A Final Incarnation can easily encode a rote within the printed form.

The Journey

© 2000 - 2005 Leading Edge International Research Group. All Rights Reserved.

Very Advanced incarnations have the ability to sense the rote although they may not be conscious of what is causing the sensations of rote reception.

The phases of rejection that the Very Advanced incarnations experience, the breaking of body ID & experiential loops/fences and the search for your spiritual family are all connected to your Graduation. These should not be treated lightly and are quite significant to you on your individual path. This is what the M5 project handles and is there to assist you with.

Something to keep in mind during this latter EndGame stage is that here we are under vastly different circumstances than incarnations in earlier time periods. Final and Very Advanced incarnations have it far easier without the alien electronic and sequentialized situations we are experiencing now. Yet, the challenges (unique to this period) refine your spirit in ways that previous eras cannot.

ALL Graduating Higher Selves have Final and/or Very Advanced incarnations in the EndGame centuries. It was also required that M5G and its accompanying keys and information be released now as Earth concludes its Game purpose. You will be where you need to be. You will be in contact with those you are supposed to be in contact with. Your Higher Self has specific plans for your incarnation. This has been stressed over and over within the M5 segments. Trust in YOUR Higher Self. This is the main concept you should hold tight to even if you cannot grasp anything else from M5G.

Rote decoding is a very emotional/moving issue. I have received rotes and they can literally cause one to grab onto something for support when the energy hits. This has happened to me several times, such as in the Forbidden City in China and on my trip of last month serving as two examples.

Rotes are not just intellectual information. Instead a rote contains all sensations connected with it: mental, emotional and sensory. This is how Higher Selves communicate with each other. Decoding a rote is also not instantaneous while incarnated. It can take days or weeks to unravel it. Situations may happen that will trigger parts of a rote as well. I am still processing the massive rote that I received one month ago.

Communication from one's Higher Self is severely limited by the rules of the Game, especially when it comes to rote transfer. Remember that you are in the Game to discover who you really are and not to have who you really are being manifested to you 'just for the hell of it' and incarnational curiosity's sake. The Final Incarnation is the one where it is necessary to receive rote information concerning your functions as the Game Final of your Higher Self. In my case, due to the M5 Event, I have received rote information unique to the project as well. Dominant incarnations will use rotes of gentler intensity to communicate with their Final as the Final Awakens. Rotes are never given to the curious or for idle reasons. The Game is a serious matter even if one does have many curious and frivolously involved incarnations as part of the spiritual maturing process. The purpose of this segment is to impart understanding to those who are taken with the potency of certain segments of M5 and to assist you in knowing the nature of a rote.

Curiosity Visits and Your Higher Self

One M5G reader wrote and told me how she's a 'regular visitor to her Higher Self', gets to 'fiddle around with the Nexus of Time' and so on. It may be that others have had similar activities. There is something that these people have not grasped from the M5G segments. Your Higher Self does not allow curiosity visits by any incarnation shim has. Review earlier segments where I gave specific reasons for your Higher Self requiring the presence of certain incarnations within.

What one may do is create an astral version of their Higher Self on Monroe focus level 25 or even 27. This would be a mental creation of the real Higher Self residing on shim's proper level for Game activities. While at the Monroe Institute's programs (that assist one with locating level 27) you may create whatever residence or setting that is your ideal. This is very easy for the traveler to do. The creation will retain its form as long as you continue to focus your energy on it, but that's basic astral creation – the fundamentals of which are easily found in mid-Advanced materials.

One's Higher Self would have no problem with a temporary astral construct such as this, for it will not affect shim's true self or Game activities. Within the real Higher Self, one never manipulates the Nexus of Time, for example, until the Final Incarnation is ready for the Summoning sequence for graduation from the Game. One also does not 'come and go from their Higher Self' as if it was a hotel room at Disneyland.

I would suggest that those who didn't grasp this earlier M5G material re-read those segments from Volume I. The Dominant Incarnations have specific reasons and purposes of meeting within their Higher Self. The Final Incarnation has several very important reasons for being within. None of these incarnations just 'lounge about' because they 'have some time to play tourist'.

With an 'astral creation' of your Higher Self, you may 'play tourist' and get a general impression of what the real version is like, although your genuine Higher Self radiates an aura that is quite potent. This aura cannot be duplicated by astral creations. Your Awakened Final Incarnation knows this well. While it can be fun to 'play around', as such with the faux Higher Self creation, one should be aware that purpose, not curiosity, is what allows entry to the real Self. Remember too that your Higher Self is the real you and your spirit (in whatever incarnation you are reading this) is only a Game-bound expression of the whole.

Parallel Realities

Volume III Special Segment

In previous M5 segments, the astral has been reported on significantly. The Higher Self Game residence density has also been noted. Parallel universes have only had a scant mention. There is an event that I had in the early 1990's, which I will discuss here, that involved such an experience.

Driving to a friend's home on a cloudy, fall Saturday afternoon, I was not thinking about anything of note. At this time in my progression, although I had attended the Monroe Institute my first time, I still was not Awakened and was far from being the 'me' of today.

I made my usual turns off the toll road and headed east. After a few miles, I stopped at the traffic light intersection to the main road where he lived. This required me to make a 45 degree right turn. After the turn I drove several blocks south and noticed how strange it was that no cars were to be seen on the street: no cars driving and no cars parked. Neither did I see any people after that turn.

Still not thinking much of it, besides the observation of a deserted feeling, I pulled in front of my friend's house. He had a tall flagpole in the front yard which always had a flag flying on it. His was the only house on the street that had a flagpole in front of it. As I approached his home, I noticed that there was no flag flying. I saw that the number of the house was correct. No way to be in error there. How strange, I thought.

I parked at the curb and exited my car. It suddenly felt very 'heavy' outside. The air wasn't quite right and the feel was 'heavy'. I looked around and still saw no cars and no people. Moving to the few steps leading up to his front door, I knocked. No sound from within, but I knew he was expecting me.

Climbing the steps I looked through the front door glass. NO furniture! Something was definitely wrong. I was just here the other day and this house was full of life. VERY strange! I moved around to the kitchen side of the house and looked through the window. The refrigerator was open with nothing inside. The house was deserted! It came to me that I should pay particular attention to the refrigerator. I saw that it had the freezer section on the top and refrigerator on the bottom. I also noticed no signs that this house had been occupied for a while.

I thought to look for a newspaper or something in print. I saw absolutely nothing in the yard or the house next door. Suddenly, it came to me that I must leave immediately. I hurried back to my car, started it and drove south 2 blocks. Here I made a left hand, 45 degree turn, drove 1 block east, then made a second left hand turn.

Now there were cars on this street and people. I drove north 2 blocks, made a left and stopped on the street where my friend's house stands. The street was full of cars, both driving and parked. The flag was flying from his flagpole. I found a place to park and knocked. His home was full of people and furniture. I immediately went to the kitchen to see the refrigerator. It was not the same one that I had just seen in here a few minutes back. This one opened down the middle with the freezer portion being on the left! I told my friend what happened. He did not want to hear that and got on with his relatives.

THIS was a parallel reality experience that I had. I would love to have such an experience now that I would be prepared for it. While the houses looked the way they should on the outside, even down to my friend's flagpole, the interiors were not. That no cars or people were to be seen was creepy. The air was 'heavy' in feel. There was not a sound to be heard other than what I made or the sound of my car's engine/radio when driving. I wish there would have been a paper for me to bring back, but when I got the "get out of here NOW" impression from my Higher Self, I did not hesitate to leave. After all, Matrix V was not even a thought to me at this time and I was still a shamanic apprentice. My Higher Self was not going to permit me to be trapped in a parallel reality without completing my mission. This is another version of a Higher Self intervention.

I have had other far lesser experiences since this one. The first sensation is 'something is wrong' or, at least, not 'correct'. You have a feeling of not belonging. These parallel reality experiences seem to phase in and out at times. This is part of the EndGame scenario – a distortion of the parallel realities.

I had been told that a key to parallel realities was the 45 degree shift. That a 45 degree to the right may take one to another reality while the 45 degree shift to the left will return you to yours. While I noticed that worked with my early 90's event, there is a lot more to it, or every time one made a right hand turn, you would be in another reality, which just would not do. The 45 degree shift is just one element in the parallel experience. My Higher Self required me to have this practical experience, and nothing is impossible for your Higher Self.

Another point of consideration, we are in this reality for specific purposes. We are not meant to be reality hopping as in the television series Sliders. Once we have Graduated, we will have significant knowledge on parallel realities, other dimensions and densities. This segment is intended only to give you a glimpse into something that does, indeed, exist. Parallel realities are part of the complexities of the Game.

Silver Cords & Densities

There is a lot of discussion on the mid-Advanced levels of information about the 'silver cord' connecting the spirit with the physical body. I will give you more to consider in this segment about this subject.

First, consider that the often-mentioned cord is NOT a 3rd density expression, but rather an astral one. Just as very few people can see the spirit of sleepers hovering just over their physical bodies because the astral being of those physicals is composed of astral energy, likewise the cord connecting the astral body to the physical is made of the same matter and is unable to be seen by the physical eyes. Without this connection from the astral spirit, the body would die.

The Journey

© 2000 - 2005 Leading Edge International Research Group. All Rights Reserved.

On the astral, dead people have NO such cord since they are no longer connected to the 3rd density body.

Monroe, in his trilogy, wrote that he discovered that the cord to the physical is coming from his spirit back. This is actually via the heart chakra. Monroe also mentioned that he thought that the connection would be via his crown chakra.

The crown chakra is the connection to your Higher Self, as depicted in Matrix V Gold Edition - Quest of the Spirit. The knowledge of a connection via your crown chakra is latent in most people. Previous segments dealt with some examples of how ritualistic clothing/objects are used to attempt to block this connection awareness. Due to the Game and the sequentials attempting to block the simultaneous path Higher Selves from graduating, an inordinate amount of concern is given to the heart chakra cord. This is a diversion to pull attention away from the crown connection.

Refer back to your copy of Matrix V Gold Edition where both simultaneous and sequential Higher Self connections are illustrated. It is the CROWN chakra that connects the incarnation to their Higher Self. The reason why one cannot see the crown connection on the astral (impossible on the 3rd density) is because it is composed of extremely fine, Higher Self energy.

The physical body hosts the lowest density expression of each Higher Self in the Game, no matter what path. When the incarnational stream(s) are extended by you, as your Higher Self, the stream(s) wrap in heavier density matter, such as astral, ethric matter which is shed when returning to the Higher Self via the Nexus of Time operation.

When the incarnational stream returns to your Higher Self, the various matter bodies are dissipated, just as your physical body is pushed off when it dies, and the incarnation departs. The exception is that the shedding of non-physical bodies lacks the drama of Game 3rd density physicals. The pure Higher Self energy, the extension(s) of YOU meld back, yet all the experiences remain alive.

Just because you cannot 'see' the crown chakra cord from the physical OR from the astral does not mean it's not there. It only means the matter is finer than the astral matter and your astral 'eyes' cannot perceive it. It definitely IS there.

With the chakra meditation that I gave you in Matrix V Gold Edition, I use the crown chakra word as "connect". This is not to 'create' a connection because the connection is already there. It is to stimulate conscious connection you to your Higher Self by acknowledging that the connection exists. When I do this meditation, each chakra bursts with energy as I say the corresponding word to that chakra. This is my Higher Self responding to my awareness of the connection. Crown chakras can be blocked and filtered by various means. Something that a genuine shaman does is clear these blockages and repair connections. In your Awakened Final Incarnation, you succeed in eliminating these blocks to fulfill your path needs as the Final. This allows you to consult with your Dominants and move beyond them as you become fully Awakened IN the Game in preparation for graduation and total Awareness as a Game graduate. Remember, however, that FULL connection cannot be attained UNTIL your Awakened Final Incarnation. You understand this in your Higher Self and support this rule of the Game.

With your connection to your Higher Self entering via the crown chakra, it makes sense that any other sub-connection would be from a lower chakra, hence the back of the heart chakra in the physical case. This cord forms ONLY when your spirit leaves the body upon sleep or astral travels. When your spirit is fully in the physical body, there is no cord. There is no reason for it.

When I do my out of body travels, I never pay any attention to the body cord. It is of no consequence to me. Nor do I go trying to see the crown connection. Use this comparison: children are interested in things that adults don't give a second thought about. As you mature spiritually, you will move beyond the child stage of fascination with things that the adult/mature spirit pays no attention to. This is part of your spiritual maturity. This takes many incarnations to pass through. Your Awakened Final will pay no attention to what fascinates 'you' on the low-Advanced, mid-Advanced or Very Advanced levels. This does not invalidate your fascinations on those levels. This is 'where you are' and 'what you need to concentrate on'. Enjoy them while they are fascinating to you.

Celebrate Your Diversity

Volume III Special Segment

While watching a DVD celebrating the opening of the Smithsonian's National Museum of the American Indian, I watched people talk about their genetic heritage as various Native American tribes and their pride in those incarnational lines. During other ethnic celebrations, we are aware of unique cultures and the joy that these people have in celebrating their current incarnational body ID.

Something stressed, since the first Matrix V edition was published, is that we simultaneous path Higher Selves have incarnations in all ethnic groups designed for simultaneous Earth. Within the unique setting of EndGame, pre-Game Graduates should be well aware that your Higher Self is incarnated as Native American tribe members, as Asian/European/African/etc races. You ARE all these incarnations via your Higher Self's simultaneous path experiences.

This is why in these latter stages of EndGame, simultaneous incarnations do reach out and desire to (re)experience an ethnic group that they do not currently belong to. Using the Native American example, many Americans are drawn to study and understand various Native American cultures. This is due to the fact that they are experiencing these cultures in other time periods, again simultaneously to their current incarnation. The Italian/Russian body ID heritage female from New York or the Japanese/Vietnamese body ID male from California may feel pulled to learn Native American ways. They have absolutely no connection to these tribes in their current physical incarnation, yet they pursue their interest.

This is the spirit pulling against the bonds of the current body ID and the veil of the Earther simultaneous path being thinned due to our pre-Graduation status. This applies to any body ID that seeks a connection to a different ethnic/racial one. The European heritage white American who wants to study Native American and/or any other current ethnic experience is such an example. The student in Beijing, China that has a fascination with Celtic culture is a different example. The Brussels, Belgium family who has their home decorated in a style of India is yet another. You can name your own examples.

While it is one thing wanting to connect with the vibrations of other incarnations different than your current one, it is another thing to attempt to abandon your current incarnational ID for a different one. Even when I studied with several Native American shamans over 12 years, I did not seek to lose my current body ID perspective. You are who you are. If your Higher Self wanted you to fully be in another ethnic situation, you would not be who you are today.

On the other hand, sequential manipulators have decided to try and blend all Earther cultures/races into a homogenous (and pasteurized) one. This is where the concept of America being a “melting pot” of cultures. A ‘melting pot’ seeks to combine all elements in it to a single new one. This is blatant sequentializing. Instead of a “melting pot” situation, a “stew pot” is far more appropriate. In the ‘stew pot’, the carrot is still a carrot even if it has some of the flavor of the rest of the stew. In a “melting pot”, the carrot no longer exists as an individual. The simultaneous path aware incarnation can move in and through any ethnic/racial situation with confidence and appreciation while not losing track of which one their Higher Self has designated for now.

When I have mentioned the ‘stew pot’ concept to certain people, I notice how they get mentally rigid. I am usually challenged on that concept with a sequentialized reply of we have to be “the same”. Yes, they want us to be the same, think the same, vote the same, beLIEve the same, dress the same and so on. In other words: sequentialize and conform.

As a pre-Game Graduate, you should be aware of the huge diversity that your Higher Self has contained within shim’s memory and experience vaults. This does not even touch on the millions of lives we have had on the sequential path. The wealth of all of these will be fully restored upon Graduation.

When one ethnic group looks at someone not of that group who is enjoying learning what may be experienced by association with them, they may call that person a “wanna be”. They view the person as wanting to be like them in all ways. It is far more likely that the person feels the ties of his/her other incarnations in that ethnic group due to vibrational bleed-over on the simultaneous path during EndGame.

When I spent several days with an Apache teacher, I asked about other lives and the Native American perspective of this topic. I mentioned that I have other lives in various Native American tribes. His response was 'then why are you not one now?' This, of course is sequential thinking and total body ID that is common with all Earther races/cultures in less than Very Advanced spiritual levels.

Part of our learning on the simultaneous path is to come to the awareness that you are not your body but a spirit being. As such, especially in your Very Advanced and Final Incarnations, the spirit has the ability to sense vibrations of the various simultaneous path experiences far easier than in lesser path incarnations. We are preparing to Graduate and, hence process all of these incarnations. That will be a major undertaking for us. Ridding one's self of the baggage of body ID is essential because we have outgrown the need to be OF the body and must now be OF our true spirit selves.

Celebrate YOUR diversity. Do not be lured to the "I wish I was in that physical" musing for you definitely ARE of that physical in another simultaneous path incarnation(s). Associate and learn from/about any Earther ethnic group that holds your interest. EndGame offers many opportunities to do so. I, for one, intend to visit the Smithsonian's National Museum of the American Indian in the fall of 05. It is another part of my processing as a Final Incarnation.

One other word on Final Incarnations: remember that a Final is composed of elements of 3-4 Dominant incarnations. Thus a Final Incarnation may be strongly pulled to investigate the incarnational vibrations of those Dominants. An Awakened Final Incarnation has the thinnest veil on the simultaneous path. This involves several unique talents that are only available to the Awakened Final.

Those in the Low and Mid levels of progression celebrate their body ID. The Irish are always Irish, no matter how far removed from Ireland their current physical body is. This is true for all body ID'd people whose concern is the physical body line/genealogy. In the Advanced stages, this body ID begins to slowly weaken until in the Very Advanced levels where genealogy is sufficiently weakened and genealogy becomes less important.

By celebrating your diversity, you prepare to Graduate. With all the millions of lives we have experienced on both Game paths, we will have a LOT of celebrating to do upon Graduation!

Astrology & The Higher Self

In matters of astrology, your Sun sign is fixed on the day you were born. When someone says, "I am a Libra (or whatever sign)", they refer to where the Sun was on the day of their birth. While you would require an astrologer to interpret your horoscope for you, this segment is centered on some of the incarnational path points of a horoscope that would be of interest to those for whom the M5 project is written.

The glyph (symbol) for the Sun in a horoscope is a circle with a dot in the center. This glyph can be interpreted, for M5 readers, as if you are looking up from your crown chakra towards your Higher Self. The dot would indicate your spirit energy line moving into your Higher Self via the Nexus of Time.

An astrologer may tell you that the Sun, in your horoscope, represents the "true you" and where you are centered. Readers of the Matrix V series know that the real you is your Higher Self.

As per an M5 Vol. I segment; the spirit does not enter the body until the first breath taken by the baby. This sets your time of birth and this is required for an accurate horoscope. The horoscope sets the events of your entire incarnation. As per another M5 segment, the energies of the horoscope represent the events/experiences that your Higher Self chose for that particular incarnation.

An astrologer would tell you that you should heed the Sun over the Moon in your horoscope. The Sun takes you to where you should go while the Moon can take you to where you have already been. A maturing process is involved here as many (in youth) follow their Moon vibrations over their Sun.

It does happen that some people have their Higher Self connection Sun in the same sign as their emotional Moon. In this case, the incarnation is continuing a significant process started in another incarnation and progressing in the current one. The other incarnation's vibration carries over to the current one. This may indicate major experiential loop involvement whether transition, enhancement, pre-breaking, etc. It's all individual, so there is no 'only one-way' interpretation.

The sign your Sun is in gives more information about your current incarnation's path. There are 12 signs. One would look to their Sun's sign, read the descriptions of that sign and glimpse at life path energies needed by the Higher Self.

Where your Sun is placed within the horoscope wheel is significant. There are 12 houses in a horoscope. Houses are areas of interest/circumstances and each contains numerous topics. For M5G readers, this is where you can locate the central interests of your Higher Self for the incarnation that the horoscope has been cast.

The Journey

© 2000 - 2005 Leading Edge International Research Group. All Rights Reserved.

The Nodes of the Moon are other incarnational interest points. You would want to use the Mean Nodes for this and not the True Nodes. These are placements that an astrologer determines at chart casting, based on your date, time and place of birth. The Nodes have various interpretations, but I will tell you about the incarnational path view of them.

Just as the Sun indicates your Higher Self connection, the Nodes of the Moon describe how the incarnation's path is affecting the Higher Self's overall simultaneous Game experience. The South Node of the Moon looks like a horseshoe with the opening to the top. This indicates path energies from incarnations lesser progressed than the current one. When comparing another person's horoscope to the individual's chart, if you note planets around/aspecting that South Node, you can see how the other person is interacting with you at your next lower level of your Higher Self's general path. For example: someone's Moon on your South Node indicates that you know this person as a female who may be your mother or other important, likely mature female in your life.

The North Node of the Moon looks like a horseshoe with the opening to the bottom as you look at it. This indicates where you are proceeding to on your incarnational path with the current incarnation. Another's planets near or activating your North Node may indicate their influence with you in your current incarnation. It also describes how your current incarnation's energies are working with your incarnation next in your Higher Self's progression. For example: Someone's Rising Sign aspecting your North Node is a personal tie from one incarnation to the next.

The degrees of the signs that your Nodes of the Moon are located tell something about where your current incarnation is with your incarnational path's experiences. When you have 0 (zero) degrees of a sign on your Nodes (a critical degree), the indication is that you are proceeding through a new facet of your Higher Self's plan. You will enter new arenas of experience. When one discovers 29 degrees of a sign on your Nodes (another critical degree), your incarnation is at the conclusion of a progression epic.

This information will be of extreme interest to certain Higher Self incarnations linked to the M5 project. Astrology is a highly complex study and not for those who cannot commit to intensive study. Your horoscope is the key to your soul and should not be casually displayed or flaunted about. You don't just want anyone peeking into your incarnational path.

Big Bang Theory & Galaxy Games

Volume III Special Segment

The Big Bang theory was first proposed in 1927 by Belgian Georges Lemaître. Edwin Hubble justified and expanded this theory years later. The Big Bang theory basically states that the universe was created by an explosion that caused matter to be hurled in all directions. Anyone interested in this theory can easily locate information on an internet search or library. The Big Bang theory is EndGame knowledge on simultaneous path Earth.

This segment goes beyond this theory's implications. What is referred to as a single "big bang" needs examination from the perspective of this Final Incarnation. In actuality, EACH Galaxy Game is created in this manner.

Previous Matrix V segments refer to the choice of a multitude of Galaxy Games by each potential 3rd density Game participant. A Higher Self examines all currently existing Galaxy Games for the rules and circumstances in place by each Galaxy Game creator(s). The initial Galaxy Game creations remain a subject that we will have memory of after Graduation. Yet, even today, new galaxies are being created. These new galaxies are emerging Game boards for other Higher Selves to gain the 3rd density experiences that will prepare them for greater adventures.

Galaxy Games are created by certain Game Graduates who desire to get involved on the 3rd density creation level. They design unique stages/playgrounds for interested Higher Selves to interact on. A Galaxy Game may be devised by one Higher Self, but it is usually several who are involved in the process. The creation process is extremely complex, even from an Awakened Final Incarnation's perspective. When I've looked at parts of the process that I am allowed to view, the immensity of what is involved staggers the mind. Yet, the challenge is anxiously embraced by the creating Higher Self. On a linear scale, it takes eons just to devise a Galaxy Game. Each intricacy must be addressed, detailed and designed.

However once the details are worked out: sequential, simultaneous and nature paths (where appropriate to that individual Game), participation rules, EndGame scenarios, etc, the next decision is where (in the 3rd density universe) will the Game board be created. Vibrations from nearby Games are also taken into consideration, hence the mechanics of 3rd density astrology are also important.

When all things are considered and a location is decided upon, that Galaxy Game comes into 3rd density existence with a Big Bang eruption of matter that is directed by the Higher Selves involved. A 'Big Bang' occurs for each individual Galaxy Game. There was not a single Big Bang. There are multiple Big Bangs. There will yet be more Big Bangs to come.

The Galaxy Game creator(s) also have an end point to their experiment. The conclusion of a Galaxy Game is set before it is created. Sterilization is the preferred way to finish the Game by most creator(s) as it forces the Game addicts out. Suns going nova involve the

© 2000 - 2005 Leading Edge International Research Group. All Rights Reserved.

Nature Spirit path in a clean up of local extensions of that Galaxy Game. The creation of a Black Hole has been used to reintegrate matter into its basic form. We will become familiar with all of these subjects after Graduation. This segment is only to give pre-Graduates a glimpse of things beyond the limitations of 3rd density Earth.

A Galaxy Game creator was at one time a Game player. The Game Graduate now becomes a Game creator. When the creator(s) of the Galaxy Game conclude their experiment, it is time to move on once again. Combining these major two experiences, the Higher Self is prepared to proceed to even greater adventures beyond the 3rd density experiments. I'm sure each Matrix V Volume III reader is filled with many questions about this segment, but most questions will have to wait until Graduation.

The Window-of-Opportunity Event gives a sequential path Higher Self a preview of the simultaneous path. The Matrix V Wild Card gives the simultaneous path Higher Self, while still incarnated, a view of experiences that they may choose to have once their Graduation has occurred. It was designed that both Events occur during EndGame. As I have written before, you have no idea just how fantastic the next phase of our progression will be. Your own Awakened Final Incarnation knows what I know. Each Awakened Final is the major incarnation for each Higher Self – the real you.

Astrology and Game Design

Volume III Special Segment

In previous M5 segments, the topic of astrology was mentioned. On Earth today, astrology is primarily in the domain of the various Advanced levels or progression with a wide following in all Low and Mid levels. It is also coveted by those in planetary control for they know its power. The study of astrology is a long process requiring dedication, memorization and lots of continual practice. Learning to become an astrologer is not for the casual, commitment-lacking person. Once one commits to learning astrology, on a professional level, one is always a student of the craft.

Astrology is a predictive science highly regarded all over this Galaxy Game. At the same time, the knowledge that can be gleaned from accurate casting data is immensely powerful. Due to power structures wanting to control those under them via religion, 'science' and similar red herrings of reality, a lot of disinformation about astrology is placed in the public domain. Fear, the favorite control weapon of the Game, is used to try to intimidate people away from what they may learn from horoscopes. Yet, many people are not put off by imaginary threats of non-existent 'hell' or non-empirical data that 'science' beLIEves is the foundation of all reality. So these authority figures will locate the all-too-common astrological fraud and try to pass them off as genuine practitioners. There have been many types of 'scientific studies' of astrology, almost all of which is geared to pulling the reader away from personal investigation into the subject.

The Journey

© 2000 - 2005 Leading Edge International Research Group. All Rights Reserved.

Nevertheless, it is not the purpose of this segment to rehash all the massive amounts of data and opinions on astrology. If the casting data is correct: date/time/location of the event, the horoscope will be accurate. Now the reading of the horoscope depends on the interpretive skills of the astrologer. This is where many errors are reported by those seeking to keep astrology hidden from the masses. If the astrologer is weak in interpretative skills, the explanation of the horoscope will be lacking. Depending on the particular area within astrology that the astrologer has concentrated on, that is where the strength of the reading will be strongest. A medical astrologer is best consulted for medical opinions; a financial astrologer for financial/career decisions; for relationships/ sex issues – an astrologer that specializes in synastry interpretations...and so on depending on what one is interested in knowing. General astrologers can give you bits of information about a lot of areas, but when one wants intense details in one area, as with any other profession, one visits a specialist.

Astrology was introduced on Earth by aliens, of course. Atlantis, for example, was a center of astrological studies. In the post-Atlantean world, Babylon was one of those centers. In the Meier Pleiadian materials, Semjase mentions astrology on her home planet of Erra. She revealed that her birth sign would correspond with the Earth sign of Aquarius and drew the astrological glyph that was requested of her. Discussing alien astrology is also not the purpose of this segment. We have all had our alien astrological experiences on the sequential path. That information is in our Higher Self memory and will be able to be fully accessed after Graduation.

What is necessary to know is that while astrology, as we know it, is a physical, 3rd density manifestation, it involves the knowledge of electro-magnetic interactions that physical bodies emit due to the presence of Higher Self level creational/incarnational energies.

A Galaxy Game is created by Higher Selves who have an understanding of this energy interaction. In order for a Game Graduate Higher Self to create a Galaxy Game, shim must either have a solid astrological foundation in the Game that shim has Graduated from or that Higher Self must be aligned with at least one other who has that background. It is the input from the astrologically trained Higher Self's incarnations that will vitally assist in all of a Galaxy Game's creative elements.

Another significant application of 3rd density astrology is that when the Galaxy Game is decided on and the plan is agreed upon, before the Big Bang initiates that Game, these Higher Selves must examine the 3rd density universe Game board. By that I mean the entire universe with all currently operating Galaxy Games. Each Galaxy Game has its own unique vibrations due to the creators of that Game. These vibrations need to be understood for compatibility to the Game that will be introduced. Likewise the new Game will have its own vibration.

An example: During one of my Monroe Institute visits, we were shown how to move beyond our galaxy. When I was able to view the galaxy from well outside its location, I saw one galaxy to my right and another to my left. They were each at different angles to ours.

The Journey

The angular placement is critical to intergalactic astrological harmony, along with the closeness of individual galactic vibration.

The new Game creators consult with the desired neighborhood's current Game creators. Massive amounts of rote data are exchanged between all concerned Higher Selves. When the astrologically compatible location is agreed upon (for optimum Game efficiency) and the angle of the new galaxy's position is determined, the Big Bang can then be engaged to start the new Galaxy Game.

What we know as 'astrology' on 3rd density Earth is all about vibrational interactions. We are energy beings and radiate powerful, complex vibrations. The study of these vibrations expressed via 3rd density matter is what astrologers study. There is SO much matter out there with its own vibration that a discriminating astrologer must learn to separate the basics from the window dressing here on Earth. Some astrologers seem to get hung up on just about every stray piece of rock in this solar system, whereas the true power lies in the basic astrological placements.

Astrology IS an extremely complex study. If I did not learn it in other incarnations, astrology would not have come as easily as it does in this one. The polarity controllers and those who lust for power are the ones who don't want the planet to be aware of the potential of astrology. You may discover more about who you really are, your potential and your incarnational path. You may be able to break experiential loops and fences once you understand the dynamics of why you are who you are in this incarnation. Keeping Game players distracted in the hopes of delaying Awakening and Graduation is much of what the Game is about. This is why religion and 'science' constantly dismiss astrology. Both of these fields are centers of Game control.

It is not for every incarnation to know or embrace astrology. We have all had to be on both sides of that opinion fence in order to understand its nature. Remember also that not all Higher Selves are interested in knowing the depth of astrological mechanics, but, instead, choose to focus on different specialties. That's the individual nature of us as our Higher Selves. Graduation is almost here. It is time that those, for whom Matrix V was written, to be aware of this potential with astrology and its intergalactic necessity. Those who have it on their Game path streams will benefit immensely after Graduation.

The Galactic Center and EndGame

Volume III Special Segment

Astrologically from Earth, 26 degrees of Sagittarius is the location of the center of this Galactic Game. This is a significant degree since it represents the center of the Game and, hence, this Game's Creators. The Galactic Center is the hub of all Galaxy Game activities, through which all Game activities are processed. This is also the entry/Graduation point for this Galaxy Game by participating Higher Selves. This is where the aperture for this Galaxy Game is located. This information alone indicates just how important this astrological degree is for Earthers as the current simultaneous path planet.

Pluto is the planet of transformative vibrations and the phoenix-like death/rebirth through fire. The last time that Pluto was at 26 Sagittarius was in 1745. This ushered in the start of the Industrial Revolution and moved EndGame from its preparatory stages in the 16th century to its commencement. As stated throughout the M5 materials, we are in the latter stages of EndGame with Graduation as the goal for those, on the simultaneous path, who are prepared to move on.

Pluto is a slow moving planet and first reaches 26 Sagittarius on February 4, 2006 and remains there (due to retrograding on that degree March 29) until May 25, 2006. Pluto moves around 26 Sagittarius until October 29, 2007. As Pluto moves back and forth over that degree, it will be intensifying its effects. Something to keep in mind too, is that although the Industrial Revolution (EndGame) began in 1745, it was not for many years that it became pronounced. Yet, during that era, moving from an agricultural base to an industrial base was a radical change due to the introduction of alien technologies. For non-astrologer readers, Pluto represents only one transiting planet's influence. There are a number of different planets in different signs to consider. The planets for this next Pluto event are in different signs than they were in 1745. It is a combination of ALL the astrological effects that herald what will occur. Like baking a cake, the flour is indispensable but flour alone does not make the end result. Pluto may be considered the flour, but the other planets must be considered for the final result.

For those who are interested in learning astrology, you will have to locate a competent teacher or series of self-learning books. My comments here are only intended to give you a feel for what is occurring.

Multiple sources are directing the readers' attention to 2006 as significant, especially starting with the month of March. Matrix V readers know through long experience with advocates/spokespeople of aliens or other doom crises (Y2K, for example) that few of them have manifested. The list of alien no-shows, for events promised, is legendary among researchers. The government also deliberately seeds outright lies to control the population and direct citizens' energy to certain directions. Sifting through the tons of bullshit can be frustrating, to say the least. I am open to hear almost any possible event happening, but am quick to dump it in the "Andromedan trash heap" if it fails to manifest. This is something I would advise all M5 readers to do as well. Just make sure not to dismiss it outright. Even with such obvious bullshit as the 'second coming of Christ', think holographic projection or similar mythology based deception rather than the return of a mythological figure named Christ. Religious holograms would be intended to deceive the population into acting/moving in certain ways. Look deeper than the obvious.

The Pluto effect at 26 Sagittarius will be far reaching. Some Lightside New Agers are predicting that the United States will be destroyed by atomic bombs and resulting radioactivity. Pluto could definitely bring this about, but if so, the radiation would spread outward thus polluting the world. Other mid-Advanced Lightsiders are already bowing to the return of Isis (representing Orion genetic scientists), indigo children (sequential path incarnates displacing the simultaneous path), 'ascended masters' which reads alien lords and other alien returns. Remember that the mid-Advanced levels beLIEve that the aliens are superior to Earthers. Recall the M5 segment about the false plateau and the mid-Advanced levels.

That the aliens (the Orion Empire and their enforcers, the Sirian Empire) intend to overtly return has been stated since Matrix V was first issued. That various options for Earth are being considered by these 'ascended masters' has also been discussed.

Native American Hopi prophecy for EndGame includes a Blue Star kachina. There are various interpretations to this kachina, some of which are intended to be red herrings. An internet search will turn up all types of kachina information. The Blue Star kachina involves the return of the aliens. One major interpretation corresponds to the Orion Empire's plan to eradicate Earther humans and genetically engineer a new planetary race far more compliant to their requirements. The legend says that when the kachina removes his mask, the hammer will fall on Earther humans (my wording). The Death Star craft is one such possibility. The hidden hand will become known to all. Chaos will be the word. Graduation will commence.

No matter what the plans of planetary rulers, alien queens, kings, 'ascended masters' or either polarity, Earth simultaneous path Graduation will proceed on schedule. Our Higher Selves know what the schedule is as does the Planetary Spirit and this Galaxy Game's Creators. We must all remember that no matter what chaos and trials descend on Earth, trust in YOUR Higher Self. The physical body will panic. Those incarnating spirits will be along for the ride. In Very Advanced and Final Incarnations, the perspectives will be different. You will consciously know what is occurring and discover the inner peace from your Higher Self for some unique observations of being in the body but not of the body.

People with 26 degrees in their horoscopes (I have 2 major ones) will be centers of activity depending on how it aspects the Galactic Center 26 Sagittarius. My most significant placement is 26 Gemini, which opposes that degree. This is not surprising since the Matrix V project centers on my Final Incarnation. The opposition aspect is one of separating. The purpose for the M5 project is to prepare pre-Graduates for separating from the Game. Both people involved in 'The One' event also have 26 degrees placed in their horoscopes at different locations, which support my key degree.

While Pluto is transformative, it can be a hard experience if you resist or an enlightening one if you move with the current. People with fixed realities (religious nuts, political extremes, sequentially-minded conformists, etc) will have the most difficulties. The people, for whom the Matrix V series was written, should have the most rewarding experiences during this period. Do not remain attached to material 'things'. These come and go. Only your memories and experiences leave with you.

The Matrix V project has been preparing you for Graduation since the first edition in spring of 2001. Time has been given, to those for whom M5 is written, to process your awakening keys and prepare for Graduation. When the true chaos hits, we will not have the internet to check the latest information. You will not have access to me for updates and observations. It will be time to place all you have learned into practical use. Meanwhile, after Graduation, there will be an immense amount of information to share. Your Higher Self will never lead you astray and will see that your incarnational events are experienced. Are you ready?

Wild Cards, Polarities and Intervention

Volume III Special Segment

EndGame Wild Cards have been mentioned in the Matrix V series since the start of the project. Wild Cards are major events connected with drastic shifts in a simultaneous path planet's agenda. The ones mentioned now are regarding Graduation and preparations surrounding it, although sequentials can throw their own Wild Cards in our path by attempting to derail Graduation and force us back to the sequential path. An 'alien invasion', for example, would be a sequential path Wild Card.

ALL Wild Cards are valid moves in this Galaxy Game. The Game creator(s) oversee the progress of their creation. No cheating is allowed.

Ours is one of the Dark sectors of this Galaxy Game. The Dark rules here. The Light polarity doesn't like it. Hence Lightsiders on Earth are constantly looking for external salvation/intervention from Light sectors of our galaxy or via religious myths of figures dying for sins, etc. While shifts in polarity balance do indeed occur within the Game board, it is not at the whim or request of individuals or groups. Know that in Light areas, the Dark is constantly maneuvering to control those areas as well. The various interactions between Dark and Light are what make the Game so interesting. Solid Dark or solid Light areas would be just too boring for the Higher Selves involved.

When things in a Game area become too routine, groups of Higher Selves make a move to shake it up within Game rules. Of course those incarnations that are body ID controlled will panic when their comfort/power base is threatened no matter if that base is Dark or Light. Those incarnations that are spirit controlled understand just what is going on and adapt. Knowing the difference between sequential and simultaneous paths, those, for whom M5 is written, should be able to easily decide the types of incarnations that will be shook up or will roll with the changes.

On Earth, the Dark is firmly in control. EndGame Dark is really deep Dark and getting Darker. Those areas of Light influence on Earth, of course, don't like it. Despite all their fluff of love & light, they see it is not having the intended result. This is especially evident with the mid-Advanced levels. Enter the 'space brothers' and empty promises of intervention. We have all heard of the sequential promise that 'if x% of the planet demand intervention, the Light polarity aliens will come screaming in from the skies, all glowing in white robes, to 'save' us'. We do not need external salvation, despite the mid-Advanced levels and their hand-wringing. As per earlier segments, that 'x%' is also impossible to reach. It's a catch 22 setup!

Remember that the sequentials can only progress to mid-Advanced levels. It is they who plant the idea of 'intervention' in willing simultaneous path Lightsider minds. These sequentials consider this an alternate way to drag simultaneous path Earthers back to the sequential path. Of course, we know this is impossible. They, however, are not Advanced enough to know that.

I have written a lot about the Orionization agenda, but other alien groups also have agendas for Earth. The 'Lightsider intervention agenda' is one of them. Those involved with the Dark Orionization agenda are fully aware of this Light intervention agenda. Not only will Dark not attempt to stop it, but they will also encourage it. They hope that this will lead to despair which will enhance their own agenda and feed into lower astral activities. This ploy has worked well in other areas of this Galaxy Game.

ALL external salvation is a Game deception. The ONLY true 'salvation' comes from reclaiming your own power, recognizing who you are (and aren't) and operating accordingly. Fuck everyone else and what they are doing! We are simultaneous pathers and not sequential groupies.

This reclamation truly begins in earnest, on the simultaneous path, in the Very Advanced levels and culminates with your Higher Self's Awakened Final Incarnation. It is a long process that started with our very first sequential incarnation millennia ago. All incarnations of lesser progression than Very Advanced are not expected to grasp this. Appreciation for this comes with the elimination of experiential loops and fences which bring spirit to dominate body ID.

The Light polarity would have us beLIEve that there is a "cosmic law group" or some similar Light 'enforcement agency' that will 'bring simultaneous path peace' where 'love & light exist for all' and 'Dark ceases to exist'. This horseshit belongs in the same trash heap as 'Jesus died for your sins', 'the wheel of karma', 'the devil made me do it', 'the pope/minister/priest' speaks for 'god', etc. The number of myths and other control devices in this Galaxy Game is absolutely amazing. All are devised to keep the incarnate from discovering who they are and are not. The stories we will have to share after we Graduate!

Interventions on Earth by any external sources are sequential path interference, whether they are invasions for the Orion Empire, the 'goodie two-shoes' space brotherhood or (fill in the blank). All are just more distractions to keep your focus external. With Graduation at hand, the diversion myths and polarity controls are just getting worse. Forget the minions, since they are easy to mislead. Forget the sequentials on Earth since they are participating in some agenda of disruption. Forget what all others are doing except yourself. Reclaim your power and focus within. It is with YOUR Higher Self that you will find Graduation and victory over the Game.

Keeping Focus During A Wild Card Event & EndGame

Volume III Special Segment

It is important to keep your composure if/when a Wild Card is played during EndGame. Three examples:

- The aliens decide to hover over major cities or fly over en mass or interrupt worldwide media by announcing that they are here. What will you do?
- Nuclear nightmares engage with one or more of your country's major centers being the target. What will you do?
- Earth changes erupt planet-wide. Volcanoes blow, quakes shake/rattle/roll, tidal waves swell to colossal heights, islands and coastal areas begin to sink, and strange storms create havoc. What will you do?

These are only 3 examples of potential EndGame Wild Cards. You should be able to think of others. Depending on which card(s) may show, you will have to act quickly/decisively or be caught up with the mobs.

If the aliens wind up doing their thing and the sequentials make their move against what remains of simultaneous Earth, the first thing you should do is get yourself to your local grocery store and stock up. Resist being glued to the television and watch what is happening at first. Most likely you will be able to get everything you need from your store before the event sinks in. Depending on what face the sequentials put forth, either panic or awe will result. No matter what, get your supplies of food, water, and whatever as quickly as possible. Also fill up your gas tank on the way home. The television will still be playing the developing drama when you get back and you can watch it knowing you are prepared for at least the short term.

If a nuclear nightmare occurs, expect martial law will quickly follow. This is what the United States has wanted for years: a legal suspension of the Constitution. A code red will lock down the country and forbid leaving your homes. It will likely be something similar in other countries. If you hear that some place got nuked in your country, get to the store at once. Get your car filled with gasoline. This must be done quickly before martial law is declared. When you get home, you can watch the drama on television. Of course if you are in the nuked area, your EndGame experience has just concluded.

If the Earth changes happen planet-wide, this is a bit different. You may or may not be able to get to a grocery. It may be unsafe or impossible to attempt shopping. In this case, you must do the best you can and, as with any Wild Card scenario, trust in YOUR Higher Self.

The Matrix V series has provided those for whom it was written with the best EndGame information available on Earth. You have had time to think about what has been written since volume one became available in 2001. You have your necessary awakening keys. You have had time to ask questions. You have had time to connect with your Higher Self and, at least, become aware of whom you really are, the purpose of being in the Game and body ID vs. spirit reality. All this is in place to assist you in pre-Graduation preparations and transition.

The thing about Wild Cards is that, like the name implies, they are wild and unpredictable. While they are not all likely to be played during EndGame Earth, one or more of them should be expected. Simultaneous planet EndGames involve much drama. What graduation is accomplished on a quiet note without a degree of fanfare especially when it is such a major event as a Planetary Spirit and a fair number of allied Higher Selves? In the 60's television series, Bewitched, Samantha's father, Maurice, was noted for departing with an impressive light and sound display. While a simultaneous path Higher Self may slip out unnoticed, Planetary Spirits are like Maurice, they do not depart quietly.

Transitions are a time for tears and for joy. Our transition from the Game to Graduation will be a mixture of both, with each tear and each smile very well earned by every Graduating Higher Self.

Perspective in Chaos & Simultaneous Path Purpose

Volume III Special Segment

If there is one thing that the Dark polarity wants the simultaneous Earther incarnates to beLIEve is that they, the Dark, are "in control". The Dark wants you to surrender your will to their 'overt control'. This is due to Earth being in one of the Dark sectors of this Galaxy Game. In other sectors, the Light is dominant and they want those people to surrender to their will to the Light. As well stated throughout the Matrix V materials, both polarities are corrupt and have their own delusions of grandeur. Yet, since our simultaneous path experience is occurring in this Dark sector, this is where our concentration must be kept.

Each polarity has its version of the 'rule of (their) law'. Notice how much this term is used these days? On Earth, it is designed to strip the simultaneous experience and guide Earth into becoming another sequential world. The sequentials have used this Game tactic on every simultaneous world since the first whether in a Dark or a Light sector. The 'rule of law' is a standard sequential control device in a pyramid structure. The rulers make the laws based on their polarity orientation and they enforce their will through these laws.

It is so easy to locate locals who are willing to betray their culture and nationality to become puppets of a conquering country. Currently, Afghanistan and Iraq have two puppet governments that bow to the United States. Other recent puppet governments were Vichy France, Quisling Norway, Eastern Europe under Soviet Moscow, Tibet under China, and so on. The examples are throughout history and endless. Power corrupts and, if the United States came under foreign control, it is guaranteed that a government will be formed of locals who will play the same puppet role.

The Journey

© 2000 - 2005 Leading Edge International Research Group. All Rights Reserved.

Unlike the sequentials, the simultaneous path not only tolerates differences, but also celebrates them. The sequential path demands conformity in thought, although it will allow minor, cosmetic differences. Where you have severe clashes is where power-demanding sequentials want to crush individuality because it doesn't conform to their rigid ideals.

Remember that the simultaneous path Higher Selves are fresh from millennia on the sequential path. Old habits die hard! While we enter the simultaneous path for the next phase of the Game and our sequential memories are blocked, instincts are still sequential as reinforced by sequential genetic science as reflected in Earther human bodies. This is why communities of 'like' form and the "us vs. them" attitudes continue. Being on the simultaneous path is a journey to move beyond the sequential ways. We are here to learn acceptance, beginning with tolerance, of what is different than our current incarnation is experiencing. This is a critical part of the simultaneous path. There is a purpose in having all simultaneous path incarnations at once. This is replacing the sequential mentality of body ID with the mentality of your Game-enhanced Higher Self.

As simultaneous path participants, we have incarnations in all races, genders, orientations, social strata, etc. simultaneously. In one incarnation we are the pauper, in another we are the farmer, the priest, the healer, the landlord, the field hand, the politician and so on. While our Low and Mid level incarnations are fully wrapped in these roles, once one enters the Advanced levels, it is time to integrate the differences on a deeper level. This brings tolerance and acceptance of what is different. Currently the gay/lesbian orientation is one of the issues that EndGame has brought forward as a path-test of readiness for Graduation. The sequential minded and the simultaneous minded are in conflict. The sequential minded are being aided by aliens and their polarity controllers.

Once Very Advanced levels are being experienced, your spirit has taken over most of the body's sequential programming. The Earther body ID commands are sequential by genetic design. The spirit has no such artificial Game command structure. By the time you are your Awakened Final Incarnation, you are able to blend the facets of your incarnational path varieties. You appreciate what is different and seek it out. Until you do, you are not eligible for Graduation for after Graduation we, as our Higher Selves, will seek out some vastly different energies and beings. It is necessary that you have the Game experience in tolerance and appreciate what is different from your current incarnation. This allows you to learn and develop more by adapting what you find interesting into your internal cosmology and continuing your progression.

Part of my reason for going to 15 different countries was to be immersed in what is different from the cultures I was brought up in. The simultaneous way to visit is to be exposed to and gather the different experiences, appreciate the difference even if it clashes with your personal standards and leave the locals as they were. You do not interfere with these people nor put on a superior attitude as the western Europeans did when imposing their sequential ways on a technologically inferior world.

The Journey

© 2000 - 2005 Leading Edge International Research Group. All Rights Reserved.

Your Very Advanced incarnations pull much of this together, but it is your Awakened Final where it culminates. This is all by design. Those on simultaneous path Earth who are not able to move to this point will continue their simultaneous path experience on the next world, which is already designated. The simultaneous path is one of individual progression and timing, unlike the sequentials who progress as a planet or total group. With that in mind, some Higher Selves progress more quickly than others. There is no rush, no deadline and no race in completing the Game. We move at our own speed. You will Graduate when and where YOUR Higher Self is ready. If not Earth, then another simultaneous planet will be your Graduation point.

Something else to keep in mind: the planetary rulers do not control the Game. They would like us to beLIEve that, but they do not. They are just players in the Game, and no more, from a Higher Self perspective. They can be trumped by any simultaneous path Higher Self if they directly threaten the path experiences that Higher Self has chosen. This has been discussed before. Learning not to be in awe of an incarnation's 'political status' is important. Bowing to politicians, priests, and royalty (or any other incarnational position) is a Game design to take away one's power and keep you from connecting to your real identity.

EndGame Earth is in a chaos-by-design phase. The terrorists who bomb cities and countries complain when these people retaliate. The true 'terrorists' are in charge of the planet's major governments. The illusions they generate continue. The reader is cautioned not to be deceived by their tricks and not caught up in mob reaction. Mob reaction is sequential. We are here to move beyond sequential reactions and react in a simultaneous way.

Final Event: The End of Our Galaxy Game

My attention was drawn to the Graduation Key gold wire this week (Oct 3-4) and I noticed something new connected with it. It has begun to very slowly rotate in a clockwise manner. I am referring to the gold wire portion of the key. Previously it has been motionless. Refer back to the M5G Volume II segments on the Graduation Key to refresh your memory. My impression is that the Graduation is proceeding to the next stage. More than this I cannot say at this time, so don't ask.

I have written about EndGame on Earth in all the M5G segments. At this time, I will share some information about the end of THIS Galaxy Game that we are in. By this Galaxy Game, I DO mean the galaxy in which we are having our 3rd density experiences. I have avoided discussing this topic, but the time has come to give you a glimpse.

As per M5G segments, you know that our Higher Selves chose which 3rd density Galaxy Game to participate in. Each galaxy in 3rd density represents a 'Game board' for those Higher Selves interested in the experiences connected with participation. Using common Earth board games today as examples, our Galaxy Game may be considered like 'Monopoly'. Another Galaxy Game may be considered 'Stratego'. Another Galaxy Game may be considered 'Parcheesi' and so on. I don't mean that that is how each Galaxy Game is played. What I imply is that each Game is vastly different from the other with different rules, processes and designers. Each Galaxy Game also has a set time to reach conclusion and a set situation where this will come to pass. This situation can be quite different for each Galaxy Game.

In our Galaxy Game, I have written about simultaneous path planets and how there have been many previous to Earth and there will be many after Earth. The next simultaneous planet has been chosen and is preparing to adapt to shim's role as such.

Due to the highly addictive nature of 3rd density Games, many Higher Selves will not choose to advance from sequential to simultaneous path experiences during our Galaxy Game. This will not postpone the conclusion of our Galaxy Game. The Game's developer(s) DO have a specific end set. The end of this Galaxy Game will be heralded by the sterilization of all Higher Self incarnational, physical vehicles. This is inclusive of all physical types: reptilian, human, silicoid, etc.

A Galactic Event will occur in the center of this galaxy that will rapidly spread outward. By rapidly, I don't mean billions or millions of years. I mean rapidly from our Earther perspectives. This sterilization process will cause total panic with the oldest sequential path races most of all. Their advanced sciences will attempt to reverse the process or try to rely on clones. These will not be successful.

Remember, you cannot defeat the Game or the Game's rules but this won't keep them from trying nonetheless. This ultimate end of this Galaxy Game is known by ALL Higher Selves participating in this Game.

This End is part of the drive for physical immortality that the reptilians have been questing after with their science. They partially believe that cloning will be a way to circumvent this Galaxy Game's conclusion. Something will occur to the cloning processes that will corrupt their efforts. That is for those who indulge in that process to discover after the Final Event occurs. These incarnates will continue in vain, however, but that is their path.

This Final Event will stimulate ALL Planetary Spirit Higher Selves into a Graduation spiral. The Nature Spirit path will not resist as the sequential path addicts will. They have other considerations as well, but it is not our concern at this stage in our development.

When a board game is concluded, not all pieces make it to the finish location. Nevertheless, the game is over and the board removed. Those who have successfully concluded the Game, with simultaneous path graduation, will move to other ventures. Those who have not concluded the 3rd density experience will join another Galaxy Game. Our galaxy will no longer be in existence.

Those Higher Selves will examine all other Galaxy Games in operation and decide where they want to continue their experiences. Most will continue as sequential path players.

The Journey

© 2000 - 2005 Leading Edge International Research Group. All Rights Reserved.

Some will have learned from the conclusion of our Galaxy Game and enter another Game in a simultaneous path with the rules of THAT Game. The reptilian royalty, for example, has Higher Selves SO addicted to power and control that they will look for a Game that they can continue their addiction. What they discover is their path and their problem.

I realize that this segment will stir up ALL kinds of questions. Some I may be able to answer. Some I can't answer and some I won't answer. One thing I will ignore is 'when will this occur' because the answer is 'when it is time'! However, ALL Higher Selves have ALL the answers in their memories. You will have access to portions of it as your Awakened Final Incarnation and full access to these memories upon Graduation and the conclusion of your Nexus-of-Time Event. You will have the information necessary for your incarnations when that information is necessary. I consider this segment VERY significant, connected to EndGame's latter stages and highly fascinating.

SUPPLEMENTARY NOTE FROM VAL:

In fact, recent astronomical observations that point to a certain developing dynamic which would ultimately parallel a galaxy-size 'endgame' type event. Naturally 'scientists' beLIEve that such a 'sterilization' of life could 'never reach this far'. However, they are in for a rude awakening. It will not just affect 'the center' of the galaxy. They think that Gamma ray emissions can only come in 'beams', which project perpendicular to the galactic plane. Not so. A heretofore 'unknown' type of 'emission' may be involved. Either way, it is an 'intended' event which is not 'abnormal'. All that can be said is that endgame on a planetary level here and the galactic endgame are mutually exclusive events which both relate to different aspects of various evolutionary dynamics.

Final Event: The End of Our Galaxy Game - Part II

In the first segment concerning our Galaxy Game End, I revealed what will occur with those Higher Selves who are 3rd density Game addicted. The ONLY Higher Selves who will progress to their next level are those who have graduated ANY Galaxy Game.

When the Galaxy Game creator(s) reach a certain point in their creation, the Galaxy Game will be put on notice to those who may still wish to participate in it. These Higher Selves have the option of short-term participation or entering a different Galaxy Game. These Higher Selves are not to be confused with 3rd density Game addicts who have been in a Game for untold ages.

There are experiences to gain from even a short time venture into a Galaxy Game. Remember, ALL Higher Selves have ALL this information even though we don't have conscious access to it while on either incarnational path. For all you know, your Higher Self may have originally participated in the latter stages of another Galaxy Game and are continuing your path in this one.

The Journey

The major Game addicts in our Galaxy, Orion royalty, to mention just one example, will not continue in another Galaxy Game with the same status. There are other more exotic races of Galaxy Game addicts in other parts of this galaxy but the reptilians are of prime concern in this part of our galaxy. When a Galaxy Game closes down, those remaining Higher Selves will begin a new Game, if they so choose, as sequentials WITHOUT any conscious memory of their previous Galaxy Game! Their Higher Selves retain all memories and experiences of the previous Galaxy Game, but ALL Galaxy Games in 3rd density require a blank incarnational memory slate upon beginning.

This serves a 2-fold purpose. First of all, all incarnates in a Galaxy Game start off with a level playing field. This is very fair. Second, this presents an excellent opportunity for the addicted Higher Self to clear the addiction presented by the former Galaxy Game when presented with a new set of very different circumstances. While those Higher Selves may have well enjoyed their positions as reptilian royalty with immense technological abilities, they may not enjoy a non-technical incarnation quite so much.

I do not want to go too much into this setting since it is not necessary for all to comprehend at this stage of EndGame on Earth. You will have all memories restored to you after your Nexus of Time event and spiral out of the Game. Your Awakened Final Incarnation does have more information, if shim so seeks it.

The purpose of revealing this information in these two segments is not for curiosity, but it may actually assist the sequential incarnations who are keeping track of the M5G materials and, yes, I do know that it is being monitored by certain sequentials. The simultaneous incarnates on Earth do not need this information to spiral out of our Galaxy Game. That is assured just by their position on the simultaneous path. However the sequentials are always looking for non-existent loopholes to prolong this Galaxy Game. It is impossible, but it does not stop them from trying.

When the sterilization process of this Galaxy EndGame begins, the cloning processes will develop a corruption that will make clones useless vehicles for addicted Higher Selves. For sake of argument, even IF the clone corruption did not occur, the Nature Spirit path and all Planetary Spirit beings would be exiting, leaving dead planets behind. Suns will cease to function and matter will be recycled as part of the clean-up connected with the conclusion of a Galaxy Game. The clone corruption process is necessary.

The Graduation Key gold wire has started its motion. A new, fascinating stage is about to begin for those on the simultaneous path. These two segments contain certain keys and impulses that are necessary for those who read it, however the reasons for these keys will vary by the person reading them. This is intensely interesting to those Higher Selves who are behind the M5G project and I find this thread highly interesting. If, in 'time', your Higher Self decides to create a 3rd density Galaxy Game, you will know all that you need to know in relation to its formation, operation and conclusion.

The Journey

One more option exists for a Galaxy Game addict who just had the Game closed on him. That is to not to proceed with any more Games and move to other areas. While this is unlikely, it IS an option. There is no one standing lord over any Higher Self, as I have discussed in segments in both volumes of M5G.

My advice to the M5G reader is not to become hung up on these two segments. Consider them as enhancements to your conscious knowledge and proceed with YOUR path experiences while you are still able. EndGame...fascinating, isn't it?

EndGame Progresses – Graduation Advances

Volume III Special Segment

The chaos connected with hurricane Katrina in New Orleans and Mississippi has been increasing greatly since Katrina made her appearance at the end of August 05. There is a fair amount of mystery connected with the hurricane as it is, not so much that it appeared, but it seems to have been enhanced. The HAARP device, alien in origin, is a likely culprit if one chooses to investigate. While this is an instrument of sequential mischief, it can be devastating for those on Earth that it is used against. There is a LOT of information on HAARP and its concerns are primarily mid-Advanced and lower levels. Nevertheless, when that HAARP plays, disaster is sure to follow. It is a tool for the sequentialization control of Earth. There are also other weather enhancing/controlling technologies in existence which may be used to further the sequential path agendas.

The Earth Planetary Spirit is also increasing preparations for him's Graduation. Earth changes are naturally increasing because of it. The agendas are taking advantage of these by enhancing several planetary pre-Graduation events to serve their purposes. The rapid increase in American gasoline prices is artificial and not due to the public reasons given by the government. Back in January 2005 I was told that the goal for gas in this country is $5/gallon with $3/gallon set for this summer. It jumped over the $3/gallon mark in my area on September 1.

Earth's simultaneous path incarnations are being played for fools. The low-mid Advanced can be deceived with varying amounts of creativity on the part of the sequential agenda pushers especially if the target is Lightsiders who are heavily body ID'd. While it is true that Low and Mid level incarnations are easily duped as part of their Game experiences, remember that the sequentials have no reference for incarnations of Very Advanced and Final levels. This makes these sequential agenda pushers uneasy because they don't know how we will react. What they fail to comprehend is that we are more interested in our next step of progression than continuing in this Galaxy Game. They are SO wrapped up in the mechanisms of controls, laws and limiting personal freedoms that they cannot understand why it isn't the goal of all Game players. That is part of the sequential path limitations.

Sequential power players want to continue a serious game of 'king/queen of the hill'. Note that hills are pyramid-like in structure and pyramid schemes are a key to the sequential path existence. The pyramid reference here refers to a progressively increasing amount of levels supporting a supreme leader. In the Orion Empire, the queen is the supreme leader. In the Sirian Empire, the king is theirs. On Earth, locally, it is a president, prime minister or whatever. Simultaneous path pre-Graduates are content to let sequentials and not-yet-ready-for-Graduation simultaneous pathers continue to play their games, but it's time for us to move on to more important experiences.

The Journey

Recall the nature of minion incarnations. They are extensions of the Planetary Spirit. Just as when the Nexus of Time is activated by a Higher Self's Final, the Planetary Spirit will recall shim's incarnations. All planetary nature life will cease to exist as life forces are removed from their incarnations. This includes minions. Those for whom M5 is written should be easily able to connect the dots to get a full picture.

The stage and time is set for Graduation. Events are intensifying. The body ID'd are getting more and more anxious. The cries for security are those of the body fearing the curtain closing with simultaneous path Earth Graduation. Those who continue the simultaneous path on the next designated planet in our Galaxy Game will have no conscious memory of their Earth experiences, although their Higher Selves will. Those sequentials who take the leap of faith to the simultaneous path will have no conscious sequential path memories. However the sequentials who remain sequentials will eventually locate to the new simultaneous path planet and, according to Game rules, will begin again to interfere and challenge those on the simultaneous path. The Game continues.

While the Matrix V project has presented Earth's pre-Graduates with the keys to Awaken and Graduate, the next simultaneous path planet will have its own version of the M5 project, but that's a challenge for that planet's pre-Graduate Higher Selves to work out. Their sequential pursuers (directed by hard core Game addicts) will be looking for something identical to the M5 project except that it will not be identical. Simultaneous path Higher Selves design a different way to present these keys with each simultaneous planet. Once you have Graduated, this data is accessible by you as your Higher Self.

Continue to experience whatever you feel you must while still on Earth during EndGame. Observe the circus because the show is on. Lightsiders will continue to want to save everyone. Darksiders continue to do what benefits them alone at the expense of all others. EndGame intensity grows daily. When it comes to you, go within and draw strength from your Higher Self. YOUR Higher Self is your anchor in chaos and watches over each incarnation shim extends life force into. Be aware of the dramas that are body ID'd and group (sequential) oriented. If you feel you must get involved, do so with that in mind. We all have our own unique paths. Yours is absolutely correct for you alone. No one else's path is your path. This is when true simultaneous path individuality comes into play. This is what we have been getting ready for since our initial sequential path incarnation. You now have what you need and have been waiting for all these ages. After the chaos comes unity within self, review of experiences with other Earth Graduates who are long term friends and the move away from the Galaxy Game area to far more fascinating experiences. I expect to visit with some of you there.

Further Related Planetary Observations

---

Observations - The 4th of July

Americans are flitting all about on the 4th of July in flurries of flags and compounded with an aura of global superiority. Previous segments discussed the nature of this Cancer country and its insecurities and demanding global nature. The 4th of July is the prime time when the deceptions of America are brought out on stage.

Reading today's newspaper, a section highlighted foreign students in American who spend their summers here earning money to take home. The common theme with all of these foreigners is that America is the land of opportunity. It's ALL about making money.

The Mexicans running across the border are not coming to America because of the illusionary freedoms. They are here to make money. The reason that almost all foreigners have for immigrating to the US is making money. This is the only real 'freedom' that they seem to want.

Many Americans beLIEve that they are free because they can drive to the beach, can drive to visit grandma and can watch fireworks on the 4th of July. This isn't freedom as this can be done in almost any country on Earth.

In earlier segments I exposed several illusionary American freedoms, such as speech and home ownership. Freedom from unreasonable search is almost non-existent here. People are anxious to give away their last few remnants of independence in the name of security.

Patriotism is the last refuge of the scoundrel, the famous saying goes, and this is exactly where the scoundrels go to manipulate the American public. Adolph von Bush and his henchmen/women in Washington are just such traitors, thieves and liars. It's not that previous governments were saints, it is just that the current one is SO obvious and open about their disdain of just about everything that disagrees with their fascist outlook.

The 4th of July SHOULD remind Americans of what it means to be American and what they are missing by allowing the politicians to control the people rather than the other way around, as the country's founders intended. This is EndGame. Expect even more sinister developments from Washington and those pushing buttons here from Jerusalem. Remember too, from the M5 Vol II segments: when you beLIEve that you are a 'chosen people', everyone else is here to serve your whims. This includes the traditionally 'chosen' in the Middle East and the self-proclaimed globally 'chosen' in Washington! EndGame.

Observation: Cornerstone Phrase Intent

On July 4, the cornerstone for the new building to replace the former World Trade Center was placed in New York City. The cornerstone is engraved with the words: "... As A Tribute To The Enduring Spirit Of Freedom".

This Game deception event brings up two issues worth pointing out. First of all, this building complex was/is primarily an economic center for corporate and global trade. The ONLY 'freedom' found here was/is related to earning money and controlling others through this power. The use of the word 'freedom', in this context, is deliberately misleading. It would be like saying 'the rich are free to become richer' which is really the extent of the intended use of 'freedom' at this location.

The second point to note is the engraved words listed in this segment's first paragraph. A spirit is something not of the 3rd density and is as elusive as the 'pursuit of happiness', which is another popular American illusion. You have a 'right' to pursue happiness, but not to reach it.

By dedicating the new financial corporate complex to a non-incarnate concept of genuine freedom again is intentionally misleading to the general public. The only incarnation here will be the freedom of corporate earnings, but that would not play well on a cornerstone meant to impress the American people.

As America, under control of a Darkside fascist government, continues to expand its global empire, expect far more fascist icons of flag waving, pompous icon/deity-invoking speeches and oppressions of those who dare to disagree.

M5G readers should be observing these polarity and EndGame displays and analyzing them according to the level of progression that your current incarnation is. You should also be utilizing these observations according to your path and path-required experiences. EndGame is loaded with illusions and deceptions, all of which are intended to lead the naive away from discovering who they really are. The sequentials cannot stop our graduation, but they intend to delay it as long as they can. EndGame!

Observation: American Fear Mongering Heightens

Today's newspaper headlines, in BOLD print, scream: 9-11 Report: 'We Are Not Safe'. The evening news last night interviewed the 2 ringleaders of this commission who said that Americans will have to give away MORE of the rights that they have in order to be safe. The Dark side thanks you. The planetary rulers thank you. The lower astrals who feed off of these emotions thank you. The sequential aliens thank you. EndGame acknowledges you! You would think people would learn never to have faith in any 'official' commission.

The BOLD headlines are intended to induce a higher level in fear with the American public who, for the most part, is anxious to give away just about any and all perceived liberties in the bogus illusion of safety. What they identify as 'personal liberties' directly refers to your simultaneous path 'freedoms'. The American people and the people of the world are being played and the majority seems to be dancing to the tune of DOOM. This 'doom' is artificial. It is allowed to happen by the very people who claim to be shocked by its occurrence. Just as Roosevelt allowed the Japanese to bomb Pearl Harbor, Bush's gang allowed 9/11. Both governments were taking orders from shadow planetary leaders. The sheeple are being herded into the slaughter yards yet again.

Previous observations have dealt with many facets of this Dark movement for the sequentialization of Earth. IT WILL GET WORSE. They will go after whatever they deem necessary to convert Earth to a sequentialized planet under overt Dark polarity rule.

Depending on YOUR path and YOUR Higher Self's requirements for this latter EndGame incarnation, you will do what you must do for the experiences YOU need. The Very Advanced and Final Incarnations active in this era will spend most of their time observing how easily it is to deceive the lesser Advanced incarnations. We will also 'talk among ourselves' and share observations of the EndGame stage.

Just as with the M5G materials as a whole, you must keep in mind that you cannot 'save' anyone from what their experiences are to be. If it is their experience to be deceived by their government AND to trust them, then it is their experience needed. While the flag wavers can be looked at as being naive and easily deceived by fascist fear mongers in Washington, it is their path and their incarnation's experience. Nevertheless, in both volumes of M5G and here on this site, I share situations based on where I am in my progression. One is free to deny it all, grab a flag and stick it in fictional Jesus' hand (I've seen those pictures). That's your experience. What is too bad is that these nut cases and psychotic governments have made it impossible to travel very much. The American goons have made it so that Americans cannot travel to most foreign countries.

Earth has become an insane asylum where the lunatics are in control. Note that the root of both side of surface 'terrorism' is the one god religions of christianity and islam. I stress that the one EXTERNAL god concept is the vehicle for the Dark manipulation. They use religions because most of the planet is a sucker for giving away their power to a fictitious deity. That's why both sides are BOTH terrorists. Bush is a terrorist invoking christianity and says he has direct communication from the other aliens, oops, I mean 'god' directly. Islamic terrorist claim to speak for their 'god' who is the same 'god' as the christians.

Something you should also consider is that the same 'god' of the christians and the muslims has its origin with the 'god' of the Israelites. From this same alien personage come most of the world's horrors. Take away the one god bullshit and you would have a vastly different world. However in THIS simultaneous planet at this stage of our galaxy Game, it is the necessary evil to be dealt with.

ALL external deities are bullshit. Remember from the M5G segment that you are your OWN 'god'. You ARE safe when you come to the knowledge (NOT belief) that you are not your body. Body ID will keep you in fear and controlled by the Game. It may very well be your destiny to be in a significantly body ID'd incarnation during EndGame. That's ok. Your Final Incarnation elsewhere will take care of everything. Have your experiences. Now for a real Event, let's have the aliens land and take over. Now THAT would be exciting. EndGame!

Observation: Orionized Agenda Exposed

CNN's website has the following headline in their World Business section on Sept 16, 04:

Women Win The Boardroom Battle

Here are 3 paragraphs from that article. I have underlined key sentences:

LONDON, England (CNN) -- Bigger pay rises, higher average salaries and a fatter wage packet than the other gender -- this time it is happening to women rather than men.

Female bosses are also getting bigger pay rises than men -- the eighth year in a row this has happened, with women seeing an average rise of five percent compared with men's 4.7 percent.

At the department head level, women are also earning more than their male equivalents, with an average wage of £51,854 ($92,195) compared to £50,459 for men ($89,715).

Now if one was to beLIEve the propaganda that females have been whining about over the years, one would be led to beLIEve that they 'want' EQUAL pay for EQUAL work. This is NOT the nature of the simultaneous path for Earth, but rather the Orion sequential path in motion. If you have to ask 'why' after reading M5G, you are NOT ready for the materials.

IF they really wanted "equal pay for equal work", females would reject being paid MORE than men. If you think that would happen, you are being played for a fool by the Game. As per other M5G segments, I have warned that this is part of the sequentializing of Earth.

The Journey

© 2000 - 2005 Leading Edge International Research Group. All Rights Reserved.

Not only that, it is Orion sequentialization: female dominance. If this were sequential Lightsider agenda, it would be 'true equal pay for equal work', but this is a Dark sector of this galaxy Game, as I have written over and over. People (for whom M5G is written) can connect the dots and see the picture.

When sequentialized Earther females achieve dominance in areas, do you hear them say, "That's not what we want...we want equality"? Yeah, THAT is going to happen! Rather you have sequentialized Earther females reveling in their Orion roles as dominatrix (uber-cunt). It WILL get worse. The only way to escape is to spiral out of the Game by graduating. This shit has happened on many other previous simultaneous designated planets and will happen again as the sequentials try to run interference to those who want to experience the simultaneous path.

Those who look forward to 'Earth rejoining the Orion Empire' take great satisfaction at the Orion sequentialization of this planet. If you hear anything about the topic of this segment, it will all be in praise of and for the Orionized female.

Note this quote from the same CNN article:

"But there is still a long way to go if women are to achieve true parity in the workplace," says Christine Hayhurst, CMI's director of professional affairs.

Yes, they are not satisfied with this sector of dominance, but note that they STILL cling to using the comfort phrases related to "equality". "True parity" from the Orionized female standpoint relates to parity with their ORION counterpart and NOT Earther males! Now THAT is a revelation for you to bear in mind when the 'equality'-vomiting females do their thing. Deception and agendas are involved and the M5G reader has information that is not available to the general public because M5G is intended for those who will be spiraling out of the Game. Those who cater to the "Orionization" of Earth will love what is happening. Yet the Earther men who think "Orionization" is wonderful are being deceived on a massive scale because they do not know what fates the Orion- ized male endures. Waiting for EndGame to conclude. Keep observing.

Observation: America Chooses Fascism

With John Kerry's concession, America has chosen fascism similar to how Germany chose that political path in the 1930's with Hitler. The German National Socialists used manifest destiny and minority 'undesirables' to rally the majority of the German nation behind their party. Bush (America's Hitler) uses manifest destiny and minority 'undesirables' to rally the majority of the American nation behind the Republican party. The tactics are very similar centering on fear and hatred. The 'undesirables' (that von Bush uses) are primarily gays, muslims and Arabs in general. The Germans had the Reichstag. The Republicans had 9/11. It is known that the National Socialists were behind the Reichstag. If you watched 911

The Journey

© 2000 - 2005 Leading Edge International Research Group. All Rights Reserved.

In Plane Site or accessed the Library, you know who was really behind that event. The Iraq mess is a repeat of the Vietnam mess. History continues to repeat itself.

One thread that has been mentioned during presidential elections is that 'whoever has the most royal lineage will win the White House'. This year, it was Kerry who has the tightest lineage according to the media, yet Kerry didn't win - so much for that thread.

Another event worth noting is the Tecumseh curse. This applies to those who occupy the White House starting with a zero year win. I can't say 'elected', since von Bush was not elected in 2000, but was appointed. Nevertheless, he did win that office even if illegally. Does this mean that the Tecumseh curse overrides the royal lineage and is something we can look forward to?

America has clearly become sharply divided and the 04 election underscores that. 'Bush is not my president' concept will still carry through after this election. If Kerry would have won, you would have the same applying to him by the fascists.

I purposely did not comment on this election in segment form until now. I did tell others that the difference between Bush and Kerry is contained by this comparison: how do you want your poison - strychnine or hemlock? BOTH people are part of the sequentialization problem. BOTH would do what they were ordered to do. The difference is in how they would proceed. Bush is far more violent than Kerry would be.

Bush stands for American imperialism/empire building. He rejects treaties that do not meet this concept just like Hitler did. He invades weaker countries for convenience and under false charges. Bush uses bogus 'freedom' to deceive the stupid population and embolden his overt fascist backers. He is arrogant, pompous and disdains the masses. He leads America down a path of death and destruction. Bush wants the world under American rule just as Rome and Berlin did. We know what happened to Rome and Berlin. Both met unpleasant ends by those who they pissed off. The Bush poison is bitter to those who are not American fascist in outlook.

Kerry stands for globalization and the one-planet concept under consensus. Kerry's sequentialization would have been much easier for the American people (except the fascists). Remember, it's not HOW the goal of the planetary rulers is met, but that it IS reached. The Kerry poison is sweet and seductive to those who want to remain asleep. It doesn't do too much to expand on the Kerry version since his concession has made it a non-issue.

It is very strange to see that those who beLIEve that 'America is the bastion of freedom' and then they vote fascist. Ask one of these people to define 'freedom' and see what kind of answers you get. You should quickly discover that their version of 'freedom' has little to do with the genuine definition of the word. Their 'freedom' means they are free to impose their way of life on others no matter who they have to kill or destroy.

The Journey

© 2000 - 2005 Leading Edge International Research Group. All Rights Reserved.

Take the gay issue that the fascists used so well this year. No one said that anyone was expected to become homosexual. It was that those who are gay would be allowed to be free to be who they are. Yet this was enough to drag hoards of fascists and religious nuts (same thing) to the polls in almost one dozen states. The Republican fascist party insisted that this question be on the ballots so that their fear mongers would threaten the ignorant, the stupid and the cross burners to ensure they vote fascist. In other states, the fascists said that if Kerry was elected, he would ban the damned bible. Fascist would unlikely ever win a major election if they were honest, but control is a Dark issue and the Darker of the two candidates succeeded.

This is the latter stage of EndGame. I am not surprised at this happening, despite what the Indian astrologers or royal lineage people said. Indian astrology uses a different method than Western astrology in casting horoscopes. As for me, I saw the Moon was in Cancer. That Moon is fanatical in control and against non-traditional changes. If the Moon would have been in an Air or a Fire sign, it would likely have been a different story.

Fear has a major effect on Low and Mid incarnations as well as minions. It is interesting that the states who voted fascist are colored red, the color of blood/violence. Expect the wasted deaths to continue in empire building wars. Expect the draft will indeed be back, however the fascists should be lined up to join in expansionist wars to feed their conquest lusts. America is historically intolerant of cultures, concepts and beliefs that appear to not be subservient to the American ideal. The current rampant anti-islamic/Arab tirades are a prime example of that intolerance. America gets acidic (very negative Cancerian) to those who challenge its views.

Another bogus term is referring to the American president as the "leader of the free world". What a bunch of shit! You can't be the leader of the "free world" when you don't engage in freedom in your own country. Again, look to the definition of 'freedom'. If America was a genuinely 'free' country, ALL religions would be treated the same – the 3 sexual orientations (het, bi & gay) would all be treated the same, forcing change on others would not be an issue and so on. But then, America has never been truly 'free'.

Those of Very Advanced and Final incarnational levels can view these matters far better than the Darksiders who are overjoyed with the fascist win and their brand of poison for the nation or the Lightsiders who weep because their brand of poison didn't succeed. What is happening on a global scale is all part of EndGame. I have been telling you that it will get worse. With the red of war in play, the American public has chosen as the Roman and the German public has and it will be played out. It just got worse.

The Journey

Observation: America Chooses Fascism - Part II

Remember when von Bush was appointed president four years ago he said he was "a uniter" then he turned around and threatened the world with "you are either with us or against us" and at the same time prattled on about 'freedom'? The man is a habitual, chronic liar. Shame on him. He's pulling the same shit again now with 'healing the country'. If you fall for this, shame on YOU! Bush set the stage and the players for the divisions in America today. He is the center point for Dark rule, fear mongering and hatred of anything that does not conform to his narrow views. This is typical of Orion rule and fits the Orionization of America. Kerry wants his supporters to rally around Bush. Kerry, like Bush, is a Skull & Bones Darksider.

As I said in Part I of this segment, the difference between Kerry and Bush was how you want to be poisoned. I was never a Kerry supporter, but if I have to choose between a peaceful death of cold (falling asleep and dying) or a painful death of fire (war/violence), I choose the cold. Either way you die. Remember, this is EndGame and, despite what the Lightsiders beLIEve, the conclusion cannot be altered by wishing it so. Now Kerry wants his followers to join von Bush's warmongering and empire building (rally around the winner). Is that what you want? It may be part of your path and your experiences. You must follow YOUR path. It is not mine. 'Not my president' should remain the thought of the independent-minded. I do not give away my power to such a creature or concept. Bush is now bragging about his 'mandate' and fools think that this means he will soften his approach. No way! He's a megalomaniac and as mad as Caligula! He actually thinks that this means the majority of America 'approves' of what he has done and urges him to do more of the same. By this election, America has chosen fascism and war over anything else.

America has chosen fear, hate and homophobia over 'freedom' and co-existence. America has become more Orionized and sequential by validating the polarity of the concept 'with us or against us'. NO middle road. NO illusion of balance in any form. Hate has always been an American value. Hate is a negative Cancer/Capricorn axis icon. Both the United States and Bush are Cancers. Cancer can be a great sign when its positive traits are shown. Bush thrives on the negative because he's a major Darksider and is controlled by sequential Dark manipulators. Hate of what is not approved of and what is different has been the way of America with Bush since the Reichstag-like event of 9/ 11. Hate is a Darkside trait.

This election was said to have American values as a prime concern for voting. Despite the Constitution, the very freedoms that the fascists would like you to beLIEve exist actually never have existed. This was discussed in several previous segments. Hate of the Native Americans, hate of the slaves, hate of those who stand in the way of "manifest destiny", hate of non-christian religions, hate of non-hetero sex, hate of non-western European appearances/values, etc. It was NO coincidence that July 4 was the chosen date for the founding of this country.

The Journey

This was an EndGame event that was set in motion. If this country was Aquarian or Sagittarian, for examples, it would not be anything like the Cancerian, domineering entity it turned out to be. And all those damned flags all over the place! It's like Germany under the National Socialists. When I went to China two years ago, I expected to find lots of flags flying there. Instead, I saw very few. America seems to be the only country that has a flag fetish today and considers it a holy icon. THAT is a national psychological problem. America's last mental imbalance (of the magnitude of today's) was in the early 1950's with the anti-communist fever of Joseph McCarthy. Now it's 50 years later and the psychotics are out again with the muslims/Arabs/gays in place of the communists. This administration has told us, even as current as last month (Oct 04) that the United States will be attacked again. It has already been planned by them, and I would not be the least surprised to find that it occurs in a 'blue' state. We ALL have our paths to follow and experiences to have in this stage of EndGame. Trust in YOUR Higher Self is an absolute must. The Graduation Key is in motion (as per previous segment). The Dark and the sequentials are making major moves against the simultaneous on Earth. It's going to get worse. EndGame – never said it would be easy!

Commentary: Gay Marriage

The whole gay marriage storm in the United States: Since America has had a fascist government since 2000 and its own 'Taliban', radical christians control much of the country known as the 'red' states, these social terrorists have used the gay issue as one of their controlling weapons. Meanwhile, Canada has approved gay marriage for their whole country and New Zealand has approved domestic partnerships for theirs. New Zealand has the correct basic concept which is there is no legal difference between marriage and domestic partnership. Marriage should remain the label for a religious union of two people. Domestic partnership should remain the label for a NON-religious union of two people. People should have the option of choosing which to experience but BOTH should have totally equal benefits without consideration of the genders involved in these unions.

This would mean that government has no say or control over how religions administer marriages and religion would have no say or control over how the government administers domestic partnerships. If two people of the same gender are able to find a religion, ANY religion, which would use their ceremony to 'marry' them, that's fine BUT there would be no difference in ANY legal benefit between any couple whose ceremony was performed in a religious setting as opposed to a civil setting. This is a simultaneous concept. Do you think this would happen globally in EndGame? EndGame is chaos, not logic. There are islands of sanity on the EndGame playing field, such as Canada and New Zealand (and others) but these are permitted because the Game controllers know that just their existence causes the sequential controlled areas to have fits of hatred. These conflicts feed the Dark and lower astrals. Hence, the ideal and reality can be in constant conflict because it serves a purpose.

Commentary: Elves

Since most people are either familiar with The Lord of the Rings trilogy in print and/or in the amazing film version, it is not surprising that the elves are held as an ideal race, quite advanced and far different than humans. The elves are based on the Ancient Earthers who Monroe mentions in his trilogy and I have touched on in the M5G segments. I stress that the elves are based on the Ancient Earthers. They are an idealized version of them. For one example, the Ancient Earthers were not genderized, as per M5G Quest segments. When the elves say that they are leaving Middle Earth never to be seen again, this is reflected in the departure of the Ancient Earthers from control of the pristine Earth when the Dark forces (aliens with their genetic sciences) moved to control Earth and remake it. Remember that even in the books/films when Sauron (Orion reptilians – the name says it) was defeated, the elves still sailed to the “West” and away. The time of the elves is over Elrond said. The time of the Ancient Earthers is over. Fast forward to Earth’s EndGame. Now the time of the Earther simultaneous is about over. We will “sail away” (graduate) to other adventures while leaving the others to determine their fates. Ponder these comments, but don’t ask me for more specifics about the Ancient Earthers. You are welcome to research the Library on Monroe 27 if interested. You have what you need to know plus more.

2005 Calendar: Putting The White-Out to Use Again

Setting up my 05 calendar at work, since I won't be back here till 1/10, I am white-outing several bullshit days that my Celestial Influences calendar has in bold print on certain days of the year. Heavy cuntish or whipped male influences are indicated as Lightsiders are. Some I leave in since they're traditional, like Mardi Gras and even my much loathed Patrick's Day (fine for the Irish, but I am not), but some I don't tolerate to assault my eyes:

March 8 - International Women's Day - FUCK OFF, CUNTS! EVERY day is Orionized/sequentialized women's day!

March 20 – Palm Sunday – Totally worthless unless you're a christian sheep and ready for the extra cash shake-down by the church to fund the pope's newest gold throne or jewel encrusted tiara! And this is closely followed by:

March 25 – Good Friday – Good for whom? Why the christian churches of course. This is a day to induce guilt and demand obedience by the priesthoods on the sheep. Cash shake-down alert for Easter. Paying for your sins takes on a different perspective. Another goodie related is the statue/graven image that is paraded, usually of catholic goddess Mary, where people pin money to it like tossing money to a whore!

April 24 – Passover – Just like the christians have a plethora of fictional days, so do the jews. The one-goddess REALLY excel in creating days to attempt to get the body ID'd to submit. Passover is as fictional a day as Easter, Ascension Day, Pentecost and so on. Personally, I'd rather have the old pagan holidays up there instead of these new pagan ones. At least the old pagan deities were interesting to read about and not loaded up with holier-than-thou of the false god of the Hebrew desert people.

May 5 - Cinco de Mayo/Ascension Day - This is NOT Mexico ! How many other foreign holidays do we mark here? You want to do it, go back where you came from or do it at home. Hold the Mayo! As for goddamned Ascension Day, they might as well have other fiction-based days to like the day Humpty Dumpty fell off the wall, the day Jack jumped over the candlestick and the cow jumped over the Moon! Or if you prefer, any day that any mythological deity did something that has the riff-raff in awe.

May 15 - Whit Sunday/Pentecost - This is NOT a christian calendar and these are not nationally observed/vacation days! Whit Sunday, what the FUCK is that?! A day for the Whit-less? And Pentecost is another fictional event by a fictional deity who put on bird drag to flame-shit on those cowering in fear.

August 26 - Women's Equality Day - Again FUCK OFF, CUNTS! Women NEVER want equality, but Orionized control and superiority. What is one to think that this day would force them off their self-installed pedestal?

September 11 - Grandparents' Day - Let's see, since they are already either a mother or a father, they have their days earlier in the year. Just another card/flower/candy manufacturers' invention. Breeders LOVE celebrating their body ID and breederhood. It has Game approval due to excessive body ID. Fine for most, not for me and it IS my calendar!

November 1 - All Saints' Day - This creation was to try and detract from the festivities of Halloween. Halloween is fun. All Saints' Day is another way for religion to extend its tentacles and shake down the sheep for some extra cash and attempt to lay guilt on any for having fun on Halloween.

November 27 - Advent - ANOTHER christian bullshit day to remind the sheep that Christmas is coming and a major financial shake-down by the church is imminent. Then there are also the excessive amount of jewish holidays of some sort or other that fall in the same garbage heap as Ascension Day, Whit(less) Sunday/Pentecost, such as Purim, Yom Kipper, Sukkoth (suck what?), Shavuot (shove what?) and so on. Fine if this is a religious calendar, but it's an astrological one! It just goes to show you how they try to suppress those struggling in the developing levels by reminding them of religious submission rituals, Orionized/sequentialized female dominance and similar hooks to attempt and retard one's spiral out of the Game. Have a look at your calendar and see how days are marked for you to recognize and conform to. You may want to have fun with it as I am doing in this segment, but all fun aside, the Game has multitudes of threads out there to keep one leashed to their body ID. Threads can be thick as bridge cable wire or thin as spider silk, but all need to be snapped in order to spiral out. You will look at the calendar, as with other Game features, according to your current incarnation's place in your Higher Self's plans.

Orion Death Star Craft

In M5 segments, I have mentioned the Orion Death-Star ships. In our solar system, they were responsible for the destruction of the planet that was in orbit around our sun between Mars and Jupiter. This is now the asteroid belt with these asteroids being the remnants of that planet.

On the left is an image of Minas taken by NASA's Cassini probe. The eye-catching feature of this picture is the 138 kilometer 'eye' which is almost 1/3 of the "moon's" diameter. This photo was taken on January 16, 2005 from 213,000 km distance. Remember the bogus 'swamp gas' explanation for UFO's in the 1950/60's? Well, needless to say another version of 'swamp gas' is being pushed for this feature. This time the perfect circular eye results from a meteor impact with the round object in the center (created by "pulverized or molten rock" rebounding upward from the impact of that object). Don't question...it's the official explanation. Yeah, right.

The Death-Star is the basis for the 'eye of god' that is a popular craft item in Mexico, Central and South America. When a Death Star was in Earth's orbit in the past, the locals took it to be the eye of god. It does look like an eye. I have seen these craft from the astral. I am quite pleased that M5G readers can now see what they look like for themselves.

Ding, Dong the Pope Is Dead!

Ding, dong the pope is dead! Which old pope? The wicked pope! Ding, dong the wicked pope is dead!

Yes, it's finally true. One of the major, public Darksiders has, at last, exited the Game board! This pope was one of the Orion queen's prime worshippers on Earth and was active in championing the adoration of the 'queen of heaven'. However this is not news to those with sharp observational skills. Reports, of how Karol Wojtyla engaged in the distribution of Zyklon B gas to the death camps during World War II, have been known since he was elevated to the position of pope. His mission as pope was to spread the word of devotion to the 'queen of heaven'.

The eyes are windows to the soul. The saying is true. Karol Wojtyla had Dark eyes and I mean that in a polarity sense. He put on a good public relations front in the pursuit of his mission around the planet, but the dog & pony shows were a mask for what was really happening. The popular story is that when he was shot, he promised the 'queen of heaven' that if he was spared (how body ID'd can one get?), he would devote his life to her. "Totus tuus" (all yours) became his motto after that episode. Yet, Polish catholics are notorious for Mary worship as are many other Slavic and Mediterranean ethnic groups. He was already worshipping her when he was elevated to the position of pope. His assassination attempt became an intended tool for increasing the worship of catholic goddess, Mary. His purpose in pimping Mary all over the globe was part of the Dark's plan to prepare Earth for overt Orion rule.

The Journey

The catholics would have you beLIEve that Jesus is their god, yet, as the true pagan pantheon that it is, the catholic church actually has hundreds of major and minor deities. Mary is the goddess on the same level as Hera and Isis. Yet these goddesses are all pseudonyms for the Orion queen. With the catholics it's 'MARY and jesus'. Get the emphasis? The propaganda machines would have us beLIEve that he was a 'pope to the people', a 'pope to everyone' and 'concerned for the plight of the downtrodden'. Yet this pope was a notorious sequentializer, rabidly homophobic, a caretaker of the 'conscience' straight and narrow mentality, permissive of pedophilia and more. He was a spokesman for sequentialized thought and intolerance.

On Friday, when the Italian press declared him dead, I started the chant from The Wizard of Oz (as above) replacing 'witch' with 'pope'. Horrified looks and comments of 'you're going to hell' were the responses I received from some. Others said that they were afraid to say something like that. Fear rules...fear binds...fear retards. More good news is that, according to known prophecy, there are only 2 more popes left in the catholic church's reign of terror. This is well known to the catholic rulers as the Prophecy of St Malachy. If you Google search this, you will find many references.

The next pope, according to this prophecy, is to be a short term one. Remember John Paul I who was in only about 1 month? I haven't located anything to say how long the next shortie pope will be in office, but after him comes the final pope. Considering this event should be just another element for Matrix V readers. This is part of the EndGame scenario. As to the validity of Malachy's prophecy, time will tell, although from what has been written of this, it seems to be right on the mark.

EndGame is currently alive with several areas active. Besides the Vatican drama, there is the Earth Planetary Spirit's Graduation preparations (Earth changes), aliens maneuvering in our solar system, sequentialized aggression by the United States and more. Sharpen your observational skills and see what you can discover. Meanwhile, celebrate! Ding, dong the pope is dead! Which old pope? The wicked pope!

UFO On-Demand Video

Matrix V readers should watch this video clip, if you have not yet seen it. A man in the Las Vegas area is able to call a UFO to appear on demand in front of local news cameras at their time and their location. It is something to watch. Interestingly, the news people, even when witnessing the event, could only giggle and smile. Why they do this is because what they view is contrary to what the government would have them beLIEve. It makes them very nervous when their illusionary reality is shaken.

The main question should be how is this man able to do what you can see that he does? There are a couple of possibilities, in none of which religion is the valid reason. That the summoner is saying that he uses the bible to do it is irrelevant to reality. The only relevance is that the bible is alien/sequential inspired to control Earthers. The most likely reason is that he has been implanted and is being monitored. That would establish the connection to communicate.

The second major question is what purpose is served by this happening? The aliens are notorious for playing hide-and-seek while generally being extremely selective on who they show themselves to and when. Switzerland's Meier is an excellent example of alien game playing. That this alien group is permitting themselves to be caught on news cameras on demand indicates something may well be about to happen on Earth. The man, who does the ship-on-demand communication, says that an event will occur this summer with the aliens demonstrating in the Las Vegas area. With the major War of the Worlds film hitting the theaters on June 29, is the Orion Empire or one of their associates making the next move on Earth? Time will tell.

Yes, we have all heard empty alien promises about major events to appear in public. The Andromedans are the absolute worst at this game-playing. Remember the summer mass fly-over than never appeared? Remember their statement that they would drive the reptilians from Earth and we would see them scattering all over Earth while trying to escape? And remember the promise to tow Earth's Moon away because it is an artificial satellite which is nothing more than an alien base? Well, that is true, but they never towed the Moon away. The cannot do that. The Orion and Sirian Empires would never allow that to happen without a major battle and, since this is the Orion sector, forget that happening.

So, if this summer event happens...cool! If not, I won't be surprised. My advice is that when you hear such declarations where the aliens are involved, keep an open mind and don't dismiss it outright. At the same time, don't be counting on it happening. This is EndGame. It's going to get much more "interesting".

Andromedan Trash Pile

Well, July 15, 2005 has come and gone but there was no alien craft hovering over Las Vegas as promised by 'prophet' Yahweh. The only reason why this potential event had my interest was that Yahweh demonstrated that he has the ability to have a UFO appear on demand. Several examples of this have been available on the internet since May. That caught my interest. I thought that maybe the aliens were ready to make their long promised move against Earth or, at the very least, the faked invasion scenario was going to be played. Yahweh promised that this Las Vegas event would happen by July 15. It didn't happen, unfortunately. Yet again, the aliens proved they had the upper hand over their spokesperson by denying what he said would happen.

The aliens are notorious for playing Earthers and making all kinds of promises that never manifest. I am calling the heap of broken alien promises the Andromedan Trash Pile. The Andromedans have this distinction due to their use of Leading Edge Research as a tool for distributing the information that they wanted 'out there'. For those of you who remember the Andromedan promises of some years back, such as the massive summer fly-over of Earth (late 90's) by their craft, the removal of Earth's moon and the driving out of inner Earth/hidden reptilians that would be SO huge that everyone would see them running around trying to escape the Andromedan 'wrath'. NONE of these things happened. As usual, their Earth mouthpiece had weak reasons for these non-events after being played for a fool by his alien masters.

It does seem to be that the aliens are only engaging in playing mind games with Earthers. The Andromedans are not the only ones to do so. Meier's Pleadians love playing hide-and-seek as well as pontificating to Earthers about alien superiority. I'm sure that most M5 readers can easily add other examples of alien lies and empty promises.

This does not mean that nothing alien will occur. It will. Timing, however, is significant for them. They engage in testing and probing to see how the simultaneous population reacts to their sequential faux superiority. Very Advanced and Awakened Final Incarnations are the Earther Wild Cards to these sequentials. These aliens do not know about the depths and abilities of these incarnational levels in the Game, so it is a mystery to them how we will react to their overt appearances. This may be part of the reason to their grand promises and lack of fulfillment.

Earther simultaneous path Graduation is rapidly approaching. What the pre-Graduates are engaged in is of interest to certain sequential segments. Each pre-Graduation simultaneous planet has had its fair share of sequential interest because those path Higher Selves are curious about what lies beyond their sequential experiences. Nevertheless, that's their problem, not ours. We have our own destinies and that does not include babysitting with curious sequentials and the games they play.

The Journey

So the Andromedan Trash Pile is available for any M5 readers who discover alien promises that never materialize. Feel free to place your sequential trash in that bin. Too bad that Yahweh could or would not fulfill his promise. It would have been interesting.

More EndGame Alien Mischief

Volume III Special Segment

As M5 readers know, the sequentials (aliens) have really upped their interference on Earth as latter EndGame draws towards Graduation. Here is more on one of the recent headline shenanigans:

The 'prophet Yahweh' can summon alien craft on demand. One segment already exists on this topic. Those who check the links are able to watch 'Yahweh' make this happen. Yes, he is able to do what he claims. If you research it deeper, it appears that he is implanted. When the prophet goes into his biblical stance, his request is processed by an alien monitor who sends out a scout probe to appear for a brief period of time. The probe originates on a mother ship. Prophet seems to be quite sincere and actually believes he is communicating with his 'god'. M5 readers know that most Earther deities are based on alien personalities. Yet, using that damned biblical fluff, 'Yahweh' implores 'god' to send a ship. Now, that 'god' needs flying saucers alone tells you something. I guess it's more efficient than flying with wings these days. Yahweh promises a massive craft hovering in the sky above Las Vegas by July 15 of this year. I think that would be great, as long as it happens after I get to see War of the Worlds this coming weekend (July 2-3).

A M5 reader sent me a link to a reverse speech site where a woman put 'Yahweh's' vocals to the reverse speech test. As for the validity of reverse speech, I am skeptical, but I do not dismiss it. I have learned not to dismiss something without investigation. When the reverse speech was played, I heard some things that she said one should hear, but I also heard some different words. The woman who gave this presentation is heavily Light polarity and also puts her faith in the "good" aliens. This, of course, filters her perceptions.

Her conclusions are that the Orion Empire is behind this whole Yahweh thing and they are planning a harvest of Earther humans as per the movie Signs. It sounds far more elaborate than Signs was. Religious holograms will be used to entice people that the christian 'rapture' has come and it was time for the holy rollers to depart to their 'god'. I guess that no matter where one lives, the holograms will be geared to the local religions and be accompanied by audio as well.

She strongly warns the listener not to fall for these extremely convincing alien holograms. If one does, they will be outside looking at the aliens' craft (world-wide apparently) and the aliens will use a device to first paralyze these people, then another to pull them into their ships. People will look as if they are being summoned to the heavens, as per 'rapture' mythology by taking to the air and going to the ships. These people will be stored in food chamber on these mother ships, as they were shown in the mini-series V and Signs.

The Journey

© 2000 - 2005 Leading Edge International Research Group. All Rights Reserved.

I think this would be an excellent experience for religious nuts. This event, if true, should depopulate the American south, much of the Midwest and Utah/Idaho. Good riddance to the American Taliban and their allies! I would encourage any American Taliban, if this happens, to run out with your sequentialized religious fervor and call for 'jesus'. May you get to meet him when you are on the dinner table. The date given for this to be concluded is March 06 when these ships are due to depart, with their shopping supplies, for the Orion Empire.

Another interesting point: while she warns these first wave ships are Orion in origin, once they leave the 'good' aliens will come to help Earthers. She says these are the ships to get on. M5 readers know better than that! Are there aliens who think that if they remove much of the planet's population that Graduation cannot happen? Of course.

This is about all I have to say on this particular matter at this time. Aliens have promised ALL types of planet-wide events in the past and there is no reason to think that this will occur any more than any other alien no-show event. The difference here is that 'Yahweh' actually does summon a ship on demand. Nevertheless, his stated time frame ends on July 16 at midnight. If nothing happens, I will place this story on the heap with the Andromedans, Pleiadians, etc. Meanwhile, you are now more aware of this situation. Beware of gifts from aliens. My Apache shaman teacher told me in the 80's that just as the western Europeans were to the Native Americans, so will the aliens be to Earth. You draw your own conclusions. It is something to think about.

War of the Worlds and the Extermination Wild Card

If you have not yet seen the new War of the Worlds, be aware that this segment contains spoilers to the film. You may want to wait until you see the film first.

War of the Worlds is an impressive film. The alien tripod machines were definitely interesting, yet this film is based on the 19th century book of the same name. When H.G. Wells wrote this book, he was dealing with the limits of his century's technology as a filter for his words. At the same time, his Higher Self was supplying a flow of ideas that mirrors the alien Extermination Wild Card for Earth. In previous M5 segments I mention the Orion alternative plan to eliminate the current Earther human population and terraform Earth to a more manageable population and environment. In order for this to be accomplished, humans would be exterminated. In the film, when the tripod began vaporizing the locals, the word "exterminate" appeared in my mind, even though it would not be referred to in the film for some time yet. I kept hearing "exterminate" over and over when the tripod fired.

If the Extermination Wild Card is played, it will be cold, ruthless (as shown in the film) but not have a Spielberg happy ending. In the book, the aliens died due to bacteria in Earth's environment. There are bacteria on ALL Planetary Spirit incarnated worlds throughout the Galaxy Game. Bacteria are expressions of the Planetary Spirit's incarnational path. Aliens with interplanetary technology understand this very well and are not stupid enough to blindly go into a planet's atmosphere without the proper precautions. In War of the Worlds, the narrator states that these aliens have been watching for "millions of years". Only a fool would think that with all this watching, they didn't notice bacteria and viral life. No, the ending that Wells gives in his book is naïve and something to soothe the Earthers.

The Journey

© 2000 - 2005 Leading Edge International Research Group. All Rights Reserved.

Spielberg would embrace this pacify the reader/viewer concept and took it even further by having the son, Robbie, show up at the end when you know that he died in the fireballs of the alien tripods as we saw in the film. Not only did Robbie show up, comfortable and without a scratch in the end, he was apparently having a relaxing time in Boston with his mother and her family. Boston apparently was overlooked by these alien tripods, while remote areas had several roaming the area. Yeah, right! Spielberg loves happy endings. He also does not like showing females and children killed, but will go to town on males. That is why I won't watch his rampaging dinosaur films – children outwit raptors and women are never killed but males are killed left and right. In reality, the children and women would be killed in far greater numbers than males. Yet, this is something that most Earthers want to be kept out of their entertainment. Yes, most EndGame Earthers, of the American type, do not want to face reality which is also why they refuse to see their government as corrupt, but that's a topic for other segments.

You will notice that when you see the aliens outside of their tripods that they look like the Independence Day aliens. That surprised and disappointed me, but then Hollywood is about fantasy and the happy ending.

In War of the Worlds, it was interesting to see how human blood is necessary as they not only killed humans but also harvested them. We see that first in the ferry scene when the tripods snake down arms and snatch up humans. Later on, we see humans kept in cages on the bottom of the main tripod cabin. The tripod takes a human (male, of course in a Spielberg film) and places him on the ground then another arm comes down and you see his blood being siphoned back up into the tripod. The blood is sprayed out as fertilizer for a red weed, which is native to the alien's planet and part of their terraforming process. We do get to see a large result of the terraforming process with its alien landscape now on Earth. Blood is also necessary for the aliens' diet. The alien need for blood is connected with both Orion and Sirian Empires. As per earlier segments, this is not 'bad'. It is just the way these species exist as Earthers do by what we consume. Review past M5 segments on that, if you need the refresher.

In reality, if the Extermination Wild Card is played, it will be far worse than is depicted in War of the Worlds. However few Earther incarnates could tolerate this being depicted without a 'happy ending'. This is what doomed the excellent Broadway play, Dance of the Vampires, which I totally enjoyed. The vampires won, christian mythology lost and the audience was too uncomfortable. Refer back to the segment on this play for more information. This is a body ID fear, not of spirit origin. Remember, the body fears death and its mortality. In order to subdue this prime fear, the spirit must have overridden that DNA command of self-preservation. The spirit is immortal and hence has no fears in that area. The spirit is along for the experience and ride that shim's physical incarnation is providing. War of the Worlds is a recommended film to see. What will your observations yield?

Gun Control, Solar Activity and EndGame

This is the 4th of July weekend when Americans celebrate their illusion of 'freedom' while the criminal government plots even greater dismantling of the Constitution. Previous M5 segments have pointed out the comparisons to Hitler in Germany and history is repeating itself but with some refinements due to more advanced alien technology and Dark agenda plans.

At work, just as a test, I mentioned to one woman that the government is criminal and asked why is it that Americans find it easy to blame everyone else's country for problems and Dark governments but most Americans refuse to see it in their own country. My logic had put her in a corner and her answer was: if they admitted the government is evil, they would have to do something about it. Her answer is correct. The American public, as a whole, has become quite lazy due to alien technological comforts and suppression of will due to chemical/electronic manipulation.

After 9/11, Americans got pissed because they were lied to, and were told Arab muslims attacked the country. Yet, when the public is shown proof that it was an American government plot to further instill a fascist government in this country, the majority do not want to hear it. DVD's such as In Plane Site and massive amounts of evidence easily available on the internet have presented more than enough proof for most of the world. Yet, the Bush government has discovered just how easy it is to deceive the public. This also goes back to a previous segment where I mention that setting the United States up as a Cancer country was intentional, since Cancer countries tend to be paranoid nationalists.

One of the major Dark agenda goals is the disarming of America's citizens. The Constitution provides that citizens have a right to bear arms. This is because independence was fought to free the country from a government that ruled the people. America was intended to be a country where the people ruled the government. The government will stay citizen-responsive if they know they can be removed at gunpoint for trying to rule the people.

Gun laws are designed for legitimate gun owners, not criminals who have alternate ways of obtaining weapons. Since criminals do not obey laws of theft and murder, why would anyone expect they would obey laws regarding guns? The government knows this, but gun laws are not intended for the criminals, but to disarm Americans.

Showtime cable network airs Penn & Teller's Bullshit series. Penn & Teller have some great shows and some that you just have to shake your head at. They are Mid level incarnations and have that level's perspective. The M5 reader has to keep that in mind.

This week's show is about gun control and the need to keep the government in line:
<http://www.sho.com/site/ptbs/topics.do?topic=gun>

It was refreshing to see such blunt, Mid level talk without fear of the government. Penn & Teller do call for violence to keep the government in control. They use this significant quote: "The tree of liberty must be refreshed from time to time with the blood of patriots and tyrants." - Thomas Jefferson

While I did enjoy this episode, I notice how one Orionized concept appeared. Penn & Teller call for the arming of females in this country to control and put fear in men. Whoa! That's the Orion agenda. They also state that women don't kill and violence is a male thing. Again, that is the Orion propaganda and their beLIEving it shows the effectiveness of the lie. Plenty of M5 segments on female Orionization and cunt-rol. Is it because of this feature that the segment was allowed to be produced?

In public, gun control is a Light polarity issue. However the Dark is manipulating the Light by taking advantage of their 'use/abuse me, love/light' mentality. The Dark requires that American citizens be disarmed. The Lightsiders say that guns are only for hunting at best, but that in these days, you don't even need to hunt for food. The Dark doesn't care what way guns are removed from the population as long as they are. Once again well-intentioned Lightsiders put a 'noble' front on a Darkside item.

Since, even under fascist von Bush, public owned guns are not going away as the agenda prefers, more severe anti-Constitutional laws are required: Patriot Act II (to do away with true Constitutional patriots) and the formal formation of America's Secret Police in the Gestapo mode.

Check this link to see about the planned American Gestapo:

<http://www.bradblog.com/archives/00001506.htm>

While I personally do not care to own a gun, I support anyone who wants to. I agree with Penn & Teller's call for putting the American government in its place. On the other hand, this is EndGame and I know where things are going. Those for whom M5 was written can also see much of this. It is very bad and will get much worse.

The Planetary Spirit is also quite active with shim's pre-Graduation activities. There is a two part article on Rense's site that you may want to check.

Part two's link, Incredible New Solar Patterns Appear:

<http://www.rense.com/general66/suncl2.htm> updates that writer's first submission. Photos are included. Strange activities are occurring on the Sun, which is the Higher Self of the Earth Planetary Spirit's physical vehicle. This activity is also connected with the Graduation Key. The M5 readers should be well versed in observing the signs and M5 Volume III will increase that knowledge.

Just as in Atlantis before it sank, there are many now who prefer EndGame activities to be a mental exercise for something that is a long time away, preferable several incarnation spans at least. Atlanteans denied their experience right up to the sinking of the islands. The same approach holds true today. One reason Matrix V exists is to alert those for whom it was written that we are well past the 'something's coming in the future' mode. The 'future' is now. Latter stages of EndGame are now.

Be Prepared: Tanks on the Streets of NYC

Follow this link and see 2 photos of tanks on the streets of New York City this past weekend (June):

<http://www.propagandamatrix.com/articles/june2005/070605tanksinstreets.htm>

Note that it is reported in this link how people 'waved' or 'cheered' the tanks! The reason this happens is because most Americans refuse to even consider the fact that the country has been taken over by the very traitors it professes in public to stand against. Those who are suppose to defend the Constitution, against enemies foreign AND domestic, are the very ones who allowed the traitors to take power in this country. The traitors now invoke the wording of the Constitution to protect their criminal interests. Hence, international war criminal von Bush states that you are either with us (the traitors) or with the terrorists. Absolutes, such as that, are only issued by a polarity icon and are favored by the Dark where suspicion and mistrust are rampant.

The current situation in the United States is not a recent development. This is all part of the EndGame scenario that kicked in with the American Civil War and Constitutional traitor Lincoln. This has been a long term plan by those who intend to change Earth from a simultaneous path planet to a sequential under Orion Empire (female gender) overt rule. Numerous M5 segments have discussed this.

While von Bush is a figurehead president, much as Reagan was, his arrogance shows how secure the Dark and the sequentials are in their agendas. They engage in fewer hidden attacks at simultaneous Earth because they have seen that they can get away with overt actions by easily deceiving and lying to the American public. While most of Europe's population can see through American propaganda as the lies they are, the governments of several European countries (Italy, Britain, etc) still support America's Dark agenda based on Israel's demands. This is due to national rulers of those countries being in league with the Dark polarity that von Bush is the icon for.

The mass introduction of minion incarnations has also served the Dark well. If necessary, review past M5 segments on the nature of minions. Minions obey those who give them basic needs, hence the strong welfare state that the United States is and will remain. Keeping the population in entertainment (primarily athletics) and similar distractions keeps minions, Low and many Mid level incarnations occupied while Dark agendas advance. The minority consists of Americans who are aware of what is happening. Nevertheless, EndGame's Dark agenda is so advanced - like a cancer that will destroy the world, as intended.

This summer looks particularly Dark. Astrologically, July brings certain heavy placements in critical/weeping degrees where violence is expected. Example: Saturn will move from weeping 29 degree Cancer into violent 0 degree Leo in July. The misnamed 'Patriot Act' expires on October 1. The traitors not only want it renewed, but expanded. They know that unless another 9/11 type event occurs; this act will not be renewed. Since the traitors got away with 9/11 and manipulated public opinion to blame the wrong people, expect that this will reoccur before the act expires. After all a proven road is the best to take.

Check out this Rense feature as well:

Signs of the Next Attack. One thing about Matrix V readers is that you are informed of many EndGame tricks and devices. When it does happen, you should not be surprised.

You would think that after Nixon's fall in the 70's that America would have responded to the wake-up call. They did for a short while, but America has short attention span Gemini Rising in its national horoscope. They easily forget what they don't want to remember. Yet, the Dark succeeded with its usual "lone gunman" type bullshit scenario. It was just a few people...no more. Clip off the top of the weed, but keep the roots hidden so it can grow back. Yes, today von Bush is the visible top, with the stem (Cheney, Rove, etc) while overtly manipulating the top, does not reveal the roots which are deep and strong. Even cutting off the stem does not get the roots! The same roots that brought others have plans if the von Bush weed does not succeed to completion.

EndGame is very Dark. Graduation is our goal and we can leave this damned Game mess behind. Keep alert and sharp in your observations. When the next pile of shit hits the fan, you may be on your own.

London Bombings

London is the latest geographic victim of the agenda to remake Earth into a sequential planet. London is also one of the most video camera watched cities on Earth, yet the British government feigned surprised when a series of bombs happens “unexpectedly”. That’s because that London, like New York City on 9/11/01 and Madrid on 3/11/04, were all carefully planned to create fear, to generate a ‘solution’ that centers around taking away personal liberties and to instill more draconian (Orion) controls on the population. Yes, Blaire’s government is in on the deal just as Bush is collaborating on the American end.

The planetary rulers’ shills, Blaire and Bush were talking about “terrorists” and the “terrorizing” of innocent civilians. That is the same thing that the Americans and the British have been doing to the Afghans and Iraqis, yet their plight is insignificant. British and American invaders kill and mutilate Iraqis and Afghans with impunity. If one Brit or Yank is killed, it’s ‘clutch the pearls’ time and gasping over the horror. When hundreds of Iraqis are killed, it’s just another day, no big deal. The same was true during the Vietnam War. Dead/mutilated Vietnamese were insignificant to the American public. What we have is a new version of the old empire building.

Using some past empires as examples, the Roman citizen was held valuable while all non-Romans were intended for their use as objects. In the global colonial period, British, French, Spanish, Dutch and Portuguese were to be considered as far superior to the indigenous peoples they conquered. They had the advanced technology. They were “civilized” because of this ability to impose their will.

Blaire referred to those who bombed London as “barbarians” and “terrorists”. Since he is co-responsible for bombing Iraq and terrorizing those people, which makes him worse because, according to western logic, the British know better than to do this. Yet the American and the British governments are the terrorists and the barbarians on a global scale. It’s a double standard as it always is for empire building. They are in the process of forming a new empire based on the Dark agenda. They will terrorize, bomb and otherwise intimidate the world until they get the sequentialized Earth that the planetary rulers insist on.

Just as with the New York City and Madrid events, the British rush to blame “those muslim terrorists”. This is to direct public anger to an approved target. The biggest conspiracy theory generators on Earth are the political machines whose only interest is remaining in control. Those, for whom the Matrix V series is written, know this. It is intended that we concentrate on the word ‘muslim’ in these cases. Yes, they quickly add that ‘not all muslims are terrorists’. Then one should ask, why use the religious tag at all? Because global thinking is being programmed. The muslims are a Sirian-oriented religion. They do not have female icons like the christians and hindus have, for example. The christians are being increasingly Mary-oriented, as the catholics always were. Muslims have no such counterpart to worship. See the connection? Earth is intended to be an Orion dominated planet while the Sirian influence is being greatly reduced.

The Journey

When I listened to Blaire on BBC America, everything he said about 'terrorists' applies to Britain and America in Iraq and Afghanistan with the exception that the British/American actions are greatly magnified. That makes them the major terrorist groups in the world and the true 'rogue' nations because they are acting against the simultaneous path that Earth was designated for.

I knew that when transiting Saturn reached 29 degrees Cancer (critical/weeping) that something severe would take place. Saturn remains at that degree until July 16 when it moves to zero degrees Leo (degree of violence/murder) for another week. Keep watching to see what is next on the agenda. Blaire commented that this attack hit 'common people'. Of course! You don't expect to see 'terrorist' hit the headquarters of the Bank of England or the Crown. Anyone who falls for the lines being fed by Blaire and Bush are just being manipulated to do the Dark agenda bidding. EndGame is a mess and it's just going to get worse.

Three Planetary Events and the Number 7

After noting the obvious use of 7 in the London bombings, I started looking for parallels in the other two significant bombings of this century. I found what I discovered to be most interesting and am sharing it with Matrix V readers.

Interesting use of the number 7 in the London bombings:

- July 7, 2005 = 7/7/7 (2+5)
  - Bombing #1: 8:51 = 14 = 5
  - Bombing #2: 8:56 = 19 = 10 = 1
  - Bombing #3: 9:17 = 17 = 8
  - Bombing #4: 9:47 = 20 = 2
  - Add bombing times: 5 + 1 + 8 + 2 = 16 = 7 as the bottom number using numerology.
- This brings the date/bombing sequence of: 7 - 7 - 7 - 7.

Moving back to the 9/11/2001 event in New York City:

- September 11, 2001 = 9/11/3 (2+1) = 14 = 5
- Plane #1 hits: 8:45 = 17 = 8
- Plane #2 hits: 9:03 = 12 = 3
- Missile/Rocket (Plane # 3) hits Pentagon: 9:43 = 16 = 7
- Plane #4 crashes: 10:10 = 2
- Add plane/rocket event times: 8 + 3 + 7 + 2 = 20 = 2
- Take date number 5 and add the 2 for total of event times on that date and you have 7 again!

Take a look at the Madrid event of March 11, 2004:

The Journey

© 2000 - 2005 Leading Edge International Research Group. All Rights Reserved.

- March 11, 2004 =  $3/11/6 (2 + 4) = 11 = 2$
- Train #1 – 4 bombs:  $6:39 = 18 = 9$
- Train #2 – 2 bombs:  $6:41 = 11 = 2$
- Train #3 – 1 bomb:  $6:42 = 12 = 3$
- Add date number 2 plus train bombing times:  $2 + 9 + 2 + 3 = 16 = 7$
- Note too that there were 7 bombs

The mystical power of numbers has great meaning for the polarities. Remember for the planetary rulers and the polarities, there is no such thing as a coincidence in matters such as this. The number 7 is one of power, disruption and other meanings, which you may decide to research on your own. 7 is also an EndGame number. This segment reveals something that you had not been made aware of.

The 10th Planet?

In late July 05, suddenly the news, both real (several internet sources & small operations) and heavily controlled (major Game drum beating news outlets of both print & broadcast), was full of the discovery of a 10th planet in our solar system.

While giving it a code designation 2003 ULB313, it turns out those who ‘discovered’ the planet want it named Xena, after the television fiction series. I saw it as a lead story on the evening news (propaganda), had it emailed to me by various M5 readers and read about it on both Rense and Icke sites. For a new discovery that appears only as a distant light in the telescope, they already claim to know that Xena is rocky and ice covered. On the evening news’ lead story, the new planet’s orbital path was also illustrated with data that I found surprising for a “new” discovery at such a great distance.

Reading subsequent releases in early August 05, those who are behind the discovery claim they ‘discovered’ it in January 05, yet the astronomical designation was given when it was tagged in October 03. American scientists say they didn’t notice that ULB3213 moved until they looked in the same area on January 8, 05. In either case, something is suspicious with so much data so soon, as well as with the big flurry of news releases, for a distant point of light. If anything, I would be suspicious that alien data may be processing here.

This highly unusual name for a planet, Xena, refers to a fictional, TV female warrior. To keep in line with previous planetary names (excluding the bogus/unimaginative names ‘Earth’ for our world and ‘Moon’ for our moon), a Roman deity should be chosen: Athena or Artemis for female mythological warrior types. Matrix V readers can make the connection between female warrior/dominant types and the Orion Empire’s female warrior caste rule.

If this 10th planet turns out to be genuine, research astrologers will have a field day trying to discover what its influences may be for us. That is not one of my areas of astrological interest.

The Journey

On the other hand, all this may just be another diversion for what is going on during EndGame today. When those in power want your attention directed elsewhere, they conjure up something for the population to focus on while they are active in a totally different area. Keep that in mind when something seemingly grand hits the news media.

EndGame: "Human Zoo" Appears

The Associated Press featured a story (appearing in newspapers on August 27, 2005) with the headline: "Group of 8 humans on display in British zoo". The exhibit opened on August 26 in the London Zoo for 4 days.

"Caged and barely clothed within a rocky enclosure, eight British men and women monkeyed around Friday for an amused, bemused crowd behind a sign reading, "Warning: Humans in their Natural Environment." M5 readers, pay particular attention to the sign! A London Zoo spokeswoman said, "Seeing people in a different environment, among other animals...teaches members of the public that the human is just another primate." (Emphasis added is mine.) The exhibit features "three male and five female Homo sapiens side by side with their primate relatives".

One of the participants said, "A lot of people think humans are above other animals. When they see humans as animals, here, it kind of reminds us that we're not that special." One visitor, pointing at a muscled caged human commented, "the zoo should consider a breeding program". M5 readers take note of my italics. Remember the definition of Earthlings from M5 Gold Edition? This tag is meant to intimidate simultaneous path incarnates into not identifying themselves as the next step up in spiritual progression. Add now we have London's Human Zoo. Note the direction sequentialization is moving.

Stories about humans being taken from Earth and placed in alien zoos have been around for decades. Some would have us beLIEve that it's just science fiction. These zoo displays are not so much for being an Earther human, but more so due to the simultaneous path human. This is what makes Earthers so fascinating to the sequentials.

Remember too that the reptilians consider themselves to be the superior species in this Galaxy Game. They are definitely the oldest species. Recall that the aliens who genetically engineered Earther humans of today consider us their physical property and livestock. With these observations in mind, it was only a matter of time before certain sequentials would get brazen enough to actually create a Human Zoo here. Of all places on Earth, London, one of the centers of reptilian activity, has been selected. What a surprise!

The concept conveyed is that Earthers are on par with other planetary animals. Minions approve of this. Many sequentials feel it serves notice to putting Earthers 'in their place'. However simultaneous path incarnates should take note and learn from this display. If the Orion sequentialization is completed here, Earthers will know what it means to be part of the farm and a much larger zoo.

Once again, proof that sequentialization is proceeding according to agendas and that Graduation approaches is available for observant pre-Graduates. The appearance of this zoo is just another of many dire red flags appearing during this latter stage of EndGame. Keep your observational skills sharp. It's going to get worse.

Matrix V: More Questions and Answers

Continued numbering from Volume Two, The Graduation Key

Question 501: I just started reading your material about a month ago. I understand about synchronicity. I found out that my girlfriend and I are going to have a baby, literally two days before I received your book. I know that if I had read the book first, I wouldn't have had a kid, which by the way is something that I wanted most of my life. I think because of the timing that I chose to experience having a kid in this lifetime. I see a lot of good coming from it, however, I am concerned about having a minion incarnate. If that is how it is going to be, then so be it. I was just curious to know if there is anyway to tell. The baby is probably due in November. I know that Robert Monroe has CD's on connecting with the baby's soul. What are your thoughts? Just a little confused on the subject. How to deal with my girlfriend is an easier issue - that is just going to take some adjusting. After I read the book, I'll understand a whole lot more on the Orion influences and why she acts the way she does. My concern is more on how to raise a kid properly without any brainwashing.

Answer: Breeding issues are something that must be dealt with by the individual incarnations. Breeding and opposite gender co-habitation issues are pure Game and what each Higher Self must come to terms with via their incarnations. Of course breeding during latter EndGame vastly increases the chance that one will have a minion incarnation. Your Higher Self knows what will happen and that's something you will discover. That's part of your decision TO breed. If all you're interested in is breeding, it shouldn't matter if it is a minion. After all, you still have the result of your breeding. At my stage of progression, I have moved beyond breeding and the destructive opposite gender co-habitation swamps. Yet this is something that each Higher Self's Very Advanced and (ultimately) Final Incarnation do come to terms with: stripping away the body ID and preparing for Graduation. Breeding and opposite gender intimate co-habitation indicate that your Higher Self's incarnation is not yet ready for Graduation and, at the very least, is not your Final. Of course this is a complicated process, but different aspects of that process are discussed in all the M5 segments. Meanwhile do what YOU have to do and enjoy where you are in YOUR stage of progression.

Question 502: The Matrix V book is opening up a new spectrum for me. My awareness is expanding and I am applying the materials wherever I can: I booed the Vogon use of 'Earthling' in the new movie "The Hitchhiker's Guide to the Galaxy." At the moment, I will have to embark on another leg of the journey with the following books you recommended: Monroe's books, Astral Travel, M5 Volume II (which i just ordered), and The Christ Conspiracy. I studied the Scientology technology for two years straight (entered as a natural Clear) and applied it "in the field" for over two decades. In addition, I used Carlos Castaneda's books as a metaphysical guide. I got tested on this material frequently and graduated from it. In 2002 the David Icke books came into my life and now, the M5 project. In my enthusiasm, I immediately started writing to you and, erroneously, thought I had achieved True Balance. I know now, I achieved the Yin yang balance. With new concepts to contemplate and new experiences entering my life I will be busy for a while to come. It takes what it takes. Again, thanks for putting this material out.

Answer: I'm glad M5 is such an assist to you on your path. It was the aliens who coined the term 'Earthling' to attempt to keep us subservient to them. I would be surprised if they didn't use it. Castaneda was a Dark shaman. M5 Vol II will take you on a deeper journey in the M5 project. With Vol II, you will be able to access the post Vol II segments on the website. Have fun.

Question 503: I'm re-reading Vol. 1 and on page 17 you say that there are areas of our galaxy that are light polarity and some that are dark. Since we're in a dark polarity I was wondering if you could describe what some of the light polarity areas are like. Do they have religions and governments? Would they have like things like corporations? Would the geography and "people" of some of these areas be anything like Earth?

Answer: It is not for us to know that much depth of the galaxy, as you ask while we are simultaneously incarnated. The reason some sequential information exists is due to alien meddling on Earth and Orion/Sirian boasting. If they would not be interfering, we would not have the information we do have. That, too, is covered in M5. Your answers will have to wait until you Graduate.

Question 504: Recently, I was hired to a new job where I anticipated much positive outcome. A lot of personal goals of mine are starting to be fulfilled and this is very valued. All of these new changes feel very welcomed in my life. However, the problem that I am seeking help with is advice on how to interact with others, especially those that are heavily involved in the game. Part of my new job is being social with the general public, which I realize is something that I feel much regret about doing. I find interactions extremely banal and draining, even though I do not intend for them to be so.

My main problem, is a coworker who perfectly fits the description of an Orionized female. In such a regard, she is unknowingly hostile with me. I find that she does not have any comprehension of her rude acts, though she does possess a very strong willed attitude. She constantly pulls me aside to tell me bawdy (boring) stories that are mostly, moralistic in tone. What I would like is help with interacting with her. She hardly listens to the things I say, and I feel that this is not a situation where I can simply tell her to "fuck off." Which she rightly should!

Answer: These types of problems are something where you'll have to decide what to do. I work with cunts as well. Giving them the cold shoulder/ignoring them (except for work matters) does give the indication that you want to be left alone. Don't cater to them JUST because of their gender. That's what they are counting on. If they persist on bothering you, tell your boss you're being sexually harassed. That phrase puts the fear in them. They are counting on only females using it, but it can prove effective in reverse. It's meant as an Orion control device on males, so it can be beneficial for a guy to use it on them. But, just like each path is individual, so is each response to situations. Do what YOU gotta do.

Question 505: I am from India. I received your M5 book and have read it almost all of it. You mentioned that all incarnations take place at the same time. When I was 5 years old, my mother was driving me home. I felt compelled to shift my eyes to my left and there they were - 2 girls approx. 7-8 yrs old and 4 yrs old (I figured). It was a bright sunny day and while I felt compelled to look at them, I also felt repelled at the same time for some inexplicable reason. I was afraid that if I shifted my gaze that they would disappear. They looked familiar to me and I stared intently trying to figure out who they were. I got a shock of my life! I recognized them to be me!!! I asked myself how can this be? I stared even harder at them and then came to the realization that yes, they were me! Then I thought, 'no, which one of them is me?' They were white girls with blond hair and did not look like me at all. I could not differentiate either one separately as me. So I said 'okay, I am both these girls.' If I did not have this experience I could not grasp that all my incarnations existing at the same time. I agree now that there is no such thing as karma. If those girls did not go out of my vision, I would have stared more intently for an understanding of how they could be me.

The Journey

© 2000 - 2005 Leading Edge International Research Group. All Rights Reserved.

Answer: Matrix V has been well received by Indian readers and I'm glad that you find it beneficial to your path. Remember now that all simultaneous path incarnations are at the same moment but not the same time period. They are scattered throughout Earth history. You may have a vision of another of your incarnations, but they would not be all here in 2005. The vision would be for some specific purpose for you and not just idle curiosity. Keep yourself open to changes and pay attention to your observations. Religion is a trap as is karma connected to one's incarnational manifestations. Be true to yourself.

Question 506: I am writing to you from a small village in southern Scotland where I have just taken a week off work to read Matrix V. There are no words to explain everything I am feeling - the main point is that I have been looking for this material for a long time and wanted to say thank you for putting it out there. If anything, my sense is that I am a transitional incarnation - moving beyond any need to have a relationship, give my power away (to anyone who would have it!), be part of the New Age ... and that is challenging, exciting, scary but so absolutely the right thing for me to be doing. I have remembered that when I was around 13/14 I wrote in my journal 'ultimately we are alone, and if we cannot face that aloneness, we can never happy'. I didn't understand what it meant - my mother was horrified - but I have never forgotten those words. Having read MV, I am at last beginning to get a feel of what they might mean for me in this incarnation.

Answer: Thanks for your comments. I'm glad M5 is of use to you on your path. M5 is an evolving project, hence Vol 2 and then the segments since Vol 2 on the site. Do what is best for you and your path and the hell with the rest.

Question 507: With all the media hype, and the amazing mind controlled population of catholics (and others), I laughed at reading your observations about the Pope. At last some reality! It also reminded me of an interview done by Jon Rappoport with an ex-catholic priest who is obviously a very advanced incarnation. The interview was done in 2 parts in March 2002. I pasted them together and made a PDF file, which is attached for your enjoyment. Its worth the read.

Answer: Interesting read. Rappoport would benefit from reading the M5 series, since he's still searching for an external 'god'. It's a major jump to stop the external search and deal with the internal. Yet, demanding that 'god' have a one on one conversation with him is the arrogance of personality and body ID. The spirit already knows that shim is shim's own 'god', but needs to deal with that properly in his own Dominant and Final Incarnations. The body 'conscience' can use the weapon of doubt to try and keep the advancing spirit from probing too deeply, with such impluses as 'if god doesn't appear to you...you're wrong about the whole thing...or...you're not worthy...or...the devil is behind this, etc. These are part of the challenges of entering the Very Advanced stages.

Question 508: Have you noticed that when a star or maybe someone you know gets plastic surgery, their vibration significantly lowers? This is something I notice in people. I've known some, friends of my mother's for instance, who have had some work done, or someone on TV who suddenly has no wrinkles, and their aura/energy field changes significantly, it's as if I can just see them "sinking" down into their bodies and what they radiate changes entirely.

Answer: I only know one person (female, of course) who has had some plastic surgery. You are correct in your observation.

Question 509: A point about the word 'pope' is the use of the letter 'p' in his name. The letter 'p' is part of a lot of words used in english (the current dominating, limited language of confusion) to bind and control earthers physically, mentally and emotionally: Penal System, Police, Politics, Psychology (why is there a 'p' in 'psychology' but there is no 'p' sound thus no need for it?...because the 'p' is one of their symbols). More words used in everyday life that tie into the binding and controlling of the population include 'President' and currently, the most popular binding 'P' word in the U.S. is 'Patriotism' ("Ahhh...the smell of fear and conformity", said the controllers). 'P' can also be spun around to be a '6' even if it has a slightly different shape...and of course the number 6 is used in a lot of their rituals. I could go on and on but the point is made...they are Psychotic ('P' again) in their obsession with ritual(s). A true reptilian trait.

Answer: I agree with everything about 'p' except the number 6. The control number is 4 for the 4 pillars of control, 4 posts of a fence, 4 walls of a room, etc. 6 is a most beneficial number and one with a special vibration for Graduation. Well I learn something new everyday. I appreciate the info. That makes sense though.....if they push '6' as so called 'evil', it would make sense that it actually plays a role in graduation.

Question 510: I totally understand what you've repeatedly said about Higher Self access. However, my conundrum is that I've consciously been inside my Higher Self and seen HS from the outside a few times in dreams; it wasn't until I read MV that I understood where I'd been and what I'd seen. The experience of consciously being inside my Higher Self took place in April 1980 and it is an experience I have cherished all these years. I left my body, found myself bouncing on the ceiling; the most incredible light "came" and then I found myself within. At the time I didn't see any of my other incarnations. It was what I felt when I was there that to this day, I have difficulty finding the words to describe.... Once back in body it was hours before I could speak. One could say, I've been trying to get "back in" ever since! It's thanks to the wisdom and keys in both books that I realise a lot more wisdom and experience (plus loop severing) was/is needed before possibly being consciously within. The books have also helped me come to the awareness that my Higher Self also communicates with me through the paintings I create.

Answer: Jumping back into yourself allows you to travel up the crown chakra and into your Higher Self, if permitted by your Higher Self.

Question 511: Am still looking around Focus 12 for the "entrance" to HS but, darn it, I keep losing consciousness and can't remember where I've been! However, all is not lost as very often I wake up with a huge grin on my face and feel absolutely wonderful.

Answer: Bob Monroe told me that the key to Higher Self access is in Focus 12 and the way to do it is, once in Focus 12, you jump back into yourself. IF you are meant to have Higher Self access, you will. If not, don't worry about it. Higher Self conscious access is limited to Dominants and your Final.

Question 512: Alas, we're in the crunch period of Endgame and it's such a mess. I often wonder how much worse it can get before it gets better. From watching 'V', the original, the final battle and then the series, it seems Earth will suffer much if the reptilians and their allies show up, and stay. The controllers of Earth are also working hard along their own agenda. This, coupled with the Earth changes and the local difficulties resulting from Earther and Minion incarnates and their demands makes for quite a scene, lots to observe, not always easy to deal with. What a difficult time to incarnate in! I'm really eager to see how it all turns out. I often think about the chaos period that is slowly unraveling, what it would be like. The handbooks have been very helpful in suggesting that a way to get through this period is to be an observer and move in the movement of the chaos. This will allow for being at the right place at the right time as opportunities show up in the midst of the mess. Do you have any idea now what will happen to the DNA commands (both male and female portions) of those humans who survive the chaos? It seems to me that it would be best to be in a position not to interact much with females who are 'under the influence', if they survive. It would be great to have the vast majority of female survivors be very advanced incarnates who can handle the commands if they're still present. Any thoughts you'd like to share on this?

Answer: The body ID commands will remain as long as Earth is the simultaneous planet. Once the Planetary Spirit Graduates, life will be eliminated on Earth. That's the only time that the DNA commands cease: the extinction on Earther human life. Otherwise females will continue to drain male energies. It doesn't matter HOW Advanced the spirit is in a female body. It is the basic nature of the physical to do that. That you even have a body ID interest like this shows that your experiential loop of opposite gender attraction is alive and well even if somewhat subdued. You're still flopping around with cunts and getting drained, so the loop is intact. It is also your body ID that cannot conceive of Earther humans becoming extinct while the Game goes on. Meanwhile, you gotta do what YOU gotta do...and that's fine. Have fun!

Question 513: I made one more trip to Monroe about a week ago for starlines. It'll likely be my last trip there. The course was great, especially the astronomy part, and Franceen put together some useful material for references, that also further increased my interest in the subject. I had tons of experiences and wrote over 50 pages in my diary. Maybe I'll write some of my thoughts and experiences for a more general audience at some point in the future. It's a possibility at this point. The main focus levels used were 34/35, 42 and 49, with explorations of the solar system, the local stars (Acturus system, Orion belt stars the Pleiades, Alpha and Omega system and Sirius), then moving beyond to larger structures, finally to the galactic center. There were also opportunities to explore neighbouring galaxies. The vehicle used to move from 34/35 to 42 and then to 49 is called 'Voyager 8'. Lots of stories to tell on that one. Many experiences resulted from these journeys. Exploring this solar system was great fun. Some of the planets, such as Jupiter, have some very fascinating interdimensional portals, and the sun was fun to explore too. Some of the highlights were visiting a place much like F-27, which has a more extensive library. There I met with beings that work with a higher node of my Higher Self. I received a rote that was incredibly powerful. Most participants clicked out during this exercise (Wednesday night). I felt I couldn't take it, and went to bed right after this experience without even writing anything down. Many places and objects were explored. Some places in existence seem to be timeless and the space goes on forever in every direction. In general the energy during the entire week was powerful. On one journey I managed to perceive my Higher Self cluster from a distance above it. The energy was rather strong, almost unbearable! Later, at the end of the program, I saw a drawing/image of the exact being I saw in a book written by one Japanese participant who had attended starlines a number of times. That was synchronistic and good verification. I also managed to see my Higher Self from the outside.

Answer: I'm glad you're enjoying the experiences that you have been having. The Institute keeps having participant's mess around with the Planetary Spirit by adding energy into the main crystal, which is very Dark in intent orchestrated by those who are using it as a Light concept. I refused to participate in that when I was last there. I'm glad you saw the Graduation Key as well. Things are moving along with that.

Question 514: I do hope this correspondence finds you in good health and spirits. I do not recall finding any information (warnings or otherwise) in your material or R. Monroe's regarding psychic protection while astral traveling. Although there is strict warning in Gavin & Yvonne Frost's publication 'Astral Travel' against traveling without first setting-up a psychic barrier. Have you found any validity or reason to go through such rituals prior to leaving? Have you any experience with the T-1 Takyon Capsule or NSR-PFF Protective System and would they be useful and/or adequate for this purpose? Also, is there a real psychic threat while under general anesthetic?

The Journey

© 2000 - 2005 Leading Edge International Research Group. All Rights Reserved.

Answer: My materials are loaded with protective advice. That you can't "recall" this after reading the books indicates that the M5 series is not for you. Similarly, Monroe also has his version of protections. The T-1 has zero protective abilities other than what it is designed to do. Any stage of unconsciousness from sleep to whatever can open one to attack more easily than if awake. Yet, even awake, one can be zapped by astral violence. This is mid-Advanced stuff, though, and probably where you are, especially since you invoke mythological deities like the christian pantheon for assistance. Stick with what is comfortable for you and where you are on your path.

Question 515: This quote from your recent segment, "Sequential aliens have been trying different methods to keep us and the Planetary Spirit from spiraling out of the Game. Some of their techniques involve using various craft to manipulate Earth's grid points in order to subdue the Planetary Spirit....." seems to relate to the images on this site.

Again this has to be a link since it involves images. My question is, since the Planetary Spirit is solar based are these the ships you were referring to? At the bottom of each page is a link to the next one. On the last page in the series he has this quote, "Constant work, from very large ships. is this all one civilization, or several? Is it the Elohim? Perhaps Orion's Mintaka, or Sirius. in a galaxy this old and large there must be many others."

Answer: It's not quite correct to say the Planetary Spirit is "solar based". Earth's Planetary Spirit is Earth based. The solar connection is the Planetary Spirit's Higher Self. The Nature Spirit path is significantly different from ours. Anyway, your question isn't phrased clearly so I am not quite sure WHAT the fuck you're asking me! The ships jamming alien energy into the Earth grid are 3rd density.

An excellent author on the planetary grid is Bruce Cathie who wrote The Energy Grid. He refers to how certain alien groups are trying to keep the Earth spirit contained. Take his information and add mine from the M5 segments and you get a better picture of what's going on. Excellent book.

Question 516: The tibetan monks definitely have some alien influence in their information and practices. I read a book quite a few years back called "The Third Eye" by T. Lobsang Rampa . It was a pretty good book) that talks about the "high lama" initiations and astral experiences with insectoid like aliens. Also, the monks do a lot of chanting w/certain tones and just because the word 'spiritual' is often associated (by some people) with the monks' particular practice, many people assume that the chants are beneficial to everyone. Just as tones/chants can be used for positive effect, they can also be used for negative effect relative to the affected individual or group.

The Journey

© 2000 - 2005 Leading Edge International Research Group. All Rights Reserved.

Answer: You are, of course, correct about chant usage. If a monk doesn't like you, he can chant Dark chants that sound as good as Light chants. I have not read any of Rampa's books, but I know there are a significant group of Lightsiders who love them. I heard about him in the 80's.

Question 517: Just wanted to share some of my insights. Haven't finished reading Matrix V but get so much joy out of knowing I'm on "the right track" as described by you that I want to let you know. A few weeks ago I got the message of my Higher Self I was in true balance. Shortly after, I became aware of your book which I purchased. Nothing new there. Have been aware of the aliens since 1948 when I again incarnated. Ran through the whole gamut of being victimized, the victimizer, hateful, friendly to neutral. Although I could go out-of-body for decades I got slammed back in for the past two decades, possibly to become more grounded. Don't like it but work with it. At this point I am slowly beginning to differentiate between the various alien faculties although I still don't have complete understanding of their various purposes. Somewhere inside I still seem to want to "save the planet" although I am now more interested in spiraling out and see I can't change the Game. Anyway, your communications are giving me the last pieces of the puzzle I've worked so long to complete. Thanks! Love it!

Answer: I'm glad you find the M5 segments beneficial. 2 points: as long as you want to 'save the planet', you cannot be in "true balance". Also, refer to segments on balance and Balance in the M5 books. You have to strive for yin/yang balance first. Keep reading

Question 518: There was a show on the discovery/animal planet channel on Sunday that was a faux documentary regarding dragons. Basically, the plot was that these scientists find dragon remains in a mountain that was covered (now melting) in ice along with some 16th century soldiers who died trying to kill the dragon. blah blah. During the narration (of the "jungle" dragon) they made it clear that humans learned about fire from the dragons...that made me chuckle. The domain name (dragonsarecoming.com) is amusing in of itself but nothing really sticks out about the web content if one already saw the show.

Answer: Since 'dragons' really refers to reptilian aliens and genetically engineered Earther humans, it is correct to infer that 'dragons' gave Earther humans fire. Fire also has several meanings.

Question 519: I took a step back from the material for a while - it's been a long time since I have written you but have kept up on the web site. I am 35 never married and no children. I spent over a year deeply involved in your materials and others trying to get some sort of grasp for why I felt the way I felt. It was a full two years of being extremely alone but having one revelation after the next. Then I hit a wall - I wasn't developing on any level just being alone and eventually bored. My dream skills vanished as well as my focus - it seemed I was in limbo. I had no money and was barely holding a job. I had a bisexual experience that was unfulfilling. So I rejoined the Game. Now I have a job where I can potentially make very good money if I continue to play the Game. My plan is to make money to go to school to be trained in bodywork, which I feel is my next developmental step. My question has taken a long time to form. I feel stuck between two worlds. On the one hand the world is a cesspool and I want so much to Graduate and get the fuck out of here. On the other I play the Game to make enough money to put myself in the situation to keep developing. I find it difficult to play the Game and work with the materials both. Now it appears the Graduation Party will be much smaller than you originally thought ever since the revelation you had. The thought of having to continue this charade on another planet makes my stomach upset. I have far to go and not much time to do it in. I'm afraid that by joining the Game again I'll miss out on Graduation.

Answer: You have not asked a question, just stated circumstances surrounding your current status. Having a bisexual experience JUST to have one, will not result in spiritual Advancement at all. The same gender sex is not the goal, however it can be a link to more based on who the spirits incarnating those bodies are. Sex must be the bonus and link to more and not the reason for the hook-up. You have to do what YOU have to do. ALL choices have consequences whether you choose the Game or the alternate path. No matter what choices you make, you will disappoint someone. My advice in M5 is advice. Do what you will with it.

Question 520: Hello Author. I've read both M5G Volumes starting 3 years back. My life was turned upside down and I learned a great deal. The knowledge was thrilling but at the same time I had a lot of trouble knowing what I should do next. I'm only 22 and been in and out of college. It seems that with the rapidly decaying state of the world there not much point in pursuing a major degree/career. My advanced perspective and unusual interests has alienated me from family and friends and I feel very alone. Just one person to share with could make all the difference but that seems very unlikely. I realize there is a purpose in this isolation but I feel I'm beyond the threshold of what I can handle on my own. Everything has been building up and without any support I feel I'm nearing collapse.

I am interested in observing 3rd density dynamics but the vibrations around here are very harsh. I just don't seem to have much purposeful future on this planet and am strongly considering suicide to move on to higher matters. I don't understand what my HS intended for me in this life. My requests for guidance/signals seem to have been ignored. I believe that things happen as they are meant to but I don't understand why this is what was meant for me. The only things keeping me here are curiosity of what will happen and guilt over hurting others. My motivation/will are running thin and I'm open to any thoughts from anyone. Sorry to dump this on you but your one of the few people on the planet who could understand. Dreamer4ever

Answer: This is commentary on your current situation, not really a question and definitely not a question about M5. As long as you choose the position of "dreamer4ever", you cannot progress. You have to stop the dreaming and get on with your incarnation's purpose. Isolation (as it is with me too) can definitely surround you when dealing with M5 style Advancements. I have no one in my area either, so I do as best as I can even though I'd rather there was someone around.

Question 521: I still have sexual attraction for females as well and I am not attracted to males at all. However I seek to keep my distance from females for reasons that are obvious to us both. Effeminate males also have made passes at me but I wasn't interested as well. So now I am caught between a rock and a hard place because I still have my DNA commands active but yet my spirit has advanced well beyond being confined by the game. I'm to the point where If people don't like me they can f*ck off as far as I'm concerned. I have to live my life all alone then so be it I am ready for whatever is next. I HAVE ALSO FOUND OUT IT IS BETTER FOR A INCARNATION THAT IS SPIRALING OUT TO BE ALONE. I think it is better to be alone until you can find like- minded incarnates. The loneliness can be painful sometimes but it is necessary for spiritual growth. The lesser advanced cant really help you anyways. I will not be seeking any type of friendship/companionship from the lesser advanced any more.

MY question is that since I can see there is at least one person that is experiencing the same exact situation I am, once the refining fires passes will we both be at the same point as well? Plus you also mentioned how we have higher self buddies from pre game life would any of your buddies wind up at the same point as you in a similar incarnation? I just think it is interesting to see that someone is going through a mirror of what I am going through.

Answer: If you have to type f*ck instead of fuck, then the M5 materials are NOT for you! In your last paragraph, you ask questions that reek of conformity. If nothing else, you should have been aware enough, by reading the M5 segments, that being at the same place as others is not what individuality is about. Your use of a 'mirror' is sequential and not simultaneous. I am NOT your personal teacher. Any further sequential-based questions will go without comment and THAT will be your answer.

The Journey

Question 522: I have become more and more isolated over the last 4-5 months in particular. At first I was curious as to why this was happening. I inquired but did not receive an answer. So I accepted it as part of my growth and left it alone. Last Friday night I dreamt that my consciousness was present in this beautiful golden colored sky. The golden sky was punctuated with golden little lights, the sky was a light gold and the little golden lights like stars almost, were of a more pronounced, deeper golden color. It was a very blissful, peaceful feeling. Then right in front of my consciousness (as perceived in the dream) a majestic higher-self "jelly" floated by, and It too was radiating in shimmering gold. It floated slowly, deliberately, and as "I" rotated I was able to float over it, and looking down I was able to see the incarnation streams going downward and lots coming upward, as if into Itself. Then I realised that the golden little lights were actually higher self jellies, lots of them. They were all floating gracefully, intently, and there was a slight hum radiating from them as well. Obviously when I woke up I immediately logged on to MV2 site and when I read the Author's segments on isolation and growth, I understood then that my isolation has a deep role in my continuing growth.

Answer: Good for you....self-discovery is an internal and very individual matter, as you should have gathered from the M5 segments. The isolation is part of one's path in the Very Advanced, as per that segment too, and even more so for a Final.

Question 523: I would like to share some a personal observations and perhaps you will can me some further insight in terms of how I can maintain my present path. I find that the majority of individuals I come across in my daily life, especially at work are of a low level of advancement when it comes to spirituality. Recently within the past few months I started working in a majority female populated(85-90 percent) work environment. Of course most of the females there are heavily into breeding, marriage, "finding a man", etc.

Personally I am not into the type of behavior that the majority of individuals there participate in. I mean I have read both M5 vol 1 and vol 2. I am considered "eccentric" by others that I come into contact with it. So it is obvious that I would not find any like minded individuals there. The females notice that I am at an age where I "should" either have a girlfriend, be married, or have had at least one child. I find some of them indirectly trying to see who can "score" me first. But I have thus far no girlfriend, have never been married, and I don't have any kids. The females think I am gay because I don't make passes to them. I jokingly told one of the females that I was bisexual, so that she would leave me alone. I have found that one homosexual, who is definitely a low level incarnate, thinks I am gay/bisexual because the females who work there have told him I am. Personally I am not into effeminate males, especially ones that hang around and gossips with females all the time. On a side note this homosexual male has since stopped speaking to me at all (higher vibration) and told me why, which I thought was childish.

The Journey

Anyway, it seems that I am in this situation for a reason, however long it may last. I am learning much about the female nature from direct experience. What I have observed and experienced so far though has disgusted me to a point that I cannot tolerate it much longer. I find myself becoming isolated by the majority of my co-workers. Three coworkers, one who happens to be a homosexual and the other two who are females have tried to irritate and intimidate me. They have used low-level tactics to try and figure me out. All three of them tried to verbally irritate me by questioning my sexuality indirectly and being vulgar and low level about it. It disgusted me.

I feel like I am in a unique situation, because I have no physical attraction for males, but I enjoy male company better in terms of similar interest. But not many individuals male or female have similar interests as mine or are trying to move in a similar direction. I have sexual physical attraction for females, but I am at the same time repulsed by there nature and some there actions, and at times dislike being around them.

I don't know how advanced I am, but I must be starting to spiral out, because of the type of individuals I am coming into daily contact with.

I am getting more and more lonely. What can I do to make sure I maintain the path that I am on and get out of my present disgusting work environment?

Answer: I totally empathize with you. I hope you paid attention to my latest segment on Rejection & The Final Incarnation. While that refers specifically TO the Final, many segments apply to those in a Very Advanced level. The Game is rejecting YOU because you will not be bound by the Game. Your frustrations are those of being surrounded by Game players who are constantly trying to pull you back in either through the standard breeder route or even the flaming queen route. Both are contrary to what the Very Advanced incarnations are searching for. The females are trying to lure/shame you so that the shorting out process can subdue your spirit, as per my segments in Vol 1. The flamer is trying to lure you with the 'empty road' sexual route, which is a base level of the gay experience - a mutation of the Higher Self interaction of like to like. Neither is comfortable to you because you are moving beyond it. I certainly do not identify with the mainstream gay lifestyle, although I can see humor in much of it on an entertainment level.

You ARE in a unique situation. You are moving down YOUR unique path, which causes you to stand out in the crowd of Game players. I am totally isolated where I am, so I know how you feel although opposite gender lures are totally worthless to me because I know of the shorting out process and conforming to the gay mainstream lifestyle has never been for me either - too much riff-raff. You are undergoing a refining of spirit and are in a difficult stage. The refining fire is intense and severe.... been there/done that.

Remember to trust in your Higher Self. The end result will be SO rewarding for you and the refining fire will pass.

Question 524: A few comments on your recent segments. After reading segments 041228-050115 I noticed something. First, regarding your graduation segment. I don't generally get "choked up" when reading your material but this segment did effect me and I did feel something. So a heart felt "good for you" is the best I can express it. Second, I noticed that you "feel" different to me in the 2005 calendar segment than you do say in the graduation segment. The segments that I generally find amusing tend to "feel" different than the others. But, the graduation segment feels different (as best as I can recall) from ALL of the previous segments. I am presently at the beginning of a 15- day fast. During this time I intend to review ALL the matrix material I have to see how I feel about it now and I also intend to re-ignite my attempts at conscious astral experiences. So, good for you and thanks much.

Answer: Thanks for your observations. Yes, I'm a different person after my trip as per the Graduation segment. It is reflected in that plus the two ones following. Due to a series of events while away, I've become significantly different or rather enhanced. Your comments are appreciated.

Question 525: I wanted to tell you, to corroborate what you wrote in your latest segment, things in my life have been DEFINITELY speeding up like crazy for the past two, three months or so. I've been running into people I know that I haven't seen EVERYWHERE, and rekindling some old friendships from as long as a decade ago; on Friday night I had a dream come true when I got to play guitar with a quasi-hero of mine under a bridge downtown in front of a hundred people at 4 am; I quit my corporate job at the end of December and since then I've had several new massage clients just show up out of nowhere; my creativity has been at an all time high...things are definitely happening, my higher self is orchestrating many events, and I got the impression before the new year that 05 would be a very intense year with a lot of shit going down for everybody, on a global and a personal scale. It warms my heart to hear that you had that connection with those incarnates that you did, that's a beautiful thing.

Answer: Thanks...hang on to your incarnational hat...STUFF is on the move.

Question 527: Many thanks for the info you have disseminated, it has been and continues to be of great value to my evolving perspective. I have waited to ask a question for some time as usually answers are found in further reading of your material and reading others questions. However something in your latest post; Graduation Events, had me thinking about a similar question that has been on my mind for a bit. In your post you state that while this planet and many of its inhabitants are preparing for Graduation from 3rd density existence there is yet another planet preparing for the next simultaneous experience, and that (correct me if I misinterpreted this) those who are not ready for Graduation at this time will continue their simultaneous experience on the next planet.

Now I thought that the nature of the simultaneous experience was having many, many incarnations at once during a given window of "time" and the window of "time" for this planets simultaneous experience is closing shortly. So won't all the simultaneous incarnates existing now Graduate from this planet although not exactly at the same point in time during the window of simultaneous existence. The way I interpreted your post was that some of the simultaneous incarnates experiences on this planet will bleed over into the next simultaneous planet. This relates to a previous question on my mind regarding Robert Monroe's experiences with the beings of future earth who only take on human forms temporarily, then leave the containers (bodies) in energy balloons until further use as well as having the ability to take the form of any other creature on the planet. These beings said that in order to live as they live one must at least live one life during the dissonant times of earths existence prior to the harmonic time. Are these beings post-graduate beings or beings training for the next simultaneous experience? Hopefully I have worded this clearly enough for you to understand my question(s).

Answer: Your questions are well formed. I'm glad M5G is of benefit for you on your path. I can see how that one would assume that all simultaneous incarnations would graduate together. I thought so at first as well. However you graduate when it is your time. There is nothing that says a Higher Self cannot continue the simultaneous experience on more than one planet. Graduation is an individual choice/experience. Unlike the sequentials who progress as a massive group, the simultaneous progress as individuals and then reunite with pre-Game friends, if they so choose, for Graduation. This segment you refer to is new information. Something to remember is that you are not forced out of the Game. Your Higher Self CHOOSES when to finish and move on to other types of experiences. The complexities of the Game and its participants are not as simple as I try to show in M5G. When I view the magnitude of certain facets of it, I am mentally staggered by it all. Nevertheless, when you DO Graduate, all this will be clear to you in your complete Higher Self form.

As for Monroe's story that you mention, I don't know what parable that he is trying to show with this rather lame endeavor to harvest some residual energy around an other dimensional Earth. Since he is no longer around to answer that, I don't pay it much attention. When interacting within your Higher Self or with another Higher Self, you may reassume any one of your incarnations and 'play', but that's another bit of information for another time.

Question 528: Since reading the M5G volumes, I notice more lower astral activities that seem interested in putting obstacles in my path for advancing. This also comes from other people who are not the least interested in Matrix V materials. They don't want to let me move into this new area. Can you add some more insights?

Answer: Once you start to move above mid-Advanced levels, your vibration changes. This vibrational change relates to spiraling out of the Game and Graduation. BOTH polarities know that they will be losing a Game player and will do whatever they can to try to force you FULLY back into the Game. If you want to be 'safe', don't wake up. BUT that's the body ID'd way of thinking: safe & unchallenged mentally. Your Higher Self doesn't give a flying fuck about what the body ID wants beyond it serving the goals OF your Higher Self path plan, so you WILL Awaken and you WILL Graduate. The Rocky Road comes to ALL simultaneous path Higher Selves.

Question 529: I know that you mentioned that the key lies with the baby boomer generation, which has the biggest numbers of individuals born in comparison to generations born after them in the USA. And you mentioned that "the indigo children stuff is pure crap". Are there any major differences between the generations, which include baby boomers(72 million), generation x (18 million), generation y(60 million), with regard to how many minion/low incarnations is within each? I would think the larger the population the larger the minions/low incarnations. The lower the population the more middle, advanced, dominant, and final. Thank you in advance for your comment, and keep up the good work.

Answer: While there are many minions in the boomer gen, with each gen that follows it, the number rises. I have covered the over-breeding that is going on here in the M5G materials. Your thinking is in error as it is sequentially based. Not only are the minion populations increasing, but so are the sequential Earthers. This is all part of the latter stages of EndGame. Minion incarnations did not begin with the boomer gens. There is no benefit to becoming fixated on the minions other than to know they are here. There are plenty of distractions to one's simultaneous path incarnation during this stage. The distractions are attempts to trap one in an experiential loop.

Question 530: I've read Matrix V Gold Edition - Quest of the Spirit three times and now currently on the second volume - The Graduation Key. I've been an object of bizarre, secret, and cruel electromagnetic mind control projects and related tortures (sub-projects) for some painful long years. They're quite similar (but actually different) to those manifestations around "The Montauk Project/Camp Hero" (where allegations concerned the creation of "things" and events by human thought, where every single brainwave is controlled; manipulated and/or influenced). Like Valerian covered in MIII (and others like him as well), there are a lot of targeted individuals like me, worldwide. I've never given consent for this and never will. The question is, does this really affects my spiritual and human progression as I understand that my Higher Self (godself) will personally intervene when somebody (read modern day Nazis and neo-cons) is/are decided to take and alter my own personal and individual thoughts; privacy, mental stability, and life-death objectives? Is this based on my personal decisions and ACTIONS instead of what these animals are doing with my thoughts and related secret "directed energy weapon-arsenal" and supercomputers?

Answer: I can't answer what is going on in your life or decisions made by your Higher Self. What I wrote in the M5G materials holds for all Higher Self path incarnates. You are trying to judge your experiences from an incarnated, memory-loss point of view. For personal questions you have to look within for the answers. All I have to say on this topic is in the M5G materials or any potential future segments.

Question 531: A while back I had an insight and I wonder if you wouldn't mind commenting on it. I am not new to M5 material, in fact rarely a day has gone by over the past year and a half that I haven't read a segment of two (usually 4 or 5). I have often studied the M5G cover artwork trying to figure out what knowledge/clues could be gleaned from it. So the other day it hits me that maybe all or most of my incarnations are currently 43 years old, which is my current age. The only exception might be those who died younger than 43 (astral residing) and maybe my final (slightly out of phase?). I know all my other incarnations are in different time periods but from a simultaneous HS standpoint are we all the same age at this moment in our respective time periods? Thank You.

Answer: You are still thinking in a linear manner, so your assumption is incorrect. It is VERY difficult to drop linear perspectives while in the Game.

Question 532: I received my Matrix V - Volume II edition, and was unprepared for the emotional reaction that hit me when my copy was "released" from its package. Holding the graduation key in my hands released uncontrollable sobs from my person. I was so surprised I put it down, got a hold of myself, took a deep breath and picked it up again. Again, the same reaction, this time I held onto the book thinking that the emotion would subside. Instead, my emotions got the best of me, breaking into tears with the feeling of energy being drawn/or enveloping from/into my heart chakra. It took me several more of these episodes that day before I was finally able to open the book and begin to explore the new material. What went on there? Is the cover "keyed" to elicit such a response? Or is this my HS sounding out with a sigh of relief? OVERWHELMED.....S.M., San Salvador, El Salvador.

Answer: Very nice. It is YOUR unique incarnational personal reaction to the energy of the book, pertinent to YOUR unique path and what YOU need. Since your incarnational path is unique, you will also have unique experiences NO ONE ELSE will have. The exact meaning and import of the experience is up to you, as you will see. Ask yourself 'what went on there'? Do not defer to anyone else ... Read the segment entitled "Proof and Path Events"

Question 533: I just read that Kucinich has publicly decried the fear-mongering of the current administration. No wonder he didn't stand a chance to enter the the race, not only is he simultaneous in nature but he's the type to want to alert people to what's really going on! I also knew he didn't have a shot in hell when I was listening to a panel discussion among all the 9 original democrat candidates back in January, and he started saying something about how "our spirits descended into the material plane to manifest and do work from higher realms". What minion would ever vote for something like that?

As for the indigo children it occurred to me today that as it is a new age phenomenon, it is being pushed / sponsored by the sequentials; and as it basically pertains to kids who are brilliant from an early age, they are discussing sequentials; so it is, in essence, a program from the sequentials to push not just acceptance of sequential incarnates on Earth among the current Earthers, but for us to treat them as holy as well! Another aspect to the sequentialization of Earth. Only very cleverly done, as most Earthers caught in the low advanced realm would do this unknowingly, thinking they were praising their own kind and ushering in a "new generation." A common thought in the low advanced realm is that we as a race are still evolving, and these sequentials are the next wave of our evolution. If only they knew!

Answer: I agree on both comments with one exception to what you said in the second. The indigo children thing is not the darling of the low-Advanced, but rather the mid-Advanced under direction of sequentials. The New Age thing is very mid-Advanced. Remember the mid-Advanced IS the false plateau.

Question 534: Does a Final incarnation have to have the ability to astral travel in order to meet its dominant incarnations. If someone's final lived in a time period where things like the Monroe institute didn't exist or where they possibly didn't know about astral travel. Or does SHIM make sure its final incarnation has knowledge of subjects like astral travel no matter what time period the final is in? I would imagine that if ones final lived in the stone age, they obviously would be limited by the circumstances of the time period.

Answer: The Final Incarnation has all the abilities that the individual Higher Self deems necessary FOR that Final to complete shim's mission. Your other questions demonstrate a lack of understanding of the M5G materials.

Question 535: A new and curious experience has also happened that I would like to ask you about. In the emotional reaction to yesterday's events I was just short of exploding. Then it occurred to me to "send it home" as an experience. I released the powerful ball of emotion and felt it travel upwards and vanish. The visual association was the emotion going to my HS and adding to the energy/experience bank for the future. I tried this in a couple of different ways later with the same results. My question is this. Can we hold onto and linger in emotions at the incarnational level unnecessarily? Can we volitionally choose to release them to the HS thus consciously participating in the growth process? If this is true then it adds a whole new insight into the idea of being an experience collector for the growth of the HS. After the "conscious release" of these emotions upwards there was a whole body peace. It also seemed to educate me on the emotional fire aspect of the materials, in some sense, revealing the idea of painting with emotions.

Answer: Transfer of unwanted emotions to your Higher Self does not process them. You need to expel those outward. Unless you process them, you are only having half of the experience with them. Your Higher Self wants to experience the other half as well. You haven't grasped the concept of how/why the Higher Self is gathering experiences. Shim is not directly involved in it. That's the incarnations' purpose. So, learn not to try to pass the buck because it'll come back to you until you learn to deal with it.

Question 536: I am going to elaborate on my last nights experience, because what you just wrote IS the answer I asked my HS for in regards to my struggle. I was almost exasperated at the increased 'pressure' or magnification that has been occurring in terms of desire for nasty animalistic sex. The breeding loop and marriage thing as I've mentioned before is very peacefully resolved. However very animal lust desires have been 'forcing' themselves on me. Up to the point that I was thinking of just setting aside one day a month to get an escort or something (not really but on a fantasy level) that I could use that as my "chocolate" to tame the horse, so I could have the kind of nasty animalistic sex that I 'involuntarily' crave. Involuntary meaning that it is seemingly imposed from 'outside' of ME and contrary to MY true desires.

The Journey

© 2000 - 2005 Leading Edge International Research Group. All Rights Reserved.

Then I came home to an email from a woman offering me in almost the exact words of my own internal fantasies the things I am distracted by. It was so obviously an astral attack with her as the weapon reflecting what was going on inside of me. It was also somewhat uncharacteristic for her too which reinforced that she must've been an 'open door'. I immediately deleted the email even though I wanted to re-read it and savor the words and wrote a very firm response promising the termination of our friendship should this happen again. There have also been other obvious appearances of similar pressures to a lesser degree.

I really got tired of and angry about this goddamn struggle. I lay out under the stars, did the chakra meditation and stated my exhaustion and frustration of this fucking issue in my life to my HS. As an intuitive response began to formulate it was broken down into these categories.

- 1) My desire for orgasm
- 2) My physical desire for non-het sex
- 3) The god damn commands from my genetics

In regards to three, I could "see" my energy as a Higher Self move into and activate the genetic structure (as a byproduct of incarnating) that then took on its own energy form that subsequently activated other physical impulses and correspondingly produced thought images/impulses. Those coalesced into a command. This command had nothing to do with an urge towards orgasm. The next phase was remembrances of the past after incidents where I had obeyed the command. The relief of obeying the command had its own "rewards" independent of the orgasm pleasure. In other words, it became clear that obedience is programmed to produce relief and release on a non-physical level independent of orgasm.

Then in addition to that I realized the imitation of the Higher Self experience of Melding mimicked by the meddlers in the much-reduced physical orgasm was just a backup response/reward mechanism to stimulate the physical act. The imagery provided was based on the female form, particularly the breasts (just as I would expect from your other segments of how to get the repulsed original 'couples' together).

When I was re-reading M5G the other day I came across the section that you said that the shorting out process would not be realized until the higher levels. Even though I wanted to have it explained, I decided not to write you and ask. This was a purposeful decision to trust my HS for the answer and wait. How cool to have last nights experience and then your new segment all at once.

So in summary, I can see now my desire for physical orgasm can be differentiated from the meddlers command. When I hit my bi impulse and followed it (quite to my surprise since it was so "out of order" for me) I learned to associate physical pleasure with both sexes. The meddlers command associated with 42 years of association with female imagery is strong, but NOT stronger than me. Even though I can associate physical pleasure with both genders my desire for emotional union with either is at an all time low. This could be an intimacy barrier in general not associated with any gender in particular (but that's another story). Baby steps!

The Journey

Your segment today is PERFECT and explains exactly what I "saw" last night. It also answered my argument that if female/male genderization is present throughout the Universe, then why isn't it considered natural and why the fuck is it detrimental for me to enjoy it? If we as Simultaneous incarnates have a frequency signature that when combined with the meddlers genetic commands shorts us out now I understand.

The only remaining question is what causes even an Awakened Final to avoid the shorting process? What are the consequences? Or why would an Awakened final not be able to "override" those effects. If you don't feel inclined to answer that I understand.

Answer : Very good on your part. You are developing on your path nicely. As for your last paragraph of questions...I can answer with questions. What causes an incarnation to avoid using drugs, getting drunk, smoking or any other destructive habits? Yes, we've all gone through these in lesser incarnations for the experience, but eventually the simultaneous path Higher Self has had enough of them as they are seen as repeating and loopish. A simultaneous path Higher Self will only spend so much time in a loop, then move on.

I don't know what you mean by 'consequences'. What 'consequences'? Spiritual development over body ID slavery? It's not that one at my level avoids sex. It's that I refuse to have sex with the opposite gender. It wouldn't matter which gender I was - the opposite one will short me out. Even more sinister is a sequential incarnate in an Earther body deliberately trying to increase the shortening over a simultaneous path. This happens much to the glee of the sequential. Sex is good and sex is fun but it's either alone or with another man, for me.

The Awakened Final DOES have victory over those effects by denying the body what it demands, obviously. You're looking for a loophole that doesn't exist otherwise. If you are not able to win in this, you have to proceed with cunts. It's your path, after all. Of course there are also consequences no matter which way you go. One will take you to the sequentially approved detour. The other may take you to further discovering who you really are. You can't have it both ways. Decide which is more important to you and go from there. You cannot be an incarnation that you are not. You must be true to YOUR path and not anyone else's.

Question 537: I have read all the M5 volumes and I know that M5 was written for very advanced, dominant and final incarnations. My question was that out of all the incarnations that fall in those categories as well all of the other advanced level incarnates, only a small percentage of those received the M5 volumes. Unless EVERY single incarnation that is very advanced, dominant or final got the materials that means that some didn't. (not to mention the rest of the advanced levels). I was asking that why didn't some incarnations at THOSE levels receive the Matrix 5 materials.

Answer: Even so, the question IS answered by reading the volumes. That you haven't been able to comprehend the answer doesn't mean it's not there (more than once). I don't answer questions answered by reading the books and yours is one easily so answered. This should indicate to you that you may not be one of those for whom the materials are written. Nothing wrong with that. You are where you are, so push this aside until YOU can locate your own answer.

Question 538: I just took a few minutes to read a chapter from the book Synchronicity and The Seventh Seal by Peter Moon. Gee, is he mired in a maze of mirrors or what? The entanglement of L. Ron Hubbard and Christianity is weird enough (I know this from personal experience), but those interwoven dead ends he refers to as synchronicity felt totally lifeless to me. In my brief reading, I didn't see or feel any evidence of freedom (or hope thereof) such as I've become accustomed to in M5.

The power that was given to guardians, watchers and demons, made the HS seem insignificant and lucky if it snuck through this 'amazing infrastructure of evil'. Like Light was just a little trickle in a universe of dark. I don't know why it hit me so heavy emotionally.

It also reminded me of the implied basis of scientology, which is that you (the incarnation) are your own separate higher self. There is no accountability to any other level of power or being (excepting maybe L. Ron). You just drive yourself right into autonomous 'godhood'. If you encountered your HS on the way, they would instruct you to "destroy it" and reclaim your power. I guess what you get is totally lost until you 'crack' and/or cry out for some 'external deity' to save you. Then you have to strip the layers from that experience until you find YOU as your Higher Self behind it all. That would be a relatively fair assessment of the path I took/was led to get here from scientology.

If you consider that in the belief realms there are entire areas set up to emulate a series of dark universes like what he writes about, you could spend forever in them (Yuk!). Kind of like Carlos Castenada's last book "The Art of Dreaming". To think I was all excited about talking to him on the phone and finding out he was an ex-scientologist. I'm very happy now that conversation started as an order for M5. I can see it is very unlikely he'll ever read it himself. It would force him to unravel his whole existence.

Answer: Peter seems to be very into external deities in his Seventh Seal book, which is a hallmark of the Game. He keeps looking for more and more of what are Dark polarity manipulations. The Dark is like quicksand and can swallow you up. Carlos Castenada was a Dark shaman.

I see how many people are taken in by the 'genetic line Game' red-herring in regard to the knowledge they claim to seek. That these people will only consider those with the 'proper' magical lineage, like Cameron or Wilson, shows why they would not be attracted to Matrix V Gold Edition. If I used a 'name' that would make them think I'm of a 'magical' genetic line', then they'd be all over it. But since I'm anonymous, they are not interested. THAT tells you something. The knowledge they really seek is not cloaked in heavy mysteries and deep parables, but is plain & simple as the language of how Matrix 5 Gold was written and by someone of no 'magical' genetic lineage, for the information that they really need would never come that way. They are trapped by their own Game limitations and tunnel vision. Those who truly seek will find it, but not in the areas where mainstream occultists thrive. The Matrix 5 Gold materials succeed because they are not found where 'they' are looking for them. Those areas are heavily Dark-entity-watched which is why the Matrix V materials had to come from a totally non-connected area and succeeded because of that. Dark polarity has been wrongly focused on the obvious areas of occult power. The M5G materials were never meant to come from that direction, if for no other reason that the Dark was waiting to capture the information before it was made public.

Question 539: "The statement "M5 readers are FAR more mentally prepared than others who think that life will go on forever as it has been." is so true. I thought to myself what state of understanding I would be in if it were not for M5 and you personally. I would have NO clue as to how to interpret the conglomeration of strange events and phenomenon occurring in the world. Almost anything could happen right now and I would be able to at least put it in a context and continue to function.

I feel the point now that you are making more clear about the acceleration of EndGame. I can't tell you how much I am looking forward to Volume III. I am thinking about your offer to consider segments based on reader suggestions. I think that is a great idea and will look forward to seeing what other readers ask about. Will you identify the segments as having been reader requested?

The one thing that still irritates me almost every day is the ability to hear that irritating hum. There has been more about it on the net lately too. Last night it was so loud it bothered my dog. I had a pretty bad headache and as the hum pulsed so did my headache. I have read every explanation from aliens tunneling, underground bases, to an electronic net they've created as possible sources.

I have to wonder if it may be the mechanism they used to spread the May 1st depression we all experienced. I have also considered it may be some of the electronics they use to attack the Planetary Spirit. Since Simultaneous incarnates have a different vibration I speculate as to if it is tuned just to affect us? If you ever come across any information on this hum it would be of great interest to me in regards to Volume III. I can send you some of the internet links and a further personal description if you ever find any interest in it.

Answer: I'm glad M5 has been such an assist to you on your path. No, I will not be pointedly telling what segments are reader inspired. Many segments are just by something someone brought up that I followed up on. As for you hum, I have nothing to say and, not having experienced it, will not have anything to write about it. It's far more a physical thing than a Volume III item.

Question 540: "Early this year I found your work MVG and your assertions are intensely compelling, especially the concept of balance. That's probably the most convincing aspect of the work for me. The Game loops of religion and politics appeared very familiar and very easy to break. Thanks for what I needed to completely (instead of just mostly) break from monotheism and theism period! As for politics, that felt old hat, even amusing. Being alone doesn't seem to be much of an issue to me; in fact I'm quite the hermit really. Sometimes I feel my being a hermit is due to spiritual reasons, but often it's just my personality, other people's energies just 'interfere' with my calm, not sure how to explain that one.

Sexuality on the other hand is quite the trap for me according to your paradigm. Even if I'm not involved with a female, I'm certainly thinking of them constantly. I've gotten to understand better the nature of the male/female dating game and how much posturing is involved, but my strong desire for het sex is something I constantly give in to. I feel that even if/when I get good at the posturing game and get all the sex I can handle, I'd still be good at something I didn't really respect. Even when I masturbate, at the very moment of orgasm, my desire for a female just evaporates, until it seems to build up again over time. That tells me it really can't be a spiritual desire.

I'm writing this email out of a mixture of feelings. While I find your concepts compelling, I refuse to take it all in blindly, without proof, as I often did with Christianity (the family religion). To be honest, I'm desperate to know if this is true or not. In fact, minutes ago I awoke from a dream in which much of the truth was revealed and I could easily decipher minions from higher selves. I was surprised a few times as to who was and who wasn't. I could also feel some of the power from being free from the Game and free from a physical body. It was a tantalizing experience that sent me immediately to emailing you.

So, as the subject line suggests, my question is: Is Astral Travel the only way to verify this? I had an experience as a child (around 12 or so) where I experienced two of the classic pre-OBE signs - sleep paralysis, and the feeling of leaving my body. At the time being 'christian' and thinking I was dying, I said "I wasn't ready yet" and the feelings subsided. Now I'm desperate to have another such experience and allow the process to continue. Recently, after a couple of attempts to calm myself attempting to OBE, I quickly have come to appreciate that "This Shit Ain't Easy!" And thus, I am wondering if this is the only way to have proof. Your paradigm is incredibly emotionally impacting and I would swear off het sex completely and forever if I could verify what you have stated.

At any rate, I am deeply indebted to you for providing a new umbrella concept/approach to looking at the life experience. I don't have the words to express my gratitude and hope that everything you have written is true.

Answer: Of course your body is trying to regain full control of your spirit's desire to break free of DNA commands, hence "a female, I'm certainly thinking of them constantly". That you are unable to recognize this as a body command over the spirit's progression indicates a serious area of concern for you. As per M5 Gold's segment, you know what het sex does to short out spiritual progress. This is one of many situations where you can't have it both ways! Since het sex is more important than spiritual development, you cannot progress beyond certain levels. That is well covered in the M5 segments. You made your choice and now you have your consequences. It is the immature spirit that cries "I want it all on my terms". You had to sacrifice on one hand in order to enter the simultaneous path from the sequential. In order to successfully break an experiential loop or fence, you must sacrifice on path's demands for another's. The mature spirit does it willingly and not like it's a burden. As long as it is viewed as a 'burden', you are not ready for what the path choice involves or rewards.

I know M5 readers who have their personal 'proof' that does not involve astral travel. Each path is unique just as each incarnation in EndGame has specific experiences required by their Higher Self. Your demand for 'proof' sounds clearly body command oriented. The spirit operates in very different ways. The thing about 'proof' is that one needs to prove it to ones' self - an INTERNAL thing. Externally supplied 'proof' can be dismissed by the body oriented and DNA command structures do know how to deal with breakaway issues of spirituality. I keep stressing go within for what is needed. That, in itself, is a loop issue to deal with individually. As long as you are body ID'd, you will unlikely ever be allowed to find 'proof' for this comes when the spirit overrules the physical. HOWEVER do what YOU must on YOUR path. It may not be your incarnational lot to move beyond where you are. That may be left to more Advanced incarnations of yours. Enjoy YOUR path and experiences.

Question 541: " In a previous "Long Email", I asked about incarnational fate. I thought about that for a while and some of your other statements including "Enjoy your life...", "put to the side whatever does not work for you." ,etc, etc.

It finally occurred to me that maybe I am one of those mid-advanced incarnations for whom the book is not written. Maybe it was merely important that I read the book, take in some valuable ideas and pass the rest on to other more advanced incarnations. I'm starting to suspect that the type of sped up "spiraling out" of the game is only possible for the Very Advanced, Dominant, and Final Incarnations the book is specifically written for.

The Journey

© 2000 - 2005 Leading Edge International Research Group. All Rights Reserved.

For the rest of the incarnations, their most important role is to store up experiences and slowly move the higher self on to the Very Advanced and higher levels.

Thus, the desperation I feel for understanding more is possibly a futile gesture, and maybe I've gotten from the book all that I am supposed to get. Do you think I have thus answered my own question and am suffering through a rather common experience?

Answer: Excellent deduction on your part. Volume III will contain even more Advanced information than Volume II. If you go for it, handle what you can and don't worry about the rest. You have other incarnations that will grasp it fully even if it's only your own Awakened Final. You current incarnation cannot handle more than it was designed to handle. The topics/observations that you are unable to should be pushed aside.

Question 542: "If all 'time' is taking place simultaneously, how does one have choices? That is, if the future is already taking place, doesn't that mean that choices are already predetermined?

Answer: Remember that you are attempting to examine 'time' from the perspective of one incarnation in the Game proper. Our Higher Selves do not have this limitation. 'Time' is a 3rd density phenomena and part of the Game. We will not be able to comprehend this until after we have Graduated. The best way I can enhance the concept of time, from a Higher Self point of view, is the same way I discussed the creation of the Final Incarnation: a phased difference in the Game's time stream. Once you have Graduated and have become your Higher Self once more, then you will know. Meanwhile, trust in your Higher Self and enjoy your current position in the Game.

Question 543: "In the last week and a half, a number of scenes in my life have literally repeated themselves within a time interval. And I was completely aware of them. On one occasion, I was sitting in a park reading a book. Many people walked past. The book I was reading was about personal accounts of others during past wars and other kinds of social unrest. At one point I noticed a person walk past. For some reason I focused on this person for about 10-15 seconds, then continued reading. The material was interesting to me and I was thinking a lot as I was reading. Then after a few minutes, I felt that I needed to raise my head. To my utter surprise, the person I focused on only a few minutes ago walked past again, was doing the same walk, in the same way, in the same place, right in front of me. I was a bit spooked and ended my reading session to leave the park.

This kind of thing has happened a number of times in the past but now it's happening more frequently (or I am probably noticing them more and more). I would for instance get a text message on my phone, read it, put it away and then do something. A few minutes later I would get the same text message again. The same message! I would check my phone to see if the message was sent twice (in which case it would be recorded twice), but no. Sometimes it can be as subtle as the program order on my computer changing for a few minutes, and then changing back again. This does not usually happen with the kind of computer I use.

These things seem to happen after moments of insight or during passive thinking. It would seem as if my awareness skips from one reality/dimension to another, only with little differences between the two. Can you relate to any of these experiences?

Here is also a possible topic to include in M5V3, if it's not already done -- "As within, so without. As without, so within". I've been thinking about how this relates to the laws of the universe, particularly the fourth - The law of harmony and balance. You talked about "as above so below" in M5G in relation to the law of attraction. I would see if you have anything to write about this in the next edition of Matrix V.

I wait eagerly to see what will be released in the third edition. I hope it comes out before some real messed up shit happens. It seems clear now that the continental landmass of the US is changing with some old faultlines awakening into activity. Also with tension growing between the US and Israel, and with other political maneuvering, anything can happen. Perhaps another 911-like event to move the nasty agenda forward? Time will tell. But for the moment, the third edition is one of the events I look forward to. Keep up your good and helpful work, and thanks!

Answer: All I can say is strange things are happening ALL over in different ways to different people. This is part of the Graduation vibration. I have many strange things happen every week around me. Volume III is coming along well with several very Advanced segments. Volume III is of a higher 'tone' than Volume II, which was higher than the Quest of the Spirit. Planned publishing September. Yes, I want to see it out too. Volume II is the Graduation Key. Volume III is The Journey. Now you know! Hang in there

Question 544: "You have mentioned somewhere (I just cant seem to find it) that the concept of possessions needs to be transcended. For example: My House, My Car, My Children My Husband and My Dog. I have recognized this and am trying my utmost to set myself free from my possessions. Its as if they possess me and not I them. What I would find very helpful is reading about the emotional relationships (especially for the people one cares about) after one has set oneself free. (is one free if one still cares about someone.... etc. or are we only free if we are care-free?) I hope I have explained the topic well enough, otherwise please just ask me. Thank you for all your work.

Answer: I'm glad M5 is of benefit to you on your path. What you ask is a Gold Edition topic. Possession is not the same as an emotional/spiritual tie. If you think that 'caring' about someone is possession, you have FAR to go! With a person, think of the person who treats their significant other as an object. If 'care' were the only issue, the person would be free to be who he/she is. Yet, when they are the 'caring' person's possession, they set up fences and control to keep you within their limits. This isn't 'caring' or 'love', but control and possession. They care about their needs and not the other person's. This is a topic far below Vol III level and if you still don't understand it, you'll have to look for an explanation elsewhere.

Question 545: "A while ago I saw the film Final Fantasy. It is a S.F. semi cartoon film. In the end scene there was a powerful white torch of light sprouting out of the ground. The bundle of light consisted of thin filaments and was moving and rotating. By seeing this, it did something too me. It reminded me of a part the representation of a simultaneous higher self according too your description. But what about the creative factor? Does the human (=simultaneous incarnated person) have more creative powers than the average alien? In the Matrix V material it is mentioned that simultaneous incarnated persons do have a preset ending of the physical body. Also the sequential alien has a preset datum, but what about the minion incarnated bodies?

Answer: That you are so body ID'd (human), rather than knowing yourself as an extension OF your Higher Self, you ask the question you did based on a science fiction tv show! This topic is SO basic and covered in M5 Gold. If you read all through the M5 materials and STILL have to ask this question, M5 is not for you. Actually, from what you've written, you tend to beLIEve everything you are exposed to and are not at a sufficient level (for whom M5 was written) to discern truth from bullshit. I do not respond to questions already answered by existing M5 segments nor those that are below Very Advanced levels. The mid-Advanced levels have plenty of the basics already out there and this seems to be where you should be looking. Minion incarnations are an abomination. The minion incarnation path is different from the sequential/ simultaneous path. They are considered 'disposable' incarnations by the polarities as well as the Planetary Spirit. The basic rest is contained in the M5 materials.

Question 546: "I am about 75% through Volume I of Matrix V Gold Edition. Wow! and Whew!!! First, may I say that, being female, a mother, a grandmother, married twice ... I understand and see where you are coming from about women. At first, I was affronted by the blatancy and aggressiveness of your commentary about females. When I started working in offices in the mid-1960's (at Newsweek as a temp while going to college from 1965 to 1967), male executives strolled the hallways and felt free to grab a woman's breast or pinch her behind, without consequences. The young women who graduated from the Sister 7 schools blithely slept with the top editors and so kept their jobs and worked their way up the corporate ladder. However, I grew up in a household where we all tiptoed around daddy. Daddy ruled with an iron fist – he had a wife and 3 daughters (I was the oldest). on me. As a semi-professional boxer, he certainly had the physical, emotional and maturity advantage over me. I hated him and hated my mother for not protecting me enough. My husband is also reading Matrix V at the same time. We found each other 26 years ago as scientologists and people interested in spirituality. He has done a Robert Monroe weekend and read all 3 Monroe books; we have some hemi-sync tapes. I glanced at those books a few years ago but did not devour them; instead, I read pleidians, anything I could find about Atlantis, and found the trufax web site from reading Michael Tsarion's book on Atlantis and the chronology (blew my mind). Am reading the Monroe books now and plan to take courses at the Monroe Institute in Virginia.

All this is to say, Author, THANK YOU. THANK YOU for who you are and what you have done and are doing. I don't know what kind of incarnation I am and it doesn't matter. I've never felt christian, always closer to buddhism but not that either. Understood some of the reptilian history but not details. So, we plan to read all the Matrix books and just continue to get ourselves out of the game and watch/observe events.

Answer: Thanks for your email. You've had an interesting path. Yes, what you say about how many het men behave is very true. If the latter EndGame scenario was different, I would have approached it in a different way. However we're stuck with the Orion model for Earth. The former was the Sirian model. Now it's the Orion model females who are acting like the Sirian model males did. One would think that if females didn't like being treated this way that THEY wouldn't act like it now. The power of the sequential model! These are all meant as distractions for pre-Graduates.

If you move beyond the Gold Edition, you will discover that Vol II is more advanced than the Gold, yet you need the Gold background to grasp Vol II. I am working on Vol III now which is even MORE advanced than Vol II. Vol III planned for September publication. The blunt language of the Gold Edition is on purpose and intended to drive away Lightsiders and those not yet ready for M5. I am glad that M5 has been beneficial to you.

Reply: Thank you so much for responding. We will be among the first purchasers of M5 III. It's exciting to know you are working on Volume III. If you think the females are bad now, wait until Hilary is elected president in 2008! I shudder to think about it. In my opinion, she is a model of a cold, reptilian, controlling woman, without conscience or soul, and she is inspiring to many younger women. Thanks again and go well.

Question 547: "I would like to share with you with my interesting observations about activity (group) "Blue Light" operating in Czech Republic. I was a member of this group couple years ago (great experience, thanks my higher self) until I got a M5 book. Now I am on a absolutely different level of knowledge (such a beautiful from my HS).

At the beginning, this group, as its leader said, was based on the teaching and knowledge of Leading Edge Research Group, they presented the picture of real HS (picture on the front of the M5 book) but step-by-step this activity has started to be managed by other aliens. Now this group leader is exploited as a medium through channeling.

The aliens said they are Guardian Alliance, they came from the future to do some correlation in the human evolution (how interesting :-)) to achieve success transformation during period 2012-2017. Their teaching is called "Keylon Aramatena". How clear is this for me, with the knowledge of M5 books, that this is a manipulative sequential faction and a red-herring. It's an excellent experience to observe with a big smile.

Answer: I am pleased that M5 is a help to you on your path. Yes, there are alien groups that have copies of M5. You obviously dealt with one that intends to alter the purity of the information. Trust in YOUR Higher Self.

Comment from Val: It's interesting and a bit pitiful that some 'group' in Czech is has formed an 'icon' relative to Leading Edge and have 'adopted' M5 as a central platform adjunct to the sequential 'group' diatribe meant to distract simultaneous incarnations. A decade or so ago, I talked with the person who is the medium/channeler relative to 'Guardian Alliance', in order to ask her a number of questions, in order to ascertain any aspects of their agenda. It was very complex information of a level similar to the channeled Urantia book, but more technical. In the end, all these functionally constitute high-level intellectual traps for individuals in an Advanced incarnational perspective, and form at least a distraction, and at worst an experiential loop that must be broken, before significant progress on path progression can be made.

Question 548: "I wrote this early 2004 having not read any of your material. I have been under enormous attack from people (still today) after I wrote these postings. It goes on for about 6 pages but I do defend 'The Balance' to the end."

See what you think: <http://neardeath.ipbhost.com/viewtopic.php?t=1762&start=0>

Answer: You are doing what you feel you must from your perspective. This is not on the level of my materials of which I can see you have not read the complete series or, if you have, are not able to comprehend them by what you wrote. I am not here to correct anyone's perspectives. You are where you are and change comes from within. You limit yourself by thinking Earth is the only physical manifestation for life (no ET's nonsense you beLIEve in) and that you think Icke is one of the "most" aware betrays mid-Advanced level thinking. Now that's fine but you will eventually discover you have far to go yet. Enjoy your level and your experiences. There is no need for me to respond further.

Comment 549: "A comment of how the body muffles the spirit: 30 years ago I met a friend in the Argentinean army and we were 20. We become very good friends and cared for each other, and time seen to fly when we shared it. After we left the army we return to our respective lives. I moved to Australia, I also got married, and had a kid, and we lost contact, until I began reading some material from MV. After I dreamed a very real (to my senses) dream that I was looking for something in the old place where use to be the army. In the dream I remembered him. I searched all the telephone books to locate him, his name was not in the books. Finally I located him in hotmail. He is married and has a kid, but everything was dull to him. We began and intense friendship, that culminated with a visit from me to Argentina. Time there with him was very good. One night we were to have diner alone, and after that we walked, and I could see his eyes in fire with affection, I never felt such emotions, that seen to erupt in that particular moment. I wanted to touch him, but because he said was het. I did not do anything. He is very well aware that I do like him sexually, because I told him. That night we finished at the door of where I was living, and inside his truck, he began to explain why he could not have sex with me, although he admitted having some fantasies with me, he was afraid of spoiling the friendship if he acted upon them, and all that crap. His body was in one side of the truck and I swear I smell his body fear, trying to cover the wiliness of his real self to do it. Admirably was very painful to me, because it is not his body what I wanted to touch, although I learned to like his physical also. Later, when I return to Australia I invited him to visit. He seen very exited, and all was ok, he also told me that his marriage was about to end, until he told his wife he was coming to visit me, and she said NO. Immediately she proposed him to do something to give the marriage other chance, and of course when I heard that I understood what really happened. It was very difficult to talk to him after that, and he is very seldom is available to me."

Reply: Thanks for your comments. You are sharing an experience where there is spirit to spirit contact. Body DNA commands are set to sense these intense connections and respond according to Game controls. Unless a spirit is sufficiently Advanced, the body will win over the spirit. The body will alert the opposite gender connected person that the Game control is threatened as this bitch did to your friend. While the same does happen when it is female to female connections, the true threat to the Game's controls come to male to male connections as explained in several M5 segments. I have experienced similar spirit connections where the other person's physical was able to reign in the spirit. The bodies 'fear' you sensed was the alarm that his command structure was giving: a sensory SOS that DNA command structure was undergoing a severe threat. In these cases it is almost always a female that interferes. While men are from Mars, women are NOT from Venus (loving) but rather Pluto (controlling, manipulating). It is a most difficult lesson to learn and loop to break.

Question 550: " I had been so out of it the first two weeks of May 2005 that I wasn't even reading the M5 website, other things I normally do and enjoy were tossed aside. I even stopped my vitamins and brain lightening. I also was starting to worry about money and not being able to pay my debts, which normally I don't concern my self with because my debt will out live me so who cares (I have no heirs so I really don't care!)

Today was the first time in a while I have checked in with the website and I am glad I did."

Answer: Yes, this was a major Dark attack on the simultaneous path incarnates. Having experienced it myself, I know the depth of the effect. Luckily for me, my Higher Self did not permit it to endure beyond a few days. I know of others still processing this. Knowing what it was and how it was a global event by the Dark polarity should give you a better reference point when it comes to your own experiences.

Editor Note: See the segment: Attacking The Graduation Key & Matrix V Project

Question 551: " With all the media hype, and the amazing mind controlled population of catholics (and others), I laughed at reading your observations about the Pope. At last some reality! It also reminded me of an interview done by Jon Rappoport with an ex-catholic priest who is obviously a very advanced incarnation. The interview was done in 2 parts in March 2002. I pasted them together and made a PDF file, which is attached for your enjoyment. It's worth the read. (CatholicPriestInterviews.pdf) "

Answer: Interesting read. He would benefit from reading the M5 series since he's still searching for an external 'god'. It's a major jump to stop the external search and deal with the internal. Yet, demanding that 'god' have a one-on-one conversation with him is the arrogance of personality and body ID. The spirit already knows that shim is shim's own 'god', but needs to deal with that properly in his own Dominant and Final Incarnations. The body 'conscience' can use the weapon of doubt to try and keep the advancing spirit from probing too deeply, with such impulses as 'if god doesn't appear to you...you're wrong about the whole thing...or...you're not worthy...or...the devil is behind this, etc. These are part of the challenges of entering the Very Advanced stages.

Question 552: " Have you noticed that when a star or maybe someone you know gets plastic surgery, their vibration significantly lowers? This is something I notice in people. I've known some, friends of my mother's for instance, who have had some work done, or someone on TV who suddenly has no wrinkles, and their aura/energy field changes significantly, it's as if I can just see them "sinking" down into their bodies and what they radiate changes entirely."

Answer: I only know one person (female, of course) who has had some plastic surgery. You are correct in your observation.

Question 553: " Well it does seem to be heating up rather quickly on the world stage right now, and while I am very excited about another volume of the Matrix series I begin to wonder just how much longer the present state of internet and communications will be allowed to continue. However I do trust in the fact that those that need to receive the info will find a way to receive it. While there is a MASSIVE amount of info in the first two gold volumes (still processing a lot after a third read through) there is one thing that I can think of that I have questions about. I was curious as to what degree the higher selves used or know of true Balance before entry into a 3rd density game? Is the only way to gain knowledge of Balance by immersing oneself in the raging polarities or is there a basic understanding of this "alignment"(or perhaps more correctly "non-alignment") by pre-game higher selves? Is it this knowledge and application of Balance that makes up the unique aura of game Graduates or is it something else as well? Along the same lines I was curious as to whether pre-game higher selves have any concept of dark or light, and if so is that what determines which sequential group race that higher self initially incarnates into (such as higher selves of a lighter side incarnating into some races and those of a more darker tint incarnating into Orion reptilians)? Basically is the whole purpose of 3rd density games the understanding and application of Balance (perhaps only an elementary principle in the grander scheme of the Source)? Many thanks again for all your and Val's contributions to the expanding and evolving of mine and doubtless many others perspectives, the energy infused within your information is truly a breath of fresh air in suffocating times."

Answer: I'm glad that M5 is such an assist to you on your path. Some excellent questions here...so much so that I just finished a segment for Volume III that will answer them. It is entitled: Balance & The Higher Self. Hang in there.

Question 554: "Earther astronomy has located a system with 3 suns. Can you comment on this phenomenon?"

Answer: As revealed in previous Matrix V segments, a sun indicates the presence of a Nature Spirit path Higher Self participating in the Game. The sun also relates directly to the planetary configuration of that system. Earth's Planetary Spirit is directly connected to our sun, as are all other Planetary Spirits in this solar system. In a binary system, there are two Nature Spirit path Higher Selves working in unison. With the discovery of three suns in a single system, we now know of three Nature Spirit path Higher Selves working on a project together.

The Nature Spirit path in a Galaxy Game is significantly different than the sequential/simultaneous paths that our Higher Selves chose. The Nature Spirit path also experiences Dark and Light polarities although in very different ways. Knowing exactly how is something we must wait until after Graduating the Game to know. This includes knowing the purpose for binary and tertiary suns in the Game.

Question 555: " I'd like to know which of the two following situations you'd describe as spiritual progress: Situation #1: A person intellectually evaluates a particular spiritual concept and accepts its validity without ever having a related experience (in any incarnation). He follows this higher spiritual concept without having learned from actual experience. Situation #2: A person learns of a spiritual concept, finds it interesting, but a bit 'out of his range' spiritually. He goes on to have numerous experiences that eventually lead back to the spritual concept he at one time was not ready to live instead of intellectually agree with. This is just one of numerous thoughts your work makes me ponder. I would appreciate hearing your thoughts on this issue."

Answer: Since you've read M5, you should know there is no right/wrong and no ONE path. You are looking for a 'one path' with this question, which shows you haven't fully comprehended M5. My answer is thus given!

Question 556: "When I die I imagine being in a construct (created for the simultaneous by you know who) in which only one's experience and depth of development can get him through to the library or graduation. Will a person with significant development know when they are dead? Is the first statement a correct statement? Thank you for your materials. They have greatly helped me to have the will to live life in a productive and consciously creative manner - rather than reactive."

Answer: When YOU die, you'll just have to see for yourself! What YOUR Higher Self has in mind for YOUR current incarnation is not for me to know. I'm glad M5 is of benefit to you on your path.

Question 557: " I happened to be up last night when the London bombings occured. I made a bet with myself as to how long it would take the "authorities" to blame Al-Qaeda and sure enough, within a few hours it was plastered on all the networks that this was definitely their work. Then magically some secret European Al-Qaeda group is claiming responsibility. The bullshit never ends!! Yet, what's most disturbing I guess is how the majority of people immediately buy into all these fabricated events. I visited an old friend today and he brought up the event and I gave him my view on it, which obviously is vastly different from what he expected. The blank look that I got back was amazing. He grew silent and didn't want to talk about it anymore. There are others that I know that instead would get extremely pissed off or call me a conspiracy nut. I have to admitt that even though I'm trying to observe and learn as much as I can, the last few weeks I have felt a rapidly increasing emotional and mental "heaviness", to an extent that I've never felt previously. In observing most of my co-workers, I don't detect any of them feeling like this. They all continue with their lives as if everything is fine, talking about their investments, retirement, kids growing up etc. Quite a fascinating paradox to observe!! Several of them though have approached me the last few days because they've noticed the change in my behavior. This "heaviness" has made me very quiet and introspective and it makes them feel uncomfortable. I don't know if I'm being "zapped" or it's my physical body realizing that time is almost up!"

Answer: You are correct and the actual "conspiracy nuts" are those who believe the government that spawns these lies. I will be doing a segment for the site on the London bombings. The anxiety related feelings you are having are being shared by all those sensitive to what's going on. There are physical reasons: government electro/chemical attacks and also energy pulses from your Higher Self to separate yourself from the mobs of minions, sequentials and Game devotees.

Question 558: " I have read in several places how darks plans are not going how they intend and they are frustrated and so on. In one of Val's earlier works, for example, it was predicted 1995 was when the proverbial shit was going to hit the fan. How come so many predictions have been incorrect? Looks to me like dark has things pretty well in hand - what's the delay? Does it have anything to do with me as an individual? Like my life is a construct created to deflect me as long as possible. I had an illness in the family lately and it brought together several family members together I haven't seen in a long time. I thought to myself several times about how you 'lost' all your family. I wondered if you intentionally cut yourself off from them because they were intended to distract and bring you down. On the one hand it seems we have many lives with the same group of Higher Selves. On the other I wonder if dark can pick our family and friends in order to best distract us. I've been having a lot of thoughts about artificial constructs lately. Like many of the people in my life are around to try and bring me down. Philip K. Dick's book Time Out Of Joint really brought this idea home.

Answer: I can't answer questions about what Val wrote over a decade ago. You'll have to ask him. Yet, "shit" has been hitting the fan for years now. Apparently you have become so used to it that you can no longer tell when it's being flung at you! That's just how they want it. It allows them to get away with more shit as the public becomes numb to what's going on. This numbness comes from indifference, minion incarnations and electrical/chemical desensitizing. The Dark is quite convinced that it has everything going the way of the major agenda plans. They have minor setbacks here and there, but overall, it appears to be going as planned. You, however, are at an incarnational level that is not Advanced enough to realize all this. True, it takes an Awakened Final to have the best advantage in seeing the Game for what it is and there are very few of them around today - relatively speaking. You are bound by your own incarnational limitations and must live with them. That is part of what you need to experience during these latter stages of EndGame.

The polarities will be in for another rude shock when Earth path Graduation occurs. They have had this shock with each simultaneous path Graduation. Each time they beLIEve that they can compensate for it with the next simultaneous path planet. They are caught in their own experiential loop that cannot be broken from the sequential path. Part of my personal

Awakening process involved me making choices that would have biological relatives cut me off. I did not "choose" this situation. From where I am today, I see that it was necessary for me to experience this, though.

While BOTH polarities have a lot of power, the single most potent source, for you, is YOUR Higher Self and not either polarity. I have been stressing that over and over in the M5 materials: Trust in YOUR Higher Self. Until you are able to do that, doubts and fears will continue to pepper you with Game initiated plagues. Yet, until you are your Awakened Final Incarnation, this happens to varying degrees.

Question 559: " Firstly I would like to say a big thank you for such a monumental work on matrix V. I read the gold edition in 2004 and wow what an eye opener that was. I recall that night after reading the first few pages of MV, in my dream I saw myself standing with my palm outstretched and a golden beam of light shot out of my palm and went straight up into the sky. The feeling this evoked was a sense of accomplishment of major proportions. One of the primary points in Matrix V for me was the segments dealing with gay sexuality. As a young gay man that was one of the keys I needed to turn a new leaf in my understanding and acceptance of my sexuality. Living the first law of like-attracts-like is truly liberating in ways that is truly astounding. An example of this is a huge increase in creativity. I live in Toronto Canada and everywhere I look, I observe the many truths of the game as stated by the author. Some days I can't wait for it to end due the heaviness of the game's vibration at this time.

Years ago a I read a series of books by Michael J Roads and one of these books was called "a journey into oneness" which is an astounding account of the authors journey into the nature realms. It gives an overview of how the nature spirit higher self uses mineral rock plants, trees and animals through its evolution. In the latest Matrix project, I would like to suggest a topic in the new book: what are the key areas of interactions between the earth spirit higher self and the simultaneous higher selves and how does this affect the development of each type of higher self path development. Another topic: How does the nexus of time affect the flow of time on a planet and whether that affects the basic physical laws surrounding the planetary vicinity. Also what are the key processes the higher self is engaged in during the incarnational phases such as updating internal memory or evaluating various key situations on its path development etc? Thank you once again for this great engaging funny and truthful work. I look forward to the new Matrix book and also to graduation day. Now that is something to be joyful about.

Answer: Thanks for the comments. I'm glad that M5 is beneficial to you on your path. Your reported dream indicated your part in the formation of the Graduation Key, as per the segments in Volume II. Nice to hear from you about that, though. You live in Toronto...how neat. I'll be watching the series finale of Queer As Folk tonight. I've never been to Toronto, but Canada is a far better place to live than cesspool Amerika with the religious fascists in charge. The Nexus of Time is a feature of each simultaneous path

Higher Self ONLY. One's Nexus has no bearing on any other Higher Self or the Game as a whole. I am limited to what I can say about the interactions between our Higher Selves and the Planetary Spirit, although I do say much more in Volume III. Much of what you want will have to wait until your Higher Self Graduates. Your last question is already addressed throughout the M5 series.

Question 560: "With the discovery of a new "10th planet" came calls to remove Pluto as a planet altogether. Do you have comments as to why?"

Answer: Pluto was not discovered until 1932. The discovery of Pluto coincided with the latter EndGame cycle. In astrological terms, Pluto represents transformations, the phoenix effect, complications and other subjects. Pluto is also the planet of polarity controls. Proper understanding of Pluto's astrological effects exposes Dark and Light manipulations. This is especially unsettling to the Dark, thriving without being observed and moving in shadows, which feels exposed. While it is in the interest of BOTH polarities to have Pluto removed as an official planet, Dark has the most to be gained by this astronomical reversal. Nevertheless, the cat is out of the bag and whatever 'official' 3rd density science may say, the use of Pluto's astrological implications from Earth will not be going away.

Question 561: "I understand your materials to a very high degree of clarity. However, I do not pronounce any skill within telepathy or conscious astral travel. That being said, "interesting" things have happened to me. Small amounts of telepathy, synchronicity, seeing auras and even seeing a reptilian in someone's aura! Lucky me! However, with my intuitive understanding of your ideas as being fairly accurate, I am still Body I.D'd in the sense that I am heterosexual (not that I really play that game, I never find anyone that I "click" with, even though I am considered "good looking") and just go experience to experience, quitting jobs every three months because I am not satisfied and going through waves of enjoyment of "the game" and waves of utter discontent.

Answer: You are who you are. Just enjoy that. Don't try fitting yourself into any presumed definition. Only YOUR Higher Self can answer your question pertaining to yourself to the level of answer you want.

Question 562: "I really enjoyed Monroe's trilogy. His work gives an excellent foundation for the Matrix V books. Can you explain what some of his motives were with some of his journeys? I'm curious about several things that he wrote about and I want to know more about his purpose in reporting certain things as well as certain topics he mentions that I never heard of before."

The Journey

© 2000 - 2005 Leading Edge International Research Group. All Rights Reserved.

Answer: Yes, I always say that the Monroe trilogy should be read before the Matrix V books. Something that M5 readers must keep in mind: only Bob Monroe can answer why he wrote what he wrote. Only Monroe can tell you what was on his mind when he had his experiences and why he chose to reveal what he did. Numerous events in his books are removed from Earth 'time periods'. Some things seem to be written in parables. I know from my visits with him at the Institute that he wanted to stimulate the desire for readers' explorations, not just provide a travelogue. With that in mind, do not ask me why Bob did this or wrote that. I cannot tell you what he was thinking. If you really want to know, you'll have to try and locate him on the astral or access the Library on 27.

Question 563: "A new study (August 2005) just says that coffee is probably the best drink for you on Earth? Any comments?"

Answer: The thing about coffee is that today it's "good for you", yesterday it was "bad for you", the day before that it was "good for you" and so on. These yo-yo 'studies' are meant to keep everyone off balance. Personally, I like the smell of coffee but hate the taste. This all goes back to sequentializing and standardizing path choices. Fuck all these studies, especially those that are AMA based or connected. They have their own agendas. BBC America recently had a story that homeopathy is 'bad' and it is no more than a placebo at best. I have used homeopathy for years and it works. There is no money in homeopathic remedies and cures so the AMA and their British counterpart despise it. Homeopathy works with your immune system while allopathic medicines work against it. Allopathic drugs are geared to making your immune system dependent on them. There are a several good exposes of allopathic medicine in print. What it all comes down to is: Eat/Drink and Do whatever for your experiences and not for anyone else or anyone else's reasons! Remember the simultaneous path is about individual experiences and not getting on the bandwagon where everyone is doing the same thing for a group oriented reason.

Question 564: "Do you have any comments on the event that brought the destruction of New Orleans and the surrounding region?"

Answer: Hurricane Katrina, which brought about this event (end of August 2005), is primarily connected to the Graduation spiral of Earth's Planetary Spirit. However there are other factors involved as well and M5 readers should be particularly observant. Note the mob mentality of many of those who chose to remain in New Orleans rather than evacuate when they could. Widespread looting, the formation of armed gangs and shooting of rescue helicopters have been reported; yet they are not telling the whole story in the media (no surprise there). From what is seen in the news, minions are reverting to their basic Nature

Spirit inclinations and are acting like animals. Of course, it doesn't take much for Low level incarnates to act as pure body ID with the spirit overtones of the survival nature. One's incarnational spiritual level determines the amount of body ID rule as stated in the M5 materials. The wailing over death is also a body ID matter since the spirit is immortal.

Similarly, the stampede in Baghdad (8/31/05) where over 700 died is indicative of minion majority activity. The word 'stampede' itself is connected to mass animal behavior. The sequentializers are also using the hurricane event to further their agendas. The whole fabric of simultaneous path Earth is crumbling due to sequential path interference and manipulation, all pre-Graduation events and the activation of the Graduation Key. Those who are still clinging to the Game will be able to continue it on the next simultaneous path planet. For those who will be Graduating from the Earth playground, it will be like leaving mythological hell behind! Are you ready, really ready?

Question 565: "I have heard a variety of comments on soy products and they are almost all good. What are your opinions on soy?"

Answer: Soy is heavily pushed as a food. Lightsiders love it, for example. If you go to a health food store, soy is almost everywhere in product ingredients and the list of soy heavy products has increase dramatically. Yet soy is loaded with estrogen. My homeopath warns against using soy. There is also a Darkside element to soy that is not well known. Soy will make males more docile and enhances Orion DNA command structures to cater to/obey females. On the other hand, soy makes females more aggressive. The usage of soy is part of the Orion agenda. Everyone has their path to follow, but you may want to keep this in mind the next time you shop.

Question 566: "My question regards the topic of shamanic journeys , I had a bit of training in the classic" new age" technique ( michael harner, jonathan horowitz ) with good results but a lot of things didn't add up in my mind, as I was contemplating the the inner works of the journeying process I came to the conclusion that the shamanic journeys are a form (imagery/associations) for conscious intention to manifest and I paralleled the trance state to a between state of directed dreaming (hippnogogic imagery) to oobe. As I read more and practiced more I concluded that their are more direct ways of obtaining same results and without invoking all sort of spirits (animal spirits etc..) for help ( even if only by intention) also understanding that most of the guides are higher self extensions, I understand that imagery ( or any sensory input that has an outline) is a way of communicating in astral subtleties (even in the communication of the higher self to its incarnation). My question: Is there a more direct/essential way of journeying that you can share?"

Answer: While shamanic work has been touched on in M5, it is not the purpose of M5 to teach how. Unless one is properly taught by genuine shamans, as opposed to pseudo-shamanic hacks, one cannot ever become a shaman. True shamans are rare. I met 2 people locally who claim to be 'shamans'. When I asked about their training, they said they "read a couple books" and "went to a weekend seminar". They are deceiving themselves and any to whom they present themselves as "shamans". Pseudo/faux shamans are fairly common. One does not become a shaman by reading a book nor by attending a weekend seminar. It takes years of dedication. Unless I directly approach an individual, I will not teach shamanic practices or techniques. The only site I can recommend is www.medicinegarden.com Eileen is a shaman and has properly taught shamans available for commercial work. I have nothing more to say on this topic.

Question 567: "When Graduation arrives, does this mean that everyone who is to Graduate does so at the same time?"

Answer: No! The key simultaneous path usage of the word 'Graduation' is connected to the Planetary Spirit's Graduation. Remember that being on a simultaneous path, individuality is stressed. Some of you think that we are all Graduating as a group. We do not progress nor depart as a planetary unit. Life will no longer be sustainable here when Earth's Planetary Spirit Graduates. Any Higher Self pre-Graduates who are still on Earth at that time, of course, proceed on to their own Graduation. This exit time was a pre-set experience by those individual Higher Selves. Many more will depart before the Planetary Spirit. This is all connected to individual Higher Self path needs. I may drop dead next month. As A Final, this herald's my Higher Self's Graduation when I engage my Nexus of Time. Remember that your time and manner of incarnational death was chosen by you (as your Higher Self) before you were incarnated. From our perspectives, Graduation should be looked upon as the death of your current incarnation during this latter stage of EndGame. Do not be concerned about any others. Your Final will activate your Nexus of Time and that means your Graduation has occurred no matter what else is happening on 3rd density Earth. From a Higher Self report, TOO many incarnations wrongly think that all pre-Graduates will be departing the Earth at the same time. It's very fitting that the final Q&A for the book come from the Higher Selves on behalf of their incarnations.

Matrix V: More Reader Commentary

"Last night I made two trips while projected in the 3rd body. The first was to the Earth core to make sure that Graduation was still on schedule despite recent events. I interacted with an Earth Spirit. Again, I was taken and shown the graduation key, almost to say, "Yes, it's still there". I asked for a definite sign and that's what I got. I saw it. In response to a question I had, this spirit said the Earth entity will be going "to the sun" as its next level of progression. I got the sense that the Earth planetary spirit communicates through its incarnations, just like a Simultaneous path Higher Self communicates with its incarnations through an incarnation if it has to. The being I met had an imposing appearance, was humanoid but also seemed to have certain animal-looking features. Then I went back to 27 and then up to 34/35 to the place where the Simultaneous Higher Selves are located. My aim was to feel the energy around these Higher Selves. Oh man! There was extremely strong energy around the Higher Selves I went past. The energy was as strong as the energy I've experienced around beings in higher densities. Then I got the idea to make a trip to the Sequential Higher Selves around the Pleiades. The energy was different but definitely FAR weaker. When around the Earther Higher Selves, I could feel strong emotion and vitality. Fun energy! Just to make sure, I went back and forth many times in an attempt to sample each location and compare. Only after doing this enough times was I satisfied and then as a last trip I focused my intent to be around the reptilian Higher Selves in Orion. Again the energy was different, less "interesting" to me, almost still, no strong emotional overtones (the Pleiadian Higher Selves had some overtones), and actually weaker than what I felt around the Pleiades. In fact, I was surprised at the energy around the Higher Selves felt in these two Sequential locations. SO different, and the last site was almost bland, for my taste. The energy around the Earther Higher Selves was so much fun, so alive! It was good to know."

"Thanks to the M5 series I am also learning the importance of balance and observation. It's one helluva challenge at times, but you know it's all part of game, and so I give it my all. There are days when I am more observing than others, but through awareness I pick up on this and work with it. For me it is so hard to put into words what I am trying to say, but this game and our participation in it surely beats anything I ever imagined. About the lower astral, it's like "polluted" with denizens that are very, very bizarre and some of them try to be downright sinister, others try to come across as avatars, saviors- the whole nine yards."

"Just wanted to say thank you for writing the books. Nothing has gripped me as much as that volume 1. All my life I've had the feeling that this experience isn't 'real'. Now I understand why much more clearly. You have really helped me break through some fences: religion, politics, and now the animalistic heterosexual urge. Another fence I'm coming to recognize is my desire to 'hide'. I have been living below my spiritual understanding to make others more comfortable. I now see that I have been impeding my own progress, making it less likely that I would meet like-minded people. Being 100% true to the best of my spiritual understanding is really going to take some work on my part. The remaining vestiges of the conforming body-ID'd concepts I still struggle with just can't resist the depth of the urge to know myself as I truly am."

"I am so looking forward to Matrix V Gold Volume III. Even though I am not a Final or very advanced I am making progress on breaking loops and I keep reading because some part of me will be benefiting even if I'm not understanding it all. I do not have anyone in my circle of friends who I can discuss these things with and it's strange to be with old friends you are fond of but aren't really on the same page with. At my level it's better to listen and absorb what you can rather than ask questions so anything you include in your new volume can only help."

"One thing that M5 has truly helped me with is learning to face my fears head on, no matter the situation. I'm damn proud of this because before M5 I was ruled by fear and never stood up to anyone or anything."

"Thank you for your website. I've been visiting it off and on for probably close to 10 years now. I became completely hooked when M5G came out. What a life changer that was. I finally and completely am at ease with walking alone in this world. After reading M5G, I know my unwillingness to conform is due to being spiritually advanced (regardless of actual level), and not because 'I'm broken and need to be fixed' (like my mother's religion tried to teach me). I can also appreciate the anonymity The Author maintains. Followers would be needy, whiney, pains-in-the-ass. I feel I am infinitely more prepared for whatever Endgame reveals since reading M5G. Thank you to both of you."

"The statement 'M5 readers are FAR more mentally prepared than others who think that life will go on forever as it has been.' is so true. I thought to myself what state of understanding I would be in if it were not for M5 and you personally. I would have NO clue as to how to interpret the conglomeration of strange events and phenomenon occurring in the world. Almost anything could happen right now and I would be able to at least put it in a context and continue to function."

"I just wanted to say thank you for something your writing has done for me. I had a very good friend die last week from drowning. I am close to the family and his mom asked me to sit with her at the river during the search and recovery. It was very sad seeing her grieve. Knowing in my heart what you've shared about time and manner of death and the fact that his Higher Self is in charge was very comforting. The truth of how things are is better than the myths people use to help themselves."

"I awoke this AM prompted to write you. I thank you wholeheartedly for your advanced Matrix materials, the lone oasis in a desert of confusion and disinformation. I 'awoke' seven years ago, with a sense of falling out of bed on a hard floor, with my heart racing. The new realities felt like a bad dream at first. Could any of this be even marginally true? Everyone in my life encouraged me to go back to sleep, at work and personally. I got continuously ostracized and rejected for my new persona. Who cares? Since I cannot and do not wish to go back to sleep, and, I no longer feel like expending the energy to wake and teach others, I now reside mentally internally with my physical body continuing to maintain some semblance of acceptable normalcy for daily activities. But, boy do I have a great time when I read your materials. Feels familiar and creates a sense of well being for me. I embarked seven years ago on a journey of incessant research and study. Every non-working, waking moment, I have looked at the world's situation from multiple disciplines: archaeology, physics, math, medicine and alternatives, math, science, ufology, metaphysics.... you name it. What it has all distilled to after so long a search in Earth School, are the "answers/keys" provided in the Matrix materials. Eureka, a confirmation at last! I "found" your materials three years ago and began with the blue Matrix One. I own the Matrix Two books and eagerly anticipate your third book. I can pass on most of my other books; their information having served its purpose. Thank you, thank you, thank you for the continuation of your Matrix project."

"I have been reading your material for a number of years now. It has been- and continues to be- a very potent resource for helping to decipher not only the game and the players, but also the information and dynamics around me. Just wanted to take this opportunity to say thank-you. the time and effort you put into this work is appreciated beyond a simple thank you- these insights are invaluable and it certainly makes for an interesting facet of this heavily weighted game we play!"

"Firstly, I would like to say a big thank you for such a monumental work on matrix V. I read the gold edition in 2004 and wow what an eye opener that was. I recall that night after reading the first few pages of MV, in my dream I saw myself standing with my palm outstretched and a golden beam of light shot out of my palm and went straight up into the sky. The feeling this evoked was a sense of accomplishment of major proportions. One of the primary points in MV for me was the segments dealing with gay sexuality. As a young gay man that was one of the keys I needed to turn a new leaf in my understanding and acceptance of my sexuality. Living the first law of like-attracts-like is truly liberating in ways that is truly astounding. An example of this is a huge increase in creativity. I live in Toronto Canada and everywhere I look, I observe the many truths of the game as stated by the author. Some days I can't wait for it to end, due the heaviness of the game's vibration at this time."
